McCulloch Perhaps Returned to Manilla.

Special Dispatch to the Kaslo Morning News.

London, May 6.—The Exchange Telegraph Co. asserts on the highest authority that the U. S. dispatch boat Hugh McCulloch, when she reached Mirs bay, near Hong Kong, a few days ago, heard of the victory of Commodore Dewey's squadron and hurried back to Manilla for dispatches.

It is further said that the McCulloch cannot get back to Hong Kong until tomorrow, when she is expected to have most important news.

England Says "No."

Special Dispatch to the Kaslo Morning News.

London, May 6.—Certain powers have been learned by the Associated Press to have again made overtures to Great Britain, looking to intervention in the war between Spain and the U. S., but Great Britain has again refused to take part in any such movement

A significant fact in this connection is that the British naval authorities have decided to immediately commission the two new battleships just completed.

French Blockade Runner Captured.

Key West, May 6.—The La Fayette, a French Transatlantic company's vessel, 3,394 tons gross register, which sailed from Corunna, Spain, April 23, for Havana, was captured yesterday evening off the latter port by the United States gunboat Annapolis while trying to run the blockade after being previously warned off. She has on board a large number of passengers, a valuable cargó, possibly containing munitions of war, and serious international complications may result, as she mounts guns and is a French naval reserve vessel.

Pope Leo Asks Spain to Quit.

New York, May 6.—A cable from Rome says that the pope has sent an earnest telegram to the Queen Regent advising Spain to immediately ask for mediation of the powers. He explains the impossibility of Spain continuing in war against such a powerful adversary as the United States, and advises the queen not to risk everything simply for the satisfaction of national pride.

Civil War Imminent in Spain.

New York, May 6.—A special from Madrid says the storm of a civil war in Spain is fast approaching. Any evil news from Cuba or Manilla may fire the town. Great distress exists among the poorer classes, owing to the rise in the price of the necessaries of life, which seriously aggravates the situation.

Reliable but Unofficial Manilla News.

Washington, May 6.—The naval department admits receiving unofficial but reliable news from Manilla to the effect that Commodore Dewey has taken the city after a bombardment in which a large portion of the town was destroyed and many lives lost.

Is Acting Governor General.

Singapore, May 6.—Reliable information just received here fully corroborates the news of Commodore Dewey's victory at Manilla, and says that he is now executing the duties of governor general there.

Gave Government Business to Seattle.

Special Dispatch to the Kaslo Morning News.

Vancouver, May 6.—Much indignation is expressed in local transportation circles at the action of the Dominion government in entering into an arrangement with the Boston & Alaskan Co. to deliver 400 tons of freight comprising stores, etc., for the mounted police on the Yukon.

This means that $80,000 worth of business that ought to have been done through Vancouver and Victoria has been given to Seattle.

The government has deliberately given the Americans business that should have been handled by Canadians. Our shipping agent, who has been in communication with Ottawa on the subject, said this morning: "I have been a Liberal for 18 years, and yet the government has put me off for the Americans."

He has been trying to get the contract for a month past.

Coast Man in Trouble.

Special Dispatch to the Kaslo Morning News.

Victoria, B. C., May 6.—In the police court today John A. Carthew, well known in connection with Northern cannery interests was charged with fradulently appropriating to his own use two sums, $1,000 and $299 from a bank account of $4,820 placed at his disposal by the Travellers and Explorers Co., Ltd., of London, England, to be expended by him as their agent and for their benefit.

According to the evidence, the $1,000 was spent in purchasing lots at Wrangel on which Mr. Carthew gave the company an option which they did not refuse and which he understood them to accept.

The $299 was withdrawn from the bank when Mr. Carthew's services were dispensed with, but he states that it was to cover expenses legitimately incurred as their agent.

Mr. Carthew was committed for trial and admitted to bail in the sum of $1,500.

WALSH IS TO RESIGN

Sensational Interview With H. C. Alexander

Claims Walsh Is Disgusted with Northern Conditions

And That Nothing Could Induce Him to Remain There Till July.

To Import a Chief Justice,

Special Dispatch to the Kaslo Morning News.

Vancouver, B. C., May 6.—W. W. B. McInnes arrived in Vancouver on the delayed Pacific express this evening. He has not fully made up his mind as to what course he will adopt in connection with the approaching provincial election. He has not yet resigned his seat in the house of commons, but will do so before he contests Nanimo.

He stated when questioned as to the chief justiceship of British Columbia that notwithstanding all that may be said to the contrary the probabilities strongly favor the appointment of an eastern barrister of 30 years' standing at the bar and a strong political friend and supporter of the government.

If this view held by Mr. McInnes is the correct one, there will be a strong protest from the province, as the opinion is general that a member of the local bar should be appointed.

Report that Walsh will Resign.

Special Dispatch to the Kaslo Morning News.

Vancouver, B. C., May 6.—An evening paper here prints a sensational interview with H. C. Alexander, who has just returned from Lake Bennet, states that Major Walsh, Canadian administrator of the Klondike, is so disgusted with conditions in the north that nothing will induce him to remain in that country till July.

REDISTRIBUTION AMENDMENT.

The News congratulates the Turner government upon recovering sufficient reason to do something approaching justice to West Kootenay, by promising it an additional member in the provincial legislature, to what they had originally agreed upon. The News, without attempting to instruct the public of British Columbia in provincial politics, has essayed an independent course in whatever it has had to say on political matters. It proposes to continue to do so in the future. When the Turner government has done West Kootenay an injustice, we have not hesitated to say so strongly—as in the case of the proposed redistribution bill. When that government remedies its injustice, we do not hesitate to give it credit for its action, no matter what motives inspire it. And we do this without going to the extreme of abuse in the one instance, or of sickening adulation in the other.

On the theory that self preservation is the first law, the Turner government must do justice to the province to preserve its own political existence. Even then it has not plain sailing to a return to power. In the coming contest the following government supporters are quite apt not to be returned: Stoddard of East Lillooet, Adams of Cariboo and Rogers of Barkerville. It is also uncertain as to its ability to retain the two cabinet ministers, Baker of East Kootenay and Martin of North Yale. Ex-Speaker Higgins of Esquimault and Kellie of Revelstoke have already defected, and their constituencies will endorse them. Higgins' defection will also be the probable means of retiring Minister Cooley. With these supporters in jeopardy, it will be no sure thing for the Turner government to return to power. The loss of any five of the above constituencies would accomplish its defeat.

If, by any chance, the contest should be conducted on party lines, the government is sure to be snowed under. It is understood to be expecting increased aid from Vancouver, that city and Victoria having harmonized their differences, and now being engaged in pulling together against the interior districts. But the government is likely to need more aid than it can get from that source to round out its number sufficiently to secure a new lease of official life.

MEN AND THINGS.

Every newspaper man on or near the north Pacific coast knows J. C. Crome, the type man, whose presence in Kaslo this week was noted in the News. His headquarters have been in Vancouver, but hereafter his stamping ground will be at Winnipeg—whence he will circulate among the editorial sanctums roundabout, not omitting his old victims in British Columbia.

Several papers in these parts have of late, with an I-told-you-so-air, taken occasion to remark on the complete deadness of the Klondike boom. Mr. Crome, who is a close observer and a man of affairs, states that the Klondike fever is not by any means over. On the contrary, while the fever is at present in its intermittent stage, it will, ere long, break out with a virulence not exceeded by any gold fever in the history of this century.

While there can be no doubt that the disease known as Klondicitis is on the wane at present—and that thousands of deluded, broken down, heart sick individuals are now stranded up north, endeavoring to get back home with a whole skin, if possible—nothwithstanding all this, if, as many expect, the first boats from the icy north with last winter's clean-up, bring one-half of the yellow dust anticipated, the fever may break out again in a mild form.

But this summer will be Kootenay's magnificent opportunity. Thousands will return—in fact, are now returning—from their Klondike trip so badly broken that they are almost doubled up. The presence of this class will be little or no benefit to British Columbia. But others, of moderate means, will be returning also—men who have a few thousands to invest. This is a most desirable class to interest; if steps were taken to place the plain, unvarnished facts in their hands regarding the minerals of this country, nothing but good can flow from it.

In the absorbing interest now prevalent in the Spanish-American war, the Klondike craze has been largely lost sight of. This phase of it, however, is well worth careful consideration.

WATER FRONT NOTES.

Captain Angus Campbell's new and powerful tug Hercules is a busy craft. She made two trips to Kaslo this week. Yesterday she went to Argenta.

Under the influence of the warm sun in the mountains for the last two weeks, Kaslo river has been steadily rising.

A big boom of piles was towed down to a point opposite Kuskonook yesterday by the tug Halys. They were for the C. P. R.

Many residents of the flats are now anxiously watching the steadily rising lake, which already covers the lower part of the flats. No damage yet.

Last evening the steamer Kokanee made the first of her regular Tuesday and Friday evening trips to Argenta, according to the new arrangement.

The water is already over the lower end of the upper International wharf, and the boats now frequently land on the south side of the wharf at the foot of Third street.

Finished Without a Hitch.

The filling in of the trench, into which the 10-inch water main was lowered the day before, was finished yesterday. The entire work was done under the superintendence of Water Commissioner Cockle, who staid on the ground until the job was completed.

In lowering the 310 feet of iron pipe, a piece 9 inches in length had to be cut off, making the main that much shorter on account of cutting down the grade in the hill, where the A avenue cut is being made.
