DUNWELL IS EXCITING NOW

Vein of High-Grade Ore Is Proving To Be a World-Beater Both in Length And Values

Developments at the Dunwell have passed the stage of being interesting—they are becoming exciting.

Reports from the Management obtained last evening are to the effect that the new high-grade ore shoot reported last week has been traced on the surface for a distance of 575 feet by means of open cuts, the ore averaging two to six feet in width. The latest cut, made yesterday, is exactly on the line between the Dunwell and the Victoria, and shows four feet of ore carrying black silver sulphides. No assays are as yet available from this cut, but from its appearance the ore should run high.

Average samples from various cuts so far obtained assay as follows:

Float found 150 ft. south of No. 1 cut; gold 0.12 oz. silver 239.5 oz.

One foot No. 1 cut; gold 0.15 oz. silver 238.7 oz.

One foot No. 2 cut; gold 0.17 oz. silver 274.4 oz.

Two feet No. 3 cut; gold 0.33 oz. silver 270 oz.

Sorted ore No. 3 cut; gold 0.88 oz. silver 678.46 oz.

There is still some doubt as to whether this is the northern extension of the main Dunwell vein explored by a series of tunnels, or of the "Surprise" vein, crosscut near the portal by the No. 4 Dunwell tunnel. The new vein will be further traced to the south by open cuts.

It will be recalled that a great ore shoot was followed for over 500 feet from No. 3 tunnel, and at its northern end was stronger and richer than at any other point. The new surface discovery was made about 1000 feet north of the No. 3 drift.

PACKING IN TO TROY GROUP

Five tons of supplies are being taken in to the Troy property, near the head of the Salmon valley, owned by the Northland mining company, the first pack train starting in from the head of the wagon road last Tuesday. A temporary camp will be erected and development started at once under direction of Niel McDonald, discoverer of the mine.

DON'T BE A TRAITOR

Development on the Dunwell, reported as this paper goes to press, and coming in since the story of the mine published elsewhere on this page was in type, confirms us in the opinion that any shareholder in the Dunwell company who advises a sale of the Dunwell to anyone or on any terms, is a traitor to his fellow shareholders in this company.

PUPILS MAKE GOOD RECORDS

Last Friday terminated the third term of the year for the public schools and summer vacation is on hand. J. A. Harper, Assistant Teacher, has reported for the intermediate grades as follows:

All parents are requested to sign the "Monthly Reports." These reports must be presented by the pupils at the beginning of next term.

Passed into Grade 8b; Betty Jack, Everett Ward, Mildred Jancowski.

Passed into Grade 7b: Margaret Jancowski, Violet Watson, William Thomey.

Passed into Grade 6b; Bonnie Campbell, Harry Wilkinson, Alice Wilkinson, Horton Jack.

Passed into Grade 5b: Frank Islip, Vera Workman, Peter Marvin, Eric Lee.

Passed into Grade 4b; Richard Jancowski, Nora Islip.

Passed into Grade 3b; John Thomey, Arthur Thomey.

Passed into Grade 2b; Doreen Jack, Dorothy Linton, Margaret Cameron, Archie Cameron, Alice Wakefield.

Honor Rolls:—

For Proficiency, Margaret Jancowski.

For Deportment, Eric Lee.

For Regularity and Punctuality, William R. Thomey.

Two awards were given for Penmanship other than the Writing certificates won by most of the class. The pupil deserving the award for the best writer washard to choose and a tie was given between Mildred Jancowski and Bonnie Campbell. Both write an excellent hand for their grade. The award for most improvement in writing since last September was awarded to Peter Marvin.

Last Wednesday Wm. Forrest left with a small crew to get development started on the Rufus property near the head of Bear river. The crew will be greatly enlarged within a short time.

STEWART-HYDER LOCAL NEWS

A.W.Morton, managing engineer for the Argenta, has arrived from Victoria to take charge of operations.

Dr. Carter Back From Cassiar

Dr. C. D. Carter returned yesterday from the Dease Lake country, where he staked claims on Gold Pan creek last fall, being among the first to go in upon news of a gold placer strike there being reported. Last February he went in again over the ice and has had crews sinking to bedrock and crosscutting for possible paystreaks. He found nothing to warrant him in retaining the ground, so abandoned it. However, he says it is a big country, with lots of room for prospecting, and a few failures will not deter the many prospectors now there or going in, from giving it a thorough combing for new placer deposits.

SUPPLIES FOR FORTY NINE

Pack trains started this week moving supplies from the Premier mine to the Forty Nine, which is reported as having been acquired this spring from the Silverman interests by the Premier Gold Mining Co. Crawford Transfer Co. of Stewart have the packing contract. Gus Anderson, who has been with the Premier for the past six years as assistant mine foreman, will be in charge of work at the Forty Nine. It will be necessary to construct a new camp, as that built six years ago was wrecked by weight of snow.

CHIEF METALS IS OPENING UP

Work started this week on the Start group of claims owned by the Chief Metals mining company of Seattle, which was organized by the late Dan Anderson, who died in the south last winter. Under Dan's direction a substantial camp was built and a good start made on development work. An attractive showing of clean galena ore was opened up and a tunnel will be continued this season on this, Emil Davis being superintendent and Ed Edwardson foreman.

The group is near the north end of Slate mountain and just east of the southern end of the Big Missouri. Stock in the company is held almost exclusively by members of the Seattle police departments.

Robert and Jas. Stewart are in from Victoria.

Wm. Fraser is back from a general survey of southern cities.

Mr and Mrs W. R. Harner returned Monday night from an extended visit outside.

Patsey Hogan, known in all mining camps of the North American continent as the "Irish Swede, is back from Atlin where he was shift boss all winter in the Engineer mine.

Harold Bendoldt Dies

Harold Bendoldt, winchman on the Griffeo, who sustained a terribly mangled and broken leg as well as internal injuries on June 4 by being caught in the cogs of the winch he was operating, died in the Stewart hospital on the evening of June 23. Heroic efforts were made by Dr. Whillans of Stewart and Dr. Standard of Hyder to save his life, but to no avail.

Deceased was 29 years of age and his home was at 3227 Quebec street, Victoria, where his parents and several brothers and sisters reside. The body is to be shipped out on Saturday's boat for burial in his home city.

LIQUOR LAW GETS FOUR IN TROUBLE

Picture the scene—and recall what you have read of the Spanish Inquisition.

A dimly-lit court room. Leg irons, hand-cuffs and murderous trophies of former days hanging on the walls.

A wide bar to keep the vulgar populace from crowding within the sacred precinct reserved for the operation of The Law.

No drinks on the bar, but lots on the floor within—barrels of beer, hard liquor of various kinds sundry glasses, a service tray, and even two poor little lemons that snuggled together in frightened companionship.

Men standing in front of the bar, (the above-mentioned populace) all dry and potential patrons for other bars, now long by-gone.

Behind the bar, The Law—and three prisoners. A brainy-looking attorney representing a fourth accused, one of the gentler sex, who was not there in person.

The time, one minute past midnight, Monday morning June 22, in the Year of Our Lord, (who was betrayed by a stool pigeon named Judas Iscariot,) 1925.

DOMINION DAY

Stewart will celebrate Dominion Day. Program was made out today too late for publication, but numerous copies will be distributed.

SUIT FOR THE PRINCE JOHN

A lawsuit of interest to property owners and residents of the district in general, is reported in the Victoria Colonist of June 10 as follows:

The trial in Victoria Improvement Company vs Prince John Mining Company was concluded in the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon when Mr Justice Gregory decided against the plaintiff company on all points. The action was one that had to do with the Prince John group of claims at Stewart. Commencing in 1922 negotiations opened for taking over these claims from C. A. Mackenzie by what was then known as the Exploration Company of New York. Mr Mackenzie was to secure the claims and turn them over to the New York syndicate, and the Prince John Mining Company was the outcome.

The New York company expended considerable money in the work, employing Mr Mackenzie as engineer in charge to carry out the development program at the mine. The sum of $25,000 was spent in this development alone, and something over $100,000 spent altegether. Stock was sold in the company in New York and in England. Mr Mackenzie, according to the evidence, had been paid a very considerable sum in connection with the deal.

Had No Licences

In the spring of 1924 it became known that the company that had been operating all year had not the necessary miners' licences for carrying on work, a fact which became known when the application was being made for certificate of improvement preparatory to crown granting the property.

Then Mr Nesbitt, who had been employed in charge of the work at the mine, proceeded to the property and restaked the claims, which were in turn turned over to the Improvement company, which put forward the claim that it was holding the property in trust and was ready to give the shareholders in the Prince John pro rata stock in the new company, but which contended that alleged extravagance in connection with the New York company head office should be curtailed.

HIGH-GRADES IN THE LAKEVIEW

Spectacular Ore Is Found In Seventh Vein Cut By Tunnel Before Objective Is Reached

A flurry of interest this week was created when miners from the Lakeview exhibited samples of ore containing argentite and ruby silver, as well as some native. Thif ore comes from a 12-inch vein encountered at 751 ft. from the portal of the crosscut tunnel. The strike of the vein is east and west and dip nearly vertical.

Six veins which do not show on the surface were crossed in the course of driving this tunnel and will be explored later by drifting. The vein at 751 is now being drifted upon both ways, this work having started today.

The face of the long tunnel is now 789 feet from the portal, and 27 feet more should bring it vertically under the outcrop of the vein which it was started to tap.

Assay samples from the 751 vein, from which all specimens showing native silver, argentite or ruby were discarded, carry excellent values.

DIAMOND DRILLS ON THE BUSH

Diamond drilling commenced this week on the Bush property, adjoining the B. C. Silver on the north and controlled by National Silver Mines Ltd. Results will be awaited with great interest locally as well as on the outside, as the property is known to have a number of attractive surface showings and is believed to carry the northeastern extension of the Premier and B.C. Silver ore zone. Boyles Bros. (Canada) Ltd., who have done practically all the diamond drilling in this camp, have the contract on the Bush.

Thos. Campbell, managing engineer of the Sterling Silver, returned Monday from Vancouver.

H. Comer has returned from a business trip to Vancouver. He reports that when he left his daughter Lois, who has been ill in the General Hospital, was very much improved and wished to be remembered to her many friends here.

Mr H. A. McLean, for the Prince John Company, contended that these representations as to reckless expenditures in New

IT'S A CRIME TO SELL DUNWELL

IT IS said and truly so, that opportunity comes to every man. But Opportunity is a fickle Goddess, who, if not woed when willing, seldom comes again.

As in other things, so in mining.

Dame Fortune smiled, and still smiles, upon the backers of the Dunwell; but just at a time when she was prepared to yield to her conquerors in generous manner, it would appear that they became shy and frightened, and under the influence of that greatest enemy of mankind, Fear, are apparently trying to retreat, by trying to sell Dunwell to someone whom they think is better able to carry on. To no individual or aggregation of men in Canada has such an opportunity opened up, as has been laid at the feet of the Dunwell Company.

Low elevation on a gentle slope, a wagon road almost to the tunnel's mouth, timber, water power, accessibility, all within five miles of deep tidewater, combine for most economical operation that would be hard to duplicate anywhere in the world. Hundreds of tons of ore that can be shipped direct to the smelter; thousands more of high-grade milling quality not only proven to great depth, but also traced on the surface over a great distance —what more does the mining man want?

And yet some got cold feet, we know not nor care not who, but only know that whoever he is, or whoever they are, they have no business trying to play the mining game, much less have any authority.

To say that Dunwell cannot be operated successfully by a British Columbia owned company is an absolute fallacy. Hollinger was once a small stock operation; the Guggenheims were originally peddlers in the mining camps and many more of the most successful mining operations were founded on small beginnings. Mining history is full of such facts. To say that British Columbians cannot do the same as others have done is not only false, but admits incompetence.

Why not reorganize Dunwell, step out and employ an experienced mine manager, place him in full charge, even at a salary of $1000 per month, raise enough money to install a small 50-ton mill and go to work. Dunwell can be put on an operating basis for $100,000, and yield to the shareholders far greater profit than they will ever get by selling out.

This would create a British Columbia owned and operated mine. Dividends, pay-roll and supply account would practically all remain in the Province. A B.C. mining group would thereby be created that would hasten the day when we would not be forced to go to London, New York, Montreal or Toronto for capital with which to develop our natural resources.

It is a crime against the Company.

It is a crime against the District.

It is a crime against the Province.

To sell Dunwell---and cold feet are no excuse.

A news dispatch tells of a fellow in Calgary being sentenced to six months' imprisonment and a fine of $100 for stealing $4494.19 from a weekly paper. He will be making good wages for those six months—$832.53 a month after deducting the fine. But that isn't what we started out to say. We can understand a weekly paper having 19c., but how in heck it got hold of $4494 is what puzzles us.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. SUIT FOR THE PRINCE JOHN

York were false.

In Position of Trust

In connection with the staking it was contended by Mr McLean that this was really done by Mr Mackenzie and that as agent of the defendant company he had a right to hold the property for that company.

Mr Taylor held that in view of the fact that the Prince John company had not had its licences that it was not in a position under the act to re-locate. The Exploration company was the one that should have looked after these licences. He held that the only way out was for re-staking along the line followed and that the Prince John shareholders were to be looked after in the matter.

Court's Decision

The court, however, in delivering oral judgement at the end of a three days' trial said that effect should be given to the contention of Mr McLean in its entirety. The plaintiff company, said His Lordship, had no right of action. It had been dilatory also in proceeding.

In the opinion of Mr Justice Gregory the strongest ground upon which he could base his judgement was that put forward that the plaintiff company held the property in trust for the defendant company. To allow the plaintiffs to succeed would, he felt, be a miscarriage of justice. The defendants had spent a lot of money on the property. The plaintiff company had no assets, and yet it was contended that by a slip it could get possession of this property. On the ground that it was to hold the claims in trust for the defendant company, he pointed out that there was nothing by which the rights of the defendants could be enforced if the plaintiffs got possession.

Blamed Mr Mackenzie

His Lordship attributed the blame to Mr Mackenzie that the defendant company did not have its miners' licences. He was the man who was in the position that made him responsible for seeing that this was carried out.

Mr Mackenzie, as the agent of the company, should have done all he could to get the property for that company. He, however, had got the transfer of it to others. It would be a gross injustice, he felt, to have Mr Mackenzie profit by this transaction.

While it had been held that Mr Mackenzie did not know of the re-staking, he felt that this was incredible. He was satisfied that whoever did the sraking it was with the connivance of Mr Mackenzie and for his benefit, and he would decide that he could not keep the property.

Local Stocks

(Quotations by H. W. M. Rolston & Co)

Continued improvement of the Dunwell strike is drawing public attention again to one of the district's favorites, as Dunwell has always been considered by men who know, to be a big mine in the making, and the hitting of high-grade on the surface practically assures the continuation of 1000 feet to the north of the ore body in No. 3 tunnel. In view of these facts the stock is in steady demand at increasing prices.

Starting to ship high-grade from the Porter Idaho has bro't. this stock very much into favor and it is in big demand, especially by those who have taken time to look into the prospects of the property. The Management announce that they will not need to go to the public for further financing until such time as heavy machinery is required. The smelter returns this year will leave a handsome profit after all exploration and current expenses have been met. A much higher level in Porter Idaho is expected.

News from the Management that the long crosscut tunnel on Lakeview has cut 12 inches of high-grade at a depth of some 300 feet caused a stiffening in this stock.

The big Dunwell strike being less than 500 feet from the Victoria line and the vein traced into this property, considerably strengthened Victoria Mines stock.

L & L Glacier Creek remains in demand, with active trading.

Marmot Metals is in strong demand with very few offerings. The management reports good progress with very satisfactory results.

Josephine Ault and Bob Mathieson of Hyder B. C., and Henry Rivard of Stewart, each plead guilty of unlawfully selling intoxicating liquor and each was fined $300 and costs. William Mitchell of Stewart plead guilty of having some beer in a premises not a private residence nor a guest room and was fined $50 and costs. In each case the Crown Prosecutor asked that the minimum sentence be imposed.

Henry Rivard, who owns the building occupied by the government liquor store in this town, figures that the stools were sent all the way from Victoria to get back the money the Liquor Control Board had paid him as rent. He is taking steps to oust the Vendor Store and gain possession of the building for himself. He also claims he is marked as a special victim because he beat the case when they "picked on him before."
