O'Brien in Toronto.

In our issue of yesterday we stated that the reports of Mr. O'Brien's reception in Toronto seemed to have been greatly exaggerated, as the Globe containing an account of the affair did not mention that anything like a riot had taken place. But the Globe of the 19th and 20th inst., since received, tells a different story. Although no riot occurred during Mr. O'Brien's meeting, on the following day the Irish agitator was set upon by a mob who howled for his life, and he escaped only by the skin of his teeth. The disorder, although the report of it telegraphed over the country may have been highly colored, was such at least as to disgrace any city of any civilized country. We could not bring ourselves to believe such things possible in a city like Toronto, where order and public security are so well established; but it is seemingly impossible to tame some Irishmen. The combative instincts which have given them a reputation over the world may lie dormant for generations and break out suddenly in all their fury as unexpectedly as lightning out of a clear sky. It is stated that the persons upon whom rests the responsibility of the outrages escaped arrest, and the Globe very properly demands that they be promptly hunted out and punished with the severest penalty the law provides. In this demand we are sure all true patriots will unite. O'Brien made a very great mistake in coming to this country upon the mission which brought him, but he is under our protection, and the law must be vindicated.

Two Standards of Justice.

As an illustration of the difference in which the law is meted out in the courts of British Columbia and of Washington Territory, we have only to refer to the cases of Wm. Shearer, who killed J. E. Murne at Westminster, and of the three murders in this county, two at Semiahmoo, and one at Point Roberts, in which Murne took an active interest in the defense of the murderers. Two weeks ago to-morrow Shearer committed his deed, and already he has had his trial, and been pronounced guilty and sentenced to pay the severest penalty of the law, on July 6th, exactly two months after he took the life of his victim. An attempt was made by the lawyer appointed to defend him to have his trial postponed until the fall courts on the plea that he was insane and incompetent to instruct his council as to his defense. But it did not avail. That was law meted out in a British court. Of the other three murders referred to, the man who took the life of Harris some four years ago is alive and at liberty to-day; the man who took the life of Dan Shea some three years ago is also at liberty; and the man who last June killed John McSweeny still lives, and soon will have finished a sentence of only a year and a half in the penitentiary inflicted as a punishment for his crime. The interest Murne took in his defense, and the disputes between Murne and McSweeny over possession of fishing grounds on the Point Roberts reserve are still fresh in the minds of the people of this locality. The question naturally suggests itself: if courts are really courts of justice, why should these men live and Shearer die? The lives of the three murdered men were surely as dear to them as Murne's life was to him, and the lives, at least the lives of two of them, were worth no less to the community at large. Justice is justice, the world over. Justice in the courts of one nation cannot be injustice in the courts of another. In dealing with the murder cases in which Semiahmoo is immediately interested, have the courts of this territory erred from justice on the side of too much leniency, or has the Westminster court erred on the other side? Or have both courts erred, and, if so, where between the two extremes is the golden mean of exact justice to be found? Evidently the judicial goddess holds a pair of unbalanced scales, the pair whose fulcrum is the national border. Which way does the beam tip?—Blaine Journal.

A. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which caused me much pain and annoyance. Mr. Maybee, of this place, recommended Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for it. I tried it, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is an article of great value." Beware of Electric or Electron Oils, as they are imitations of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil.

GENERAL NEWS THE WORLD OVER.

By Associated Press.

CANADA AND THE U. S.

NEW YORK, May 25.—To a World correspondent who has been in Canada recently Sir John Macdonald said: "Canada is desirous of having the widest possible extradition treaty between England and the United States. It is a great nuisance to us to be made the receptacle of all your runaway defaultors and embezzlers. I believe England is also desirous of having an enlarged extradition treaty, and so far as I know the objection to a wider treaty comes from the United States. The old extradition treaty with the United States is faulty in many respects, and a treaty on a wider basis has been suggested, but some diplomatic difficulties have hitherto prevented its adoption. The premier did not care to say what the "diplomatic difficulties" were. From another source, however, it is learned that the trouble lay, in part at least, in the refusal of the United States to insert a clause in the treaty providing for the extradition of dynamiters; that back of the "diplomatic difficulties" surrounding the question there was some political difficulty.

ANGLO-TURKISH CONVENTION.

LONDON, May 25.—The Anglo-Turkish convention relative to Egypt provides for the maintenance of all existing treaties, neutralization of the Suez canal, a guarantee of the internal inviolability of Egypt, that the British shall withdraw from Egypt in three years unless the country is threatened with danger either internal or external. England shall after the withdrawal of her troops supervise the whole Egyptian army for two years, with the right to reoccupy with or without the aid of Turkish troops if disturbance or invasion is feared. England and Turkey jointly shall invite the powers to adhere to the convention and propose modifications. All the powers except Russia co-operate with England to expedite a settlement. England has made every possible concession to arrive at an understanding with Turkey.

AN ENGINEERS' STRIKE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—The Marine Engineer's Association held a meeting last night at which it was decided that all steam schooners on the coast must employ one engineer at $120 per month, an assistant engineer at $90 per month, and two firemen. In accordance with this the engineers on the Belia, Whitesboro and Greenwood, the only steam schooners now in port, struck this afternoon on the owners of the vessels refusing to comply with their demands. As other vessels arrive in port the men will be ordered out. As all the engineers in port belong to the union, the result will be the tying up of the vessels. The owners seem determined not to concede the demands.

A BIG FIRE.

PARIS, May 25.—The Opera Comique burned this evening. Fourteen persons who jumped from windows are dead, and 43 injured. Probably many were crushed to death in the galleries. The fire broke out during the first act of the opera Mignon. One of the wings caught fire from a gas jet, and the entire stage was immediately enveloped in flames. The fire soon spread to the whole house. Mesdames Mergivillier, Tasquin and Bernard were on the stage when the fire broke out. All the actors ran out in stage costumes. The audience got out easily, but the gas was turned off before all left the building, and it is feared some were left in the upper tiers. The roof soon fell in, sending showers of sparks as far as Place de la Bourre. With the exception of Mme. Sellier, who perished, all the actors escaped, though a number were seriously injured. Five bodies, terribly burned, were conveyed to the National Library, among them the body of a woman clasping a little boy in her arms. The firemen showed the greatest courage. Nineteen persons are known to be dead. Women half clad, carrying costumes, fled from the stage screaming. Supers and members of the chorus were terrified. Some of the latter fled with nothing on but tights. The flames spread with great rapidity. In 15 minutes the stage was a vast furnace. Several actors escaped by climbing to the roof, whence they were rescued by fire escapes. M. Tasquin implored the audience to remain seated until the exits were opened, which they did. If they had made a rush for the doors the loss of life would have been terrible. The police outside were unable to restrain the crowd who besieged the building inquiring for friends. One man, who wanted to rescue his brother and sister, raved, tore his hair, and menaced with a stick the people who stopped him from rushing into the blazing building. The scene outside was one of the wildest excitement. Falling timbers struck the horses in the surrounding streets, causing them to plunge and rear. Flames shot out of every window, forcing the crowd into the narrow streets, where the crush was terrific. Mme. Digaronte says there were 150 persons on the stage when the fire broke out. She heard glass breaking, but told the others not to mind it. But while she was speaking a column of flame broke through the wing with a roar, and all rushed pell-mell from the building. Many policemen were injured. It is still unknown how many persons were able to escape from the doomed building.

COMMERCIAL UNION.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The World will print a series of interviews with prominent men in Canada concerning the reported movement there in favor of commercial union with the United States, if not of absolute annexation. Several notable representatives of the banking and farming interests express themselves in favor of commercial union. The correspondent says he finds the sentiment among farmers practically a unit in favor of commercial union. He also notes the prevalence of extreme discontent with the Dominion government in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and also in the Northwest.

THE BODIES LYING IN HEAPS.

PARIS, May 25.—The bodies of the ballet dancers who lost their lives by the burning of the Opera Comique last night are lying in heaps in the ruins of the theatre. The firemen assert that many bodies are lying in the upper galleries. The number of persons killed greatly exceeds previous estimates. An excited crowd surrounds the ruins, which are guarded by a military cordon.

MORE BODIES RECOVERED.

PARIS, May 26, 4 p. m.—Twenty more bodies have been recovered this afternoon.

The Policy of Disallowance.

During a discussion which arose on the bill to incorporate the Westminster Southern Railway the policy of the federal government on the question of the disallowance of provincial railway charters running to the southern boundary was declared by the minister of railways. Our readers are aware that this railway has already been chartered by the provincial legislature, and that the charter is held by trustees appointed by the Westminster Board of Trade. The object is to connect this city and the C. P. R. with the projected railway from Seattle north to the boundary, which would bring us into direct connection with the whole American railway system on the coast and over the continent. The Board of Trade proposes to hold this charter until it can safely be surrendered to a company that will undertake to build this connecting link and operate it in such a way as to serve the public interest. Having obtained a provincial charter it was decided to apply for a Dominion charter as well, because there was considerable doubt as to whether the federal government would not disallow the provincial charter. The bill came up for discussion before the railway committee a few days ago, and the further consideration of it was laid over for a week. It is stated, however, that the government has definitely determined to continue the policy of disallowance, and that in this determination it has assurances of support from a majority of the representatives. Before the railway committee Mr. Chisholm, member for this district, explained the nature of the franchise asked for, and intimated that the road, if built, would become a feeder to the C. P. R. Mr. Mitchel, of the Montreal Herald (the C. P. R. organ) proclaimed his opposition to the construction of that or any other road which might divert Canadian trade into American channels. The people of the eastern provinces, he said, had paid too dearly for that trade to permit it by any means to slip away from them. Mr. Edgar favored the granting of the charter, and Mr. Mara (representative of Yale district) pointed out the fact already stated by Mr. Chisholm, that this road would in the very nature of things become an important feeder of the C. P. R. There was no analogy, he said, between British Columbia and Manitoba in so far as this line was concerned, because Manitoba proposed to tap the C P. R. in its centre while the Westminster line was simply a branch feeder at the terminus. Mr. Mara is undoubtedly right, but Sir Hector Langevin announced that the policy of the government respecting disallowance remained unaltered. He maintained that the agreement with the C. P. R. applied to Manitoba as well as to the Northwest, and we presume he meant this assertion to cover British Columbia also. But Sir Hector Langevin went even further than this. "The object of the policy," he said, "is to secure the trade of western Canada to the Canadians." This, although not altogether a new doctrine, is a very explicit declaration of one of the objects of disallowance, and explains more fully the motives which lie at the bottom of the policy. We never understood that in the agreement with the C. P. R. there was anything binding the government to disallow railway charters in Manitoba or British Columbia, and nothing that has yet been said on the other side is sufficient to change that opinion. At the time of the agreement British Columbia and Manitoba were organized provinces, with just as much constitutional liberty and independence as any other province in the Dominion. British Columbia never consented to surrender that independence, and as it was guaranteed by the British North America act, it could not be taken away by an arbitrary order-in-council, or a resolution of the government. The monopoly clause of the C. P. R. contract does not necessarily apply to British Columbia, or to any part of the country then existing under properly organized provincial government, and it is only by an arbitrary and unjust interpretation of the clause that it could be so applied. But Sir Hector Langevin now justifies the policy of disallowance on the broad principle of protection—a principle which has been carried by the present government almost to the extreme limit of endurance. Because the eastern provinces have had to pay a great deal of money for the construction of the C. P. R., he says, such regulations must be enforced as will compel the western provinces to buy eastern products and thus enable them to recoup themselves for the outlay. We are glad the minister has been so explicit, because we understand now that so long as the policy of protection continues, so long may we expect disallowance to be continued. The present government came into office on the strength of the principle of protection. It has, consequently, received the support of manufacturers and monopolists everywhere, and there is great danger that it may have committed itself so far to this class of people as to endanger the public interest. Did it never occur to these people that there are western rights and interests which ought to be considered as well as those of eastern manufacturers? Has Sir Hector Langevin forgotten that British Columbia consented to enter confederation only on condition that the C. P. R. would be constructed? There was then no monopoly railway clause thought of, and no policy of disallowance. And have we not contributed towards this great national highway as well as our eastern friends? In proportion to her population this province has paid more towards the C. P. R. than any province in the Dominion. Not only have we surrendered a vast belt of our best lands, but we have consented for many years to pay enormous sums in the way of customs duties for goods which we could not bring from eastern Canada. In addition to these large contributions, does the minister think it equitable that our rights should be taken from us on the plea that we ought to be compelled by force of circumstances to take our goods from eastern manufacturers and at their own prices! No independent province could submit to the operation of such a policy without protest; and we maintain that if our representatives, in consideration of any party interests, acquiesce in such a doctrine, they are not representatives of the true interests of their constituents. Let the Dominion government at once pass an act making it a criminal offence for a British Columbian to purchase from any one but a Canadian; let it erect along our southern boundary a stone wall over which it will be impossible to pass; and then we shall give it credit for carrying out to its legitimate limit the doctrine upon which it proposes to disallow our railway charters. We declare again that the Westminster Southern Railway would not take trade away from the C. P. R.; but if it did, we protest against the enforcement of a principle which discriminates so unjustly against British Columbia, especially after her singular loyalty to the existing government.

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator has no equal for destroying worms in childrens and adults. See that you get the genuine when purchasing.

DIRECTORS' ANNUAL REPORT.

GENTLEMEN—In presenting our report for fiscal year ending 31st March, 1887, we beg to state that it will be an utter impossibility to run the hospital free of debt on the grant just voted by the government for the ensuing financial year.

The surgeon has been attentive in his duties and reports a large increase in the number of patients admitted during the year, shewing also that we have received patients from all parts of the province.

There are a number of incurables in this hospital, some of whom were brought from Victoria hospital years ago. The sum of $1,000 a year has been voted for a convalescent home in Victoria, the last few years. The Board think, therefore, that some of these incurables should be shipped back to Victoria.

A great number of improvements have been made during the year, walls and floors repaired, a wash-house built, the two cesspools thoroughly cleaned; the building being old, requires constant repairs, which entails considerable expenditure.

The hospital has been filled to its utmost capacity during the whole year. The Board desire to thank subscribers for generous substriptions, lists of which are annexed, and without which it would have been found impossible to have kept the institution free of debt; also the congregations of Holy Trinity Church, St. Andrew's (Presbyterian), Methodist and Baptist Churches for hospital Sunday collections, and the following ladies and gentlemen for old clothes, linen, books, papers etc.:—Mesdames C. T. Woods, C. E. Woods, Major, Lennie, H. Elliot, W. J. Armstrong, W. B. Townsend, Douglas, Edmonds, J. W. Harvey, Baker, W. H. Keary, D. Hennessey, Cummings, A. M. Herring, Bronskill, Sisters St. Ann's Convent, ladies W. C. T. U., Bachelors' Ball Hatchery, Messrs. I.B. Fisher, Z. S. Hall. R. I. Bentley, J. S. McDonnell.

The surgeon's report is appended hereto, and gives full details of the work accomplished for the year.

The average cost per day for each resident patient in the hospital, which includes the disbursements on out-door patients, is 67 cents.

W. H. KEARY,
Hon. Secretary.

SURGEON'S REPORT

FOR YEAR ENDING 31ST MARCH, 1887.

To the Members of the Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN.—I have the honor to herewith present the report on this Hospital for the year ending 31st March, 1887:

Number of Indoor Patients	103
" Outdoor "	60
" Remaining in Hospital	18
" Died	14

Causes of death of the fourteen who died and length of time in Hospital:—1 typhoid fever, 6 dys; 1 alcoholism, 13 dys; 1 effects of fire at Vancouver, 4 mos. 10 dys; 1 bronchitis, 4 dys; 1 inflamation of bowels, 8 dys; 1 consumption, 2 mos. 26 dys; 1 syphilis; 9 dys; 1 paralysis, 4 dys; 1 aneurism (popliteal), 4 mos. 26 dys; 1 general debility, 2 mos. 27 dys; 1 aneurism (arota), 12 dys; 1 old age, 6 dys; 1 paralysis, 23 dys; 1 dropsy, 5 dys; total, 14.

Although the number of deaths is large the short number of days in the Hospital of a large proportion of them shows that they came in in a hopeless condition.

The places where the indoor patients were received from are as follows:

Victoria	5	Ladner's Landing	2
Cariboo	1	Langley	2
Kamloops	5	Clover Valley	1
New Westminster	25	Harrison River	1
Bonaparte	1	Mud Bay	3
Yale	4	Chilliwhack	1
Port Moody	6	North Arm, Fraser	1
Hastings	4	Boston Bar	1
Moodyville	3	Cassiar	1
Port Haney	2	Fraser River	2
Vancouver	22	Mission	2
Hope	1	Pitt Meadows	1
C. P. R.	9
Total			103

The number of incurables now in the Hospital is twelve (12). This large number requiring to be taken care of from year to year renders it impossible to make a number of desirable improvements in the building, owing to the limited supply of funds. I have introduced the table of residences to show the people of British Columbia that they all ought to take an interest in helping on this institution, which is increasing in usefulness every year, as may be seen by comparing the number of indoor patients of the previous year—seventy-five (75)—with this year—one hundred and three (103).

We still require a lot of draining to be done about and from the building. The floors and walls have been improved and the new wash-room is a great addition to the comfort of the place.

I have great pleasure in thanking a number of friends of the Hospital for presents of clothes, old linen, pictures, books and papers. Again I have to thank the steward, Mr. Charles Digby, for his constant attention to the cleanliness of the building and his kindness and attention to the wants of the sick and his readiness in carrying out all my directions. Before closing this report I must offer my sincere thanks to the medical gentlemen who so kindly offered their assistance to myself whenever required during the past year.

I am Yours Faithfully,
R. I. BENTLEY, M. B.,
Surgeon R. C. H.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

In presenting the accounts for the past year, the Treasurer begs to call attention to the fact that the outlay has been rigidly scrutinized, in which he has been ably assisted by the Steward, Mr. Digby. There seems little prospect of any reduction of expenditure. You will notice that the subscriptions have been liberal and have been a great assistance in keeping the institution free of debt. It is to be regretted that the Government have reduced the grant to the Hospital from $4,500 to $3,500.

W. H. KEARY,
Treasurer.

A SAMARITAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Graphic Discouragement for the Edification of One Type of Philanthropists.

A newspaper man of wide acquaintance and benevolent disposition was going home one night not long ago when he fell in, at the doorway of a hotel, with a person of some consequence in the community, who had tarried much too long over the wine cup, and was in a state where disgrace if not harm might come to him if he were not got safely home very soon.

"Bless me!" said the newspaper man to himself, "here's a chance to do the good Samaritan. I'll have to handle Jobson carefully, because he is very drunk, and adroitly steer him home while seeming to let him have his own way."

So he stopped and fell into easy conversation with Jobson, and presently said:

"Well, I must be going home, Jobson. Won't you walk along with me?"

"Shert'nly, ol' to, shert'n'ly," said Jobson. "Great'ey pleasure'n 'e war' shee a man home. Come ri' long, ole fellow, coe 'long."

They set out together, the newspaper man supporting the unsteady movements of his companion.

Suddenly the former remembered that he didn't know where Jobson lived, except that it was somewhere away off in the southern outskirts of the city, a fearful distance beyond his own house. But he didn't dare to ask any questions that would suggest to Jobson that he was taking him home, and simply depended on the impetus in the right direction to carry them along.

Presently they reached the newspaper man's house, and Jobson insisted on leaving him there. But the newspaper man grew very brotherly and kept Jobson going.

The latter protested that the night was damp and chilly, that it wouldn't do for him, the journalist, to stay out, and so on. But the newspaper man kept him going and going.

There wasn't a car or a carriage, and the good Samaritan wouldn't have dared to take one if there had been. It grew very late, and he thought of his own wife getting up in alarm at his absence. But he was in for it.

Along toward morning they reached a door which Jobson, who had grown drunker and drunker, seemed to have a friendly interest in.

The newspaper man tried it, and Mrs. Jobson came to the door.

"All ri' old girl," said Jobson, "my fr'en' seen me home, now I mus' shee him home. Goo' night, ole girl! Can't let him go 'ome 'lone in this damp air!"

It would seem that nothing could restrain Jobson from starting back to town with his companion. Finally he insisted, as a compromise, that the newspaper man should stay all night with him.

Mrs. Jobson gave an appealing look, and the journalist consented, thinking to get Jobson in the house and then slip out, by his wife's aid. But once in, Jobson insisted that he must sleep with him, and grew very ugly when he tried to get out of it.

And so the unfortunate newspaper man went up to bed with the drunkard, who took off his coat only when his friend did, and wouldn't touch a single button until the other had unfastened the corresponding one, and wouldn't get into bed until the other had.

At last both were snugly under the sheets, and the newspaper man was waiting eagerly for some sign that his companion was asleep, when Jobson exclaimed:

"Great ——, ole fellow, did you shay your prayers?"

"No."

"By she ole Harry, get up and shay your prayers, an' I'll shay mine!"

The newspaper man got up and knelt at one side of the bed and Jobson at the other. When the ceremonies were completed, both got back into bed, and in about five minutes Jobson began to snore loudly.

The newspaper man saw his opportunity. He rose stealthily, put on his underclothing with trembling hands, sneaked down the stairs with his outer garments in his arms, and finished his dressing below. Then he bade the weeping Mrs. Jobson good morning, and started for his own house.

It was broad daylight when he reached home, and he found another weeping woman there to greet him.

"The next time I find a drunken man making a night of it," the newspaper man says now, "he can make a night of it for all me. I have had enough of the good Samaritan business to last me all my life."—[Boston Record.

The Middle Woman.

The wife of an acquaintance in San Francisco who read the papers became imbued with the idea that it was wrong to patronize Chinese labor when poor white women were suffering for the chance to earn their daily bread, and expressed her views to her husband, saying she knew a poor woman next door who would be glad to do their washing at $3 per week—they were paying the Chinaman $1.50.

It was an advance, but white labor must be encouraged, so the washing was handed over to Mrs Murphy.

The husband met Ah Sam a few months after and, feeling a little qualm of conscience and interest in him, inquired how he was getting along. Sam seemed to be in a cheerful state of mind, and answered:

"Fuss rate; plenty wash business. All samee me do your washee, all samee me catchee close Miss Murphy house. She pay me one dollar hap week."

It turned out that Mrs. Murphy had been giving out the washing to Sam and paying him $1.50 a week, and making a profit of the other $1.50.

Sam was restored, and that is about the way the thing goes.—[N. Y. Times.

A Queer Religious Sect.

The Nest for Godly People is the title of a Russian religious sect which has come into existence during the last fifteen years.

Its headquarters are at the historic fortress town of Bender, and its strange name is due to the fact that its members—all of the peasant class—dig a grave in the floor (which is of dried earth) of their habitations, or else in their gardens, and lie therein until overcome by hunger, in order, as they say, to commune with God, confess to Him their sins, and examine their past life.

To enable them the better to do this, the grave is covered with a wooden box-like lid, or canopy, having a door in it for ingress and egress, so that they lie in the grave as in a coffin; and were it not for small apertures in the top part of it, they would run the risk of being suffocated.—[London Figaro.

One Branch of the Art.

Solid Merchant (reading begging letter): "What! A strong, healthy man like you begging? Why don't you get work at your trade?"

Beggar: "I lost my voice and had to give it up."

Solid Merchant: "What, are you an opera-singer?"

Beggar: "No, I peddle claams."—[Puck.

FACTS AND FANCIES ABOUT FAIRIES.

The Delightful "Little People" of Fable and Story.

I have been to some pains to gather from various sources the names by which the fairies have been known in various countries and at various times. The extent of the list may surprise you. I will repeat it to you:

Fairies, elves, ele-folks, fays, urchins, ouphes, ell-maids, ell-women, dwarfs, trolls, norns, nisses, kobolds, duende, brownies, necks, stromkarls, fates, little wights, undines, salamanders, goblins, hob-goblins, pookes, banshees, kelpies, pixies, moss people, good people, good neighbors, men of peace, wild women, white ladies, peris, djinns, genii, and gnomes.

You notice, of course, that I use the word fairy in its broadest sense, placing in this category all presumably dispossessed spirits which once inhabited human bodies, but are not yet considered meet to dwell with the "saints in light."

In nurses' tales the fairy is almost invariably a personification of Providence, but in the wider domain of romantic literature the term is applicable to a large class of mythological spirits known by the various names I have mentioned.

Dwarfs and elves were little people who figure much in Scandinavian literature, the former being often violent and malignant, and the latter sportive, mischievous but useful, and visible only to children born on Sundays.

The kobolds were the domestic fairies of Germany, similar to the kelpies of Scotland and the nisses of Norway. They were all skilled in music and dancing, and were fond of frolicking by moonlight.

Necks and stromkarls inhabited the rivers and lakes of Northern Europe, and were similar to the mermen and mermaids of a less remote superstition.

The nixies are also of this class and figure largely in German folk lore. Previous to the death of a person by drowning, they can be seen—so the legends say—dancing on the face of the water. The female bears the semblance of a beautiful maiden, and she conveys mortals to a beautiful subaqueous abode, where they meet the male, who has green teeth and always wears a green hat.

Fates are Italian fairies. The duende, or trasgo, is the most frequently mentioned Spanish fairy. The "white ladies" were Norman fairies.

Here is an ancient description of the dress of the fairies:

"They wear a red conical cap; a mantle of green cloth inlaid with wild flowers; green pantaloons, buttoned with bobs of silk, and silver shoon. They carry quivers of arrow slough, and bows made of the ribs of a man buried where 'three lairds' lands meet;' their arrows are made of bog reed, tipped with white flints and dipped in the dew of hemlock; they ride on steeds whose hoofs would not dash the dew from the cup of a harebell."

Homely Swiss Women.

Writing to his journal from abroad, Henry Watterson says: "The stranger in Switzerland will be struck at once by the beauty of the country and the ugliness of the women.

"Here nature seems to have spent herself upon inanimate objects and to have had no material left for humanity which she composed out of the debris left over after she had constructed the mise en scene. A pretty face, native and to the manner born, is rarely if ever seen upon the streets of Berne.

"The women appear to do all the work. It is not unusual to see a girl and a dog hitched to a cart and trotting along together like a pair of ponies.

"The men, great strapping fellows, idle and lazy, loaf about the brasseries. Their wives, daughters and sisters till the fields and supply the markets.

"The dog, the goat and the cow perform the offices commonly performed in other lands by the horse, the ox and the mule. The bear is a sacred animal. So is the lion. The donkey does fancy duty at the summer resorts.

"But there is nothing to which the Swiss woman may not turn her hand, from milking a goat to sawing a cord of wood and drawing a load of hay. She is put to work in her childhood, and before she reaches her maturity she looks like a grandmother, wrinkled and weather-beaten, bent and care-worn.

"The circumstance which appears at every turning and is written upon each countenance, leaves a painful impression and discredits the national character. A people so independent and so brave, so unaffected and so frugal as the Swiss are admitted to be, ought to be gentler."

MY COOK.

There is a legend both old and gray,
That says a cook must be fat,
That she must be greasy and have her way,
But I don't believe half of that.
For I have a cook that is none of these,
And I watch for her coming each day.
She is young and pretty with deft white hands,
But she lives across the way.

I have bought an opera glass to scan,
From behind my curtain drawn,
My dear little cook who is flitting about,
While I sit here forlorn.
But I taste, in my mind, each delicate dish
That comes from her fingers fair,
And I wish in my heart as I smack my lips,—
Not hers—I was only there.

Perhaps some day she may cook for me—
But why should I selfish be,
As I look in the room on the floor above,
Unless she can cook for three?
For there sits the mother, wan and ill,
While the blessed maid below
Plays goddess of soup, and chop, and steak,
And fairy of the dough.

—[Judge.

Our Great Inventor's Father.

Thomas Edison, the father of the inventor, lives at Huronia Beach, Mich., and is a remarkably well preserved man of 82 years.

The Detroit Free Press says that he has six children, three by his first and three by his present wife, and that the youngest child is but 4 years old.

For Good and Sufficient Reason.

"Do you play the piano?" asked he.
"Yes," she replied.
"Sing?"
"Yes."
"Sing the 'Mikado'?"
"Yes."
"Mary, I think we had better part forever."—[Merchant Traveler.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE

STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. MR. G. ROBERTSON,

Vancouver:

Representing Goldie & McCulloch, Galt, Ont.

SIR.—We the undersigned having witnessed the terrible fire which wiped out of existence the young city of Vancouver, on the 13th inst., have, after the fire, examined the safes sold by you, some of which were put to the most severe test, having been surrounded by large quantities of lard and bacon, and we are pleased to testify to the remarkable manner in which every Safe sold by you preserved its contents, not only books and papers, but also thousands of dollars in paper money were taken out in perfect condition. We can, therefore, with the greatest confidence, recommend them as thoroughly fire proof:

THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN Printing Company (LIMITED.)

ON THE 10TH OF JANUARY, 1887, the COLUMBIAN Newspaper and Printing Concern was purchased by a joint stock company composed of citizens of New Westminster, to be known as the "British Columbian Printing Co., Limited." The concern has been for nearly a year owned and controlled by the British Columbia Stationery and Printing Company, of New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver. The object of the new company is to continue the publication of the BRITISH COLUMBIAN newspaper and carry on a general printing and publishing concern, controlled entirely by those whose individual interest it will be to promote the development, especially of the Mainland. There will be no slackening of the energy hitherto displayed in the management of the establishment, and its patrons may rely upon receiving full value for their money. The COLUMBIAN will continue to be entirely independent in both Dominion and provincial politics, and will devote itself to the advancement of such schemes as may be considered in the public interest. The concern is now entirely separate from any other business, the book and stationery establishment in this city having been taken over by Mr. T. R. Pearson, who will continue to carry it on in his own name and for his own benefit. It is desirable that a daily newspaper should be maintained in this city, and the new company asks for public patronage on the ground that it is engaged in an enterprise calculated to promote the public welfare. It asks that the COLUMBIAN be judged on its own merits and supported only so long as its policy is consistent with its professions. In consequence of this business change all accounts due the concern must be settled without delay so that the books of the former company may be adjusted and closed. A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada,

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Thursday Evening, May 26, 1887.

Toronto is assessed for $91,000,000.

Two carloads of eastern freight yesterday.

Land on Lulu Island for sale at $12 per acre by Rand Bros. dmy21tc

The Seattle fund for Nanaimo relief is now $4350; Portland $4720, and San Francisco about $12,000.

The steamer Rithet arrived at 6 o'clock last evening, in charge of Capt. White. She left at 7 o'clock this morning for Victoria.

Owing to the board of trade occupying Hyack Hall on Friday evening the citizens' meeting has been postponed until Saturday evening.

Edwin John, who was brought up by Deputy Sheriff Langley from Victoria yesterday, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

A large number of blood stock were sent up by the C.P.R. this morning to Mr. Purver, of Langley. Among the consignment were 11 Jersey heifers.

The steamship Mexico is now in the Union Iron Works dry-dock, San Francisco, undergoing repairs and will resume her regular route in a few weeks.

The Hyacks have presented Frank Gilbert, manager of the Transfer Co., with a handsome gold ring, as a token of thanks for his services to them on May Day.

The price of stock in the Foster Milling and Mining Co. has increased three-fold during the past few weeks. People say the price will go higher yet.

The semi-annual examinations are ordered to be held in this city as follows: In the girls' school June 15th, in the boys' school, June 16th, and in the high school on June 17th.

The opium smugglers have resorted to a new method of evading the customs laws. Large quantities of the drug are believed to be taken to Southern California ports in lumber and coal vessels from Victoria

Rev. Dr. Williams delivered a most eloquent and forcible address on temperance in the Skating Rink last night. The audience was not so large as it might have been, but those who were present thoroughly appreciated the lecturer's remarks.

The Teaser is nearly completed and awaits the arrival of her boiler, which has been made in Toronto and is now on its way via the N.P.R., and expected to arrive this week. The name of the steamer is to be changed to something more euphonious. In three weeks at most she is expected to be on her old route.

A farmer in Greensboro, Md., thinking to change his grade of potatoes, barrelled all that he had, shipped them to Baltimore, and ordered a few barrels of extra fine northern potatoes for seed. While barrelling his own tubers he lost his spectacles. When he received his northern seed potatoes he found his missing spectacles in one of the barrels. Such things destroy confidence.—New York Sun.

Thos. Sabin, of Eglington, says: "I have removed ten corns from my feet with Holloway's Corn Cure." Reader, go thou and do likewise.

ACCIDENT.—William McKee, a son of John McKee, of Boundary Bay, while taking part in some of the races on the 24th, at Boundary Bay, fell from his horse and broke his leg. The wounded leg at last reports is rapidly improving.

RIFLE MATCH.—The following is the result of the rifle match held on the 24th inst.: 200 yard range—1st J. H. Sharpe, 2nd E. S. Scoullar, 3rd J. Reisenbach; 400 yard range—1st E. H. Fletcher, 2nd E. S. Scoullar, 3rd D. Wilson; 500 yard range—1st E. H. Fletcher, 2nd L. F. Bonson, 3rd J. H. Sharpe; 600 yard range—1st T. Forfar, 2nd D. Wilson, 3rd L. F. Bonson.

NO ONE BUYS A "PIG IN POKE"—in other words, purchases on mere guesswork—who buys for his or her relief Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. The fact is too well known to leave room for any peradventure that it is a sovereign curative for Indigestion, Costiveness, Impurities of the Blood, Kidney and Female troubles, and other infirmities.

CONTRACTS.—H. B. Beckett & Co., of Haney, have been awarded the masonry work of Mr. Duncan's new hotel on Columbia st. Turnbull Bros., of this city, have secured the carpenter work, and E. S. Scoullar & Co. the plumbing and galvanized iron cornice work. The total cost is estimated at about $13,000. There were 8 tenders for this contract, varying from $12,500 to $16,000.

MARRIAGE.—Last evening, at the residence of the bride's father, Miss Mary Davidson, daughter of Mr. D. Davidson of this city, formerly lady principal of the public school, was united in marriage to Geo. Logie, of Empire City, Coos county, Oregon, by the Rev. Thos. Scouler. The bride was the recipient of some handsome gifts. The groom presented her with a diamond set, and the groom's brother gave her an elegant pearl set. The newly married couple left by the Rithet this morning for the home of the groom. We wish them happiness and success.

SOAP.—Somebody has said that soap is one of the sure marks of civilization. But there are soaps and soaps. Some of the stuff sold as soap is simply a delusive conglomerate that would be more precisely described if it had been labelled "dirt." In another column our readers will find an announcement from one of the oldest and most reliable soap manufactories on the Pacific coast. Pendray & Co., of Victoria, have done for British Columbia what Frank Siddalls has done for the United States and Pears for England and the world—furnished a good, clean, reliable soap, as almost every household in the country is able to testify.

THE PUBLIC MEETING.—A meeting of the citizens was held last evening in the Hyack Hall to consider the dismissal of Mr. Jackson and Mr. McBroom. Mr. Jas. Robinson, C.M.C., in the absence of the mayor, called the meeting to order. Mr. Wm. Johnson was elected chairman and Mr. D. McGregor was elected secretary. Mr. J. C. Armstrong, on rising, said that this was a matter that as many citizens as possible should attend to, and as other attractions had left the attendance rather limited, he moved for an adjournment to Friday evening. Mr. A. M. Herring seconded the motion, which was carried without a dissenting voice.

HOW IT WORKS.—The advantage of receiving our Victoria mails by way of Burrard Inlet is well illustrated by the experience of yesterday and to-day. Yesterdap the mail came by steamer, and arrived at 5:45 p. m. To-day it came by the inlet, and was conveyed by stage from Vancouver to this city, where it arrived at 10:30 a. m. The difference between the two routes, by actual experience, is thus shown to be 6 hours and 15 minutes in favor of Burrard Inlet. We do not suppose the Rithet will always arrive as late as she did yesterday, or that the mail stage from Vancouver will always arrive as early as it did to-day, but we could always count on receiving Victoria mails by way of the inlet about four hours sooner at least than we shall receive them with the present steamboat service.

Personal.

Capt. Stewart left to-day for Toronto via the C.P.R. Mr. Stewart goes east to purchase boilers and an engine for his new steamer, which is now in course of construction.

Benjamin Burr, wife and family, arrived yesterday direct from England. Mr. Burr is a brother of Joseph Burr and a brother-in-law of Wm. Johnson, of this city. It is his intention to take up his residence here.

Thos. Briggs, father of T. L. Briggs, C.P.N. agent in this city, arrived direct from Ontario to-day. Mr. Briggs is a very old gentleman although he is of erect carriage and looks hale and hearty. This is his first visit to Westminster.

Alex. Cunningham, who was one of the delegates from this city to the Y. M. C. A. convention at San Francisco, returned to the city yesterday. He reports that the convention was a splendid success, and the reception given to the delegates was extremely cordial and gratifying.

Qbeen's Birthday at Ladner's.

(Correspondence of the Columbian.)

The loyal citizens of this settlement opened their holiday at Boundary Bay with a capital programme of horse races and athletic sports, a large number of people turning out to witness the sports, over 400 being on the course. The first race was won by Mr. Jordan's "Kate," Mr. Pybus' "Buckskin" being second. The second race was won by the Indian mare Chewasen; the third race by Mr. C. F. Green's Lucy, the fourth by C. F. Green's Punch, and the last by C. F. Green's Gin Mule. A most distressing accident occurred to our popular municipal clerk, Wm. McKee. While riding Mr. W. H. Ladner's horse in the second race the saddle slipped around and the horse threw its rider, breaking his leg. Dr. McInnes was in attendance as soon as possible, and we are sure all will be glad to hear that we may expect to see the clerk around again in the course of three weeks. The athletic sports were well contested. The festivities were brought to a close with a ball at the town hall in the evening, at which 60 couples were present, and the dancing was kept up till 2 o'clock in the morning. At least one couple will remember this last Queen's Birthday at Ladner's.

The Dead.

William Brabazon, earl of Meath and baron of Ardee, died to-day in London, at 84 years of age.

Thomas Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes: "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief. I got a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and found it gave instant relief, and since then have had no attack. I would recommend it to all."

Defences for B.C.

AN INCREASE TO BE MADE AT ONCE.

Changing the Name of the Banff Park.

OTTAWA, May 26.—[Special.]—The Dominion government will at once increase the defences in British Columbia. A battery of artillery will be established at Esquimalt, near Victoria, and with a view to making the corps thoroughly permanent, the imperial authorities have been asked to send out a hundred men from the British army reserve to form a nucleus.

The name of the Canadian National Park in the Rocky mountains has been changed to Rocky Mountain Park of Canada.

Communications.

Wednesday's Meeting.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN.—The writer was present last evening at the public meeting which was called by the friends of the discharged constables. There were very few present, owing, perhaps, to the fact of the temperance lecture and other meetings being held at the same time. The meeting was called to order, but for lack of an audience it was adjourned. It appears to me that this movement by the people in behalf of those who have been notified to quit is very much like the case of the scene depicted by Rev. Sam Jones in his address to the mothers of Toronto. "Mothers," he said, "are as a rule too indulgent, and when they attempted to curtail the privileges of the daughters there was generally a big row—the too-much-indulged daughters would not stand the curb-rein, but would kick, and sometimes would kick their mothers, who had indulged and spoiled them." The city fathers have been very much like mothers who are responsible for spoiling their daughters.

JAS. KENNEDY.

Delta Council.

The council met at the town hall on Wednesday, the 18th inst. Present, the reeve, and Councillors Arthur, Ladner, Pybus, and Kittson.

The following communications were received and ordered filed: From H. Hoffat, Hon. Lieut. Governor, Hon. Provincial Secretary, W. S. Gove, and P. W. Swett.

A number of accounts were passed and ordered paid.

The award of Mr. Pybus on the Green road was accepted; also, D. A. McKee's tender for trunk road was accepted.

The clerk was instructed to call for tenders for 60 chains of a road on Crescent Island.

The sum of $500 was appropriated for Crescent Creek outlet.

Coun. Pybus gave notice that he would introduce a highway by-law at next meeting of council.

The clerk was instructed to call for tenders for about one mile of ditch along the south side of trunk road.

Mr. Wm. McKee was appointed road supervisor.

On motion, the clerk was instructed to notify W. H. Burr to have the dead horse removed from Crescent Slough.

The clerk was instructed to call for tenders for one-half mile of road along Canoe Pass; also, one bridge.

Council then adjourned.

Amos Hudgin, Toronto, writes: "I have been a sufferer from Dyspepsia for the past six years. All the remedies tried were useless, until Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure was brought under my notice. I have used two bottles with the best results, and can with confidence recommend it to those afflicted in like manner."

A Few Maxims on How to Get Rich.

Live up to your engagements.

Earn money before you spend it.

Never play at any game of chance.

Drink no kind of intoxicating liquor.

Good character is above all things else.

Keep your own secrets, if you have any.

Keep good company or none. Never be idle.

Never borrow if you can possibly avoid it.

Always speak the truth. Make few promises.

Do not marry until you are able to support a wife.

Keep yourself innocent if you would be happy.

Ever live (misfortune excepted) within your income.

When you speak to a person look him in the face.

Make no haste to be rich, if you would prosper.

Save when you are young to spend when you are old.

Avoid temptation, through fear you may not withstand it.

Never speak evil of anyone. Be just before you are generous.

Never run into debt unless you see plainly a way to get out again.

Small and steady gains give competency with tranquility of mind.

Good company and good conversation are the very sinews of virtue.

Your character cannot be essentially injured except by your own acts.

If any one speaks evil of you, let your life be so that none will believe him.

When you retire to bed think over what you have been doing during the day.

If your hands cannot be usefully employed, attend to the cultivation of your mind.—New York Mail.
