BOUNDARY CREEK MINES.

Description of the Work on the Knob Hill and Old Ironsides.

The Cariboo Declares Another Quarterly Dividend of 1 1-2 Cents.

There have been done to date on the Old Ironsides and Victoria, which adjoin, about 6,000 feet of work, in these mines. No. 1 shaft is down 300, and No. 2 400 feet. Similar work on the Knob Hill and Grey Eagle totals nearly 4,000 feet. These figures together mean nearly two miles of underground work. An enormous quantity of ore has been blocked out by these workings. The tonnage the mines have sent out now totals nearly 20,000 tons. About 200 men are employed in and about the mines and more will be put on as required.

The plant at the Old Ironsides and Victoria mines includes the following: Two 80 and one 60 horse power horizontal return tubular boilers, one 10-drill duplex cross compound condensing Rand air compressor with sixteen 3¾ Little Giant drills, one 42 inch by 16 foot air receiver, two 36 inch by 8 foot air receivers, five hoisting engines—one each 50, 30 and 20 horse power and two 8 horse power, one 14x7x12 Knowles station pump, one size E Cameron station pump, one No. 5 Cameron sinking pump, one 10x7x5x10 Knowles sinking pump one 5¼x3⅝x8 Cameron sinking pump, one 5¼x3½x5 Snow duplex pump (at water dam), one 4½x2¾x4 Snow duplex boiler feed pump, electric light plant consisting of one 15 horse power upright engine and one 180 light dynamo, one 5 horsepower electric motor for crushing ore samples, one safety platform cage each in No. 1 and No. 2 shafts, one pipe threading machine for cutting thread up to six inches, ore buckets, and a full completement of accessories, tools, etc.

At the Knob Hill and Grey Eagle there are two 80 horse power horizontal return tubular boilers, one 10 drill cross compound condensing Rand air compressor with six 3¾ Little Giant drills, one 48 inch by 12 foot air receiver, one 36 inch by 8 foot air receiver, one 30 horse power and one 20 horse power hoisting engine, one No. 5 Knowles sinking pump, one 7x8½x8 Snow duplex boiler feed pump and other plant, etc.

The mine buildings include three shaft and machinery houses, the large Granby and Old Ironsides buildings for the sleeping and boarding accommodation of mine employees, several villa residences for mine officials and a number of comfortable cottages for men having families here. The mines are provided with water supply and electric light systems.

Altogether the progress made at these mines gives convincing testimony to the energy and enterprise of the Miner-Graves companies, and an earnest of the future success that awaits them in the enlarged operations they are not only planning but are actively preparing to carry out.

The directors of the Cariboo Mining company have declared a 1½ cent dividend for the quarter ending September 30. The dividend will be paid on Oct 51 to shareholders of record of Sept. 30. A much larger dividend could have been declared out of the surplus funds on hand, but the management is pursuing the policy of devoting as large a share as possible of its profits to development and equipment purposes. The official reports from the mine are to the effect that the property is in splendid shape. Underground the work is being pushed, both east and west, along the ore bodies, with excellent results. In new ground on the Okanagan claim the management has opened up what it considers one of the most remarkable chutes of good grade ore ever discovered anywhere. This chute is unbroken and unfaulted, and extends for 350 feet straight away. To more effectually open this showing and further increase the company's ore reserves a new additional triple compartment shaft is being sunk on the Okanagan. This shaft will permit of two hoists running, and leave room for an airway besides. It will, of course, connect underground with the present Cariboo shafts.

W. L. Orde, secretary and treasurer of the Brandon and Golden Crown company, gives the result of 30 returns from the Canadian Pacific Railway company's smelter at Trail, of ore treated from May 26th to September 4th this year. The net ore returned by the smelter was 1,615 tons, valued at $10,043, which, after deducting $7 per ton freight and smelter charges, netted $8.10 to the company. The smelter allows 95 per cent of the gold and silver values and 70 per cent of the copper contents. A saving of about $2.50 per ton is expected when the ore is treated at the Granby smelter at Grand Forks.

J. M. HARRIS

President of the Reco Mining Co. Claims He Was a Victim of

THE 'MONTANA SLEEVE' GAME

Death of the Perpetrator Robs the Case of Many Interesting Details.

The case of Henley vs. Reco Mining company, which has been set down for trial at the assizes at Nelson, will be one of the most interesting actions ever tried in that district; says the Tribune. The suit arises out of a poker game in which J. M. Harris, president of the Reco, was fleeced to a finish by Lew Houck, one of the cleverest card sharpers who ever came west. The case is robbed of some interest by the fact that Houck is dead. Had he lived the sharper would undoubtedly have been placed in the witness box. It is asserted he worked the "Montana sleeve" game at Sandon, and in the approaching trial the defence will produce the evidence of the tailor who made the sleeve. Houck's ability to palm cards is evidenced by the fact that Harris had no suspicion he was getting the double cross until some time later when learned of Houck's identity. In the meantime he settled his debt to the sharper in Reco shares. Houck sold the shares and the purchaser is bringing the action to compel the Reco people to honor the shares.

The story of the game at Sandon is worth telling. A Spokane business man had visited the Slocan metropolis and played poker for high stakes. He lost, and J. M. Harris got the big end of the game. When the Spokane man arrived home he secured a tip on Lew Houck, and put up a deal with the famous sharp to secure revenge on Harris. They went to Sandon and worked the job smoothly. Harris lost $1600 in cash and several I. O. U.'s at one sitting, and between $2500 and $3000 in cash and a block of Reco stock in another. Then the visitors pulled out, and when Harris became informed of the proposition he had gone against a notice was posted repudiating the stock certificates.

Lew Houck was one of the most remarkable gamblers of modern times. He did seven years in the Ohio penitentiary from '83 to '90, and during this period practiced unfair dealing daily until he became a past master at the art. It was said of him that no man in the world had his dexterity with cards. Prior to his imprisonment he had been in Belgium, Holland, North Africa and South America. On being liberated he started on his remarkable career as a card sharp. The man who had secured his conviction was a Jew, and for this reason Houck harbored a deadly hatred against the Jewish race and made them his special prey. It was his boast that he robbed none but Jews and those who were able to lose. He became an accomplished linguist, speaking five languages and in his travels acquired the manners of a gentleman. His good address obtained him entrance to the Fifth Avenue club of New York, where he proved an expensive member for his new friends. On coming west he became a member of the swell jockey club in the City of Mexico and made a fortune. From Mexico Houck went to South Africa and became a member of the Royal Club of Cape Town. Thence he went to Johannesburg and was speedily elected a member of the fashionable Wanderer's Club. His success was phenomenal, but was attended by no scandal. In company with several South African millionaires Houck went to London and secured membership in the Grosvenor Club where he is said to have met and vanquished the Prince of Wales.

Houck dropped dead at Durango, Mexico, only a short time ago, and some hitherto unpublished passages in his career are likely to come out during the Henley-Harris trial here next week.

An Old Case.

The oldest case unsettled in the records of the court of Kootenay has been set down for trial at the approaching assizes. It was that of Harris vs. Kirlin, commenced in 1896 when the writ was issued, and at a stand-still ever since until a short time since when the statement of claim was filed. The plaintiff asks possession of lot 4, block 4, in Sandon, an injunction to restrain defendants from trespassing thereon and damages to the extent of $180. The question at issue is as to whether a crown grant to the mineral claim London entitles Harris to the surface rights of the ground.

An incline shaft is being sunk on the footwall of the big ledge on the Evening Star, the Wellington camp property recently bonded by Andrew Laidlaw.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

Reduction of Timber Dues in British Columbia.

The Boundary Line Dispute—Dawson Postal Regulations—Shooting Affair at Nelson.

A section of land in Hope district has been set apart as an Indian reserve.

Placer claims in Cariboo can be laid over from November 1st until June 1st, 1901.

Dues on square timber and saw-logs cut on Dominion lands in British Columbia have been reduced to $1.50, with the exception of oak, the dues on which remain at $2.

A dispute over the exact location of the boundary line at Mount Baker, a new mining camp on the border of British Columbia and Washington, is in progress. The American customs authorities have seized a pack train proceeding from Chilliwack, on the Canadian side, to the Lone Jack mine, which Dominion Government Surveyor Deane, who is now surveying the district, and defining the boundary line, says is in Canadian territory. Mr. Deane's survey will, it is stated, prove that several of the chief properties in the district are on the Canadian side of the line, which he has located two miles south of the present boundary. This will place several American owned mines on Canadian soil.

The Executive of the Provincial Society S. P. C. A. met in the Municipal Chambers, New Westminster, on the 4th inst., with Mr. J. C. Brown, M. P. P., president, in the chair and representatives present from Victoria, Vancouver, Nanaimo and New Westminster. The secretary reported that Sir Henri Joly had consented to become patron to the society, and that the Hon. James Dunsmuir had given very generous assistance to the Association. The Provincial Government had also paid over the sum of $500 passed by the Legislature for the purpose of extending the work of the society in the various districts of the Province. Mrs. (Dr.) Walkem, of Nanaimo, gave a most interesting account of the work done by the society which was inaugurated by the secretary in that city last month and stated that a large membership would follow. Arrangements were also made for the secretary to visit Ladners, Chilliwack and other centres with a view of starting branch societies. The annual meeting is to be held in Vancouver in January next.

The post office officials of Vancouver have been notified from Ottawa that the winter regulations are now in force relative to mail matter reaching Dawson, White Horse, Atlin, and other northern points. First class mail matter will reach these points in winter the same as in summer, but newspapers, parcels and packages, to the extent of only 500 pounds per week, will be allowed to pass in from Skagway. Everything considered, few complaints have been made during the summer, or season of navigation, in relation to the manner in which the mail service to the north was carried out. It is to be hoped that the post office department will change the 500 pound limit to at least 1,000 pounds. The sum paid for the service is considerable, and the people in the north, as they are very heavy contributors to the Federal treasury, should be placed upon the same footing as citizens in other sections of the country. If the limit suggested is granted, it is almost certain that there will be little or no cause for complaint.

A shooting affair took place in the Bodega saloon, Nelson, B. C., between 2 and 3 o'clock on Sunday last week, which may result in the death of William Muller, a miner. Shortly after 2 o'clock Muller entered the saloon and sat down in a card-room. A few minutes later Fred Hoard, a laborer, entered the building, and, going into the card-room where Muller was, fired four shots at the latter. Two shots took effect in the lower part of Muller's stomach. Hoard then tried to escape, but was arrested shortly afterward by Chief of Police Jarvis. The two men played poker the previous night, Hoard losing considerable money. This is the supposed cause of the shooting. Hoard recently worked at Greenwood and at Sandon for the Canadian Pacific. Muller who is owner of the Queen's hotel at Claresburg, Ont., recently worked at the Molly Gibson mine. Muller now lies in the city hospital in a critical condition. Hoard will be tried at Nelson at the fall assizes, which will be held October 16. Much excitement prevailed in the saloon at the time of the shooting, and there was considerable trouble in making the arrest of Hoard. This is the first shooting affair that has taken place in Nelson during the last three years.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1900.

Great interest is being taken in the opening of the Colville Indian reservation, to the south of Midway. The principal places in the neighborhood are Molson, Chesaw and Bolster, which are within a few miles of the boundary line, and they are most easily reached by the Canadian Pacific railway's new Boundary creek extension to Midway, the distance from this point being only 19 miles, to Bolster, 20½ to Chesaw, and 23½ to Molson by a good wagon road. In the past difficulty has been experienced in getting shipments of freight to those towns, owing to the lack of customs facilities, but this will now be completely overcome as the United States government has just assigned a customs officer to Midway to facilitate the transfer of American freight to these points.

There seems to be great complication in matters regarding the building of the wagon road from Westbridge to Beaverton. Last week an order was phoned to the Greenwood Miner from Rock Creek, for a number of posters advertising for 200 men, and whoever sent the message claimed that Mr. Thruston, manager of the Carmi, had ordered the message sent. The posters were duly printed and freely distributed throughout the district, and as a result a large number of men went to the West Fork to receive employment, but upon their arrival they were informed that no more men were wanted. There was already a gang of about 25 men at work and even that small number were without the necessary tools to work with, so that Mr. Shaw, the surveyor, was justified in not giving employment to a further number until such times as the necessary tools arrived to supply the small gang already at work. Mr. Thruston now claims that he never phoned the order for the posters nor did he instruct anyone to do so and he has now had a number of posters sent out to this effect. If Mr. Thruston were responsible for advertising for men he was entirely too previous, but on the other hand if he were not aware that his name was being used for the purpose someone is guilty of a serious charge and will, in all probability, be brought to justice and have to suffer the penalty provided for such conduct. The men who went to the West Fork expecting to receive work, intend to take steps to recover damages for their time and expenses incurred in travelling to Westbridge, so that it will be rather interesting to see how the matter is settled.

MINING NOTES.

A single car was being loaded with ore from the Buckhorn, in Deadwood camp, last week. This will be the second car shipped from this property, which is now employing a few men, chiefly near the surface.

The Golden Crown and Winnipeg mines, in Wellington camp, have reduced their working forces and suspended shipping ore for the time being. It is understood that in the former an entirely new plan of development is shortly to be adopted.

The Standard Pyritic Smelting Co. is pushing on its construction work at the site of its smelter above Midway. The excavations were last week forward enough to allow of masons being put on and now these latter are making good progress. The plant has been shipped from Denver, Col., so it may be expected to be on the ground within a week or two. Mr. Laidlaw, the managing director, is making the most of the present fine weather to hasten construction.

It is definitely stated that the Old Ironsides and Knob Hill mines' shipments of ore to the Granby smelter at Grand Forks will be doubled on Wednesday next. The second furnace was blown in at the smelter on Saturday, the difficulty in obtaining a sufficiently large supply of coke before blowing it in having been the main cause of delay in doing so. There is at the smelter a good supply of ore on hand ahead of immediate requirements, so that with the above-mentioned shipments, which will average 600 tons per day, and sundry receipts from smaller mines that will also be going in right along, the smelter will have more than enough ore to keep it going.

The Snowshoe, at Phoenix, will before the end of the year send out about 200 tons of ore for further test purposes. This will be taken from the workings on what is known as the railway ledge, which is opening up very well, showing ore about 50 feet in width and occurring along the greater part of the length of the tunnel, now in more than 300 feet. A small steam hoist was lately placed in this tunnel for use in sinking a winze. The Snowshoe should next year be a regular shipper in considerable quantity, especially as it is owned by English capitalists who can easily provide ample money to adequately equip and extensively work it.

up in the workings at the 300-foot level of the Mother Lode mine. The north drift and two cross-cuts from it have all disclosed the presence of a lot of good ore and the raise now being made from this level to the 200 is in some of the best ore yet met with in the mine. The work of sinking the main shaft, now down 325 feet, will shortly be resumed and will thereafter be continued to the 500-foot level. Mine buildings for the accomodation of more men and new and larger machinery, are being hurried to completion whilst the weather is favorable for this work. The two 100 horse power boilers for the new compressor have been built in and housed and the two 80-horse power boilers for the new hoist will soon be similarly ready for use. The compressor and hoist should be received before the end of the current month and it should not take long to instal them, with so much of the preliminary work already done.

The blowers for the B. C. Copper Co's. smelter, at Anaconda, which arrived a fortnight ago, are being removed on skids from the railway track to the blower house where they will be placed in position. The pipe for the pipe line, from the dam recently constructed on Copper Creek to the works, arrived from New York last week and the work of fixing it and boxing it in to protect it from frost will now be proceeded with. The laboratory is now in readiness for work, the coke floor and other parts of the smelter yard are being put in shape for the receipt of coke and fluxes, should any of the latter be needed, which it hardly likely, bearing in mind the stated experience in smelting ores at the Granby smelter, and matters are having attention in the sampling mill the machinery for which should come to hand very soon. Ore is being sent from the Mother Lode mine to the smelter so as to accumulate a supply before the work of reduction shall be started. There does not appear to be much probability that a commencement will be made with the actual work of smelting before the beginning of next year, although the smelter manager is reported to have stated that he expects to be ready for this work by December 1st.

came into Midway on a special freight train on Tuesday morning, and spent an hour or so looking over the local railway premises preparatory for the installation of the daily passenger service which commences today.

A football match was played at Phoenix on Saturday afternoon between teams representing the Greenwood and Phoenix Football clubs respectively. A lively interest was taken in the game, which was a good one resulting, however, in the Greenwood team winning by four goals to their opponents' one. In the evening the visitors were entertained at dinner at the Victoria hotel, Phoenix, where an hour or two of social intercourse passed away.

The Scottish Concert given by Mr. Scott in Noble's hall last Friday evening, under the auspices of the Midway Brass Band, was in every way a success. Mr. Scott possesses a splendid tenor voice which showed to good advantage in his singing Annie Laurie and The Banks of Loch Lomon. Mrs. S. A. Crowell acted as accompaniste, and the Midway Orchestra charmed the audience between the songs.

George R. McKenzie, of Phoenix, and Miss Nettie R. Auld, of Watford, Ont., were married on Friday at the residence of B. F. Petch, Greenwood, Rev. D. McG. Gandier of Rossland officiating. A. G. McKenzie acted as best man and Mrs. Alice McKenzie as bridesmaid. The bride was given away by John McKenzie, of Greenwood, brother of the groom. Only intimate friends of the bride and groom were present. A wedding breakfast was given by Mrs. Petch after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie have the best wishes of many friends in Greenwood. They will reside in Phoenix.

Messrs. W. M. Law, H. J. McQuaid and W. S. Masey are incorporating a new trading company under the style of the Law–McQuaid Co., Ltd. The new company has already opened a large general store in the Old Ironsides part of the Phoenix townsite. As Mr. Masey is managing partner in the Old Ironsides boarding house, at which more than a hundred of the mine employees board regularly, the new business is assured of at least one good customer from the start. Mr. Law is well and favorably known in the district, having been in the store business first at Anaconda and afterwards in Greenwood for the past four years. Mr. McQuaid who has been with him during the greater part of that time, is in charge of the Phoenix business.

On Thursday, the 4th inst., Eugene D. Sullivan died at the Greenwood hospital of typhoid fever. The deceased had been working in the Winnipeg mine for some time past. At one time he was sheriff of Silver Bow county, Montana, and possessed of considerable means, but through a series of misfortunes he was reduced to the necessity of earning his living by mining, a calling which he followed for a number of years in Butte. His brother, D. J. Sullivan, arrived from Butte on Saturday and on Monday the remains were taken to Butte for interment. The pall bearers were John Hanley, Nick Tregear, Col. Armstrong, R. E. L. Brown, J. Roderick Robertson, James Cunningham, C. J. McArthur and W. J. Harly. A large number of old Montana friends attended the remains to the station.—Miner.

The C. P. R. water service and fence crew of the C. and W. branch, under foreman Jerry Wall, have been engaged for the past week in stretching a couple of miles of wire fence between here and Greenwood, near Boundary Falls, and upon its completion came on to Midway on a special train on Sunday morning, and have since been busy laying water pipes from the river to the water tank, as it was found impossible to use the well already sunk as the earth was too soft to insure a satisfactory and permanent supply of water. The pump house and apparatus formerly adjoining the railroad property has been moved to the riverside and re-erected, and will be used to force the water through 2,500 feet of pipe. The work will propably require between two or three weeks to complete, and pipes may also be laid to supply the passenger and freight stations and round house with water. In the meantime, upon the commencement of the running of the passenger trains, and until the completion of the work here, locomotives will be compelled to take water from the flume or a sufficient supply at Greenwood to last them for their return trip to the latter place.

Walsh—Gaffney.

Last Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock Thos. Walsh, the popular proprietor of the Kootenay hotel, Greenwood, and Miss Lizzie Gaffney were united in marriage, the Rev. Father Palmer officiated. Miss McConnell, of Greenwood, was bridesmaid, while Mike Kane supported the groom. After the ceremony was performed the happy couple together with about twenty guests sat down to a splendid wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Walsh left the same forenoon for Spokane, where the honeymoon will be spent. Mr. Walsh is widely known throughout the Boundary country as he was one of the first to engage in mining in the district, and his genial and kind hearted manner has won for him a large circle of friends who will tender Mr. and Mrs. Walsh a cordial reception upon their return to Greenwood.

ATTENTION!

There is no better investment at the present time than Midway property. Those who bought in Spokane a few years ago have since made fortunes. Midway is the Spokane of the Boundary Country. It is the coming metropolis of the interior. Trains are now running into Midway, and the price of lots will go up shortly. Invest now and make money.
