Mr. Pope, the minister of railways, should make haste to explain the purchase of old plant from Onderdonk & Co. The arbitrators gave $72,000 as the value of the material, but the government paid Mr. Onderdonk $199,000. Why was the valuation of the arbitrators so largely increased? What has become of the plant? What is its present value?—Toronto Mail.

The World's W.C.T.U. petition, sent to Ceylon for circulation has been translated into the Tamil Singhalese and signed extensively by these natives. Sixteen hundred signatures were returned to the headquarters within a few weeks. Many of the Hindoos signed the petitions with a prayer. Raising their hands and eyes to heaven they would say: "Therban ethu sais ertthum," i.e., "May the Lord prosper this."

A recent report of the Pasteur Institute states that out of 2,682 patients who have been treated, 2,264 had been bitten by animals which were undoubtedly mad, and that out of these 2,264 only 29 or 1.34 per cent. died. Before the discovery of this method the lowest death rate for persons affected by rabies was 16 per cent., and the secretary of the institute claims that 317 persons owe their lives entirely to Pasteur's discovery.—N. Y. Tribune.

Some Ontario journals, which ought to know better, persist in saying that Manitoba is subject to the monopoly clause which her representatives in parliament accepted in her behalf when the Pacific contract was before the house in 1881. This fiction is hard to kill. Be it said once more, the monopoly clause does not apply directly or indirectly to the older portion of Manitoba. If, as many think, the government made a secret arrangement with Sir George Stephens and his associates to the effect that independent charters in Manitoba should be vetoed, that would not affect the case of Manitoba in the slightest.—Toronto Mail. And there is at least one British Columbia paper (the Vancouver Herald) that still clings to the "fiction" referred to by the Mail.

A despatch from Boston, dated the 25th inst., says: Professor Elisha Gray is said to have made a discovery which promises equally extraordinary results as thus far obtained from the telephone. No patent has been issued or applied for, but the invention is protected by about thirty-eight different caveats. Meanwhile the inventor is engaged in perfecting the general plan which can be best described by the term auto-telegraphy. It is claimed it will be possible by this invention to write upon a sheet of paper and have an autograph fac simile of the writing reproduced by telegraph three hundred miles away and probably for a much greater distance. Successful experiments have been tried for about three hundred miles. It is expected the same results will be obtained on a much longer distance. It may be some time before the invention is perfected, but the inventor has great confidence that a great and practical rival to the telephone will soon be introduced.

The Negus Negusti of Abyssinia has at last obtained a European backer, if the Paris reports of his agreement with the French government are correct. According to these reports, King John is to repress Italy's further advance on the Red Sea, and to dispute her right to places which she now occupies. France, on her part, contributes $200,000 to the support of the Jerusalem convent which supplies Coptic priests for Abyssinia. There is much doubt whether this story of a Franco-Abyssinian treaty has any basis of fact. It would practically be a league of alliance against Italy, and France can hardly undertake to risk that. Already England and Italy are closely united in African policy by the British transfer of the Massowah line to Italy, and France would hardly be wise to strengthen that union in her own conflict with Great Britain on the question of Egypt. She might, to be sure, intend an advance in friendly relations with Abyssinia as a warning to Italy not to go too far in supporting English pretensions in Egypt; but this is a different matter from a direct treaty. In reality, King John disputes Italy's presence outside of Massowah on his own account rather than as a favor to France, while French subscriptions to the Jerusalem convent could also be made without a protocol.—N. Y. Times.

SOON BE THERE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The following dispatch was received in the office of Gould and Curry, in this city, this morning: Virginia City, June 29, 9:36 a.m.—Lanterns have been lowered to 45 feet below the 1200 level and were returned still burning. There is no smoke coming up the shaft and but very little gas. The rescue drift is going ahead all right and we hope to connect with the 1500 level within the next 20 hours.

FEARS OF SMALL-POX.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Fred Davis, one of the trustees of the city prison is believed to be ill with small-pox. The surgeons say they would not be surprised if there is a visitation of small-pox in the prison.

THAT BOUNDARY ROAD.

OTTAWA, June 27.—The action of the government of Manitoba on the proposed Red River railroad is beginning to attract attention. Prominent Manitobans here now state that the government will prevent the construction of the road at all hazards.

THE FATE OF THE MINERS.

VIRGINIA, Nev., June 27.—The excitement over the fatal fire in the Gould & Curry mine has somewhat abated, but the probable fate of the men imprisoned on the 1,500 level, to accomplish whose rescue every effort is being made, according to the opinion of the majority of the miners, is that there is no hope that they are still alive. The progress so far made in driving through a wall of adamantine rock exceeds anything heretofore recorded in the annals of modern mining. Before to-morrow morning the fate of the men will be known. At 6 o'clock this evening the incline being sunk to connect with the drift in the Best & Belcher, where the men were imprisoned, was down about 20 feet below the bottom of the vertical wing. About 8 o'clock this morning three drills will be sent simultaneously to break a hole through into the Best & Belcher drift. One of these will be drilled on the same grade as the bottom of the incline, another vertically below the bottom of the incline, and the third horizontally, ahead. Should either of them fail to connect with the drift in Best & Belcher's incline it will be excavated a few feet deeper and drills sent in again. It will not require than one hour to send the holes in ten feet with Burlingham drills, and it is confidently anticipated that the fate of the men will be decided before midnight. If alive they can be communicated with and food sent in to them through a drill hole. The air sent in is taken as regularly from compressor pipes as if men were inhaling it. No gas could remain in a drift with such a stream of fresh air being forced into the face of it under such tremendous pressure. Intense excitement is manifested as the hour when the fate of the imprisoned men will be ascertained draws near. The entrance of the Comstock & Virginia shaft, through which they or their dead bodies will be brought to the surface, is thronged with dense crowds of people. Relatives and families of the imprisoned men and telegraph correspondents are the only persons allowed in the building, except employees. When the men are reached by the rescuing party the news will be announced by blowing of whistles and ringing of bells.

NOT TO BE TAXED.

PARIS, June 27.—The committee appointed to inquire into the position of foreigners in France to-day rejected the proposal to tax all foreigners, after having heard Minister Flourens on the subject.

THE CRIMES BILL.

LONDON, June 27.—In the commons to-night W. H. Smith, first lord of the treasury, replying to Johnston, said no proposal to establish diplomatic relations between England and the Vatican has ever been contemplated, nor had any such proposal been made to or by the government. Smith announced that the government intended to proceed with the crimes bill until it passed the report stage. Robertson (Liberal) moved that a new clause be added to the bill providing for the repeal of the act by order-in-council. This he said would prevent the house of lords keeping an act on the statute book in defiance of the house of commons. Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, opposed the clause. Morely moved that the duration of the act be limited to 3 years. It was the first time, he said, any government had the shameful courage to propose the perpetuation of coercion. This was the first government that cast to the winds the old fashioned regard for the liberty of the subject and the doctrine that exceptional legislation should not last one day longer than circumstances demanded. Webster, attorney-general, opposed Morely's motion. Gladstone urged that the special character of the bill was a reason for limiting its duration. Its enactment as a permanent measure would aggravate existing evils and intensify that alienation and estrangement from law wherein lay the fundamental evil of Ireland's social condition. Sir Wilfred Lawson, supporting the amendment, said it was an honor to America to send money to those fighting for freedom in Ireland. The amendment was rejected.

RATE CUTTING.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—On account of the establishment of subsidized transpacific steamships to run in connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway, annd the low rates that were made in the passenger fares to Asiatic ports, the Pacific Mail people have been compelled to make a reduction in their charges. This was done today. The new passenger rate from here to Yokohama is $200, and the same to Hong Kong, while formerly it was $250 to Yokohama and $300 to Hong Kong. A round trip rate of $350 is also made to both cities; heretofore the round trip tickets were only sold to Yokohama.

A NEW PACIFIC LINE.

SAN DIEGO, June 27.—Santa Fe officials have decided to run a line of steamers from San Diego to Honolulu, even if other lines do not come here. The steamer City of Topeka will soon start on the initial trip of the new line.

RELIEF FOR THE NEEDY.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The board of directors of the Gould & Curry mine has subscribed five hundred dollars for the families of the men who perished at the late disaster. The Pacific stock exchange donated three hundred and fifty dollars.

HOSTILE INDIANS.

GLOBE, Arizona Ty., June 27.—About ten o'clock last night a Mexican, greatly excited, made his appearance in Globe and represented his escape from a large body of Indians in the vicinity of Coyote Hole, twelve miles distant from this place. The Indians particularly inquired for the number of men in Globe and when the Mexican in reply said there were a great many he was told he lied and that there were not many; that they (the Indians) were going to Globe and would be there before six o'clock this morning. There was a stampede from the suburbs to the town. Happily the expected attack did not take place. At 11 o'clock Lieut. McDonald and many white troops arrived from Fort McDowell. Their presence has relieved the anxiety felt. There is no safety for the people at the isolated ranches and the camps in the vicinity, while several hundred insubordinate Indians are massed at Coyote Hole, twelves miles from here.

OVID'S TOMB DISCOVERED.

LONDON, June 27.—It is announced that Ovid's tomb has been discovered. The location is at Anarolkioi, near Kustendami. The stone marking Ovid's arrival at the island of Tomi, when he was banished thither by Augustus on account of the poet's intrigue with the emperor's daughter Julia, and Apollo's reception of him. Ovid's isle is a few miles from Kustendami.

DID HE SIGN?

CAIRO, June 27.—It is stated that Ahmed Moukhtar, the Turkish commissioner, has heard the sultan was to refuse to ratify Egyptian convention. French dispatches from Constantinople assert that the sultan has been induced to sign the convention by the representation of his ministers, and that France acquiesced in his action.

Farewell Assembly.

[Correspondence of the Columbian.]

On the evening of the 20th a surprise party gathered at the Maple Ridge school house from whence they proceeded to the Rev. Mr. Seccombe's house, where a very pleasant evening was spent. The young people enjoyed themselves in playing several social games. Refreshments were passed around. The following address was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Seccombe, after the reading of which Mrs. Seccombe was presented with a purse containing $24, which was made up mostly by the parties who were present.

Rev. and Mrs. Seccombe,

ESTEEMED FRIENDS,—We, on behalf of the people of Maple Ridge, a number of whom are at this surprise party here present, deem this a favorable occasion to record our sincere regret at the loss about to be sustained to the community by your departure from our midst; but since it is the will of Providence that your relation to us, Mr. Seccombe, as pastor, and Mrs. Seccombe as guardian and instructor of our youth, is about to be severed, we sincerely trust that great as is our loss, your gain may be proportionately great; that your services in the Master's vineyard in the new field upon which you are now to enter, may be crowned with a rich reward in winning souls to the Savior. We trust that geographical distances may never erase from your memory your pleasant experiences at Maple Ridge, and that we may all meet again, if not on earth, in those glorious mansions above where parting is unknown.

Mr. Seccombe made a lengthy and very suitable reply. Mr. and Mrs. Seccombe leave Maple Ridge with the kindest wishes of the people for their welfare.

Mrs. W. J. Lang, Bethany, Ont., writes: I was one of the greatest sufferers for about fifteen months with a disease of my ear similar to ulcers, causing entire deafness. I tried everything that could be done through medical skill, but without relief. As a last resort, I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and in few minutes found relief. I continued using it, and in a short time my ear was cured and hearing completely restored. I have used this wonderful healer successfully in cases of inflammation of the lungs, sore throat, coughs and colds, pain and lameness, &c., in fact it is our family medicine.

Exposure of Spiritualism.

Some years ago Henry Seybert, a noted spiritualist of Philadelphia, presented the university of that city with $60,000 to found a chair of philosophy, the condition being that the faculty should appoint a competent commission thoroughly to investigate spiritualism. The commission was appointed in 1885, consisting of professors of the university and other noted men of science, among whom was Dr. Leidy, one of the most distinguished of American biologists. The commissioners have just made public their first report in the shape of a book of 160 pages; and as there are a few spiritualists on this coast, the following summary of the report, given by the Mail, will be read with much interest. It should be said that there were two spiritualists on the commission. They began by investigating the slate-writing phenomena, Dr. Slade being among the numerous mediums tested in this branch. It was found that in every case the character of the slate-writing was two-fold, and the difference between the two styles quite striking. In one case the communication written on the slate by the spirits was general in its tone, legible in its chirography and usually covered much of the surface of the slate, punctuation being attended to, the i's dotted and the t's crossed. In the second, when the communication was in answer to a question addressed to a spirit, the writing was clumsy, rude, scarcely legible, abrupt in terms and sometimes very vague in substance. In short, one bore the marks of deliberation and the other of haste. This difference was found to be due to the different conditions under which the communications were written. The long messages are prepared by the medium before the seance. The short ones, answers to questions asked during the seance, are written under the table with what skill practice can confer. Dr. Slade's methods are described with much detail, and the slate-writing which he and all other mediums perform is attributed and shown to be due to legerdemain. A eminent professional juggler, not a spiritualist, performed the trick with much more skill than any of the professional or unprofessional mediums. In broad daylight a slate perfectly clean on both sides was, with a small fragment of slate pencil, held under a leaf of a small ordinary table round which they were seated; the fingers of the juggler's right hand pressed the slate tight against the under side of the leaf, while the thumb completed the pressure, and remained in full view while clasping the leaf of the table. Their eyes never for a fraction of a second lost sight of that thumb; it never moved; and yet in a few minutes the slate was produced, covered on both sides with writing. Messages were there, and still are there, for the commissioners preserved the slate, written in French, Spanish, Dutch, Chinese, Japanese, Gujerati, and ending with "Ich bin ein geist und leibe mein lagerbier." Turning to spirit-rapping the commissioners say they have not arrived at positive conclusion. The difficulty attending the investigation of this mode of spiritualistic manifestation is increased by the fact, familiar to physiologists, that sounds of varying intensity may be produced in almost any portion of the human body by voluntary muscular action. To determine the exact location of this muscular activity is at times a matter of delicacy. What the commissioners can say, thus far, with assurance is that, in the cases which have come under their observation, the theory of the purely physiological origin of the sounds has been sustained by the fact that the mediums were invariably and confessedly cognizant of the rappings whenever they occurred, and could at once detect any spurious rappings, however exact and indistinguishable to all other ears might be the imitation. With regard to spiritual photographs, the commissioners found it impossible to induce any of the professors of this branch of spiritualism to offer themselves for a test; but they say that in these days of complete photography it is childish to claim a spiritual origin for results which can be obtained at any time by any tyro in the art. The materializing mediums, those which pretend to summon hands and even bodies from the spirit world, were found to be humbugs, the so-called materialism being a trick easily performed. An interesting account is given of the tests applied to those mediums who undertake to read sealed letters, etc., and one of the commissioners, Dr. Furness, the well-known Shakespearean scholar, describes with much humor the different identities ascribed by mediums to a "property" skull belonging to the Walnut Street theatre, which he submitted to them. On the whole the commissioners find that modern spiritualism is in the main the outcome of imposition and fraud on the part of mediums, and of superstition on the part of ordinary believers.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. AN UNWELCOME PASSENGER.

A cold Winter's night found a stage load of us gathered about the warm fire of a tavern barroom in a New England village. Shortly after we arrived, a peddler drove up and ordered that his horse should be stabled for the night.

After we had eaten supper we repaired to the barroom, and as soon as the ice was broken the conversation flowed freely. Several anecdotes had been related and finally the peddler was asked to give us a story.

He was a short, thickset man, somewhere about forty years of age, and gave evidence of great physical strength. He gave his name as Lemuel Viney, and his home was in Dover, N. H.

"Well, gentleman," he commenced, knocking the ashes from his pipe and putting it in his pocket, "suppose I tell you of about the last thing of any consequence that happened to me? You see I am now right from the Far West and on my way home for Winter quarters.

"It was about two months ago, one pleasant evening, that I pulled up at the door of a small inn in a small village in Hancock County, Ind. I said it was pleasant; I meant 'twas warm, but it was cloudy and likely to be very dark.

"I went in and called for supper, and had my horse taken care of, and after had eaten I sat down in the barroom. It began to rain about eight o'clock, and for a while it poured down hard, and it was very dark outdoors.

"Now, I wanted to be in Jackson early the next morning, for I expected a load of goods there for me, which I meant to dispose of on my way home.

"The moon would rise about midnight, and I knew that if it did not rain I could get along very comfortably through the mud after that. So I asked the landlord if he would not see that my horse was fed about midnight as I wished to be off before two.

"He expressed some surprise at this and asked me why I did not stop for breakfast. I told him that I had sold my last load about all out, and that a new load of goods was waiting for me at Jackson, and I wanted to be there for them before the express agent left in the morning.

"There were a number of people about while I told this, but I took little notice of them, one man only arresting my attention.

"I had in my possession a small package of placards which I was to deliver to the sheriff at Jackson, and they were notices for the detection of a notorious robber named Dick Hardhead.

"These bills gave a description of his person, and the man before me answered very well to it. In fact it was perfect. He was a tall, well formed man, rather slight in frame, and had the appearance of a gentleman, save that his face bore those hard cruel marks which an observing man cannot mistake for anything but the index of a villainous disposition.

"When I went up to my chamber I asked the landlord who that man was, describing the suspicious individual.

"He said he did not know him. He had come there that afternoon, and intended to leave some time during the next day.

"The host asked me why I wished to know, and I simply told him that the man's countenance was familiar, and I wished to know if I had ever been acquainted with him.

"I resolved not to let the landlord into the secret, but to hurry on to Jackson, and there give information to the sheriff, and perhaps he might reach the inn before the villain left; for I had no doubts with regard to his identity.

"I had an alarm watch, and having set it to give the alarm at one o'clock, I went to sleep. I was aroused at the proper time, and immediately got up and dressed myself. When I reached the yard I found the clouds all passed away, and the moon was shining brightly. The hostler was easily aroused, and by two o'clock I was on the road.

"The mud was deep and my horse could not travel very fast, yet it struck me that the beast made more work than there was any need of, for the cart was nearly empty, my whole stock consisting of about half a dozen tin pans and a lot of loose rags.

"However, on we went, and in the course of half an hour I was clear of the village, and at a short distance ahead lay a large tract of forest, mostly of great pines. The road led directly through this wood, and, as near as I could remember, the distance was not far from twelve miles. The moon was in the east, and as this road ran nearly west I should have light enough.

"I had entered the wood and had gone, perhaps, half a mile, when my wagon wheels settled, with a bump and a jerk, into a deep hole. I uttered an exclamation of astonishment; but that was not all. I heard another exclamation from another source.

"What could it be. I looked quickly around but could see nothing, and yet I knew that the sound that I heard was very close to me.

"As the hind wheels came up I felt something besides the jerk of the hole. I heard something roll or tumble from one side to the other of my wagon, and I could also feel the jar occasioned by the movement. It was simply a man in my cart! I knew this on the instant.

"You may have noticed my cart as I came up this evening. The main part of it opens behind, and there is room enough within for quite a party, providing they'd stow themselves close enough.

"Of course I felt puzzled. At last I wondered if some poor fellow had not taken this method to obtain a ride. But I soon gave this up, for I knew that any decent man would have asked me for a ride and taken it comfortably.

"My next idea was that somebody had got in there to sleep. But this passed away as quickly as it came, for no man would have broken into my cart for that purpose. And that thought, gentlemen, opened my eyes. Whoever was in there had broken in.

"My next thoughts were of Mr. Dick Hardhead. He had heard me say that my load was all sold out, and of course he supposed that I had some money with me. And in this he was right, for I had over $2,000.

"I also thought that he meant to leave the cart when he supposed I had reached a safe place, and either creep over and shoot me or knock me down, or perhaps slip out and ask for a ride, or something of that sort.

"All this passed through my mind by the time I had got a rod from the hole.

"Now, I never make it a point to brag of myself, but yet I have seen a great deal of the world, and I am pretty cool and clear-headed under difficulty. In a few moments my resolution was formed.

"My horse was now knee-deep in the mud, and I knew I could slip off without any noise. So I drew my revolver—I never travel in that country without it—it is a six-barreled one and sure fire. I drew this and having twined the reins about the whipstock, I carefully slipped down into the mud, and as the cart passed on I went behind it and examined the hasp.

"The door of the cart lets down, and is fastened by a hasp which slips over a staple, and is then secured by a padlock. The padlock was gone, and the hasp was secured in its place by a bit of pine stick, so that a slight push from within could break it.

"My wheel wrench hung in a leather bucket on the side of the cart, and I quickly took it out and slipped it into the staple, the iron handle just sliding down.

"Now I had him. My cart was almost new, with a stout frame of white oak, and made on purpose for hard usage, heavy loads and service. I did not believe that any ordinary man could break out.

"I got on to my cart as noiselessly as I got off, and then urged my horse on, still keeping my pistol handy. I knew that at the distance of half a mile further I should come to a good hard road, and I allowed my horse to pick his own way through this mud.

"It was about ten minutes after this that I heard a motion in the cart, followed by a grinding noise, as though some heavy force were being applied to the door. This continued some moments and then came a heavy thump, as though the sole of a boot were applied to the door.

"I said nothing, but the idea struck me that the villain might try to judge about where I sat, and shoot up through the top of the cart at me, so I sat down on the foot-board.

"Of course I knew now that my unexpected passenger was a villain, for he must have been awake ever since I started, and nothing else in the world but absolute villainy would have caused him to remain quiet so long and then start up in this particular place.

"The thumping and pushing grew louder and louder, and pretty soon I heard a human voice:

"'Let me out of this!' he cried, and he yelled pretty loud.

"I lifted my head up so as to make him think that I was sitting in my usual place, and then asked him what he was doing in there.

"'Let me out and I'll tell ye,' he replied.

"'Tell me what you're in there for,' I said.

"'I got in here to sleep on your rags,' he answered.

"'How'd ye git in?' I asked.

"'Let me get out, or I'll shoot ye through the head,' he yelled.

"Just at that moment my horse's feet struck the hard road, and I knew that the rest of the route to Jackson would be good going. The distance was twelve miles. I slipped back upon the foot-board and took the whip.

"I had the same horse then I've got now; a tall, stout, powerful bay mare, and you may believe there's some go in her. At any rate, she struck a gait then that even astonished me. She had a good mess of oats, the night air was cool, and she felt like going. In fifteen minutes we cleared the woods, and away we went at a great pace.

"The chap inside kept yelling to be let out, and threatening to shoot if I didn't let him out. Finally he stopped, and in a few moments came the reports of a pistol, one, two, three, four, one right after the other, and I heard the balls whiz over my head.

"If I had been on my seat, one of those balls, if not two of them, must have gone through me.

"I popped up my head again and gave a yell and then a deep groan, and then I said:

"'O, save me! I'm a dead man!'

"Then I made a shuffling noise as though I were falling off, and finally settled down again on the foot-board.

"I now urged up the old mare by giving her an occasional poke with the butt of the whip, and she went along faster than ever.

"The man called out to me twice more pretty soon after this, and as he got no reply he made some tremendous endeavors to break the door open, and as this failed him he made several attempts upon the top. But I had no fears of his doing anything there, for the top of my cart is framed in with dovetails and each sleeper bolted to the posts with an iron bolt. I had it made so that I could carry heavy loads there.

"By and by, after all else had failed, the scamp commenced to holler 'whoa' to the horse, and kept it up until he became hoarse.

"All this time I kept perfectly quiet, holding the reins firmly and poking the beast with the whip.

"He wasn't an hour in going that dozen miles, not a bit of it.

"I hadn't much fear, perhaps I might tell the truth and say I had none, for I had a good pistol, and more than that, my passenger was safe, yet I did feel glad when I came to the old flour barrel factory that stands at the edge of Jackson village, and in ten minutes more I hauled up in front of the tavern and found a couple of men cleaning down some stage horses.

"'Well, old feller,' says I, as I got down and went round to the back of the wagon, 'you've had a good ride, haven't ye?'

"'Who are you?' he cried, and his voice trembled a little, too, as he asked the question.

"'I am the man you tried to shoot,' I told him.

"'Where am I? Let me out,' he yelled.

"'Look here,' said I, 'we've come to a safe stopping place, and mind ye I've got a revolver ready for ye the moment you show yourself. Now lay quiet.'

"By this time the two hostlers had come to see what was the matter, and I explained it all to them. After this I got one of them to run and find the sheriff, and tell him what I believed I'd got for him.

"The first streaks of daylight were now just coming up, and in half an hour it would be broad daylight. In less than that time the sheriff came and two other men with him.

"I told him the whole story in a few words, exhibited the handbills I had for him, and then he made for the cart. He told the chap inside who he was, and that if he made the least resistance he'd be a dead man. But, mind you, the sheriff didn't tell him the suspicions we had about him.

"Then I slipped the iron wrench out, and, as I let the door down, the fellow made a spring. I caught him by the ankle and he came down on his face, and in a moment more the officers had him.

"It was now daylight and the moment I saw the chap I recognized him. He was the very man I had suspected, and his fine black clothes were pretty well covered with lint and dirt.

"He was marched off to the lock-up, and I told the sheriff I should remain in the town all day.

"After breakfast the sheriff came down to the tavern and told me that I had caught the very bird, and that if I would remain until the next morning I should have the reward of $200 which had been offered. I found my goods all safe, paid the express agent for bringing them from Indianapolis, and then went to work to stow them away in my cart.

"I found the bullet-holes in the top of my vehicle, just as I expected. They were in a line, about five inches apart, and had I been where I usually sit, two of them would have hit me somewhere about the small of the back and passed upward, for they were sent with a heavy charge of powder, and his pistol was a heavy one.

"On the next morning the sheriff called upon me and paid me $200 in gold, for he had made himself sure that he had got the villain. After an early dinner I set out, and here I am.

"I've sold my load all out, and am now ready to lay up for the Winter. I found a letter in the office at Portsmouth for me, from the sheriff of Hancock county, and he informed me that Mr. Hardhead is now in prison for life."

Business Directory.

The following Business Directory relates only to persons whose advertisements appear in the DAILY COLUMBIAN. It has been found true, as a rule, that persons who advertise liberally are liberal in their dealings, and many persons make it a rule to give preference in their dealings to those establishments which advertise freely. TESTIMONIAL!

Vancouver, 23rd June, 1886.

MR. G. ROBERTSON,
Vancouver:
Representing Goldie & McCulloch,
Galt, Ont.

SIR,—We the undersigned having witnessed the terrible fire which wiped out of existence the young city of Vancouver, on the 13th inst., have, after the fire, examined the safes sold by you, some of which were put to the most severe test, having been surrounded by large quantities of lard and bacon, and we are pleased to testify to the remarkable manner in which every Safe sold by you preserved its contents, not only books and papers, but also thousands of dollars in paper money were taken out in perfect condition. We can, therefore, with the greatest confidence, recommend them as thoroughly fire proof:

1873. GRIP! 1887.

CANADA'S COMIC JOURNAL

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

THE AIM OF "GRIP" is to set forth, in in an impartial and independent manner, the passing events of Canadian political and social life. Its Cartoons speak more definitely and more pleasingly than whole columns of editorial. In this pungent, easily appreciable, and artistic style of presenting a subject, the whole situation is revealed at a glance. The success of Grip shows how well this fact is appreciated—its Cartoons on the passing political events of the country being even more eagerly sought after than the chaste and humorous letter-press of the paper,—though the latter is equal to that of any similar publication on the continent.

The publishers of Grip are making extensive improvements for 1886. The old cover is to be discarded, and the journal will hereafter comprise 12 pages, and be printed on heavy toned and calendered paper,—every number being artistically executed as to compare favorably with the best papers on the continent. The advts. will be compressed and more systematically arranged; while similar improvements will be made as to the letter-press. A new and handsome design will adorn the title page; while the Cartoons will certainly not suffer from extensive improvements in the artistic department.

The price of Grip will hereafter be $2 a year, which is lower than that of any paper of its kind in America,—most of them selling for $5. Single numbers of Grip will be 10 cents.

Twice a year, at Midsummer and Christmas, a beautiful special number will be issued, the number of pages being increased, and pleasing features introduced, particulars of which will be given in preceding issues. These numbers will be presented to subscribers without extra charge.

GRIP'S PLATFORM:

Humor without Vulgarity;
Patriotism without Partizanship;
Truth without Temper.

Only $2 a Year, Postage Free.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN Printing Company

(LIMITED.)

ON THE 10TH OF JANUARY, 1887, the COLUMBIAN Newspaper and Printing Concern was purchased by a joint stock company composed of citizens of New Westminster, to be known as the "British Columbian Printing Co., Limited." The concern has been for nearly a year owned and controlled by the British Columbia Stationery and Printing Company, of New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver. The object of the new company is to continue the publication of the BRITISH COLUMBIAN newspaper and carry on a general printing and publishing concern, controlled entirely by those whose individual interest it will be to promote the development, especially of the Mainland. There will be no slackening of the energy hitherto displayed in the management of the establishment, and its patrons may rely upon receiving full value for their money. The COLUMBIAN will continue to be entirely independent in both Dominion and provincial politics, and will devote itself to the advancement of such schemes as may be considered in the public interest. The concern is now entirely separate from any other business, the book and stationery establishment in this city having been taken over by Mr. T. R. Pearson, who will continue to carry it on in his own name and for his own benefit. It is desirable that a daily newspaper should be maintained in this city, and the new company asks for public patronage on the ground that it is engaged in an enterprise calculated to promote the public welfare. It asks that the COLUMBIAN be judged on its own merits and supported only so long as its policy is consistent with its professions. In consequence of this business change all accounts due the concern must be settled without delay so that the books of the former company may be adjusted and closed. A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.

Miss Winston and the Pyke Opera Co. in Prince Methusalem Thursday night at the Drill Shed.

We understand that the band has consented to play at Mr. Major's garden party to-morrow night.

The excursion party from Langley returned about 4 o'clock this morning. All report having a pleasant time.

The petty debt case court is booming at present. There were three cases heard yesterday and four more to-day.

Buy a Heap's Pat. Earth Closet, instead of having the typhoid fever this summer; they are a long way the cheapest.—H. M. CUNNINGHAM & Co. dje27t3

A seemingly bottomless hole has been discovered in Mr. Webster's lot on Front st. Large stones, on being thrown in, sink from view. Our local "scientists" have been puzzling themselves all day over the phenomenon.

The William Irving brought down nearly 100 head of cattle to-day. These cattle are all the way from the Similkameen district. They are the property of Mr. Costigan of that district, who drove them from his ranch over the mountains to Hope, and there loaded them on board the Irving. Mr. Costigan expects to have a consignment arrive every week hereafter. The cattle are in excellent condition.

Do not delay in getting relief for the little folks. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is a pleasant and sure cure. If you love your child why do you let it suffer when a remedy is so near at hand?

COMING.—Mr. W. W. Buchanan, head of the order of Royal Templars of Temperance in Canada, and a distinguished lecturer, is expected to visit New Westminster shortly, and will deliver one or two lectures here.

GARDEN PARTY.—The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church will give a garden party in the grounds of Mr. C. G. Major on Wednesday evening, June 29th, to which the public are invited. Admission 25 cts. Strawberries and cream will be served to all present. Music will be furnished by the City Band. dje27t3

GREER ON TOP.—The fight between Mr. Sam. Greer and the C. P. R. has advanced another stage. The company obtained an injunction from one of the judges restraining Mr. Greer from interfering with the telegraph line accross the Vancouver property to which he claims ownership. The injunction, we understand, has been quashed by the full court, and Greer immediately proceeded to cut down the telegraph poles!

ADDRESS TO MR. BURGESS.—Mayor Dickinson and Councillors Shiles, Curtis, Jaques, and Duncan waited upon Mr. A. M. Burgess, the deputy minister of the interior, this morning, and, on behalf of the city, presented him with an address of welcome. Mr. Burgess was much pleased. He expressed himself as much delighted with the western part of the Dominion. He was glad to see that visits of the government officers to this section were becoming more frequent and he hoped the result would be to strengthen the bonds of friendship which now exist between the East and the Great West.

A FAVORABLE IMPRESSION.—Mr. J. J. Steele, of Dundas, Ont., who is now visiting Mr. J. L. Stamford, of this city, has been looking about the country and is very favorably impressed with what he has seen in British Columbia. He expresses himself particularly pleased with Westminster, and thinks its position and prospects are such as to make it preferable to Vancouver as a place for residence or business. Mr. Steele's head is undoubtedly level.

QUICK DESPATCH.—On the 25th May Mr. Hugh Boyd left this city by the C. P. R. for Ireland. On the 25th inst. Messrs. Woods, Turner & Gamble received a letter from Mr. Boyd stating that he had arrived safely at Londonderry. It will be seen, therefore, that Mr. Boyd went from Westminster to Londonderry and his letter came from Londonderry to Westminster all within 30 days! This is pretty quick time, and shows the resources of the Canadian-British route.

SABBATH SCHOOL PICNIC.—It has been arranged that the annual pic-nic of the Methodist Church will take place on Friday next (Dominion Day). Members of the school, and members of the families represented in the school, will be conveyed by steamer to Pitt Lake, one of the most attractive places in the province, where the day will be spent. The steamer is to leave the C. P. N. wharf at 8 a.m. sharp, and will return about 7 p.m. Excursionists are expected to bring their baskets, of course.

THE LIBRARY LOT.—In company with Mayor Dickinson and others this morning the deputy minister of the interior visited the free library. Mr. Dickinson pointed out to Mr. Burgess that the city had only been granted the front half of the free library lot, thus leaving the rear half isolated, and of no possible use to anybody. Mr. Burgess thought it was a great pity that the whole lot should not have been deeded to the city. He advised Mr. Dickinson to apply for a grant of the rear half and that he would send the application to his department, and do what he could to have the land granted.

SPECIAL FOR DOMINION DAY.—Several of our citizens having expressed a wish to have a special train from Vancouver on the 1st of July, so that they could return to this city after the celebration, Mr. Fagan, the C.P.R. agent here, telegraphed to-day to that effect. A reply was received from Asst. Supt. Downie stating that a special would leave Vancouver for Westminster at 20 o'clock (8 p.m.) on the day of the celebration (Friday). This will be a great accommodation to persons visiting Vancouver from this city on that day. We understand that tickets for the round trip will be issued at one fare and a third.

O. E. Comstock, Caledonia, Minn., writes: I was suffering the most excruciating pains from inflammatory rheumatism. One application of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil afforded almost instant relief, and two bottles effected a permanent cure.

Personal.

Rev. Mr. Patterson arrived by the Irving to-day.

S. W. Lehman, of Port Moody, was in the city to-day.

Mrs. C. M. Beecher left on the train to-day for Harrison Hot Springs.

Mrs. Dr. Trew returned on the train to-day from Vancouver, where she has been visiting.

Rev. Dr. Cochrane, of Brantford, Ont., a well-known Presbyterian divine, arrived on the noon train to-day.

Rev. Mr. Scott, of New Glasgow, N.S., and David Morton and wife, of Hamilton, Ont., left for home by the train to-day.

Rev. J. A. Wood, of Ladners, and Mrs. Wood, left on the train to-day for Clinton, where Mr. Wood enters upon his new field of labor.

About two weeks ago J. J. Steele, of Dundas, Ont. (brother-in-law to J. L. Stamford, of this city) came out to San Francisco, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Weir, to see his mother who was taken ill while visiting the bay city. Mrs. Steele has so far recovered that it was deemed prudent to remove her to her Ontario home, and Mr. Steele arrived in this city yesterday morning with her and her two daughters, Mrs. Weir and Miss Steele, and the party are making a short visit to Mr. Stamford. They leave to-morrow for the east.

City Council.

A Spirited Meeting.—The Coquitlam Co.'s Proposal.—The Loan By-Law Read a Third Time.

The council met Monday night in the council chamber. Present, his worship Mayor Dickinson, in the chair, and a full board of councillors.

THE COQUITLAM PROPOSAL.

The clerk then read the following proposal to supply the city with water from the Coquitlam Water Works Co. (Limited):

His Worship the Mayor and Members of the City Council, New Westminster:

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to submit for the consideration of your honorable body the following as the basis of an arrangement under which this company would engage to proceed forthwith with the construction of works of water supply for your city.

1st. That the city guarantee by by-law the payment of interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum for a period of ten years on bonds of the company to the amount of $150,000 or such lesser amount as a system of works for the supply of water from Coquitlam Lake of capacity and efficiency satisfactory to the city authorities may be estimated to cost.

2nd. That the company indemnify the city for any possible payment that it may be called upon to make under its guarantee by a first lien on the revenues of the works constructed under such arrangement, exclusive of such portion of the revenue as might be necessary to meet expenses of maintenance and operation.

3rd That during the continuance in force of the guarantee, and thereafter, until all advances, if any, made by the city under its guarantee shall have been refunded out of the revenue of the works, the city shall have the benefit, free of charge, of the protection from fire afforded by the said works, together with 75 per cent. of the net profits accruing from their operation.

4th. That the works shall be constructed and maintained of such character and efficiency as may be decided to be necessary and sufficient by a board of three engineers, one representing the city, one the company, and one to be chosen by the other two.

5th. That the proceeds of the bonds guaranteed by the city shall, if the city so desire, be lodged in the Bank of B. C. to the joint credit of the city and the company and shall be paid out on the joint order of the mayor of the city and the president of the company in payment only of expenditures in connection with the construction of the works contemplated by this proposal, and when accounts of such expenditure shall have been duly certified by the engineers representing respectively the city and the company. The said expenses of construction to be understood as including ten per cent. on the cost of the work, payable to the company as profit on the completion of the said works.

6th. That the balance, if any, of the proceeds of the guaranteed bonds remaining after the completion of the works and the payment of the above mentioned percentage of profit to the company, shall, if the city so desire, be applied to the payment of interest accruing upon the said bonds, or to their redemption, or to the extension of the works.

7th. That the books and accounts of the company relating to the works contemplated by this proposal shall at all seasonable times be open to the auditor of the city.

The above is submitted subject to the proviso that the company may at any time prior to the conclusion and execution of an agreement with your honorable body based thereon, proceed to construct their contemplated works without guarantee or aid from your city. Very respectfully yours,

ARTHUR HILL,
Acting Secretary.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications were read:—

From William McColl, secretary of of the board of trade, asking the council to assist in establishing a city market.

From S. H. Webb, chief engineer of the fire department, stating that the American hotel was a fire trap and had very inefficient means of escape in case of fire.

From D. Oppenheimer and others of Vancouver, asking the council to be present on the jubilee celebration on the 1st inst.

BILLS AND ACCOUNTS.

The following bills and accounts were read:

From the Telephone Co. $29, referred to finance committee; D. B. Calbick, $1.25, ordered paid, from H. Bloor, $10, referred to finance committee; from A. Peele, $10, referred to finance committee; from G. W. Gilley, $228.85, referred to board of works; from D. L. Smith, $90.35, referred to board of works.

BY-LAWS.

The by-law for the better observance of the Sabbath was read a second time.

Coun. Duncan moved and Coun. Jaques seconded that the loan by-law be now read a first time.

Coun. Shiles moved in amendment and Coun. Elliot seconded that the by-law be laid over for six months.

Coun. Elliot said he thought the by-law should be laid over. It was passed, yet many of the oldest and heaviest property holders were not allowed to vote. The validty of the by-law would be tested.

Coun. Duncan thought the by-law should now be read a third time. If it was illegal the council could deal with it as they saw fit when it came up for reconsideration.

The mayor said, much as he favored the loan by-law, but he thought that it had passed under circumstances which reflected doubt upon its legality. Many of the oldest and most wealthy property owners were disenfranchised. He thought this would prove fatal to obtaining the loan.

The amendment was lost, while the original resolution was carried by a vote of 4 to 3. Couns. Curtis, Reid, Jaques and Duncan voting for, and Couns. Shiles, Elliot and Bonson voting against it.

The by-law was then read a third time.

COUN. ELLIOT WORSTED.

Mr. Geo. Turner then presented his report on the grade of Columbia st.

The report was discussed and Coun. Jaques said the grade of the sidewalk on Columbia st., between Douglass and Ewen sts. was rather low, and moved that it be raised.

He moved and Coun. Reid seconded that the grade of Columbia st. be raised from 4 ft. 3. in. to 4 ft. 10 in., and that Mr. Turner make an even grade of Columbia st. from Ewen st. to Begbie st.

Coun. Elliot said there were some in the council who are working very hard in the interests of their employers. They had laid the foundation for a building rather above the grade, and now sought to raise the grade to correspond with their building. He thought the street should be left as it was.

Coun. Jaques said that he inferred from Mr. Eliott's remarks that it was himself referred to. While some of the councillors worked in the interests of others some of them were continually working for their own interests. Coun. Elliot had raised the centre of Columbia st. above the recorded grade at this point, and he thought the sidewalk should be raised accordingly.

Coun. Reid said Mr. Elliot's remarks were rather personal. He could testify that at the time the gravel was deposited on Columbia st. Coun. Elliot took good care to have the greater part of the gravel placed in front of his own stable, thus raising the centre of Columbia st. far above its proper height. In conclusion Coun. Reid said, "I have stood a good deal from Coun. Elliot while I've been in the council and I won't do so any longer."

Coun. Elliot—"Well, if you want to stand anything out of me you can have it right now."

The resolution was then adopted.

The mayor and clerk were authorized to prepare and present an address to Mr. A. M. Burgess, deputy minister of the Interior, now in the city.

The Coquitlam proposal was then taken up.

The Mayor thought the proposal should be printed and copies distributed.

Coun. Curtis thought the council should not go to that expense. For his part he would never for a moment entertain a water scheme that asked the city to guarantee $9000 a year interest

Coun. Duncan said he thought the city should not be saddled with such a burden.

The scheme was then laid on the table.

Mr. Webb's communication regarding the American hotel was referred to the fire committee to report on at next meeting.

The council decided to accept the invitation to Vancouver.

Coun. Curtis inquired if all arrears of taxes had yet been collected. He said the finance committee wished every account for taxes put into court.

Council then adjourned.

MALADIES MULTIPLY ONE ANOTHER. A simple fit of digestion may—especially if the constitution is not naturally vigorous—throw the entire mechanism of the liver and bowels out of gear. Sick headache follows, poisoning of the blood by bile ensues, and there is grave and serious disturbance of the entire system. Check the threatened dangers at the outset with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the medicine that drives every impurity from the blood.
