WEST END BOYS WIN ALL ALONG THE LINE

Sapperton Goes Under By Ten Goals to Nil in Dirty Lacrosse Match.

The Westenders had matters their own way at Queens park yesterday evening, and the boys from the eastern suburb were in for a bad thing from the start. The game was far too rough, and George Rennie, who refereed, was too easy with the defaulters. The penalties were too light in view of the methods employed. Swanson was busy in the first quarter with Patchell trying to keep track of him, but the first to score was E. Warwick, five minutes from start. Cameron put in some good play, and it was not long before E. Warwick accompanied R. Sangster to the dressing room with their faces cut. Peterson made a plucky effort in goal, but the Westend attack was determined, and the boys scored twice before the bell rang.

The game was too one-sided to afford much interest, and the lacrosse shown was not equal to the class usually put up by the boys when playing under other colors. In the second quarter the Warwick boys got busy, and Swanson and the Springs were often seen in action. C. Coutts was the most active man on the Sapperton side. Thrice during the period the Westenders found the net, but, strange to relate, there were no casualties of a series nature. Sapperton ought to have scored just before time was called on the quarter. In the third MacKenzie went back to goal and the change was so far good that there was no scoring. The Westenders were strong on checking, but on the Sapperton side some good individual effort. Cameron, the Coutts brothers and Chambers were busy, while Cherry had the whole field to himself on several occasions, none barring his way. Swanson and Coutts got to blows near the fence and were sent to cool off their feelings with the crowd.

The last quarter was the fastest, and four more were added to the Westend tally, the total thus being ten to nothing. Sapperton ought to have netted just before the finish, and deserved at least a solitary goal for the way in which they kept up the bombardment towards the last.

Penalties.

First quarter — G. Spring, three minutes.

Third quarter—Swanson and C. Coutts, five minutes; Peterson and E. Warwick, three minutes; D. Spring, five minutes.

Social Nets Big Sum.

Nearly a hundred dollars was netted at the ice cream and strawberry social given yesterday evening in the lecture room of St. Andrews church under the auspices of the women's auxiliary. A crowded attendance was present until late in the evening, when the gathering broke up after most of the edibles had been disposed of. Among those who assisted in the evening's program were Miss Laird (accompanist), solo; Miss E. Stout, solo; J. P. Bilodeau, solo; L. B. Lusby, solo; W. Keary, violin solo. The Smith-Insley orchestra was in attendance throughout the evening. A considerable sum was realized by the energetic efforts of twelve little girls, who sold candies at retail prices.

MONTREAL MINER OFF TO THE BABINE

Lucky Cobalt Operator Seeks Paying Propositions in Northern British Columbia

L. Robert Jacobs, a Montreal mining man who amassed a fortune in Cobalt, and who was a pioneer operator in the Kootenays, will sail for the north tonight on the steamer Camosun. He will spend the summer examining freemilling, silver-lead and copper propositions in northern British Columbia, devoting most of his time to the Telqua and Babine districts.

He will be accompanied by Jack Empey and Bert McClarty, two well known Spokane mining men, who own valuable mining interests in the Morris river country, thirty miles east of the junction of the Telqua and Bulkeley valleys. These claims comprise several rich copper and silver-lead propositions, whose ledges are said to be of phenomenal size and richness. Mr. Jacobs will devote a fortnight to an examination of these groups before inspecting various other groups which have been submitted to the Montreal and New York mining syndicate, which he organized two years ago.

SUSPECT IN SAPPERTON LOITERING CASE RELEASED

Man Answered Description of Party Who Entered Japanese Boarding House on Monday.

The chief of police had a short journey yesterday to Westminster Junction after the man wanted for entering a Japanese boarding house on Monday at Sapperton with intent to steal. The man held by the police there yesterday in consequence of a message sent from this city was William Macdonald, whose description exactly tallied with that of a man who was seen behaving in a suspicious manner in the house as stated.

Macdonald was confronted last night with the Japanese woman who saw the party who committed the deed. She completely failed to identify him, and he was in consequence released. In the interests of justice the description will not be published, but it is fair to acknowledge the assistance given the police by the operator at the G. N. depot, who warned them of the presence of the suspect when he went to the depot on some small errand.

BISHOPS WILL LAY MILLONS ON ALTAR

London, June 24.—The Pan-Angican congress closed last night with a mass meeting for women in Albert hall, which was presided over by the Bishop of London. The day was spent in several large devotional meetings.

A thanksgiving service at St. Pauls cathedral will be held at noon today at which two hundred and fifty bishops from all parts of the world will walk in solemn procession and lay the offerings of their diocese on the high altar. It is currently reported that the fund thus provided may amount to $5,000,000.

Picnic Committee Meets.

At an executive meeting of the citizen's picnic committee held yesterday evening, a sub-committee, consisting of Captain Wooster, E. D. MacKenzie and Walter Gilley was appointed to interview the officials of the Great Northern railway with a view to securing coaches for an excursion to Bellingham about the middle of next month. The committee was also instructed to interview Captain Cates, of Vancouver, in order to ascertain the possibility of securing some of his boats should it be decided to hold the picnic at Bowen island.

Do Not Favor Trawlers.

Canso, N. S., June 25.—The steamer Wren, a steam trawler, Captain John Smith, arrived at Canso today from Scotland, and will fish in gulf waters. Local fishermen do not look with favor on the introduction of this mode of fishing.

CAPTURE OF JENKINS REFLECTS NO CREDIT ON CHIEF SPAIN

Parlor Policeman Instructed Sheriff Williams, of Bellingham, to Release Man Since Identified as Murderer of Mrs. Morrison, But Real Officer of the Law Knew Better.

That the capture of James Jenkins, the suspect now in the provincial jail awaiting trial on a charge of murdering Mrs. Mary Morrison, was not in any way due to the shrewdness or ability of Chief Constable F. Stanley-Spain is conclusively shown by the following story taken from a Bellingham paper. The action of Spain in instructing Sheriff Williams to release Jenkins is on a par with his conduct on the day of the murder, when he withheld all information concerning the crime from the city police, the Vancouver police, and other interested parties until several hours after he had been notified of the tragedy. Had it not been for the lure of his feather bed, it is doubtful is Spain would have made any report of the murder to his superior officers until even later, but the gloomy prospect of spending a night in the woods around Hazelmere on the hunt for a desperate murderer proved too much for the head of the Westminster provincial police force and he returned to his downy couch.

"Jenkins, who closely resembles the descriptions sent out of the murderer, was arrested at Wickersham shortly after the murder upon the instructions of Sheriff Williams, of Bellingham, who ordered all his deputies to watch out for suspicious characters. Jenkins refused to account for his movements on June 8 or 9, the day preceding and the day of the murder. When asked why he was wearing two undershirts and no overshirt, he said he had torn up the shirt at Nooksack and thrown it away because it was soiled.

"At the time Jenkins was arrested a description of him was sent to New Westminster. Constable Spain did not think much of the suspect, and asked Williams to release him. This Williams refused to do, instead having Jenkins sentenced to ninety days at the poor farm for vagrancy. Then he went to the other side and laid his case before Constable Spain in detail.

"As a result of Sheriff Williams' persuasion, Spain, Mr. Morrison and the little girl, who was with her mother at the time of the assault, went to Bellingham and the girl picked him out as the guilty party."

Spain left yesterday morning for Blaine, presumably on the hunt for more evidence. His movements were as beautifully mysterious as usual.

WHISKY SEIZED WHEN LABEL CLASHED WITH LAW

"Canadian Club" Improperly Labelled Is Held by American Customs—Booze Will Be Destroyed.

Detroit, Mich., June 25.—The federal authorities today seized a quantity of Canadian Club whisky in this city which is valued at $60,000. It was discovered not to have been labelled in accordance with the requirements of the pure food law.

An interesting situation was developed as a result of the action of the authorities, for it is not thought that the whisky can be redeemed by the distributing firm, and there are many who are willing to "take a chance" on the unlabelled article and would like to be present when it is "destroyed."

SEATTLE NEWSPAPER REPORTED TO BE SOLD

Seattle, June 25.—A story is in circulation to the effect that the Guggenheims have purchased the Post-Intelligencer. The report cannot be confirmed here, as John L. Wilson, owner, and Erastus Brainerd, editor are both in the east.

SIR CHARLES HIBBERT RESIGNS IN PICTOU

Halifax, June 25.—Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper has sent a letter to the electors of Pictou county, regretfully tendering his resignation as a candidate for Pictou county. In a letter he says he is confident that the Conservatives will win at the next elections.

Harry Hemming May Lease Driard.

Victoria, June 25.—Harry Hemming, of Vancouver, has been in the city in connection with negotiations towards the purchase of the lease of the Driard hotel. A report from Vancouver says that the negotiations have been completed and that the purchaser has obtained a long lease of the premises. Van Decar, the proprietor of the Driard, denies that any sale has taken place, although negotiations have been commenced which have proved fruitless owing to a difficulty in obtaining a long lease of the premises.

Plant 10,000 Trout.

Everett, June 25.—Ten thousand young trout from the state hatchery at Starlup were today placed in Cranberry, Crabapple and Hi lakes, north of Marysville, by E. L. Walsh, an extensive property owner in that vicinity.

LUMBERMEN DESIRE TO SEE DUTY ON PINE AND HEMLOCK

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Informs Deputation He Will Protect Interests of the Western People.

Ottawa, June 25.—The Canadian Lumbermen's Association was formed yesterday to act as a general advisory board to deal with matters affecting the trade. The capital represented is about $25,000,000. The new president elected was J. R. Booth, Ottawa, who presided. A permanent secretary will be appointed.

Afterwards a deputation asked the Premier and Minister of Customs to impose a duty on southern pine and hemlock brought into Canada. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will consider this, but intimated that no restrictions will be imposed that would act as an obstacle to western people receiving what lumber they required. The lumbermen said the duty would not have any effect in the West where white pine is mainly used.

INJUNCTION AGAINST ORDER OF FORESTERS

Rochester, N. Y., June 25.—A temporary injunction was granted yesterday by Justice G. A. Benton, restraining the supreme court of the Independent Order of Foresters from increasing its present insurance rates pending the action brought on that point by Henry J. Simmelink, of this city.

The matter of increasing the rates for insurance in this fraternal order will be taken up at the convention in Toronto this year. Under the present order, it will be impossible for the order to put the increase into effect.

Newington Going South.

The steamer Newington is being prepared for the voyage to Mexico early next week, where the historical vessel is to be engaged in the fruit carrying trade. Captain Shadforth, who is to command the Newington, is now on his way to this city from San Francisco according to advices received yesterday by Ald. E. J. Fader, late owner of the boat.

Indian Reserve Auctioned.

Ottawa, June 25.—An auction sale of the Daokis Indian reserve took place yesterday. Eight berths were sold for $871,500, and at the lowest estimate it is expected that, including dues from timber, the reserve will yield $1,171,000.

TRAM PICNIC WILL GO TO LANGLEY

The annual picnic of the B. C. E. R. employees, which is undertaken under the auspices of the Employees Sickness and Benevolent association, will be held at Langley this year, the date finally settled upon being Monday, July 20. Ross Jamieson, chairman of the committee appointed to look after all details, went up to Langley yesterday to make arrangements for the handling of the crowd which is sure to take in this favorite excursion, and also to select a suitable spot where athletic sports, races, baseball and other games may be held. He will also endeavor to hire a large hall for the purpose of holding a dance during the evening.

Associated in the energetic committee with Mr. Jamieson are Lance Grimmer, Jack Archibald and two others. Two river steamers, probably the Beaver and the Ramona, will be chartered for the occasion, the boats leaving the C. P. N. wharf at eight o'clock in the morning and returning late at night.

FRENCH CANADIANS FEAR LOSS OF THEIR LANGUAGE

St. Jean Baptiste Society Deplores Introduction of English Trade Terms in Business Circles.

Montreal, June 25.—Passionate appeals to French-Canadians to preserve their language and their customs unsullied by contact with English-speaking countrymen, were made in an address delivered last night at the St. Jean Baptiste demonstration in the town of St. Louis.

Canon Lepailleur pointed out that the French language was being contaminated by the use of English words, especially in the industrial and business world, and said that the St. Jean Baptiste society ought to make it its business to provide proper nomenclature of French business and industrial terms.

Mr. Arthur Brossard, K. C., pointed out the danger there was from the element that was pouring in, especially in the northwest, but said that if Quebec, that bulwark of French-Canadian nationality, stood firm, there was hope for those settled elsewhere. The gathering was estimated at 20,000 people.

DEADLOCK ON ELECTION BILL IS PRACTICALLY ENDED

Concessions Reported to Have Been Made by Both Parties—Prorogation About July 18.

Ottawa, June 25. — Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. R. L. Borden have now practically reached an understanding on the election bill, there being concessions on both sides.

The balance of sessional business will be put through as speedily as possible and prorogation is expected about July 18.

FLOOD DAMAGES REACH $1,000,000 FOR REPAIRS

Tacoma, June 25.—Northern Pacific officials estimate that the recent floods in Montana will cost their road approximately $1,000,000 for repairs. In the neighborhood of 6000 men will be employed making the repairs which consist of rebuilding bridges, reconstructing grades and culverts and putting cuts in order. Work is now being vigorously pushed on the re-

Brazil to Build Armada.

London, June 25.—It is stated on reliable authority that Brazil has placed orders with British ship yards for twenty-seven warships, including three battleships of the Dreadnought type, with the stipulation that all the vessels must be delivered in September, 1909.

REPLY RECEIVED FROM SHAMROCK SECRETARY

Stipulation Made That Majority of Goals Shall Decide Fate of Cup.

A telegram was received yesterday afternoon by H. Ryall, secretary of the Westminster Lacrosse club, from Mr. Lunny, secretary-treasurer of the Montreal Shamrocks, in which the sender states that the holders of the Minto cup have agreed to play two games against the Westminster team on July 21 and 28, the dates proposed by the local club. Mr. Lunny makes the stipulation that only two matches be played, the winners of the cup to be decided by the majority of goals scored in the two games. The Minto cup rules provide for the holding of the cup by the winning of one match, the best two out of three matches, or by a majority of goals scored in two games.

A meeting of the executive of the local club is to be held today at Ryall's store for the purpose of discussing the terms proposed by Mr. Lunny. No answer has as yet been received to the message sent to P. D. Ross, one of the trustees of the cup, informing him that the Westminsters had forwarded a challenge to the Shamrocks. The consent of Ross is necessary before any matches can be played for the Minto cup.

REWARD IS OFFERED FOR RECOVERY OF DIAMONDS

Thousand Dollars in Gold Will Be Given to the Party Restoring Stolen Drill Diamonds.

Spokane, June 25.—One thousand dollars in gold is offered as a reward in Spokane for the recovery of eighteen black diamonds and sixty chip diamonds, valued at $12,000 stolen from the Diamond Drill company at the Centre Star mine, Rossland, B. C., on the morning of June 21. The diamonds were owned by Fred Stone and E. H. Knight, of Spokane, who used them in drilling.

While there is no clue, the police believe that someone familiar with the offices is responsible for the loss of the gems. The workmen fastened the door when they quit work on the night of June 21, but failed to place the diamonds in the safe. On their return the following morning they found the door unlocked and the stones gone. Thomas Conner, manager of the company at the mine, and the night watchman, say they did not notice anyone in the office after the workmen left the building.

The police at Rossland are of the opinion that an attempt will be made to bring the diamonds into the United States, where they can be disposed of easily for the reason they are not registered.

Sereno E. Payne.

Sereno E. Payne, the veteran representative in congress of the Thirty-first district of New York, was born June 26, 1843, in Hamilton, N. Y. At an early age his family removed with him to Auburn and has since made that city his home. He was graduated from the University of Rochester and was admitted to the bar in 1866. His first public office was that of city clerk of Auburn, which he filled from 1868 to 1871. He subsequently was elected supervisor, district attorney, and member of the board of education. He was elected to the forty-eighth congress and has been re-elected biennially ever since, with the exception of one term. Mr. Payne was a member of the British and American joint high commission in 1899, and as a member of the committee on ways and means he helped to frame the McKinley and the Dingley tariff bills. Since 1899 he has been chairman of the ways and means committee and one of the recognized Republican leaders of the House of Representatives. He is a close friend of Speaker Cannon and during the legislative session the two usually leave the capital together and stroll down Pennsylvania avenue arm in arm when the day's work is done.

CUSTOMS OFFICIALS.

Those of England Called the Most Obliging and Helpful.

There is no country where the matter of landing from American passenger ships is so easy and so expeditiously done as England, says the Travel Magazine. Of course it is a free trade country, the freest in the whole world. There are duties levied on tobacco and spirits, but travelers are allowed a half pound of tobacco in any shape and a half pint of spirits, which also includes perfume. Sugar is dutiable, whether in grain, sweets or in jam, but a small quantity is freely passed. In all cases, however, these goods must be the actual property of the passenger and be for his use and control. Cocoa, coffee and tea are also dutiable, as are reprints of English books. Outside of these things, as named, passengers can bring in anything—motors, cycles, horses, but not dogs, which animals a not to exceed six months' quarantine awaits. Keep dogs on the American side. The customs officials are life appointees—under the civil service—and will be found most obliging and helpful. In fact, they are a model to the customs world. Tell the truth at all times to these officials and you will be all right. They are marvelously keen on spotting the supposedly smart liar. Lying doesn't pay "annyhow, Hinnessy!" at home or abroad.

TESTATORS' LAST WISHES.

Strange Requests Regarding the Arrangement of Funerals.

Sir James Colquhoun's desire to be buried in full evening dress costume recalls, says the London Standard, curious last wishes of other testators.

George Herring directed that his remains should lie beneath a sundial at the Haven of Rest, Maidenhead. Queen Victoria planned the entire programme for her funeral, even choosing the music to be played, the anthems to be sung.

A couple of months ago a young lady who died at Reigate on the eve of her wedding was buried in her bridal dress, the friends who were to have been her bridesmaids attending the funeral in the gowns which they should have worn at the wedding and carrying in place of wreaths the wedding bouquets.

More singular was the funeral of Major General Algernon Stewart at Hascombe, Surrey. The coffin was drawn to the grave by the dead man's horse. The mourners walked, and the bearers wore old fashioned smocks, each with its collar adorned with a text. The same men appeared in their mourning garments at the church service on the following Sunday.

Shakespeare or Shakspere?

It is not to be wondered at that boys and girls are sometimes puzzled over the spelling of the great poet's name. It is written in three different ways—Shakespeare, Shakspeare and Shakspere. Which of these is right? The first is generally preferred, though many of our best scholars write it Shakspere, contending that it is right because his autograph signature appears in that form. At the same time it should be remembered that the name appeared as Shakespeare on the title page of books that he superintended, and this warrants the belief that he accepted it as the correct spelling, in spite of the autograph signature. There is very little authority for the form Shakspere.

At Ryall's Drug Store

"I want some consecrated lye," he said, as he slowly entered the chemist's store.

"You mean concentrated lye?" suggested the proprietor, as he sweetly smiled upon the man.

"Well, maybe I do. It does nut-meg any difference, though. It's what I camphor, anyway. What does it sulphur?"

"Twenty-five cents a can."

"Then you can give me a can?"

"I have seldom cinnamon who thought himself as witty as you," said the chemist, in a gingerly manner, feeling called upon to do a little punning himself.

"Well, that's not bad, either," laughed the customer, with a syrupticious smile. "I ammonia a novice at the business, though. I've soda good many puns that other punsters were credited with. However, I don't care a copperas far as I am concerned. Wehave had a pleasant time, and I shall carraway—"

But the chemist had gone to wait on another customer.

WHEN BOSTON SHOOK.

An Earthquake That Rocked the City November, 1755.

On November 18, 1755, "a little after 4 on a serene and pleasant night," Boston was roused by an earthquake which lasted nearly five minutes. A writer of the times gives an account of the catastrophe, and Rev. Henry White quotes it in his "Early History of New England:"

One hundred chimneys were leveled to the roofs of the houses and fifteen hundred were shattered in part. The streets were covered with bricks which had fallen. The ends of brick houses were thrown down.

It was first introduced with a noise like several coaches rattling over pavements, or rather like many cart loads of paving stones thrown down. The first motion was a strong pulsation, which threw my house upward. Immediately after a tremor succeeded; then instantly a quick vibration with sudden jerks followed.

The first view I had was of the steeples of the churches, and I was glad to see them standing, but the spindle and vane of Faneuil Hall market were thrown down.

Many persons ran into the streets, shrieking with apprehension of its being the last day or the judgment, and some thought they heard the last trumpet sounding and cried for mercy. The beast creatures lowed, the birds fluttered in surprise, and all the animal creation was filled with terror. Every face looked ghastly, and many knees smote together. Never was such a scene of disaster in New England before.

DON'T BORROW MEDICINE.

Physician Points Out the Grave Danger of Such a Course.

"And whatever you do," said a doctor to a poor patient, "don't take any borrowed medicine."

"Wasn't that an unnecessary caution?" asked a woman who happened to be present.

"Not in this neighborhood," said the doctor. "It is a common thing for people down here to lend medicine. They do it, of course, to help each other along. So far as I know, no one has paid the penalty of this neighborly kindness with his life, but it is the greatest wonder in the world that one-half the people in the neighborhood hasn't poisoned the other half.

"The first thing a sick person does is to describe his symptoms to his friends. He is pretty sure to find somebody in the crowd who has been afflicted with apparently the same ailment. Usually the former patient has some of the medicine left and straightway it is proffered as a possible cure.

"'You might just as well have it,' says the kindly neighbor. 'It will be pretty sure to help you and will save doctor's bills.'

"Of course it doesn't do anything of the kind. Nine times out of ten the stuff taken was prescribed for an entirely different ailment and makes the patient worse than he was in the beginning, but until the altruistic spirit results in some serious accident the practice is likely to continue."—New York Press.

The Chatty English.

Every Englishman likes to be alone and have things to himself. If he cannot choose his company, he would rather have none. Englishmen are proud of the national idiosyncrasy, yet here comes one who, knowing all this, pays it no deference, but sets the national tradition at defiance and forces his intrusive presence on you. Why does this denationalized Englishman, when he may be as solitary as you wish to be yourself, not act as every true Englishman ought and go into the next carriage or take a seat at the other side of the room as far away as he can get from you? By all acknowledged laws of English intercourse he ought as much to dislike being near you as you dislike to be near him.—London Saturday Review.

Miraculous Cures.

Reginald of Durham, who wrote a chronicle some time before 1195, asserts that a young English nobleman was cured of leprosy at the shrine of St. Cuthbert in Durham cathedral and that a young woman who had been for the space of three years an inmate of a large hospital established at Badele, near Darlington, in the diocese of Durham, was miraculously healed at the shrine of St. Godric at Finchdale in the presence of Ralph Haget, sheriff of the county, and Norman, parish priest of Haltrune.—St. James' Gazette.

It Didn't Break.

A little girl held a mirror up before a visitor's face and asked, "Do you see yourself in it?"

"Yes, my darling."

"Are you quite sure?"

"Yes. Why should I not?"

"Because I heard mamma say the other day that if you ever peeped into a looking glass you'd smash it all into tiny little bits!"

He Could Dodge.

"There's nothing slow about Jones," he said reflectively.

The other laughed scornfully.

"I guess you never loaned him any money," he said.

"Oh, yes, I have," replied the first speaker. "That's what made me speak that way. I loaned him $10 six months ago, and I haven't been able to catch him since."

She Got a New One.

"I've stopped asking people if my bonnet is on straight." The Husband—Why, my dear? The Wife—I love you too much, John, to disgrace you by calling a lady's attention to an old bonnet like this.—London Tit Bits.

FRIDAY, JUNE 26, 1908.

THE MAJORITY MUST RULE.

Majority rule is the essence of responsible government. No system of popular government has yet been found possible save on the principle that the majority of the people should direct the course of public affairs. Nor is it conceivable that a system of responsible government could exist, founded on any other principle. The people of a country are rarely or never unanimous in support of a line of policy. Commonly, if not always, there is a part or portion or party of the people who favor one line and another part who favor a different mode of procedure. One or other of these differing parties must rule. Under responsible government the larger party decides which course the national affairs shall pursue. Under irresponsible government the smaller party determines the course—and whether the smaller party comprises a king and a circle of favorites, or a body of popularly selected representatives, so long as they are the smaller party and so long as they dominate the course of public affairs, the country has irresponsible government.

Parliament is the agent of the people. The majority of the members hold the views of the majority of the electors of the country and their business is to incorporate those views into the conduct of public business. If they are prevented from doing so the will of the majority is frustrated and responsible government to that extent is destroyed. It is no defence to say that those who prevent a parliamentary majority from carrying out the will of the people are representing the views of the popular minority. This may be true. But it is also true that the minority is a minority, and for that reason has no license to prevent the purpose of the majority, nor to seek to replace the policy of the majority by its own policy.

The Canadian people are today face to face with the necessity of reasserting and defending the principle of majority rule if they wish to maintain their system of responsible government. Parliament has been in session since November last. The order paper has been filled continuously with business of public importance, much of it of surpassing importance. Yet that business has not been transacted. Much of it has not been touched. Much more of it has been cursorily considered and pushed aside. Day after day, week after week, month after month, progress with business has been prevented by protracted discussions on subjects of minor importance and issues which have been thoroughly threshed out in preceding sessions. That the government was anxious to get along with business has been abundantly manifest from the persistent pressure brought to bear to hurry on the work, from the daily appearance of important items on the order paper, and during the last week by the adoption of morning sessions of the House, and the proposal to sit also on Wednesday evenings. Yet they have been persistently and consistently prevented from doing so by orations on about every conceivable subject on which a speech could be strung together. The irresistible conclusion is that for some reason, be that what it may, the Opposition have resolved to prevent, so far as they can do so, the will of the majority of the people being carried into effect.

Unfortunately our parliamentary system gives the Opposition this power. The House possesses no means of closing a debate, however puerile or irrelevant, in order to take up business, however pressing or important. Discussion may be started on any subject and continued for any length of time to the paralysis of business. This broad liberty offers the opportunity to turn a parliamentary session into a long distance talking race; and this opportunity the Opposition have seized and worked to the limit. The public service throughout the country is handicapped and partially paralyzed for lack of money, and projects of immense public concern remain untouched on the order table. Yet the talk goes on, but business does not go on. The position now is that should the House sit until next November and devote every hour strictly to public business, the time as spent would be no longer than the time that has already been wasted. That the session will continue so long is not to be supposed. The upshot is, therefore, that after wasting six months in talk the business of the country in a few weeks at the close of a long and strenuous session, by weary and uninterested members.

There is a pronounced and rapidly developing sentiment, both in Parliament and in the country, that this anomaly should be ended. It is not permitted in the British Parliament nor the United States House of of Representatives. In both those Houses effective measures have been taken to stop the flow language and expedite the course of business. Unless the Canadian people are to abandon the principle of majority rule and turn over the direction of their affairs to a party they have declined to place in power, similar measures must be taken by the Canadian Parliament. The business of Parliament is to transact the business of the people. The majority in Parliament will be negligent of the duty imposed upon them if they continue to permit that duty to be frustrated by the minority.—Ottawa Free Press.

BETS $5000 THAT TAFT WILL BE ELECTED

New York, June 25.—The first campaign bet was made in Wall street today when Oscar Bamberger waged $5000 against $3500 with Charles Gould that Taft will be elected. A stringent rule has been issued against betting since the anti-racing bills were passed and the brokers accepting bets during the campaign will be ruled off the curb. They will not even be permitted to place money for clients.

Wedding Bells.

A pretty private wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher, Mowat street, when their third daughter, Olive Bertha, became the wife of Frank Grover Ferguson, of Bellingham. The bride, who carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and roses, was becomingly attired in white silk with bridal veil and wreath of white carnations, and was attended by her sister, Miss Grace Shaw, who wore a pretty dress of white organdy and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and roses. A. L. Johnston, cousin of the bride, supported the groom. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. H. Barraclough, the happy couple left for their future home in Bellingham.

Cricket Match Tomorrow.

Cooke, T. S. Oddy, P. C. Lashmar, J. H. Vidal, J. Soudan, G. Simpson, W. Morris, H. Broughton, G. Oddy, A. Rowe, T. Rowe, C. Purvis. The game is to commence at two o'clock, and from among the players will be selected the team which is to meet the Burrards at Queens park on the first of July. F. J. Peers, captain of the Westminster eleven, will figure on the team at this latter match.

Annual Trip to Douglas.

The Beaver makes its annual trip to Douglas today, leaving at eight o'clock, and will remain at Harrison Hot Springs this evening, proceeding to Douglas at daylight. The boat will return tomorrow night. The rate is $3 for the round trip.

The News yesterday voiced the general sentiment of the citizens with regard to the disgraceful state of Tipperary as the aftermath of the circus. The scavenger was at work during the day setting straight the existing condition of things.

We have thirteen and a half acres of very good land on the North road; part in clover. Convenient to Sapperton car line. Can be bought on easy terms. Abbott & Hyde, 238 Columbia street. **

C. A. Bourne returned yesterday evening from Moresby island, on the Queen Charlotte group, where he had been for the past four months engaged in the running of a sawmill in which he is interested. Mr. Bourne proposes remaining in this city about three weeks before returning north.

The bookings for the Dominion exhibition at Calgary next week are very satisfactory. It is certain that with the cheap rates issued by the C. P. R. there will be a large attendance from the New Westminster district.

At the Ladner races, which take place today, there are five entries for the B. C. futurity stakes No. 2, and it is expected that there will be five entries in the free-for-all, six entries in the 2:40 class, five entries in the mile dash and ten entries in the pony race, all of which should make a good day's spot.

The funeral took place this afternoon of Mrs. Purdy from her late home, 86 Bonson street, to the I. O. O. F. cemetery. Rev. W. H. Barraclough and Rev. A. deB. Owen conducted the service. The latter read the committal sentences. The pallbearers were J. S. Bryson, J. Calbick, J. J. Johnston, F. Maxwell, G. Sangster and R. Wintemute. There was a large attendance of friends.

A WHISTLER STORY.

The Eagle That Was Made to Pose as a Fighting Cock.

Apropos of something Whistler once told a cockfight story so vividly that only a man with a sailor instinct could tell it as well, mimic it so keenly and enjoy it so thoroughly. It was a story of a strange species of the American cock, pictured to the smallest detail so beautifully that one forgot that it was a story.

Some American sailors were at a cockfight in a seaport town in England when one of them remarked to the owner of the champion:

"We have got an American cock on board that can whip any bird here."

"Go fetch 'im on," said the champion. "Chuck 'im in and see. If 'e licks one bird we 'ave plenty more to throw in that can lick hany blawsted Hamerican bird you can fetch 'ere."

"All right. We'll bring one," said the sailors. When they got aboard they rigged up an American eagle. After their own manner, they painted, trimmed, spliced and reefed fore and aft, transforming the eagle to a cock. When ready they went ashore to pit their new American gamecock against all England.

At the pit the sailors chucked in their cock, which looked around for other surprises as he backed close to the wall.

"Now, bring on your birds!" yelled the sailors. A strutting cock was thrown into the pit and was another surprise to the poor dismantled eagle. He backed up closer and closer to the wall, wondering what would happen next. The cock walked three times majestically around the circle, cuffing at his strange opponent, the eagle pitiably abashed and bedrabbled, crouching lower and lower and looking around and above him for an explanation of what it all meant, while the crowd were yelling madly for the English fighter. The eagle made himself smaller and smaller, but at last, finding that he could get back no further and thinking that something was expected of him, and, as the cock dashed at him again, stretched out his long claws and took his opponent by the neck.

Here Whistler ended with an imitation by motions of what the eagle did. He stretched out his arm, shaped his hand like a claw, which by this time looked like a real one, drew it to his mouth and with one bite pulled off the head as he thought an eagle might do it. Then he looked blandly about the room, as the eagle had done, at the astonished crowd and said, "Now bring on your other birds."—Otto Bacher in Century.

TOWNS WITH TROUBLES.

London's trouble is her fog.

Tokyo's trouble is earthquakes. In her worst 200,000 residents were killed.

The mistral is the trouble of Marseilles, an east wind that increases the city's death rate 50 per cent.

Calcutta's trouble is cholera, and the bubonic plague is the trouble of Bombay. Each city pays to her trouble an annual tribute of 9,000 souls.

Bagdad's trouble is the "Bagdad button," a sore that attacks practically every resident and visitor, leaving a button shaped permanent scar.

Madrid's trouble is the solano, a summer wind from the southeast. It is exceedingly hot and is accompanied by blinding, choking clouds of dust, so that notwithstanding a temperature of 105 or 110 degrees all windows must be closed.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Science of Chemistry.

Chemistry did not become a science—in other words, chemistry proper did not exist—until the seventeenth century, and it was as late as the middle of the eighteenth century before it began to amount to much. The old alchemy undoubtedly contained the germs, or at least the possibilities, of the present day chemistry, but beyond this the relationship between the modern science and the ancient delusion is slight indeed. Still, it cannot be denied that it was in the foolish search for the "Philosopher's Stone" and the "Elixir of Life" that men first hit upon the discoveries which were destined to develop into the great science of today.—New York American.

The Sarcastic Cabby.

The London bobby is notorious for overgrown feet and hands. Likewise the London cabby is generally accredited with never being at a loss for a reply. One day a bobby lifted up his hand majestically to halt a cabby, but the latter crowded his horse ahead.

"Didn't you see me raise my 'and?" demanded the bobby.

"I did see the sky darken a moment, but my 'orse was shyin' at your feet," retorted the cabby as he whipped up and went on.—London Graphic.

The Danes and the Raven.

Perhaps the Danes selected the raven for their standard out of feelings of gratitude, for before the invention of the mariner's compass they must have found him extremely useful. The only method of determining whether land was near was to let loose a raven. If the bird saw land he sailed away forever; if he did not, he returned to the ship.—London Chronicle.

Equally Culpable.

"I can say for myself that I never have been mean enough to get another woman's cook away from her."

"Neither have I, but I must confess that once or twice I have tried to work our cook off on some of my neighbors."

Shut Him Off.

"What are you taking for your cold?"

"Nothing."

"Nothing? But, my dear fellow"—

"Nothing. I say, not even advice. Fine day, isn't it?"—Illustrated Bits.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of NewWestminster enacts as follows:

(1) It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said City to raise by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate, who may be will- ing to advance the same on the credit of the debentures hereinafter men- tioned, any sum or sums of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $6,000.00, and to cause the same to be paid into the Treasury of the said City for the purposes mentioned herein.

(2) It shall be lawful for the Mayor to cause any number of debentures to be made, not exceeding in the whole the sum of Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars for such sums of money as may be required, not less than One hundred ($100.00) Dollars each, or an equivalent expressed in pounds ster- ling of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland at a value of 4.866 to the pound sterling; and all such debentures shall be sealed with the Seal of the Corporation, signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the Trea- surer thereof, or by such other per- son or persons as may be thereunto lawfully authorized.

(3) The said debentures shall be payable on the first day of July, 1958, at such place or places as the Coun- cil of the said Corporation may from time to time appoint with the appro- val of the holders thereof, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of the interest at the rate of five per centum per annum on the amount thereof, which interest shall be payable half-yearly on the first day of January and the first day of July in each and every year, and the said coupons shall be signed by the said Mayor.

A By-Law to enable the Council of the Corporation of the City of New Westminster to raise by loan the sum of Thirty-two thousand, five hundred ($32,500) Dollars for the construction of a Reservoir at Queen's Park and connecting mains

WHEREAS, certain sums of money have this year been expended out of the general revenue of the City on the construction of a reservoir at Queen's Park and connecting mains, and it is expedient that certain additional sums be expended in completing the con- struction of the said reservoir and connecting mains, amounting in all, with the sums already expended, to the sum of Thirty-two thousand, five hundred ($32,500) Dollars;

AND, WHEREAS, it appears that if the said sum of Thirty-two thousand, five hundred ($32,500) Dollars be ap- propriated from the general revenue of the City for the current year the rate of taxation will be excessive, and it is expedient that such excessive taxation should be avoided, and the said sum should be raised on the credit of the Corporation, and that debentures should be issued for that amount.

AND, WHEREAS, for the payment of interest on the debentures pro- posed to be issued under this By-Law, and for creating a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures when due, it will be necessary to raise by special rate, in addition to all other rates, each year during the currency of the said debentures, the sum of Nineteen hundred, thirteen and 13-100 ($1913.13) Dollars;

AND, WHEREAS, in order to raise the said yearly sum of Nineteen hun- dred, thirteen and 13-100 ($1913.13) Dollars an equal special rate on the dollar will be required to be levied on the whole rateable property of the City of New Westminster;

(5) Subject as aforesaid, there shall be raised annually by special rate as aforesaid, during the currency of the said debentures the sum of One thou- sand, six hundred and twenty-five ($1,625.00) Dollars, for the payment of interest thereon, and the sum of Two hundred, eighty-eight and 13-100 ($288.13) Dollars for the repay- ment of the principal.

FALLING OF THE LEAVES.

The Wind In the Autumn Really Has Very Little to Do With It.

When the storm clouds gather behind the brown autumnal woods and cold winds begin to blow, then the bright leaves come drifting down in fluttering, fast thickening showers until it almost seems as if the wind were the active agent and actually tore the leaves from the trees. This, of course, is not the case. The leaf fall only becomes possible after a long preparation on the part of the tree, which forms a peculiar layer of cells in each leaf stem called the cleavage plate.

This cleavage plate, or separation layer, consists of a section of loosely attached thin walled cells with a few strands of stronger woody fiber in among them, so, in the early autumn, although the leaves appear as firmly attached as ever before, they are really only held on the tree by these few woody strands and the outer brittle skin or epidermis of the stem. Now only a slight shock or wind flurry is sufficient to break the fragile support and bring the leaves in showers to the ground. We may see these woody strands broken through in the leaf scar of the horse chestnut, where they appear as little rounded projections on the broken surface and are often spoken of from their fancied resemblance to the nails of a horseshoe. The hickory and ash among other trees have similar markings on their leaf scars and from the same cause. On the root of the wild sarsaparilla, which projects just above the ground, a like series of little projections will be seen upon the ringlike scar which surrounds the bud where the leaf stalk has just separated.

Often the leaves separate and fall even on the quietest days, for their own weight is sufficient to break the frail support. These hushed and supremely tranquil days we all remember, when our October walks are accompanied by the soft, small sounds of falling leaves, by the rustlings and dry whisperings of their showering multitudes.—St. Nicholas.

SLEEP AND NERVE REST.

A Necessity That Is Overlooked In the Modern Strenuous Life.

In the days when eight hours for sleep were nominally regarded as an hour too long for any self respecting individual the exhausting character of modern life was unknown. There was less wealth and more contentment; less competition and more security; fewer distractions, but more simplicity. Work was easier, slower, and care, anxiety, apprehension—in a word, worry—did not feed, like the worm i' th' bud, upon the hours exempt from toil. We are remorseless in overtaxing the delicate mechanism of our minds and nerves. The best walker, for instance, does not propose to himself to go regularly sixty miles a day or to subject the same set of muscles in any other form of physical exercise to intense and unremitting labor. But that is what we do with the immediate agent of our minds—the brain machine. We cannot watch its operations. We often assume that its movements are as light and endless as the ripples of the universal air. We know and nevertheless we forget that the brain is a substantial apparatus as liable to depreciation as the fixed plant in a workshop. Now, nothing is more certain than this—that the potential capacity of the human brain has not increased, if at all, in anything like the proportion of the immensely aggravated demand upon it.

The modern man is subject to as much mental and moral wear and tear in a day as his ancestors in no very remote generation experienced in a week. Yet in respect of sleep we have hardly changed traditional habit. We keep later and still later hours. We catch our trains in the morning as usual. There is no doubt whatever that we burn the candle at both ends with unprecedented disregard of the laws of psychological economy, and that the amount of rest we allow for nerve and brain is no longer adequate.—London Telegraph.

A Fast Train.

On the Riviera line near Ventimiglia, Italy, the train, after ambling gently along, stopped suddenly. An impatient passenger put his head out and asked crustily, "Is this Bordighera?" No answer. "Guard, is this Bordighera?" he shouted again. A voice came from the fore part of the train, "No, monsieur, it is not Bordighera—it is a cow." When the cow had been removed from the line the train ambled on again. Two minutes later it once more came to a dead stop. "Another cow, I suppose?" shouted the testy passenger witheringly. "No, monsieur, it is not," said the guard placidly. "It is the same cow."

A Costly Desk.

There is a famous old desk in the British war office in London. It is a desk to which old hands point with emotion. That desk cost the nation $25,000,000. In it is a pigeonhole with a story. It was into that pigeonhole that the dispatch of King Theodore of Abyssinia was thrust—and forgotten. After we had been to war the document was found in the desk, and we all learned that there ought to have been no war.—London Sketch.

The Straw.

"I hear your firm discharged you."

"Yes, but I wouldn't mind that so much if they hadn't added insult to injury."

"How?"

"They advertised for a boy to fill my place."

BIG LOSS OF LIFE IN WRECK OF CORUNNA

Seventeen Women Drowned —Fate of Eighty-Five Passengers in Doubt.

Paris, June 25.—A special dispatch received here from Corunna, Spain, says that the Spanish steamer Larache went on the rocks in a fog near Muros, where the cruiser Cardinal Cisneros was wrecked in 1905. The Larache sank rapidly and a panic followed.

Reports state that seventeen women were drowned. It is known that seventeen survivors were landed at Muros, but two of them have since died. Fifteen others were landed at Lon. According to the official lists the Larache carried ninety-eight of a crew, including stewards, waiters, etc., and ninety-seven passengers.

The Larache came from Cadiz, where she had landed part of her passengers. She was on her way to Muros, when on account of the fog she headed for Corunna. Suddenly she ran upon a rock, but the captain, who knew the coast well, got his vessel off. Almost immediately she ran upon another rock which was uncharted.

The steamer, according to a survivor of the crew, sank within a few minutes. The heavy sea which was running at the time destroyed two of the lifeboats. Boats from the neighboring fishing villages went to the rescue, but were able to do but little for a time owing to the weather conditions. They succeeded eventually in picking up a large number of men and women who were floating upon pieces of wreckage.

It has been ascertained that the number of passengers and crew of the Larache total 150. Sixty-five persons are known to have been saved, but the fate of the other eighty-five is not known, and it is feared that most of them perished.

Council Meeting Tonight.

An important special meeting of the council will be held this evening to meet F. R. Glover, acting general manager of the B. C. E. R., with regard to the Coquitlam lake dam. The matter is one which greatly effects the city water supply, in view of the lake being the source of the supply. The general manager, Mr. Buntzen, when here earlier in the year suggested the line now taken.

No More Patent Salt for House of Commons

London, Eng., June 23.—The members of the House now think they will be safe from appendicitis. There were so many cases of this disease among the members, that those who were doctors of medicine and scientists undertook a rigid investigation of the kitchens which provide them with meals. They tested the patent salt which was used and came to the conclusion that this salt was responsible for the epidemic of appendicitis. As a result, this salt was thrown out.

What the British House of Commons should do would be to pass a law that only Windsor Salt be used for all cooking and table purposes and also demand that all other food stuffs come up to the same standard of quality.

There seems to be no place in Canada for any other salt but Windsor Salt. Everybody knows that Windsor Salt is absolutely pure and wholesome and naturally they appreciate the importance of using it. If, as scientists declare, appendicitis is caused by impure salt, then we all are safe as long as we continue to use Windsor Salt.
