THE CRESTON REVIEW

Vol. XIV. CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, JULY 21, 1922

Bonner's Ferry Easy for Creston

Playing at top form in every department, and with the able assistance of Mitchell and Mickens, the Wardner battery, Creston had no trouble whatever in putting over a 9 to 1 victory on the crack Bonners Ferry baseball team at Exhibition Park before the biggest crowd that ever saw a Sunday game in Creston.

Mitchell's twirling was postively the best ever seen here his showing of 13 strikeouts against the heavy hitting visitors being a record that will not be excelled for some time in the Kootenay. Mickens gave him stellar support behind the bat, and in the field the work of the locals was so uniformly good that it would be unfair to go into details of the defensive effort of the homesters.

At run getting McKelvey was particularly efficient, his three and two ply clouts being responsible for four of the nine runs registered. Atkinson also did timely work with the bat, while Long's work both scoring and at third base was another outstanding feature. Telford, who pastimed in the left field, showed that he was just as much at home outergardening as behind the pad and mask.

The visitors' downfall was in some considerable measure due to the ragged work of the infield, both the third and first basemen being away off their usual stride. Peterson gave the best exhibition of left fielding ever seen on these grounds, and had the rest of the inner defense worked as consistently as Everetts the score would have been much closer. Collins two base drive into left field was the feature of the Bonners batting, which accounted for a total of five safeties in the nine frames.

Up till the eighth, when the visitors got their solitary tally Bonners never looked really dangerous. In this frame Walser, who was first up, singled to right, and moved on to second when Heathershaw hit a fast one to Mitchell that the pitcher halted but before Atkinson could get his hands on it both runners were safe. Heathershaw followed with a dinky fly that Atkinson made a grand try for but was inches short of getting under and the bases were loaded. The crowd breathed easy when Rholf struck out. Hydron was hit by a pitched ball forcing in Walser with the one counter, and with the bases still filled Everett hot into a spectacular double play Bleumenauer to Atkinson to McKelvey and the side was retired.

Creston started in at the scoring right from the opening stanza. After Telford had gone out on an infield roller shortstop to first, Long drew a pass, and a few seconds later completed the circuit on Mitchell's triple to left. He never got home, however as Atkinson went out shortstop to first, and Mickens struck out after an effort to score his battery mate on the squeeze play—his otherwise perfect bunt rolling foul along third base line by hardly three inches.

Long was responsible also for the tally in third. He reached first on Heathershaws temporary fumble of a drive to short, and reached second while Mitchell was being thrown out at first, coming home on Atkinson's smash into the right garden. Atkinson however died at the initial sack as Mickens pop flied to Walser, and McKelvey was out shortstop to first.

In the fifth Creston added three more, Telford and Long were both lucky in putting short rollers down third base line that Chamberlain could not reach in time thus filling first and second. Mitchell, however, retired on three swats at the atmosphere, but Atkinson filled the sacks when he outsprinted a slow one along first base path. Things looked blue when Mickens also retired by the strikeout route, but Walser underestimated McKelvey when he grooved one to the first baseman's exact taste and who showed his appreciation of the offering by clouting it to left field scoring Telford, Long, and Atkinson. Bleumenauer's best, however was a drive to Everetts who promptly threw him out at first.

Creston put the game on ice in the seventh when four runners crossed the pan, McKelvey again figuring prominently in the delivery of the runs. Long reached first when the storstop juggled the hit just long enough to allow the runner to arrive safely. Mitchell beat out a bunt down first base line, and two runners were on the paths. Atkinson rose to the occasion by smiting out a two ply swat that scored Long and put tenants on third and second. Mickens struck out, and when McKelvey came up to the plate the crowd demanded a repeat of his timely triple in the fifth. In his eagerness not to please McKelvey Walser shot over one so wide that it got by Hydron and Mitchell sprinted home. The play dazed Walser so badly that he put the next one fair over and McKelvey lammed it for a double to left that sent Atkinson home. Bleumenauer's out short to third enabled McKelvey to reach third and he raced home when Walser juggled Romano's pop fly and dropped it. Telford ended the session with a fly to left which Peterson nabbed. The players and box score:

West Creston

West Creston is quite the favorite fishing place in the Valley, and excellent catches of rainbow and char are still being made at Summit Creek, while the bass fishing in the Kootenay was never better.

Ferryman Lockhead and helper have been busy the past few days putting a sheeting of tin on the sides of the scow in order to protect it from damage from the floating ice.

Mr. Blair was here at the end of the week making an inspection of the hay crop on the Reclamation Farm, and from present appearances cutting will start about the middle of August.

Stephens brothers are busy with haying operations on the Seymour place, and are certainly earning their keep by the sweat of the brow operating armstrong fashion these nice sunny days.

Up to the present this section has been entirely free of forest fires, but with six weeks of summer still to come we are not yet out of danger.

W. Ramsay, the public works engineer, of Nelson, was here on Saturday making an inspection of the ferry and arranging for the putting in of a new bridge to replace the one at Nick's Island, which floated away in this year's high water. The new structure will be of piling and built to withstand these annual floods.

P. Burns & Co. have opened a considerable-sized abbatoir at Grand Forks and will make that town a distributing centre for the meat trade in to Trail and Rossland.

Erickson

In addition to his shoe repair work and ranching operations, John Joy has just taken on the job of nighwatch at the C.P.R. bridge.

Mrs. G. P. Smith left on Sunday for Silverton, and will spend the next six weeks with friends in the Slocan.

Miss Connie McCarthy left a few days ago for Edgewood, to which she had been called on professional work.

Frank Palmer left a few days ago for the Peace River country, to look after his stock and farm interests at Pouce Coupe. He will likely be away about a month.

Saturday witnessed the start of the cucumber and pepper shipping season, the Long Ranch being the first to export the former, while Mr. Richardson was there with the first crate of peppers.

The fortnightly English Church service at the schoolhouse, which was withdrawn at the end of June, will not be resumed until the first Sunday in September.

The export of summer cabbage from the Fraser rancher has been under way since the middle of last week, with Tuesday breaking all the export records when about a ton and a half of it went east to Crow line customers.

The hard surface road will be built into Erickson depot this fall for certain, and most likely the whole loop will be completed before the roadmaking machinery is moved out next year. This is the announcement made by Engineer Ramsay, who was here on an official visit Friday. A steam road roller to replace the gasoline machine is on way here from the Cariboo district, and on its arrival it will be worked double shift if necessary to complete the station road by the first of October.

Kitchener

A serious looking forest fire is raging about three miles up Goat River and with Mr. Davis absent, Capt. Eorrester is in charge of the crew of about 45 men who are fighting the flames.

At the annual school meeting on July 8th E. McGonegal was elected to the trustee vacancy, and along with B. Johnson and G. A. Hunt will comprise this year's board.

The Paulson Mason mill was due to start this week but this has been impossible as all their men are busy fire fighting. The Sash & Door Company are also hiring a crew and will open their sawmill again in a few days. Kitchener Timber Company operations at present are confined to getting out a large number of poles.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Abar and E. McGonegal were at Creston on Sunday for the ball game.

G. A. Hunt has just completed quite a large contract for posts for the C.P.R.

BIRTH—At St. Eugene Hospital, Cranbrook, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Schonnert.

Miss Esther Erickson is a visitor with Spokane friends this week.

Have YOU Done Your Duty to Yourself and Your Family!

Join the Creston and District Fifteen Hundred Club!

Send application to Secretary, Creston, B.C.

Miss Williams of Cranbrook is here on a visit to Miss Laura Andeen, and Miss Mildred Andeen with Master Bobbie Johnson are guests of Mrs. Johnson at Moyie.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt and Clara are at the ranch at Erickson this week.

Mrs. Bylander of Bull River is a Kitchener visitor at present, the guest of Mrs. Molander.

Mr. Schonnert has just finished the contract he had with the Sash & Door Company for taking out a quantity of 75-foot piling.

Canyon City

Miss Olsen of Spokane, who has been here on a visit to her father, Eric Olsen, returned at the end of the week.

Mrs. Weatherhead was a visitor with friends at Yahk a few days last week.

Miss Carter of Calgary, Alta., is a visitor here at present with her aunt, Mrs. Geo. Strong.

Norman Strong, who has been at Wasa for the past three months, where he was working as setter in the sawmill returned home a few days ago.

Grover Kifer left on Thursday last for Montana, where he will spend some time on a visit to his brother, Bob.

C. Cleave is taking a short enforced vacation at present. While engaged at forest fire operations last week a boulder that came rolling down the mountain struck him on the knee putting him temporarily out of commission.

Most of the men who have been on the fire fighting crew here were transferred to Kitchener on Monday. A bad blaze is raging near that town at present.

Harry White, who has resided at Yahk for the past three years, is back to Canyon again, and will have charge of the portable sawmill Canyon City Lumber Company, Ltd., is putting in near Camp 3. Mrs. White is at present stopping with Mrs. Wetherhead.

The trustees are calling for bids on the work of painting the interior of the old school building and kalsoming the basement.

The continued hot dry weather is shortening up the raspberry crop, and unless rain hits us this week the crop will not be more than half of last year.

Quite a large crew of men are now at work on the C.P.R. bridge at the Canyon, putting in new steel and concrete abutments at both ends of the structure.

Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Webster take this opportunity to express their appreciation of the kindly help and all the other tokens of goodwill shown them following Mrs. Webster's accident and her stay in hospital.

Listerites in Police Court

In some measure it was a case of when the wine's in the wit's out that landed Peter McKay of Lister in the police court on Thursday last on a charge of assault on A. R. Webb of the same settlement. It would appear that McKay is amongst those inclined to show bad temper toward the other Listerites who have signed the agreement with the L.S.B., and that while under the influence of too much liquid Scotch on the Tuesday he used considerable strong language toward Webb and a couple of other residents, rounding out the tirade by landing a couple of blows on Webb's anatomy. Fortunately the pair were separated or proceedings would have been further enlivened. In consenting to the withdrawal of the charge Magistrate Mallandaine in very plain terms informed that any further occurrences of the sort would be severely dealt with, remarking that the state of affairs that, apparently, existed at Lister today was anything but creditable amongst men, all of whom had served overseas.

Books for Flower Show Winners

At the Women's Institute meeting held on Friday night prizes were awarded in order of merit to some of the winners at the flower show in May last. The department of agriculture had sent five books for this purpose, and they were awarded as follows:

1. Mrs. Edmondson, who gained five firsts and two seconds. 2. Mrs. Bennett, with two firsts. 3. Mrs. Ebuutt, Mrs. Lyne and Mrs. Linn, each with two seconds. Those who have not recived their books can get the same if they will call at the library on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Lyne read a paper dealing with the Mother's Pension Act, and Mrs. Garland gave a report of the Health Conference, which she attended in Nelson the latter part of June. Twenty delegates were present. Addresses were given on child hygiene, the diet and care of the school child, hygiene of schools and school grounds, and social hygiene.

The provincial council of child welfare is forming local councils, British Columbia being into four districts. The Kootenay and Boundary council of child hygiene is headed by Mrs. Rutherford of Nelson, as president; and Mrs. Garland of Creston, vice-president.

Mrs. Boyer of Willow Point gave a short address on behalf of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and urged the schools starting bands of mercy.

Tea and light refreshments were served after the meeting had adjourned, the tea hostesses being Mesdames G. Johnson, Jas. Johnston, Leaman and Lyne.

Lister

The committee in charge are preparing for a good delegation from other points in the Valley at the dance in the schoolhouse on Saturday, July 29th, the entire proceeds of which go to the Merville settlement benefit fund.

Jack Johnston, Jack Burgess and Joe McGee were here from the Continental mine, where they are employed, for a week-end visit.

Mrs. Dave Chalmers and daughter, Margaret, are Trail visitors this week. Miss Annie Chalmers, who has been attending Cranbrook high school, is home for the holidays.

Miss Anderson is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Rowbury, en route from the east to her home at the coast.

Provincial bee inspector Sheppard of Nelson was here on an official inspection visit last week, and after a careful look over all the Lister apairies states that foul brood is well under control.

A meeting of the school district will be held shortly to fill vacancies on the board caused by the death of Mr. Brain, the resignation of Mr. Atkins, while Mrs. Millington's term has expired.

A meeting of the residents was held on Monday under the auspices of the United Farmers to devise ways and means of furnishing assistance to the Merville settlers, most of whom have just lost their homes and effects as well as farm stock in a forest fire that devastated the Merville area last week. President Powers occupied the chair, and there was quite a good turnout. President Bell of the G.W.V.A. pledged the full support of that organization to any work that was undertaken, and it was finally decided to have a dance in the schoolhouse on Saturday night, July 29th, and a committee consisting of Mrs. Powers, and Messrs. Bell, Barnhard and Jack Finlay was named to make all arrangements. The best possible music will be secured and excellent refreshments, and a high class time is assured all who attend.

The Italian brass band at Trail is out of business because it has no one to play the bass and baritone horns.

Fiske Farm, Elba,
June 28th, 19—

It is a week to-day since I came here, and I can truly say that I am having a "real good time." My only troubles are that I want to eat everything in sight, and that I am too sleepy by half-past nine to do any writing. My early sleepiness is the direct result of early rising. The day begins for us at the barbarous hour of five-thirty, except on wash-day, when we celebrate by making it five o'clock sharp!

I hope you remark the editorial "we." I am beginning to feel as if I had a part interest in the farm, for in accordance with my wish, I am not being used as a visitor but as one of the family.

On Monday we wash, and make bread. Tuesday, we iron, and make butter. Wednesday is a "slack" day. Thursday, we make bread. Friday, we make butter, and sweep and dust the whole house. Saturday, we prepare for Sunday—that means that we bake pies and cake enough to feed a regiment, for the Fiskes keep open house on Sunday.

Like the comic supplement orator, I can point with pride to my share in each of these tasks. Mrs. Fiske, model housewife that she is, went so far as to tell her husband that she never saw another English girl who was "so handy!"

I helped with the washing, and to-day I covered myself with glory by ironing some beautiful embroidery as well as Mrs. Fiske herself could have done it.

On churning day I haunt the dairy, a lovely cool stone building with an earthen floor. I turned the churn for a while, but found the task rather too strenuous to please me, so my dairying activities are principally confined to drinking unlimited quantities of buttermilk and making the fresh butter into little cakes for the table. To do the latter I use a wooden mould on which is carved a sheaf of wheat—I have not had so good a time since I used to make mud pies.

I always did love to putter around in the kitchen, so on Saturday I was able to win more laurels by making some real English pastry and two big pans of toffee. Of course I burned my arm on the oven door, and the kitchen table was a sight to behold when I finished; but my guardian-angel must have taken a course in Domestic Science at some time. Each of my ventures has proved successful. I try to look as if such a result is quite what I expected: I am not going to admit that I am not always so lucky.

For amusement Gypsy and I weed the onion bed, hunt for wild strawberries, and last, but not least amusing, go to the hen-house to look for eggs. Gypsy has a genuine Red-Riding-Hood basket which she has used to carry eggs in ever since she was big enough to hold it. I use the pocket of a big gingham apron. I had a thrilling experience the very first day. I had found six eggs, and as I went to take the seventh out of a nest a miserable old suffragette flew off the perch, and, screaming "Help! Robbers!! Police!!!" landed almost on top of me. Of course I jumped, and dropped the eggs, which made themselves into an impromptu omelet. And Gypsy, all this time, was leaning against the door, and laughing until the tears rolled down her cheeks. She has such a jolly, gurgling laugh, the sort one hears from a well-fed baby.

Then we visit the horses regularly, and the calves, and the pigs. Mr. Fiske has eight teams of farm horses and a carriage team. The latter are bronchoes, "Imp" and "Pixie." Mr. Fiske bought them from my late coachman Mr. Livingstone, and they are branded with the mark "B," which is read "Bar B."

The menagerie is completed by two dogs, a thoroughbred collie "Mac" and a mongrel bull-terrier "Cop," and numerous cats.

On Saturday, after my toffee had cooled, Mrs. Fiske and Gypsy and I took a pan of it and went across the fields to call on John Fiske, Junior, his wife, and, most important of all, John Fiske the Third. This young man is two plus ,and when I made his acquaintance he was clad in blue overalls and a hat the exact miniature of the one usually worn by his grandfather. Young Mrs. Fiske is very nice, and her home, to my mind, is in its simplicity and good taste greatly to be preferred to the parental mansion. The house is small, but I do not believe that one could find a ribbon bow in it if one looked from cellar to attic. If I were to marry a farmer (the prayers of the congregation are desired—for the farmer), I should wish my home to be like "Firstholme."

I do not think that I have mentioned before that the original Fiske house is still in existence. It is very small, built of logs, and white-washed, and with its untrimmed rose-bushes and vines it looks like the enchanted house in a fairy-tale.

"Most of the folks around uses their old houses for a granary or a hen-house, but I couldn't bring myself to spoil the place me an' John fixed up when we were young," said Mrs. Fiske, almost apologetically as she pointed it out to me. There is evidently a strain of sentiment in her.

Sunday morning we went to the Methodist service, which is held in the nearest school. Gypsy, Fred and I went in the motor-car, and Mr. and Mrs. Fiske drove Imp and Pixie.

The school was well filled and the people were very reverent, but I missed the proper atmosphere. Perhaps we Churchpeople are too dependent on atmosphere—but how is one to appreciate properly a sermon on the Prodigal Son when from the blackboard behind the preacher one can read this problem?—

"A monkey climbs a pole ten feet high at the rate of two feet a minute. But for each two feet he climbs he slips back one foot. How long will it take him to reach the top of the pole?"

The preacher was a theological student, very much in earnest but very youthful. And to disrespectful me, his progress was very much like that of the above-mentioned monkey; he kept slipping back from secondly to firstly, and from thirdly to secondly, in a most distracting manner. But I must not criticize.

Mr. and Mrs. Fiske, Junior, were at church, also the little boy. John the Third scandalized the staid members of the congregation by a valiant endeavour to join in the singing—between verses. And during a long prayer he got away from his mother and hurried across the room to his grandfather, in whose arms he slept all through the sermon. He has quite won my heart. One of his funny little tricks is a complete disregard of titles: I am simply "Eliot."

The youthful cleric, Mr. Thompson, came home to dinner with us, as did Miss Allan, the girl to whom Fred is engaged. Mr. Thompson amused me by hovering around the motor-car in a very suspicious manner when he came out of church; but Mrs. Fiske has her own conception of the respect due to "the cloth," and she insisted that he should drive with her and Mr. Fiske.

"I don't think it's becoming for a parson to go gaddling around with the young folks on a Sunday, especially in one of them autos," she said to me. "If I had my way, the car would never come out of the garage on Sunday. I was raised to go to church behind a pair of decent horses, an' I can't bring myself to countenance them noisy things."

So the poor young man had to discuss crops and theology with his orthodox parishioners, while the candle to which he played moth so transparently wasted her sweetness on me. There's a mixed metaphor for you!

When we reached the house we found the verandah occupied by the entire staff of the Union Bank. In case you may fear that there would not be dinner enough to go around, I hasten to add that the entire staff consists of two young men who describe themselves as "Teller Up" and "Ledger Down." Teller Up, who figures on the letter-heads as manager, is a nice Irish boy answering to the delightful name of Dennis O'Hara. Ledger Down is a Canadian, Jack Milne; he is a medical student and is working his way through college without any apparent injury to either his health or his spirits. Twelve of us sat down to dinner—not quite a regiment, but a very fair beginning for one.

Mr. Thompson had to leave us immediately after dinner in order to conduct afternoon service at another "station." Teller Up and Ledger Down—whom I feel like calling Tweedledum and Tweedledee—helped Gypsy and me to wash the dishes, and when that was done we went for a long walk, coming home just in time to have an early tea before going into Elba for Evensong at St. George's.

It was good to see Mr. Hartford and Mrs. Mills again—I count them old friends. And this time I cannot complain of a lack of church atmosphere.

On the whole, Sunday at the Fiske farm was a pleasant and not wholly unprofitable day.

In reviewing my various duties I forgot to mention particularly the Latin lessons which I give to Gypsy whenever and wherever we can find a place for them. I am learning more than I teach, for Gypsy has an original mind. Our favourite classroom is the hayloft, and the scent of the hay must be "mellering to the organ." The first day we studied there the matter-of-fact Gypsy waxed confidential and told me her troubles quite freely. It appears that she failed in Latin in her Matriculation exams., and therefore she has to write a supplementary exam. in September before she can go on with the next term's work.

"What's the use of me learning Latin?" she objected vigorously. "It would be more to the point if somebody would teach me to talk good English. I can pass a grammar exam. and get fairly good marks, but when I have to write an essay I am all at sea. I read a story once about a young man who didn't know how to use a finger-bowl or a pronoun, and that's Gypsy Fiske right down to the ground. Of course finger-bowls are not what you would call common in these parts, but it's pretty hard to get along without pronouns. And believe me, it's not much use to know a lot of rules when you hear them broken every day of your life. I don't say 'I done it' and 'I seen it,' but if by any chance I use the proper pronoun in one of those awkward sentences it is so unusual that it does not sound right. I nearly cried for joy the day I came to the place in West's Grammar where it says, 'We learn to speak and write correctly by mixing with well-educated people and reading well-written books.' It is such a comforting explanation. Now, I have the best father and the best mother in the world, but a polite biographer would say that their early education had been neglected. There is a girl in our class who teaches during the holidays, and wears shabby clothes, and trims her own hats; but I'd give half my allowance to be able to talk and write like she does, just because her people always have known how to do things. Now let's have another try at that last verb!"

Got No Sleep

But now the neuritis has gone, the pains have ceased, the nervous system is restored and the writer of this letter pays a grateful tribute to the medicine which made him well.

Mr. John Woodward, P.T.O., Lucan, Ont., writes:

"It gives me much pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's medicines, especially the Nerve Food. I was a sufferer from neuritis for several years, and tried all kinds of remedies, yet never seemed to get any better. At last my nerves and whole system seemed to give way through not being able to get any rest or sleep at nights for pain, which mostly used to take me in all parts of the limbs and feet. My nerves would twitch till my whole body would seem to jerk right up as I lay in bed. Almost at the point of despair, I decided I would get Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I did, and after taking twenty boxes I believe myself almost normal again. I also keep a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on hand, and for the past year I seem to enjoy my usual health."

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS is greatly relieved by constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red hot days and sweltering nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come on suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, JULY 21

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Local Prices and Others

EDITOR REVIEW:

SIR,—Is it not time that Creston storekeepers awoke to the fact that the war, that ended in 1918, is really over, and that in most parts of Canada something approaching pre war prices are now ruling. Such is not the case here; Creston prices are very little lower than they were four years ago.

A visitor to Nelson recently complained that goods in that city were dearer than in any other town he had been in, and a committee of the board of trade was appointed to look into his complaint. Evidently, he had not stayed in Creston.

One hates to have to send orders out of town, but that is what folks are being forced to do. Times are none too good, and people have to get full value for every dollar. Creston folks can do that and save many dollars by purchasing at almost any outside point—Calgary, Vancouver, Cranbrook Winnipeg, and even Nelson.

I will not take up your space with a long list of comparative prices but, perhaps, a few items selected at random may help the argument:

	Creston Price.	Outside Price.
Kellogg's Corn Flakes	15c	10c
Raisins, 15 oz. pkg.	35c	....
" 16 oz. pkg.	....	24c
Shredded Wheat	20c	13c
Blue Ribbon Tea	65c	55c
Sultana Raisins	35c	25c
Rice	12½c	8c
Lifebouy Soap	12½c	8½c
Lux	15c	11c
Starch	15c	10c

Certain important staples, such as canned meats and fish, it is difficult to compare, owing to the variety in brands and weights, but these are both lines in which we are being overcharged. One brand of beef is sold here for 45 cents for a 12 oz. can—60 cents a pound for bully beef is certainly going some. Salmon is as bad; nothing below 25 cents for a very amall can, while at Vancouver it is retailed at 7 cents per can up.

Now, I am quite prepared to hear that freight charges are largely responsible, owing to the location of this town, but facts fail to confirm this. It may be allowed that tea coming from the west might be a little dearer here than in Vancouver—the freight on groceries is, I believe, about 3 cento per pound—but how about such goods as breakfast foods, soaps, etc., which come from Ontario. In this case they have about 400 miles less to travel, and yet we are charged 50 per cent. more than Vancouver prices for the same goods.

No, the Creston storekeepers are making hay while the haying is good, and they just naturally hate to stop while the sun is shining. I readily agree that during the war they bought at higher prices and they had to sell at higher prices for some time afterwards to avoid loss, but they have had nearly four years to clear out wartime stock, and the public is now entitled to relief.

Personally, I still buy my goods in the town, having been patiently waiting for a near return to normal prices, but my patience is wearing threadbare and unless I find some reduction soon I shall have to do as many others are doing and buy elsewhere. Meanwhile, however, I subscribe myself, yours, etc. HOPEFUL.

P.S.—Perhaps, Mr. Editor, you can use your influence, as president of Creston Board of Trade, and assist in altering a condition that is detrimental to the best interests of the town.

Cemetery Fund Still Short $30

Slow but sure has been the effort of the special committee of the board of trade, which for the last two months has been making what headway was possible in assembling $200 for the purpose of getting on with quite a comprehensive scheme of permanently beautifying the Creston cemetery.

At the board meeting on Tuesday last Chirman Bennett reported $173 subscribed and authority was given the committee to get on with the work which, however, will have to be held up until such time as weather conditions are more favorable for this work—which includes burning the stumps and brush removed. In connection with the effort the Review is asked to acknowledge the following contributions:

Creston Board of Trade	$15.00
Masonic Lodge	15.00
Red Cross Society	25.00
Erickson United Farmers	5.00
J. Cook	5.00
Mrs. M. Young	1.00
Mrs. Stace Smith	5.00
Mrs. Cotterill	3.00
S. T. Evans	10.00
P. Hagen	5.00
Mrs. Dan Burton	5.00
J. Arrowsmith	2.00
Presbyterian Ladies' Aid	5.00
Ladies' Guild Christ Church	5.00
Methodist Ladies' Aid	5.00
Women's Institute	10.00
Cemetery Company	50.00
Jas. Adlard	2.00
	173.00

As there is still opproximately $30 required to provide the $200 the work will cost it is hoped that the plot owners who are, doubtless, holding back donations until the work is under way, will immediatly pay into Mr. Bennett the amounts they are prepared to give to the good cause.

The Cemetery Company gave all the money they have on hand and have assured that in the future they will contribute equally generously toward any organized effort that may be made to keep the local burying ground always presentable looking.

To Proceed With Cemetery Work

At the July meeting of Creston Board of Trade on Tuesday night last matters of purely local importance were to the front for discussion and action, President Hayes occupying the chair, and a fair turnout of members in evidence.

Possibly the most important feature of the session was the decision to wire Fred Wade, B.C., agent general in London, England, who is now making a visit to the province, extending him an invitation to visit Creston before returning. Premier Oliver has also been wired asking him to use his influence in this connection so that Mr. Wade's call may be assured.

The import of Mr. Wade's tour of the province at this time is to enable him to get first hand information on the parts of B.C. that it would be well to divert part of the stream of better class Britishers who will be coming to Canada next year. In view of the holdings of the Land Settlement Board at Lister, combined with the splendid showing the Valley growers made at the Imperial Apple Show last year, the board of trade feels that Creston Valley should be quite an attractive spot for many of the newcomers.

In this connection Mr. Wade has replied that he will endeavor to include Creston in his itinerary, but at present cannot advise as to the date of his coming. Premier Oliver has also written that he will use his best endeavors to induce the agent general to call here.

In case a date for a visit from Mr. Wade is arranged the board of trade will endeavor also to have a visit at the same time from Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, who will doubtless then have something interesting to say as the Kootenay Flats drainage and, possibly, Arrow Creek irrigation.

Authority was given the cemetery committee to proceed with the work, Chairman Bennett reporting $173 of the requisite $200 in sight for the job, with the prospect of some further assistance from plot owners who have not yet been heard from.

The Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia are raising a fund of $3000—which will be supplemented by another $3000 from the provincial government—to continue the fight for reduced freight rates, and Creston board donated its quota which was set at $10.

The board agreed to the publicity committee's request that the evening of Labor Day be appropriated for a whist and dance for the securing of some needed revenue to put over a Creston Valley thanksgiving week apple advertising feature, which will be undertaken if some co-operative support can be had from local growers. The details are now being worked out, and will be announced at the August meeting.

C.P.R. Superintendent Flett has been written to urging that the company take what steps are possible to ensure that the fruit offered for sale on the station platform shall in good measure represent the excellent quality of the fruit product of the Valley. In the past the youngsters have been selling much scabby, over and underripe and small size stuff that is not getting the Valley product very favorable comment from some of the purchasers.

Don't Push

Reports from all parts of Western Canada are at the time this article is written, distinctly optimistic so far as crop conditions are concerned. The heavy Spring rains, while they retarded seeding operations in some districts, and resulted in certain low-lying lands not being seeded, nevertheless prepared an ideal seed bed. Then, during the latter part of June copious rains have fallen fairly generally throughout the West giving the growing grain sturdy development and providing needed moisture for rapid growth.

Sections of the country which during recent years have been afflicted with the grasshopper plague report a marked decrease in the pest, while never before have farmers generally been so well organized and ready to fight this danger.

Reductions in freight rates, and the passing of legislation calculated to assist in the marketing of the crop without such a disastrous decline in prices as took place last year, are also encouraging features of the situation, leading to the hope that, providing the crop passes through the dangers still ahead, a reasonably profitable return on the season's operations will be realized.

It is never wise, however, to figure on a crop until it is actually harvested and marketed because so many eventualities may occur, and so many factors have to be considered. Chickens should not be counted before they are hatched, and neither should the probabalities of the Western grain crop be figured on until they become actualities.

Evidence is not lacking even at this early date that some creditors and corporations, to whom farmers are largely in debt, are figuring on and preparing for what they term a "clean up" this year. In other words, they are planning to conduct aggressive debt-collecting campaigns. In some few isolated cases steps have already been taken to effect foreclosure of mortgages on the strength of growing crops, and without giving the individual farmer an opportunity to himself realize on his year's labor and thus place himself in a position to meet his liabilities to the extent that the crop may place him in funds to do so.

The fact ought to be, and must be, realized that in those sections which have suffered from repeated crop failures in recent years one crop will not liquidate the debts which have been contracted. It has taken several years' losses to put many farmers in the position in which they now unfortunately find themselves, and it would be both foolish and cruel if drastic measures of debt collection were taken. Yet when a man has several creditors it is inevitable that, if one proceeds to take drastic action, the others who are willing to be reasonable must adopt somewhat similar measures in order to protect themselves and not allow the unreasonable creditor to get away with everything to their own and their client's loss.

In a few isolated cases it has already been necessary for Governments to warn unreasonable creditors that, if they persist in demanding their pound of flesh without giving the debtor-farmer a fair chance, an individual moratorium will be issued to protect such a man and his other creditors. Should this Shylock characteristic become at all general, Governments might be forced, much as they would regret the necessity, to declare a moratorium in order to prevent the precipitation of a situation which would prove disastrous all round.

On the other hand it must be fully recognized that there is an unwieldy burden of debt now resting on the country which must be paid off to the last dollar it is possible to squeeze out of this year's production and yet leave sufficient to enable families to enjoy the necessities of life and continue to "carry on" next year. The whole credit system of the country, and the stability of the entire financial and business fabric demands that this be done. There can be no sympathy for, and little mercy shown to, the man who does not deal frankly and honestly with his creditors, and make every possible effort to pay off his liabilities.

There is, therefore, imperative necessity for mutual understanding, goodwill and active co-operation between debtors and creditors this year. There must be no tendency on the part of the debtor to evade or procrastinate, but an open, honest effort to meet his creditors more than half-way and fairly to the full extent of his ability. Creditors, on the other hand, must appreciate the fact that one good crop will not pay for three, four and sometimes five years of no crops. They must, therefore, be reasonable, and those who refuse to be reasonable must be taken in hand and compelled to be do.

The national interest demands not merely an appreciation of these things, but a practical recognition of them. National interests are paramount, and above any individual or corporation interest, and if the latter do not of their volition conduct themselves as the national interest demands, well, then they must be made to do so.

OVERWORKED NERVES

The Most Successful Treatment is Through the Blood

The early stages of nervous debility are noted by restlessness and irritability in which the victims seem to be oppressed by their nerves. As the trouble advances, common symptoms are a tired feeling; weakness in the knees and ankles; headaches, backaches and sleeplessness. The matter requires immediate attention, for nothing but suitable treatment will prevent a complete breakdown.

The nervous system governs the whole body, controlling heart, lungs, digestion and brain, so that it is not surprising that nervous disturbances cause acute distress. For troubles of this kind Dr. Williams' Pink Pills succeed when other treatment fails, for these pills make new blood, enriched with the elements on which the nerves thrive, and in this way reach the root of the trouble. In proof of this is the statement of Mrs. Dockerill, Stratford, Ont., who says:—"My daughter, Matilda, was suffering from nervous debility, and the usual remedies did not seem to help her. I was advised by a friend to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and soon we found they were doing her a great deal of good. She complained of pains in the stomach, and a severe fluttering of the heart, with a general weakness. Under the use of these pills she continued to gain, and I believe they have saved her from going into a decline."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

About Advertising

To Be Effective It Must Be Persistent

The Montreal Star makes an interesting and pointed business remark when it declares that "January's advertising helps June and June's will help December."

There is a world of truth, reason and significance in this pithy utterance and a little reflection will prove why this is so. Effective advertising must not be spasmodic but must be persistent. To hope for instant and sustained results from one or two advertisements is to expect the impossible—is as though one hoped by attending school a day or two every six months to become an educated man. The one is as absurd as the other.

The wise advertiser is he who advertises regularly week in and week out and regards his initial advertising as the builder regards his foundation—a basis for the permanent superstructure that is to rise later.—Kingston Standard.

Early Settlement Of Strike On U. S. Roads Is Now Looked For

Chicago.—Hope for the speedy settlement of the country-wide strike of the railway shopmen was seen in statements issued by Ben. W. Hooper, chairman of the United States Railroad Labor Board, and B. M. Jewell, leader of the shop crafts, who ordered the walkout.

In a reply to a letter from Mr. Hooper, which was regarded as conciliatory, Mr. Jewell declared that the strikers were willing to "consider any negotiations with any one in authority for settlement of the strike."

"We are willing to confer with anybody authorized by the railroads to bring peace proposals to us," said Mr. Jewell. "I include or exclude nobody, but if the Labor Board, for instance, came to us with a definite proposition we would not hesitate to consider it."

Mr. Jewell made public the exact figures on the strike vote taken by the 400,000 members of the six shop crafts. The tabulation showed only 94.7 per cent. of the men had voted to strike on the question of wages, the heaviest vote for a strike being on the question of outside contract labor, which polled 97.1 per cent. of the vote cast. The ballot on rules came second with 96.2 for strike.

In railroad circles it was declared that the way already had been cleared for full settlement on the gravest issue, that of contract work, by the agreement of 12 roads to abolish outside contracting.

With the working rules as practically the only obstacle to peace, the opinion was expressed on all sides that this issue would be disposed of once conferences were under way.

Irish Civil War

Leaders of Republican Forces Reported to be Seriously Wounded

London.—The Dublin correspondent of the Times says that Cathal Brugha was the last to leave the Granville Hotel, and while the rest of the garrison advanced under a white flag he moved towards one of the national outposts, revolver in hand. A machine gun opened on him and wounded him in the leg. Brugha was then captured.

The correspondent learns that Brugha's wounds are serious and that the republican leader has undergone an operation.

The correspondent also understands that the Irish Labor party has invoked the help of the Catholic Archbishop of Dublin in an effort to end the loss of life and property, and an important conference may result.

The Daily Mail's correspondent quotes a Red Cross motor driver who arrived at Holyhead, Wales, from Dublin, as saying Rory O'Connor, Irish republican commandant, was dangerously wounded while defending the Four Courts building, where he was captured June 30.

It is also reported that Mrs. MacSwiney, widow of Terence MacSwiney, late Mayor of Cork, together with a sister of Kevin Barry, have been arrested.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N.S., Harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N.S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows:—"I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care.

I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes, and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our

New Road Ready To Haul Wheat

Estevan-Lethbridge Line Will Be Bridged at Once

Winnipeg.—"We hope to have the missing link in the Estevan-Lethbridge line closed up in plenty of time to haul wheat out of that section this fall by the new route," said D. C. Coleman, Western Vice-President of the C.P.R. A local passenger service, he added, would be installed there for the present. There are 27 miles over which no service is being given in the broken link. Eighteen of these have rails laid. Nineteen miles must be constructed to link up the long projected new line through Southern Alberta to Lethbridge connecting with the Crows Nest Pass line.

Federal Ministers Will Represent Canada At Next Genoa Meeting

Ottawa.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance; Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; and Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian high commissioner in London, will represent Canada at the next assembly of the League of Nations which opens at Geneva, September 4. Announcement to this effect was made officially.

While in Great Britain and France, the Minister of Finance will take up various departmental matters between those governments and the Government of Canada, it is understood. One of the matters which may engage his attention while in Paris will be that of resuming negotiations with the French Government for a more comprehensive trade treaty between Canada and France than now exists. The matter of a trade treaty between the two Government was boached by the French consul-general at Montreal some weeks ago. At that time the Government intimated its willingness to enter into negotiations "at a convenient time," but since then no action has been taken.

Referring to this matter which was raised in the Commons during the recent session, Hon. Mr. Fielding said he anticipated that one of these days the French would take some further action; that they will give us some information as to what they suggest and our desire is to have again with France a comprehensive treaty, as we had a few years ago." There is also the question of a treaty with Greece which may be taken up while the minister is overseas.

Highway Across Mountains

British Columbia Will Build a Road to Alberta Boundary

Victoria.—British Columbia will build a highway to the inter-provincial boundary by the time Alberta reaches there, and the Government of this province is prepared to co-operate with the Alberta administration in completing the "missing link" so that Canada may have a through automobile route from coast to coast, Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, declared. He was addressing the pathfinders who journed to Victoria from Edmonton, and that is the message he asked the Albertans to carry home to their Government.

A scheme whereby the Dominion and Provincial Governments shall join in a 60-40 basis is a scheme to build a half million dollar motor highway through the Rockies from Kamloops to Edmonton, was advanced.

"Too many people are looking forward to costly roads, broad and hard surfaced with good grades and that means tremendous costs," said Premier John Oliver. "I favor instead a policy of patching up the present trails and making the most of what we have rather than go without roads at all.

"I wonder if it would not be better to wait until we are absolutely positive of the best route and then make a really good highway," he said.

May Float Domestic Loan

Finance Minister Says Fall Best Time to Raise Money

Ottawa.—If it is decided to raise the money required by the Government to meet loans maturing on December 1 in Canada, the domestic loan will probably be floated in the early autumn. This was the statement of Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance. He stated that the Government had not taken any steps in regard to the new loan but that the early autumn would be the best time to raise money through a domestic loan.

Berlin.—Baron Leoprechting, has been found guilty of high treason and sentenced to life imprisonment in Munich on the charge that he had been in constant communication with French Minister Dard in Munich and was striving for the separation of South Germany from North Germany by French occupation troops. The proposed dividing line, according to the charge, was to follow the River Main.

Treaty of Rapallo Ratified

Keep Dominion Ministers Informed

Summary Service Originated in Wartime is Still Maintained

London.—In the House of Commons Premier Lloyd George, replying to a question on the order paper, stated that the editor of the cabinet secretariat prepared weekly summaries of information for communication to members of the cabinet and prime ministers of the Dominions. These summaries were compiled from telegrams, despatches and reports which were furnished by a number of Government departments. They originated in wartime and had been continued after the prime ministers of the Dominions had been consulted and had expressed themselves as in favor of their retention.
