JURY DISAGREED IN SEDITION TRIAL YESTERDAY

PRESIDENT WILSON IS TO WED ON DECEMBER 18

JURY DISAGREED IN SEDITION CASE NECESSITATING NEW TRIAL

A New Jury Will Be Impanelled Monday And Evidence Will All Have To Be Taken Over Again--- Defence In The Case Is That Plot Was Concocted To Have Revenge On Him By Fellow Assyrians

The sedition charge laid against Charles Hamid, which was tried in the Assize Court yesterday, will all have to be gone over with again before a new jury. This will take place on Monday, being the first case to come up at the resuming of court this week. All day yesterday the case was before Mr. Justice Macdonald and a jury, but finally after being out for over four hours the jury returned and stated that there was no chance to reach an unanimous verdict. Thereupon the jury was discharged and a new trial ordered.

The jury was composed as follows: Geo. McColl, (foreman) C. B. Peterson, C. T. Heward, H. J. Blake, H. Letournean, W. Coyney, J. H. Bainsley, A. Cuthbert, Alex. Noble, J. A. Murray, Lee L. Baker, F. R. C. Brown.

The seditious language that was alleged, was disparaging remarks as to the British flag and the British Empire. Among the other things alleged to have been said was, "If the Germans lick England the German flag will soon be all over Canada, and I would like to see it." The remarks are alleged to have been made in a boat, when the accused, who is of Assyrian birth, and three others of the same nationality were rowing in the harbor. Curry, one of those in the boat, is not here to give evidence. Of the other three, two swear that the language was used, and the accused as the third denies the charge.

W. E. Fisher appeared for the Crown, while the accused was defended by L. W. Patmore.

For the Crown the witnesses examined yesterday morning was Frank Jabour, who is now with the Canadian forces in Vancouver ready to go to the front. He appeared as a witness in the uniform of the Highlanders, to which regiment he belongs. He was one of the men that was in the boat. He testified to having been with the accused and two others on the Sunday afternoon in question, and after playing cards, at which the accused won all the money of the others, they went to the waterfront and went out for a row on the harbor. While they were out the seditious language was used, and when they landed, he with the others, went and laid the information.

Albert Azzy, another Assyrian that was present in the boat, testified also to the uttering of the language.

Chief Gammon was called to show that Curry, the other one in the boat at the time, was not a resident here, and could not be got for the trial.

For the accused there appeared Moses Sabro, who testified to the good character of the accused.

Sam Albert, another Assyrian, was called. In connection with him the difficulty of swearing took place, and he was not allowed to take the oath. When court adjourned for lunch the argument was still in progress with respect to his oath. In the afternoon he made a statement in lieu of giving evidence under oath, in which he told of there being trouble between them, because the accused won the money in the gambling and refused to return it when they asked for it.

WIRE WAS DOWN.

Owing to the wild storm prevailing the Government Telegraph line became interrupted last night just after the Journal's press news began to arrive. As a result only a small portion came through.

E. A. Woods, city clerk, was the first witness called in the afternoon. He knew the prisoner for about four or five months. He had had conversations with him and he spoke strongly in favor of the Allies. He spoke in a very loyal way.

Fred Iggulden, of the Irish Fusilies, testified to knowing the accused for about seven months. He had chumed with him. He always spoke in favor of the British.

Cross-examined by Mr. Fisher, witness said he was always in uniform when he was with the accused, and he presumed he knew he was a soldier.

H. St.Louis knew the accused who had worked for him. The accused always talked in favor of the Allies.

Charles Hamid, the accused, was called, but was not able to be sworn. He made a statement tracing the whole proceedings of the day. He told of the gambling and the trip on the water, for which he paid. While out in the boat some stories were told and they laughed a good deal. He himself sat in one end of the boat and did not say anything. When they landed the others had manifested a disposition to keep away from him. He had left them, and they had gone on to the police and laid the information. He alleged that it was a put

STUDIED METHODS OF TAKING OATHS

NO KORAN IN THE CITY INTERFERED WITH COURT PROCEEDINGS

Witnesses Had To Be Allowed To Make Statements In Lieu Of Swearing.

In the Assizes Court yesterday the rather unusual question of administering oaths occupied a considerable time. It arose in connection with the sedition case in which the most of the witnesses were Assyrians. One witness who had no education in either Assyrian or English, who had come to this country as a young fellow, who had no pronounced views as to religion, either Christian or Mohommedan, could not be sworn, as there was no Koran available. The accused himself also was shut out from going in the witness box, because he would not declare himself either a Christian or a Mohommedan. His situation was similar to that of the other one, except that his education was not so deficient.

Sam Albert, who was called as a witness for the accused, said he believed in a God or a Supreme Being. Asked if he believed in an afterlife, he said he was not so sure of it. He did not believe that God would punish him for telling a lie, but he would not tell a lie.

Asked as to his belief with regard to the future, and as to whether one would live again after death, he said that he did not know about that, as he did not know that anyone had come back.

His Lordship could not agree to allow the oath to be administered by kissing the Bible. He stated that he was agreeable to an oath being administered, provided it could be shown that that form of oath was binding upon the witness. That was the practice in such matters. He could not, however, consent to statements being made presumably under oath when they were in reality not made in a binding way.

Sam Albert was accordingly allowed to make a statement.

When Charles Hamid, the accused, came forward to give evidence a similar trouble arose. He was ready to take the oath by means of the Bible, but when it was learned that he was born a Mahommedan trouble again arose. After considerable investigation the accused said that he believed in God and in a Supreme Being. He believed the Bible was just as binding as the Koran. He had not read either one, but believed the God and Christ of the Bible were similar to the Koran's teaching.

His Lordship could not consent to his taking the oath by the Bible, and he made a statement for the benefit of the court.

LIEUT. HALSEY WILL LEAVE MONDAY FOR INTERIOR POINT

He Will Begin Enlisting Men For The New Battalion There.

Recruiting for the new battalion that is to represent the northern part of the Province and the Yukon, is to start in the interior at once. Lieut. J. Charles Halsey, of this city, has been instructed from headquarters to proceed at once to Prince George and enter upon the recruiting work there. It is presumed that he will take charge of the training of the men there also.

In compliance with this order, Liuet. Halsey will leave on Monday for the interior and start on this work. It is expected that the active drilling of men here will start very soon also, as there are a number of men offering themselves.

FIRST AID SAVED RAILWAY MAN'S RIGHT LEG

The value of first aid instruction in big industrial plants has been demonstrated in a striking manner at Battle Creek. An accident in the Grand Trunk shops resulted in one of the men having his right leg broken in two pieces. The case was handled by the Grand Trunk Railway first aid class, and on the patient reaching the hospital, the surgeons called in the whole nursing and student staff to see the manner in which the splints and bandages had been applied. The doctors stated that if the man had been moved without this expert care there would have been a very serious chance of his losing the limb or being lame for life. They stated that this was the first case of a fracture of this nature coming to the hospital from an industrial plant that had received proper first aid.

JAMES RUSSELL IS STILL IN FIGHTING LINE

Word Received From Him Since Fears Of His Death Aroused.

James Russell, of this city, was evidently not the one killed some weeks ago, which report caused his many friends here concern. A letter has been received from Mr. Russell by Geo. D. Tite, dated at the front much later than the date when he was supposed to have been among the killed.

This will come as welcome news to the vast number of friends in Prince Rupert.

LOCAL SOLDIER TELLS OF THE TRAINING IN ENGLAND

Robt. Davie Formerly Of The Westholme Lumber Company Writes Telling What The 48th Is Doing In The Old Country---He Has Gained Twenty Pounds Sincc He Went There.

A most interesting letter has been received by M. Albert, of this city, from Robert Davie, formerly employed by Mr. Albert in the Westholme Lumber Company. He writes from the 48th Reserve Battalion now at Shorncliffe.

The letter is as follows:

Dear Mr. Albertr,—

I think in the last letter I wrote you I told you that I had gone out into the ranks and was liking it much better than the Orderly Room work. Well, I haven't changed my mind yet, although we are sure getting the stuffing knocked out of us here. The training in Canada is a perfect snap compared to what they put us through here, but there is one good thing we have to be thankful for, and that is that we have not the 120 degrees of heat to contend with that we had at Vernon. The temperature here is much the same as that of Rupert, and the weather is also much the same. We get our full share of the rain, and the parade ground is just one big pool of mud. We very seldom go out but we go over the ankles in it.

Get up every morning at 6:30, roll call at 7, breakfast at 7:15, parade at 8 o'clock for physical exercises, and we surely get exercises of the right sort. He starts us off with a four-mile run, and then puts us through the Swedish Drill. By the time he has finished with us, every muscle in our bodies is aching and the legs feel as if they would burst. Then we get five minutes rest and we are out on the parade ground again with our rifles, bayonets, etc., until 12 noon. Dinner comes along at 12:30 and we are certainly ready for it; all of us as ravenous as wolves, but there is plenty grub for everybody and of the best too. This grub is the best we have struck since we enlisted, although there was no kick coming at all on the grub at Vernon, but it was too hot there to enjoy it. We are out on parade again at 1:15 with rifles and bayonets going through all the exercises, and quit at 4:30. Other afternoons we go out for a short route march, of from 8 to 10 miles, with our full equipment on our backs, and get back shortly after five o'clock. Then once a week, a day is set aside for brigade manoeuvres, and we assuredly get it in the neck that day. We start off about 8 o'clock in the morning with full equipment, just as we march at the front, and with a beef sandwich in our haversacks. We come home anywhere from 6 to 8 o'clock at night, after marching and maneouvering practically all day, and after getting supper, the bank is most welcome. We never feel the hard boards that night. Then once a week we have a night march, usually between the hours of 7:30 and 11 o'clock, but we carry nothing on these marches but our overcoat.

Well, even with all the hard training, we all seem to be thriving well. As for myself, I have gained 20 pounds in weight, and so far have managed to stay with the rest on the route marches, although far huskier looking fellows than I have dropped out. In fact, if it were not for the rain and being out in all the nasty weather, I think I would stay in the army for the rest of my life. There has been no sickness among us yet, the most serious is colds, and we have all got a dose of that.

Bye the bye, we have only been with the 48th a little over a week. We are at present stationed about 3 miles from Shorncliffe, but for the first month or so we were at Bram-

DISCIPLINE BEING USED IN CONNECTION WITH GREECE

Paris, Dec. 4.—Greek forces have not been withdrawn from Saloniki, and the Entente Powers consider that Greece is taking too long to consider their demands.

It has been decided to again use the economic measures which were so effective a fortnight ago. Orders have been issued prohibiting the departure from Britain of all vessels loading cargoes for Greece.

Public opinion in Athens is veering round towards the fullest acceptance of the demands of the Entente Powers.

Booklet Issued By The Government Of The Province Giving Specially Compiled Recipes.

The Horticultural Branch of the Department of Agricultural of this Province has issued a very attractive little bulletin dealing with the use of potatoes, and setting forth many ways in which they can be used. A great collection of recipes for the cooking of potatoes are given.

This booklet has been issued for the purpose of bringing before the housewives of British Columbia the dietetic value of the potato, as well as to show the numerous ways in which it may be prepared. Booklets may be obtained by writing to the Horticultural Branch, Department of Agriculture, or to R. C. Abbott, Markets Commissioner, Vancouver.

MINING ACTIVITY.

While from the ocean side Prince Rupert has its rich fields in the fishing resources that are to be found there, this city is not confined to the water for wealth. The mines of this part of the province are undoubtedly to come into prominence at once. A well known mining man, one who has been identified with large companies for many years, informed us only a few days ago that this coming summer, would in his opinion, see a most remarkable mining development in this section of the country. At the present time, he says, there is all kinds of money in the east available and anxious to find investment in mining enterprises. These, of course, must be promising ones if the benefits are to remain from such investments. Wild catting, which has so often proved a loss to even rich countries, should be avoided. This coming year there is every prospect that the north will be the attracting point for investors, and mining will not be the least attractive of the investments that will be made.

shott, a camp about 120 miles from here on the other side of London. This is the battalion, you will remember, that I tried to enlist into when you were in Victoria. We have all seen McMordie, Pettigrew, Agnew. McMordie is 4th in command, Pettigrew is a captain and Agnew is captain and adjutant. Then we have some of our old friends in the ranks yet; Kelly the plumber, Patterson, of the Bank of Commerce. Most of the others have been drafted to France.

One of the fellows in the Orderly Room is away on furlough just now, and I am taking his place till he comes back. That accounts for you getting this letter typewritten.

I was sitting tapping away at the typewriter yesterday, when the door opened and in walked Joe Howe. I jumped out of the chair and gave him the glad hand. I thought his eyes were going to fall out when he saw me. I don't suppose he knew we had left Canada. He had come around to have a talk with McMordie, Pettigrew and Agnew. He apparently has not enlisted yet, as he is still in civilian clothes.

Have not been able to get a pass to go home yet, but expect to get one within the next month. There is a rumor going around that we are leaving for the front in about six weeks, so I certainly want to see home again before we go. It will maybe be the last time.

I remain,

Yours very sincerely,

ROBT. DAVIE.

COAST WIRELESS MADE GOOD RECORD

ESTEVAN STATION KEPT IN TOUCH WITH STEAMERS FOR LONG DISTANCE

A Range Of 2,600 Miles Was Obtained By That Station.

A range of 2,600 miles has been obtained by the Estevan wireless station, which is half-way up the west coast of Vancouver Island, that is to say communication has been kept up with a vessel considerably more than half-way to Yokahama, after which the vessel is within range of the wireless station in the northern part of China.

These exceptional results secured by the Estevan station are due to the favorable atmospheric conditions on the Pacific Ocean. Hitherto there has been fairly good communication with the wireless station at Honolulu. During the summer the conditions for wireless operation on the Pacific are just average, but they improve in the fall and are extremely good in the winter, especially at night, when there is freedom from otmospheric electrical interference which is sometimes serious during the day.

The Estevan station has two wireless sets, one of five kilowatts and one of one kilowatt. Sending with the ordinary wave length of 600 metres the extra power does not seem to increase the range to any marked degree, but when a special wave length of 1,000 metres is used the extra power gives greater range.

The 600 metre wave length is used for all shipping work, and is the wave provided by the international agreement.

The Estevan station has been communicating at night with liners on the Japan route at distances of 1,000 to 1,500 miles. Recently experiments have been made to ascertain just what distance could be reached by a station working with large ships, and it has been found that the station could communicate steadily with ships up to a distance of 2,600 miles.

For a small station of this kind the results are quite remarkable, and are due to the peculiar atmospheric conditions. Occasionally such results are obtained in other places, but they are freaks and only occur in odd instances, whereas in the winter season these distances are operated over as a regular thing on the Pacific Ocean.

PARCEL POSTAGE FOR THE TROOPS

DEPARTMENT AT OTTAWA GIVES INFORMATION FOR GENERAL PUBLIC

For Prisoners Of War Free Transmission Has Been Granted.

The Post Offic Department is in receipt of applications to have parcels addressed to our soldiers in France sent free, or at reduced rates of postage, there evidently being an impression that the department has control of these rates and could do as it wished, but this is not so, as the question of postage is fixed by International agreement, so that it is not within the power of the Canadian Post Office Department to undertake to carry the parcels free or at a reduced rate of postage.

Under international law, provision is made for the free transmission of parcels for prisoners of war, but this privilege does not extend to parcels for troops engaged in active service, nor is it within the power of the department to so extend it.

The rate of postage required on parcels addressed to the troops depends upon the location of the addressee. If the addressee is in England, the rate on parcels for England applies, which is twelve cents per pound; whilst, if he is in France, the parcels are subject to the rates applicable to parcels for France, which are as follows:

1 lb., 32 cents; 2 lbs., 40 cents; 3 lbs., 48 cents; 4 lbs., 64 cents; 5 lbs., 72 cents; 6 lbs., 80 cents; 7 lbs., 88 cents; 8 lbs., $1.02; 9 lbs., $1.10; 10 lbs., $1.18; 11 lbs., $1.26.

These are exactly the same charges which existed for years between Canada, England and France before the war, and are the result of an agreement or Convention made between these countries and Canada, and as these countries have not agreed to lower their rates between England and France, Canada has to pay them the same rates as before the war, and must charge the same postage.

In all cases parcels for the troops must be addressed c/o Army Post Office, London, England, but this does not in any way affect the rate of postage which depends entirely upon the location of the addressee.

The Morning Journal delivered to your home at 50 cents per month.

TYEE HAD GOOD CATCH OF FISH

THE BOAT BROUGHT IN 85,000 POUNDS OF HALIBUT YESTERDAY

Several Smaller Vessels Sold Their Catches Yesterday Also.

While the weather outside has been anything but good for fishing, according to the reports that have been brought in here, there are some good catches coming into port. The Tyee, Capt. Daniels, arrived in port yesterday with 85,000 pounds of halibut on board.

Some other boats that reached port the night before sold their catches yesterday. The Atlin Fisheries bought the catch of the Alvilda, Capt. Giske. She had 8,000 fish on board. The Atlanta brought in 12,000.

The King & Winge, that was in a few days ago, will have to go south to be repaired. She was damaged to some extent on the banks on her last trip, and will take advantage of the opportunity to get fixed up.

The difference between a real thing and an imitation of it is illustrated by the difference between "Budweiser" Beer and beers that seek to resemble up job by them to hurt him. He went into the history of Curry having defrauded Sam Albert out of his money, and of his having feared him (accused) when he came here, for fear he should enlighten Albert on that point.

JURY DISAGREES.

In addressing the jury, Mr. Patmore put forward the argument that it was not within the bounds of reason to believe that this man would be guilty of saying what was alleged. He was an Assyrian, and as such, suffered from the Turks, who were the enemies of the British in this war. It was only reasonable to suppose that he would be in favor of the British.

Mr. Fisher made a very strong plea for the conviction of the man. He contended that if it were a put up job by the others to do him an injury, when did they concoct the plan. It was in evidence from the statement of the accused himself that the others kept away from him after landing, and went and informed upon him. If they were concocting a scheme that could not occur.

His Lordship explained that there were many phases of sedition. He was accused of making remarks of contempt to our flag, contempt for our King, and contempt for the ocuntry that was giving him his liberty. These were strenuous times. While the statements alleged were made before Assyrians, some of them came to this country while under age, yet one of them, it was evident, had since shown his loyalty to this country by enlisting. One statement alleged to have been made, was "If Germany licks England the German flag will soon be all over Canada, and I would like to see it." They could consider whether there was likely to have been any motive for laying this charge unfounded against the man. On the point of the charge being a concocted one, they would have to consider how events conspired to make this possible. He commented on the evidence of Azzy, who impressed him.

Referring to the fact that that evidence had been given as to the loyalty of the accused. His Lordship said it was a question of whether he made the disloyal statements, it was not the question of his loyalty.

The jury retired at 4:20, and not until 9:30 did they come in, and then it was with the announcement from the foreman that they had not reached an unanimous decision.

His Lordship asked if they had given the matter their most careful consideration, and whether there was a possibility that if they were to retire for a time again they might not reach a verdict.

The foreman said there was no possibility of that, to which the rest of the jury agreed.

His Lordship pointed out that this was an important matter. It was a matter that involved considerable expense to the country, and that a new trial should not be ordered unless there was absolutely no chance of their agreeing. He said that he did not wish to influence anyone. The responsibility rested with each one.

With no prospect of a decision being reached, he ordered the discharge of the jury, and fixed the new trial for Monday morning at 10:30.

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only; but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 per acre.
