FREE MINERS AND THEIR PRIVILEGES.

Every person over, but not under eighteen years of age, and every joint stock company, shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of a free miner, and shall be considered a free miner, upon taking out a free miner's certificate. A minor who shall become a free miner shall, as regards his mining property and liabilities contracted in connection therewith, be treated as of full age. A free miner's certificate issued to a joint stock company shall be issued in its corporate name. A free miner's certificate shall not be transferable.

A free miner's certificate may be granted for one or more years, to run from the date thereof, or from the expiration of the applicant's then existing certificate, upon the payment therefor of the fees set out in the Schedule of Fees to this Act. Only one person or one joint stock company shall be named therein.

If any person or joint stock company shall apply for a free miner's certificate at the Mining Recorder's office during his absence, and shall leave the fee required by this Act with the officer or other person in charge of the said office, he or it shall be entitled to have such certificate from the date of such application; and any free miner shall at any time be entitled to obtain a free miner's certificate, commencing to run at the expiration of his then existing free miner's certificate, provided that when he applies for such certificate, he shall produce to the Mining Recorder, or in case of his absence shall leave with the officer or other pe son in charge of the Mining Recorder's office, such existing certificate.

If any free miner's certificate be accidentally destroyed or lost, the owner thereof may, on payment of the fees set out in the Schedule to this Act, have a true copy of it, signed by the Mining Recorder, or other person by whom or out of whose office the original was issued. Every such copy shall be marked "substituted certificate," and unless some material irregularity be shown in respect thereof, every original or substituted free miner's certificate shall be evidence of all matters therein contained.

Every free miner shall, during the continuance of his certificate, but not longer, have the right to enter, locate, prospect, and mine upon any waste lands of the Crown for all minerals other than coal, and upon all lands the right whereon so to enter upon, prospect, and mine all minerals other than coal shall have been, or hereafter shall be, reserved to the Crown and its licensees, and also to enter, locate, prospect, and mine for gold and silver upon any lands the right whereon to so enter and mine such gold and silver shall have been, or shall be, reserved to the Crown and its licensees. Excepting out of all the above description of lands any land occupied by any building, and any land falling within the curtilage of any dwelling house, and any orchard, and any land for the time being actually under cultivation, and any land lawfully occupied for mining purposes other than placer mining, and also Indian reservations: (1892, c. 32, s. 3) Provided that where any hydraulic mining works, established in accordance with the "Placer Mining Act, 1891," have been in operation, the land which may have been uncovered by the operation of such works shall not be located or mined upon by any free miner other than the person or persons carrying on such hydraulic works for a space of six months next after the same shall have been so uncovered: (Sec. 10 continued) Provided that in the event of such entry being made upon lands already lawfully occupied for other than mining purposes, such free miner, previously to such entry, shall give adequate security to the satisfaction of the Gold Commissioner for any loss or damages which may be caused by such entry; and provided that, after such entry, he shall make full compensation to the occupant or owner of such lands for any loss or damages which may be caused by reason of such entry; such compensation, in case of dispute to be determined by the Court having jurisdiction in mining disputes, with or without a jury.

Any free miner may enter upon any Crown lands, or lands covered by timber leases, or any lands the timber whereon has been reserved by the Crown to cut (1892, c. 32, s. 4) such timber as may be required for the purposes of the claim or claims worked by him alone, or by him in partnership with another or others.

Any free miner shall be at liberty, at any period of the year, while actually prospecting or engaged in mining, to kill game for his own use.

A free miner shall have all the rights and privileges granted to free miners by the "Placer Mining Act."

(1894, c. 32, s. 4) Any free miner desiring to locate a mineral claim, shall, subject to the provisions of this Act with respect to land which may be used for mining, enter upon the same and locate a plot of ground measuring, where possible but not exceeding fifteen hundred feet in length by fifteen hundred feet in breadth, in as nearly as possible a rectangular form, that is to say: All angles shall be right angles, except in cases where a boundary line of a previously surveyed claim is adapted as common to both claims, but the lines need not necessarily be meridional. In defining the size of a mineral claim, it shall be measured horizontally, irrespective of inequalities of the surface of the ground.

(1894, c. 32, s. 4.) A mineral claim shall be marked by two legal posts, placed as near as possible on the line of the ledge or vein, and the posts shall be numbered 1 and 2, and the distance between posts 1 and 2 shall not exceed fifteen hundred feet, the line between posts 1 and 2 to be known as the location line, and upon posts Nos. 1 and 2 shall be written the name given to the mineral claim, the name of the locator, and the date of the location. Upon No. 1 post there shall be written, in addition to the foregoing, "Initial Post," the approximate compass bearing of No. 2 post, and a statement of the number of feet lying to right and to the left of the line from No. 1 to No. 2 post, thus:—"Initial post. Direction of post No. 2. feet of this claim lie on the right, and feet on the left of the line from No. 1 to No. 2 post."

All the particulars required to be put on No. 1 post shall be furnished by the locator to the Mining Recorder at the time the claim is recorded, and shall form a part of the record of such claim.

When a claim has been located, the holder shall immediately mark the line between posts Nos. 1 and 2 so that it can be distinctly seen in a timbered locality, by blazing trees and cutting underbrush, and in a locality where there is neither timber nor underbrush he shall set legal posts so that such line can be distinctly seen.

The locator shall place a legal post at the point where he has discovered rock in place, on which shall be written "Discovery Post:" Provided that when the claim is surveyed, the surveyor shall be guided entirely by posts 1 and 2 and the notice of No. 1, the initial post, and the records of the claim.

It shall not be lawful to move No. 1 Post, neither shall it be lawful to move No. 2 post, except for the correction of distance by the Provincial Government surveyor. Nos. 1 and 2 posts shall govern the direction of one side of the claim.

The holder of a mineral claim shall be entitled to all minerals which may lie within his claim, but he shall not be entitled to mine outside the boundary lines of his claim continued vertically downwards:

This Act shall not prejudice the rights of claim-owners nor claim-holders whose claims have been located under former Acts:

No mineral claim shall be recorded without the application being accompanied by an affidavit or solemn declaration made by the applicant, or some person on his behalf cognizant of the facts, that mineral has been found in place on the claim proposed to be recorded.

Any locatian made upon Sunday or any public holiday shall not for that reason be invalid, any law or statute to the contrary notwithstanding.

(1893, c. 29, s. 4.) In cases where from the nature or shape of the ground, it is impossible to mark the location line of the claim, as provided by this Act, then the claim may be marked by placing posts as nearly as possible to the location line, and noting the distance and direction such posts may be found from such location line, which distance and direction shall be set out in the record of the claim.

Every free miner locating a mineral claim shall record the same with the Mining Recorder of the district within which the same is situate, within fifteen days after the location thereof, if located within ten miles of the office of the said Mining Recorder One additional day shall be allowed for such record for every additional ten miles, or fraction thereof. Such record shall be made in a book to be kept for the purpose in the office of the said Mining Recorder, in which shall be inserted the name of the claim, the name of each locator, the number of each locator's free miner's certificate, the locality of the mine, the direction of the location line, the length in feet, the date of location, and the date of the record. (1892, c. 32, s. 7.) Such record shall be, as near as may be possible, in the Form B in the Schedule to this Act, and a certified copy thereof shall be given by the Mining Recorder to the free miner or his agent. A claim which shall not have been recorded within the prescribed period shall be deemed to have been abandoned.

A free miner shall not be entitled to a record of a mineral claim until he shall have furnished the said Mining Recorder with the above particulars.

Upon the establishment of a mining division and the opening of a Mining Recorder's Office therein, under the authority of this Act, such office and none other shall be the proper office for recording all mineral claims within such mining division, and making all records in respect thereof.

If through ignorance any free miner shall record a mineral claim in a different district or mining division to that in which such claim is situate, such error shall not effect his title to such claim, but he shall, within fifteen days from the discovery of his error, record such claim in the district or mining division in which it is situate, and such new record shall bear the date of the first record, and a note shall be made thereon of the error and of the date of the rectification of the same.

If a free miner applies at the Mining Recorder's Office during his absence to record a mineral claim, or any document or other matter required by this Act, to be recorded, and leaves the fee required by this Act, and the particulars and information required to enable the Mining Recorder to make such record with the officer or other person in charge of said office, he shall be entitled to have such record dated on the date of such application.

Any free miner having duly located and recorded a mineral claim shall be entitled to hold the same for the period of one year from the recording of same, and thence from year to year (1892, c. 32, s. 8), without the necessity of re-recording: Provided, however, that during each year and each succeeding year, such free miner shall do, or cause to be done, work on the claim itself to the value of one hundred dollars, and shall satisfy the Gold Commissioner or Mining Recorder that such work has been done, by an affidavit of the free miner or his agent, setting out a detailed statement of such work, and shall obtain from such Gold Commissioner or Mining Recorder, and shall record a certificate of such work having been done: (1892, c. 32, s. 8) Provided, also, that all work done outside of a mineral claim, with intent to work the same, shall, if such work have direct relation and be in direct proximity to the claim, be deemed, if to the satisfaction of the Gold Commissioner or Mining Recorder, for the purposes of this section, to be work done on the claim: Provided, further, that any free miner, being the holder of adjoining mineral claims, or any two or more free miners who locate and record adjoining mineral claims, to be worked by them in partnership under the provisions of any Act for the time being in force, shall, subject to filing a notice of their intention with the Gold Commissioner or Mining Recorder, be allowed to perform on any one or more of such claims all the work required to entitle him or them to a certificate for work for each claim so held by him or them (Sec. 24 continued.) If such work shall not be done, or if such certificate shall not be so obtained and recorded, in each and every year, the claim shall be deemed vacant and abandoned, any rule of law or equity to the contrary notwithstanding.

(1895, c 39, s. 4.) The holder of a mineral claim may in lieu of the work required by section 24 of the "Mineral Act, 1891," as amended, to be done on a claim in each year, pay to the Mining Recorder in whose office the claim is recorded, the sum of one hundred dollars and receive from such Recorder and record a receipt for such payment. Such payment and the record thereof in any year shall relieve the person making it from the necessity of doing any work during the year in and for which and upon the claim in respect of which such payment is recorded.

(1895, c. 39, s. 3.) The owner of a mineral claim shall be entitled to all surface rights, including the use of all the timber thereon for mining or building purposes, so long as he holds the said claim for the purpose of developing the minerals contained therein, but no longer.

(1892, c. 32, s. 9.) In case of a dispute as to the title to a mineral claim priority of record will determine the right, subject to any question as to the validity of the record, and subject also to a compliance by the free miner with the provisions of this Act.

(1895, c. 39, s. 5.) No free miner shall be entitled to hold in his own name, or in the name of any other person, more than one mineral claim on the same vein or lode, except by purchase, but such free miner may hold by location a claim upon any separate vein or lode.

A free miner may at any time abandon any mineral claim by giving notice in writing of such intention to abandon to the Mining Recorder, and from the date of such notice all interest of such free miner in such claim shall cease.

When a free miner abandons a mineral claim he shall have the right to take from the same any machinery and any personal property which he may have placed on the claim, and any ore which he may have extracted therefrom within such time as shall be fixed by the Gold Commissioner or Mining Recorder.

No free miner shall be entitled to re-locate any mineral claim, or any portion thereof (1892, c. 32, s. 11) which he shall have failed to record within the prescribed period, or (sec. 29 continued) which he shall have abandoned or forfeited, unless he shall have obtained the written permission of the Gold Commissioner to make such relocation; and he shall hold no interest in any portion of such mineral claim, by location, without such permission.

Where a tunnel is run for the development of a vein or lode the owner of such tunnel shall, in addition to any mineral claim legally held by him, have the right to all veins or lodes discovered in such tunnel: Provided that the ground containing such veins or lodes be marked out by him as a mineral claim, and be duly recorded within fifteen days after such discovery; and provided further, that such veins or lodes are not included in any existing mineral claim. Any money or labour expended in constructing a tunnel to develop a vein or lode shall be deemed to have been expended on such vein or lode.

The interest of a free miner in his mineral claim shall, save as to claims held as real estate, be deemed to be a chattel interest, equivalent to a lease, for one year, and thence from year to year, subject to the performance and observance of all the terms and conditions of this Act.

Any lawful holder of a mineral claim shall be entitled to a Crown grant thereof on payment to the Government of British Columbia of the sum of five hundred dollars in lieu of expenditure on the claim. (1892, c. 32, s. 12.) The intending purchaser shall comply with all the provisions of section 36 of this Act, except such as have respect solely to the work required to be done on claims.

(1892, c. 32, s. 13.) Whenever the lawful holder of a mineral claim shall have complied with the following requirements, to the satisfaction of the Gold Commissioner, he shall be entitled to receive from the Gold Commissioner a certificate of improvements in respect of such claims, unless an adverse claim shall have been filed in the office of the Mining Recorder:—

(a.) (1894, c. 32, s. 5.) Done or cause to be done work on the claim itself in developing a mine to the value of five hundred dollars, exclusive of all houses, buildings and other like improvements. For the purpose of this section, work done on the claim by a predecessor or predecessors in title shall be deemed to have been done by the applicant who receives a transfer of such claim; but in no case shall the cost of surveying be considered as improvements or work done on the claim:

(b.) Found a vein or lode within the limits of such claim:

(c.) (1893, c. 29, s. 9.) Had the claim surveyed by an authorized Provincial Land Surveyor, who shall have made three plats of the claim, and who shall have accurately defined and marked the boundaries of such claim upon the ground, and indicated the corners by placing monuments or legal posts at the angles thereof, and upon such monuments or posts shall be inscribed by him the name and the official designation of the claim, and the corner represented thereby, and who shall have, on completion of survey, forwarded at once the original field notes and plan direct to the Lands and Works Department:

(d.) (1893, c. 29, s. 9.) Shall have posted on some conspicuous part of the land embraced in the survey a copy of the plat of the claim, and a legible notice in writing in Form F of the Schedule to this Act, of his intention to apply for a certificate of improvements, and shall also have posted a similar notice in the Mining Recorder's office, and such notice shall contain—

(1.) The name of the claim;

(2.) The name of the lawful holder thereof;

(3.) The number of such holder's existing free miner's certificate;

(4.) His intention to apply for certificate of improvements at the end of sixty days, for the purpose of obtaining a Crown grant;

(5.) The date of the notice:

(e.) (1893, c. 29, s. 9.) Shall have filed with the Mining Recorder a copy of the surveyor's original field-notes and plat:

(f.) (1893, c. 29, s. 9.) Inserted a copy of such notice in the British Columbia Gazette and in any newspaper published in the Province, and circulating in the district in which the claim is situate, for at least sixty days prior to such application, which insertion can be made at any time after the posting of the notice on the claim:

(g.) (1893, c. 29, s. 9.) File with the Mining Recorder—

(1.) Affidavit of the holder of the claim, or his agent, in the Form H in Schedule of this Act:

(h.) (1893, c. 29, s. 9.) At the expiration of the term of the said publication, provided no adverse claim shall be filed with the Mining Recorder, he shall forward to the Gold Commissioner, under Form J of the Schedule to this Act, the documents referred to above.

(1892, c. 32, s. 15.) After the issuing and recording of such certificate of improvements, and while such certificate shall be in force it shall not be necessary to do any work on such claim.

(1892, c. 32, s. 16.) On the granting and recording of such certificate of improvements in respect to a mineral claim situate outside of the Railway Belt, the holder thereof shall be entitled to a Crown grant of such claim without the payment of the five hundred dollars required as aforesaid. And on the granting and recording of such certificate of improvements in respect of a mineral claim situate inside the Railway Belt, the holder thereof shall be entitled to a Crown grant of such claim on the payment of five dollars per acre to the Mining Recorder.

(1893, c. 29, s. 11.) The holder of a mineral claim for which a certificate of improvements has been granted and recorded shall make application for a Crown grant to the Gold Commissioner, enclosing his certificate of improvements and the Crown grant fee of five dollars, within three months from the date of such certificate of improvements, and in default of such application having been made within such time such certificate of improvements shall lapse and become absolutely void.

If the holder of a mineral claim, after applying for a certificate of improvements, shall sell and transfer such claim to another free miner, upon satisfactory proof of such sale and transfer being made to the Gold Commissioner, the new holder of the claim shall be entitled to a certificate of improvements in his own name. And if a sale and transfer shall be made to any person or company after a certificate of improvements shall have been issued, upon proper proof of such sale and transfer being made to the satisfaction of the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, the Crown grant shall issue to the new holder of the claim.

(1894, c. 32, s. 7.) When a holder of a mineral claim has taken out his certificate of improvements he shall not record any transfer of his rights in the said claim until he obtains his Crown grant.

The issuance of a Crown grant shall not invalidate any lien which may have attached to any mineral claim previous to the issuance of such Crown grant.

MINING PARTNERSHIPS.

All mining partnerships shall be governed by the provisions hereof, unless they shall have other and written articles of partnership.

A mining partnership shall, unless otherwise agreed upon, be deemed to be a yearly partnership, renewable from year to year by tacit consent.

The business of the partnership shall be mining and such other matters as pertain solely thereto.

Mining partnerships can locate and record in the partnership name a mineral claim for each partner, but the name of every partner, and the number of every partner's free miner's certificate shall be on the record of every such claim. The partnership name must appear on every such record, and all the claims so taken up shall be the property of the partnership: Provided, always, that no free miner who is the member of a mining partnership, holding by right of location a mineral claim, shall be entitled to hold by right of location in his own name or in the name of any other partnership any interest in any other mineral claim on the same vein or lode on which the partnership claim is situate.

(1895, c. 39, s. 7.) Should any partner fail to keep up his free miner's certificate, such failure shall not cause a forfeiture, or act as an abandonment of the partnership claim, but the share of the partner who shall so fail to keep up his free miner's certificate shall ipso facto be and become vested in his partner's, pro rata, according to their former interests, on the said partners paying the free miner's certificate for the year.

A partner in any mining partnership or his agent authorized in writing shall, at any meeting thereof, be entitled to vote upon any interest or fraction of an interest which he may hold therein; but the result of the votes given shall be determined by the number of the full interests voted upon, and not by the number of partners voting at such meeting.

A majority of such votes may decide when, how long, and in what manner to work the partnership claim, the number of men to be employed, and the extent and manner of levying the assessments to defray the expenses incurred by the partnership: Such majority may also choose a foreman or manager, who shall represent the partnership, and sue and be sued in the name of the partnership for assessments and otherwise; and he shall have power to bind them by his contracts: Every partner, or his duly authorized agent, shall be entitled to represent his interest in the partnership property by work and labour so long as such work and labour be satisfactory to the foreman or manager. In the event of such workman being discharged by the foreman or manager, the Court having jurisdiction in mining disputes may, if requested, summon the foreman or manager before it, and upon hearing the facts make such order as it shall deem just.

All assessments shall be payable within thirty days after being made.

Any partner making default in payment after receiving a notice specifying the amount due by him, shall, if such amount be correct, be personally liable therefor to the partnership, and his interest in the partnership property may be sold by the partnership for the payment of the debt, and any further assessment which may have accrued thereon up to the day of sale, together with all costs and charges occasioned by such default; and if the proceeds of the sale be insufficient to pay off the several sums mentioned, the Court having jurisdiction in mining disputes, upon being applied to, shall issue an order directed to the Sheriff to seize and sell any other personal property of the debtor. Notices of sale shall, in either of the above cases, be conspicuously posted thirty clear days prior to the day of sale in the vicinity of such mining or other property, and on the Court House or Mining Recorder's office nearest thereto. But if such partner be absent from the district such notices shall be posted as aforesaid sixty clear days before the day of sale, and a copy of such notice shall be published in some newspaper circulating in the district wherein such mining or other property is situate. Such sale shall be by public auction to the highest bidder. The purchaser shall be entitled to possession of the property sold, and to a bill of sale therefor signed by the auctioneer; such bill of sale shall confer such title upon the purchaser as the owner had.

After a notice of abandonment in writing shall have been served on the foreman or manager of a partnership by any member thereof, and duly recorded, such member shall not be liable for any debts or other liabilities of the partnership incurred after service and record of such notice, and no member shall be deemed to have abandoned an interest until service and record of such notice.

Upon the abandonment of any share in a mining partnership, the title to the abandoned share shall vest in the continuing partners, pro rata, according to their former interests.

Any partner shall be entitled to sell, or contract for the sale of, his interest in the partnership property, but such interest shall continue liable for all the debts of the partnership.

No partner shall, after a bill of sale conveying his interest has been recorded, be liable for any indebtedness of the partnership incurred thereafter.

LIMITED LIABILITY.

Any mining partnership composed of two or more free miners may limit the liability of its members upon complying with the requirements following, that is to say:—

Upon filing with the Mining Recorder a declaratory statement containing the name of the partnership, the location and size of every partnership claim, and the particular interest of each partner; and also placing upon a conspicuous part of every such claim, in large letters, the name of the partnership, followed by the words "Limited Liability."

The words "Limited Liability" shall thereupon become part of the partnership name.

After such conditions shall have been complied with, no member of such partnership shall be liable for any indebtedness incurred thereafter beyond an amount proportioned to his interest in the partnership.

Every such partnership shall keep a correct account of its assets and liabilities, together with the names of the partners, and the interest held by each, and shall make out a monthly balance sheet showing the names of the creditors, and the amounts due to each, and file the same among the papers of the partnership; and such balance sheet and all the books of the partnership shall be open to the inspection of creditors at all reasonable hours.

Every partner in such partnership shall be at liberty to sell or dispose of his interest therein, or of any part thereof, to any other free miner.

No member of such partnership, after a bill of sale conveying his interest has been duly recorded, or after he has served a notice of abandonment of his interest on the foreman, and left a copy thereof with the Mining Recorder, shall be liable for any indebtedness of the partnership incurred thereafter.

No such partnership shall declare any dividend until all its liabilities have been paid.

Every such partnership shall appoint a foreman or manager, who shall represent the partnership, who shall sue and be sued in the name of the partnership, and his contracts in relation to the business of the partnership shall be deemed to be the contracts of the partnership.

No such partnership shall be liable for any other indebtedness than that contracted by its foreman or manager, or by its agent duly authorized in writing.

Should any such partnership fail to comply with any of the provisions of this Act relating exclusively to "limited liability" partnerships, such partnerships shall, from the date of such failure, cease to be a "limited liability" partnership.

ABSTRACT OF LAND REGULATIONS.

N. B.—No land is sold by the Government, except by public auction, on rare occasions, when its adaptability to some special purpose subjects it to competition. It is thus secured as much as possible to the uses of the bona-fide settler.

PRE-EMPTION.

Any person, the head of a family, a widow, or single man over the age of eighteen years, being a British subject, or any alien, upon his making a declaration of his intention to become a British subject, before a Notary Public, or other officer appointed therefor, and upon filing the same with the Commissioner, may record any tract of unoccupied and unreserved Crown lands (not being an Indian settlement) not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres in extent.

Any person desiring to pre-empt, if the land be unsurveyed, shall first place at each angle or corner of the land to be applied for a stake or post at least four inches square, standing not less than four feet above the surface of the ground; any stump of a tree may be used for a post, provided it be squared, and of the required height and dimensions, and upon each post a notice in the following form shall be affixed:

"A. B.'s land, N. E. post," (meaning north-east post); "A. B.'s land, N. W. post," (meaning north-west post); and so on, as the case may be.

Any person desiring to pre-empt surveyed land must make application in writing to the Commissioner of the District in which the land is situate and enclose it with a sketch plan of the land and a declaration made before a notary public or other officer. Declaration, plan and sketch must be sent in duplicate.

Upon the compliance by the applicant with the provisions hereinbefore contained, and upon payment by him of the sum of two dollars to the Commissioner, the Commissioner shall record such land in his favor as a pre-emption claim, and give him a certificate.

The pre-emptor must occupy the land within thirty days after the date of certificate of record, and he or his family must reside continuously on the land, with leave of absence for two months in each year. Further leave may be obtained for good cause from the Commissioner.

No person is entitled to hold at the same time two claims by pre-emption.

Upon the pre-emptor on surveyed land proving to the Commissioner that he has been in occupation of his claim from the date of record and has made permanent improvements to the value of two dollars and fifty cents per acre, he shall receive a certificate of improvement.

Every person pre-empting surveyed or unsurveyed land shall pay one dollar per acre for the same, to the Commissioner, in four equal annual instalments of twenty-five cents each per acre. The first instalment shall be due two years from the date of the record of the land pre-empted, and each subsequent instalment yearly thereafter: Provided, however, that the last instalment shall not be payable until the land so pre-empted, if unsurveyed, shall have been surveyed.

After the grant of a certificate of improvement, and payment of one dollar per acre for the land, a Crown grant or conveyance of the fee simple of the land shall be executed in favor of the pre-emptor, upon payment of the sum of five dollars; but such Crown grant shall be issued only to British subjects by birth or naturalization.

No transfer of any pre-emption is valid until after the Crown grant issues.

LEASES.

Leases of lots not exceeding twenty acres in extent may be granted by the Government for terms of five years at an annual rental equal to one-fifth the value of the land. At the expiration of the five years a Crown grant will be issued to the lessee, provided he has complied with the conditions of his lease.

TIMBER LICENSES.

Special timber licenses for not more than one thousand acres are granted on payment of $50 per acre.

Licenses are also granted on payment of fifty cents per thousand feet.

CAUTION.—Use no Baking Powder, Yeast or Salt.
