BRITISH ARE CALLED "WOEFULLY IGNORANT"

"Paying Heavily" For Backwardness Say Famous Scientists, Including Sir William Osler.

A manifesto calling for a drastic reform in the educational system of Great Britain is published over the signatures of thirty-six leading scientists, including Sir William Osler, Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford University; Sir William Crookes and Lord Rayleigh.

The manifesto declares that the British are a woefully ignorant people, and are paying heavily for their ignorance. It urges a reconstruction of the school system as an immediate necessity.

"The nation's success now, and in the difficult period of reconstruction after the war," says the manifesto, "depends largely on the possession by the leaders and administrators of scientific methods and habits of mind. For the past fifty years efforts have been made vainly to introduce the

Rumanian Reservists Ordered Immediately To Return Home

London, Feb. 10.—The Saloniki correspondent of the Times states that all the Rumanian reservists there have been ordered home immediately.

It is reported that Rumania is ready to intervene on the side of the Allies at the first opportunity.

The Rumanian army is nine-tenths mobilized by the decree issued last Thursday, which called to the colors the class of 1916, in advance of its regular schedule. More than half a million troops are now massed along the Bulgarian and Hungarian frontiers.

The Bulgarian Government has closed the entire Rumanian frontier, except the cities of Oporitose and Pebrugi, mistrusting Rumania's intentions. The Bulgarian newspapers declare it significent that no Rumanian troops are concentrated along the Russian frontier.

Heavy artillery from the Black Sea ports of Rumania is being moved toward the Hungarian frontier, according to advices received here. The Rumanians are erecting strong fortifications along the Bulgarian border, expecting a Bulgarian offensive in case they attack Hungary.

All Bucharest despatches, within the past fortnight, have reported an unmistakable trend of public opinion toward intervention on the side of the Allies.

WESTHOLME PROMISE GOOD SHOW AGAIN TONIGHT

Excellent Films To Be On View This Evening At Popular House.

At the Westholme Theatre, the management is keeping up its reputation in securing the very best class of films. Tonight the house will have, as one of his star attractions, "A Romance of the Navy," showing scenes of Newport and Annapolis; the navy in action, the blue jackets of the United States at exercise and buoding Fairaguts at their swift manoeuvres. Around these scenes has been woven a beautiful love romance.

In "Cupids Bath," Percy Ogler, the lady killer, is in evidence. When it comes to flirting he is certainly a leading light, but he gets into trouble with Mrs. Sheega Bird, and has all kinds of trouble trying to get even.

"The White Light of Publicity" is a powerful drama, also included on the bill for tonight.

SIGNS OF ACTIVITY.

There are not wanting signs of the anticipated activity in a mining way this spring. Mining men are very much in evidence in this part of the Province again, after a little quietness during the winter. The early spring is likely to see a general demand for properties that have been tested, to some extent at least. It is to be hoped that this district will not suffer from the old draw-back to mining sections of holders of prospects wanting prices that would be asked for developed and tested mines.

CANADA MAY GET RUSSIAN TRADE

Columbia Professor Says There Are Great Openings For Business.

Dr. J. Dyneley Prince, professor of Slavonic languages at Columbia University, New York, at a Canadian Club luncheon, at the Windsor Hotel in Montreal, impressed upon the club the importance of cultivating more extensive trade relations with Russia during the war, so that after the war was over the Dominion might bear its share in permanetnly ousting the Germans from Russian trade. There was a very large attendance, and much interest was aroused by Dr. Prince's explanation of Russia's advance during the past few years, and the opportunities that are opening up for extended trade.

He pointed out, that before the war, practically all Russia's foreign trade was handled by the Germans, who had cultivated it thoroughly and efficiently. This huge trade could be taken over by Canada, in part at least, if it adopted the same efficient means of getting after it, such as working through trade agents, and especially training men at the universities and in business ways, so that they would not only understand Russian conditions, but be able to speak the language. This latter, Dr. Prince emphasized as a prime factor, and he advocated the establishment of work along these lines in at least two Canadian universities, one in the east and one in the west.
