AROUND TOWN

by LOYD McINTOSH

The last traces of Christmas are disappearing along Main Street. Art Dingley and his crew from the Aldergrove Chamber of Commerce, and Tiny Taylor along wih Curly Giesbrecht, took down the Christmas lights on Sunday morning. These fellows gave up their Sunday to put them up and again to take them down. Thanks gents.

Trev Beggs and Ada Mae Dueck, of C.F.V.R. have a bet on losing weight. Trev has shown the male is the stronger sex, (says Loyd, not me). He can't convince Ada Mae that she should drink buttermilk as a supplement. She feels squeamish even when Trev manfully downs a glassful let alone drink it herself.

Must thank Carla Gilbert for helping out in our time of trial and tribulation at the News. Without her help, the paper would have been behind schedule Carla took over and did a considerable amount of type setting on her linotype, as the ones here were on the blink. Very few corrections, Carla, and many thanks from us all.

Anybody know who collects garbage? A municipality should include in their agenda collection as well as location for disposal. There are reports of some phantom truck making calls. How does a newcomer find these things out? Must he wallow around until the health officer makes an inspection and gives instructions for disposal. The responsibility is the municipality in most communities.

Winner of the puzzle that ran two weeks was Mrs. J. W. Lee, with the correct answer "grill of a car". Congrats Mrs. Lee.

Well here is another! Hope this one gives a little more difficulty to the readers. The correct guess means a year subscription, new or renewal. Keep guessing.

The signs, so much in question along the Aldergrove-Bellingham Highway, and Huntingdon Road are Civil Defence signs. The reason for them has not been made public to us. However, for the many curious persons, including myself, we will find out and notify you in next week's issue.

The Len Baird family left for their new residence in Grand Center Alberta recently. A snow slide delayed them for some time. We were reluctant to lose this family and went to the trouble of arranging an avalanche to hold them here. However they continued on their way after the delay. Maybe the extreme cold will chase them back to us. Best of Luck to Len, Hazel and family.

Glad you are still with us Flannigan.

Mother nature has completely baffled plant life. Art Dingley has daffodils up about six inches. Let us hope they keep on without being frozen off. Imagine how green with envy the rest of our Canadian friends would be with their below zero weather, and thick blanket of snow.

Langley Schools Victim To Fire and Vandalism

Fire and vandalism struck schools in the Langley School District over the weekend. On Saturday afternoon fire gutted the new Retarded School under construction. The building, located on the Central School grounds in Langley City was almost ready for occupancy. The fire was first noticed around the noon hour by workmen engaged in making drains outside of the building.

Langley City fire department responded to the alarm and quickly extinguished the flames, but not before one room was almost completely destroyed and the rest of the building suffered extensive heat damage. A lighted light bulb left burning against a wall has been blamed for the fire.

The building, a modern structure, was designed especially to fit the needs of retarded children, and was valued at $35,000 when completed. It is expected that classes for the children will continue to be held at the Anglican Church Hall in Langley, until repairs have been made to the damaged building.

Late Saturday evening vandals struck the Glenwood School which is located in the southern area of the school district, five miles south of Langley. A night patrol, established by the board recently, to guard the buildings interrupted the vandals as they left the building. Langley municipal detachment R.C.M.P. was called to the scene.

Magistrate Installs Matsqui Councillors

by ADA MAE DUECK, Station CFVR Staff Reporter

Past reeves of Matsqui municipality representing the years from 1933 to the present attended inauguration ceremonies in Matsqui on January 7th, (Monday). Also in attendance at the gathering were students of Abbotsford Senior Secondary school, representatives of many district organizations.

Magistrate W. A. Walker presided over the installation ceremonies for Councillor Harold Bowles, Councillor Gordon Gardiner and Councillor H. E. Taylor.

Following the ceremonies, year end reports were presented, committees set up and the provincial budget presented.

Councillor Bill Scott presented a budget of $1,476,000 a jump of $48,000 over the 1962 budget. This will mean an increase of 2.3 mills, 28.2 mills for general, 18 mills for schools. The increase was represented in $22,000 for schools, $88,000 for public works and $6,000 for police. Councillor Scott stated that he felt when the public works budget was finalized the budget may be pared to stay within the 1962 mill rate.

Reeve J. A. Murphy stated that the mill rate had been estimated on the present $50.00 homeowner grant provincial assistance plan. If this is changed to the proposed $100 home owner grant, new provincial grant basis, it would mean a 9 mill increase in the municipality.

Reeve J. A. Murphy described an extensive program in Matsqui municipality in his year end report today.

A total paving program of more than thirty miles was completed despite difficulties due to weather.

The parks program undertaken by the municipality included purchase of six acres south of Clearbrook, taking over the 9 acre Matsqui Prairie Park and two acres addition to the fair grounds.

Reeve Murphy reported that Matsqui municipal police had handled four thousand four hundred complaints, and recovered $11,487 worth of stolen property out of $14,839 reported stolen. He suggested that a cost sharing program should be investigated with Sumas, Abbotsford and Mission. These areas have no 24 hour protection for policing, and Matsqui police handled 6,600 calls for these units.

Looking into the future, Reeve Murphy felt the Lower Mainland Regional Planning Board should make an investigation into the feasibility of a civic centre. This should be financed by a bylaw. stated Reeve Murphy, not with the less solid method of donations. He also said that in 1963 joint committees should be set up with the view to the use of school grounds as parks. The joint sewage project would be continued with Reeve Murphy felt that the acceptance or rejection of this by voters would influence the destiny of the area greatly.

MENNONITES HOLD WEEK OF PRAYER

In the Abbotsford Mennonite Brethern Church a Week of Prayer Services will be conducted each evening January 7th through January 11th. Rev. N. H. Dyck and assistant pastor Rev. H. H. Nickel will conduct the services commencing at 7:30 p.m.

Langley Installs Three Councillors

At the special statutory meeting of Langley Municipal Council, held Monday, Reeve W. D. Poppy instructed the municipal clerk to take the oaths of office and of allegiance of the re-elected councillors, Noel Booth and A. H. Wooley, and newly elected councillor W. Jensen.

The oath of office is as follows: "I (name) Councillor-elect for the Municipality of Langley, do declare that I am a British subject, possessing the qualifications by law required, and that I am not in any way disqualified from holding the office of a municipal councillor, and I have not nor will have, while holding office, any interest, directly or indirectly, in any contract or services connected with the Corporation of the township of Langley, except such that I may lawfully have under the provisions of the 'municipal act' in that behalf.

"I have not, by myself or any other person, knowingly employed any bribery, corruption or intimidation to gain my election, and I will faithfully perform the duties of my office, and will not allow any private interest to influence my conduct in public matters."

The oath of allegance: "I (name) do swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II, her heirs and successors, according to law, so help me God."

Mr. Art Dingley, president of the Aldergrove Chamber of Commerce appeared before council to again bring to their attention the necessity of having a stop and go signal light installed at the Jackman-Trans-Canada intersection.

This signal light was first requested about 9 years ago—the estimated cost of the installation was $3,500, the power $180 and the maintenance cost about $50 per year.

A check on the traffic in this area was made by the Provincial traffic engineer. He said that there was not enough traffic at this location to warrant a control light.

Mr. Dingley said that the busy periods of the day, plus the increase in traffic going to the new post office, has made the installation of a control light in this area a necessity. It was also difficult to cross the highway at the eastern section of the town. He said the sidewalks to the new post office were in poor condition, especially during bad weather, He also stated that there was a parking problem in this area.

Reeve Poppy agreed that the dip down in the road south of the firehall could be a hazard to traffic as this area is somewhat of a blind spot. He said the provincial traffic engineer is expected to be in the Langley municipality in the near future and he will again discuss with him the request for the traffic light.

Mr. Dingley invited all the councillors to inspect the area at first hand the next time they are in the vicinity.

Langley, Abbotsford Down, Matsqui Up

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENTS HIT SLOWNESS OF WINTER WORKS PAY

The slowness in making payments for winter incentive programs was hit by municipalities at the recent meeting of the Abbotsford and District Winter Employment Committee. Reeve Alex Hougen and Councillor J. G. Neufeld will draft a resolution asking the senior governments to speed up payments in the program. Municipal officials stated that programs are being held up due to lack of funds.

Matsqui municipality was praised by the committee for the project at Centennial Park for unemployed employables. A discussion was held regarding projects for these people in districts, particularly unorganized territories.

Vocational school training and agricultural schools for the Valley were also discussed. No concrete decisions were made in either discussion.

It was reported Sumas has fifteen persons working on brushing and six on the new police station, ten are working at various other projects. Abbotsford village have five persons working on sidewalk construction.

A MORE PRACTICAL APPROACH NEEDED

The problem and its administration is a question much bandied on the lips of our people today. Displeasure is voiced,but to no avail. Municipal, Provincial and Federal authorities lend a deaf ear and allow the situation to deteriorate every day.

Welfare across Canada has become a problem far beyond the "necessary evil" stage. Persons who tend to lean on the good will and soft hearted, have taken advantage of it. The origin of welfare was to maintain those in need, not to compensate those who are too lazy to seek employment and turn it down, should the job opportunity arise.

There are cases of the sick, maimed, widowed and such unfortunates who have been left destitute and not having the ability to obtain employment through no fault of their own. These people alone should be considered as fair recipients. The leeches, able bodied and mentally fit should be cut off and forced to take a position when it offers itself. These people who feed off the generosity of their fellow men, with no effort on their own for existance, make welfare the thing it is today.

Self respecting people, who find themselves faced with the necessity of applying for welfare, through no fault of their own, suffer the indignity of being placed on the same level as the parasites who refuse to help themselves.

Our municipal, provincial and federal governments have allowed welfare to become a mockery. Social workers in short supply due to an educational standard which provides little assistance in facing welfare problems, are turned loose to solve these problems. Many workers come from sheltered homes with a dream of administering aid to the needy. These men and women may work conscienciously, but the practical ability to analyze is lacking.

Our welfare departments should consist of members who have the following qualifications: firmness, fairness, harshness, sympathetic and last of all education. Another qualification is ability. This last is the one essential need so that they can apply the others where needed most.

However, the welfare administration is only the first step. Other means of solving this should be investigated before it mushrooms to the extent where it completely ruins an already shaky economical condition.

Councillor Booth—"We have the least development of parks in the Lower Fraser Valley. It is unfair to be billed for parks, on a tentative basis, located in more favoured areas."

Reeve Poppy—"Places like White Rock and Vancouver, have beaches and parks that are used by people outside these areas."

The matter was referred to next year's council.

THE FIFTH COLUMN

By Joanne Moeller

I imagine that I should retrace my steps to the week before the Christmas holidays and report on those activities. First, I will speak of the Student Vs. Teacher Volleyball game, which the students of course won. The reason they won, I believe, is because the referee allowed no CHEATING! Unfortunately there were no presentations made to the winners.

We did have our "holiday film" a musical, plus romance, called "Showboat" and starring Ava Gardner and Kathryn Grayson. I noticed various reactions to the more "sentimental" parts of the show, one group of girls seemed to think that a long low scream is the answer, while one young man hung his head and moaned over the strange developments. The janitors must have had a rough time cleaning up—but, gee whiz, you've just got to have popcorn at a show. Everyone knows that.

At the end of the film, the Christmas issue of the Grovette was passed out. The paper, in my opinion, improves each time it is put out; and the combination of Miss Isaac as a sponsor, and Anne Kinnie as editor seem to do wonders for the material that is collected and printed. I've got a few questions though—who was B.B. (the locker-cleaner-outer? And who are K.R. and D.R. who are met at their bus stop by a PIG?

The Christmas dance is a blank on my humble paper. I asked someone who went to the dance what it was like, and she said, "It was nice, no—it was 'errible, no—I guess it was alright." That is my final statement, I'm sure I don't know what she meant. One question—did the parents realize that it was a Parent-Student Dance and that they really were invited.

The Student Council Dance at noon on Friday, January 4, was sporting a brand new Pony-Line, and I'm glad to say that this one did not collapse. It may look a bit weird to some of you, but have you ever seen the Bossa Nova?

Aldergrove's Basketball season has started, our first game was played at Maple Ridge on January 4th. Be sure to get out

Mather Comments

By Camille Mather, M.L.A. Delta

This is my first column for 1963, and it seems to me that I should make known my resolutions and goals for the New Year. My reason for publicizing them is this—the morality rate of good resolutions is very high and I think there is much to be said for making them public and thereby putting oneself 'on the spot' as to fulfilling them.

Well, I have two sets of resolutions—Public and Private.

These are my Public Resolutions:

In 1963 I will do all I can to get the government to remove the tolls on the Deas Tunnel and Oak Bridge. Tunnels and bridges are part of our general B.C. revenue and not paid largely by local users.

In 1963 I will increase my efforts to get chronic hospitals into operation where needed in B.C. as an integral part of our Hospital Insurance system. There is an ever increasing need for such hospitals and, in my opinion, for efficiency and economy, they should be located adjacent to our general hospitals.

In 1963 I will do whatever I can to speed up bringing the B.C. Telephone Company under public ownership and, also, towards passing along to the consumer much more of the savings made possible by our now publicly owned electricity and natural gas systems.

In 1963 I will try to expand my efforts for nuclear disarmament and better world understanding.

As to my private resolutions for 1963—I resolve to be more patient with my family—to avoid antique auctions—and to write better columns.

THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF LANGLEY

PROCLAMATION

By virtue of the authority vested in me, I earnestly request the Citizens of LANGLEY to wholeheartedly co-operate and support Canada's Annual Winter Employment "DO IT NOW" campaign to level out and help eliminate the seasonal unemployment situation.

Construction prospects for the Spring and Summer are very good. Skilled men and labourers will be at a premium. Householders, by having their repair work, rebuilding and remodelling done now, instead of next Spring or Summer, will be doing their part to give our area a balanced economy.

If you delay until Spring, these men will all be fully employed, consequently you may suffer inconvience and delays on your own projects, while in the meantime many may be unemployed. Co-operation is the prime ingredient of prosperity and you will be doing your share to make Langley Municipality more prosperous by supporting the National Winter Employment "DO IT NOW" Campaign.

CARMEN THROUGH SIX DECADES—Operatic divas of the past have often been as colorful as the operas they performed in, as evidenced by these photographs of famous Carmens throughout the years. They are (left to right) Gladys Swarthout, who sang the role from 1939 to 1945; Minnie Hauk, the first American Carmen, who performed the role in 1878; Geraldine Farrar and Emma Calve, who sang it at the 'Met' in the early 1900s; and Rosa Ponselle, whose Carmen was the last broadcast role she sang at the 'Met' prior to her retirement in 1937. This year's Metropolitan Opera series, heard Saturday afternoons on the CBC radio network, promises to be the most colorful in years with such familiar operas as Don Giovanni, Boris Godunov, and Otello, along with works such as Adriana Lecouvreur, and Adriadne Auf Naxos, never before broadcast on this series.

Gaglardi Says No to A. de Ruiter's Chicken Nest

The B.C. Minister of Highways has sent a negative reply to Aldergrove's Arie de Ruiter who sought permission to build his B.C. Chicken and Egg Restaurant over the freeway between Mt. Lehman and Port Mann.

In his letter, the Honourable Mr. Gaglardi outlines that such a plan, unique as it may be, can not meet approval of his department for reasons that the freeway is designed as a major high speed highway. "Commercial entrances are not allowed,"the minister states and he also explains that the cost of building an overpass alone would be around $130,000., not considering the loop roads leading to it, another $70,000. bringing the total up to an amount not likely to be approved by the Chicken Nest's shareholders, even if a permit for an overpass location could be secured.

The idea of building a B.C. Chicken and Egg Restaurant was first brought up at the large Egg Producers' meeting in Abbotsford last November. Primarily meant to promote the consumption of eggs and poultry, and to provide a home for the association and it's meetings, the idea of having a central point for the industry as a whole now has the broiler and turkey growers' interest. The building will be shaped like a half an egg, laying on its side and is planned to be 100 feet long, 70 feet wide, at its widest point, and 35 feet high at its highest point.

If built according to this size, there will be room for 500 persons in the auditorium, at the narrow end of the 'egg". A restaurant will be at the large end where the front entrance will be located. The top floor will house 4 or 5 offices and living quarters for the Chicken Nest's manager.

Mr. de Ruiter states that "the location for this enterprise is more important than anything and that's why I first tried to get a permit to build it right over the freeway." He has visited "over the highway restaurants" near Chicago, he says that these places are so "easy to get at that you can't help but drop in when you get near them, no matter from what direction you come."

He claims to have picked out 3 "alternative, good locations" and has a Vancouver firm's price quotation on building the "shell." It's a tricky job to put up a building the size and shape he wants but there will be no difficulties in getting the "shell" up. he says and adds that local labour should be used to do the job, but there are certain things that require "specialists," not available in the Fraser Valley.

If the Chicken Nest becomes a reality, and it looks like it will, we are looking forward to eating some of the delicious and different poultry and egg dishes that will be served there. Don't forget the broilers and turkeys, they are gettinng in on it too!

Apart from the culunary attractions, poultry people in B.C. will have something to call their "home". To enable all poultry producers in B.C. to become part owners of this unusual restaurant and meeting place, ten dollar shares will be available as soon as the necessary public company has been formed. "Steps towards the forming are in progress," Mr. de Ruiter concluded.

Egg Producers Meet Planned

A large turnout is again expected when B.C. Egg Producers will meet in the Legion Auditorium in Abbotsford on Monday, January 21st at 8 p.m.

The constitution of the newly formed Association will be presented to the membership for its apprpoval.

One of the main topics will be whether or not to pursue a plebiscite for an egg control board. Since egg prices started to drop a few weeks ago, much pressure has been put on the executive to take action against price drops when there is no apparent reason for it. Egg producers were hardly able to meet expenses last year and fear that the situation will not correct itself without some form of production and price controls.

DECEMBER 1962

Precipitation has occurred frequently during the month but was not heavy except in the 3 days 27th to 29th. 25 days were wet, equalling the record of Dec. 1958, compared to the normal 21. The total, 9.98 inches, was half an inch above normal. Snowfall was light, only 1.1", compared to the average 6.6" and 21.5" last December.

Seven days were sunny, just average, while thirteen had frost one less than average.

SUMMARY FOR 1962

If the year seemed wet, it was mainly due to the record number of wet days. We had 197, compared to 189 in 1953 and a normal of 173. Only January and February had less than the normal number.

Precipitation totalled 65.22 inches, one inch above normal. Snowfall, which was heavy in January and March, came to 42.6 inches, well above the average 32.2 inches.

The annual mean temperature was just normal, 48.3 degrees, compared to 48.9 degrees in 1961. The last four months were all above normal, while the previous four (May through August) were below normal.

Temperatures ranged from a low of 1 degree on January 21st to a high of 85 degrees on July 23rd.

131 days were sunny (average 144), while 83 had frost (average 89)
