FRANK B. GOETTER,
W. G. McMYNN.

NOTICE OF FORFEITURE.

To J. A. Drain and C. Hoffman, both of the City of Spokane in the State of Washington.

Sirs:

You are hereby notified that I have expended $100.00 in labor and improvements on the "Alice Maud" Mineral Claim situate in Smith's camp in the Kettle River Mining Division of Yale District in British Columbia, to count as an assessment on said claim, as will appear by a Certificate of Work recorded 23rd March, 1901, in the office of the Mining Recorder for the said Kettle River Mining Division of Yale District, in order to hold said claim under the provisions of Section 24 of the Mineral Act; such being the amount required to hold the said claim for the year ending 23rd March, 1901.

And if at the expiration of 90 days of publication of this notice you fail or refuse to contribute your proportions of the expenditure required under Section 24, together with all costs of advertising, your interests in said claim shall become vested in the subscriber [one of your co-owners] under Section 4 of the Mineral Act Amendment Act, 1900.

Dated at Greenwood, B. C., this 26th day of July, 1900.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

The Toronto Monetary Times publishes the statment that the mortgagees have foreclosed on the mining and smelting properties of the Standard Copper Company, Quebec Copper Company and Standard Pyritic Smelting company. The mortgagees are Messr. Price Bros & Co. of Quebec.

Geo. F. Stocker, resident agent at Cascade for the owners of that townsite, visited Greenwood on Tuesday and Wednesday. He reports business as having improved considerably at his home town. Progress with grading work along the Marcus-Republic railway where it passes Cascade is not so rapid as was anticipated it would be yet as many men as have been obtainable are employed along the line.

A provincial government advertisement in another column invites tenders for the erection of a bridge across Kettle river, at Ingram's. The location is stated in the advertisement, which appears as received, as being in the West Kootenay district, but this must be an error, since Kettle river does not enter West Kootenay. The old bridge at Ingram's is in the Boundary district, between Midway and Rock Creek.

The Montreal & Boston Copper company has ordered from Cunningham & Andersen, of Greenwood, an electric light plant of 150 light capacity. The order has been sent direct to the manufacturers, with instructions to send on the dynamo without delay. Upon receipt it will be installed, so as to be ready for use by the time winter sets in. Meanwhile mine workings and buildings will be wired for electric lighting.

A. B. Barker, of the staff of the Bank of Toronto, and A. J. Burnside, both of Rossland, reached Greenwood last Sunday evening on their way to the Similkameen. They continued their journey on Monday. Their intention was to ride in via Anarchist mountain and Osoyoos, and probably to return over the trail from Princeton to Beaverdell and thence down the West Fork and main Kettle river to Rock Creek and Midway.

Greenwood's brass band is being resuscitated. Last Monday night the boys had a go-as-you-please meeting, at least at times it sounded that way until they got the hang of the thing, and then they all pulled (or blew) together, and everything was lovely. More power—and wind—to the Greenwood band. For once the people over the way were out of the running and the hymn singers conceded the field to the crowd having the most brass.

A. T. Winters, of Colville, who is one of the shareholders in the Midway Trading company, is now temporarily in charge of the company's mercantile business at Midway. J. R. Jacobs, the late manager, has removed to California, the recent death of his father requiring that he shall give his attention to family business matters. E. B. Bird, at one time assistant to Mr. Jacobs in the store, will likely take charge after the return of Mr. Winters to Colville.

J. C. Haas and Walter Foster, when walking over a mineral claim up the mountain side from the Eholt meadow, last Tuesday, came upon the carcase of a big buck which apparently had been killed by a cougar. Part of the deer's head had been knawed off and his captor had also taken a few big mouthfuls from the body. The carcase was nearly buried, earth and leaves having been gathered about it by some animal, evidently with the intention of keeping it for later use.

G. Arthur Rendell is relinquishing the active management of the mercantile business of the Eholt Trading company, at Eholt. Mr. Rendell is retaining his interest in this flourishing concern but is, for health reasons, turning over its management to H. J. Bayly, well and favorably known in the district during a somewhat lengthy connection with Rendell & Co., of Greenwood, who with Robert Wood, whose store business was amalgamated with their's five or six years ago, were the pioneer merchants of the Boundary creek valley.

J. C. O'Neill, of Chicago, was registered at the Imperial hotel last week and this week until Tuesday, on which day he left for Spokane and more distant points. He is interested in the Chicago-British Columbia Mining company, owning the Lake group, in Skylark camp, and in neighboring mineral claims. Some time ago he organized a company in Chicago to acquire and operate the North Star mine at Silverton, Colorado, a valuable property already extensively developed and having its own large stamp mill and cyaniding plant.

THE CITY CEMETERY.

Mr. Ashcroft's application on behalf of the Church of England, for a deed for a portion of the cemetery draws attention to the unwise policy on the part of the city in dividing with churches and fraternal societies ownership in the cemetery. The result will be that, so far as the city is concerned, but little revenue can be secured from the sale of plots in the city portion. Nearly everyone that earns his living in the city belongs to one of the churches or fraternal socities, and should he desire a cemetery plot for either himself or his family, he will purchase from one of the societies or churches to which he belongs. The city will have an opportunity to provide burial ground for but few save those who cannot afford to pay for a plot. The result will be that if the cemetery is maintained and beautified as it ought to be, the responsibility must rest upon the different organizations holding ground in the cemetery or if on the city the expenditure must come from the general revenue. Had the city retained control of the sale of cemetery lots altogether, allowing different organizations to set apart portions for themselves, the proceeds from the cemetery could probably pay the expenses of a caretaker and the beautifying of the grounds.

Under the present circumstances the council must carry out promises made some time ago. We hope the committee appointed from the council will be able to arrange with the different organizations interested a plan whereby all will join together for the purpose of making the cemetery what it ought to be. All should take an interest in making it beautiful.

THE CAVE OF ABDULLAM.

Somewhere in the good book we are told that David took possession of the cave of Adullam and that a party gathered there. "Everyone that was in distress and everyone that was in debt and everyone that was discontented gathered themselves with him." History repeats itself and we find that a few thousand years afterwards a similar party gathered themselves with one James Dunsmuir. Political practices and political principles are sacrificed in the gathering together of the impecunious and the irreconcilable. Martin's conduct is not surprising. He is always ready to sacrifice party, pledge and policy to satisfy a selfish ambition and that he should prove traitor to his political friends is nothing more than was expected by those who knew him best and studied his political career. He is a fit subject for the modern cave of Abdullam. J. C. Brown was a power on the Lower Fraser in the early days but he became a victim of the blighting influence of Joseph Martin. Tempted by an office in that wonderful cabinet which Martin constructed, he sacrificed a comfortable living as postmaster at New Westminster that he might follow Joseph. When the people got an opportunity they put Martin's cabinet to a sure and sudden death and J. C. Brown was neither cabinet minister nor postmaster at New Westminister. He became a politician in search of a job and he entered the cave of Abdullam. W. W. B. McInnes was a young man of great promise. Elected by the people of Vancouver Island and an uncompromising opponent of the politics and policy which Dunsmuir represented, he went down to Ottawa and made an ass of himself. He endeavored to lead Sir Wilfred Laurier and the entire Liberal party and became disgruntled when it was pointed out to him that he was only an obscure follower. Willie returned to B. C. and by the aid of a glib tongue and a loud profession of sound political views he got into the local house. He soon showed that he could worship the golden calf and he now announces his willingness to enter the cave of Abdullam. And there are others. The poor, the discontented, the distressed are all surrounding a David whose chief qualification is wealth.

This playing battledore and shuttlecock with the electors cannot last. The present combination at Victoria will surely be defeated but what will follow. Unless strong political parties are organized in the province there is no surety that their successors will be any better. The truth is that the only practical way to secure strong government is through party lines. If the Liberals and Conservatives were strongly organized in the local house, the swallowing up of an opposition by the government would be impossible. The Liberals of the province have been too much afraid of such heads like Joe Martin. Had they organized before the last election, with a good leader, they could have [illegible] the province. We would rather see a straight Conservative government [illegible] than the present aggregation who are responsible to no one, who have no policy but to stay in office. A Conservative government is something that Liberals can fight against [illegible] when it contains the best [illegible] be and the Liberals [illegible] At present [illegible] hering about [illegible] no-body [illegible] the [illegible] a [illegible] but [illegible] government [illegible] cities and [illegible] la-[illegible] parties—Joseph [illegible]

MUNICIPAL NOTES.

The Nelson Review is responsible for the statement that if the Hon. D. W. Ross drew the same energy in [illegible] in the discharge of his [illegible] general, he has [illegible] his hands.

The thanks of the citizens are due to Mr. Ehrlich who has succeeded in organizing a band. The players are all adepts and with the [illegible] music and instruments [illegible] public without much [illegible] With the Ehrlich [illegible] be made [illegible] to live in.

A [illegible] is a good one. The site is very suitable for this purpose. By widening Boundary creek and damming it a lake could be formed. Nature has done much and with a little work on the part of the city and citizens, an excellent park could be made.

THE management of the Snowshoe mine may well exclaim "Save us from our friends." Last Saturday the Phoenix Pioneer had a prominent caption announcing that "60,000 tons will be shipped from Snowshoe mine." Then it proceeded to state that a contract had been made for the shipment of one car of ore daily. Such a contrast appears ridiculous. The Snowshoe gives much promise of [illegible] into a big mine. It already has [illegible] ore opened up [illegible] treatment [illegible] e[illegible] g[illegible] profits its ore will yield, it will put out a comparatively large tonnage. Meanwhile no good purpose can be served by such boosting, which is not only contrary to the wishes of the management but has a tendency to bring its ore shipping policy—adopted for excellent reasons—into ridicule.

IF it be any satisfaction to the newspaper correspondent at Grand Forks responsible for the publication of the statement that King Solomon ore is not to be sent to the smelter at Greenwood but is to go instead to the smelter at Grand Forks, to know that the announcement made in this paper last month that the King Solomon ore would be shipped to the Greenwood smelter has this week been verified, the fact is here published for his information in particular and that of the public in general. During the current week King Solomon ore was received and sampled at the Greenwood smelter.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Gilbert Mahon, manager of the Jewel mine Long Lake camp, was in town last Saturday.

A. J. McMillan and J. W. Astley came down from the Snowshoe mine on Tuesday afternoon returning next morning.

J. W. Boss, formerly of Spokane but now of Toronto, is at present on a visit to the Dominion Copper company's mines, in Greenwood camp.

The work of excavating for the foundations of the second furnace that will be due to arrive at the Greenwood smelter next month, is now in hand.

Max Rossier, long known in Greenwood as the obliging and zealous clerk of the Hotel Armstrong, has gone into the Turkish bath business in Spokane.

E. J. Wilson, of the Pyritic smelter, has gone to Quebec, presumably in connection with the deal now on for the sale of the smelter to Chicago people.

W. B. Rickards, of Midway, is reported to have obtained a temporary appointment on the coast. It is stated, though, that he will return to Midway later in the year.

[illegible] Patrick and Mr. [illegible] were guests at the [illegible] in the week. Mr. [illegible] Monday's train on his way [illegible]

The incorporation of the Grand Forks Rowing and Athletic Association has been gazetted. The company has a capital of $[illegible],000, divided into [illegible] shares of $[illegible] each.

It is expected that Chief Justice McColl will preside at the first assize court to be held in the Boundary district, which has been set for October 22nd next, in Greenwood.

Certain musical instruments belonging to the [illegible] Fire Department are missing. If taken by any party in the city, he would offer a favor by returning them to the hall.

[illegible] Constable Alan Forrester, of Rossland, has in this district a [illegible] duties of Constable [illegible] has not yet [illegible] business.

Rev. [illegible] Nelson, preached [illegible] anniversary [illegible] Methodist [illegible] and at which [illegible] sermons.

[illegible] the result of four [illegible] have recently been [illegible] Creek Placer [illegible] workings. More is expected shortly, pay dirt having at length been reached and sluicing operations commenced.

A report from Phoenix is to the effect that the Columbia telephone exchange in that town has been closed, and that the people of the dinner bucket town will have now to be content with the Vernon & Nelson exchange only.

H. F. Price, local manager for the companies owning the Standard Pyritic smelter and the Standard and Marguerite mineral claims, left this week for the coast whence he will go east. He may not return to Greenwood, at least for some time.

The provincial government is advertising in the Times auction sales of lots in the towns of Fairview and Eholt. The former sale will take place at Fairview on Saturday afternoon, September 21st, and the latter at Eholt on Wednesday, the 25th inst.

D. C. McRae, of the firm of Smith & McRae, returned this week from Rossland where he met representatives of wholesale houses from whom he bought for the Christmas trade. Mr. McRae secured a larger and more varied stock of Christmas goods than was ever brought to the city.

R. W. Brock, of the Dominion geological survey, is pushing on with some work on the higher points about Phoenix so as to make Greenwood his headquarters when the winter comes on. As mentioned in the Times last month, he has a party at work on a geological and topographical survey of the district.

An extraordinary general meeting of the Cascade Water, Power & Light company will be held at Nelson on Monday, 23 inst., for the purpose of considering, and if thought fit, passing a resolution authorizing the directors to raise the sum of one hundred thousand pounds (£100,000) by the issue of mortgage bonds, or debentures, or otherwise.

A. A. Munroe, managing director of the Montreal & Boston Copper company, left by last Monday's out-going train on his return to Montreal. It is understood that whilst here he obtained a deal of information relative to the producing capacity of the Sunset and Crown Silver mines and to several sites available in the district and suitable for the erection of a smelter. He was accompanied by his brother, Dr. Munroe.

J. E. Miller, collector of inland revenue, and Wm. Gill, inspector in the same department, were in Greenwood on official business on Tuesday and Wednesday, registering at the Imperial hotel. After inspecting the local office and bonded warehouse they drove up to Phoenix where there is another bonded warehouse. In the course of conversation with Mr. Miller, an instance of hale and hearty old age was mentioned, when he gave another in the case of his own parents, who are resident at Brockville, Ontario, and who on April 29th last celebrated the 64th anniversary of their wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Sr., are respectively 85 and 84 years of age, and at last accounts were in excellent health and enjoyment of their faculties.

BOUNDARY ORE SHIPMENTS.

is a large and varied one, every line is complete in itself, and strictly first-class. Not a shoddy article in any of the lines. They all concede that our stock of Groceries is the nicest and freshest in the city. Prices consistent with the quality of the goods. We would dislike very much to be considered the "cheapest" place in town, there are so many VERY CHEAP OENS, but we do think that we come very near being the best. Try us, and tell us what you think.

JAMES BREEN TO OWN HOTEL.

Buys Famous Gregson Springs Property Near Anaconda.

A Montana despatch says that James Breen of Spokane, acting through Con Hayes of this city, who will be his partner, has purchased the famous Gregson Springs property, 10 miles from Anaconda. Last July the hotel and baths there were burned. It is the intention of the new owners to construct a splendid new hotel with accomodations for 150 guests. A huge plunge and sanitarium, to be in charge of a noted specialist in rheumatics and kindred diseases, will be established. In a statement today Mr. Hayes says $100,000 will be expended, including the purchase of 640 acres owned by Gregson Bros., which will be consolidated with 820 acres owned by Mr. Hayes. The purchase price is private.

Mr. Breen is one of the best known mining men in the northwest. He was formerly manager and part owner of the Le Roi smelter at Northport.

AMONG THE BOERS.

Jack Stewart of Nelson, who enlisted for service in the South Africa constabulary, has written to friends in Nelson giving them his experiences in the brush which the constabulary force had with the Boers under Dewet in July last, when three of them were killed and several wounded and taken prisoners. The letter is written from Hout Kop, under date of July 25th, so that it is several days later than those which reached Nelson immediately after the skirmish, which occurred on July 11th.

Stewart was with the advance party which left Hout Kop at 5:30 on the morning of the 11th. He says they kept going until 10 o'clock, when they came upon an advance guard, or what they thought was a small party of Boers. Jack says the constabulary force thought they had an easy thing and galloped towards the Boers. They poured a heavy fire into the Boers for about an hour and a half when finding they could not dislodge them they decided to retire. The party of which Stewart was a member had been depending upon another contingent for support, but when they commenced to fall back they found that the supporting party had made tracks for camp, leaving them in the lurch. The result of this was that the Boers were able to completely surround them. When the boys saw there was no way out they made a fine stand and the Boer casualty list is the best evidence of it.

There were about twenty-seven men in the party of which Stewart was a member, and after three had been killed and several others wounded they decided to capitulate, but there was nothing disgraceful about it, as by this time there were but nine men and Captain Benett capable of bearing arms against a Boer force of from 600 to 800, which party was in a position to draw upon an equally strong force about a mile away. When Stewart and the rest of the prisoners were taken into the Boer camp they found that the Boer dead numbered 28, with 32 wounded and 20 horses disabled and killed, which was not a bad record for their small force. Stewart says the Boers were very short of supplies of all kinds, and he and the other prisoners were stripped of everything save their underclothing and forced to walk nine miles over the rough roads in their bare feet to the British camp. Stewart says he would not have missed the affair for anything, but would not like another of the same against the same odds for anything. Just how any of the party escaped alive is a mystery to him.

All those wounded in the engagement of July 11th were doing well on the date of Stewart's letter and several of them reported for duty again. W. J. Thompson and George Partridge were still in the hospital on the date of the skirmish and were not able to report for duty at the date of Stewart's writing.—Nelson Tribune.
