THE MINERS' "COMMON ENEMY."

LABOR LEADERS DENOUNCE HON. JOSEPH MARTIN.

Working Miners of Nanaimo Appeal to Kootenay Miners to Stand By Them in Their Fight for Their Homes and Their Daily Bread—They Fear Martin's Lust for Vengeance, and Seek Aid Against Him and His "Political Tricksters."

Last Monday night Mr. Ralph Smith, of Nanaimo, who is President of the Trades and Labor Council of Canada, and Messrs. W. Woodman and J. H. Hawthornethwaite, also active labor union men of Nanaimo, addressed a very numerously attended meeting of electors at Nelson where they are reported to have expressed themselves in uncompromising terms of opposition to Hon. Joseph Martin and his associates. The Nelson "Tribune" published a lengthy report of the speeches of two of those gentlemen, the following extracts from which will no doubt prove of interest at this juncture to numerous readers of THE ADVANCE

MARTIN VOTED AGAINST THE PROTECTION OF THE COAL MINERS.

"Mr. Smith said there were two other matters in connection with Mr. Martin to which he wished to refer The first was Martin's action in going against the Coal Mines Regulation bill. The object of this measure, as everyone knew, was to make it impossible for Chinese or Japanese to get into the coal mines. What action had Mr. Martin, the friend of the workingman, taken—the man that posed as the philanthropist and saviour of the cause of the masses? Because of his spite against the Government he made a contract with James Dunsmuir for the purpose of bringing about the defeat of the Government, and voted against a measure passed for the protection of the coal miners of Vancouver Island. Mr. Smith added: I do not care a snap about a man's theories, if I know that yesterday the man did something contrary to those theories. The man then must perform the action before I will have any confidence in him. This was the position which Premier Martin occupied."

THE RE-DISTRIBUTION BILL AND MARTIN'S BROKEN PLEDGES.

"The other matter to which he (Mr. Smith) desired to refer was Martin's action with respect to the redistribution bill. Martin had stated upon the platform in Nanaimo and upon the floor of the House that if the Government brought in any kind of a redistribution bill he would support it. The Government brought in the measure. Mr. Martin had repeatedly stated that he would support any kind of a redistribution bill; what did he do? He voted against that same bill. Not only did he vote against a measure which he was pledged to support, but he voted against it to the destruction of the Government. Is that the kind of a man we can have confidence in? If a man put his hand into my pocket and pick out a $20 bill to-day I will watch him to-morrow. If afterwards he give me an affidavit that he is honest I will not believe him. Why? Because that $20 sticks in my crop. Mr. Martin knew that he had done wrong, but he desired if possible to do wrong logically."

MARTIN'S CONTRACT WITH DUNSMUIR TO DEFEAT THE SEMLIN GOVERNMENT.

Speaking of the reported intended coalition, Mr. Smith said: "Now Mr. Martin says it was because of this alliance between the Semlin Government and the Turner Opposition that he voted against the redistribution bill. He met Mr. James Dunsmuir, previous to the meeting of the House in Mr. Dunsmuir's office, and he made a contract with him. I know that I am telling the truth. He went to Dunsmuir's office and said to Mr. Dunsmuir: 'Now you and I agree on one thing; that the present Government are no good. You and I will enter into a contract to knock them out.' That was cheap business for Mr. Dunsmuir, and Mr. Martin entered into this contract with Mr. Dunsmuir to defeat the Government. There was at this time something in the air about coalition. Mr. Martin, however, said these men are making an unholy alliance. How anxious he was to fulfil his contract with James Dunsmuir and how little he cared for his contract with Mr. Kellie and his pledges to support the redistribution bill."

Again Mr. Smith said: Joseph Martin, sitting as the balance of power, taught me the lesson of a lifetime. I contend that if an individual for the mere sake of his own personal ends and vengeance, can exercise such authority in the Legislature as to have the Government at his mercy, then we should have our own labor representatives there in somewhat the same position.

MARTIN AND THE "WORLD" OPPOSED TO THE LABOR MOVEMENT.

Mr. Hawthornethwaite said he "would like to draw the attention of the Union men of Nelson to the attitude of the Government organ, the Vancouver World, to the labor movement. Its edition of the 16th contained a column of vilification. Ralph Smith was accused of being a creature of the New Vancouver Coal Company, Mr. Woodman of being a creature of Ralph Smith, and he, the speaker, was accused of the crime of having concealed about his person that dangerous commodity known as brains. So far as Mr. Smith was concerned he would inform the audience that he was not an employee in any sense of the company named, but was the paid servant of the Miners' Union of Nanaimo. The "World" evidenced the true feeling of Hon. Joseph Martin's Government, to the independent labor movement; and the recent action of the Vancouver Unions showed the feeling of the true labor men on the Coast to that Government; for, at the meeting held last week in that city, at which 150 delegates were present, representing 39 unions, only four votes were cast in favor of Martin as against the balance cast in favor of the independent labor movement.

Referring to Mr. Martin's action in issuing a writ against the New Vancouver Coal Company for the return of the letters patent issued by the Semlin Government as a confirmatory title, which he stated did not grant the company one additional acre of land, in fact it curtailed and limited the under-the-sea area claimed by the company, Mr. Hawthornethwaite said: "Where did the steal come in that Hon. Joseph Martin was trying to make political capital out of?

MARTIN'S IGNORANCE OR WILFUL MISSTATEMENT OF FACTS.

The very lands under the sea, that this man in his ignorance or wilful misstatement of the facts said were a new steal, contained over twenty miles of underground workings, and thousands of yards of abandoned workings and levels, all of which facts had been in the possession of unfriendly governments for a decade, and the plans of said workings had been in the hands of the Government officials, and constantly examined and reported on by the inspectors of those governments. The operations of the New Vancouver Coal Company were large. Last year it paid out in wages something in the neighborhood of a million dollars. As a company it was a most liberal one to its employees. It had for years an eight-hour day in its mines. It paid the highest wage of almost any corporation on the Pacific Coast, and further did not employ in its extensive mines a single Jap or Chinaman. This, too, in the teeth of keen competition and in spite of the fact that its competitors in the neighborhood employed hundreds, indeed thousands, of Mongolian coolies. This company had conferred one benefit upon the miners of British Columbia because it had established the fact beyond dispute that white labor, intelligently directed and well paid, could successfully compete against any form of Oriental labor, Chinese or Japanese.

MR. MARTIN'S ACTION RISKED THROWING 1,200 MINERS OUT OF WORK.

Besides issuing a writ against the company for the return of the letters patent, he had also tried to obtain an injunction preventing the miners going on with their work. Now this is the part of the affair that brings to Mr. Martin most discredit. He had a right, it may be supposed, to bring his action against the company, if he so desired, but in the interests of justice, on any other interests beyond personal revenge, he had no right to apply for an injunction restraining that unfortunate body of miners, some twelve hundred in numbers, from pursuing their daily avocation and obtaining their livelihood, and his action in this respect can never be defended."

With regard to the Eight-hour law Mr. Hawthornethwaite reminded his hearers that Mr. Martin was not always the ardent champion of the law which, upon the eve of an election, he desired the working miners of Kootenay to believe he was. When the Eight-hour law was passed by the Semlin Government, there was some hesitation with respect to its enforcement. Owing to this a deputation went from Vancouver to urge upon the Government the necessity of enforcing the law. To the members of this deputation what did Mr. Martin say? He told them he did not believe in the Eight-hour law, and that he never did believe in it; and that as far as he was concerned he would never enforce it. This was the same man who was posing as the friend of the miners and the laboring men of this province.

A STRONG APPEAL TO FELLOW WORKERS TO DEFEAT MARTIN AND HIS SUPPORTERS

Mr. Hawthornethwaite closed his remarks with possibly the strongest plea which one wage earner could make to another for the rejection of the common enemy. He said that the working miners of Nanaimo feared that if returned to power Joseph Martin would gratify his lust for vengeance; that if he were successful he would close the collieries of the New Vancouver Coal Company. Therefore the working miners of Nanaimo appealed to the miners and Union men of Nelson and Kootenay to stand by them in such a crisis. They appealed to the miners especially because they were men who themselves daily faced a common danger and death, men whose kinship in danger should cause them to lend a willing ear to such an appeal. The miners of Nanaimo appealed to the miners of Kootenay, in the hour of their present trial, to stand by them in their fight for their homes and their daily bread, and see to it that by no action of theirs did Hon. Joseph Martin or any of his political tricksters have it in their power to wreck their homes and their means of livelihood.

MARTIN'S SUPPORTERS RECEIVED A RUDE SHOCK.

The "Tribune" made the following comment on the speeches quoted from: Joseph Martin's worshippers received a rude shock on Monday evening when Ralph Smith, the labor leader, and J. H. Hawthornethwaite of Nanaimo laid bare the motives which had been the governing forces in Mr. Martin's career for the past few months. The report is a simple narrative, but it exposes the hypocrisy of Premier Martin. It shows him in the light of a man who in order to gratify personal vengeance and spite did not scruple at attempting to throw 1,200 white miners out of employment, and cause them to forfeit what little they had gathered together as the result of many years of toil. An interesting sidelight was also thrown upon Mr. Martin's position on the eight-hour law. It demonstrated that instead of Mr. Martin being the friend of the eight-hour law in the stormy days which followed its enactment, Mr. Martin expressed himself as opposed to the legislation; that he had never been in favor of it, and that he would never enforce it.

It said further: It should require no argument to satisfy anyone that the man who does not hesitate to violate a pledge is an unsafe man to whom to confide the government. Such a man is almost as dangerous as one who would advocate a policy of confiscation, to despoil those of their property whom he could not browbeat. Such a man is almost as contemptible as one who, to gratify personal spite against two or three individuals, would attempt to deprive several hundred men of their means of livelihood. Yet responsible men have declared from the public platform that Premier Martin has done or attempted each and every one of these things.

MONDAY, MAY 28, 1900.

Midway, as has become its custom, loyally observed the anniversary of the birthday of Her Majesty the Queen last Thursday. An energetic committee, plenty of level ground for sports, almost perfect weather, beautiful scenic surroundings and a large crowd of people bent on enjoying themselves, formed a combination that could produce but one result—a most successful celebration, which was not in the least marred by accident or disorder. For this success thanks are due alike to the willing workers and the numerous spectators, especially the visitors, and they are hereby cordially tendered to them.

We commend to the earnest attention of all miners and other workers, whether Union men or not, the extracts we publish to-day from the speeches made last week at Nelson by Messrs. Ralph Smith and J. H. Hawthornethwaite, of Nanaimo. It appears to us that had the opinions of these two trusted labor-leaders been known to the members of the Greenwood Trades and Labor Council who, as we think unwisely, recently endorsed the platform of Hon. Joseph Martin and the candidature in this riding of his supporter Hon. Smith Curtis, they would have hesitated ere they placed themselves in the false position of being strengtheners of the very party their fellow workers on Vancouver Island have appealed to the miners of the Kootenay to assist them in defeating. We suppose it is unlikely the official endorsement referred to will now be withdrawn, but we do most strongly urge individual members of the affiliated unions forming the district Trades and Labor Council to respond to their co-workers' appeal for help in defeating Martinism. And the only way they can do this is by using their votes and influence in favor of Mr. Mackintosh and against Mr. Smith Curtis.

In another column mention is made of the intended early departure from Camp McKinney of Mr. J. P. Keane, who for several years has been in charge of mining and milling operations at the Cariboo mine. The loss of a thoroughly competent and trustworthy man is always to be sincerely regretted, no matter in what useful occupation his energies have been employed. In mining in comparatively undeveloped districts though, and more particularly in a camp where success has only been achieved in an appreciable degree in one mine, such loss is the greater. Camp McKinney has for several years enjoyed the distinction of possessing the only milling gold quartz mine in the Province that has paid dividends, and much of the profit that has been derived from its operations has been made during Mr. Keane's connection with the mine. Had the development of this mine to its present dividend-paying condition been all plain sailing there would still be occasion for regretful reference to Mr. Keane's departure, but since the mine has experienced vicissitudes, has encountered perplexing mining problems, and, too, has in earlier days had to be worked under financially-restricted conditions, there is greater reason now that its successful future seems assured for reluctance and regret in bidding adieu to the man who was at the helm whilst it was passing through troubled waters. We feel that we are voicing the sentiments of those among whom for years he has lived and labored when we pay this public tribute to his worth, and express the earnest hope that in his new sphere of work a like active exercise of his ability and energy will bring to him the substantial reward he merits.

At last Wednesday night's public meeting in Greenwood two attempts were made to besmirch the fair name of Hon. C. H. Mackintosh, but in neither case could the mud be made to stick. Mr. J. H. Macfarlane, a zealous Martinite, essayed the first attempt. To his question intended to convey the idea that Mr. Mackintosh had been a party to defrauding men employed on the Gatineau Railway out of their wages, he received the emphatic reply, "never," "Yes you were" persisted the mud-slinger, "and I can prove it by two men in this meeting." "No you can't" was the laconic response he elicited, and the crowd cheered Mr. Mackintosh, who afterwards explained that as Mayor of Ottawa he was ex-officio a director of the railway company referred to. His connection with it, however, nearly ruined him financially, for not only did he never make a cent out of it but it cost him $21,500 of his own private moneys. If the company afterwards made a compromise with any of its creditors he had nothing to do with that. The second attempt was made by Hon. Smith Curtis who asserted that Mr. Mackintosh "undertook to 'black-eye' a certain property in the Similkameen." This met with an equally emphatic denial, and Mr. Mackintosh proved to the meeting that he had lived up to his part of the contract to purchase from Mr. R. A. Brown the Sunset, the property referred to, but neither Messrs. Joseph Martin and Smith Curtis—to whom Brown had assigned all interest in the $40,000 he was to have received—nor any one else lodged the requisite deeds to the property in the bank as agreed, consequently he instructed the bank not to pay the money and called the deal off. Mr. Curtis tried to shuffle out of the matter by saying that he had not mentioned the Sunset, but his prevarication was quite evident to the audience, which unhesitatingly accepted Mr. Mackintosh's straightforward statement of the fact of the case.

As yet only one New York mining company is operating in the Boundary Creek district. It has opened up the big Mother Lode mine and is now erecting a smelter near Greenwood. These have to date involved an expenditure of about $250,000, with more to follow. It is an open secret that the capitalists who established these enterprises had prepared to launch another mining company but had to stay their hand, present conditions being unfavorable. In view of this fact the following, taken from a Provincial exchange will just now be read with interest. Colonel E. S. Topping, formerly of Trail, recently returned from New York City, where he went in an endeavor to interest Easterners in British Columbia properties. "But there was no money there for British Columbia," said he "I saw a number of prominent moneyed men, all of whom expressed themselves as satisfied that the propositions were all right, but they were afraid to let go of their money. They were perfectly willing to invest in the Western States, but as one of them said: 'British Columbia is all right when it is governed properly. Get a good stable government and in a few years you will find money flowing into your Province from everwhere.' That's all I got, good advice but no money." And yet there are men in this district, even with such a striking object lesson before their eyes, so blind to the best interests of the mining industry as to support Martinism and unstable government. But fortunately their eyes are being opened to the gravity of the situation and to the urgent necessity there exists for them to do their part towards restoring confidence by voting for Mackintosh, who will attract the much needed capital, not drive it away.

Hon. C. H. Mackintosh at Greenwood.

After a very successful visit, extending over several days, to Grand Forks and Columbia, where he held very largely attended meetings, Hon. C. H. Mackintosh last Tuesday came on to the Boundary Creek section of the riding. His Greenwood committee had decided that there should not be any demonstration of welcome made on his arrival at Greenwood, so he was met at the station by only Acting-Mayor Sutherland and Mr. Jas. Kerr, chairman of the committee. Mr. Mackintosh was accompanied by Mayor Goodeve, and they were driven to the Windsor Hotel, which they made their headquarters throughout the week. On Tuesday evening they were present at a meeting of the executive committee. On Wednesday night a public meeting was held in the Alhambra Theatre, which was crowded to the doors.

The chair was taken by Acting-Mayor Sutherland. It had previously been arranged that Hon. Mr. Mackintosh should speak first, then Hon. Smith Curtis his opponent, and then after Mr. Mackintosh had briefly replied Mr. Goodeve should make the closing speech. On rising to address the large audience Mr. Mackintosh was given

AN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION.

He thanked the electors for their cordial greeting, and admitted that whilst he had previously heard much of the Boundary district it certainly was a revelation to him upon this his first visit to it. Turning to the object of their meeting that night he observed that they had quite recently rejoiced upon the relief of Mafeking—well, on June 9 he and other supporters of good government were coming to the relief of British Columbia, which at present was oppressed by one of the worst governments it had ever had. His opponents had asked what his platform was. He had published an address to the electors which contained his platform. The first and most important plank of those who had at heart the best interests of the Province was the defeat of the government of the Hon. Joseph Martin. There were plenty of good men available for the Government of the province, so their services should be availed of.

Mr. Kerr, speaking at Grand Forks as representative of Mr. Curtis, had said that there were three leading questions to be considered, viz. the Kettle River Valley Railway, Chinese and Japanese immigration, and the Eight-hour law. There was, too, the question of re-distribution which especially affects the Boundary country. This large district certainly should have its own representative. Mr. Curtis had said he would endeavor to give the district its own member in 1901 and his chief, Mr. Martin, had named 1902. Speaking for himself, he would urge the passing of a re-distribution measure at the earliest possible time, without unnecessary delay to give this district the representation it should have.

Mr. Curtis and his supporters had represented him as opposed to working men. If they could prove that he had been he would retire from this contest. On the contrary he could show that he had been as straight forward with the working classes of Canada as had ever been any man in public life. He held in his hand documentary evidence from prominenent labor men in the East (which he read) which proved that it was utterly untrue to say that he was the enemy of labor. And they would find that if he were for 20 years their representative he would have a similar record to that he had given them. Mr. Martin and his supporters seemed to claim that the Eight-hour law was something new, yet it had been in force many years in other countries that he named. So far from being opposed to it the recent settlement of the labor difficulty in Rossland had been made by Messrs. Ralph Smith and R. C. Clute upon the lines laid down in his own letter previously published in the Rossland "Miner". He had been and still was in favor of the Eight-hour law.

In regard to Oriental labor he advocated paying standard wages to the best skilled labor. If there were a legal standard wage the Chinese would be excluded from the mines, for mine-owners would find that it would not pay them to give Chinese high wages. Whilst he admired Japan as a nation, he competing with the working men of British Columbia.

As to state-owned railways, he was not opposed to the principle, but he had asked his opponents to act cautiouly before incurring such a large expenditure as the construction of even the Coast-Midway railway alone would involve. If they borrowed $20,000,000 that would mean taxation to the extent of $1,000,000, and that with a revenue of only $1,500,000. The present debt of the Province is about $47 per head for every man woman and child in it, but the carrying out of the proposals of the Martin Government would increase it to $150 per head. They should rather spend more money on roads, bridges and trails; in aid to Provincial hospitals and in assisting in every way they could to open up the mines of the country.

Reverting to the Eight-hour law, he had that day received a telegram which proved that earlier Mr. Martin had admitted to Messrs. Ralph Smith, McPherson and others that he did not believe in that law. He concluded by asking for the support of the electors, assuring both working classes and business men that they would find in him and one who would do his best to give them their own representative for the Boundary country.

Hon. Smith Curtis, who followed, said that Mr. Mackintosh had not shown that the Martin Government was the worst the Province had ever had. He claimed on the contrary, that the adminstration of the several departments had been better attended to by it than ever before. Mr. Mackintosh had not told them who his leader was, nor what was his platform, except the one plank to defeat the Martin Government. Nor had he any party pledged to support him in the Legislature if he were returned. He (the speaker) defended Mr. Martin's action in voting against the Semlin Government's re distribution measure which he asserted that government never intended to carry through. The present government had brought about the settlement of the labor difficulties at Rossland, and if it were sustained at the forthcoming election the Eight-hour question would be settled for ever. If they elected him on June 9 he would go to the Legislature as much a labor as a Government candidate. He referred to the proposed railway to Midway the outside cost of which would be $7,500,000 or $8,000,000. If this railway were built they could send the products of their mines to the coast where a refinery would be built. During his remarks he said that Mr. Mackintosh had undertaken to "black-eye" a certain property in the Similkameen. In reply Mr. Mackintosh explained that he had placed $40,000 in the bank to purchase the Sunset, the property referred to, but the deeds of it were never lodged in the bank as agreed, so he called the deal off. He by stating that he had previously received notice from Mr. R. A. Brown, the seller, assigning all his interest in the $40,000 to Messrs. Joseph Martin and Smith Curtis, which made the transaction seem to him to have a suspicious appearance.

CREATED A SENSATION

Mr. Goodeve spoke for an hour, scoring Mr. Curtis severely, making point after point against him and thereby doing effective work in favor of Mr. Mackintosh. The meeting closed at midnight by singing "God Save the Queen."

Canadian Born.

We first saw light in Canada, the land beloved of God.
We are the pulse of Canada, its marrow and its blood.
And we, the men of Canada, can face the world and brag,
That we were born in Canada, beneath the British flag.

Few of us have the blood of kings, few are of courtly birth.
But few are vagabonds or rogues of doubtful name and worth.
And all have our credentials that entitles us to brag
For we were born in Canada, beneath the British flag.

We've yet to make our money, we've yet to make our fame,
But we have gold and glory in our clean colonial name;
And every man's a millionaire if only he can brag.
That he was born in Canada beneath the British Flag.

No title and no coronet is half as proudly worn.
As that which we inherited as men, Canadian born,
We count no man so noble as the one who makes the brag
That he was born in Canada beneath the British Flag.

The Dutch may have his Holland, the Spaniard have his Spain.
The Yankee to the south of us must south of us remain;
For not a man dare lift a hand against the men who brag
That they were born in Canada beneath the British Flag.

At the time of writing the sufferer has not regained consciousness, but his friends are hopeful of his recovery since they observe indications of a slight improvement in his condition.

Sawyer—Boone.

This morning at ten o'clock, at the residence of the bride's parents, Midway, Rev. B. H. Balderston, B. A., united in marriage Mr. Herbert L. Sawyer and Miss Nelly Boone, both of Midway. The bride, who is one of Midway's most popular young ladies, was attended by her sister Mabel. She was attired in a handsome white silk bridal dress and looked charming. Mr. Will Sawyer acted as best man. Besides those directly concerned there were present at the wedding a number of friends of the bride and groom. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer drove to Greenwood where they took train for Robson. They will visit Kaslo, Pilot Bay and other Kootenay points and after their honeymoon trip will reside in Midway.

The Cariboo, Camp McKinney.

On Tuesday, 22nd inst., Mr. G. B. McAulay returned from a visit to the Cariboo mine, Camp McKinney. He was accompanied by the mine superintendent, Mr. J. P. Keane, and they brought with them for shipment to New York gold to the value of $18,700, this being the return from the mill run for the month ended 15th inst. The gold was deposited with the Bank of Montreal, Greenwood, and the gentlemen who brought it down from the camp, after receiving the bank's receipt for it, left for Spokane on the afternoon train.

Mr. McAulay had very little to say about the mine beyond that it continues to look well and that its prospects are of an in reasingly satisfactory nature. Mr. Keene was asked whether, as had been reported, he had resigned his appointment of superintendent, and he stated that he had done so, but that he would return to the mine for a few days before finally severing his connection with it. He expected to leave Camp McKinney on 2nd or 3rd prox. for the Coeur d'Alenes, where he purposes undertaking a big mining contract, viz, to drive a 7,000 foot tunnel on the Last Chance mine at Wardner, Idaho. This mine adjoins the Bunker Hill and Sullivan property which some time since was the scene of the labor troubles which culminated in the blowing up by strikers of the big mill and in loss of life, these outrages together leading to stern repressive measures and severe punishment. The Last Chance is owned by the Empire State and Idaho Mining and Development Company, which appears to be operating on a large scale. The contract for the tunnel mentioned above will, it is anticipated, require about two years for its completion.

The Trade Outlook.

An Ottawa press despatch states that the general trade outlook throughout the country is as bright as ever. The wholesale merchants are already preparing for the fall trade, and preparing on such liberal lines that it is evident they attach little importance to the predictions of those who imagine the end of our cycle of prosperity is in sight. The development of the natural resources of the leading mineral deposits of the country, particularly those located in Ontario and British Columbia, is playing an important part in the business of supply and demand in Canada. All the work going forward in connection with the various industries in which outside and home capitalists are getting interested, is not only employing large numbers of laborers and skilled workmen, but it is also having the effect of materially increasing the consumptive demand for general supplies. The importance of such a factor, working in the large market centres of the Dominion, must have a beneficial effect on general business. The old lines of industry are kept busy with orders that will give employment to workmen for many months. Railway construction and other works of a public character now in progress throughout the country are considerable. These are all important factors in the immediate future of the Dominion and they apparently promise bountiful returns to everyone concerned.

EDITOR ADVANCE: Dear Sir,—Permit me to use the columns of THE ADVANCE to apologize for being forced by circumstances to forego the pleasure of meeting the electors of Midway and vicinity and explaining away many misleading statements made by the Martin candidate and his friends during the present campaign. I visited Midway on 24th inst., Her Majesty's Birthday, with this intention, but hesitated to ask those who were enjoying a special celebration to attend a public meeting. My committees have announced meetings that completely preclude the possibility of a return to Midway before election day. I am reluctantly obliged therefore to ask my friends to rely upon my published address and pledges given in other parts of the Rossland Riding, to put their trust in me and to unite in an untiring effort to elect me and to defeat the Government of Hon. Joseph Martin. Such defeat means a great deal for British Columbia both at home and abroad. Believe me,

Ever faithfully,

GREENWOOD, May 26, 1900. C. H. MACKINTOSH.

MIDWAY CELEBRATES.

Queen's Birthday Loyally Observed at Midway--Visitors From All Over the District Attend Sports.

Everything Passed Off Successfully, and the Big Crowd Thoroughly Enjoyed Themselves.

Midway was favored with real "Queen's weather" for its celebration on May 24th, Queen's Birthday. As a consequence the crowd that assembled to witness the sports and take part in the general pleasure making that the day had been given up to was the largest ever seen in this highly favored part of the Kettle River Valley. The Committee had worked with a will to ensure success, and having met with a liberal response to their appeal for funds had been able to arrange a varied and attractive programme of sports. There were several features not previously included in local celebrations. Chief among these were bicycle races, a buck-jumping exhibition, and the rendering of a number of musical selections by the Greenwood Brass Band, this last pleasantly relieving what might otherwise have been the tediousness of waiting between the different events on the programme.

Visitors began to arrive early, and they were delighted with the town, gaily and profusely decorated with flags and tri-colored streamers and festoons, and looking bright and beautiful with its attractive immediate surroundings of grassy plain and its setting of green and timbered hills. The shaded banks of Kettle River tempted some, and a few tried their luck at fishing, but the main interest centred in the sports ground where the large "grand stand" was crowded chiefly with ladies and children, whilst the men crowded around the winning post or any other point of especial interest. There were several booths on the ground which did a good business in fruit, candies and other light refreshments, and down town the hotels were kept busy throughout the day. Some enterprising individuals from Greenwood had arranged for a glove contest between two good boxers, but the "house" of 150 who paid the admission fee to the enclosure was considered too small, so the "fight" was declared off and the money returned to the disappointed lovers of this class of sport. In the evening a ball was held at the Oakland Hotel. This was well attended and very enjoyable. There was no other public function at night, so most of the holiday makers got home in good time, leaving but few to continue celebrating until the early hours of the following morning.

The list of sports with the winners of the various events follows:

Free for all, one-half mile and repeat, Easter Lily, Albert Lee; Skipper, J. McFall.

Free for all, 600-yard dash Skipper, J. McFall; Salem, Ed. La Fleur.

Local horses only, one-quarter mile and repeat, Sleepy Jim, D. McClung; Maud, J. A. Harris.

Saddle horse race, 600 yard dash, Sleepy Jim, D. McClung; Sid, C. C. Emmett.

Boys' pony race, one-quarter mile dash, Ibis, J. McDonald; Black Beauty, Fred. Wilkins.

Trotting race, single driver and four-wheeled rig, one-half mile and repeat, Honest John, H. A. Huntley; Bess, N. La Plant.

Novelty race, one-half mile, Sorrel Sal, Herb. Sawyer.

Bicycle race, one-half mile and repeat, B. A. McIntyre, T. H. Cassidy.

Bicycle race, one-half mile dash, H. H. Pannell, A. Paget.

Ladies' bicycle race, one-half mile dash, Miss Clerf, Miss Medill.

Men's foot race, 100 yards, Chas. Wilson, W. A. Mitchell.

Running long jump, P. G. McLeod, 17ft. 1in.

Running high jump, P. G. McLeod, 4ft. 6in.

To Enjoy Life...

Live in Midway where there is plenty of room for recreation, level ground for out-door sports, good roads for riding, driving and cycling, and at the river fishing in season and skating in winter.
