ELKTIVITIES

By "Elkart"

An excellent attendance was recorded at the regular meeting of the Elks' Lodge in Aldergrove on Tuesday, January 19, some 35 members and 5 visitors being present. Keep up this good attendance, Brother Elks, and we will have that cup back with us again. Secretary-treasurer Elmer Storey reported that membership was never better than at the present time. Only three out of one hundred and fifteen members being in arrears of dues and that no particular concern was felt about this. It is an achievement to be proud of and shows that we are in a healthy situation. It also shows we all take a keen interest in our Lodge.

Our District Deputy Brother A. Eden extended an invitation to District Deputy R. Gagnon of Mission Lodge to take over his own official visit to Aldergrove Lodge. Brother Eden will reciprocate in the near future. Brother Gagnon was accorded the full honors of the Lodge and a cordial welcome. He also brought the Exalted Ruler Brother Olund and three other officers of their Lodge with him.

Brother Gagnon complimented the Lodge on the brightness and cleanliness of their Lodge rooms, also Brother C. McDowell on his generosity to the Lodge over a period of time, and Brother E. Storey who is a Life Member but still insists on paying his dues. A fine and true expression of Elkdom at work.

An initiation was performed in the presence of the District Deputy. Mr. C. Stranberg was taken into the Order. All our officers performed their duty well. Brother Gagnon came up with some constructive remarks and said that with a little practice our officers could go a long way. Grand Lodge isn't too far out of our reach. We have the material. That was proven last year when Brother "Bud" Sloggett was selected as the best Lecturing Knight in our zone. Don't forget those ritualistic practises, Brothers. Maybe we can come up with one or more awards in the competition this year. Esquire Brother "Vic" Dyck is doing a good job on the raffle at each meeting.

Brother Scarboro won the Waterman's pen and pencil set while Brother Art Peterson won the attendance draw. Everyone sat down to an enjoyable stew and rolls prepared and served by Brother Ed Anderson, at the close of the meeting.

Remember, Sat., Feb. 13. A Valentine Social Evening will be held at the Lodge for all Elks and their wives and friends.

Langley Bridge Dangerous Says Board President

Langley Board of Trade is to press for adequate bridging facilities on the Trans Canada Highway east of the City of Langley.

The present narrow two lane bridge over the Nicomekl River is inadequate and dangerous, said Trade Board president, Dr. Chapin Key, and it is probably the only wooden bridge on this highway. He commented on the fact that a serious accident had occurred there recently.

Former Board executive officer Norman Armstrong has resigned his position on election to Langley City Council. Appointed in his place is George Chan.

A special committee consisting of Dr. Chapin Key and John Jeffery has been set up to make a survey of the property in Langley City commercial area that is affected by the proposed new Setback By-law introduced by City Council.

Purpose of the by-law is to establish a uniform set-back allowance for commercial buildings six feet from the property front line. It was pointed out to board members that some buildings are set to the property line; some are set back five feet and others at varying distances.

The Red Cross clinic will be coming to Langley City on February 29.

Repski Barn Burnt To Ground

Shortly after 4:00 a. m. on Saturday morning the Aldergrove Volunteer Fire Department was alerted for a fire on the Aldergrove - Bellingham Highway. The old barn on Repski's place burnt to the ground. It is reputed to be about 45 years old and was a landmark in the district.

The alarm was turned in by the Matsqui police, who had seen the glow from Aberdeen and came down to check. Elmer Quiring had also seen the glow and had called Fire Chief Fred Dams. When the fire department arrived it was too late to save the building and there was no water available.

When the owner, Mr. Repski, saw the fire it was already through the roof of the building. Two tons of hay were in the loft and this was also lost. Cause of the fire is unknown and Chief Fred Dams was still checking the smoldering embers later in the morning.

Gibson Blames B. C. Economy On Soviet Trade Policy

"We are in the midst of the third World War but we don't recognize the fact."

This unusual approach to the subject of provincial and municipal financial relations was made by Dr. Gordon Gibson, M. L. A. for Delta, speaking to the Langley Board of Trade Tuesday.

Gibson prefaced his speech by deploring the public apathy in turning out to the polls. This is a black mark on our democracy, he said, and some way must be found to shake the people out of their lethargy.

He went on to explain how Soviet policy was affecting economy right down to municipal level. In 1939 he said, Russia was the only country under Communist control but since the war the Soviet had made tremendous territorial gains which were used to provide strength for their future plans.

By 1947 democracies had almost collapsed, through slackening of production and unemployment, but the Marshall Plan, coupled with British ideology had saved Europe from collapse.

Since then the Communist aim had been and still is to cripple the economies of the free world through trade.

Relating this to the situation in Canada, Gibson said, "We are pricing ourselves out of world markets. We are one of the richest countries in the world with one of the smallest populations, but to develop we need more money than we can provide ourselves. We are hamstrung because we have to add 5 percent to enable us to exist. Our progress is hampered by the necessity to depend on foreign capital. The tight money policy is necessary because we have too much at stake to be sold down the river."

Gibson thought that there might be something in the Russian philosophy which he said "cleared the brain of a lot of cluttered up nonsense, whereas there is too much in our society draining off strength and the ability to think clearly."

"Maybe we are spending too much on defense," said the M. L. A., "but one thing is certain, the Federal, Provincial and Municipal governments have got to get together, clear the differences and come up with an answer whereby people are not priced out of their homes."

Council Discuss Reconstruction And Road Paving

Although not yet finalized, the paving and reconstruction road projects for 1960 were discussed by Council last week.

Reeve D. W. Poppy suggested that the Otter Road from Jackson to North Bluff should be added to the list of paving and he questioned whether it was advisable to carry out reconstruction on the County Line Road between Roberts and Watson in view of the new cloverleaf. Council approved re-construction on County Line Hill to take its place.

It was agreed that County Line Bridge and the hill on Telegraph Trail be included in the reconstruction program while other roads mentioned were Cornock, Goldstream and Matheson.

Reeve Poppy reported on his recent trip to Victoria together with Councillor Roberts and stated that they had visited Mr. Miard, the Deputy Minister of Highways and made application for additional grant on the 1960 Reconstruction and Paving Programme.

The Delegation also asked the Deputy Minister for special consideration on Roads leading to the intersections with the new Highway. The Deputy Minister promised to consider these matters.

Ladies Visit Polio Centre

Nine carloads of ladies taking part in the "Mothers' March" of January 30th left Langley Monday evening for a special tour of the G. F. Strong Rehabilitation Centre in Vancouver.

Forty ladies including several from the Aldergrove area were shown over the centre by Ed Desjardin, Director of the Foundation. The party was split in two and while half were seeing all branches of the centre the others were shown a 25 minute film by Executive Director Ian King.

The party was arranged by the Kin in order that canvassers in Mothers' March could see for themselves where their collections would go and to what use they would be put.

The next polio clinic in Langley will be held in the Kin Health Centre from 7 to 8:30 p. m. on February 3.

INVITE MEETING

Council Moves Re Aldergrove Water

Reporting to Council last week the chairman of the Water Committee, Councillor Noel Booth, stated that there are two ways in which water can be provided in the municipality.

One is by formation of a Water Board, he said, and the second is by establishment of municipal water systems.

He suggested that there would be no difference in the cost to the consumer but claimed that if a Water Board were formed it would take a lot of work from the Council and the service to residents would be the same.

The Councillor presented a copy of a by-law recently passed in Matsqui for the Clayburn Heights Water District which provides for water charges to pay all the costs of the system. A proviso in the by-law notes that if the revenue is insufficient, the Municipality can levy a special charge to pay the costs.

Booth suggested that whatever system was adopted, the Municipality should obtain the services of an Engineer to present a report on the problem of water and water systems.

The question of source of supply was raised and it was thought that there is sufficient evidence of availability of water in Aldergrove at the present time, and after discussion regarding method of obtaining water and distribution it was decided on motion of Councillors Flowerdew and Roberts that Reeve Poppy and Councillor Booth be authorized to visit the owner of Aldergrove Water Works Co. regarding the sale of his system and following that, representatives of the Aldergrove Chamber of Commerce Water Committee are to be invited to attend a special meeting to discuss the matter further.

Scout Chief Visits Local Group Feb. 4

As reported last week Deputy Chief Scout of Canada Jackson Dodds will be visiting the Langley District on February 4, 1960. The local Scout Executive has planned an interesting afternoon and evening for the distinguished visitor that will include a conducted tour of the historical Fort Langley museum and buildings, a quiet dinner with the Mayor and Reeve, Commissioner of the Girl Guides, and ranking members of the RCMP as invited guests.

Following the dinner there will be an evening programme in the Recreation Hall at HMCS Aldergrove starting at 8:00 p. m. The 1st Aldergrove Cub Pack has a "Black-face Revue" that they will be presenting, a composite group of Langley scouts will be giving a short programme, and the Guest of Honor will give an interesting and informative talk on scouting in Canada. The evening will conclude with a Campfire programme.

This evening is open to the public and everyone is invited to attend. It is hoped that many people from Aldergrove will be there to honor the visitor and to illustrate the support that Langley gives to scouting. There are 204 scouts and approximately 450 cubs in the Langley district, as well as 52 adult leaders, active in scouting.

S. McCoy Taken By Coast Guard Plane From Ship

Stan McCoy, sailor son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCoy of Endacott Subdivision, was taken seriously ill aboard his ship in the north Pacific on Friday. His commanding officer radioed for a helicopter to come and fetch him but was informed that would take too long. Canadian naval authorities contacted the American Coast Guard, based at Ketchikan, Alaska, and an American plane took him off his ship and rushed him to Prince Rupert General Hospital where he is in critical condition suffering from pleurisy.

Stan's work aboard ship is as a medical assistant.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS WILL SUFFER

Musing on the latest enrollment figures for the school district certain facts stand out and show the trend of things to come.

In Aldergrove High School nearly one quarter of all the students are in Grade 7 whereas in Langley High School the figure is less than one seventh.

In Aldergrove Elementary School Grade 6 has the highest percentage of pupils and this is the same at Otter and Langley Central.

To make room for next year's Grade 7's in Aldergrove High 143 students will have to move up to Grade 8 and approximately 120 pupils will move up to Grade 7, assuming that present Grade 6 pupils are all up to standard.

On the face of it, it seems that Aldergrove might just squeeze through without shifts for another year but it might mean that Grades 4, 5 and 6 at some elementary schools will be at bursting point, and it will certainly mean that all existing space at A. H. S. including cafeteria, gymnasium, kitchen, etc., will be used for classes.

In Langley the situation looks far worse. Already there are 979 students enrolled at the high school, which is holding its maximum. In addition, there are 59 Grade 7 students at Langley Central and 29 at Belmont. Expected September enrollment, based on averages, is 1120.

Even with the new Simonds Road school and the possible re-opening of East Langley one-room school, it seems that some shifts will have to be put in operation next September, and if no further referendum is passed to build new schools or additions, then the outlook for 1962 is very bleak indeed.

It is very bad advertisement for newcomers to the district to be told that the number of schools is inadequate.

MORE RESPONSIBILITY NEEDED

One effect of the new Trade Unions Act —the much publicized Bill 43—passed by the Legislature last spring is to put labour and management on a more even basis of responsibility in labour disputes.

That the public concurred in this change is made clear by a recent public opinion poll conducted in British Columbia.

On the question of who was most responsible for the excess of labour disputes in this province in recent years 14 percent of those interviewed blamed management, 14 percent blamed the government, and 41 percent blamed labour.

It is true that the same poll revealed the general public had no very clear ideas of labour law or the processes of collective bargaining. But it is aware that labour strife is a grave handicap in this province under present economic conditions.

One set of questions in the poll had particular significance. It asked:

"Which would you like to see the government do now . . . . .

(a) Pass laws favouring unions?
(b) Pass laws restricting unions?
(c) Leave labour laws as they are?

Answers disclosed that 34 percent of the interviewees wanted laws imposing more restrictions on unions, 14 percent wanted laws favouring unions, and 30 percent wanted the labour laws left as they are now.

The poll was conducted by a firm of specialists in Vancouver-Western Surveys-Research Ltd. - and followed the established pattern of scientific public opinion surveys. It was carried out in all areas of the province, and represents a cross-section of views of all citizens.

It is significant that in households where one or more members belonged to trade unions there was also a strong feeling that trade unions needed more curbs on their power. In these homes 23 percent wanted laws favouring unions, 32 percent wanted laws left as they are, but 20 percent of those interviewed wanted laws imposing more restrictions on unions.

Of the total interviewed 29 percent thought Bill 43 was "good legislation," and 25 percent thought it was "bad legislation." However, specific knowledge of the provisions of the act was scanty. Only 15 percent of the people surveyed were able to name one provision.

But despite lack of detailed knowledge of labour law, the cross section of public opinion proved that citizens of B. C. realize strife is bad for this area. In fact 48 percent of those interviewed thought labour-management problems in the past year were "very serious," and another 40 percent thought them "serious." Only 5 percent thought these problems were "not serious."

The public is beginning to realize that prolonged and excessive labour troubles are harmful in many ways.

First of all, they create direct losses in production and purchasing power. From the centres of work stoppage these effects spread out like the ripples when a stone is tossed into a pool of water. They slow up the whole economy of the province.

Labour troubles discourage new capital investment. British Columbia is actually in an early stage of economic development compared to many areas on this continent. In order to keep going on a healthy basis we need a vast new investment in hydro power and other resources development, as well as in secondary industries to round out the provincial economy.

Excessive demands by labour made without regard to economic justification load our cost structure to the point where we begin pricing ourselves out of markets. This has already happened both in and out of Canada. B. C. industries are losing markets because our costs, and hence our prices, are too high.

The time is past due for more responsibility in all quarters in regard to this vital matter of keeping our costs in line.

We Invite You To Come and Worship God With Us.

Under 21
by Dan Halligan

Dear Dan: I'm 14 and not enough to go steady. I'm kind of in love with a girl of 13 and I'm pretty sure she likes me. I want her to go steady but there are a few problems to be ironed out first. First of all, she can't go to the show with boys. I very seldom see her at school because she's in different classes than I am. Third, when we do get together, what can we do? She is a very pretty girl and a quiet person. At a recent party I had she kept saying she wouldn't be so quiet if I got to know her better.—S. L.

Dear S. L.: I hate to be a kill-joy, but at your age I think you've got too many obstacles to overcome. First of all, you're far too young to be going steady and I'm afraid the girl's parents wouldn't let her date steady either. Too, if her parents won't let her go to the movies with boys, I doubt if they would let her go other places with them or you. You're both a little young to be getting serious over each other. Besides, your buddies would probably start kidding you if you had a girl friend. Continue to like each other as friends but don't let it go beyond that stage. If you want more advice, talk to your parents about your problem.

Dear Dan: I really have a peculiar problem—I can't get along with kids my own age. I have many acquaintances but no real friends. There is one group of girls I really admire and while I do want them to like me, I don't know how to act and I can't think of anything to say. One of my troubles may be that I lived in the country for 12 years and never had much experience in a group. This same problem carries over with boys. I get along with them all right but I'm a wallflower—no dates. What's wrong with me? I'm not that bad looking that I drive people away. I try to be friendly and I like other people but I just don't seem to fit in with a group. Please tell me why I'm not "hep."—Country Girl.

Dear Country Girl: I'm sure if you would take as much time to boost your morale as you do in deflating it, your problem would be 90 percent solved. Remember, if you don't build yourself up, no one is going to do it for you. Quit condemning yourself for having lived in a rural area for 12 years. If these girls are the same age as you and are "nice," in the sense of not being bold and smart-alecks, then there's no reason for you not to fit in with the group. I think if you would stop thinking you're different than the others, you wouldn't be. You've built up a mental hurdle and you can't get over it. Give yourself a pep talk and convince yourself you're as much of a "live wire" as the girls you admire and you will be. Don't think I'm saying what I am just to be writing. Your problem is all in your "noodle" and unless you give yourself a good talking to and decide you're going to be one of the group, you never will be. Once you warm up, I'm sure you'll start getting your share of dates. Get with it. Figure this is halftime at a football game and you're the coach. Your team is trailing by one touchdown. What are you going to do? Are you going out on the field and just go through the motions or are you going to try and win? Think it over and go, girl, go.

Dear Dan: A senior boy I know has been dating me for about a year but not steady. He takes other girls to school dances, then comes back to me—a poor freshman. Should I keep taking him back?—M. U.

Dear M. U.: You may be mixed up but this boy isn't. He's got you pegged as a port in a storm. I'd give him the word if I were you.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Aldergrove News

In answer to your editorial under the caption "B. C.'s Labour Law-What it Does" . . . "The new Trade Unions Act (Bill 43) was to curb labor excesses." Who ever heard of labor excesses? It's the other way around. How could this Act represent labor that was made law by a capitalist party aided and abetted by big business with no labor representation? Excesses of capitalism are very pronounced for example, The MacMillan and Bloedel octopus cleared a net profit of $13 million, or some 60 percent above its 1958 net boodle.

"Canada's arms budget of $1,750,000,000 of the taxpayers' money was spent on obsolete military equipment, bases, Dew Lines, etc. A saving of $870,000,000 could be slashed from the arms budget and the money returned to the Canadian people by cutting all taxes on wages up to $5,000 a year, raising old age pensions by 30 percent and increasing family allowances by 50 percent."

Corporations are growing wealthy and powerful from military contracts. No wonder we have no money to build new schools and hospitals, etc.

Bill 43 restricts . . . "practices known as secondary boycot" by labor unions. But it's quite legal for the promoters of this antilabor Bill to use the boycot to keep us submissive and uninformed. That's why so many people are afraid to express themselves. The boycot covers a lot of territory and is used against us in our every day lives. It's called by the propagandist "our freedom and our way of life."

Sympathy strikes are illegal. But it's quite legal for the Employer's to force workers back on the job for scab wages. Bill 43 is a united sympathy strike of one class against another. All workers are entitled to a fair share of what they produce regardless of capital investment. In the words of that late great American President, Abraham Lincoln:—"Labor is far superior to capital, without labor capital could not exist."

Report from Parliament Hill

By W. A. McLennan, M. P.

The opening of Parliament was again a very colorful event. The new Governor-General and his wife looked very regal, and the general opinion was that Madame Vanier had stolen the show.

The Speech from the Throne indicated there would be plenty of work to keep the Members of Parliament busy for the next six months.

It was indicated our Indians would be given the privilege to vote in Federal elections for the first time.

Amendments to the Old Age Pension Act—This implies that recipients of Old Age Pensions and also War Veterans Allowances will be able to live anywhere they choose without losing the benefits. This will be a boon to some elderly people, who perhaps for reasons of health, wish to spend their declining years in warmer climates, or with their families or relatives in other countries. Safe guards must be taken to make sure this concession is not abused.

There is also a proposal to retire all Judges on reaching the age of 75. Agreements have been reached with all the provinces, and this will be a major reform to our Judicial System.

Revision of existing measures providing for the stabilization of farm prices for the purpose of ensuring that their basic purpose is achieved without the wasteful accumulation of surplus stocks.

The agreement with the United States for the joint development of the Columbia will be placed before Parliament. The Federal Government is keen to participate with the Government of British Columbia in a joint effort to develop the power potentials of this great river. General McNaughton is to be congratulated for the work he has done for Canada in negotiating our agreement with the United States. It is estimated the power we will receive from the down stream benefits will be delivered back to us at approximately one and one half cents a killowatt and transmitted to the lower mainland in the neighborhood of three cents total cost. This alone will be of terrific value to British Columbia, especially to the Southern Interior and industrial districts of the lower mainland.

Creation of a new Forestry Department, which I think will likely be a Department under the Minister of Northern Affairs and National Resources. As you know our forests are one of our greatest resources, and by far the largest earner of foreign exchange. As Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia have well organized Departments of Forests, the Federal Department will be concerned mainly with conservation and the most effective utilization of Canada's forest resources.

Guides And 4-H Take Note

Two or three new Guide companies have been formed in the Aldergrove area as well as some new Brownie packs. There should be enough of them in the surrounding communities to have regular publicity items similar to the scouts.

We shall be glad to have items from them, also from any of the 4-H groups in the same areas.

Organizations like these help train good, solid citizens with community interests and a sense of responsibility. As a local paper, we are happy to offer them every encouragement, we can by giving them the publicity they need, and to publish reports of their activities and achievements. Why not appoint someone in the group to look after publicity and thus train them to use their local paper as a means of contacting the general public? Let other youngsters and grown-ups know what you are doing.

PINE GROVE

Pine Grove W. I. sponsored a double shower in the Community Hall Saturday evening, Jan. 16 for two local newly-married couples, Mr. and Mrs. David Ruben and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Herbert. The hall was nicely decorated with pink and white streamers, pink and white bells and branches of evergreens.

Two tables were decorated and placed at angles, with a small table holding a basket of forsythia and other foliage making a pretty dividing point. Mr. and Mrs. Ruben were assisted in opening their gifts by the former's sister, Miss Linda Ruben, while Mr. and Mrs. Herbert were assisted by the Latter's bridesmaid, Miss Borg of Matsqui. Many lovely gifts were received by both couples.

Friends from Matsqui, Abbotsford and Aldergrove also attended.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing to music supplied locally. The evening ended with the serving of refreshments.

Weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weatherby were the former's brother, Jim, his father, C. Weatherby, and sisters, Misses Ada and Ruth, all of Vancouver. Other visitors at the Weatherby home were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Allan, also of Vancouver.

200 Available Courses At UBC

Close to 200 credit courses will be available at the University of British Columbia during the 1960 summer session from June 27 to August 12.

The extensive program will include courses in anthropology, biology, botany, chemistry, classical studies, commerce, home economics, languages, fine arts, geography, history, music, political science and education.

"The University is currently planning its most varied and comprehensive summer program of academic, professional and cultural courses" according to Dr. K. F. Argue, director of the summer session, who said the faculty of arts and science alone will be offering 113 courses.

Dr. Argue said that approximately 75 visiting instructors from Europe and America will complement the much larger number of regular UBC instructors teaching during the summer months.

Application for admission to the summer session credit courses should be made between April 1 and May 31. Further information can be obtained from the University Registrar.

Pictures Of The Year And What They Told

By Margaret Green

October 7th issue was dedicated to the Aldergrove Volunteer Fire Department and contained pictures of all the firemen plus the new Fire Hall. It also showed E. M. Zytveld looking over his ruined kitchen after fire destroyed that part of the house.

Four generations were shown in a photograph of the October 14th issue. Mrs. Emma Walker was 99 on October 3rd and is shown with her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Gardiner, and granddaughter, Mrs. Fred Johnson (nee Mary Gardiner) with two great-grandsons.

A tribute to the Fire Chief, Fred Dams, was presented to him and the huge cake made by Art Dingley for the Fire Hall celebrations.

Also in this week's issue was a picture of the "Happy Wanderer"—Guy Macchia—who had walked from Halifax to Vancouver, the first man ever to make the trip on foot.

October 28th showed pictures of the Norris Molds in Bermuda and being interviewed prior to leaving for the two weeks' stay in the Bahamas, which Mrs. Mold won in a contest.

The teachers' convention pictures were also included in this issue, plus a photo of Al Angrignon, principal of Aldergrove Elementary School who received his B. Ed. degree about that time.

Joe Bencinger's car took a series of somersaults with four occupants coming out uninjured, but the car was completely wrecked.

A presentation to Mrs. F. J. Bird, at County Line, was also pictured. Mrs. Bird had sold the store she and her late husband ran for over twelve years

November 11th showed the installation of the new officers of Aldergrove Chamber of Commerce. New president, Bill Brown, took over and G. Fitzpatrick Dunn was the guest speaker.

This issue also contained pictures of the 1st Coghlan Cubs, one of which was bought by the General Council of Scouts for use in a display. This issue also had a picture of the Elks' community auction.

Girl Guides planting yellow tulips in commemoration of their fiftieth anniversary are seen in two pictures. While this ceremony was in progress snow began to fall for the first time this winter.

A guest speaker in the guise of the first Governor of British Columbia was the highlight of this year's Douglas Day celebrations. Alan Roughton, well known actor from Vancouver, took the part. For the first time, the Cabinet of the Provincial Government held a meeting in the old Fort—at the "Big House." A proclamation by the Premier stated that a meeting would be held there in future on each Douglas Day.

A number of houses have been moved into Aldergrove this past year and several of them have been photographed, as in this issue. A successful Civil Defense display was given at Langley High School and pictures of this were in this issue.

The first group picture of the Sea Cadets is the feature picture of the December 2nd issue. The monster rock on Le Feuvre and a display by the Rock and Gem club were seen in this week's paper, also.

December 9th saw the Brahms Choir preparing for their Christmas concert, plus highlight items of the High School concert. All candidates for election in Matsqui and Langley were seen in this issue. Scouters' wives, Mrs. Fred Greer and Mrs. "Skip" Hutton, were presented with gifts from the Boy Scouts' Association.

The Aldergrove branch of the Fraser Valley Library was now open for business and the picture shows Mrs. W. T. Craig, the custodian, with Mr. Ley of the Headquarters staff, on the opening day, December 14.

The 1st County Line Brownies made stuffed animals and donated them to local hospitals. The December 16th issue shows them with some of the animals. The Palisades Arts and Crafts held a tea and display in the Vasa Hall and some of the photos show this. Street lights were hung again for the Christmas season and a B. C. Electric worker is seen at the top of a pole fixing them. Fourteen teachers were inducted into the B. C. Teachers Federation at a ceremony in the Langley High School.

December 23rd issue came close to Christmas and depicted the workers at the Post Office pretty well snowed under with Christmas mail. Heavy rains in the district caused flash floods in some parts of the Aldergrove district and one picture shows the water completely surrounding a house on County Line and rushing across the road.

The Aldergrove High School Band is also shown and various Christmas decorations around the town. The man-made lake built by Ralph Parish was also shown.

The final issue of the year is always small because of the many days' holiday. Santa visited the Naval Station among all his other visits and he is seen with a kiddie on his knee. Mrs. R. L. McCoy won the mantel clock in the Family Fashions draw, to end the year on a happy note.

PRINCIPAL—R. H. Fairweather is the new principal at County Line Elementary School, having taken over at the beginning of the new year. He has a wife and four children in New Westminster where he resides at present, and where he formerly taught school for eight years. The family plans to move out to this district shortly. The use of electrical stimulation in conjunction with exercises has proved beneficial in patients suffering from paralysis after a stroke.

SENIOR HOUSING UNITS TAXED

A request to Council from the Senior Citizens' Association for tax exemption on their housing projects has been refused.

After considerable discussion Council felt that there are numerous persons receiving Old Age Pensions who own their own home and are paying taxes, and if exemption were given to housing units it would be tantamount to a form of discrimination.

Newly-Weds Make Home In Tacoma

Tacoma, Washington, is the home of the former Janet Verna Petrie, after her marriage in December to Frank O'Bryan of that city.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Petrie, 271 South Otter Road, Aldergrove, and the groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John O'Bryan.

Rev. J. G. Ferry officiated at the evening ceremony in St. John's United Church, Vancouver, in December.

For her marriage, Miss Petrie chose a floor length gown of ivory brocaded taffeta with short train and brief jacket featuring wing collar and lilypoint sleeves. A halo of pearls caught her fingertip veil.

The bride's bouquet was of pink Rapture roses and trailing ivy.

Matron-of-honor was the bride's sister, Judy (Mrs. Gerald Bicknell) and the bridesmaid was Miss Diane Merry. Both attendants wore identical street length dresses of flamingo chiffon in princess style with full skirts. They wore matching velvet headbands and carried white gardenias and mums.

The groom was attended by his brother, Jack O'Bryan, as best man and ushering duties were in the hands of Allen Schlumberger and David Cook.

A reception was held at Hall mark Fraser Hall in Vancouver, where the bride's younger sister, Diane, caught her bouquet. Toastmaster at the reception was Eldon Rideout.

After a honeymoon trip to the Olympic Peninsula, the young couple have taken up residence at 912 North I Street, Tacoma, Washington, U.S.A.

An exotic Latin American is gracing the dining tables in many North American homes. The avocado, a native of Latin America, was discovered in 1519 by Enciso, a Spanish explorer. The Aztecs called the fruit "Ahuacatl" and it was an important part of the native diet. George Washington learned of the fruit and reported that the avocado was the most popular fruit in the Barbados Islands.

The present bumper crop of avocados is the largest in history. Many good quality avocados are on produce stands at low prices. The kind or variety of avocado determines its size, color, shape and skin texture. Most of the avocados on the market now are the Fuerte variety. The Fuerte is the most popular winter variety. It is best described as deep forest green in color, thin skinned, and pear shaped.

UNUSUAL FRUIT

Avocados are an unusual member of the fruit family. They are neither sweet nor tart as most fruits but have a distinctive creamy, nut-like flavor all their own. They have no starch, very little sugar, and still are an excellent source of food energy. They contain a highly digestible food oil. Industry researchers discovered that half of an average avocado contains less than 150 calories. This compares with 117 calories for a large apple, 180 calories for six small fresh figs, 104 calories for a half a large grapefruit, and 108 calories for a large orange, for example. The avocado is also distinctive for the amount of its protein content. The average protein content is 2.1 percent—an unusual amount for fruit.

SOFTEN OFF TREE

Avocados are harvested when the fruit is still firm. Strangely, avocados never soften on the tree. They are mature when picked and then softened naturally at room temperature. Avocados are ready to eat only when they have lost their firm feel and have softened. The rich exotic flavor develops during the process. Markets usually display avocados in two ways: Firm—leave at room temperature for two, three or four days or until soft; Ready to eat—these have been conditioned ahead of time for immediate use.

TEST FOR RIPENESS

To tell when an avocado is at its eating best, hold the fruit gently between cupped hands and press gently. If it "gives"—feels soft—it is ready to serve. Remember avocados are delicate. The soft flesh will bruise, and dark spots will appear if the fruit is pinched or poked. When soft, avocados may be placed in the warmest spot of the refrigerator. To delay ripening, keep avocados at temperatures of 42 degrees to 50 degrees F. Temperatures below 40 degrees may cause spoilage and discolorations.

Prepare avocados just before serving. As with some other fruits, the cut surface of avocados sometimes darkens after exposure to air. This does not affect the flavor or taste. To preserve the bright fresh, cut color, sprinkle the cut surfaces with lime or lemon juice. Any portion of the avocado to be held for serving later, should be wrapped tightly in waxed paper or aluminum foil and placed in the refrigerator. A darkened surface is easily removed by scraping lightly with a knife.

SERVING SUGGESTIONS

Now is the time to serve avocados often while the supplies are heavy and the price is so reasonable. Here are a few tips on serving.

Half-shelled—With your favorite salad dressing or with lemon or lime juice and salt and pepper.

In Salads—Cubed and tossed with greens, cottage cheese, chicken, fish or fruit salads.

Wedges of avocado give just the right color and flavor to a grapefruit or orange salad. Alternate them with sections of peeled grapefruit or orange sections. Serve with French Dressing and a sprinkle of paprika.

In soups—sliced and floated on consomme or bouillon, or mashed in simple creamed soups.

In cocktails—diced and combined with frozen strawberries, diced apples, grapefruit sections, or grapes and served with a fruit juice in cocktail glasses.

On canapes—mashed and combined with minced onion, lemon juice, horseradish or chili sauce to be served as a savory spread for toast rounds, crackers or potato chips.

GOOD FOR DIPS

Whenever a recipe calls for mashed avocados and lime, or lemon juice, it's a good idea to add the lime juice to the avocado as you mash it to keep the avocado from darkening. For an interesting dip to serve with cocktail meat balls, combine mashed avocado with lime juice, sour cream, a little prepared hot mustard and instant minced onion. It's different and delicious.

New Wheat-Fruit Muffins

Here's a basic recipe for delicious easy-to-make wheat-fruit muffins that will make your family ask for more. Made with Instant Wheat, they have a wonderful nut-like wheat aroma and flavor. Besides being extra tasty, wheat-fruit muffins provide the benefits of niacine, thiamine, phosphorous and iron that'll help keep your family in tip-top shape.

New Wheat-Fruit Muffins
(Makes about 12 medium muffins)

- 1½ cup sifted flour
- ½ cup sugar
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt

United Church News

The annual meeting of the Aldergrove United Church was held January 21 in the Memorial Hall, following a potluck supper. 36 were present for the meeting.

Rev. J. Colclough, acting as chairman, opened the meeting with a Bible reading and prayer. Mrs. G. Kinnie was secretary.

Main topic for discussion was procedure for making Aldergrove a pastoral charge. A motion to this effect was made and carried. The congregation voted to go Sector again next year, and plans are in the making for another visitation during the Lenten and Easter season. This visit will be friendly, to strengthen the spiritual welfare of members and adherents of the church.

Rev. Colclough is planning a class after the evening church service, starting in February, on the "Declaration of Faith."

Everyone possible is urged to attend.

The newly-elected Elders are; Messrs. S. Deans, R. Snowdon and A. Rose.

The Board of Stewards elected for a 3-year term are: Mrs. Hilda Brown, Mr. Ted Brown, Mr. G. Newell and Mr. C. Currell.

Two new members were elected to the Board of Trustees. They were Mr. Gunderson and Mr. C. Jeffrey.

A vote of thanks was given Mrs. G. Kinnie for her secretarial duties.

Rev. Colclough closed the meeting with prayer.

FEDERATION NEWS

The January meeting of the Federation was held Monday, January 18 with Mrs. A. Angrignon in charge. Mrs. E. Crosby and Mrs. C. Jeffrey opened the meeting with a very fine worship service.

Our study for this year is "Africa Disturbed". Mrs. Jack Colclough in her capacity as Honourary President installed the new officers for 1960.

Our group is required to send a layette to Korea and it was decided to buy the necessary articles but any one who had good used baby things could make donations. Our prayer partner is Elizabeth Gilchrest of Angola, Africa. Missionary and Maintenance allocation for 1960 is $350.00. The meeting was informed that there were one or two vacancies for the Fraser Presbytry. Mrs. S. Andrew's Missionary Report showed a total amount collected for 1959, $387.42. Mrs. W. Snowdon outlined the proposed budget for our church for the 1960 year.

Mrs. Forsythe, Sunshine Committee, gave her report. She informed us that we were only doing about an eighth of our Community Friendship work and it was suggested that we cut our catering jobs to the minimum this coming year and spend more time in visiting the shut-ins at home and in the hospitals as this would follow along with our crusade for dedicated stewardship.

It was decided to carry on with the travelling basket for 1960 and all money received from the basket together with any kitchen rentals would go to the kitchen convenor for needed kitchen equipment.

A men's Club is being organized and after some discussion it was decided that the wives of the men attending these meetings would look after the catering for them.

Money was set aside for the C. G. I. T., Explorers, Mission Band and Baby Band Leaders.

The film, "I'll Sing Not Cry" will be shown over CBUT on Sunday, Feb. 7, at 3:30 in the afternoon.

Mr. Malcolm McIntosh's mother from Saskatchewan is visiting in Aldergrove and she came as a visitor to our meeting as also did Mrs. R. Snowdon and Lilnda Snowdon and it was hoped that they would become members of our Federation. The Federation was informed that Miss Florence Jack and Miss Clara Preston, long-time missionaries in China and who both gave valuable service for many years after they returned from the Mission field overseas had passed away and would be greatly missed by the United Church.

If you're off to the ski slopes this winter, remember that special complexion care is necessary for protection against snow glare and windburn.

Impressions Of Prairie Visit By A Clearbrook Man

JACK H. SAWATSKY

It was my privilege to spend the Christmas holidays with my folks in Altona, Manitoba, this season just past. Christmas is a wonderful time when families are reunited after long separations. Many get to see other parts of our great free country. I, for one, surely treasure it, especially because it is free.

Manitoba has only a moderate amount of snow, at least in the south. However, on Boxing Day it rained and surely played havoc with the road surfaces. Scores of cars hit the ditches.

I stopped over three times, once in MacGregor, once at Shilo, the last stop being in Regina. Regina has very much snow but at Moose Jaw, 40 miles to the southwest they have only one-tenth as much and the temperature is much higher. They get the tailend of the Chinooks.

Everybody was so very friendly. Once you got into their houses they didn't want to let you go.

A brother-in-law in Winnipeg, who works with heavy equipment on pipelines, etc., told me he was able to find only a very limited amount of work last year.

On the political scene, I found Social Credit very much alive in Manitoba. I had a three hour chat with Jacob M. Froese, the recently elected Social Credit M.L.A. for the constituency of Rhineland.

The farmers in Manitoba are very dissatisfied with their egg prices. They told me they were getting from 12 to 15 cents a dozen.

An old friend of mine who lives near Steinbach, told me that when he bought his 10-acre farm 8 years ago he paid $61.00 tax. Then he built a 40' x 120' chicken barn, following which the tax went up to over $200. Later, it rose to over $300, then to $400 and now, he says, they want just over $500 tax for that same property. Do I hear B. C. property owners complain about rising taxes? In Winkler, Man., I was told the average homeowner pays from $150 to $250 tax.

In Saskatchewan, I found a keen interest in Social Credit and visited their headquarters in Regina. They have hopes of forming the next government in Saskatchewan.

As far as climate goes there is nothing like coastal B .C. I am surely glad to be back home again. We have some snow at the moment but it will soon be gone!

North Poplar PTA Holds Meet

A meeting of the North Poplar PTA was held in the school on Jan. 19.

Delegates Mrs. N. Dreger and Mrs. Irvin Schultz reported that nothing definite had been done in regard to the Dental Clinic.

It was reported that as a result of a telephone call to Police Chief Vandusen that the school children were not abiding by the traffic rules. Corporal Smith visited the school and instructed the children on safety rules.

Mrs. B. Loepky was the guest speaker. She gave an informative talk on civil defense and showed a film. She pointed out that a number of courses were available to the general public such as fire fighting, police auxiliary, rescue work and home nursing, stressing the home nursing as a must for every mother.

Door prize was won by Mrs. Peter Thiessen.

Matsqui Police Court News

Four people paid a total of $75 in Matsqui Police Court last week for speeding. Edward John Smith of Sardis. Bernard Thomas Sharp of Abbotsford, and Peter Timar of North Vancouver each paid $20 while an Abbotsford juvenile was fined $75 on the same count.

A Matsqui juvenile was fined $25 and had his driver's licence suspended for 4 months for failing to make movement in safety.

Henry Schmidt of Vancouver was fined $20 for passing in a restricted zone.

MT. LEHMAN

Mrs. A. G. Ryder was hostess for the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church last Tuesday afternoon for the monthly "Tea" at her home. There was an attendance of sixteen and Mrs. M. Bates was welcomed back after breaking her hip two years ago. Mrs. P. Edge took the devotional period, and Miss May Nutt, a deaconess from Vancouver, gave a talk on the work of deaconesses in general. Barbara McDonald and Diane Cherry came after school to help serve refreshments. Mrs. Jim McDonald will be hostess at the February meeting.

Miss Tamiko Nakamura, also a deaconess from Vancouver, addressed the Sunday school and spoke at the Presbyterian Church service last Sunday morning. Next Sunday, Jan. 31, Rev. M. Pollock of Mission will hold a Communion service.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Edge and Harry visited cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fairhurst at the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Cherry attended the funeral of their cousin, George Cherry Linsey, in Vancouver on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rosk are the proud parents of a baby girl, born on January 24.

The Len Philps family and the Cliff Israel family attended a house party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Baynes at Newton on Friday.

Janet Taylor celebrated her 14th birthday on Monday by having her cousins in for a party. They all enjoyed sleigh-riding.

M. E. I. SCHOOL NEWS

Two delegates, Edwald Weins and Clara Bergen, represented the MEI club at the British Columbia Future Teachers convention held at UBC. Students at the convention attended several discussion groups, went on tours and heard several lectures. The two day convention was brought to a close by a banquet held in the Brock Hall. Our delegates were much impressed by the motto, "It's Up To You."

Mrs. Harvey Toews, Canadian director for M.C.C., spoke to the students on Monday.

Guest speaker on Tuesday was Abram Jazen from Elm Creek, Manitoba.

The senior and junior basketball teams travelled to Lynden after school on Tuesday. The MEI seniors won 43-35 from Lynden seniors. The MEI juniors played Lynden intermediates with Lynden getting a 29-23 victory after 3 minutes of overtime.

Thursday Grade 10A sponsored a sale of hot chocolate, pop corn balls and do-nuts. Proceeds went to the Student Council.

There are only three classes that have not been taken for an outing by their respective teachers for tobogganning or ice skating.

ROAD RESTRICTIONS

The Matsqui Municipality has set up road restrictions which took effect on Monday, Jan. 25, at 7 p. m. One-half ton for single tire trucks and one and one-half for dual tire trucks.

Aldergrove Activities

By Mrs. W. Orwick

Among the few people who are able to enjoy the snowy weather are the J. D. Kirks of Jackman Road. With a group of about twenty they decided to go tobogganing. They hitched two toboggans to the tractor and had a tremendous time. They finished the evening with a weiner roast. Sounds like great fun to me.

Others enjoying the weather are, of course, the children who are skating every free minute they have.

Excitement was put into high gear at the Robert Edges' home last week when their Collie presented them with 11 puppies. However, the cold weather took its toll. They lost six of them the first night but that still leaves five. Anyone interested?

Those lucky people with their green thumbs! Mrs. O. B. Orwick had daffodils blooming at Christmas. Now she has tulips out in bloom.

The biggest wedding of the year in England, that of Lady Pamela Mountbatten and David Hicks, found an Aldergrove girl, Miss Ruth Erickson, closer to the excitement than most of us could hope to be.

An acquaintance of Ruth's was an usher at this wedding. Ruth said getting the details from someone who was there was exciting enough to write home about—which she did!

Visitors at the F. Erickson home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Johnson of Surrey.

Taylor Outlines Farm Policy For Tories In Okanagon

Douglas Taylor, chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the B. C. Progressive Conservative Party, convened the first Regional Meeting of the Committee in Kelowna Monday afternoon.

The Meeting which included Riding Agriculture chairmen, Joe Lauder representing Yale, O. M. Dayton representing Chilliwack, met with Mel Kawano representing South Okanagan and his full committee. A full afternoon session included discussions on application of B. C. Conservative Agricultural Policy and Mel Kawano presented recommendations for Farm Policy for the South Okanagan. Mr. Taylor outlined his intention to meet Constituency Committees on a Regional basis throughout the Province in order to provide a "positive" programme to meet the needs of Farmers of all areas.

At the Annual Meeting of the South Okanagan Progressive Conservative Association, held in Kelowna Monday the guest speaker for the evening was Douglas Taylor ,who said, "Mel Kawano and his Committee have done a splendid job for South Okanagan ,and the B. C. Conservative Party welcomes this and other Committee recommendations dealing with the other major problems in your Constituency." Taylor continued, "This political action is becoming more necessary every day, in view of the fact that your M.L.A. for South Okanagan and his Government appear to be losing touch. Increasing land Taxation in spite of Municipal warnings, lack of adequate Provincial Services, lack of interest by your M.L.A. in Columbia Power Development which will result in cheaper power, lack of cooperation with the positive Farm programme of the Federal Government," and, Taylor concluded," a definite stand has been taken by the Conservative Party to rectify the recent increases in Commercial Truck License Fees which is the most serious blows to small and medium businessmen, truck loggers and farmers that has ever occured in the history of British Columbia."

On Tuesday, Jan. 19, Taylor and Dayton attended the annual meeting of the B. C. Fruit Growers Ass'n., in Penticton; and met with President H. Callaghan of the Similkameen Conservative Ass'n., and Philip Locke of the Similkameen Conservative Agriculture Committee to discuss Farm problems of their Constituency.

PEARDONVILLE

Peardonville Farm Forum held its regular meeting at the P. Friesen home Monday evening, Jan. 18, with all members present. The subject discussed was "Adjustment through farm credit." Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Frank Blaschek Sr. recently underwent surgery. She has now been released from hospital and is recuperating at the home of her son, Frank, in Abbotsford.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rempel and family of Mission visited the A. Elias home at the weekend. Mr. Rempel is Mrs. Elias' brother.

The postponed meeting of the Peardonville Women's Institute was held in the hall Thursday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. O. Olson, in charge. Registration of members took place prior to the meeting and there were fifteen present.

Carrying out the theme of the meeting roll call was answered with a hint for home safety. This topic was also stressed in an interesting paper prepared and read by Mrs. F. H. Brash, entitled "Your family's safety." Mrs. Brash concluded with a timely poem entitled "New Year Resolutions."

Convenors for the year were chosen for the various committees, as follows: Refreshments, Mrs. F. Epp; home economics, Mrs. J. Milloy; social welfare, Mrs. I. Janzen; agriculture, Mrs. P. Friesen; publicity, Mrs. O. Olson; citizenship, Mrs. E. Day; cultural activities, Mrs. L. Skinner; sunshine fund, Mrs. P. Kissock.

The work of the Unitarian Service Committee Layette Lift was discussed and decision reached to provide ten layettes by the February meeting, if possible. Mrs. G. Peardon offered to take charge of this work. The sunshine raffle was won by Mrs. A. Elias. Refreshments were served by Mrs. K. Reid and Mrs. E. Stamler.

The next meeting will be February 11 when members will answer roll call with ideas to improve our W. I. If you are interested, please come!

Community Day Suggested For Langley Area

On the evening of January 15 the directors of the Langley Agricultural Association named a committee consisting of J. A. Harrower and Jack Lee to look into the possibility of having a day long Community programme, on a large scale. Various clubs and organizations will be contacted re help and interest.

Ralph Barichello was elected to a second term of office as president of the Association, while Jack Lee was re-elected to the vice-presidency. Mr. Barichello intends to name his board of directors right away. When the next meeting is called the various committees will be set up.

For many, many years the position of secretary-treasurer has been in the hands of Mrs. Jean L. Burke, but she has resigned. However, she has agreed to carry on only until a successor is found.

Trophy Offered To AHS Girls By Mel Taylor

Mel ("Tiny") Taylor has offered to donate a trophy to the Aldergrove High Girls' basketball team to be used in competition similar to that of the "Ham 'n Eggs" Trophy he presented to Langley High School Boys' team in 1958.

The trophy went out of circulation, says "Tiny", when the high schools had to go on shift. There was no time for games.

However, it is back now and Aldergrove captured it from Langley in last Friday's games.

"Tiny" suggests the girls' trophy be called the "Souffle" or "Omelette" trophy.

The first "Ham 'n Eggs" trophy originated at the University of Saskatchewan in or around 1927. The idea was brought to Swift Current, Sask., by Charley Warren, physics teacher at Swift Current Collegiate Institute in 1930. This frying pan trophy has been in continuous competition since then.

The Langley trophy originated in 1958, being donated to Langley High by Mel ("Tiny") Taylor, who played for the winning team in 1940 at Swift Current. He was also captain of the winning team in 1941.

OPERATION SNOWFLAKE

Last week I told you about our journey to Hope and the night we spent there. I left the story just as we pulled out of Hope Saturday morning at 6:45 a. m.

It had snowed all night and there was a fresh layer of about four inches of snow covering everything, including the road. The day promised to be bright and sunny, although it was still quite dark when we started out. The trip up to the summit was fairly uneventful, with only one stop being made to re-form our caravan. The roads were hard packed snow and not as slippery as the night before. As we climbed higher the bank of snow along the side of the road increased in depth until at the summit it was about five feet high. The temperature dropped as the depth of snow increased.

At last we reached the turn-off that would take us two miles off the highway to our campsite. Excitement seized the boys as we finally pulled up at the site. The scene that greeted us was beautiful, dark green pines bending under a mantle of fresh snow, sunlight glittering on three and a half feet of snow that covered the ground, a frozen creek running silent under the almost two feet of ice. The Forestry Service had plowed out a turn-around for us and upon arrival the boys were assembled and the work of unloading began. Skip took the patrol leaders into the camp, breaking trail with snowshoes, and assigned the patrol sites. The setting up of camp progressed very smoothly and soon the tents were up and lunch was on the fire. While the camp was being built a party of Scouters and Scouts took the truck and the chain saws and travelled about four miles to a spot where we could cut trees, they soon returned with a load of wood. Following lunch there was a programme of fun and games. A Compass game lead off that took the patrols on a journey through snow and forest to the top of a hill about two miles from camp. Once there the patrols had a race to see who could light a fire the quickest. Skiing and tobogganing was next and the campers were soon back in camp, ready for supper. After supper two wide games were held, one a noisy wild wide game, and the other a quiet stalking game. Campfire was next. Mr. Greer opened the campfire with a display of color by pouring on a mixture of chemicals that created three bright colors. The singing and skits passed all too quick and the session ended with the playing of Taps by Scouter 'Gene. Mug-up was had in the patrol sites and then everyone hit the hay, everyone that is except the first men on Fire Watch! The Scouters and boys took one hour shifts throughout the night, keeping the reflector fires at the tents going. The temperature dropped to a low of six above. Morning came very fast and the camp was roused while it was still pitch black out. Breakfast was quickly consumed, this was followed by a quick inspection, and then the morning Flag Break was held. Scouts' Own came next with all the campers taking part in the simple service, led by Scouter Skip. A warm-up game soon got the old blood moving and then Scouter Bud took the patrols out on a hike and game. Upon returning to camp the Scouts declared open season on Scouters and a rough 'n tumble snowball fight was soon on. The Scouters became divided and it was soon apparent that they would be defeated. The final blow came when Skip was conked on the bean with an extra hard snowball and knocked out. When he came to he surrendered unconditionally. Breaking of camp commenced and after lunch the truck was loaded and everyone made their way on foot out to the lodge for an hour's skating, skiing and fun.

BCE Sells Pacific Stage; Valley - To Victoria Planned

Sale of Pacific Stage Lines and Gray Line Motor Tours to Vancouver Island Coach Lines was announced Wednesday by A. E. Grauer, president of B. C. Electric. Purchase price was not disclosed.

Management of the Victoria motor coach firm, headed by Harold Husband, will take over on March 1.

Pacific State Lines provides inter-city bus service between Vancouver and Horseshoe Bay, Deep Cove, New Westminster and Fraser Valley centers as far east as Hope, and south to the International Border.

It has a staff of 240 including 125 bus operators. Under the agreement, P. S. L.'s 67 long-distance buses and special sight - seeing vehicles will change hands.

V. I. C. L. proposes to build up the tourist end of the business and to seek a direct link between the Mainland and Island with a through bus service using the Tsawwassen-Swartz Bay Ferry.

"The circle route, "going by way of Vancouver, Nanaimo and Victoria, sightseeing in Victoria and returning via the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen Ferry to the Mainland will have a great appeal to the individual tourist and tour parties.

Other plans under consideration involve provision of motor coach service between the Fraser Valley and Victoria, with access also south of the line through Blaine.

"This will be the first time in this century that direct passenger service on one ticketing will be provided from the Fraser Valley as far as Hope all the way to Victoria."

Vancouver Island Coach Lines has extensive operations on the Island. These include regular schedules to Nanaimo, Campbell River and Port Alberni, and throughout the Saanich Peninsula.

The address to "A Haggis" was made by Tom Cochrane and Jock Masson gave the Selkirk Grace. Toast to the Queen was proposed by chairman Arthur Brooks, and to the "Immortal Memory" by Rev. J. N. Allen.

Aldergrove High School News

By Philip Green

ASSEMBLY

On Wednesday, Jan. 19, at the weekly assembly, the Aldergrove High School students were entertained by fourteen students from the Jericho Hill School for the Blind. These students performed musical selections skillfully. They showed the great achievements which they have managed despite their severe handicap.

One student showed his mastery of the piano as he played the Warsaw Concerto. After receiving much applause he followed with an encore. Next on the programme were four songs by a mixed ensemble: "Camptown Babies"; "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho"; "Get Along Home, Cindy"; and "Wish I Was." They were accompanied by Mrs. D. Bunt who teaches at the school. The songs were very well received by the student body.

After the ensemble an instrumental group performed. This group consisted of three students playing saxophones and one playing the piano. The selections they gave were "Music, Music, Music," and "Whispering." Next, an accordianist played two selections. The instrumental group finished the programme by playing "Chopsticks" and "Seven Lonely Days." The student body showed their appreciation of these popular numbers performed by the instrumentalists, and gave the visitors such a fine reception that a return engagement is certain.
