MISSION TEAM BADLY BEATEN.

Abbotsford gave the Mission City a pleasant surprise on Saturday last, when the visiting team was sent home without having won one goal, while our boys made the score 6.

The visiting team was somewhat handicapped by not having all their regular men but they should come prepared to meet a good team, when they come to Abbotsford

Both sides fought well but our boys appeared to have the best combination. A supper at the Abbotsford Hotel was tendered the visiting team. who left for home feeling that although badly beaten on the football field they had been well treated.

FAREWELL BANQUET TO BLAIR

A farewell banquet was tendered Mr. J. A. Blair, late partner in the firm of McElroy and Co., of the Commercial Hotel on Wednesday evening

The boys spent a most enjoyable time. There were a number of toasts. Some of those who made rattling good speeches were Messrs George Burneau, Capt S. Knott, J. J. McPhee, Dr. Swift and several others.

After the supper the party indulged in a pleasant smoker and concert. A most excellent programme was rendered to the satisfaction of all. The party broke up with the singing of "For he's a jolly good fellow" and Auld Lang Syne.

Mr. J. A. Blair and family will shortly take up their residence in Vancouver.

THE MARKET.

New Westminster, Dec.—2nd—The meat market rose slightly, the reason for the stronger tone being the fact that the farmers are holding their animals, many preferring to sell at live weight direct to the buyers at the farm, than to do their own slaughtering and bring the meat to the market at this season of the year. The supply of meat was a fair one, beef and lamb being rather scarce.

The poultry market was not booming to-day, although a brisk trade was done by the vendors. The supply was not large as during recent weeks, but was sufficient to meet the demand at the prices asked.

There were few spring chicken offered and no broilers. The birds were mostly large hens and well bred birds for breeding purposes. Hens and roosters mixed, for table purposes, sold dat from $10 to $14 a dozen. Pure bred pullets sold at $12. Several dozen spring chickens sold at $8. A crate of geese sold for $1.60 each. A number of pure bred Buff Orphingtons were offered at $1.25 each, but there appeared to be little demand for pure bred birds and they were unsold. One and a half dozen of ducks were offered by the crate at $1.60 each or separately at $1.75

The fruit market remained quiet, the poor quality of the fruit offering being largely responsible, the good fruit being held back for a rising market. A few pears were brought in, selling at 75c to $1 a box, according to quality. Apples sold from 75c to $1.25 a box, no number one stock offering. The fruit inspectors held out one batch for lacking proper markings, and and cautioned another vendor against bringing to the market any stock covered with oyster shell The fruit generally was clean,

Potatoes were fairly plentiful on the market to-day, the prices asked ranging from $27 to $30 a ton, with the demand not strong.

Vegetables generally were in good supply and sold readily at quotation prices. A shipment of fine onions from Summerland in the Okanagan sold at $2.25 a sack. Crated onions sold at $1.50 a sack Turnips sold at 75c a sack and carrots at $1.

The wholesale prices are;

BEAUTIFUL WOMAN

She cometh into the world with nothing to wear, and continueth so and complaineth all the days of her life because thereof.

In her infancy she admireth the pinkness of her cheeks in the mirror, and resolveth that they shall never grow less pink. And, lo, they never do!

In her childhood she demandeth mock babies, yea, many scores of them. Withthese she playeth until upon her cometh a weariness so great that she cannot bear one baby that is real.

In the days of her childhood she worshippeth matiness idols, and hath measles and dreams. Puppy love biteth her soft heart many times, and high school boys her soft neck a few times—if her head be like her neck.

In the days of her young womanhood, she loveth all men, and wisely, for they are foolish and much may be got out of them. A few she loveth too well for their own good. These she marryeth.

Ere the day cometh when she acknowledgeth the designation, "middle-aged matron" she hath accumulated a fortune by matrimony.

And she tireth of the chase for the latest thingin husbands, deciding rather to let bad enough alone—for he might be worse.

And she goeth in for charity, yea with both feet, and danceth all night at atcharity ball.

And, lo, on the morning thereafter. Opportunity, disguised as a poor widow with nienteen starving children, knocketh. And the maid dareth not to awaken her mistress, who at that hour taketh be beauty sleep.

She organizeth mother's clubs to teach the female of the slums to care for the young. But she hath deep knowledge of the subject, having no young of her own to upset the theories which she deriveth from books written by the wise virgins who know all things pertainng thereto.

She fighteth Father Time with beauty doctors, and groweth old slowly—but at last. She taketh gout in her feet and bridge fever in her head, and never recovereth thereform.

"Requiescat in pace" we would say, for we are among those whom she loved and married; but for a bridge fiend there is no hope.—The Week.
