'JURY' NOT IMPRESSED WITH VERDICT

BC Tel offers compromise

ALDERGROVE - Twelve men and women good and true were "summoned to jury duty" in Matsqui Saturday morning.

The twelve, who were only introduced to one another by first name, had answered a call by Marktrend Marketing Research to meet at the King Road Centre at 10 a.m. Each of the "jurors" was paid $25 for the trouble.

Welcomed by Marktrend's Roger Barnes and his secretary, the twelve were later described by a participant as "mainly seniors or middle aged men and women." Only one, said Ron Gornischeff, 35, was in his early twenties.

A tape recorder was turned on by Barnes, and a woman participant was told: Sorry, no notes. Another woman was told that her daughter would have to leave.

And only then, the purpose of the exercise was revealed. Marktrend, it was explained, had been hired by B.C. Tel to get together 12 people from the Aldergrove 856-exchange, over 18 years of age, and find out what they thought of the telephone company.

Here's how it was later explained by Gornischeff:

"He (Barnes) talked generalities, but pretty soon the question of long distance to Vancouver was brought up by us."

Barnes, it appears, did seem a bit annoyed, but he had come prepared.

"He set up big cardboard posters with different proposals as alternatives to the free toll calling (between Aldergrove and Vancouver)."

One of the schemes proposed that for $10 extra a month, individual Aldergrove telephone subscribers could enjoy up to one hour a month of toll free calling between Vancouver and Chilliwack on evenings and weekdays. Another proposal suggested an extra fee of $12 a month which would give the Aldergrove subscriber one free hour a month on a 24-hour basis. And a third

Projects assessed

MURRAYVILLE - A joint committee of the city and township has finally established a set of guidelines for what the two Langleys are prepared to spend (if they get the blessing of the taxpayers) on building a recreation centre and pool in Walnut Grove, a third ice arena, and a new library in Aldergrove.

The library is the cheap item on the list: a mere $150,000.

More expensive is the rec centre-pool, at a cool $3-million. This is topped by the ice rink, at $3.1-million.

There is nothing yet on the proposed new Langley cultural arts centre, but it is generally recognized among those in the know that this will cost an amazing $10-million plus.

The four projects will be presented to the township voters as a one-ticket item at a money referendum later this year.

Fair fun returns this weekend

ALDERGROVE - Mark June 10, 11 and 12 on your calendar and come to Aldergrove and enjoy the fun that has been planned.

Friday marks the beginning of the weekend with the Remax Air Balloon at the Aldergrove Centre Mall. Then walk inside and hear the music of Al Chester playing old time waltz. A casino is being held at the Aldergrove Legion from 7 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Try your luck.

For the teens there is a dance at the Aldergrove ice arena from 7 to 11 p.m. at a cost of $4 for advance tickets or $5 at the door. Tickets are available at all Langley school district high schools. Dance to the sound of Garry Robertson Music Systems. Door prizes will be given away by local DJ Joe Nicholls of 1040 KIKS.

Friday night is also the night for the Queens Ball to be held at the Elks hall. This event starts at 7 p.m. with dinner and 9 to 11 p.m. with dancing to the sounds of 32nd Avenue. Tickets available at the Aldergrove Centre Mall, the Aldergrove Chamber of Commerce and from all Miss Aldergrove Pageant contestants. Gift presentations will be made to all Miss Aldergrove contestants.

Gloucester moving

ALDERGROVE - The Gloucester industrial park project north of the Trans Canada Highway between 264 Street and 276 Street is finally under way.

After fighting various levels of government bureaucracy for nearly 15 years, the developers have recently received local government approval, and bulldozing to prepare for the first phase of the 640-acre project is now being done.

First stage of the project should be progressing rapidly this summer, according to company spokesmen.

ONE MORE SWING AT CITY HALL

Separatists back

By RUDY LANGMANN

ALDERGROVE - The separatist movement is not dead here.

"Long live free Aldergrove" has been the battle cry now and again among residents of this town whenever they feel that the community is not getting a fair deal from the powers that be in Langley city and township.

The idea was perhaps first conceived many years ago when Mt. Lehman resident Douglas Taylor was mayor of Matsqui. Doug proposed then that in order for Aldergrove to get somewhere, it must cast off the shackles of both Langley and Matsqui; in short break away and form a new municipality of Aldergrove. North-to-south borders at 240 Street and Mt. Lehman Road were suggested.

Since then, the concept of secession has re-surfaced a number of times with slight variations.

Now, it appears, the Aldergrove business community is about to embrace the idea.

A local businessman and leader in the chamber of commerce indicated to The Star last week that he and a number of his colleagues will be using it as leverage with Langley township council.

They are upset, he said, for a number of reasons. All economical, of course.

What has rekindled the flame is basically two separate issues: The fact that a $10-million-plus cultural arts centre is being promoted for the western end of the township (while no tax money will be spent in Aldergrove), and the controversial B.C. Transit scheme that will see Aldergrove contribute heavily to an overall transit system in the lower mainland while reaping little of the benefits.

"Again, we are the forgotten community," said the leading local citizen.

He added that it will be discussed at an upcoming meeting of the local chamber of commerce. A committee will be set up to study the separatist idea, and township councilors in Murrayville will be told that unless they start giving Aldergrove its fair share of the tax spending (and the $150,000 donation to the new community centre is "not enough") the town will be going its own way.

'Long live free Aldergrove!'

Spending okay

Free-calling alternatives rejected by panel proposal explained that for $3.50 a month, subscribers would be given a 35 percent discount on their first $30 worth of long distance calls to the same areas.

None of the proposals seemed acceptable to the 12 men and women.

"It was really a pacifier," said Gornischeff, "and we all recognized it as such."

Instead of this piece of marketing research, he said, B.C. Tel should call a town meeting where all telephone subscribers in the 856-exchange would have the opportunity to be heard.

"As far as I know, there was not one single Aldergrove businessman on the panel,"Gornischeff said. "There were several farmers, housewives, retired people, and one with a daughter in Vancouver Childrens Hospital. All except for a couple, had phone bills of $50 to $100 per month."

In the past, B.C. Tel has argued against toll free calling by saying that it is only the business community that wants this.

In the mid 1970's, B.C. Tel conducted an official subscriber survey to find out if their Aldergrove customers really wanted toll free calling to and from the city. This followed an unofficial survey done by the Aldergrove Star. More than 60 percent of the B.C. Tel respondents said 'yes'.

A senior company official said after that referendum had been held that toll free calling would be introduced within a couple of years. Later, however, B.C. Tel pleaded their case with the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunication Commission in Hull, Quebec, that the company would be losing "millions of dollars annually" in long distance revenue if Aldergrove were to enjoy toll free calling to Vancouver. Noting more was done about it.

Since then, sporadically, the issue has been used by aspiring and incumbent local politicians during election campaigns. The case is briefly resurrected and then quickly forgotten again once the political campaign is over.

Perhaps Gornischeff's suggested "town hall" forum could bring the case back to life again and settle once and for all if telephone subscribers in Aldergrove are willing to pay a few dollars more each month in order to enjoy unlimited toll free calling to the metropolis, just like other residents of Langley township.

Rapid growth foreseen in Fraser Valley

It took 100 years for the lower mainland of British Columbia to become home to 1.5 million people - but it will take only 30 years to add another million, according to a University of B.C. professor.

Dr. Walter Hardwick warns the province must begin getting ready to house an unprecedented rush of new residents.

Hardwick, the founder of the Knowledge Network and both a former MLA and City of Vancouver alderman, told a lunch seminar in Vancouver that there are solid reasons to forecast a rapid rise in Greater Vancouver population. He notes there is an echo baby boom coming, as more young people marry and have children, there is an increase in immigration to British Columbia from other provinces and a parallel increase in overseas immigration.

"It is a reasonable scenario to forecast the Greater Vancouver regional district will see one million more residents within the next 30 years," Hardwick said, adding, "Vancouver is seen as a preferred destination for many immigrants, from the Middle East, Europe and Asia."

Hardwick warned however that the housing market could become so overheated that it could drive people away.

Hardwick told his audience of builders and developers that there are only three options to generate more affordable housing, which he claims is the single most important aspect to encourage higher population growth. These options are to decentralize people and work to other, small centres around the province; to increase housing density in core areas; or to create countervailing" downtowns close to Vancouver.

Decentralizing industry and population to small towns in the north and interior, however, is unrealistic, the professor said, because of the vast distances involved; higher density will be fought hard by local residents, which may take it too slow to be effective. The only viable option, Hardwick concluded, was to create entire new downtown cores, perhaps in the Fraser Cheam area of the southern Fraser Valley, on the Sunshine Coast or on Vancouver Island, which would require a fixed link from the lower mainland.

The government could build a fixed link to Nanaimo, which is only 20 miles from downtown Vancouver, for about the same cost as the Coquihalla Highway and SkyTrain combined ($1.8-billion), Hardwick argues.

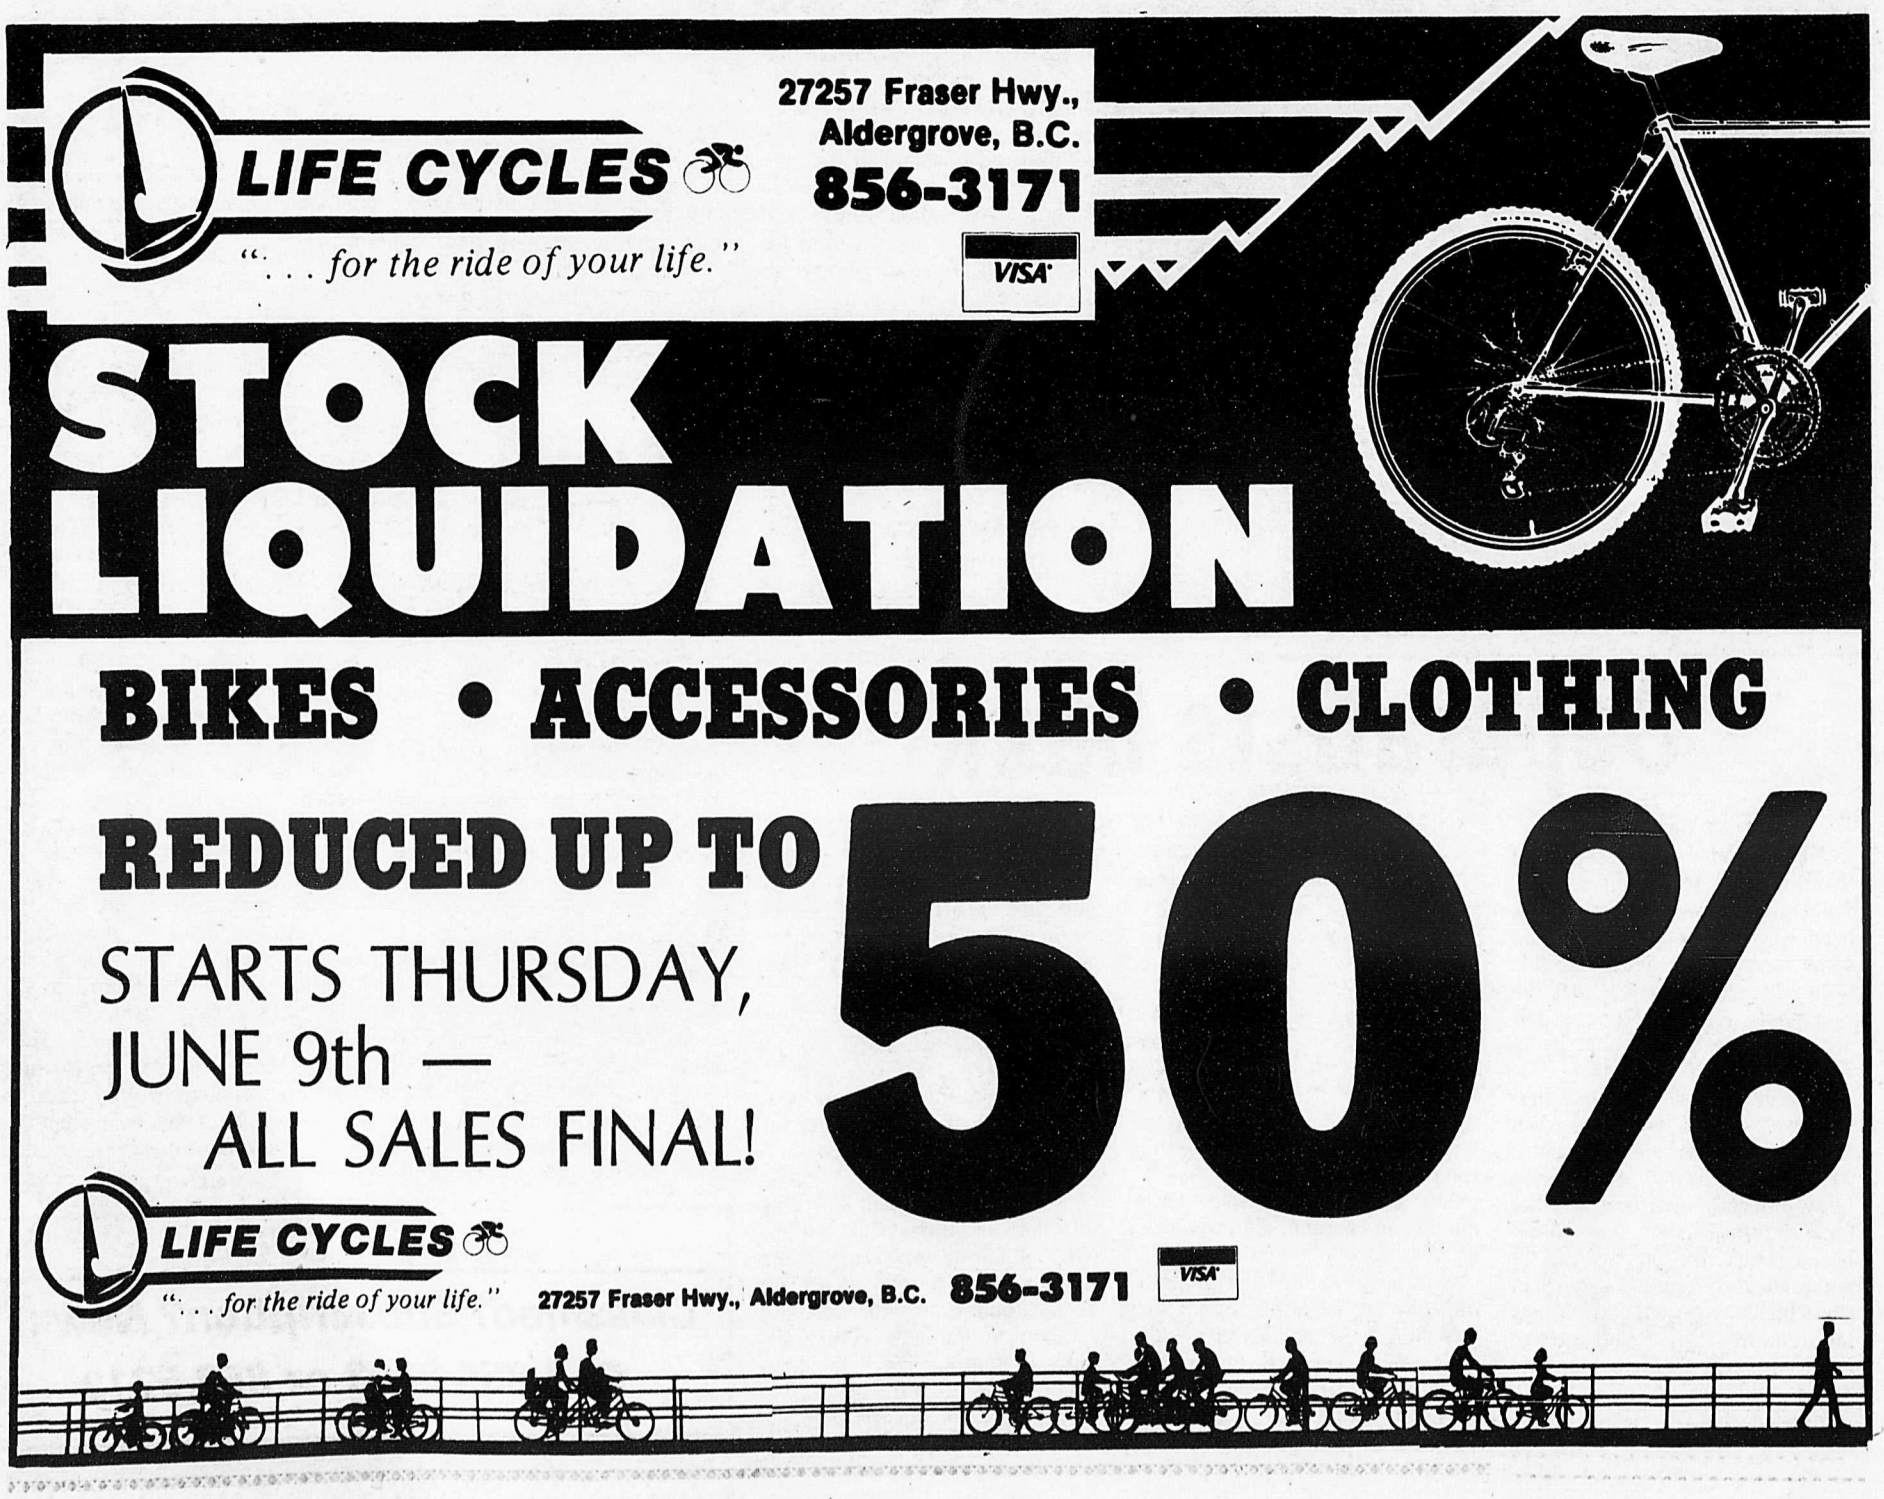
"We have to plan big," Hardwick said, "because we simply cannot afford high priced housing. We must develop ways to increase the stock of housing."

Boom also expected in U.S.

SEATTLE - A new study by the Puget Sound Council of Governments projects that the population in the four-county central Puget Sound area will almost double in a little more than 30 years.

Grace Byrne, a council analyst, said the study shows that population in the year 2020 should hit four million in King, Snohomish, Pierce and Kitsap counties, up from today's 2.5 million.

It could, however, range between a high of nearly 4.7 million and a low of 3.1 million, depending on economics and other factors, Byrne said.



AFTER POLICE SIEGE

Gunman surrenders

LANGLEY- A heavily - armed 27 year-old man held police tactical squads at bay for close to 13 hours Sunday in a quiet residential neighborhood on Brown Road.

The drama moved to Langley early Sunday morning when RCMP officers approached the home on Strawberry Hill. They came to arrest the occupant for possible involvement in an armed robbery in North Vancouver the previous evening. The get-away car had been traced to the Langley residence.

It ended when several emergency response team members tackled the young man after he walked out of the house under siege. He was hustled into an unmarked police car and taken to the Burnaby RCMP detachment's lock-up.

In the hours in betweeen, neighbors were evacuated from their homes, and police orders for the man to give himself up were broadcast through a bullhorn.

A young woman was allowed to walk out of the home early in the morning. Police learned that the man had at least three fully loaded handguns and a high-powered rifle with him in an upstairs room at the house. Several times he shouted to the police that he intended to commit suicide.

Meanwhile, 15 officers in combat fatigues and armed with automatic weapons from Langley, Surrey and Burnaby, took up positions surrounding the house.

Late in the afternoon, when the young man's parents returned from a weekend drive, his stepfather talked him into surrender.

Tim Lounsbury, of the Langley Rotary Club, hands Sheryl Strongitharm, Aldergrove Community Centre fundraising co-ordinator, a cheque for $1000 to assist in the development of the center, shown in the background.

showing improvements to sidewalks, landscaping and street lighting along Jackman Road (272 Street) between 28 Avenue and Fraser Highway.

The firm of Aplin and Martin has been charged with the responsibility of coming up with ideas to "enhance the image" of Aldergrove.

Improvements are to be considered by council for inclusion in the township's 1989 budget.

"It is hoped the design will provide an example and encourage further public and private improvement in Aldergrove," says township planner Brian Franklin.

Ald. John Scholtens says he is "happy to see activity in Aldergrove and to see the town moving ahead."

Taxes hit homeowners

MATSQUI - Lower mainland homeowners are going to get another stern lesson from their school tax increases this year.

The heaviest hit municipality appears to be Matsqui. Matsqui homeowners will be told their overall taxes are going up 15.5 percent, with school taxes going up a whopping 18.48 percent and general municipal levies up 4.96 percent.

For a home worth $80,000 that translates into a total increase of $160.

"Our council was trying to do the responsible thing and keep the general tax below five percent," Matsqui deputy treasurer Jim Trueman said. "All our efforts were for naught."

TOWN TALK

How do you reckon?

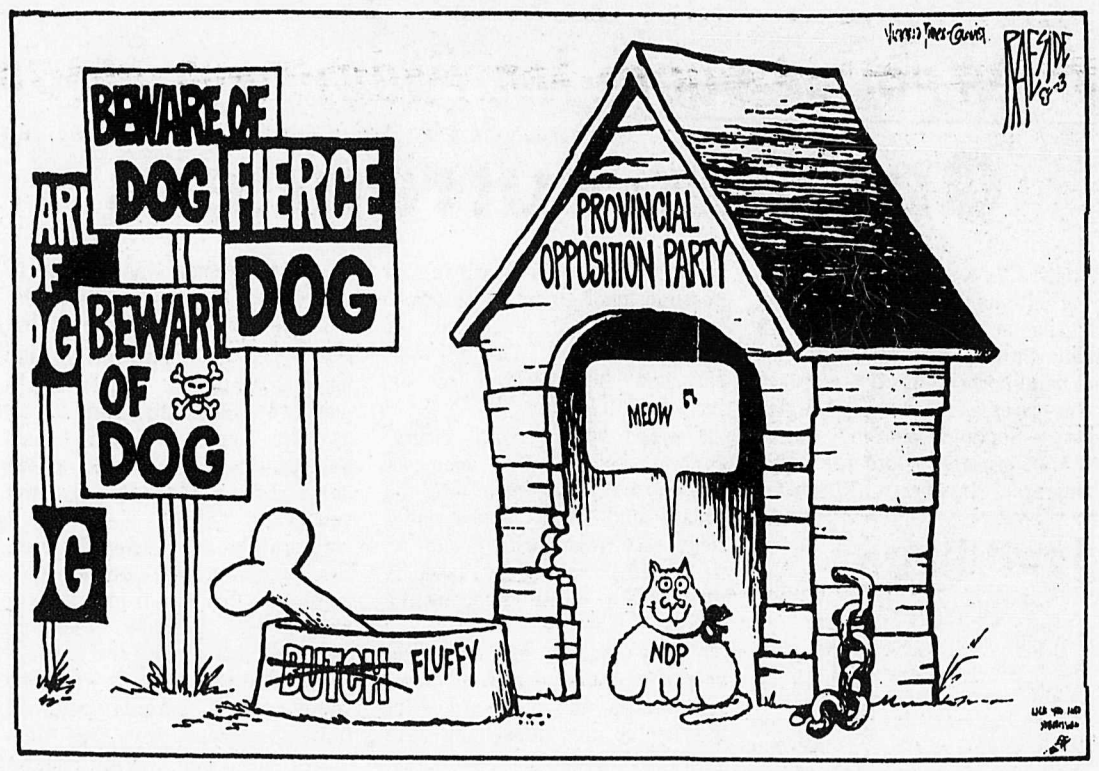
By RUDY LANGMANN

When they talk nonchalantly of eight billion dollars, I hope they reckon in French or US billions .. not the British sort.

According to my Funk & Wagnalls: Bil-lion (bil'-yun) noun 1. In the United States and France, a thousand millions (1,000,000,000). 2. In England, a million millions (1,000,000,000,000).

If the contract for the federal government's new toy of 10 nuclear-powered submarines goes to the French, it will only cost you, your wife and children $320 each. But I am not sure, if the Brits get the contract, that it will cost each of you $320,000.00.

Small wonder they are fighting over the deal.



Mechanism needed to reprimand reporters

PENTICTON — There should be a mechanism to reprimand reporters who write biased, unblanced stories, Premier Bill Vander Zalm said Friday.

He told the British Columbia Association of Broadcasters that while there is no need for someone to police what the media report, there should be appeal procedures in the industry to hear complaints about stories that haven't fairly presented all relevant issues.

There is currently a B.C. Press Council which adjudicates complaints against its member publications. Membership is voluntary.

The premier's remark about biased reporting came up during a question period following a speech at this Okanagan city in which he said reporters tend to ignore positive government announcements and play up negative stories.

The premier also objected to how the media "can take so much and condense it to so little."

He said he announced Thursday that Abbotsford will be the home of an international aerospace show starting in 1989, and while many reporters were present, no one asked any questions.

"I couldn't resist picking up the mike and saying, 'look, we have a great positive message here. Where's the questions?'"

He said a recent $150 million funding announcement for Vancouver General Hospital resulted in one headline which read: VGH Funds Not Enough.

"There are many great messages. There is mueh happening in the province, but when the opposition and some of the media present it in a way whereby it tends to take on the appearance of (being) not enough, it comes out very negative and really, it denies our people, British Columbians, the enthusiasm and the pride which could so much help build our province.

"There's a great deal happening in the province. And all of you that are involved in the media can help present the message effectively throughout all your regions in order to build that pride, build that enthusiasm. When your business is good, our business is good."

Black warns of 'debt bomb'

Canada's comprehensive welfare system has created "a debt-bomb that will almost certainly detonate in the next full parliamentary term", publishing and business magnate Conrad Black has told members of the Fraser Institute.

Black said the federal deficit and taxes are too high and the government will not be able to withstand a recession and an increase in interest rates without overhauling the national economic system. Black singled out regional transfer payments as a major problem for the federal government.

He said Canada is the only country in the history of the world which has set regional economic equality as a national objective.

"Of course, this is an unworkable proposition," he said. "People must seek our resources. You cannot bring resources to people and the result of trying to do that has been a grotesque deformation of elemental economic laws."

CONRAD BLACK
...taxes too high

"We have mutualized the country to the benefit of unproductive people, and at the heavy expense of the country's producers."

Black said disadvantaged regions must be helped but that Canadians "don't do ourselves a favor by trying to repeal all laws of nature and economics."

He said some of the blame for Canadians' pursuit of the "unachievable" goal of regional economic equality can be laid at the feet of the "academic-bureaucratic-journalistic complex."

Black said that triumvirate has governed the country almost uninterruptedly since the collapse of John Diefenbaker's government in 1963. He said it is unwaveringly committed to the welfare state, high taxes and a "civilized antagonism" towards the U.S.

He said journalists have fed "a dreary and unimaginative and soft-left anaesthetic" to the public which has helped make Canada's movement to the right "pallid and tentative."

However, he said he is convinced the Canadian government will eventually have to follow other industrialized nations and deemphasize economic equality "in favor of the maximization of individual liberty particularly liberty from excessive taxation and regulation."

Black and New Zealand's finance mininster Roger Douglas addressed the Fraser Institute's annual general meeting in Vancouver. Asked to speak on the future of conservatism, Black chronicled Canada's recent history as a nation of ambigious moderates, while also launching a spirited defense of conservatism.

"I need not tell you that conservatives are not, and must not allow themselves to be caricatured as, extremists," said Black. "It is not true that conservatives don't care. They often care far more than those who would confide the allocation of prosperity to the state. Conservatives believe in a safety net, but they also believe that the best welfare system is greater job creation and that the best way to prosperity is through incentive, and that in foreign affairs, the surest guarantee of peace is strength."

Amnesty considered

OTTAWA — Immigration Minister Barbara MacDougall said Friday she will consider a general amnesty for an estimated 50,000 people claiming to be refugees only after two controversial immigration bills are declared law.

A general amnesty is one of three options the government has to deal with a backlog of refugee claimants, MacDougall told the Commons.

"I will not make a decision on those (options) until the bills are up and running. That is the most important priority for this department."

Two pieces of legislation introduced in mid-1987 were subject to Senate scrutiny through public hearings and amendments. One bill, C-55, is still in the Senate awaiting final approval to a host of amendments.

The Toronto Star reported Friday that the government plans an administrative review similar to the program used in 1986 under which 25,000 refugee claimants were granted landed-immigrant status after a departmental assessment. The Star said the review was part of a refugee claimant registry.

But the minister said the refugee claimant registry, initiated in the spring of 1986, simply counts the claims currently being processed along with vital information about the people involved.

MacDougall would not deny the suggestion that department officials are laying the groundwork for a general amnesty by collecting information through the registry.

As for an amnesty, she said: "I'm not ruling out anything but I'm not ruling anything in either."

Besides amnesty, the other options outlined by MacDougall include an administrative review, whereby refugees can be declared landed immigrants if they meet certain criteria, or the appointment of a temporary working group to help process the claims more quickly.

The two bills have been harshly criticized as abusive by the opposition, human rights organizations and refugee aid groups.

One bill, C-84, introduced last summer as emergency legislation, would allow the government to turn back ships suspected of carrying illegal immigrants.

It was sent back to the Commons twice by the Senate which approved major changes that were rejected by the government. The legislation is currently in the hands of MacDougall who is awaiting further action on the companion piece — Bill C-55.

That bill would speed the process for screening bogus refugees and a Senate committee has recommended changes to 12 clauses. The Senate is expected to approve the changes and basically alter the bill. It would then have to return to the Commons.

Both the Senate and the Commons must approve identical versions before any legislation can be eventually proclaimed law.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Blatant thievery

Editor, The Star, Sir,

It would be nice if the Aldergrove residents came together as one voice and complained with one vote that OVERTAXING by the government is a CRIME.

Politicians could then be charged with mismanagement and-or fined and sacked for blatant thievery of the poor and the middle class. The majority who can never get ahead due to taxes and working hard to pay them.

Another case of the feudal system. When are the Aldergrovians going to stand up and say "we're not going to take it any more"?

Thanks to carriers

Editor, The Star, Sir,

Seventy years ago when the CNIB was founded the first braille book was delivered by a letter carrier to a blind Canadian. Thousands of talking book pouches are now delivered each week in British Columbia and the Yukon.

We would like to thank the letter carriers for delivering CNIB's talking book pourches and the sacks of braille books to blind and visually impaired persons. For many the enjoyment these books bring and the hours of loneliness they help fill means a great deal. This is especially true for those who are home-bound.

We want letter carriers to know that every time they deliver a talking book pouch a visually impaired person may enjoy up to twenty-four hours of a best-selling novel, a rip-roaring Western, an interesting biography or a popular Canadian magazine.

BACK FROM JAPAN

Bruins bring home the silver

The Aldergrove Peewee Minor Hockey team travelled to Japan in May and took a silver in the Hachinohne tournament.

The team played five exhibition games, winning all but one. In the tournament they played another five games.

They took a win from Hachinohne South, 5-0. The next game was a 9-5 victory over Nikko and then the team defeated Tasasi 5-3 in the following game. In their fourth game, they beat White Bear Junior by a score of 5-1.

But they dropped the final game to Sapphro, 7-2.

Sapphro finished first in the tournament, Aldergrove was second, and White Bear Junior third.

Most Valuable Players for the final games were Shawn Wasykiewicz and Jason Flint.

The team tourned around the country and enjoyed the many sights and sounds.

The coaching staff and players would like to thank all the following sponsors for donations and services: Richie Smith Feeds, Otter Co-op, Aldergrove Legion No. 265, Aldergrove Elks, McGavins Ltd., McDonald Canada, McMillan Bloedel, the Aldergrove Thrift Shop, Clearbrook Grain and Milling, Hall's Meats, LFUHA, Rotary Club Langley Central, Canada Cement LaFarge Ltd., MLA's Carol Gran and Dan Peterson, Township of Langley, and all the people of Aldergrove for their support in fund-raising events.

Funds for Matsqui trail work

BURNABY - The Greater Vancouver regional district board has approved $12,000 to carry out improvements at Matsqui Trail regional park in the area of the James sewage treatment plant in Matsqui.

The work to be carried out involves improved trail access in the area around the plant.

Matsqui Trail, one of 15 GVRD parks in the lower mainland, runs for 10 km along the south side of the Fraser River.

Walk trophies awarded

Winners were:

Brookswood secondary school (Hanson trophy), Otter elementary school (Langley Doctors and Langley School Teachers trophies), Noel Both elementary school (Langley Municipal trophy), C. Britco Building Systems Ltd. of Langley have built two prefabricated gas stations for the Mohawk Oil Company, which are being installed in Langley and Richmond.

The Britco designed and manufactured stations have a retail Kiosk, gas pumps, and an overhead canopy in one piece with a structured steel frame.

The whole unit can be moved by truck and dropped in by crane.

"The major advantages of prefabricated, factory-built gas stations are found in the speedy construction and the completeness of the finished unit," says Jack Gin, Britco's director of marketing.

"The gas stations are manufactured in our Langley factory, delivered by truck, and lowered into place by crane in a matter of hours," Gin adds. "The time-consuming details of setting up a new retail facility were taken care of beforehand.

"Essentially, the gas retailer gets and instant station and immediate cash flow."

The Mohawk stations arrived virtually complete and ready to open, with all furnishings and all electrical and mechanical systems.

The 11 foot by 46 foot gas bar features a precase concrete floor, storefront glazing, built-in heavy steel money safe, operator's room, electrical power room with transformer, custom designed cash counter, and an overhead air-conditioner.

"This combination of cost and time savings is very important to Mohawk," says Gordon Winter, vice-president for the oil retailer.

Miss Aldergrove a town first

The first Miss Aldergrove has been named.

Michelle Brunoro was crowned Miss Aldergrove last Friday night at Aldergrove Secondary School.

First runner-up went to Kelly Flannery, second runner-up was Shannon Paterson and Miss Congeniality went to Kyna Evans.

The pageant, which started at 7:00 p.m., was opened by our Fraser Valley West MP, Bob Wenman. From there, the very talented group of girls performed a dance number and Amanda Stanley and Corrie Lundstrom sang one song each.

While the judges decided on the winners, Aldergrove's Whisky River Band played a number of golden oldies.

Then it was time for the main event.

The girls were all asked questions and gave responses accordingly. When they were all lined up on the stage, it was time for the envelope.

Ken Birchall, of Langley's UP Radio 800 reflected that all of them were winners and he wished they could all win.

Kyna Evans was crowned Miss Congeniality by the 1988 Miss Abbotsford Congeniality. Second runner-up, Shannon Paterson was crowned by the Miss Langley and Miss Abbotsford Princesses. First runner-up was crowned by Miss Ridge Meadows and Miss Langley Princesses.

Riders pick up cards in fun ride

The Langley Roadriders held a Poker Ride last Sunday and vice-president of the club says the combination of great weather and a variety of people made it a fantastic ride.

"It was just a group of good people having a lot of good times!" said Merchison.

Over 30 people turned out for the ride, which wound it's way through the Langley and Matsqui areas and then back to the Fernridge Community Hall for a hearty meal.

Trophies were given to both top riders and passengers, based on the highest poker hand. A set of five cards were picked up individually along the route.

First place rider Dennis Duhamel received a trophy and $100 gift certificate from Carter Honda. A $50 certificate and trophy went to Rudy Steinfeld and third place rider Herb Broerken gathered a trophy and $25 certificate.

The passengers with the best hands were awarded gift certificates and trophies. They were: Teresa Taylor, Corri Becker and Carol Taylor.

Midget 'B' girls win tourney

LANGLEY - The Langley midget "B" Rep girls have won their second consecutive tournament, this time placing first in White Rock's midget "B" contest. The girls finished up the round robin play with a record of 3 - 1, and this was good enough for second place position going into the playoff round. Victories came over Guildford 12-4, Abbotsford 10-5, White Rock 7-0 (forfeit). The only loss came at the hands of Maple Ridge 6-2.

Entering the playoff round, Langley was pitted against Abbotsford again. The Langley girls started slowly, trailing 4-2 after two innings. The girls came to life in the fourth scoring 10 runs, then went on to win by a score of 16-7.

With this victory, Langley was matched up against Maple Ridge in the final. Once again Langley got off to a slow start trailing 2-0 after three innings. With a strong fourth inning, Langley managed to jump into a 4-2 lead. Maple Ridge scored one in the fifth to make it a one-run game after five.

Action got tense for the Langley girls in the sixth as Maple Ridge had runners at second and third with only one out. The next batter popped up to the infield. So with two out Langley chose to intentionally walk the next batter to load the bases and this set up the next out as the batter grounded to the short stop. In Langley's half of the sixth they drove in three more insurance runs. Maple Ridge was unable to score in the seventh giving Langley first place with a 7-3 victory.

Said Langley coach Mike Renney, "Even though there were times throughout the tourney when we played below expectations, the girls showed up to play when it counted and I was especially impressed with the composure displayed by our pitcher Sherri Aitken in the final game. She was instructed to intentionally walk a Ridge batter to load the bases in the sixth inning. Sherri got into a real battle with the next batter who must have fouled off about four pitches in a row, with the count two balls and two strikes, before finally grounding out to the short stop."

Join the fun and activities

From front

Saturday is packed with events such as a horseshoe tournament at the Legion, lots of entertainment for the whole family plus B.C. Lions Tyronne Crews, Sammy Green and Robert McGruder available for questions and autographs from noon til 5:30 at the Aldergrove Centre Mall.

One of the hghlights of the weekend is the parade. Judging begins at 8:30 a.m. at Countryside Shopping Centre. The parade begins at 10 a.m. from Countryside and proceeds to the Aldergrove Legion. The main event of the entire weekend, of course, is the 7th annual Aldergrove Festival slo pitch tournament and this year is the best ever with 32 teams entered. Refreshments will be available. This year there is also a five-game team bowling tournament. Team scratch 1000 handicap 80 percent. Pre-registration necessary at Alder Lanes or phone 856-2034. Select your day of June 10, 11 or 12 from 2 to 6 p.m.

Saturday evening there will be a steak barbecue and dance at the Aldergrove arena from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. Admission is $12.50 per person for the barbecue and dance or $8. per person for the dance only. Dance to the 50's to 80's sounds of rock 'n roll of the Juke Box Heroes. No minors allowed.

Sunday is again packed with events all being held at the Countryside Shopping Centre. These events include: a spaghetti eating contest, tug-o-war, and coupon draw. Also the annual outhouse race. Pack up your favorite outhouse and run like stink at the Countryside Shopping Centre.

Pick up your program from local merchants and see what is happening.

Entry forms are available at the Chamber of Commerce, Aldergrove Centre Mall or Celebrity Window Fashion in Countryside Shopping Centre.

Be sure to buy a button and enter the draw for weekend for two to Whistler.

Don't miss it!

Pie baking contest

Get out your 'special' pie recipe. It's time for the Aldergrove Festival Days Pie Baking Contest and cash prizes go to the top winners.

There are single and double crust categories and each category has prizes of $20 for first place, $15 for second, and $10 for third.

You also get most of your pie back, too!

Judging will be held outside Saan's in the Aldergrove Mall at 7 p.m. on Friday, June 10. Pies can be left anytime after 4:00 p.m.

The judges are Reverend Wayne Wattman of Aldergrove United Church, Brian Themasson, principal of Shortreed Elementary school, and Dr. Gordon Carnes of the Country Grove Veterinary Clinic.

Service honored

MURRAYVILLE - On Monday, June 6, at the Langley school board meeting, 24 employees received certificates recognizing 20 years of service to the district.

Media golf raises $25,000

VANCOUVER - The first annual "Ronald McDonald House Invitational" golf tournament has raised at least $25,000 for the non-profit society which operates "The house that love built".

The tournament, which attracted a full entry of 180 players, was presented by members of the British Columbia media in conjunction with McDonald's Restaurants of Canada and the University Golf Club.

NATURALISTS PLAN SEVERAL SUMMER OUTINGS

By JOHN CLEGHORN

Three members of the Langley Field Naturalists, Irene Pearce, Evelyn Oberg and Ann Carmichael attended the annual general meeting of the Federation of B.C. Naturalists in Williams Lake May 5 to 8. They reported interesting debate on the resoutions presented to the meeting and had time to enjoy a field trip to the Chilcotin grasslands through Farwell Canyon on Sunday.

On May 14, Mike Darney led a walk around Stanley Park sea wall to observe the waterfowl. Highlights of the trip were watching the cormorants nesting in the cliffs at Prospect Point and the sight of seagulls with their beaks full of purple starfish which they were unable to swallow at one gulp.

At the monthly meeting on May 20, Ray Gurr gave an informative talk, illustrated with slides, on his trek in Northern Ellesmere park. Last summer he was one of a small party which walked 120 kilometres in the park over a ten-day period. It was quite a strenuous hike with several rivers to be forded and glaciers to cross. Of particular interest were his slides of the resident muskox herd and of the wildflowers in bloom at that time.

The Wednesday evening walks will commence on June 1. Meet at the Arts Centre at 7 p.m. each Wednesday evening for a trip to one of the interesting spots in this area led by one of the members of the field naturalists. They will welcome anyone who is interested in observing the world around us.

Future field trips planned by the field naturalists are: June 11 to the Skagit Valley and Ross Lake, meet at 8:30 a.m. at the Arts Centre or at 10 a.m. at Smitty's Restaurant on the old Trans-Canada Highway at Silver Creek; June 19 to the Reifel Refuge, meet at 9 a.m. at the Arts Centre or at 9:45 a.m. at Reifel.

July 1, 2 and 3, a camping trip to Duffey Lake, Pemberton and Lillooet. For further information contact Mike Darney at 574-0001 or 581-6589.

The GVRD will present a program conducted by astronomers from Gordon Southam Observatory at Campbell Valley park on June 18 from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m. It will be at the barn at the Rowlatt farm near the 8 Avenue entrance to the park. The event is free and is entitled "Summer Sky Wonders". Come and enjoy the games for the children, a slide show and a look through the telescope at the summer sky.

The next meeting of the Langley Field Natrualists is June 17 at the Arts Centre. It will be too light for slides so the members will share their nature collections and their interesting experiences in the outdoors. All interested persons are welcome to attend.

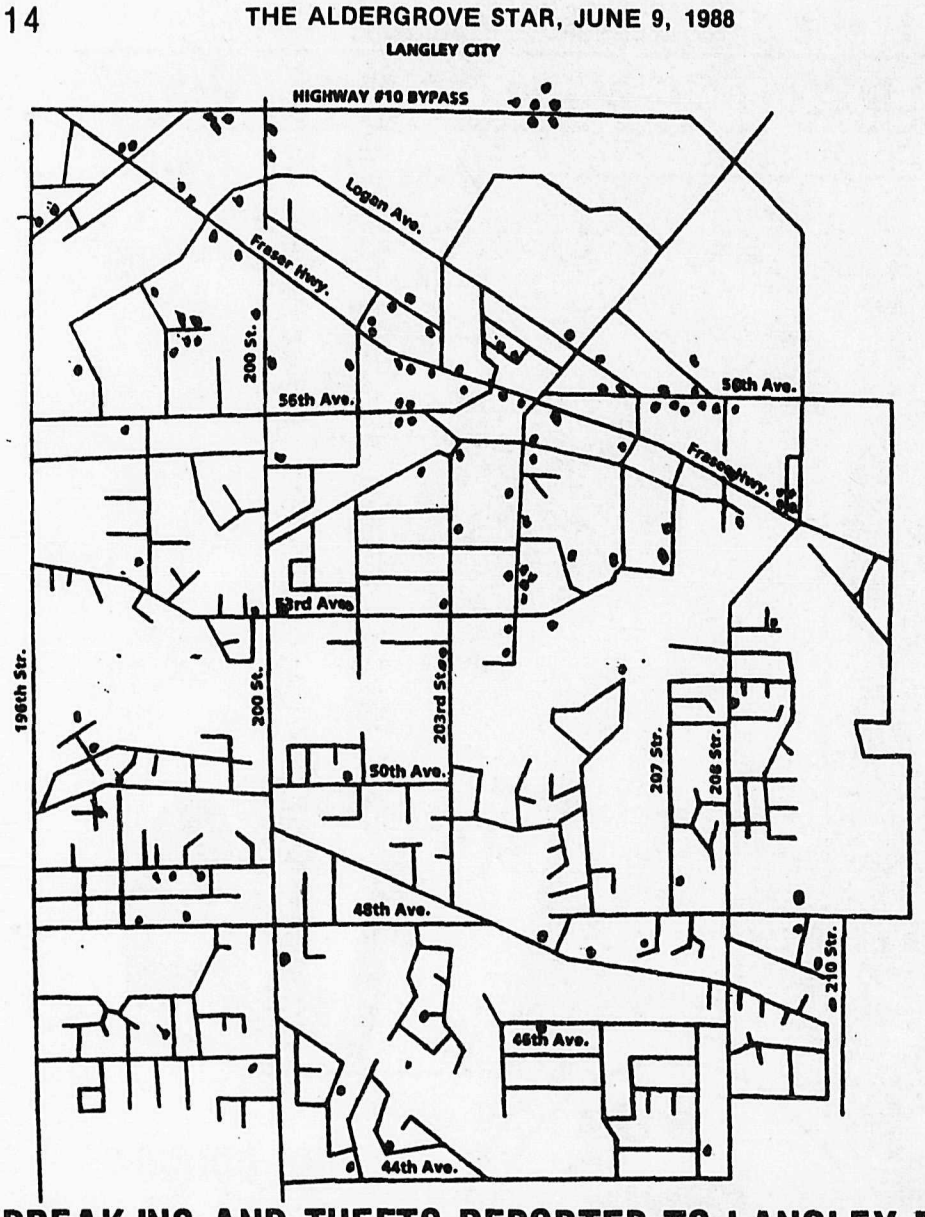
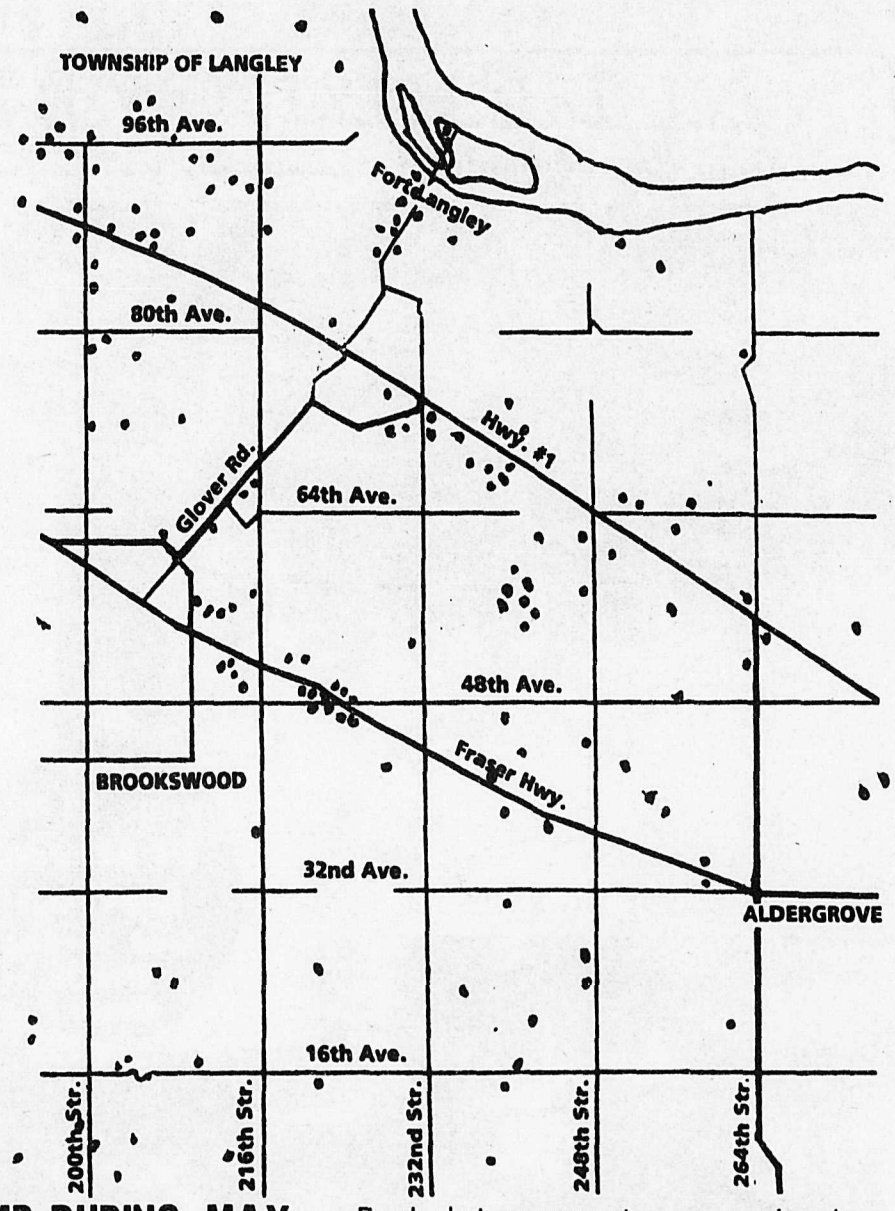
SPEEDIE'S FRIENDLY SERVICE





BREAK-INS AND THEFTS REPORTED TO LANGLEY RCMP DURING MAY

Each dot represents one such crime.

Lock up your sheds and carports. Don't leave valuables in your car.

These are tips that the RCMP hopes to impress on people. One significant way to reduce crime is through discouraging the thieves from an easy target.

Lawnmowers, barbeques, chainsaws and other items stored in sheds and carports are being stolen because the places are often unlocked. Secure your property with a padlock.

Thefts from business parking lots have also increased. Try not to leave your car behind large trucks and obstacles, so the would-be thieves are visible. Don't leave anything of value in the car, either.

Langley RCMP are still looking for volunteers for their Observe and Report Patrol. The program operates in Langley and Aldergrove during the nighttime.

Members of the patrol use their own vehicles and are supplied with radios by service clubs.

The program assists with everything from drinking and driving to break and enters in progress.

For more information phone Cst. Chafe of the Crime Prevention Unit at 534-4184.

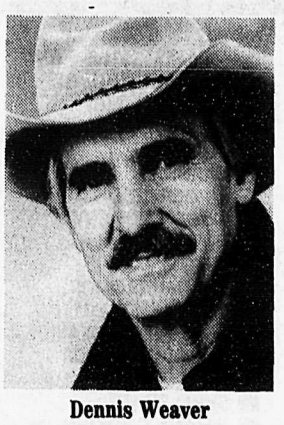
Joel, Texas specials are promising this week

By Wendy Wallace

With the writers' strike forcing the network to air early summer reruns, your best bets this week are specials. Here's a sampling:

On Wednesday, June 15, singer Billy Joel entertains audiences behind the Iron Curtain in A Matter of Trust: Billy Joel in the USSR, a 90-minute ABC special filmed during Joel's Soviet tour last year. With his wife, model Christie Brinkley, their daughter, Alexa Ray, and his music in tow, Joel hits the streets, parks and the concert halls of Moscow, Leningrad and Tiblisi.



Dennis Weaver

Highlights include an informal jam session with Russian musicians, a moving visit to the grave of a contemporary Russian poet, a night at the circus and an angry outburst during a concert when Joel became exasperated with the tour support crew.

• If marine life is to your liking, CBS airs Sea World's All-Star Lone Star Celebration, on Saturday, June 18. Patrick Duffy ("Dallas") and Marie Osmond host this entertainment extravaganza, which celebrates the cultural heritage of Texas and the opening of Sea World of Texas.

The two-hour variety special features a broad spectrum of musical styles, with performances by Natalie Cole, Fabian, Waylon Jennings, Trini Lopez and Gloria Loring. Native Texan celebrities including Morgan Fairchild, Farrah Fawcett, Barbara Mandrell and Jaclyn Smith relate anecdotes and homespun stories about Texas pride. And Dennis Weaver ("Buck James") comments on the relationship between human and marine life.

• Into nostalgia? Lesley Ann Warren stars in Evergreen, a six-hour 1985 miniseries airing on NBC on three nights, Sunday, June 12, Monday, June 13 and Tuesday, June 14. The miniseries, based on a best seller by Belva Plain, casts Warren as Anna Friedman, a Jewish immigrant woman who is torn by her love for two men – the aristocratic Paul Lerner (Ian McShane), with whom she shares a deep, passionate secret, and her devoted husband, Joseph (Armand Assante), with whom she shares a loving life of triumphs and tragedies amidst the turbulent events of mid-20th-century America.

• And for sports fans longing to see an exciting end to the nine-month NBA season, Games 3, 4 and 5 of the NBA Championship will air Sunday, June 12, Tuesday, June 14 and Thursday, June 16 (if necessary) on CBS.

BILLY JOEL — On Wednesday, June 15, ABC airs "A Matter of Trust: Billy Joel in the USSR," a 90-minute special taped during Joel's 1987 tour of the Soviet Union. The special features both concert and backstage footage.

Alive with the sound of music

MURRAYVILLE - Langley will be alive with the sound of music June 7, 8 and 9 as 290 Langley school students perform in the Langley school district's Solo and Ensemble festival.

The festival will be held from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Brookswood secondary school auditorium, 20902-37A Ave., on June 78 and 8, and at the Langley United Church, 5673-200 Street, on June 9. Members of the public are invited to drop in at any time during festival hours.

Elementary and secondary students will perform in strings, voice and band instrument categores. The performers will be adjudicated by Fred Turner, a former Langley secondary school principal and a music educator for 40 years.

Barry Brown, chairperson of the festival, said, "The festival gives individual recognition to students and gives them an opportunity to perform for their peers. "The festival also helps to motivate the students to improve their individual, technical skills and encourages musical independence.

Twelve 100-dollar and three 200-dollar scholarships will be awarded throughout the festival.

Rich talents, imaginations fail to blossom in Willow

WILLOW (PG – Lucasfilm)
Starring Warwick Davis. ★★½

As film makers, director Ron Howard and producer George Lucas would seem to be an ideal team. Both of them have brought their talents to the fantasy/science fiction realm – Howard showing careful attention to character in "Splash" and "Cocoon," Lucas raising special effects to an art form in the "Star Wars" trilogy. So the expectations for "Willow," their new film, were about as high as its $35 million budget. But the film falls far short of those expectations. "Willow" 's characters are delightful and its special effects are state-of-the-art, but the film as a whole is less than satisfying.

One reason is that characters and special effects hinge on a good story, but "Willow" 's is rambling, noisy and uninvolving. Screenwriter Bob Dolman has concocted a sword-and-sorcery epic which borrows from children's tales from "Snow White" to "Gulliver's Travels" to "Star Wars." It starts out simply enough: A lost baby is found by Willow (Warwick Davis), a member of the Nelwyn race of little people. The baby is one of the Daikini – "big people" – and a birthmark on his arm reveals that he is destined to overthrow the wicked Queen Bavmorda (Jean Marsh). The child must be brought to the castle Tir Asleen, the only place safe from Bavmorda's powers.

Of course, getting from here to there is never easy in such efforts – as Dorothy discovered; the yellow brick road is fraught with peril. The threats to Willow include Bavmorda's soldiers, "death dogs," trolls, tiny people known as "brownies" and even a fire-breathing dragon. Helping Willow is Madmartigan (Val Kilmer), a medieval Mad Max with the mischievousness of Han Solo.

Despite such imaginative riches, though, the skill of Lucas' creations and Howard's visual story telling never really amounts to much. For all its spectacular sets, cinematography and special effects, "Willow" is short on magic.

College lands first role in the movies

Fraser Valley College has just landed its first role in the movies. Vancouver based North American Pictures Ltd. will begin production June 4 in the Mission area on Empire of Ash III, a post-nuclear disaster adventure film in the style of the successful "Road Warrior" movies.

Over the past week, FVC trades students and instructors have created a futuristic vehicle which will be used in the movie. Based on a design by the film's art director Brian Maxwell "The Max" Drummond-Hay, a 1968 Ford Fairlane has been transformed into motorized weapon complete with gun turrets, observation cage and spotlights.

In the film, which assistant director Michael Metcalfe describes as combining "action, adventure, horror and humor", the vehicle fabricated by college students and instructors, will be the command car for "The Grand Shepherd" a quasi-religious cult leader of a group of nomadic warriors and his dastardly henchwoman "Baalca".

The plot of the film revolves arond the Warrior' pursuit of a group of "simple, earthy folk" known as the Wanderers and their ensuing battles. Colorful action will be plentiful, according to stunt coordinator Ben Derrick of Mission who is preparing stunts "never before attempted in Canada." These will include "fifty foot fireballs"..."a 100 foot motorcycle jump"..."exploding cars"..."a helicopter drop" and one which Derrick himself will be performing "a full body burn."

A number of Fraser Valley College students have auditioned and are expected to be cast for small speaking roles and as extras in the film.

Metcalfe praised the work done by the College's Trades Department. "We couldn't have done it without their expertise and support," he said. Vocational Trades Training coordinator Harvey McCullough says that the College's involvement was good experience for welding fabrication students and is an invitation for other movie producers to look to the College for professional services in the future.

Emire of Ash III is expected to be released before Christmas.

Indignant over Presley rumors

LOS ANGELES - Actress Priscilla Presley says she's incensed over reports that her ex-husband Elvis Presley is alive and in seclusion.

Such claims by "supposedly reputable journalists," she said, are nonsense and harmful to herself and their daughter, Lisa Marie, 20.

Priscilla Presley, who was married to Elvis from 1967 to 1972, said she was referring to KABC-TV's four-part series called Is Elvis Alive?

The report mentioned Atlanta author Gail Giorgio, whose book, The Most Incredible Elvis Presley Story Ever Told, purports the King of Rock 'n' Roll may still be swinging. Giorgio claims she has an audio tape of Elvis speaking 1980.

Presley died in 1977, four years after Priscilla Presley divorced him.

The Los Angeles station's news director, Terry Crofoot, said: "It isn't KABC's claim that Elvis is alive. It would be ludicrous for us to say that."

Are you bad enough to go to hell?

By CINDY WALLACE

Just a quick quiz, with ten easy "yes" or "no" answers. Following are ten statements which may apply to you. For every statement that is true, put a "yes" and for those which do not apply put a "no". At the end of the quiz we'll add up your answers and see what the verdict is. Ready? Begin.

1. I do not always tell the truth.
2. I have a grudge against someone.
3. I have said unkind words to someone.
4. I have immoral thoughts sometimes.
5. I had an opportunity to do something good and did not do it.
6. I have broken only one of the Ten Commandments.
7. I have taken home office supplies.
9. I xerox copyrighted material.
10. I have not accepted Jesus Christ as my Savior.

If you answered "yes" to any of the above statements, the verdict is guilty before God. According to the Bible, each of the statements is sin and Romans 6:23 says that "The wages of sin is death...", but there is Good News. The last part of that same verse says "but the free gift of God is eternal life in Jesus Christ our Lord. God has sent Someone else to take the punishment for our sins and that person is Jesus Christ. When He died on the cross, He paid the penalty for your sins and He will give you eternal life if you accept Him as your Savior. Admit that you are a sinner, believe that Jesus died on the cross for your sins, and ask Him to forgive you. If you have done that, according to God's Word, the Bible, you are forgiven and now have eternal life. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." John 3:16.

What's the verdict?

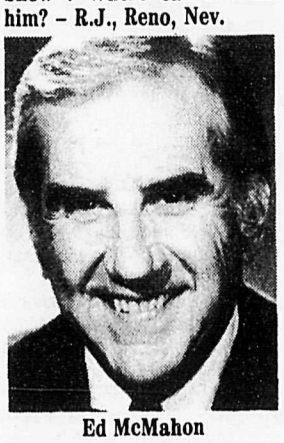
Game shows, star searches

By Toni Reinhold

How long has Ed McMahon been with "The Tonight Show"? Where can I write him? – R.J., Reno, Nev.



Ed McMahon

McMahon, 65, began his stint as Johnny Carson's straight man on "The Tonight Show" in 1962. His relationship with Carson began in 1958, when he was hired as the comic's sidekick on the daytime game show "Who Do You Trust?" A fighter pilot during the Korean War, McMahon began his TV career in 1950, playing a clown on a variety show called "Big Top." While serving as second banana on "Tonight," he has kept sharp by hosting the variety show "Kraft Music Hall" (1968), the anthology series "NBC Adventure Theatre" (1972), the quiz show "Whodunnit" (1979), "TV Bloopers & Practical Jokes" (1984-85) and the current syndicated series "Star Search." He also has appeared in the TV movies "The Kid from Left Field" (1979), "The Great American Traffic Jam" (1980) and "The Star Maker" (1981). NBC will air new episodes of "TV's Bloopers" this summer.

Strawberry tea planned by Manor

By BETTY BUSTIN

ALDERGROVE - Jackman Manor Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday, June 2. President Martha Inuik chaired the meeting. Plans were made for the strawberry tea to be held Saturday, June 25 at Jackman Manor from 2 to 4 p.m.

Arrangements were made to deliver gifts to the gentlemen residents for Father's Day.

Auxiliary members were pleased to welcome two newcomers. Anyone interested in joining would be welcome. Call Martha Inuick or the writer at 856-4809 or 856-2890.

Old fashioned offers variety

By MARK JOHNSON

The Aldergrove Festival Days 1988 promises to be an exciting and enjoyable weekend for all who attend.

Baseball tournaments, a dance and barbeque, the crowing of the first Miss Aldergrove, contests, a beer garden and, of course, the annual parade will give everyone something to have fun with.

Also featured will be B.C. Lions players, a Touch of Glass, a tarot card reader, clowns and face painting.

Events start on Friday, June 10th with the Remax balloon at the Aldergrove Centre Mall and an evening full of events such as a bike and trike decorating contest, casino night as well as a Teen dance at the Aldergrove Arena.

The casino night, at the Aldergrove Legion, will showcase Blackjack and Crown and Anchor with proceeds going to local charities.

Saturday starts off with the Lioness Muffin Breakfast and the seventh annual Aldergrove Festival Slo Pitch tournament.

Teams from all over the Fraser Valley and the Lower Mainland will be playing in the tournament, held at Parkside, Shortreed and CFS Aldergrove ball parks.

The parade lineup begins at 8:30 a.m. at the Countryside Shopping Centre and leaves for the Legion down Fraser Highway at 10:00 a.m.

12:00 noon is the Offcial Opening of Festival Days at the Aldergrove Centre Mall, followed by various events also at the mall.

The barbeque and dance, hosted by the Aldergrove Kinsmen at the arena is from 7:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. and features music from the 50's to 80's, played by the same band as last year.

All proceeds from the event will go to the Aldergrove Community Centre.

On Sunday, the ball tournaments will continue, along with the beer garden.

Beginning at 11:00 a.m. various contests will be held at the Countryside Shopping Centre including the Outhouse race, Spaghetti eating contests, Tug-of-Wars and Coupon Draws.

For a complete list of events and times, consult the insert in this week's paper.

All local merchants involved with Festival Days would like to thank the citizens of Aldergrove for their support with the fair.

Aldergrove seniors' news

By ERNIE CLUETT

A small crowd was on hand for the June general meeting. Rita Ford, who has taken over visiting the sick and those in hospital, from retiring Audry Beland, gave an account of her activities. The 7th of July was designated "clean up" day.

At the weekly dance, the names of the prize winners were mislaid and all I have is Cliff Souther and Bill Klosky.

Any ladies or men who will be available on June 16 should please phone 856-8708 and volunteer two hours of their time to serve coffee, tea and fruit juice at the blood donors clinic. The hours (two hours shifts) are 1 to 8 p.m.

Fall Fair book in next week's Star

By FLORA GREENOUGH

The 76th Edition of the Annual Fair of Aldergrove will be in the Aldergrove Star next week. It is with pride and anticipation that the Agricultural Association and the Aldergrove Star give you this book for your participation in the Fair. This year we are looking forward to a great time, with many new attractions for you to see.

I would like to take this space to thank the editor; Rudy Langmann for carrying news of the Association and Kurt Langmann for his many hours he puts into the Fall Fair book and Shirley, who always has a smile and happy personality at the front desk.

Watch for entertainment and specials of the Fair in this paper from week to week. The Fair this year will be Sept. 10 and 11; so mark you calendar now, so you won't miss it.

Two oppose Wenman

Members of the New Democrats Party will be choosing between two candidates for the NDP nomination for Fraser Valley West.

The two candidates are both Aldergrove residents: Charles Bradford and Richard Gebert.

The winning candidate will be the first with a chance to unseat Progressive Conservative incumbent Bob Wenman on the new electoral boundaries.

Guest speaker at the nomination meeting will be Mark Rose, NDP M.L.A. for Coquitlam-Port Moody.

All NDP memebers are strongly urged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Condoms 'a lesser evil'

MONTREAL - Condoms aren't enough to stop the spread of sexually transmitted diseases such as AIDS, says a study prepared for the Quebec Council of Catholic Bishops.

Msgr. Bertrand Blanchet, bishop of Gaspe and chairman of the study group, said condoms are still a good preventive measure, and "A lesser evil" when compared to the diseases.

The report also called for affordable medical treatment for poor people who are infected, as well as a change in sexual morals.

"We know that safe sex is not that safe," said Dr. Danielle Saucier, also a member of the study group. "Safe sex is not the solution. What we need is a change of behavior."

The report appeals to parents, politicians, schools, media and churches to teach youth the values of fidelity and platonic love.

Saucier said the spread of disease is directly related to precocity and having several lovers.

There are an estimated 1,370 cases of acquired immune deficiency syndrome in Canada.

ASK TONI

What was the title of Lee Meriwether's first series? Was it "Barnaby Jones"? Also, is it true that she was once Miss America? - C.W., Elko, Nev.

Meriwether, who turned 53 on May 27, was Miss America in 1955. She made her TV debut on "Philco Television Playhouse" in 1954, then served as a fashion correspondent on "Today" in 1955 and 1956. She later was a regular on the soap operas "Clear Horizon" and "The Young Marrieds." Her first regular series role was as Dr. Ann MacGregor on "The Time Tunnel" (1966-67). She co-starred in "The New Andy Griffith Show" (1971) and then played Buddy Ebsen's daughter-in-law on "Barnaby Jones" (1973-80). In 1974 and 1975 she was a panelist on the quiz show "Masquerade Party."

Bibily doesn't worry

VANCOUVER - The year Jadi (Gladys) Bibily was born, the world's first skyscraper was built in Chicago, the Orient Express made its first run, Robert Louis Stevenson published Treasure Island and the island-volcano of Krakatoa exploded.

Born in Cleveland in 1883, Bibily says she doesn't worry too much about the state of the human race.

By 1910, when she first moved to Vancouver, she was an adept painter specializing in miniature portraits and reproductions of the old masters -- despite the lack of any formal training.

Those who sat for her include actresses Elizabeth Taylor and Claudette Colbert and, in 1915, Edward, the 21-year-old Prince of Wales.

"I wasn't intimidated at all," she says. "You just say to yourself: 'Well, this is another man.' If you fuss over someone, it won't work."

Week of June 12-18, 1988

ARIES
(March 21-April 20)
You'll fairly leap into this week as interesting ideas and people appear. See to it that you pay attention to them.

TAURUS
(April 21-May 20)
It's likely that you'll want to be in two places at the same time. Money is involved, so pace yourself.

GEMINI
(May 21-June 20)
What you need now is a new arrangement or agreement. And that is what you'll get — if you are inventive.

CANCER
(June 21-July 22)
Take the time needed this week and go over all work-related efforts. Then, decide which one is the most important.

LEO
(July 23-Aug. 22)
Matters of an intensely personal nature are threaded through this week. They may even pull you away from everything else.

VIRGO
(Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Plan ahead, for your basic security is involved. Now is the time when you must focus all your efforts on home base.

LIBRA
(Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
Calls, contacts and an assortment of meetings fill this week. You'll be extremely pleased with some of the developments.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 23-Nov. 22)
New starts and new projects all add up to substantial gain as this week unfolds. Look for those new ideas as well.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
This week marks the start of your own personal new year. It's a time when several vital efforts are advanced.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Confidential matters and private plans are woven into the inner lining of this week. You'll work closely with others.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
Be alert to changing trends, especially in your social life. Much that takes place now seems to come out of nowhere.

PISCES
(Feb. 19-March 20)
What had seemed so elusive is made available. But now you'll have more questions that you once had. Ask them!

ASK JUDY

FROM PEAKS TO PLATEAUS

Q: I've been dieting and have lost several pounds. But during the last few days, even though I've remained on my diet, the pounds refuse to drop off. What am I doing wrong?

A: Chances are, you are doing nothing wrong. Diet Center calls these lulls in weight loss plateaus. They are a real and natural aspect of the dieting cycle. They are your body's defense against losing weight too quickly. Following are some helpful tips: Eat as much of a variety of foods as your diet allows. Such variation may help your body let go of those stubborn pounds. Drink at least eight glasses of water daily. It is one of the best ways to reduce possible water retention. Continue taking body measurements, and exercise. Although you may not be losing pounds during a plateau, you should continue to lose inches. Attitude is important. Appreciate how far you've come instead of lamenting over the distance you've yet to go. You will achieve success. For more information, call your local Diet Center

Are You Ready For Summer?

If you need to shed a few pounds to get ready for summer, call Diet Center. We'll help you lose up to 10 pounds in the first two weeks or 17 to 25 pounds in just six weeks! Call today for a free, no-obligation consultation.

Always right time for back to school

Now is the time to get your high school education.

The Aldergrove Secondary School offers their V.A.S.T. program to those over the age of 15 who wish to take advantage of future employment opportunities by getting a grade 10 or grade 12 equivalency certificate.

The students may enter at any time during the year and the program is a self-paced, self-instructional, high school equivalency program.

Students work through a prescribed curriculum in three basic subjects: communications (english), mathematics and science. The program uses adult basic education and vocational adult secondary training materials.

V.A.S.T. classes are held on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the high school.

The daytime classes offer students a unique opportunity to complete their education. Students holding part-time jobs in the afternoon are able to attend classes in the morning. Those working late hours can schedule afternoon classes.

Other students may benefit by entering the district's Work Experience program while going to V.A.S.T. day classes.

Students also may enroll in a variety of elective courses offered by the school. Special skills can be developed and personal interests can be pursued in this personal approach.

Job search skills, vocational testing, and career planning are also incorporated in the program.

The day programs are based on sufficient enrolment to justify the time spent.

In order to plan for the coming school year (September 1988) interested individuals are asked to pre-register before June.

For more information, call Mr. Dave Coutu at Aldergrove Secondary School 856-2521.

Tax relief

MURRAYVILLE - Pensioners in Aldergrove will not have to pay the 1988 taxes on their hall.

Township councilors here Monday night granted the local OAP branch $1,494.78 in lieu of property taxes on their hall on 273 Street.

Art award goes to Langley school

LANGLEY - Students, staff and parents at Langley Fine Arts elementary school are celebrating the arts in a grand way. They won the 1987-88 "Celebration of the Arts" award from the British Columbia Arts in Education Council. The award will be presented to school board chairman, Marlene Grinnell, in a ceremony at the school on Wednesday, June 15 at 1:30 p.m. Parents and community are invited to attend. Entertainment will be provided by the students who will demonstrate their talents in drama, dance, movement and art.

Jean Cunningham, president of the council said the celebration project was part of their program to advocate the arts in education. This was the first year for the award which was co-sponsored by the Leo and Thea Koerner Foundation. Thirty-seven schools from around B.C. were nominated for the award. Two schools received awards. The other one was Braemar elementary in North Vancouver.

"The award to Langley honors not only the school, but also the district because they were willing to establish a school that would emphasize the arts," said Cunningham.

Langley Fine Arts school principal, Richard Bulpitt, said, "We are pleased to be receiving the award which we recognize as a tribute to the district who envisioned the program and supported its development. It is also a tribute to our staff, the students, the parents and the community who all contribute so much."

The award was intended to recognize a school in the province that demonstrates a commitment to arts in education as well as to a developmental program for all the arts. "A good developmental program will have all of the arts taught in all of the grades so that the arts program is complete and has continuity. Langley Fine Arts elementary is unusual in that all of the students, staff and parents, recognize the value of the arts," Cunningham said.

Unique story of Peruvian work

Fraser Valley residents Eric and Donna McKinley have accepted another invitation to do volunteer work in Peru, among the modern day descendants of the Incas.

Eric McKinley, former Surrey Secondary School teacher, will tell his exciting story of life, lungs and love in high places at a public meeting at 8 p.m., Tuesday, June 14th at the Aldergrove Gospel Chapel.

Color slides showing medical, educational and camp activities, taken during their previous term in South America will be shown.

When the Spaniards reached Peru in 1532, they were astounded to find a highly organized society under the Incas, the Quechua-speaking people.

The massive walls of the ancient empire, still found at the Inca capital of Cusco, were built probably before Columbus discovered America. Tourists today marvel at the high skill of the ancient Inca artchitects.

Recently, six Quechua Indians have arrived at UBC to assist in an experiment, now in progress in western Canada.

The lung size of the Quechua Indians is normal size, but their lung efficiency is double what the average Canadian has.

It is twice as efficient in moving oxygen from the lungs into the heart.

Their hearts are also different with thicker walls and larger chambers.

An opportunity will be given to the public to visit with Eric McKinley after the meeting next Tuesday evening at the Aldergrove Gospel Chapel.

School to be converted into conference centre

Langley school trustees have approved a move that will convert Anderson Elementary School into a conference centre to be used for providing facilities and programs for adult basic education.

Between $150,000 and $250,000 will be spent to renovate the school, furnishings and equipment, which will include a 17 station computer lab.

Attempts are underway to obtain funding from the government or other funding agencies for startup costs of the project. If funds are not available, startup costs will be recovered from surplus revenue of the centre's operation.

The centre will be operated on a cost-recovery basis, taking in money from the rental of the facility and from programs offered by the centre and fees for services provided by the staff.

The conference centre will have a large meeting area for up to 200 people, several smaller conference rooms and meeting rooms, as well as an IBM computer lab.

A career education centre, containing computers and programs for assessing skills and aptitudes for employment, is plausible for the future.

The centre will benefit school district staff, who will have opportunities for in-service training on computer equipment which the district intends to frequently upgrade.

It will also benefit the community by providing facilities and equipment, for workshops, seminars, meetings and conferences, which presently do not exist in Langley or Surrey.

Meeting areas will be equipped with audio-visual equipment, includng overhead projectors and VCRs. Services will include access to computers, printers and photocopying equipment.

Food will be offered by the centre to groups needing lunches or dinners.

Staff at the centre will work together with community groups to develop programs to meet specific needs. They will be prepared to provide development and organization services for seminars and conferences including program organization, development of advertising and registration.

Operasting surplus from the centre will be used to update computers that are being used in the centre. This will give both the district's staff and members of the community opportunities to be exposed to the latest in computer technology.

Privatization debated

MURRAYVILLE - A representative for local 378 of the Office and Technical Employees Union argued against privatization before township councilors here Monday night.

Council's strongest proponent of free enterprise, Ald. John Scholtens, argued in favor.

Union rep Ron Tuckwood told councilors that privatization of B.C. Hydro would mean a higher cost to the consumers, while Scholtens disputed that claim, saying that greater efficiency would bring about lower cost.

Four other councilors present did not become involved in the exchange.

Ingebergs win demonstration

By KIM WRIGHT

Otter Beef Club held their monthly meeting on April 11 at Otter school.

Senior and junior demonstrations were given. A special thank-you to our judges: Mrs. S. Thorne and Mrs. H. Howard for a job well done.

For seniors, Shawn and Lynn Ingeberg placed first with their demonstration on "Good Neighbour Builders". Second place went to Sandi Vestering and Sherri Jensen on "Dough Art". These people will go on to district level to represent our club. Other demonstrations given were: Tanya Ziyone and Lauren Hendersen on "Artificial Respiration", Sandy Henderson and Roberta Farquhar on "How to give a Demonstration".

For the juniors, Kim Wright, Josh Carlson and Joe Berg did a demonstration on "Skiing". Josh and Joe will go on to district level to represent the club.

Our club meets the first Monday of every month at Otter school and we welcome anyone. Any person wanting more information please contact the writer at 534-9368.

Arts camp offered

The Young At Arts is offering four exciting art camps and a Teen Theatre Summer Employment Program.

Camps for preschoolers up to teens will be held, covering a variety of subjects in art such as 2-D and 3-D art, drama, ballet, art, jazz dancing and theatre.

The Young At Arts will also be hiring three students to build and perform an original play this summer.

Marina scrapped

FORT LANGLEY - A proposed marina park on the Fraser River here has been scrapped by Langley township council.

The reason? There are no marina facilities on the public owned river frontage.

Council will, instead, consider hiring a consultant to advise on what can be done with the small parcel of land, but only after their senior staff recommend for or against such an expenditure.

"It should be complementary to the (nearby) federal park," says Ald. Aubrey Searle. "But, it is only a very small parcel of land. It is not easy to resolve."

Plea to 'abandon decentralization'

VICTORIA - The New Democrat's municipal affairs critic says the Social Credit government's decentralization scheme has become a deeply divisive and confrontational issue across the province and should be abandoned immediately.

"With its umpteen committees and clear lack of accountability, the scheme has been confusing and confrontational from day one," said MLA Robin Blencoe (Victoria).

Committee invites past grads to party

With less than one month to go, the Homecoming 88 committee are busy finalizing plans for the three day event.

Registration deadline has been extended to June 21 for those former grads, students or teachers who have not registered yet. To register for the Aldergrove Secondary School's thirtieth birthday bash, send $10. to A.H.S., Box 160, Aldergrove.

Friday night, July 1 will take part at the school starting at 8 p.m. Dinner and dance tickets for Saturday, July 2 are still available for $30 per couple. Starting time is 6 p.m. and the committee promises a great night of entertainment.

Deadline for these tickets is June 21. Sunday afternoon events are planned for Aldergrove Park Lake at 12 noon. Bring your kids along for fun and games. Also register now for our all star baseball tournament. There is no fee for Sunday activities. Just bring your picnic basket and enjoy the fun.

The Homecoming committee is looking for interesting stories of your years spent at A.H.S. Drop us a short note telling us of your most memorable experience at Aldergrove Secondary.

Anyone with any spare time on their hands, please call as volunteers are still needed in all areas. Call Debra Leroux 594-6297 or Carole Harley 737-1139 for more information.

Neighbors unhappy

MURRAYVILLE - Some 37 neighbors of a proposed 20-store shopping complex in Brookswood are upset with the size of this centre in the middle of their residential neighborhood, but also with the possibility that the developer, Actton Petroleum Sales Ltd. would use a vacant residential lot for a septic field.

Several of the neighbors spoke against the development at a public hearing in council Chambers here Monday night.

Delegates said they feared a deterioration in surrounding property values as well as possible future problems involving malfunctioning sewage disposal.

Many expensive homes have been built in the 200 Street - 41 Avenue neighborhood in the last couple of years.

Development bylaw will come up for third reading in council next Monday night.

Show attracts 52 riders

By AMBER GAZSO

Mt. Lehman 4-H Horse Club held their invitational spring show on Saturday, May 28 at the Mastsqui fairgrounds. 52 riders attended representing 4-H clubs from Otter, Dewdney, Hazelmere, Rusty Spurs and Mt. Lehman.

High point award for English units went to: Unit 1A - Tie between Janis Hayes and Lisa Grant (Mt. Lehman 4-H), Unit 1B - Heather Giles (Otter 4-H), Unit 2A - 1 - Amber Gazso (Mt. Lehman 4-H), Unit 2A - 2 - Siobhan Allen (Otter 4-H), Unit 2B - Sahra Allen (Otter 4-H), Unit 3 and 4 - Katie Michaluk (Hazelmere 4-H).

High point for western units went to: Unit 1A - Emily Stone (Otter 4-H), Unit 1B - Tie between Jonathan Field (Mt. Lehman 4-H), and Rhonda Davies (Dewdney 4-H), Unit 2A - Amber Gazso (Mt. Lehman 4-H), Unit 2B - Jill Coffey - (Hazelmere 4-H), Unit 3 and 4 - Tie between Katie Michaluk (Hazelmere 4-H) and Nancy Barton (Hazelmere 4-H).

High point for the entire day went to Katie Michaluk of Hazelmere 4-H.

Pamela Meneilly

Simon Fraser University graduate Pamela Meneilly's passion for 19th-century Russia has earned her more than a history degree.

The 22-year-old Irish-born Langley resident has been awarded the SFU gold medal in history and the Stephen McIntyre book prize. The prizes are given to the graduating student who shows outstanding performance in the field of history.

Meneilly, who works for the public affairs department at B.C. Tel in Burnaby, was selected for her outstanding classroom performance and contribution to the profession.

"What I liked most about coming to SFU was that I could choose my direction and study what interested me most," explains Meneilly, who graduated from Mountain Secondary in 1983.

Pig and whistle party delights

By BETTY BUSTIN

ALDERGROVE - Members of the Lions Grove Residents Association held a delightful pig and whistle party Saturday evening. The entertainment was put on by the orchestra named 1066 and the members were Jim Wilding, Gary Nutbath, Paul Abbott and Phil Aldridge. A sing-along and dancing was enjoyed by all.

Lou Martin did a wonderful job organizing the affair. Join us for a pancake breakfast on Sunday to celebrate Aldergrove Days. The time, 9 a.m. to 12 noon. At the regular meeting on Tuesday June 14, election for new executive for 1988 to 1989 took place.

Whist, Friday evenings at 7 p.m., crib in the afternoon at 2 p.m., and bingo Wednesday evenings at 7 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

The directors of the Aldergrove Chamber of Commerce would like to remind all merchants of the Heritage Theme dress-up competition the week of June 6-10th, 1988. The competition is sponsored by the Chamber, with trophies being awarded for best overall theme costumes. Last year the folks from Hall's Quality Meats unseated the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce staff who had won first place the two previous years. Let's see YOUR business participate in this event!

Register your business in person at the Chamber Office (27030B Fraser Hwy. - beside Kentucky Fried Chicken) or by phone (856-8383) by Wednesday, June 8th, as judging takes place on Friday, June 10th.

Budget shoots upward

By MARK JOHNSON

Langley Family Services has approved their largest budget ever at nearly one million dollars to help maintain programs in the growing Langley area.

"We have no alternative," said Betty McClurg, executive director of Family Services, "because of the escalating demands in the Langley area.

"One of the reasons we have grown so much is because the Langley area has grown so rapidly," she said.

LFS's alcohol and drug abuse program received the largest portion of money, $200,000, supplied by the provincial government.

Administration costs were second, alotted $156,000, followed by the perinatal teen mothers program, which received $121,000 and closely behind that were services to children at $119,000.

Peace Arch ceremony , Sunday

WHITE ROCK - The 67th anniversary of the dedication of the International Peace Arch near here will be celebrated by Americans and Canadians alike on Sunday, June 12.

Between 12 noon and 12:45 p.m. the Richmond branch of the Royal Canadian Legion will be playing a band concert, and by 1 p.m. the parade with Canadian and American units will start toward the Peace Arch.

The International Peace Arch stands near the western end of the unfortified United States-Canada boundary extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It was built by volunteers in 1920-21 and dedicated to the spirit of "Brethren Dwelling Together in Unity - Children of a Common Mother" on September 6, 1921.

Canada Post Corporation

Keeping our commitment in rural Canada

Canada's rural communities are vital to Canada Post. In fact, one of the most important parts of our commitment is making postal products and services more accessible to rural Canadians. To help us do this, we plan to use the resources and the expertise of the private sector. Where practical, we are approaching local business people in communities across the country offering them the opportunity to provide you with postal products and services through their businesses. As a result, you will be able to buy postal products or services in attractive locations at convenient hours, often including evenings and weekends.

Change: the more you understand, the more you'll agree

Certain groups see our changes as an erosion of postal services in rural communities such as yours. Nothing could be further from the truth. By allowing local merchants to operate retail postal outlets, postal services as a whole will be more accessible – and more efficient – than ever before. In the long run it will help us keep postal rates reasonable and leave the way clear for Canada Post to preserve their presence in rural Canada.

Simply stated, by using retail merchants to sell stamps and other postal products and services, Canada Post can concentrate on what it does best: picking-up, processing and delivering the mail in a cost-effective way that benefits all Canadians, rural and urban alike.

Real benefits for everyone

– Nothing to lose –

Consultation For a start, we will engage in at least a 90-day consultation period involving all of our customers in your community, including your municipal authorities.

Jobs Changes are being made when natural opportunities occur, such as when a postmaster resigns, retires or is promoted. No postmaster has lost a job as a result of this program.

Identity The postal identity and name of your community will be preserved intact on signage and for addressing purposes.

Security Retail outlets will be bound by contract to maintain the same security and sanctity of mail standards as Canada Post.

Commitment, service More and more, retail postal outlets will be operated by local business people who already have strong roots in your community and share with you the same interest in maintaining high postal standards, and where possible, improving them. Local delivery service will be maintained.

– Everything to gain –

More outlets The objective is to increase the number of rural locations where you can access postal products or services from 5,000 to 7,000 and nationally by a third to 18,000.

More convenience Retail postal outlets will be conveniently located in a business close to other services in your community. Longer business hours will give you even more flexibility.

More business for local merchants Opportunities for local merchants to provide postal products or services will strengthen the community's business base.

More efficient service By utilizing local merchants' retail experience, Canada Post will be able to concentrate on reliable pick-up, processing and delivery of mail to Canadians.

Canada Post is in rural Canada to stay. That's a promise.

CANADA POST CORPORATION
Our commitment: better service for you.

ASK ANNABELLE

Dear Annabelle,

I am a divorced man, have been for 10 years. I have recently met a very nice widow with two teenage daughters. We started going out and found we were falling in love and have even talked of marriage. My problem is her eldest daughter who is fifteen. The girls seemed to really like me until I told them I was divorced. Since then the elder one has been looking at me with suspicion and, it seems to me, great dislike.

My lady friend has said we can see each other in secret and not tell her daughters but I don't like to be sneaky. What do you think I could do to try to convince the daughters that just because I am divorced I am not a bad person?

Signed: Mark.

Dear Mark,

Nothing will be gained by sneaking around with their mother. Probably the girls would discover what you were doing anyway, and it wouldn't help your cause when they found out they had been doublecrossed. Do not let these young folk dictate to you or their mother about your friendship. Don't forget that in a few short years they will be leaving home themselves to make their own lives. I suggest you carry on normally and if the girls are antagonistic for a while they are sure to come around, as they get older, to the idea that you and their mother will be happy together. Be patient.

Dear Annabelle,

My parents are getting on in years and spend all their free time going through old photo albums and talking about old friends and upcoming funeral arrangements. The other day Dad started going on about hiring some guy to build a sepulchre in the back yard and my Mom started crying because she couldn't find "sepulchre" in the Yellow Pages. How can I shake the dear old fogies out of their awful preoccupation with their own ends? They are becoming serious drags.

Signed: Tired of visiting cemeteries.

Dear Tired,

If you look in the Yellow Pages under "Funeral" you will see a wide selection of establishments just to help your parents decide what they want when the time comes. They can pick and choose the various ways of interment for themselves and pay for it beforehand. It is what a lot of thinking people do for themselves and it does save the ones that are left behind a lot of unnecessary heartache. Take the parents to the funeral home of their choice and let them make their arrangements. After you have done this you should all feel at ease and get on and enjoy life.

Bus surcharges rile resident

MURRAYVILLE - A "boiling mad" Langley resident says he will not pay other people's bills unless they also start paying his.

G. Blakley has sent an angry letter to township council, with a copy to the regional transit commission.

Blakley is made because of the new three-cents-a-litre fuel tax and the B.C. Hydro monthly surcharge to pay for lower mainland transit.

"How can they say this is free enterprise and then turn around and want me to pay for something that is not supplied?" asks the pensioner.

Bus service is six miles distant from his home, Blakley says, "Dictatorhsip!"

Ald. John Scholtens says township council "has been fighting and will keep fighting" to have residents east of 240 Street exempt from the surcharges.

Choirs magnificent in perfect setting

By ERNEST CLUETT

ALDERGROVE - Grateful to Opal Thomas who so ably took over the pensioners' column while I was gallivanting around the Panama Canal.

The choral festival held in the Langley Evangelical Church was an outstanding success. The magnificent acoustics of the church contributed to the efforts of the four choral groups, sponsored by Rainbow and Joan Danby. Aldergrove, Brookswood, Abbotsford and Rainbow choral groups, 120 voices in all, joined in harmony and in their respective solo efforts to put on an evening that will be long remembered by the packed audience. Next year, Aldergrove will host the festival. As this very popular event was a success despite very limited advertising, it could be suggested that the chamber of commerce in Aldergrove might be interested in persuading those responsible to incorporate it with Aldergrove Days.

I am grateful to Tony Eberts in risking his reputation to support the retention of the library in the Aldergrove Mall. Muriel Arnason is also trying her utmost in this regard, although, as she admits, the outlook is not very encouraging. Still the powers that be have finally given us a crosswalk at 273 Street, after emphatically telling us there would never be one.

In the Saturday, May 21 edition of the San Francisco Examiner, there were 2,200 ads in the Help Wanted pages. Plus it would seem, every store and eating place in the downtown area had vacancies for part time help. Also Pier 39, a hodge-podge of souvenir shops, eateries and flea market junk stores had a tightly wedged sea of humanity flowing through it. I wonder if it would work in Aldergrove?

I read by the daily press that in order to counter prescription abuse in Ontario, which now has a 600-million dollar bill to pay for free drugs for seniors, the provincial government is putting into use a "credit" card, to enable the users of drugs to be computerised and "double dosing" by seniors will be eliminated. This will put a stop to seniors double doctoring to gain more prescription drugs, no doubt many of which end up on the black market.

When it comes to B.C., as it surely will, our people will be hollering invasion of privacy and sending petitions around and looking very aggrieved and hard done by, even though it will be our own fault.

Doris says her young grandson was bugging her for some work, so she gave him a can of green paint and a brush and told him to go and paint the porch out back. In due course he was back. "All done Gran, but that wasn't a Porsche that was a Ferrari".

PUBLIC NOTICE

SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 34 [ABBOTSFORD]

The students of the Abbotsford Senior Secondary School and the W.J. Mouat Secondary School will each be building a student-built house during the 1988-89 school term. It is anticipated that the houses will be completed in early June of 1989.

The houses are being offered for sale on a "Cost of Materials plus an Honorarium" basis. The sale of the houses will be based on the successful bidder(s) paying for the materials plus an honorarium. Bid forms are available at the schools.

Bids for the houses, indicating the amount of the honorarium, will be accepted until 2:00 p.m., Thursday, June 16, 1988. Bids should be delivered to the Secretary-Treasurer, School District No. 34 (Abbotsford), 2790 Tims Street, Clearbrook, B.C. V2T 4M7, in a sealed envelope marked STUDENT BUILT HOUSE (PRESALE) TENDER, (showing name of school).

The highest or any bid will not necessarily be accepted.

A bid deposit as outlined in the bid forms is required. Persons bidding must submit their plan to the school for approval, prior to bidding.

For additional information, phone Abbotsford Senior Secondary School 853-3367, W.J. Mouat Secondary School, 853-7191 or School Board office 859-4891.

THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF LANGLEY
INVITATION TO TENDER

WALNUT GROVE 1988 URBAN ROAD WIDENING
CONTRACT No. 402-00368

The Corporation of the Township of Langley invites tenders for road widening, asphalt overlay, concrete curb and gutter, sidewalks, storm and sanitary sewers, street lights and related works at:

(a) 204th Street between 92nd Avenue and 96th Avenue

(b) 92A Avenue East of 204th Street

(c) 93A Avenue East of 204th Street

(d) 94B Avenue East of 204th Street

Sealed tenders marked "FT 827 - Walnut Grove 1988 Urban Road Widening" will be received by the Purchasing Agent, Township of Langley, Langley, B.C., up to 10 a.m. local time, 22 June 1988 and will be opened in public immediately thereafter.

Copies of drawings and tender documents may be obtained on or after 8 June 1988 from McElhanney Engineering Services Ltd., 13160 - 88th Avenue, Surrey, B.C. on payment of the sum of forty dollars ($40.00), which sum will be nonrefundable.

The contract documents may also be viewed at Amalgamated Construction Association of B.C., 2675 Oak Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Tender shall be accompanied by a Bid Bond (or Certified Cheque) in the amount of Ten percent (10%) of the Tender Price. A Consent of Surety, from the surety providing the Bid Bond, must also accompany the tender stating the surety will, upon acceptance of Tender, provide a Performance and Labour and Material Payment Bond each in the amount of Fifty percent (50%) of the Tender Price. Tenders not containing a Consent of Surety will be rejected.
