FAST PASSENGER TRAINS

Will Probably Run on the new Line in Two Weeks

INTO GRAND FORKS NEXT MONDAY

Rumbles From the Rails---New Appointments and General News of the Railway Construction.

Chief Engineer and Superintendent W. F. Tye came over from Trail on a special train yesterday afternoon and was in consultation with the contractors. He informed the Record that the new railway line would not be taken over by the operating department of the C. P. R. till the road was completed to Midway. He expected, however, that passenger service would begin in a couple of weeks.

It is Mr. Tye's intention to arrange, if possible, to put on fast passenger trains, which will leave Rossland at 7 a. m., make close connections at Robson, and reach Midway by noon. The return trip will be made the same day. The road bed is in such excellent condition that the best of time can be made with but little if any difficulty.

Into Grand Forks Monday.

During the last week the track-layers have made excellent progress. Tuesday they reached the third Kettle river crossing at McCool's, and Thursday at 4 p. m. they got the track laid to the 1,400-foot bridge at Grand Forks. It will require only three days to place the stringers on this bridge, and by Monday the track should be laid into Grand Forks. There will be no time lost here, but steel will be put down as fast as it can be brought forward. Gangs of carpenters have already been set to work on the bridges between Grand Forks and Greenwood, and they will be nearly or quite ready for the rails as soon as the track-layers get there.

Rumbles From the Rails.

Eleven passengers came down on the special last night, the destination of all of them being Cascade.

Billy Wall's bridge crew was sent to Grand Forks this week to put the long bridge in shape for crossing.

Locomotives for the present take water at Castle creek and at Gilpin's. Later on a supply tank will probably be put up in the Cascade yards.

H. J. Hicks, formerly of Rossland, arrived in Cascade this week to take the position of telegraph operator and assistant to Agent Huckerby.

President Thomas G. Shaughnessey, of the C. P. R., expects to make a trip of inspection over the new line, as soon as the rails are laid to Midway.

W. F. Tye, chief engineer, has been appointed superintendent of this branch during construction. Mr. Tye came in from Trail last night on a special.

V. Monnier received a car of Lion beer from Rossland this week It was on the road so long that he says an ox team, by way of Bossburg, could make better time.

J. S. Lawrence, formerly trainmaster on the Nakusp & Slocan branch, has been appointed trainmaster and chief dispatcher, with headquarters at Trail. His assistant will be Dispatcher Lewis.

Mother Lode Smelter Located.

Last Saturday night, at a banquet given in his honor at Greenwood, Paul Johnson made the definite announcement that the Mother Lode smelter would be built at the mouth of Copper creek, adjoining the townsite of Greenwood. The reduction works will be situated only three miles from the Mother Lode mine. Surveys were begun this week, and it is the intention to put in a 250-ton copper furnace to start with.

MAKES A CLEAN BREAST

At the Arson Trial at Grand Forks Others are Implicated.

Pinkerton Detective Worked up the Case---Provincial Officers Have Had their Hands Full Lately.

Robert Cameron, alias Jack Cameron, alias Campbell, alias Crane, charged with setting fire to the Hotel Columbia on the night of July 17th, has been in the Cascade jail this week for safe keeping. Chas. Mullen, also arrested on a like charge was in durance vile at Grand Forks, the hearing for both being set for today at Grand Forks. Wm. Forrest and Paul Rochussen, of Cascade, are the justices selected to hear the case.

Quietly but effectively, a shrewd Pinkerton detective, Mr. Donovan, of Portland, Ore., has been working on the case for weeks, and it looks like a bad case for more than one person. The men arrested were both gamblers, who had been well known at Grand Forks. Thursday an important witness from Spokane was secured. Some sensational arrests have been expected every day this week. It has been stated positively that as high as $50,000 bail was offered to release the prisoners, but the justices could not see it that way. The men will undoubtedly be committed for trial at the county court.

Constables Dinsmore, Darraugh and McMynn have been active in assisting the detective on the case, and visits to Cascade have been frequent for several days past. Yesterday Mr. Dinsmore took Cameron to Grand Forks to appear today.

It is rumored this afternoon that Cameron made a clean breast of it this morning, implicating others.

GOOD NEWS FROM MINES

All Around Cascade Working Properties Are Looking Well.

RICH STRIKE ON ED. TERZICK CLAIM

Spokane and English Experts in the Burnt Basin---Pleased With Showings---Getting Ready for Winter Work.

Now that it is so much easier to get into the Christina lake mining camps by rail, they will undoubtedly be brought more to the attention of capitalists. Development continues steadily on many claims, and so far disappointments have been few.

Last night Col. Frank Hogan, of Spokane, came down from the Burnt Basin, where he has been for several days, examining Richard Cooper's properties, the Solid Gold group. Mr. Hogan represents Senator George Turner, of LeRoi fame, and expressed himself here as well pleased with the appearance of the claims. He secured samples, which will be tested.

Edgar P. Rathbone, the mining engineer of the B. C. Syndicate, has been examaning properties in Christina lake camps for about 10 days. He visited Shamrock mountain, John Bull mountain, McRae creek and the Burnt Basin, and while he is not expected back till today, he expressed himself more than once as well satisfied that there were the makings of several good mines in this section. As Mr. Rathbone is conservative, such a statement carries a great deal of weight.

Cannonball Officers Elected.

The Cannonball Mines, Ltd., operating the Cannonball group, on Baker creek, in charge of Jack Spaulding, is continuing with the work of sinking on the lead, the shaft now being down over 50 feet. Mr. Spaulding was in town today. A board of directors was chosen at Rossland, consisting of Mayor A.S. Goodeve, president, and Thomas C. Corson, secretary-treasurer. Treasury shares will be offered shortly, and R. D. Morkill, Jr., has been accredited as the company's agent, to place them in the east, for which he will leave in a few days. Cabins and shaft-house will be erected on the property shortly, and preparations made for working all winter.

Two and a half miles from Gladstone, on the Jessie F. fraction, Ed. Terzick has made a rich strike in the bottom of a 21-foot shaft. Ore from the free-milling six-foot lead gives the remarkable values of $864.64, mostly gold. Some 50 tons of ore are already on the dump, which will be shipped over the new railway line. Drifting on the ledge will be started when the shaft is down 20 feet further. This is at present one of the most promising of the many good prospects in that section.

CHRISTINA MINERAL FLOAT.

Fred Gribi is steadily working his claim, the Mascot, across Kettle river, near the railway, where he is sinking an incline shaft.

The second ledge in No. 1 tunnel in the Mystery, Burnt Basin, has been struck 165 feet in, and the face is reported to be all in ore.

It is rumored that active development work will probably be begun on the rich Shamrock and Thistle claims on Shamrock mountain.

K. P. Matheson writes to his brother in Cascade that he has made two fine locations, about 15 miles from Princeton, in the Similkameen.

S. R. Reid, who has been in the Buffalo Hump and other Idaho camps for a couple of months, is expected in Cascade shortly to look after his Christino lake interests.

George K. Stocker has had the assessment work done on the Rainy claim on John Bull mountain, near Gladstone, and is pleased with the appearance of the property, which is located close to the Grizzly Bear.

J. H. Inkster has ordered cabins built at the Pontifex group on Huckleberry mountain, 5 miles from town, which he is actively developing. A trail will be blazed over a short route from Cascade. At present the ingress is by way of Hall's bridge.

IN AND AROUND CASCADE.

The game season opened yesterday, and nimrods were out after grouse.

After discontinuing a week or two, the Columbia Review appeared once more this week.

A shooting scrape was reported from Grand Forks Wednesday, but without serious results.

Manager Rogers, of the Columbia Stage line, has embarked in the livery business at Columbia.

Provincial Constable D. G. Cox has been removed from Niagara, on the north fork of Kettle river, to Cranbrook, East Kootenay.

Morris McCarty, the Bossburg mining man, was in Cascade yesterday. He will return shortly and visit the Burnt Basin section.

The Cascade sawmill has been getting out the order for lumber for the new school house this week, which will be built by D. D. Ferguson.

Ava Black celebrated her eighth birthday yesterday by inviting a number of her friends to a birthday party at Black's Hotel, which the little folks thoroughly enjoyed.

A boat race is being arranged between Chas. Sandner and Frank Asprey, for $25 a side, to take place on the lake a week from tomorrow. Considerable money will change hands on the result.

W. A. Scott, representing the Mining & Scientific Press of San Francisco, one of the leading mining papers in America, has been in Boundary acquiring information for special articles on this section.

IN AND AROUND CASCADE.

Greenwood is to have a steam laundry.

Jno. McDonald, the Robson boat builder, was in town this week.

Quite a number of friends held a picnic with Miss Darrow, near her home, last Monday.

Republic expects shortly to get mail by an all-American route, instead of through British Columbia.

Fred Brown, formerly of Cascade, and later of Columbia, has opened the Hotel Delaware at Republic.

Lots in Eholt were put on the market Tuesday by H. T. Wilgress, the C. P. R. land department's representative.

Ira Black went to Phoenix Tuesday, where he will put up a hotel with 26 bed rooms. Julius Black will continue in charge of the hotel here.

In the recent stage accident on G. W. Williams' Republic line, one man, Walter Smith, had his leg broken. Every passenger was dumped out.

Chief of Police Sheads, of Grand Forks, was in town last Sunday, attending to the shipping of ore samples to Ottawa, for the Paris exposition of next year.

T. H. Ingram, local agent for Calgary flour, took a trip to Greenwood and the Forks early in the week, where he is also successfully introducing his company's products.

R. R. Gilpin, who lives half way between Cascade and Grand Forks, says that in his 18 years' residence in the country, he has not experienced such a wet and disagreeable August.

The water power at Boundary Falls is being improved, and the present 25-foot dam will be raised that much higher. Power is to be supplied for municipal and industrial purposes.

F. Elkins, of Greenwood, formerly provincial policeman in Cascade, has been spending the week in the Gateway City. He is interested to a considerable extent in Greenwood, and has the utmost faith in the town.

One of the air compressors working on the Bull Dog mountain railway tunnel broke down last Monday, and a new part must be sent from Montreal. Peter Larson, who came in Monday night from Spokane, went at once to the tunnel with Jack Stewart.

An Advertising Song.

One of the English trade journals publishes the following parody on "I Don't Want to Play in Your Yard," which it says, is going the rounds and is likely to prove a hit:

We don't want to buy at your place,
We don't trade there any more;
You'll be sorry when you see us going to some other store.
You can't sell us any stale goods
We have opened wide our eyes:
We don't want to trade at your place because you do not advertise.

New Compressor for Bull Dog Tunnel.

When Peter Larson, the railway contractor, visited the 3,000-foot tunnel, near Brooklyn, in company with J. W. Stewart, it was decided to put in a new seven-drill air compressor, to replace the one disabled early in the week. Accordingly, Mr. Larson proceeded to Rossland and through Frank R. Mendenhall, agent of the Rand Drill Co., order the machine referred to. Fortunately, it happened to be in stock in Rossland, and was shipped at once to the tunnel, and is now being set up.

Olaf Olson, the capable superintendent of operations at the tunnel, has about 150 men at work, and is making about 42 feet weekly on the 18x24 foot bore. So far about 1,700 feet have been completed, leaving 1,300 feet yet to drive.

Phoenix is Growing.

The town of Phoenix, as Greenwood camp is now known, is attracting a good deal of attention, by reason of its favorable location in the heart of the big Boundary mines. It has had a postoffice for some time, has a school promised, and within a short time will have that indispensable adjunct of all up-to-date mining camps, a good weekly newspaper. It is said that a plant is now being shipped in. Several large mercantile establishments are located there, and a number of hotels are building. Altogether its prospects are bright, as the town has a good sized payroll behind it.

The Gaine & Roy Stock.

In July Gaine & Roy made an assignment to J. H. Good, for the benefit of credits. A few weeks later the creditors held a meeting and appointed G. A. Eastman as trustee, and the latter was making arrangements to dispose of the assets, when the sheriff seized the stock. The Hudson's Bay Co. had obtained a judgment against Mr. Roy for $691, the assignment was declared irregular, and Sheriff G.B. Taylor took possession, and advertise the stock for sale.

Today papers were made out and signed for a new assignment, and the stock is expected to go back into the hands of Mr. Eastman for the benefit of creditors. Otherwise it will probably be fought out in the courts.

Father Palmer held Catholic services in the school house Wednesday morning.

Hewitt Bostock, M P. for Yale-Cariboo-Kootenay, is expected in Cascade during the coming week.

REDUCED SMELTING RATES.

Although no official announcement has been made to that effect, the rumor is so persistent that a $4.50 freight and treatment rate of Rossland ores has been made, that some credence must be given to it. It is said that the British America Corporation, owning the Northport smelter and a number of Rossland's best mines, has made this low rate, with a view possibly of getting ore from some mines not owned by it. At any rate, it is largely increasing capacity of its Northport smelter.

For months past the Canadian Smelting Works, at Trail, owned by the C. P. R., has been improving and adding to its plant at the mouth of Trail creek, and it is evident that it is preparing to meet all competition in the smelting line. The C. P. R. never does things by halves. Many months ago preparations were begun for the inauguration of a great smelting industry in Southern British Columbia, of which the works at Trail were but the nucleus. This policy is being carried out, and one feature of it is to encourage mining by low freight and smelting rates. Beginning at Heinze's figure of $11 per ton, it has gradually been reduced to $7, then $6, and now the $4.50 rate will doubtless prevail.

This all means that dozens of low grade mines—as low as $10 per ton in ore values—can and will be worked to a profit, and that both the LeRoi and Northport smelters can be run to full capacity on Rossland ores alone. It also means that there will be no room for Boundary ores for any length of time at the Trail smelter, even if the transportation charges permitted it, and that the time, consequently, for work on the Cascade smelter is coming faster than has been anticipated.

ANOTHER BOUNDARY SMELTER.

Greenwood is to have a smelter, almost within its city limits. Paul Johnson, the expert of the British Columbia Copper Co., a strong New York corporation, the stock of which is above par, has made this definite announcement, and Greenwood is to be congratulated. This smelter is to be built primarily to treat the ores of the Mother Lode mine, located three miles from the smelter site, and Mr. Johnson states that it will also be prepared to do custom work. If, however, the Mother Lode can produce to the extent predicted, with one or two other mines of equal size, it will have all that can be handled.

With the Granby smelter under construction at Grand Forks, the Mother Lode smelter about to build at Greenwood and the Cascade smelter almost equally as assured, the Boundary country will next year be the center of a great smelting industry, of which these reduction works will only be the beginning.

The new railway is now absolutely assured of an immense traffic from the start. The bringing in of coke itself will be no small item, and the tonnage of ores and the products of the smelters, aside from the general consequent trade of the district, will swell its business to gigantic proportions. The Boundary will be one of the greatest mining and smelting sections in the world.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Cape Nome, in northwestern Alaska, is not a fake, after all, as was reported, but has rich placers. Nevertheless, we are satisfied to stay in British Columbia, rather than chase a golden will-o'-the-wisp o'er the icy north.

It appears as though the miscreants who set fire to the Hotel Columbia on the night of July 17, would be speedily brought to justice. The law should treat them without fear or favor, no matter what their station.

Sixteen out of 38 votes is pretty small for a government party to count upon. Yet this is exactly all the opposition will concede to the present government. The opposition itself does not seem to be in much better shape, as it lacks organization of any kind.

In another column will be found a verbatim report of a press dispatch, stating that a strike that would make the Columbia & Western railway contractors' millionaires, had been made near Cascade on the railway grade. It is a sample of how press dispatches are sometimes fearfully and wonderfully made—through the eyes or pen of an over zealous news-gatherer.

Last week's Greenwood Times contained a humorous and sarcastic article on the mines claimed as tributary to Grand Forks. It is not so long ago that the Forkers were claiming Burnt Basin and Christina claims, to say nothing of those of Deadwood camp, Greenwood camp and others, as "Grand Forks mines." Grand Forks is a good town, but every camp from Gladstone to Penticton is not tributary to it.

Paul John has done what the smelter experts have heretofore declined to do, recommended the location of a smelter where there was little water, and where is a long up-hill haul to get his fluxes in. It will be interesting to note his success in the new method of ore treatment.

The Vernon News, in reporting on the failure of a circus to exhibit there as advertised, remarks sententiously: "However, there will be all the more money left to send to Eaton & Co." This is a pleasant contemplation for the merchants of that section. Speaking seriously, however, anything that can be secured of home merchants, should be gotten there. The prosperity of the business man is an index of the entire community.

Midway was very confident that the Mother Lode smelter would be located there and laughed at the idea that it would go to Greenwood. The versatile Grand Forks correspondent, who scatters his misleading information far and wide, was also of the same opinion, and was not slow in expressing it to a breathless public, from Toronto to Vancouver. But, seemingly, Greenwood had the trump card, and could well afford to laugh last.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Merchants' Bank of Halifax opened its branch at Republic last Saturday.

Dr. Frank J. Ewing, one of the contractors' physicians, was in town Tuesday.

J. J. Doupe, engineer for the land department of the C. P. R. was in Cascade a few days ago.

Cascade's postmaster now has a stock of the old three cent stamps, surcharged in black for two cents.

The Grand Forks base ball team bested the Nelson, B. C., team on the latter's grounds last Saturday, by a score of 7 to 3.

Camp McKinney now has three mails weekly from each way. As it has daily stage connections, it should have daily mails.

Imports at the port of Grand Forks this last month are said to have amounted to $45,000, on which over $10,000 was collected in duty.

James Wilkes, organizer for the Western Federation of Labor, has organized a miners' union at Camp McKinney with 45 members. He also started unions at Phoenix and Greenwood recently.

Joshua Anderson, the well known storekeeper of Columbia, was in Cascade Tuesday, on his way to Nelson. He thinks Columbia will be a good town after the railway tracks are laid that far.

Chesaw, the new reservation town, on Meyers creek, now has 26 buildings, with contracts let for as many more. It has daily stage connections with Greenwood, and is surrounded by good mineral properties.

BY THE WAYSIDE

Since the new railway began delivering freight to Cascade, there has been a noticeable falling off in the number of freight teams doing business between Bossburg and the upper country. In fact, it may be said that not one-half the former number of teams are so employed at present. For a month or two past merchants and business men generally have been routing goods to Cascade by rail. There is a loud howl, however, over the excessive "construction" freight rates charged. This, however, will not probably last long, as it is expected that the C. P. R. will take the line over shortly.

In this connection it is rumored that the Great Northern is thinking of contracting to deliver freight as far as Grand Forks, the freighters, it is said, agreeing to accept 50 cents or 60 cents per hundred for their part of the haul from Bossburg. It is thus evident that the Great Northern is already feeling the falling off in traffic to these parts since the C. P. R. reached Cascade. Boundary merchants, however, say that the present tariff makes it more costly to get goods in than before—which most certainly ought not to be.

In acknowledging a recent communication from residents of Cascade, in regard to the poor mail service into Boundary, Hewitt Bostock, M. P., remarks: "I do not understand why it has not been straightened out before." Quite right, Mr. Bostock; no more can we.

A unique and telling advertisement has recently been gotten out by the Record Job Department for the B. C. Mercantile & Mining Syndicate. It consists of a carefully drawn and especially made map of the Boundary country, showing Cascade as the Gateway City and its general advantages as regards location and situation, the whole printed on the back of a business envelope. In the corner are the following words: "California '49; Australia, '59; Comstock' 69; Leadville. '79; Transvaal '89; Boundary, Right Now." It is said that maps and illustrations appeal more quickly than any other form of advertisement, and this is no exception to the rule. On this map the several stores of the Syndicate, at Gladstone, English Point and Cascade, are shown in red, the whole forming a most effective plan of advertisement.

The Rossland Record has again changed hands and this time it passes into the control of W. K. Esling, of the Trail Creek News. Mr. Esling is an energetic business man and bright writer, and will doubtless infuse new energy into our namesake at the other end of the Dewdney trail. There is room for a first-class daily in Rossland, if conducted by an experienced newspaper man along the right lines, and with ample capital to put it through. Mr. Esling ought to make a success of it.

The contract price for the new school building at Columbia is $1,495, it having been let to J. H. Brown.

PASSING THRONG

J. C. Shepherd, who has had charge of the contractors' commissary at Cascade for over a year past, left on Thursday for Port Arthur, Ontario, to accept a similar position with Mann & Mackenzie on the Rainy River road, on which work is about to commence. Mr. Shepherd has made many friends in Cascade, and the night previous a number of his well wishers showed him their appreciation by giving a smoker in the Cascade Auditorium. Mr. Shepherd's new position is in the line of promotion, as he will receive higher pay.

The Rainy River road is one of those subsidized by the late Dominion parliament, and when completed will be 460 miles long. It runs from Port Arthur, on Lake Ontario, through the upper edge of Minnesota, and around the Lake of the Woods, to Winnipeg. The work is largely of a rock character, which is always pleasing to contractors, and means many months of work for a large force of men. Several of the sub-contractors on the Robson-Penticton line, having finished here, are moving their outfits to the Rainy River road.

A unique character among the newspaper men of these parts is Eber C. Smith, until lately publisher of the great and only Rossland Record, the first daily established in that city. Mr. Smith was in Cascade yesterday, on his return from Grand Forks, where he has decided to start a daily in the course of a month or six weeks, to be called the Grand Forks Gazette. He thinks he has received sufficient encouragement for the successful conduct of the enterprise, and will soon be launched on the troubled seas of daily journalism once more. Mr. Smith is energetic to a degree, being a hard worker, but it remains to be seen what success he can make of a daily in a town as small as Grand Forks. His old opponent in the Rossland field, John R. Reavis, is already located in Grand Forks, and is publisher of the prosperous looking Miner of that place.

Finley Sinclair, the assistant of Collector Rose at the custom house, left with Mrs. Sinclair this morning for Rossland. During their several months residence in Cascade they have made many warm friendships, and Mr. Sinclair, by his uniform courtesy and efforts to accommodate the thousands who have transacted business at the customs house has won the respect and esteem of all. Mr. Sinclair expects to be located somewhere in the Boundary country, possibly at Columbia.

Frederick Elkins, who has been in town several days, in connection with winding up the stock of Gaine & Roy, is a resident of Greenwood, where he has extensive property interests. He is one of those who firmly believe that Greenwood is destined to become the most important town of the district, and has shown his faith by acquiring property interests there. He was previously provincial constable in Cascade.

WILL MAKE THEM MILLIONAIRES.

And the Ledge is Said to be Located Near Cascade.

The following Associated Press dispatch was received this week, which makes interesting reading, but is only lacks one thing—the element of truth:

Minneapolis, Aug. 28.—a Tacoma special to the Times says: While grading on the Canadian Pacific extension in British Columbia, contractors MacKenzie and Mann have uncovered great ledges of ore, running high in copper, gold and silver. They are making slow progress on the railway contracts, but the present indications are that the mineral discoveries will pay them far better.

A mining expert, who was just coming from B. C., says one ledge alone will make them millionaires. This ledge was found near Cascade. a new town on the Columbia & Western railway, which the Canadian Pacific is building from Rossland into the Boundary creek district. Outcroppings were discovered some time ago, but it was only ten days ago that the ledge itself was uncovered by the graders. It has not been thoroughly exploited, but has been stripped sufficiently to show it exceeds 50 feet in width. Assays from near the surface gave value of $40 to $50 per ton, making it practically certain that another LeRoi mine has been discovered. MacKenzie and Mann have staked the property and will soon begin its development. They have declined a large sum for it. Two smaller ledges have been discovered by the grading crews, both giving promise of making good mines.

If such a ledge has been discovered near Cascade, the Record has yet to hear of it. Numerous mineral ledges have been cut by the railway graders from one end of the line to the other, but as a rule the ground was located before work on the railway was started, over a year ago. Assays of $40 to $50 are not by any means remarkable hereabouts, either. They can be obtained from more than one lead within sight of the Record office, and they may prove to be second LeRois.

MacKenzie & Mann (the former is not one of the firm having the contract on this road) are already millionaires. The railway is being rapidly built, and it is generally conceeded that the contractors will not go broke on it.

With the exception of these and a few dozen other inaccuracies the article might pass muster.

HOW PARTIES STAND NOW.

Twenty Votes the Government Cannot Count Upon.

The Victoria Colonist, an opposition journal has made an estimate of the present complexion of the legislature. It is as follows:

For the government: Messrs. Semlin, Cotton, Hume, Henderson, McKechnie, Forster, Munroe, Deane, Tisdale, Kidd, Kinchant, Kellie, Wells, R. Smith, Neil, Green—16.

Opposed to the government: Messrs. Turner, Helmcken, Hall, McPhillips, Eberts, Booth, Pooley, Higgins, Robertson, Bryden, Dunsmuir, Martin, McPherson, McBride, Ellison, Smith, Baker, Irving, Clifford—19.

Independent: Mr. J. Martin.

Conditionally opposed: Mr. Helgeson.

This estimate treats the East Lillooet seat as vacant, because Mr. Prentice will hardly risk proceedings for a penalty for illegally sitting, even if he should believe himself to be qualified.

On the Western Survey.

It is stated that the C. P. R. surveyors are running a line south of that previously run between Midway and Rock creek. Leaving Rock creek about a mile above its junction with Kettle river a southeasterly course is taken to Meyers creek, and passing south of the big mountain that rises at the junction of Meyers creek and Kettle river the former stream is followed down to Jackson's ranch. Thence to Midway, the original survey line will be pretty closely adhered to.—Midway Advance.

BOUNDARY MINES

Brief Bits From Many Camps.

The Stemwinder, in Fairview camp, is down to the 300-foot level, and the crosscut shows 20 feet of clear ore.

A 5-stamp mill is being hauled from Methow valley to the Waterloo, in Camp McKinney, a distance of 100 miles.

The Adirondack, in Kimberley camp has a 48-foot shaft, a 40-foot ledge and fair copper and gold values. It is owned by M. Kane.

The graders on the Deadwood camp spur have cut a copper lead on the Sunset, from which 15 per cent assays have been gotten. This is the best ore yet found on the property.

Fox & Ross, Toronto, have organized the Sarah Consolidated Co., for the purpose of acquiring the Belleview, Snowshoe, Toledo, Diamond, Alice and other Camp McKinney properties.

The agents of Marcus Daly, the Montana mining millionaire, are said to have bought up the best copper claims in the Similkameen country, including the pick of those on Copper mountain.

Frank Robbins, manager of the Brooklyn and Stemwinder, owned by Mann & MacKenzie, in Greenwood camp, is reported to have said tha work will not be resumed on the property until the miners agree to accept $3.00 for eight hours' work.

The crosscut on the 327-foot level of the Old Ironsides, in Greenwood camp, has encountered the ledge. This is about 100 feet deeper than any other depth yet secured in the Boundary country. Heretofore all the drifting and crosscutting have been on the 100 and 200-foot levels, most of the work being done on the latter.

The Kettle River Mining and Development company is the owner of the Christina property, which is located 12 miles from Grand Forks on the north fork of Kettle river. The management report that two shifts are at present working on the property. The ore is said to be a quartz, is free milling and averages about $40 to the ton.

Development work is being carried on extensively on the Four Hundred and the Delia, two adjoining properties in Central camp recently acquired by the Wellington Mines, Limited. The ledge on the Four Hundred is 100 feet wide, one of the largest in the Boundary. Ore taken from the bottom of two shafts averages in value from $5 to $12 in gold and copper per ton, and assays from the pay streak gave $69 per ton. A double compartment working shaft is now being sunk, having attained a depth of 35 feet.

Last week the good people of Grand Forks—or at least a portion of them—were worked up over the result of news, which it was said had reached there respecting some remarkably rich discoveries. The new camp is located 25 miles northeast of Grand Forks, which would make it not far from the head of Christina lake. A prospector sent up in July by J. A. Coryell, C. E., discovered a 40-foot vein of ore from the surface of which assay values from $5 to $12 in gold per ton were obtained. The ledge matter is similar in color and formation to the Republic. Another prospector found two ledges of galena carrying copper and silver values. Some of the assays exceed $160 per ton.

For the Rock Drilling Contest.

The hardest granite that can be found in the state of Washington will be secured for the rock drilling contest at the Spokane Industrial Exposition in October. For the double handed rock drilling contest there will be two pieces of granite each six feet by five feet by one and one-half. For the single handed contests there will be one piece of granite six feet by three and one-half feet by one and one-half feet. In the double handed contest two teams will drill at a time, each on a separate piece of granite. In the single handed contest two contestants will drill at a time, but both on the same piece of granite.

Send it Back East.

The Cascade Record will be sent to any place in Canada or the United States for one year on receipt of $2. It pays special attention to mining in the Boundary and Christina lake sections, and aims to give the most reliable information in regard to this fast developing country.

General Mining News

The LeRoi company has decided to put in a 60-drill air compressor.

There are 52 men on the payroll of the Lake Shore mine at Moyie.

One car of ore was shipped last week from Slocan City to the Hall Mines smelter, Nelson.

The Dibble, a high grade silver proposition near Fort Steele, will probably resume work this fall.

Dr. Doolittle, of Toronto, has made the last payment, $5,000, on the Venus group near Nelson.

The Evening Star, on Dayton creek, in the Slocan, is about to begin work on a 1000-foot tunnel.

Last week the Queen Bess sent out 40 tons from the Three Forks while the Noonday continued shipments from New Denver.

The big Palmer mountain tunnel measures 2,156 feet and the force on drifts is being increased as fast as room can be made for it.

The members of the Canadian Mining Institute left Toronto yesterday, and will hold the annual meeting at Nelson on the 12th inst.

Word has been sent by Clement Vaschar, who is managing the Okanogan mine at Penticton, B. C., that a new lead of rich copper was recently uncovered on the property. Shipments from this mine to the Trail smelter will be made shortly.

The Ivanhoe, in the Slocan has begun work on a 1200-foot tunnel, giving 1000 feet depth at the apex. The Carnation group, adjoining the Wonderful, in the Slocan, has been bonded by Mann & MacKenzie and P. Burns to L. Alexander for $40,000.

The Mine Owners' Association in its fight with the Miners' Union on the eight-hour question, says an exchange, is in the same fix as the man who went to lick the editor. In the course of proceedings he was asked to let go. The editor had a bunch of hair in one hand, his throat in another, and mouthful of thumb and finger, and the assailant very properly gurgled "I can't."

The shipments of ore from Rossland mines aggregate 20,000 tons a month, of the approximate value of $400,000. The difference between the value of the ore shipped and the sums disbursed for wages is therefore in the neighborhood of $275,000, 50 per cent. of which can be counted as gain over and above all expenses. This would indicate that the producing mines of Rossland could pay $1,650,000 in dividends this year, provided the output is kept up to the 20,000 tons a month mark.
