Anyox Elks Are Hosts To Children At Flag Day Celebration

The ninth Annual Children's Flag Day held on Wednesday by Anyox Lodge No. 47 B. P. O. Elks for the benefit of the children of Anyox and Alice Arm was, as in former years a huge success.

Brilliant sunshine was enjoyed throughout the day, which was a great asset to the day's enjoyment. The celebration was held at the Ball Park, and throughout the afternoon the grounds were crowded with happy faced children, who were either engaged in running races or devouring the piles of peanuts, bags of candy, ice cream cones and pink lemonade that was lavishly distributed.

The children were formed into a procession at the Elks' Hall at 1.30 p.m. and headed by the Anyox Brass Band, under the conductorship of J. J. H. Varnes, paraded to the Ball Grounds. Each child was presented with a colored hat, balloon, and blow-outs, the whole creating an animated scene.

A very interesting address on "The Flag" was given by Bro. T. J. Kirkwood. He traced the flag back to its early history and stressed upon his juvenile audience their duty towards their flag and country.

The programme of races was then carried out, the winners of whom are as follows:

Girls' Race, 5 years and under 8; 1 M. Webster, 2 H. Gigot.

Boys' race, 5 years and under 8; 1 R. Parsons, 2 Alex. Hood.

The continual cloudy weather and rain experienced this summer has had its advantages as well as its drawbacks. We have not had any serious bush fires as experienced in other years especially in the vicinity of Anyox, which is a blessing. It is possible, judging from improved weather conditions this week, that we may experience a protracted dry spell during August. Let us not be lulled into a false security, that because we have not been endangered by bush fires that we shall continue in that happy state. During the dry weather of the present month it is the duty of everyone to be careful with fires, both in their homes and in the woods. Without exception, all the fires of past years around Anyox have been caused by carelessness. A few years ago the whole town was in serious danger of being wiped out by fire. Such a catastrophe is almost unthinkable, but it is possible if a fire gets out of control. Campers and picnicers are especially asked to be careful with fire when in the woods. If you notice a fire in the early stages, endeavor to extinguish it, and if too large, report it at once so that it can be brought under control.

Pack Horses Ride To Work

Two of Crawford's pack horses were given rather an unusual experience last Sunday. They were shipped on an auto truck from Thirteen-mile to American Creek where they were needed for some immediate work—Stewart News.

Engineers are Surveying Route For Stewart Railway

Stewart News

Thirteen railroad surveyors and engineers, under the direct supervision of A. McCulloch, the chief engineer of the Kettle Valley line, a subsidiary of the C. P. R., got away shortly after noon last Saturday and were soon established in a temporary camp at American Creek. Their purpose is to survey a railroad route from the summit of Bear River Pass back to the mouth of Bitter Creek, as the first step toward exercising the rights of the charter recently secured by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. from the Vancouver Holdings Ltd., for the construction of the Canadian North Eastern Railway from Stewart to Fort Graham, and a branch northward up the Finley River to the Ferguson mine in the Ingenika section.

It is generally conceded that the Canadian North Eastern railway will eventually be the western sector of a fourth transcontinental railway across Canada, but the immediate object is to prepare it for serving the mines of the Bear River section, in which the Consolidated Co. are becoming heavily interested. The line was originally built in 1910 as far as the Red Cliff mine, near the forks of American Creek and Bear River, a distance of about fourteen miles, and to serve the George Gold-Copper, now owned by the Consolidated, will have to be extended six miles. There is a chance for plenty of chair-warming speculation as to the actual route to eventually be selected; in fact, the engineers themselves have no more idea on this subject than the average man in the street. As one of them said: "We are told to find the best possible route through the Bear Pass. Beyond those instructions we know nothing."

The provincial government is constructing a road 26 miles to the Owen Lake property of which Noah Timmins recently secured control.

New Ore Body Located By Premier Co.

A new eight-foot ore body, having values estimated at $200 a ton, has been located by the Premier Gold Mining Company on the Cascade claim. The Cascade property adjoins the Premier and was purchased recently for $40,000 cash.

No Over-Production Of Copper Is Anticipated For a Long Time

MONTREAL—Any fears which may be entertained in some quarters regarding a danger of over-production of copper and a consequent drop in price should be quieted after a study of the consumption of this metal during the first six months of the current year. In this period, it is estimated that over 98 per cent of the refined copper produced in the United States was taken. The gain in consumption over the corresponding months of 1928 amounted to approximately 297,000,000 pounds, the greatest six months' increase in consumption on record.

The United States is expected to consume something like 2,370,000,000 pounds this year, which would be more than 400,000 pounds over that of 1928. This increase in consumption goes hand in hand with an effort on the part of operators to reduce production. It is estimated that by August, at latest, blister and refined copper output throughout the world will be down to the level it was last year in spite of the fact that consumption is so much higher. In other words, world production of copper is expected soon to be below world consumption. In view of this, it seems reasonable to assume that the price of copper is going to be maintained or advanced during the remainder of this year—Financial News.

Expending $1,500,000 At Ocean Falls

Re-construction work at the Ocean Falls plant of Pacific Mills Ltd., foreshadowed in the last annual report of A. B. Martin, president, is proceeding satisfactorily, company officials report. This work involves an expenditure of $1,500,000 and will be completed some time in the fall.

Partial re-construction of the plant was determined upon owing to the necessity of replacing obsolete facilities, the larger part of which were acquired from the Ocean Falls Co. Ltd. The appropriation will also cover the cost of standby power equipment which will permit full production being carried on at all times. A recurrence of the water shortage which curtailed the output of the mills during the early months of the year will not in future affect production as the standby plant will be kept in readiness to supply power at short notice.

B. C. Tobacco Pronounced Excellent

The foundation of a successful tobacco industry in British Columbia was laid, it is claimed when the first tobacco scientifically blended in this province was made ready for sale recently. Samples of the British Columbia tobacco made from a combination of brands grown in Sumas reclamation area and the Okanagan Valley reached Hon William Atkinson, minister of agriculture, and after being smoked by twenty persons were pronounced excellent.

Anyox Scouts Presented With Gifts

On Friday night as the Anyox Boy Scouts were preparing for a short camp at Bonanza, they were surprised by Dr. Lang, who on behalf of the Canadian Legion of Ex-Service men presented them with a cheque for $50. Dr. Lang in presenting the gift explained that it given as a memorial to the Fallen Comrades.

The Scoutmaster, in acknowledgement of the gift, requested to honor the gift by presenting to the world a useful life with an ideal of peace and brotherhood. The Scouts gave their hearty cheers and promised they would do their best

A further surprise awaited them in Monday's mail when they received a beautiful framed autographed picture of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor with His Excellency's wishes.

Young Bride—I didn't accept Harry the first time he proposed.

Her Rival—No, dear, you were not there.
