Mining Men In Session Here

Growing Importance of Northern Division Shown.

Men representing every branch of the mining industry met here Tuesday and Wednesday at a session of the north coast division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. Tuesday afternoon a business session was held in the Ocean View Cabaret, followed by a banquet at the Baldwin Hotel Grill in the evening. The visitors spent Wednesday visiting various points of interest, though, on account of the bad condition of the roads the proposed visit to the Premier mine in a body was abandoned. Both the business session and the banquet were presided over by E.J. Conway, chairman the north coast division who radiated good cheer and witticism.

In an optimistic address opening the business session, E.E. Campbell, vice-president of the institute, alluded to the progress the mining industry is making it the northwest and declared that men most needed were practical miners and metallurgists who could mine for a dollar when there was but $1.25 in the ore. He reviewed some of the work being done at Anyox and said they were mining ore there at a lower cost per ton than any mine in the Dominion. The concentration work there is characterized as unique.

Peter E. Peterson, the concentration wizard of the Anyox plant read a paper on the work he has accomplished and described his methods which the company have adopted in its enlarged plans. He gave the assurance that the method was adaptible to the treatment of the ores of Alice Arm and Stewart districts and said that concentration methods would ultimately be used here. An interesting discussion followed Mr. Peterson.

Transportation costs and other things affecting the mining industry in this district were referred to in a spirited address by W.C. Ross.

Milestones in the mining industry in the northwest, such as the Granby operations at Anyox, the Surf Inlet mine and the Premier mine, were the subject of a few words from A. C. Garde who predicted that the solution of the handling of the silver-lead-zinc ores of this district was but a matter of time.

William Noble gave an interesting review of progress from the standpoint of a pioneer.

Geology and the value of trained men was Dr.J.A. Bancroft's subject. He spoke of the growing demand for geologists not only in mining and oil but in connection with railway and road construction and civil engineering. The big mission of the geologist in the mining field, looking at it from the nation-aspect he said would be in working out the geology of various districts ahead oft he coming of the prospector which would save a lot of useless work by indicating where mineral bodies were not to be found.

Remarks were also made at the business session by J. L. Stamford, Mr. Brindle, John Dillon and Tim Williams.

Business was laid aside at the banquet, everybody thoroughly enjoying the good things provided by Bill Dann and his staff. The remarks and toasts scintillated wit and good spirits, led by Mr. Conway as toastmaster.

Owing to his having got down the hill too late for the business session, Pat Daly took occasion at the banquet to make reference to the closing down of the Big Missouri, being inclined to not accept as final the negative results of the limited amount of diamond drilling and studies of Dr. Bancroft upon which the decision to abandon work was based. Mr. Daly made reference to the history of some great mines, including our own Premier mine where engineering mistakes had been made, in support of his position and maintained his faith in the Big Missouri ridge.

Among well known members of the Institute present were: E.E. Campbell, Institute vice-president and assistant to the general-manager at Anyox; E.J. Conway, field engineer for Granby; H. M. Roscoe, secretary the north coast division; J. Tuttle, jr., mine superintendent at Hidden Creek; P.E. Peterson, superintendent of concentration at Anyox; N.E. Nelson, field engineer; John Dillon, assistant superintendent Anyox smelter; W.L. Wetmore, mechanical engineer; Wm. Weir, chemist; A.B. Wing, superintendent at Swamp Point; A.C. Garde, consulting engineer; Dr. J.A. Bancroft, professor of geology at McGill; Dr. Stuart J. Scofield, head of the Dominion Geological Survey in this district; G.W. Bain, fourth year student at McGill.

INCORPORATION ENTHUSIASTS DISAPPOINTED

In the course of the remarks of both Premier Oliver and Hon. T.D. Pattullo on the occasion of the public meeting here, they took the personal view that they did not think the Government could see its way clear to give up its taxes here in the event of incorporation of Stewart. Under such circumstances the friends of incorporation are deeply disappointed, as it has been admitted that the Government already exacts as high a taxation as conditions will permit. However, the details of the Village Act have not yet been received and the ultimate policy of the Government will not be known till then.

Large Crowd Hears Oliver

Premier and Minister of Lands Receive Warm Welcome .·. Oliver Flays Opposition Leader.

One of the largest public gatherings here this year heard Premier Oliver and Hon. T.D. Pattullo last Saturday night at the Ocean View Cabaret. They arrived during the afternoon on the powerboat Azurite. Previous to the meeting various committees discussed needed public improvements with the distinguished visitors who were also taken on an automobile trip to points of interest. The Premier took much interest in everything and copious notes regarding local requirements. It is confidently expected that as a result of the visit something tangible will be announced soon.

At the meeting, which was presided over by William Noble, the remarks of Hon. Mr. Oliver and his colleague received an attentive hearing. The Premier carried the Dolly Varden war into the camp of the Opposition, where W.J. Bowser is making much of the subject. R. T. Elliott who brought charges against the premier at the close of the last session of the legislature, came in for a merciless flaying.

Hon. Mr. Oliver gave a somewhat exhaustive review of the work of his Government from the time it took over the depleted treasury from the old regime and from his figures it was shown that for a Government which commenced business under such a serious handicap, wonders have literally been worked, for today the credit of the province once more stands high and much legislation of lasting good for progress and prosperity in British columbia has been enacted.

The meeting was one which pleased the visitors for the audience of more than a hundred was decidedly friendly. A vote of thanks for the visit was proposed by W.C. Ross and seconded by H.P. Gibson.

Russell Walker, traveling correspondent for the Vancouver Province, is accompanying the Premier and Minister of Lands on their northern tour.

George J. Frizzell and Jos. Roerig, after an inspection of the Frizzell Market in Stewart and Hyder, departed for Prince Rupert this week.

STEWART, B.C., Sept 4. 1920

A visit such as made by Premier Oliver and Hon. Mr. Pattullo, undoubtedly will be productive of much good to this district. It was the Premier's first visit and his reception and the size of the audience which greeted him was an evidence of the love and respect for him.

It is one thing to hear about a place and quite another to see it for yourself. The premier can now realize the urgency of certain public improvements. He took a lot of notes about what he was told and jotted down on his "card system" many notes from his own observations. Mr. Oliver was the picture of health and as was to be expected preferred to walk when he inspected the long wharf approach. Tangible evidences of his personal observations are expected soon.

Stewart was honored this week by the presence of men distinguished in the mining world and the session of the northern branch of the Canadian Mining Institute was highly successful. The visitors made the best of their opportunities to see the country in spite of bad roads.

NEWS FROM OTHER CAMPS.

Hilliard W. Palmer, well known B.C. mining writer, has severed his connection with the Northwest Mining Truth at Spokane.

W. Y. Williams, formerly of the Granby executive staff, has taken a bond on the Liberty group, south fork of Kaslo creek.

About 150 tons of coal per day is being shipped from the coal mine at Coalmont. At present the coal is hauled to the railway in trucks, but this will be done away with when the tram line is built. Good progress is being made in the erection of the line.

The Barnett property at the head of Lemon creek in the Slocan was recently opened up by R.G.McLeod of Vancouver.

W. Tarrant and James Angus will do considerable development work on their properties near Marysville. Just now they are engaged on their copper property at Lone Tree Butte two miles east of Marysville.

The concentrator of the Canada Copper Corporation at Allenby is ready for operation. For a start the plant will run at a capacity of 2000 tons daily and it is expected to reach 3000 tons within a year. Later it will increase to 5000 tons.

New Denver report has it that the Rambler-Cariboo is operating with a crew under Superintendent W. Cameron. Most of the properties are gradually resuming work and there is a gradual increase of men on the mines already working.

Great activity is reported at the Princeton Mining and Development Co. property, Copper Farm group, which is situated about five miles below Princeton. There are three full claims on which the ledge has been opened by three tunnels. The vein has been traced about 4500 feet on the surface and a good body of ore is disclosed.

For executive committee—H. Horstmann, Martin Smith, Fred Young, Ben Lawrence, J. Cullins (vote for three.)
