Dog and Pony Show, July 22nd

Merrit Belew, who heads the training staff with Buller's Dog and Pony Shows, although young in years is a veteran of the white tops. Many residents of this section of the country will remember the old Norris & Rowe Dog and Pony Show. This attraction regularly used travel through British Columbia and Western Canada, visiting all the principal points. Belew is an adopted son of the late Harry Rowe, one time owner of Norris & Rowe's show, and he is conceded to be the country's foremost animal educator.

All winter long Belew has been working on the Buller Stock Ranch on San Juan Island in the state of Washington. Assisted by a staff of competent animal trainers he has been working from early morning until late at night getting this show ready for the road.

Visitors to this remarkable exhibition of animal actors will have the opportunity of witnessing results of Belew's work. At each performance this versatile trainer will drect thirty-five ponies of all sizes in a superb military drill. It is impossible for any one man to control thirty-five ponies unless they have been thoroughly trained in their work. "Chester," the talking horse, adds, subtracts, multiplies and actually smiles, "Sport," the wire-walking dog, will mount the ladder step by step and unaided he will walk the full length of a tight wire suspended in mid-air. Riding monkeys, riding dogs, dogs that loop, dogs who do the skirt dance and clown dogs, together with a full performance that is especially appreciated by the women and children. Mr. Buller has wiih him this year a fully developed pony actually standing only thirty-six inches high.

The shows carry about 100 head of trained performing animals and a total of 100 people, while the performance is further strengthened by the addition of some prominent circus acts, including aerial artists, iron-jaw performers. No circus would be complete without clowns and the management have with them this season Harry La Verne, veteran circus clown and jester, assisted by a troupe of fun makers. Buller's Concert Band will give daily band concerts in conjunction with each performance.

Visitors to the grounds are allowed plenty of time to inspect the animals before the performance starts.
Two shows—3 and 8 p.m.

Sirdar

Word has just reached here that R. H. Ross, former car foreman at this point has just undergone a critical operation at the hospital at New Westminster, and while he has come through it alright it will be some time before he will be able to get around as usual.

Jos. Daly left last week on a business trip to Rossland and Nelson. In his absence Ald. Morris is acting mayor.

R. Dennes was at Nelson for a few days the latter part of the week, where Mrs. Dennes and young Dick, are visiting friends.

Sergt. Moore, who has been here for a couple of weeks a guest at the Loasby's has rejoined the C.P.R. and is braking freight out of Cranbrook, where Mrs. Moore has gone to join him.

Our old friend the mosquitoes are still very much on the job, and in consequence it was again found necessary to postpone the Church of England service announced for last Sunday night.

Road foreman Moore of Kaslo was here last week, apparently to decide just how much work would have to be done to put the road and bridge between here and Kuskanook in shape for another year.

Now that the flood waters [illegible] about over fishing is reported excellent at Kuskanook, all visiting anglers [illegible] section comes the report that the cherry crop is the best ever, and all other fruits promising well—due, in part, to some irrigation.

The Kuskanook Jersey herd received a fine young animal by express from Regina, Sask., the latter part of the week, and on Monday they shipped an equally good looking young bull to a Saskatchewan buyer.

Mrs. McKinley returned to Kuskanook a few day's ago for a summer's visit with Mrs. Jones, after accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Perine as far as Seattle on their return to California.

The steamer Kokanee was required at the Landing a few days last week to clear the slip tracks there of sand. By backing the boat in and starting up the big propeller wheel this sort of dredging is fairly satisfactorily accomplished.

Ernest McCabe is making a small sized fortune these days by supplying the local demand for raspberries. He has a well-irrigated patch of these which are yielding abundantly.

Someday some of the reckless auto tourists who at times utilize the C.P.R track for it to make the Wiles crossing in getting out of Sirdar, are going to furnish material for a coroner's inquest. Rather than pay the $6 freight charge to take the car on even to Duck Creek, already this season several have hit the ties eastbound.

C.P.R. Supt. Maharg, accompanied by Engineer Brown and some other officials were here last week, making preliminary arrangements for starting work on the new roundhouse, turntable and water tank. It is expected the former will be big enough to accommodate at least four of the largest type of locomotive.

Erickson

At the annual school meeting on Saturday night W. W. Hall was elected to the trustee board, replacing W. G. Littlejohn, and R. B. Staples was elected auditor. The school board for the year will be comprised of Messrs. Hall, Telford and E. Cartwright.

Mrs. E. Penson who has been a visitor with Nelson friends for a few days returned on Wednesday.

Frank Staples spent a couple of days the latter part of the week on a business trip at points down the lake.

A. Lode of Silverton was here a few days the latter part of the week. The concentrator he was working in has closed down indefinitely, hence the vacation. Mr. Lode has had several tempting offers for his ranch here this year but so far has not decided to sell.

The half-hour rain on Friday morning last helped things here a little, and the shipping of raspberries continues very satisfactory. At Erickson the express shipping is averaging 100 crates a day, but as yet cherries are the heaviest on the list. Sunday was the biggest day yet, with 134 crates out.

The Fraser ranch started the cabbage export on Monday, with an initial shipment of about 250 pounds, and are sending some of it east every day.

Names Committee

President Constable has announced the personnel of the special committee of the Creston Board of Trade that he has been asked to name to investigate the soldier settlement of Block 812 as it will affect the other portions of the Valley so that the board can devise ways and means of expediting prospective development in any quarter. Major Mallandaine is chairman, and the other members are Robt. Stark, W. B. Embree, R. B. Staples and W. V. Jackson. Progress reports will be made from time to time so that action may be taken as the situation requires

An Appeal

The committee having in charge the erection and completien of the monument in memory of the men of Creston Valley who fell in the great war wish to make a final appeal for funds to carry out the work.

A good many have already subscribed, but there are many who have not been reached by the applications sent out, and the sum received is, as yet, quite inadequate for the purpose in view.

On Saturday we are to celebrate, by a holiday, the advent of peace; a peace which has been secured us by the devotion and sacrifice of the men who went overseas.

We are erecting this monument in honor and memory of those who fell in the struggle; who will never return; who gave their lives that we might have this peace. We would appeal, therefore, to every citizen of the Valley to join now in subscribing; in trying to make this memorial to be placed in our midst worthy of our appreciation of these men, and truly representative of the prosperous Valley from which they came.

All subscriptions will be thankfully received and acknowledged by C. G. Bennett, secretary.

Robert Stark,
Chairman of Committee.

Decision Against Sunday Dinner

For the Women's Institute July meeting, on Friday evening last, the ladies had a welcome change in the usual sessional menu, a debate being the feature, and the subject under discussion, Resolved, "That the family should expect a hot dinner on Sunday." The debators were Mesdames Dow and G. Cartwright for the affirmative, and Mesdames St. Jean and J. W. Hamilton for the negative, and with the decision by popular vote the latter were declared the winners. In addition to the debate the president, Mrs. Lyne, contributed a very interesting talk on Home Economies.

The business of the session included the naming of Mrs. Dow as official delegate to the Kootenay Women's Institute convention at Nakusp this fall, with Mrs. Lyne representative. On the letter from Nelson W.I. asking that this institute recommend the making of Nelson as the permanent headquarters of the 54th Battalion, in view of the fact that Col. Ryan has been named to enquire into the matter for the militia authorities it was decided to not make any recommendation at all. The ladies decided to again serve refreshments throughout the day of Creston's fall fair this year—Sept. 26th, and preliminary arrangements in that connection were made.

The after-lunch was served by Mesdames Mallandaine, G. Johnson and Speers, and the collection at the meeting, which goes to the Red Cross Society, totalled $2.05. The members are specially reminded of the August meeting when the answer to roll call will be an idea on how to make money for the Institute.

Canyon City

The Canyon City school section ratepayers had a very peaceful annual get-together on Saturday night, and were so well satisfied with Mr. Pochin's work as trustee that they have re-elected him for a three-year term. Mr. Blair's work as auditor was equally well done, and he was favored with another term on the job.

The land settlement [illegible] had a visit from Capt. Silver of Lethbridge this week. He had some notion of taking an irrigated farm in that part of Alberta, but after seeing this section he has about decided to take 40 acres of the new tract.

Pole loading makes things active at the siding these days, with Mr. Yoder in charge. If the cars are available he expects to have the yard clear entirely of poles early next week.

The fire which is raging on the mountain on both sides of the boundary began to get out of control early in the week, and Dad Browell gathered up about a dozen volunteer fire fighters and left for the scene of the blaze on Wednesday.

The Sunday school picnic on Friday afternoon last was quite a successful affair in every way. Almost 70 of the grownups and children were there and all report a fine time of it.

Mrs. W. K. Brown was a visitor with Mrs. Hall a few days last week. We expect to see her come next trip in her auto, as we hear she has just purchased a car from one of the Creston garages.

A deal is on for the 20-acre property behind the Hall ranch which is owned by C.P.R. roadmaster Topham of Cranbrook. Mr. and Mrs. Delzell and Mr. and Mrs. Conklin of Fernie, who spent the weed-end with Mr. and Mrs. Hall, on their way home after an auto trip to Spokane for the 4th, are the probable purchasers. They were here looking for land and were quite taken with Mr. Topam's holdings. On their way home they are stopping at Cranbrook to complete the purchase if possible.

Alice Siding

Jack Boydell left on Tuesday for Big Valley, Alta.; where he expects to spend the next three months, helping an overseas pal with haying operations.

Miss Mary Barraclough arrived the latter part of the week on a visit to her parents here.

Ron. Stewart left on Tuesday to spend a few days at Nelson before going on to Trail to take a position in that town.

Shipping at the Smith crossing is holding up fine, considering the rather dry spell. As high as 87 crates are handled occassionally, with an average of well over 60.

Morgan Long has made the purchase of four head of cattle from Mrs. A. L. Matthews, and has already disposed of one of the milch animals to Andrew Johnson at Creston.

G. H. Bohlee arrived back on Friday from a trip to Wardner, at which point he left his McLaughlin car on a trip back from Saskatchewan a month ago. He is now owner of two autos.

Mrs. G. Seaver has gone to Lamont, Wash., to visit her late husband's parents, her mother-in-law being in rather poor health.

Mrs. Frank Hunter of Columbia Gardens, who has been Mrs. Matthews guest, left for home the latter part of the week.

At the school meeting on Saturday night at the schoolhouse, Mr. Mason was returned as trustee for a three-year term, while Guy Constable was re-elected auditor. The trustee board, therefore, for the ensuing year will be Messrs. Carr, Mason and John Miller.

W. Whiting is operating a jitney at Cranbrook.

Revelstoke is getting ready to erect a memorial to its fallen war heroes, of which it claimf 71.

Tenders Wanted

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned will be received up to 8 p.m. on Friday, July 25th, 1919, for the construction of a frame building approximately 24 x 36, one story, on the school grounds at Creston. Plans and specifications can be seen at R. B. Staples' office, Fruit Growers Union, after Monday, July 21st. Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

JAS. CHERRINGTON,
Secretary Treasurer,
Creston School Board.

Creston, B.C., July 17, 1919.

$6000 for School Purposes 1919-20

The old-time calm that, save for 1918's eventful session, is wont to pervade the Creston school district annual meeting, was again in evidence at this year's conclave, on Saturday night, which was presided over by Charles Moore. Besides being peaceful, the gathering was notable in respect to its generosity. While a couple of years ago a budget calling for an assesment to secure $4000 was accorded a stormy passage, this year, although only $5000 was asked for the ratepayers were in such generous frame of mind that this was boosted to $6000, thus ensuring ample funds for the new two-room building it was decided to erect on the north-west corner of grounds.

The contruction of the new building was not real popular with the majority of ratepayers who were present, but as no building suitable for the purpose seemed available for rent there was nothing for the meeting to do but vote the $2600 asked for the purpose of putting up a suitable frame structure that will measure 24 x 36 feet. Its erection is to be undertaken forthwith in the hope that it will be available when school re-opens at the end of August.

The other feature of the meeting was a three-cornered fight for the vacancy on the trustee board. The aspirants were Messrs. R. B. Staples, Jas. Compton and John Blinco, Trustee Hayden refusing to stand for re-election. Messrs. A. R. Swanfon and Henry Lyne were scrutineers, and the result of the balloting was a tie as between Messrs. Compton and Staples. A coin was flipped with the latter cailing the winning turn, and the chairman declared Mr. Staples trusteee for the next three years.

Five teachers will be required for this term, and the schedule of salaries will be as follows: Principal, $125; two assistants at $100 each, and two lady teachers at $85. This is an increase of $10 a month for the ladies of the staff, while the salaries of the principal and vice-principal remain as last year.

Dr. Henderson was re-appointed auditor for his fifth successive term. With the enlarged school there will be be at least three new teachers on the staff, Misses Kane and Ross having tendered their resignations. It is hoped that Vice-Principal Smith will be back, but sa far he has not so stated his intention.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

KASLO DISTRICT

Creston-Goatfell Road Diversion near Goat River Crossing

Sealed tenders, marked "Tenders for Creston-Goatfell Road Diversion," addressed to the Honourable Minister of Public Works, Victoria, will be received up to 5 p.m. on Monday, July 28th, for the construction of about 1½ miles of the above road.

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a certified cheque payable to the Honourable Minister of Public Works, Victoria, for a sum not less than ten per cent. of the tender, which shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fails to complete the work as required.

The cheques of unsuccessful tenderers will be returned upon execution of the contract.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the Government Office, Kaslo, and at the District Engineer's Office, Nelson, B.C.

J. D. Moore, General Foreman, Kaslo, will be prepared to meet intending contractors at Creston on Monday, July 22nd, at noon, and accompany them over the route of the proposed work.

The contract to be commenced immediately on acceptance of tender and completed on or before September 30th, 1919.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

WM. RAMSAY,
District Engineer.

Peace Day In Canada

Concluding an address before the Canadian Club at Vancouver at a luncheon given in his honor, Lt.-Col. Purney, Dominion President of the Great War Veterans of Canada, said:

"Overseas we used frequently to hear that song 'There's a long, long trail awinding into the land of my dreams.' The G.W.V.A. are determined that this Dominion of ours shall be the land of our dreams, the land we have hoped for, the land we are prepared to live and strive for. We realize that it is no easy road we have to travel that will bring us to our goal. Through iron sacrifice of body, will and soul alone can we reach it—there is but one road."

These noble and inspiring words are just what was to be expected from the leader of that brave and gallant body of men who fought for and saved Canada when everything that our people hold dear was threatened and in danger of being lost to us. Thousands of their comrades gave their lives for the great dream of a finer, better Canada in the future; other thousands will go through life maimed and carrying wounds; and all made sacrifices and suffered to a degree that no one except those who went through the awful inferno of the war can understand. These men are determined that their losses, sufferings and sacrifices shall not have been made in vain.

Canada's returned soldiers are the nation's greatest asset, and for many years to come their influence will be one of the determining factors in shaping national policy and establishing our national ideals. It is well that those ideals should be high and altogether worthy.

But what of those other thousands of Canadians who did not experience the comradeship of the trenches, nor place their bodies in the path of a ruthless and arrogant foe? They, too, must be animated by the same grim determination to make Canada the land of their brightest, fondest dreams, a land of hope and glory, where all men are free and equal and where peace and prosperity reign.

[illegible] Canada be elevated to such a proud and happy position? [illegible] by the loyal service and patriotic sacrifice of the Canadian people. [illegible] has endowed our Dominion with [illegible] almost beyond the dreams of avarice. Few countries in the world have been so richly blessed, and it [illegible] people to wisely administer and develop the wonderful resources, [illegible] provided to make our Dominion a place worth living in.

To make our dreams come true there must be, first of all, a greater unity of thought and purpose among the people of Canada than has heretofore existed. [illegible] religious bigotry [illegible] Canada [illegible]

[illegible] empire, joint heirs to one of nature's greatest storehouses of happiness and wealth.

There must be less of looking askance at fellow citizens because by the accident of birth they first saw the light in some far-off portion of the world, or because by that same accident they were brought up to worship God through different forms. There must be less of suspicion and more of sympathy; less of antagonism and more of co-operation.

In the second place, there must be determination and a united effort on the part of all to assure to the boys and girls of Canada—the hope of Canada—the best possible education regardless of their present condition and place in life. The governments of our three prairie provinces are all striving to raise the standard of education, and are making special efforts in behalf of the children of our non-English speaking settlers. But while goverments can do much by law and administration, their efforts will be only partially successful unless there is hearty co-operation on the part of all the people.

Again, public spirited men and women everywhere throughout this broad land should lend their assistance and give every encouragement to all movements designed to develop the right kind of a community spirit, to remove causes of friction and estrangement, to make newcomers welcome—in a word, to make one and all feel that they are members of the great Canadian family, and that, while they have rights and privileges to enjoy and which will be respected, they have also duties to perform and responsibilities to discharge to their adopted country and fellow citizen.

Saturday, July 19, has been set apart by His Majesty the King as a day of general empire rejoicing for the victorious peace which under God has been vouchsafed to the empire and its allies in the great war. Every Canadian citizen should join heartily with the Great War Veterans on that day in their patriotic determination to make Canada the land of their dreams, and should consecrate themselves to the task unmindful of the sacrifices and the hard service which may be involved. Peace Day in Canada should be a day not alone of reconstruction, but of regeneration.

WEAK MOTHERS REGAIN HEALTH

Through the New Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make

No mother should allow nervous weakness to get the upper hand of her. If she does, worry will mar her work in the home and torment her in body and mind. Day after day spent amid the same surroundings is enough to cause fretfulness and depression. But there are other causes, as every mother knows, that tend to make her nerves run down. A change would benefit her jaded system, and rest might improve her blood so as to give the nerves a better tone. But rest and change are often impossible, and it is then that all worn-out women should take a short treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make new blood, rich with the elements on which the nerves thrive. In this way these pills restore regular health, increased energy, new ambition and steady nerve. There is a lesson for other women in the case of Mrs. Harry P. Snider, Wilton, Ont., who says: "Five years ago my twin babies were born, and I was left very weak and very miserable, hardly fit to do anything. The doctor gave me medicine, but it did not help me. Then I tried another doctor, but with no better results. One day I went home to my mother, telling her how miserable I felt, and that the doctor's medicine had not done me any good. Mother asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as I was glad to try anything that might help me, I got three boxes when I went back home. By the time these were used there was no doubt they were helping me, and I got three more boxes. But I did not need them all, for by the time the fifth box was used, I was entirely cured, and never felt better in my life. Now when I hear people talk about feeling weak or miserable I always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and tell what they did for me, and, in similar cases I shall continue to recommend them."

At the first sign that the blood is out of order, take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and note the speedy improvement they make in the appetite, health and spirits. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hun Call Treaty "Scrap Of Paper"

Extortionate Pressure Renders Signature Worthless, Says the Vorwaerts

Berlin.—The Berlin Vorwaerts, majority Socialist organ, described the peace treaty as "a scrap of paper."

"Extortionate pressure renders signature of the peace treaty worthless," said the Vorwaerts. "We must never forget it is only a scrap of paper. Treaties based on violence can keep their validity only so long as force exists. Do not lose hope. The resurrection day comes."

Irrigation In Alberta

Farmers Determined to Secure Surveys Without Delay

Macleod, Alberta.—A project to secure irrigation for the district lying between the Watertown and Belly rivers, with its southern extremity 12 miles due west of Cardston, is under consideration. The proposal is to take the water from Belly river to the southwest tip of the Blood Reserve, and by carrying it north parts of four townships can be watered, some 30,000 acres in all, it is thought. No surveys have yet been made. When farmers interested held a conference with Commissioner Peters of the irrigation branch, they were told he had no appropriation for the work. They inquired as to the cost, and it is possible that if the government does not take up this work the farmers themselves will engage an engineer to make the necessary surveys. Not only are the farmers determined to secure surveys without delay, but they have signed the necessary petitions for the formation of the district into an irrigation district under the Alberta Irrigation District Act, and these petitions have been laid before the government. If the surveys are completed this year, the district may next spring be in a position to proceed with the awarding of the contracts for the ditches. Much of the land to be served by this new project is owned by the Mormon church.

Sawing Wood With One Arm

For some months now no dispatch on the life of the former German emperor at Amerongen, Holland, has omitted to say something about his favorite exercise, which is said to be sawing logs of wood. The faithful correspondent who sends out these stories, or the loyal secretary who gives them to him, evidently is not sufficiently familiar with manual labor to know that sawing logs is an occupation which requires the use of two arms. The retired emperor, unfortunately, has but one. Is it mere vanity which directs that the world be offered this characteristically German camouflage, or is there a more sinister political design back of it? —Buffalo Express.

THINK A MINUTE

WHAT is your doctor's first question? Why does he suspect constipation?

Because 90% of his patients are suffering from ailments caused directly or indirectly by the action of poisons formed in a sluggish intestinal tract.

These body poisons are absorbed by the blood and carried all over the body until the weakest organ, unable to withstand the poisonous contact, becomes infected and refuses to act properly. Unfortunately it is usually not until then that the doctor is consulted and asked to treat the diseased organ.

The surest way of purifying the blood and preventing the formation of these destructive body poisons is to prevent stagnation of food waste in the intestinal tract—to prevent constipation.

Constipation is not a matter to be taken lightly or neglected. Nor is it either sufficient or safe to take castor oil, pills, salts, mineral waters, etc., in order to "force" bowel action. Such action does not cure constipation, it makes constipation a habit.

Nujol is entirely different from drugs as it does not force or irritate the bowels.

Nujol prevents stagnation by softening the food waste and encouraging the intestinal muscles to act naturally, thus removing the cause of constipation and self-poisoning. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

Nujol helps Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

Warning: Nujol is sold in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. All druggists. Insist on Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.

Germans Ratify Treaty With Very Bad Grace

Weimar.—In the debate which preceded the vote of the national assembly ratifying the peace treaty, some strong sentiments against the terms were expressed, and 99 deputies abstained from voting on the resolution to ratify the treaty. Most of the ministers were present at the meeting of the assembly, and there was a full attendance of deputies. Dr. Hermann Mueller, the foreign minister, in introducing the government bills, explained that hastening of the ratification order would bring about the lifting of the blockade.

"We are about to enter upon a 40 years' march through dirt," he said. "I can find no other term for the path of suffering fulfillment of the treaty prescribed for us."

Dr. Peter Spahn, leader of the Catholic centre party, said:

"We agree to the treaty under hard compulsion, to save ourselves from anarchy and to preserve the fatherland from internal ruin."

Herr Kreizing, Socialist; Professor Schuecking, Democrat; Dr. Traub, national party, and Herr Kahl, people's party, all spoke violently protesting the injustice of the treaty, the impossibility of its fulfillment, and declaring that the day of Germany's liberation would come.

These speeches were greeted with such turbulent applause and handclapping that the president of the assembly, Herr Fehrenback, called attention to the fact that hand-clapping was against the rules, with similar speeches by other members and similar applause.

The national party introduced an amendment in favor of ratifying the treaty with the reserve that the sanction of the international law experts of repute be first obtained concerning articles 227 to 230, and that a court be created to investigate the responsibility for the war.

In the course of the debate President Fehrenback protested against Alsace-Lorraine being torn from Germany. He said that the treaty of 1871 simply made good what had been taken from Germany 150 years before. He hoped that the people of Alsace-Lorraine would preserve their German character, customs, etc.

British Army Won The War

Emphatic Statement By Sir Douglas Haig on British Army Achievements

London.—Field Marshal Haig, receiving the freedom of Newcastle, deprecated the tendency to minimize the British army's achievements in the war.

"It is right to speak of our allies," he declared, "but it was the British army that won the war; it was Britain that bore the brunt of the fighting in the last two years. I hope everyone will realize the fact and stick by the fellows who fought and suffered and their dependents."

Labor Unrest In Italy

Repression of Disorders By Military Methods Resented By Labor Leaders

Rome.—The chamber of labor has proclaimed a general strike as from midnight Tuesday as a sign of protest against the police and military measures adopted by the government to prevent further disorders. The chamber of labor maintains that these measures were adopted to prevent the lowering of the price of necessaries, as demanded by the people.

The strike was not quite general, because only the Popolo Romano published the decision of the chamber of labor to call a strike.

The food shops were crammed with people buying provisions in fear of being caught with scanty supplies.

Some Sidelights on Bolshevism

New York.—The arrest of President Wilson and J. D. Rockefeller, the opening of all jails and the formation of soviet organizations throughout the coutry to take over the government were advocated in the anarchistic bulletin, according to Archibald Stevenson, who produced a copy of the bulletin at the hearing of the Lusk investigating commission.

Hidden Bravery To Be Rewarded

Recommendations for Awards Must Be Sent to Ottawa By End of August

Ottawa.—Officers and soldiers of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who displayed gallantry while escaping or attempting to escape from the enemy, or who rendered exceptional services whilst prisoners of war or interned, are eligible for a reward.

An order of the Militia Department just issued states that recommendations for such reward may now be submitted. The facts supporting each recommendation must be substantiated by statements of evidence from at least two witnesses who have first-hand knowledge of the case, and should reach militia headquarters before August 31. Officers and soldiers who are still serving should submit their claims through the usual official channels. The claims of those who have been demobilized should be presented through the officer commanding the military district in which they live.

Fall Harvesting Starts In Ontario

Crops on the Whole Are Very Poor This Year

Toronto.—Fall wheat harvesting has already commenced in a few counties, according to the Ontario crop report, issued by the department of agriculture.

Owing to the length of straw, some of the grain has been knocked down. In some sections, fears were that grain was ripening too fast, but the yield will be higher.

Winter rye is ready for the binder.

Crops on the whole are very poor. Some sections report practically a failure. The fields are uneven, and on account of the dry weather, grain is heading out at a foot and less in height.

Many Jews Killed

Ukrainian Anti-Bolshevist Commander Shows Cruelty

London. — Many Jews have lost their lives in the course of the operations between the Russian soviet forces and those of General Gregorieff, commander of the Ukrainian anti-Bolshevist army, which has been fighting its way northward from the Black Sea, Cecil Harmsworth, under-secretary for foreign affairs, said in the house of commons in replying to a question. General Gregorieff, the under-secretary said, was stated to be strongly anti-Jewish in his sympathies.

Has No Plans for His Future

Toronto.—Sir Thomas White, who is at his home in Toronto for a few days, stated that reports which have appeared and are appearing in the press, to the effect that he had been offered and accepted an executive position with some railway corporation or bank, or life insurance company, were entirely without foundation and were unfair to the men occupying the positions which have been mentioned. The minister stated that he had made no financial plans whatever for the future.

$35,000,000 for Six Airships

London.—Six rigid airships of an improved type, representing successive stages of development, are under construction for the British navy, it was disclosed in the House of Commons by Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty. These airships, he stated, would cost £7,000,000.

Hun Mob Releases Prisoners

Berlin.—A mob attacked the castle and the detention prison at Hanover and released all the prisoners in the buildings. The guards, it is said, surrendered their arms without resistance. Some fighting occurred between the crowds and government soldiers.

Britain Has Rivals Amongst Colonies

Preference Within the Empire Only Against Foreigners

London.—In the house of commons R. P. Houston, member for the West Toxeth division of Liverpool, asked why the South African government had recently placed in the United States orders for 44,000 tons of rails, 1,000 cars and 250 trucks, and in the U.S. and Canada orders for 70 large locomotives instead of in Great Britain, in view of the necessity of employment of the people here and of maintaining Britain's export trade.

Ho. L. C. S. Amery, under-secretary for the colonies, said some of these orders had been placed before the armistice had been signed, when it was impossible for Great Britain to supply railway material. British offers respecting the price and date of delivery of the 70 locomotives had been so unfavorable that South Africa had been obliged to go further afield. He was glad to say 40 of them had been ordered in Canada.

Mr. Amery continued that in view of Mr. Houston's question, which seemed doubtless to unintentionally imply that it was undesirable that the South African government should purchase material from Canada rather than Great Britain, he recalled that a policy on which the government of the empire were agreed was that of preference in contracts for produce and manufactures of the empire, and not merely of the United Kingdom.

Great Britain could not expect preference from other empire governments, except as against foreign countries. Mr. Amery said he understood the South African government actually had done its very best to place orders in Great Britain and had negotiated at length with manufacturers.

Reds Prepare To Evacuate Petrograd

Allied Powers Will See Kolchak Movement Carried Through

Washington.—Definite information that the Bolshevik authorities are planning to evacuate Petrograd has been received in official circles here. Decision to quit the capital was said to have been violently opposed by some elements of the government.

Paris.—Approval of a plan for a concerted attack upon Petrograd by Finnish forces and the troops of the Kolchak government at Omsk, was given by the council of five.

A joint note has been sent the military attaches of Great Britain, France, United States and Italy at Helsingfors, instructing them to support the Finnish government, if it decided to accede to the request of Admiral Kolchak to assist him in the campaign.

There is no indication that the allied and associated powers propose to go further at the time in helping Kolchak's plan, but their action in supporting the Finns is regarded as equivalent to assurances that they will see the Kolchak movement carried through.

Helsingfors.—It is reported that all foreign embassies, legations and consulates in Petrograd have been occupied by Bolsheviki forces. The archives have been seized, it is said, and those in charge have been arrested and handed over to an extraordinary committee dealing with charges of espionage against the soviet government.

"Black Watch"—The Best Black Plug Chewing Tobacco on the Market

Troops Overseas Now Total 32,000

London.—With the sailing of the Carmania July 5, with 2,954 troops, and the sailing of the Tunisian on the same day with 268 troops, 255,413 Canadians have been repatriated since the date of the armistice.

The number of Canadians overseas, both in the British Isles and France, is now approximately 32,000. This, of course, includes hospital staffs.

Urge Peace Quickly

Rome.—Premier Nitti, in a speech before parliament, urged that the peace negotiations be concluded, and that friendly relations with the allies, especially France, be maintained.

Facing Terrible Cost Through High Taxation

Berlin.—Germany is to quickly return to a peace time financial system, said Mathias Erzberger, vice-chancellor and minister of finance, speaking at Weimar before the German national assembly. Among other things, the payment of grants to men who are unemployed will be reduced, it was indicated during his address.

"The empire's needs must be divided henceforth between home needs and indemnities," he said.

"The burdens of taxation will reach an absolutely terrible height. A floating debt of 72,000,000,000 marks is a constant danger, and the removal of this debt is one of our most urgent tasks. There are two ways in which to do it—either its conversion into a funded loan, or its extinction by big levies and a heavy property tax. I do not indulge the hope that these two ways will immediately yield the entire liquid amount of 72,000,000,000 marks. It is the duty of conquered people not only to bow to a state of compulsion, but to achieve an inward conviction as to the necessity of giving up all riches and all that is superfluous.

"Changes in the system of taxation will be speedily submitted to the national assembly, and this reform will represent the completion of the whole work.

"The world has denied us international justice. All the more passionately and energetically, however, will we work for the home land again, and flourishing in justice, concentrate our care and endeavor upon the poor, but just German.

"One of the first requirements relative to the restoration of the life of labor is the establishment of orderly finances. I will have nothing to do with suggestions for the annulment of war loans and a declaration of general bankruptcy. My highest aim is to administer justice in the entire taxation system. The income from capital must be taxed much more heavily than the income from work. An inheritance tax and a heavy tax levy on property will be the initial steps that will be taken. The empire's income must be increased nine hundred per cent., and that of individual states and communes one hundred per cent. Such enormous chages require fresh measures."

Failed To Get Knighthood

Charles Hannan Asserts He Got No Reward for Devising the Smoke Box Screen Defence

London.—Charles Hannan, the author, has issued the text of curious correspondence between himself and the government regarding his claim to be an inventor of smoke boxes against submarine attack.

Mr. Hannan claims his invention was adopted, but his stipulation that the reward should be a "good old-fashioned knighthood and pension equivalent," was ignored.

In February he was informed "it was not found possible to include your name in the present honors list, but whe the next one is prepared you shall again receive consideration."

However, no knighthood was forthcoming, and Mr. Hannan now presents the correspondence to the public.

Many Labor Candidates

Labor Party In Winnipeg Will Try for Victory at the Polls

Winnipeg.—At a largely attended meeting of the Labor party, over which S. J. Farmer presided, it was decided to nominate candidates for every seat in Winnipeg and the territory immediately surrounding the city for the Dominion parliament and the provincial legislature, also to nominate candidates for the mayoralty and every seat on the city council and on the public school board.

A convention is being arranged for August.

Minimum Wage for Office Help

Winnipeg.—The work of the Manitoba minimum wage board is being brought to a close so far as the fixing of minimum wages is concerned, with the announcement of a proposed minimum wage of $12.50 per week to women in offices, and $12 to female help in theatres.

It has covered approximately 6,000 women in industry in Winnipeg, and has affected about forty industries. Dr. W. J. McMillan, chairman, sent in his resignation to the government, and it has been accepted.

C. F. HAYES, Editor and Owner

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, JULY 18

More Water

An authoritative statement that, despite about the dryest season the grower has yet experisnced, the Valley will this year ship about 3000 crates more strawberries than were exported in 1918, should convince that not only is irrigation worth while in ensuring a good yield of this sort of fruit, but that at the price berries are like to fetch for the next couple of seasons irrigation is an undertaking that will pay for ittelf the year of installation, and leave the grower a surplus on the season's operations as well. This year, particularly, this fact has so generally been demonstrated that discussion of the matter is a useless waste of energy. But if the unfortunate plight of the non-irrigating berry grower—whose number is like to be swelled by those in other lines should rain not make its appearance forthwith—is to be turned to good account those interested, either personally or through the representative organizations to which they belong, must act at once. Our information is that the survey of the Arrow Creek system could be completed in about three days, after which the preparation of a report, including the possible cost, is only a matter of office routine as it were. Sufficient pressure on the authorities at Victoria via the local member will ensure that report at a very early date. Surely the community is not too busy losing money to take long enough off to start something that will provide against such an unfortunate contingency? Gentlemen of the Farmeas' Institute, what is your pleasure?

Stamp the Boxes

The attention of fruit shippers is called to the fact that the Fruits Marks Act very explicitly provides that all packages shipped must show the name of the grower in letters not less than three-quarters of an inch in size, and this must be stamped on the box, either by the printing process or the old reliable rubber stamp. In no case does writing it on with a pen or pencil of any sort meet the requirements of the act, and inspectors at prairie points are already demanding that this little detail be strictly attended to at the shipping poine. Under the circumstances the local inspector has no option in the matter, and in self-defence will have to resort to magistrate's court proceedings if stamps are not put into use in every case. The cost of such a stamp is about six bits, and when one considers the convenience of them in view of the quantity of stuff most every rancher is shipping it is hard to realize they are not everywhere in use. THE REVIEW is asked to call attention to this and it would be well for any who are getting along without the rubber stamp to immediately procure one and avoid sure and certain trouble.

Auto Loading

Creston isn't the only place an auto loading platform is a necessity. While one is required here, the need for one at Sirdar is equally urgent—along with the extension of the government road at that point to connect up with the aforesaid required loading structure. Right now, rather than pay the freight charges on cars from Nelson to Creseon, or even Wynndel, and somtimes due to the fact that tourists are misinformed, automobiles are being taken off flat cars at Sirdar and the only way for them to continue the trip east is to take the C.P.R. track for it to the crossing at the Wiles ranch, a distance of about six miles, where the government road can be got on to.

Autoists using the C.P.R. track for it do so absolutely in the dark as to the movement of the trains either way, as the railway officials there are not encouraging this sort of recklessness. The works depaatment should give this matter immediate attention, as with the ever increasing auto traffic the chance for a fatal accident grows greater every day. With the opening up of the short stretch of road required the C.P.R. is not likely to be slow in providirg the loading facilities required.

A Needed Association

The formation of the Creston Valley Stockbreeders' Association, and the brisk and business like way those holding office in it are tackling the problems that face them immediately, is a very hopeful sign—and in more directions than one.

The entrusting to the association of the pasture lands in all the area between Sirdar and Yahk, with all the authority vested in the provincial government to enforce conformation to the rules and regulations that the association may see fit to promulagate both to conserve as well as to develop grazing areas, is certainly a wise move on the part of the authorities at Victoria, as well as one that should ensure the maximum of development of the cattle industry along safe and sane lines, and at the minimum of expense to all concerned.

If one recalls the men who have been elected as officers and members of the executive it is at once apparent that a very representative group of citizens have been selected, as well as men who are very heavily interested in the industry as we have it in the Valley. Naturally their endeavors will be to lay down regulations that will be in their own best interests, and as their interests are exactly the same as every other cattleman's it necessarily follows that they are not likely to undertake any fool ideas either as to expenditures or other features of the work they have in hand.

The coming into existence of the association at this time is most fortunate. This year, particularly, the Valley has been looked over by men desirous of locating were it possible to run even a few head of stock successsully. Under conditions that they have obtained the Valley has reached a point where the situation must be altered or smaller rather than increased herds developed.

To the Stockbreeders' Association has been delegated all the necessary authority to greatly increase the cattle industry in the Valley, [illegible] the wholehearted support of the rancher in every direction, as well as a reasonably generous financial backing that will enable it to considerably increase the hay-cutting area on the flats, as well as to ensure proper care of the cattle when herding is undertaken on the considerable stretch of range placed at its disposal. THE REVIEW has every confidence in the men who have been placed in charge to work out policy of the greatest good to the greatesc number as affecting individuals, as well as evolving plans that will give the district considerably more as well as better livestock.

Wise and Otherwise

The Creston Review claims that Jim Schofield is the champion hand-shaker in B.C., and not John Keen, as The Ledge stated some time ago. Probably Jim is a grip or two greater than John, but then he is not nearly as old. The writer is still possitive that no man in the political world of Canada as old in years can equal John Keen, when it comes to shaking hands, kissing babies, or talking in a vigorous and pronounced manner. — Greenwood Ledge.

Synopsis of Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown Grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

PRE-EMPTORS' FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from for one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enlistment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LANDS.

Provision made for issuance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfilment of conditions of purchase, interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING.

Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged; priority for established owners. Stock-owners may form Associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits [illegible]

Still More Books

Another half-dozen volumes have just been added to the Women's Institute library, which moves the total up to 162 books. Here are the latest:

Lorna Doone.
The Money Moon.
The Master Violin.
The Secret Garden.

Desert Gold.

These are the first instalment of many the librarian hopes to be able to purchase from time to time as funds permit, but there is still plenty of room en the shelves for donated books which will be thankfully received.

Yesterday still another batch of five donated books came to hand, boosting the grand total to 167. The newcomers are as follows:

Ann Veronica.
Anthony Wilding.
Full Swing.
His Official Fiancee.
My Son Richard.

In the Kaslo section the fire warden is fighting fires with a small portable gasoline engine that two men can carry around, and which will throw a stream a matter of eighty feet. Where a stream of water is handy it is certainly a great fire stopper.

The Consolidated peoples state that they have perefected a system whereby they can handle the ores from Rossland mines at a profit and are hoping to get it working shortly. Its operation will mean the salvation of Rossland, which at the present is but a shadow of its old time self.

NEWS OF KOOTENAYS

At Kaslo the cherry crop this year will be little more than sufficient to supply the local demand.

The June drop in many of the pear and apple orchards in the Okanagan is so heavy that very little hand thinning will be needed.

Vernon ladies had a field day of sports for the hospital in that town early this month, when over $1400 was made for the good cause.

At Yahk Ben Riley is adding eighteen bedrooms, barber shop, poolroom, sample room and laundry to his already quite commodious hotel.

The Salvation Army is putting on a drive to secure funds for its finish-up war work. Revelstoke is asked for $500 and Grand Forks for $450.

The smelter at Trail may install a rolling mill for the purpose of manufacturing their stock of copper into wire, and other finished products.

If St. Mary's prairie at Cranbrook could be got under irrigation the soldier settlement board will recommend it as a desirable farming area for returned men.

The R.N.W.M.P. last week bought 42 horses in the Boundary and Similkameen country for shipment to points in Alberta where the mounties are stationed.

If Rossland property owners will stand a fair share of the additional cost the council in that town will replace the worn out plank sidewalks with cement walks.

Cranbrook is sending a lady delegate to the big national Liberal convention at Ottawa next month. She is Mrs. F. B. Miles. Charlie McNabb of Waldo will be the Fernie delegate.

The buildings fitted up at Revelstoke for soldier demobilization purposes are being dismantled. While they were in use it is estimated 900 soldiers got their discharegs at that point.

In the supplementary estimates just brought down at Ottawa a matter of $15,000 is shown for the erection of new wharves at West Kootenay points, Boswell getting $6500 of this.

Only some 200 out of 15,000 fish spawn survived a recent trip from New Westminster to Penticton, due probably to not being able to stand the high altitude attained for part of the trip.

Harry Kembell, who attends school at Slaterville, a Cranbrook suburb, claims a school attendance of four years during which he never missed a day's school, nor was he ever late on a single occasion.

Crawford Bay has a unique and inexpensive soldiers' memorial. An oak tree has just been planted on the Kidman ranch, and when it is big enough a brass tablet showing the names of the local recruits will be attached to the tree.

80 per cent. of the entire fruit crop at Grand Forks has been bought by the Occidental Canning Co. of Kelowna. They have made a stated price for apples delivered at the warehouse in town—the Occidental to do the grading, packing and shipping. They have taken over the warehouses of both selling agencies.

Seasonable Wearables

These are mostly for the ladies, with a few attractive offerings for the girls and the boys.

It had never occurred to him that there might be a double reason for this, one being the wholesomeness of his open, boyish face, and the other the fact that they regarded him and his shoehorn in precisely the same impersonal light. No doubt they also felt instinctively that he would be every bit as nice if, after taking down a dozen boxes from the shelves and having made several pilgrimages to the reserve stock in the cellar, they might come to decide that their needs could not be satisfactorily supplied.

So far as his immediate forbears were concerned, Ruggles had really no legitimate quarrel with his place in the world. His father had made shoes, or parts of shoes, all his life, for many years as an operative in a manufacturing concern from which the Walkeasy had partially sprung. It was there that he met Ruggles's mother, a pretty Irish girl and also one of the factory force. Ruggles, senior, had been with the Walkeasy Company as foreman ever since its incorporation, and being of an inventive mind, he had evolved some highly valuable machines for stretching and stitching calfskin. Any one of the older Ruggles's inventions, if properly handled, might have brought him a small fortune. As it was, they had been appropriated by the company, which in compensation had slightly increased his salary, but had paid him no royalties. Unfortunately, Ruggles, while a clever inventor, had been a poor business man, and when he had died suddenly of pneumonia, it had been found that his savings were all invested in worthless paper. Ruggles, junior, was [illegible] when he was twelve years old.

So Ruggles, senior, had been left [illegible] grading school, and, following the family instinct, had gone [illegible] the factory and afterwards into the retail service of the company. [illegible] at this time full of ambitious dreams, for it had been hinted to him that if his success in selling shoes were to [illegible] on the same high plane he might before long be promoted to the management of a new retail shop which there was some talk of opening in Vienna.

Ruggles, senior, had died [illegible] in the belief that he was really and sincerely good at the great industrial machine of which he was so small a working part. [illegible] Ruggles, junior, [illegible] fit into the Walkeasy organization [illegible]

the trade of Europe and beat it on its own ground. The splendidly equipped retail shops in Paris and London and other cities suggested, in a way, the powerful outposts of an invading army, carrying as they did the American ensign far and wide and compelling admiration for American enterprize and commercial daring. Ruggles had lofty visions of the day to come when, these outposts pushing farther and farther into the East, the sun would never set on the flag of the Walkeasy Shoe Company; when, no matter what the hour, in some part of the world the doors of the company would be open to customers, whether in New York, Paris, Budapest, Bombay, Hong Kong, Sydney, Honolulu, San Francisco. And he, Ruggles, might be commandant of one of these depots, jealously guarding the interests of the great organization and defying the attacks of foreign trade rivals. It was an inspiring thought.

Of course he was still young for such a position, but he knew the business thoroughly and stood well with the company, and he felt that he had a certain claim to advancement, not only on account of his own faithfulness and devotion, but because of his father's efforts in its behalf. As a matter of fact, Ruggles, senior's, inventions had been of far greater commercial profit to the company than even the inventor had ever dreamed. A man of any business sense would have resigned his salaried position and found some means of producing his machines for the benefit of his own interests, requiring either the Walkeasy or some other shoe manufacturers to pay well for the products of his brain. Had he done so he might have got very rich and Ruggles, junior, might have been touring Europe in a high-powered car with no other aim or ambition than to have a thoroughly good time. Which proves that his situation was better for his parent's lack of initiative in a commercial sense.

The morning following Ruggles's adventure on the Marne passed in its usual well-ordered manner, and, the noon hour arriving, Monsieur Durand, the manager, went out for his dejeuner. In the absence of Durand, Ruggles, as senior salesman, was nominally in charge of the shop. There were others who had been longer in the Paris store than he, but he ranked all but Durand in seniority of service with the company. In a general way the organization of the Walkeasy Shoe Company was based on the principles of a military service, which, however, did not prevent a more efficient employee from being promoted over the heads of his less capable seniors — which same may be said to hold true of any service, whether it be military, commercial, or of any other sort, and nobody can deny the justice thereof.

It was the slack hour, and Ruggles was looking out upon the traffic flowing up and down the boulevard when a big, heavy limousine of American make drew silently up to the curb, and from it there descended a handsome young giant with a fresh skin and the hall-mark of his nationality stamped most legibly upon him. Ruggles had a good look at him as he stepped down from the car, and his vigorous young heart went off with a whirr of a motor when the clutch is suddenly released with the gas turned on full. He recognized that strong, good-humored face with its heavy forehead, high-bridged nose, masterful jaw, and dark, deep-set eyes. At a single glance, it proclaimed the young man as Richard P. Downing, Jr., the [illegible] son of an illustrious father, which latter was none other than the president and principal stockholder of the Walkeasy Shoe Company of America.

Ruggles had no need to look again at that strong, rugged young old face. In his honest heart, Ruggles was a good deal of a hero-worshipper, and [illegible] father and son, were his most favored idols. He had followed with the keenest interest the career of Dick Downing at Yale, recalling [illegible] his numerous successes — which it must be admitted had been rather athletic and social than intellectual — and condoning his few failures [illegible]

[illegible] of those whom he had driven so hard to lead to victory. Dick had captained the football team, coached the crew, and won other athletic victories as opportunity offered. For he had been the good and clean-living trainer [illegible] allowed to interfere with the athletic glory of Yale.

This brilliant epoch at an end, Dick had buckled down to work like a sturdy colt which, after having kicked up its heels in the pasture for a term, is not too proud to throw its neck into the collar. He had started in to find out how shoes were made, and had helped to make them, working shoulder to shoulder with the operatives in the factory and swamping prejudice with the overflow of his big, kindly nature until he had undergone a sort of apotheosis and become the factory deity. This was not the result of handicraft alone. He had interested himself in the conditions of the employees and bettered those conditions with never so much as the faintest hint of patronage. Instead of devoting his attention to the perfection of labor-saving devices, he had devised means for the saving of labor as represented in his toiling fellow men and women, and the result had proved more profitable than the invention of soulless machines could possibly have been. It must be admitted, however, that the profits had not accrued solely to the company. Several thousands of human beings who worked for the company had been likewise benefited.

But Ruggles's adoration of this demigod was not based solely on such impersonal tenets as these. While employed in one of the New York retail stores, he had one day come into personal relations with Dick Downing, who had dropped in to buy a pair of shoes. Ruggles, who had waited on him, had been shocked to observe that he was shod in footwear of an alien brand. Worse than that, they were the shoes of a sharp business rival. He alone of all the people in the shop had penetrated Dick Downing's incognito. Discovered thus in sin by the ingenuous Ruggles, Dick had laughed.

"The proof of the pudding's in the eating, old chap," he had said to Ruggles. "Don't give me away. I wanted to satisfy myself how they compared with ours. They're punk!" And he had paid his bill, shaken Ruggles warmly by the hand, and departed, with nobody in the place the wiser.

But now, as he stood quivering at the door, an even greater shock was in store for Ruggles. Dick, having descended, turned and held out his hand to assist a lady to alight, and as Ruggles stared, fascinated, he saw that this transcendent vision of loveliness was the pulsating original of the portraits tacked about the walls of his little Passy abode. It was actually Ruth Downing, the only daughter of Richard P. Downing and the sister of Dick. Ruggles had a sensation as of a great many small white mice scrambling up his spine.

But in spite of this Olympian invasion, he did not lose his head. Everything was in order for the visitation of the heaven-born, and Ruggles was conscious of a soul-searching exultation that the honors of the reception were to devolve upon him and not upon Durand. The much bebuttoned boy whose duty it was to tend the door had scampered off to lunch, so Ruggles opened the doors and waited.

The two Olympians did not immediately enter. They paused to examine the display of samples in the window, and, so far as Ruggles could ascertain, seemed pleased with the exposition.

"Very latest models," he heard Dick say, as he bent his Jovian brows on the display. "Good a show as I've seen in any of our shops, at home or over here."

Then they came in, those shining ones, and it seemed to Ruggles that they shed a glow. Perhaps they did, for it would have been hard to find their like in a search through many cities; the young man strong, dominant, and kindly, with the features and body of a youthful Vulcan; the girl sweet and thoughtful of face, with very dark, examining blue eyes, a Grecian nose, the classic purity of which was made seductive by the suggestion of an upward tilt, a full-lipped, mirthful mouth, set not precisely in the horizontal line, and a chin like her brother's, though without the cleft—or, at least, with no more than a suspicion of it.

Heart Palpitated

Could Count Every Beat

When the heart begins to palpitate it will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over your whole system, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells.

When the heart gets into this condition, you become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social, business or household duties.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief to all sufferers from any heart weakness or nerve derangements.

Mrs. Walter Greives, Apsley, Ont., writes: "I had been run down, and doctors told me I was anaemic, but did not help me with their medicines. I could not sleep nights, my heart palpitated so, and I could count every beat.

I used to have such dizzy spells I would have to go to bed. I was not able to do any work for eight months. A cousin of mine had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and told me what they had done for her. I took eight boxes of them, and now I am able to help every day with the work. I am so thankful to tell others what they have done for me, so that they may try this great and wonderful remedy. I hope this may prove good to someone who is suffering the way I did."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Hurrah! How's This

Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You simply apply a few drops of freezone on a tender, aching corn and soreess is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

This dope is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

Over Sea And Back In A Day

Speedy Air Voyages Forecasted By Lieut.-Commander Read

New York.—That within three years, with the interest and co-operation in aviation which prevailed during the war, it will have become the custom to travel to Europe by airship and not at all uncommon to go over in the morning and return in the afternoon, was forecasted by Lieut.-Commander Albert C. Read, of the NC-4, at a dinner given in honor of him, Commander John T. Towers of the NC-3, Lieutenant-Commander N. L. Bellinger of the NC-1, and their crews, by the American Flying Club at the Hotel Commodore.

Commander Read told of the enthusiasm for flying which he found in England and France, and expressed his astonishment to find such a lack of general feeling toward aviation on his return to the United States.

Krupps Appeal To Workers

By Strikes Important Orders Have Been Lost

Essen, Germany.—Krupp's works have had issued a statement to their workers, drawing attention to the fact that by their strikes and the consequent unrest in Germany important orders have been lost. A case has been cited of a contract with a great Dutch concern, which was lost and went to England, despite the much lower price quoted by Germany, because the Dutch mistrusted the ability of Krupp's to carry out the contract. Similarly, steel deliveries for the Norwegian state railway were given to an American firm, this also at a far higher price.

Saskatchewan contributed $21,336, or a little more than one-half of the whole amount subscribed in Canada, on account of the agricultural relief of the allies fund, according to figures received from the deputy minister of agriculture at Ottawa.

It is impossible to buy a friend that is worth the price.

Huge Vote For Building Ships

Thousands of Dollars Voted for Public Works All Over the Dominion

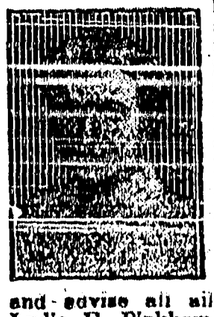
Ottawa.—In the House of Commons, the Minister of Finance, Sir Thomas White, tabled supplementary estimates totalling $36,723,120, which will be voted by Parliament before prorogation. The chief item is one of $10,000,000 for the construction of vessels in accordance with the government's shipping program. Many thousands of dollars are voted for public works all over the Dominion, and also for harbor and river improvements, including $500,000 for a new dry dock at Esquimalt, British Columbia, and harbor improvements at Port Arthur and Fort William, Ontario, as well as at Toronto, Quebec, and St. John, New Brunswick. Of the amount to be voted $23,494.256 is chargeable to current revenues, and the remainder to capital account.

Probably no man ever wanted the earth more than the one who is making his first trip across the pond.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

May be Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — This Letter Proves It.

West Philadelphia, Pa.—"During the thirty years I have been married, I have been in bad health and had several attacks of nervous prostration until it seemed as if the organs in my whole body were worn out. I was finally persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made a well woman of me. I can now do all my housework and advise all ailing women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will guarantee they will derive great benefit from it."—Mrs. FRANK FITZGERALD, 25 N. 41st Street, West Philadelphia, Pa.



There are thousands of women everywhere in Mrs. Fitzgerald's condition, suffering from nervousness, backache, headaches, and other symptoms of a functional derangement. It was a grateful spirit for health restored which led her to write this letter so that other women may benefit from her experience and find health as she has done.

For suggestions in regard to your condition write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

Fight Pictures Unfit For Public

Columbus, O.—The Willard-Dempsey fight pictures may never be seen in public. In Ohio at least, they will not be placed on exhibition. The Ohio censor board officially rejected the pictures as being unfit to be exhibited in public. The probability of the pictures being shown in other states is believed to depend on what construction is to be placed upon the Rodenberg Act, which prohibits prize fight pictures being handled in interstate commerce.

French Favored Cause Of Jews

Asked That Conditions of Absolute Equality Be Granted Jews In New or Enlarged States

Paris.—M. Pichon, foreign minister, replying to a communication from members of the chamber of deputies asking information as to the attitude of France in the peace conference with regard to the Jews of Poland, Rumania and other countries, declares that, from the beginning of the conference, the French government endeavored to secure consideration of the Jewish question and had asked that conditions of absolute equality be granted Jews in new or enlarged states. These efforts, M. Pichon says, resulted in the treaty already signed by Poland guaranteeing complete liberty and equality to Jews in political and religious matters.

A Sure Corrective of Flatulency.—When the undigested food lies in the stomach it throws off gases, causing pains and oppression in the stomachic region. GIRLS! LEMON JUICE IS A SKIN WHITENER

How to Make a Creamy Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands.

An Open Verdict

No Proof That Police Fired Fatal Shot in Winnipeg

Winnipeg.—That Mike Sokolowski came to his death during a riot on Saturday, June 21, as the result of receiving a bullet wound through the heart, fired by some person unknown, was the verdict of the coroner's jury sitting on the case. The verdict added that the evidence showed that a number of shots were fired by rioters and there was nothing to indicate that the shot which killed Sokolowski was fired by the police.

Central Part of Ancient Capital Was to Be Attacked By Bombs

Rome.—An anarchist plot to attack the central part of Rome by means of hand grenades and other explosives has been exposed by the arrest of sixteen of the conspirators four hours before the time fixed for carrying out their plans.

About the same time thirty anarchists motored to Fort Partalata, four miles from Rome, and tried to induce the garrison to join in an attack in the Rome market place. The soldiers fired on the anarchists and seized several of them. The others fled. The city remains tranquil.

President Wilson Favors Trial

Stated That He Agrees With Decision to Try Ex-Kaiser in London

Paris.—The question of the trial of former Emperor William was on the program for discussion by the Council of Three for several days while President Wilson was still in Paris, Reuter's Paris bureau declares, in an article regarding recent statements by the members of the United States peace mission that Premier Lloyd George's statement on the subject in the House of Commons had come as a surprise to them.

Reuter's, which says its information comes from authoritative conference sources, adds, however, that because of more urgent business coming up, the discussion of the question by the council was postponed. Nevertheless, the agency declares, it is known that President Wilson had expressed himself strongly as to the place for the holding of the trial, and it asserts that there is every reason to believe he was fully cognizant of the decisions to try the ex-emperor in London.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red hot days and sweltering nights, is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentry, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The King And The Sailor

Jean Bart Was as Ready to Defy Etiquette as to Brave the Atlantic Gales

It was in the Palace of Versailles that Jean Bart, the noted privateer captain, was presented to the French King whom he had served so valiantly. He was the roughest of sea-dogs and as ready to defy eitquette as to brave the Atlantic gales. Jean got tired of waiting for the King, and, to the horror of the courtiers, pulled out his pipe and lighted up. Then the King came in, and, not knowing what else to do, told the gallant skipper that he might go on smoking. Then:

"Jean Bart," said His Majesty, "I have just promoted you to the rank of Commodore."

"Sire," replied Jean Bart, "you have done the proper thing."

Saturday Shipments of Fruit

Practically all shipments of Fruit made out of Creston on Saturday are not used until Monday morning. Most close-in buyers refuse to accept shipments which arrive at destination on Sunday, and this means that the only places left to which we can ship on Saturday are points beyond Medicine Hat and Calgary. This season there is no train north out of Calgary on Sundgy, so that Saturday shipments must go east. Ranchers are advised to cut down Saturday shipments to the lowest possible minimum, and avoid losses which are bound to occur if Saskatchewan markets are overloaded with l.c.l. Raspberries once each week.

Former Creston Girls Are Praised

To those of our readers who can recall Creston of half a dozen years ago—and that includes most everyone—the following article from Vancouver Daily Province will be of particular interest. The two ladies who form the the subject of the sketch during their three-year residence here made numerous friends all of whom will be gratified at hearing the splendid service so splendidly rendered by these two former citizens. The article follows:

Friends of the sisters, Mona and Ursula, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Primrose Wells of Victoria, say there were no two braver subjects of the Empire during the war than these sisters, who for four years worked in the danger room of Woolwich arsenal making munitions. Many others worked in this room, but few stayed long. Some died from accident or illness, and numbers broke down under the strain, but the Misses Wells "carried on" until the end, and have but recently returned to Canada. Besides daily explosions in some part of the factory they were in every air raid and their extraordinary pluck and endurance would be hard to excel. They have come through their trying experiences without showing any indication of nervous strain.

The sisters were the first two women to enter the danger room at Woolich arsenal when the call came for volunteers in November, 1915, and they remained after the signing of the armistice, until January, 1919. For a while there were twelve women in the danger room and these were later increased to about 1500—a remarkable tribute to woman's efficiency in delicate and dangerous occupations. The work comprised the filling of cartridges and incendiary bullets used by aircraft, and all labored a 12-hour day, from 7 a.m. Both sisters were over-supervisors, one taking charge of the girls from a welfare standpoint, and the other overseeing the efficiency of their work. When there was an accident it was Miss Wells who rendered first aid and rushed the patient off to the ambulance while, in the air raid, both sisters led the organized process[illegible] that evacuated the building. At first the workers used to remain in the arsenal with lights out, but later it was found safer to leave. There were [illegible] number of serious accidents the Misses Wells admit, but not so many considering the nature of the work. There were about thirty-six workshops doing different branches of the work at Woolich, and it was in one of these that the terrible accident when a Miss Peters had her eyesight completely destroyed occurred.

The girls are living with their parents at Burnside, near Victoria. They are clear-skinned, athletic young women and are seriously thinking of going on the land as their future career.
