Local Motor Cyclists Appear In Court

At the Anyox Police Court on September 17th, Richard Selwyn Owen and John Lazorek were called up to answer charges of driving their motor cycles to the common danger. The charges arose out of numerous complaints which have been received. After hearing the evidence against them a fine was imposed on Owen of $15 and costs and on Lazorek of $10.00 and costs. The option in each case was 10 days imprisonment. The white licenses of each were cancelled, and blue licenses were issued in their stead.

Don't Fail To See "Old English" Tonight

"Old English," the Galsworthy play which proved so tremendously popular when played on the stage by George Arliss and which has been made into a Warner Bros. and Vitaphone picture, shows at the Anyox Theatre Saturday.

"Old English" can be compared best perhaps to the epochal "Disraeli" of last season, which introduced the genius of George Arliss to the talking picture world. "Old English" is considered by Mr. Arliss to be his finest characterization.

Incidentally, it is the first Galsworthy drama to reach the talking screen and it is understood that no little persuasion was needed to secure from the English playwright the permission to produce his play as a picture.

A distinguished cast supports Mr. Arliss in "Old English" among those included being Ivan Simpson, Doris Lloyd, Betty Lawford, Leon Janney, Harrington Reynolds, Reginald Sheffield, Murray Kinnell, Ethel Griffies and Henrietta Goodman.

Commission Controls Anyox Basketball

A radical change has been made in the control of basketball in Anyox. This is the formation of a Commission instead of a General Committee as heretofore. This Commission, which is composed of R. L. Healy, George M. Lee and H. R. Taylor, will have complete control of basketball. They will draw up the schedule of games for the season, and have full charge of all matters affecting the various teams. With such a capable and influential commission, players and public alike can be assured that the game will be well looked after, and can anticipate with confidence a season of good basketball.

Miss Kathleen Eve Wins The Tennis Championship

Playing a brand of tennis which excelled any of her previous efforts, Miss Kathleen ("Bubbles") Eve won the Ladies' Tennis Championship of the A. C. L. Club by defeating Mrs. J. Smith 6-4, 7-5. Mrs. Smith put up a good fight, playing with great care and precision, and Miss Eve's masterful forehand drives were a treat to watch. The match drew many spectators.

October 3rd. to 10th. has been fixed by the B. C. Products Department of the Vancouver Board of Trade as British Columbia Week. The week will be the climax of a campaign urging people to buy B. C. goods, and producers to advertise them.

Invitations are being extended to every Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce and newspaper in the Province, asking them to join in the campaign and make it British Columbia wide in its appeal.

Mr. H. G. Fowler, Chairman of the B. C. Products Department and head of the committee directing the campaign, stated that he believed that if the public attention could be focussed on the vital necessity of buying B. C. goods, both agricultural and industrial, it would be a large factor in increasing the circulation of money and alleviating hard times.

He does not overlook the depression, and would not suggest that "Buy B. C. Goods" is a cure for all ills, but he believes that it is probably the foremost means within British Columbia's reach improving conditions locally.

Referring to the difference such a policy would make to agriculture alone, Mr. Fowler pointed out that in 1930, $19,000,000 worth of agricultural products had been brought into the country. This money, if it had been expended on products grown in B. C., would have made a vast difference to the farmers of the province.

"If even half of the people in British Columbia could be persuaded to buy B. C. products, both agricultural and industrial, half the time," he said, "it would do more to bring back prosperity than all the large merchandising orders the B. C. Products Department can ever hope to direct into the province."

Patient—"I believe I'm a little better, doctor, but I'm still short of breath."

Dr. Killum—I can stop that completely after a few more treatments."

A Visit to The B. C. Cold Storage, Prince Rupert

By P. Powell

Ten below in the middle of summer! After a brisk-three mile walk on a warm day we are ushered into the great cold storage chambers of the B. C. Cold Storage Plant at Prince Rupert. The capacity of this huge plant, which is the largest of its kind in the world, is seven million pounds. Around us are stacks and stacks of fish of many kinds and sizes, all frozen solid. In a "natural museum" section we were shown a huge halibut, 9 ft. high, 50 inches across, and 251 lbs. in weight. "Gosh!" we exclaimed, and our guide picked up a head, the fish to which it belonged having weighed 340 lbs. Some hali but! This was the largest ever caught in western waters. Next is a blue nose shark, with wicked-looking fins and teeth. Nearby is the head of a halibut with two mouths, the only one ever seen. Another freak which is handled carefully by our guide is a halibut which is black on both sides, the only specimen of its kind ever known. Fastened to boards are such interesting objects as a devil-fish with eight tails; a beautiful starfish; and a sunfish.

Our guide showed us a dogfish, and explained that it gets its name from the fact that it does not hatch its young from spawn but carries them as do animals. This distinction among fishes is shared only with the shark. We enquired as to the weight of the largest salmon ever brought in and were told that it weighed 89 lbs.

The processes of beheading the fish, weighing and packing them, "Glazing" those to be stored, wrapping in paper to exclude the air from those being shipped, were all carefully explained. We were shown the frozen herring, packed in solid blocks, which are sold to fishermen for bait at $30.00 per ton. The slump in the fishing industry makes this bait very slow moving, and the plant will probably be left with a huge quantity on hand when the season ends.

Washington—The United States had an unfavorable trade balance of $1,000,000 during August. It is the first time there has been an adverse trade balance since April 1926.

Canadian Metal Production Decreases

Production in Canada of metals, fuels and non-metals during the first six months of 1931 was valued at $95,689,288 as compared with $116,360,409 for the half-year ending June 30, 1930, a decrease of 17.8 per cent., according to a half-yearly report just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

A cowpuncher ordered a steak at a restaurant. The waiter brought it in—rare—very rare. The puncher looked at it and demanded that it be returned to the kitchen and cooked.

"Tis cooked," snapped the waiter.

"Cooked—" said our friend the puncher. "I've seen critters hurt worse than that and get well."

Decrease In Silver Production But Stocks Increase

World production of silver for the six months of this year totalled 87,017,000 ounces, according to a report of the American Bureau of Metal Statistics. This compares with 108,890,000 ounces in the first half of 1930 and represents a decline of 21,873,000 ounces, or 20.1 cent.

Silver stocks in India continue to increase and Indian currency returns on July 22 showed the Indian silver reserve in coin and amounted to 13,179 lacs, or the equivalent of 453,028,000 fine ounces, against 446,978,000 on June 30 and 422,466,000 on January 1. Silver stocks at Shanghai remain large at 209,178,000 fine ounces on August 8, against 209,176,000 on July 11, and 213,176,000 ounces on June 13.

Rise In Price of Copper Expected In Near Future

Copper industry has reached the state where a slight improvement may be expected within a few months, according to the Brookmire Economic Service Inc., which has tabulated copper consumption, for the major consuming industries in the past three years. Increased consumption is not expected in this year or in 1932 to establish a return of marked prosperity for the copper industry, but to show small gains over current levels.

"There is no longer any question but that copper is cheap," says a Brookmire statement. "Few, if any producers, can show profits with copper at 7½ cents. a pound. Nothing will bring about a reduction in output and a consequent halt in the trend to higher levels of refined inventories more surely than a continuance of non-profit price levels. We therefore expect a more drastic curtailment of mine production in the months ahead. Blister stocks have shown an uninterrupted decline since last October and are now the lowest since August, 1921. A change for the better in demand for copper could bring about improvement rather quickly. This has not yet appeared, however, and we expect another increase in refined stocks to be reported for August."

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Edward (Ted) Wilson. Died September 24th., 1930. Inserted by his loving wife and two sons.

Always so good, unselfish and kind
None on this earth your equal I'll find.
Honorable and true in all your ways,
Loving and faithful to the end of your days,
Honest and liberal, ever upright,
Just in your judgement, always right;
Loved by your friends and all whom you knew,
One in a million, that husband was you.
One year has past, our hearts still sore,
As time rolls on we miss you more;
A loving father, tender and kind,
What beautiful memories you left behind.
