Forty-Five Thousand Germans Killed In Recent Fight

The Italian Government Requisitioned German Ships

Price Of Halibut At This Port Was Eight And An Eighth Cents

Yesterday was Fish Day in Canada—a day set aside at the request of the Fisheries Association, for the purpose of encouraging a larger use of fish throughout the Dominion than is now the case. By co-incident the price of halibut in this port reached its highest figure yesterday. The price prevailing was 8 1-8 cents a pound to the fishing boats. The quantity of halibut in port is not large. There have been light catches so far this year for the most part. Prince Rupert has been receiving the big share of the halibut caught, and the demand has been very pronounced.

H. O. Roberts, of the San Juan Company, bought the independent catches that were in port yesterday, at the figure given. None of the others bought, but the purchases of Mr. Roberts were not large, when compared with what has many times been the case here. He purchased about 20,000 pounds.

The Zebasse, Capt. Parsons, of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company, came into port yesterday. She had 58,000 pounds on board, which is practically a full catch for her.

With good weather conditions and good fresh bait, it is anticipated that there should be good sized catches brought in from now on.

Open Wednesdays and Saturdays until 9 p.m. M. M. Stephens.

POWERS IN NEAR EAST LOOKING TO ALLIES FOR SOME MONEY

Athens, Feb. 29.—Alarmed at the Russian advance in Asia Minor and at the inability of the Germans to render aid, the Turks and Bulgarians are asking for an understanding with the Entente Allies.

Bulgaria fears that she will lose her capital of Sofia, and both powers are greatly alarmed over the new turn of events. They ask for the observance of territorial integrity.

The Turks are hastily evacuating Trebizond and the neighboring ports on the coast of the Black Sea.

Red Rose Will Likely Have Ore For Shipping This Summer.

The mines at Rocher de Boule Mountain give excellent promise for the summer. At the Rocher de Boule property itself, the company is continuing to get out a good supply of ore for shipment to Granby through here. At the same time the management is sinking a shaft to test the ore at depth. They will sink it, it is said, 250 feet, thus proving the body for a total depth of 550 feet.

This mine has been one that has made a name for the camp, and has established the claim for permanency.

Alice Arm Shaping For Commercial Work In Early Spring

Alice Arm promises to be a record mining camp this summer. Things are now shaping up well for this. The properties that are being worked are all looking excellent and general activity is prophesied.

W. M. Law, well known here, who now lives at Houston, in the Bulkley Valley, has just returned from Alice Arm. While there he went into the whole situation from the standpoint of locating in a general business. He has decided to do so, and will erect a store near the site of the proposed wharf and will put in a stock of merchandise for the convenience of the camp.

R. B. McGinnis, whose property, the Dolly Varden, is giving such excellent results, is expected here on Thursday from the south. He will on his arrival give his attention to the letting of the contracts for the building of the wharf and for the construction of the road from the wharf to the mine. This work will probably run into $100,000. The road is 18 miles long to the nearest property. It is a matter of getting a road along the face of a rocky mountain, which at one place at least is along the face of a precipice in reality.

There will be well on to 1,000 men employed in the camp, it is believed, this summer. It is thus evident that the camp is going to be one capable of supporting a large population. The mine will be developed also, with as little delay as possible.

O. Ovindsen is going to erect a large hotel there. The cost of the building planned is put at $10,000. J. Crawford, of this city, is also preparing for an active year there. He has taken horses in and will be prepared for all kinds of work. The camp is not dependent upon the one property, the Dolly Varden, but other rich prospects exist there.

French Troops Are Gradually Regaining Positions Lost During Fighting Near Verdun Authorities Regard It As Beginning of End

Amsterdam, Feb. 29.—Forty-five thousand have been killed in the fighting about Verdun. One regiment has been formed out of the remnants of ten others.

Intense Fighting.

Paris, Feb. 29.—The bombardment north of Verdun is continuing with great intensity. East of the Meuse there has been a resumption of violent local attacks.

Near the village of Duaumont the fighting came to a hand to hand encounter. The Germans were repulsed by the French troops.

After an intense artillery fire the Germans captured the village of Manheulles, but a counter attack brought the French to the western boundary of this location. The French now hold Manheulles under their fire.

In Lorraine the Germans succeeded in occupying small sections of French trenches, but were very shortly driven from these positions.

May Mark Change.

The French counter attacks at Verdun may mark, the battle raging there, as the beginning of the end of the war on the western front, according to military authorities.

The opinion is held that the trenches have literally been scrapped, and the deadlock, arising from the long drawn fortress so constituted, has been replaced by the old-fashioned pitched battle. This is the great lesson of the German attempt to take Verdun. In teaching this new lesson, however, there are good reasons for believing that Germany may have signed its own death warrant.

Divergence In Character.

The battle of Verdun illustrates not only the difference in the French and German modes of attack, but also a fundamental divergence between the Gual and Teuton. France stands for the individual as the pivot of all action; Germany for scientific efficiency, with the individual not considered, provided the mass succeeds. The French in the Champagne offensive last September relied on the human factor of surprise. They dealt a sudden, staggering blow that won in a single day nearly a hundred cannon and twenty thousand prisoners. The Germans, on the contrary, begin with ponderous momentum, in the hope that the pressure steadily maintained and ever increasing may ultimately burst all barriers.

Germans Well Prepared.

The German forces are known to be supported by numerous fifteen-inch and seventeen-inch Austrian mortars, with all the heavy artillery used in the Serbian campaign and part of that formerly employed on the Russian front.

Preparations for the battle were observed early in December, when the first troops assigned to the operation were brought up. Eight divisions which returned from Serbia were sent to Belgium for a rest and then transported to the region of Verdun in January. Five army corps in all are known to have been brought up to reinforce two army corps which previously held that part of the line between Etain and Vauquois.

These were the best troops of the German army, including, according to prisoners, the famous corps of Brandenburg, supposedly equal in valor to the Prussian Guard, and the Fifteenth Army corps, commanded by General von Deimling, known in France as one of the most brilliant of the German general officers.

Name Has Fascination.

The resoluteness of the Germans to capture the fortress is explained by the fascination the name Verdun has had on the minds of the German people since 1792 and the consequent moral value of its fall to the Germans. This psychological position, in the judgment of high military critics, explains the presence of Emperor William behind the troops and the orders of the day issued to the army by the Crown Prince and the generals.

VICTORIA MAN WOUNDED, TAKEN PRISONER SPEAKS HARSHLY OF TREATMENT

He Blames His Captors For The Loss Of His Leg While In Germany.

The war is bringing out the true character of the Germans. This is shown in the brutality practised toward prisoners and those unable to defend themselves. There has arrived in Canada recently a party of exchanged prisoners, all of whom have little to say in favor of the Germans.

One of the saddest cases is that of Private John Davey, Victoria, B. C., Seventh Bratalion, who comes home minus a leg as the result of the treatment the Germans accord wounded prisoners, especially British. Private Davey tells his own story:

"It was at Langhemarcq on April 24 that my troubles commenced. We were retiring when I was shot in the knee and fell. The Germans swept on past me and I was left on the field. It was on Saturday morning that I was shot and it was on Mon-

Eye Troubles Corrected

Mr. Bulger has had over ten years experience in sight testing and fitting glasses, and last mid-summer took a post graduate course, which included the latest discoveries in the science of optometry or eye measuring. One of the most important is dynamic skiametry. The new method of Prof. A. J. Cross, of New York, in which the eye is measured by a beam of reflected light and any error is recorded.

But we do not simply rely on one method; each eye is tested separately, in three different ways, besides trying the muscular balance, together and the nervous acuteness.

We use the new drugless methods, no drops in the eye and no heavy frame resting on your face; ours swings from the wall by a bracket.

MINERAL WEALTH.

The mining outlook for the summer, as far as this territory is concerned, is very good. The country tributry to here is not a producer of one kind of ore only. As a matter of fact there is scarcely a mineral of commercial value but what this country produces it. The resources in this line are of the most diversified character. The prospect for quite full development of these resources is good. With metals phenomenally high in price there is every inducement for the prospector to become busy, and for the developer of properties also to be alive to the promising locations.

HIGH PRICE OF FISH.

Yesterday halibut reached a record price as far as this port was concerned. The sum realized by the fishermen was 8 1-8 cents a pound, which certainly is a very high figure when compared with that paid some years ago. The price is regulated by supply and demand, and for a variety of reasons the fish is now very scarce, with the consequent result that the price has soared high. Under present-day conditions, with fast express trains and iced cars, the whole continent is practically being served from here in the matter of halibut.

GERMANS PAID.

day evening fifty-six hours later that I was picked up by a German patrol and made prisoner. At the dressing station where I was first taken the surgeon who fixed me up remarked that he hoped I would not have a stiff knee as a result of the wound, evidently not thinking it serious. The treatment we got there was all right, but a few days later we were sent into Germany, and when we got there very little attention was paid to our wounds. The dressings were changed only twice a week, when it was impossible to allow them to remain longer. As a result of the lack of attention my knee got in such bad condition that they had to amputate the leg above the knee, and the English surgeons say it was far from being a workmanlike job. Not only did we suffer from the lack of attendance, but the food was bad. I was glad when the chance came to be exchanged and I got back to England in August."

Under careful nursing in England, Pte. Davey's health improved. He is in excellent spirits over the prospects of an early return to his home, even if he is travelling on crutches.

ROCHER DE BOULE.

There reached the city last evening Wm. McAdam, who has been at work on the property in which he is interested, the Red Rose, which lies on the opposite side of the mountain. He is making steady progress with a force of men doing necessary development work. Mr. McAdam expects this summer to be in a position to do some shipping, even if it is not on a large commercial basis.

Adjoining the Rocher de Boule, the Highland Boy, now being developed by E. P. Spaulding, of Spokane, is expected to make a similar showing to the Rocher de Boule. The property is now being transferred, and until the legal side is adjusted the work will not be carried along as energetically as it afterwards will.

This summer should see very marked activity at the mountain camps.

GOVERNMENT AID TO BE GIVEN TO SHIP-BUILDING

Victoria, Feb. 29.—The Hon. A. C. Flumerfelt has announced that the Government will introduce legislation within ten days to aid ship building and to guarantee their construction to the extent of two millions.

It is proposed to build ten ships, five of these to be built at Victoria and five at other ports in the Province. Aid will be given to the amount of fifty per cent. of the value of the vessels. The ships will be built under government supervision, and are not to be alienated from the Province for five years, and only when the loan has been repaid.

The Hon. Lorne A. Campbell is seeking to interest the Federal Government in a scheme to assist in the laying down of twenty-five ships.

STANDING ARMY OF 137,000 MEN VOTED FOR U. S.

The house military committee at Washington has voted for a regular standing army of 137,000 men, with a two per cent. allowance for recruiting, bringing the number up to 140,000, which is slightly more than the war department asked. The Republicans and three Democrats carried the vote.

Voting in the committee began with a proposal for 220,000 men. The number was gradually scaled down until a proposal for 150,000 men was beaten by one vote. Then the Republicans and three Democrats put through the provision as it was finally accepted by the committee to be incorporated in the bill to be presented to the public.

The war department's estimate of additional officers for the regular army also was increased from 786 to 1,000.

The section for reorganizing the National Guard was framed to provide for a maximum strength of 424,000 men, of which fifty per cent. must be recruited within two years.
