THE CRESTON REVIEW

VOL. XI. CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1919 No. 31

Lister

Since the first of the month three more married men have brought in their better halves and from all reports the ladies are just as keenly enthusiastic over their new location as the men folk. Two of the newcomers are Mrs. R. B. Crandall and daughter, and Mrs. R. Stevens and young son. There are at least four others away to bring their wives back with them.

All told there are now sixteen married men in the camp for whom the temporary small cottages have been provided. At present these are all located convenient to the camp site so as to be handy the store and water supply at the camp centre.

M. W. Nelems, chairman of the land settlement board and Cols. Davies and Latta, two of the other directors, along with C. R. Ward, the local director, were here on an inspection visit on Friday and Saturday. Mr. Nelems spoke in the highest terms of the splendid and solid progress the camp had made in the short time it had been open.

Just at present Vinc. Liddicoat and his corps of three carpenters are at Creston, where they are lending a helping hand on the erection of the new main building at the fall fair grounds, to make sure of it being ready for fair day, about two weeks hence.

To illustrate how things are progressing, we mention that on Tuesday the men working at clearing operations were nicely started on the thirtieth farm, the other twenty-nine having been given a very thorough rough clearing.

Mr. Frampton is the first to move in to his permanent home. His location is right adjoining the camp headquorters and the carpenters have completed his five-room residence for him. This is the second of the larger-size houses to be finished, S. Coop having moved into the other about two weeks ago.

Burning on the cleared area started this week. The logs and brush on a couple of hundred acrees on toe main road between Canyon and the Rodgers farm having the torch applied to them on Tuesday.

Sirdar

Sirdar school re-opened on Wednesday, with Mr. Ernest Brewis of Vancouver in charge. He arrived on the noon train that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Cam were visiting with Nelson friends a few days the latter part of the week.

Since the miners have gone back to work at points in the Pass the westbound freight traffic is considerably heavier, unusually large quantities of coke going through these days.

The Kuskanook was on the Nelson-Landing run several days last week, the Nasookin being laid up for repairs due to a mishap to the big propeller wheel in the storm one night last week.

Mrs. Loasby was a visitor with Creston friends a few days last week, returning on Friday.

Rev. J. S. Mahood will be here for service in the schoolhouse on Sunday night. It is hoped there will be a good turnout to ensure the continuance of these once in three weeks Sunday visits.

The wet weather of the past week almost has slowed down haying operations at Lewis Island and other points part of the Lewis crew going to Creston to await better weather.

Mrs. North was a visitor with Creston friends between trains on Saturday. If the stuff is available at that time the North ranch will likely go after some of the fruit and vegetable prizes at Creston fair at the end of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dennes were Spokane visitors a few days last week, guests of the former's parents.

Getting married must be a young man's job is the observation Mayor Daly makes after encountering steward Conway, who is just home from his wedding tour, looking about as happy as the Jew in Glasgow who can't make enough out of his Scotch customers to get out of the city even for a week-end.

Messrs. Tuohey and McDiarmid enjoyed life at the metropolis between trains on Wednesday, doing some repair work on a bad order car that had been set out at Creston.

Dr. Henderson has justbeen notified from Ottawa of his appointment by the department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment as Medical Representative, whose duties are to attend to all Returned Men who require medical attention. This attention being given free to men who may be taken ill any time within one year of discharge whether the cause be from War service or not, and to men who are suffering a recurrence of disability caused by War service, at any time.

You Can Save Eggs

in your baking by using

DR. PRICE'S CREAM Baking Powder

In many recipes only half as many eggs are required, in some none at all, if an additional quantity of Dr. Price's Baking Powder is used—about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

Try this method with all your baking recipes. Thousands of women are using it with great success.

Success of Fair Hinges on Entries

Everything that the fall fair officers and directors can undertake to ensure this year's exhibition being in every worthy of the Valley is being carefully looked after.

A new main building of commodious proportions will be available as well as accommodation for the more comfortoble and advantageous exhibiting of live stock and poultry.

To ensure that the day will pass pleasantly a good line of sports will be run off during the afternoon, including a championship baseball match. From present appearances there will be two bands to furnish music, in addition to that supplied by the two or three musical instrument agencies that will have displays in the hall.

The Women's Institute is arranging to have booths convenieutly located so that all seasonable refreshments, as well as meals, may be readily procured at reasonable charges.

Insofar as providing entertainment in every line fair day is amply provided for. But one thing remains to make the exhibition a thorough all round success; that is a showing of the products of the district in each of the fifteen classes in which prizes are awarded worthy of the Valley and its citizens.

In fruits and vegetables a bigger and better display isessential to reassure, if need be, even our own people that even in the dryest of years this country can produce both in quantity and quality.

A good showing of horses and cattle as well as poultry seem assured. The poultrymen should be particularly prominent. No better opportunity will be afforded them to display their birds and wise newcomers and others up to the fact that poultry of quality can be had right at home.

What is particularly wanted is an overflow exhibit in all the sections of the ladies' classes. Last year's exhibibion was lacking in these departments, particularly the cooking and fancy work. What is wanted is a display of culinary products similar to that in evidence at the 1917 Women's Institute fair, as well as an even better display in the needlework line.

The ladies are particularly appealed to make sure that their feature af the fair is above standard. If they will do their part it now seems certain that the 1919 exhibition will be a grand one.

To encourage a little extra effort on the part of all let none forget that this year will have a considerable delegation from outside points to see what the Valley can produce. A half-hearted display in any of the classes may create an impression that certainly should not be allowed to exist. These people from Nelson should not be allowed to go away with the idea that the fair does not at least equal theirs.

But most important of all in the call for a banner display is the need to demonstrate to our newcome soldier settlers at Lister and elsewhere that we can produce the field and orchard and household products in quantity and quality equal to the very best. This will be their first opportunity to get an all round look at what the Valley is capable of. And first impressions are all too often the most lasting.

Get your prize list and entry form at the postoffice to-day. The entries must all be in by Saturday next. No list of entries too small to receive courteous attention, and none too large to handle. 'Nuf sed.

Erickson

Erickson lost one of its older citizens in the passing of Mrs. Margaret Staples, who died suddenly of heart failure at her home here on Tuesday afternoon, at the age of 72 years. Deceased was the widow of the late Richard H. Staples, who predeceased her almost four years. The funeral was on Wednesday to Cseston cemetery, Rev. G. H. Hamilton taking the services. The late Mrs. Staples had resided in the Valley since 1911, when the family moved here from Treherne, Man. Two sons, Roy and Frank, both living in the Valley, survive, and to them is extended sincere sympathy in their bereavement. The many out to pay their last respects and the numerous floral tributes bespoke the late Mrs. Staples' popularity. The pallbearers were all Erickson citizens, Messrs. R. J. Long, J. Fraser, Geo. Cartwright, W. W. Hall, H. Telford, and M. R. Palmer.

Alice Siding

W. H. Farrell and son, Browell, were visitors at Cranbrook a couple of days the early part of the week.

Miss Alice Carr, who has been at Balfour for the past three months, returned home last week, for the apple packing season.

Mrs. Dugson, recently from the Old Country, who is now making her home at Cranbrook, is here on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Simister, the former being her uncle.

A showery week-end and the unsettled weather conditions the fore part of the week has brought out the haymaking crews in full strength, and certainly all and sundry are making hay these days while the sun shines.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews were passengers west on Monday—Mrs. Matthews to reside in Nelson, while Andy is returning to work at Birchbank.

Back taxes have been coming in so liberally of late that we hear sufficient funds have accumulated to make the trustees feel safe in going ahead with some improvements—such as fencing—at the school grounds this fall.

Rose & Watcher are quite convinced that troubles never come singly. Early in the summer they lost one of their fine dairy cows; not over a month ago a yearling steer died from blackleg, while on Tuesday the worst luck of all befell when one of their matched span of ponies died.

Wives and Mothers Need Not Have Sore Backaches

Constantly on their feet, attending to the wants of a large and exacting family, women often break down with nervous exhaustion.

In the stores, factories, and on a farm are weak, ailing women, dragged down with torturing backache and bearing down pains.

Such suffering isn't natural, but it's dangerous, because due to diseased kidneys.

The dizziness, insomnia and other symptoms of Kidney complaint can't cure themselves, they require the assistance of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which go direct to the seat of the trouble.

To give vitality and power to the kidneys, to lend aid to the bladder and liver, to free the blood of poisons, probably there is no remedy so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. For all womanly irregularities their merit is well known.

Because of their mild, soothing and healing effect, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are safe, and are recommended for girls and women of all ages; 25c per box at all dealers. Refuse any substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Filling His Own Shoes

"You don't understand yet, Miss Challand. Nowadays, if a young fellow wants to get ahead in a big business, he's got to start at the very bottom of the ladder and work up step by step; that is, unless he's got a pull with the concern and a place all made for him. Even then, the chances are that all he has to do is to draw his pay and let somebody who knows the business do the work for him. But that ain't real business, and the Walkeasy Shoe Company don't run theirs that way. They give the best job to the man that's best fitted for it and pay him what he's worth. Why, do you know that the son of the president of our company"—Ruggle's voice was slightly moderated at the mention of the president, as though he had been a lay brother speaking of the grand master of his order—"worked in the factory, just as I did? He went to work at seven o'clock in the morning with his dinner pail, just like the rest of us. Say, when he was at Yale—the boy, I mean—his old man wanted to get a rise out of him—"

"A—what?" Miss Challand interrupted.

"His, our president, wanted to see if the boy was a piker—"

"A—what?"

"He wanted to see if he was the real thing," Ruggles explained. "He wanted to see if he was getting too [illegible] I mean, if he was good and strong for the concern that his father was the head of, and not [illegible] the like of that. The boy was playing on the team,—the football team, you understand—so his father sent one of our big New York delivery automobiles up to New Haven for the Princeton game. It's a great big shoe with a door in the heel and the trade-mark on the side. Well, believe me, that wagon was the talk of the day. Young Downing—that's our president's name—had the [illegible] full of rooters, and they rooted for Yale and the Walkeasy at the same time—"

"And do you mean they rooted?" asked Miss Challand, who was [illegible] by Ruggle's enthusiasm. "They were the team?"

"Sure, now. Then, [illegible]

"Yes, a college cheer. In the United States all the different colleges have their cheers. You see, they holler 'em all together, and believe me, Miss Challand, it sounds fine when several thousand people all cut loose at the same time. Young Dick Downing's bunch had a yell like this:

Walkeasy, talkeasy, rah-rah-rah—
Kick hard, lick hard, yah-yah-yah.

And then there was a song about the shoe on the foot of the leg of the man that kicked the goal, and, would you believe it, Dick Downing—he was captain of the team and playing full back—did kick a goal from the field and saved the game, and they say the crowd went crazy. It was a great day for Yale—and for the Walkeasy Company. I heard the advertising manager say that it was worth thousands to us—" Ruggles leaned forward and looked at Miss Challand with sparkling eyes. "That shows the sort of folks that are at the head of the business," said he.

Miss Challand listened as might one who tries to follow an interesting description in an unknown language. Not being by any means dull, she was impressed with the fact that there was something by no means paltry behind all of this ardor; something true and real which raised Ruggles's enthusiasm for his branch of trade above the level of mediocrity. She was bound to admit that he himself seemed far superior to such tradespeople as she had ever come in contact with. He seemed to take a real and personal pride in the business, as though the mere association invested him with some peculiar grace. Miss Challand felt rather dazed.

"You see," Ruggles went on, "Dick Downing is the real thing — the real American. He'd be just the same eating out of his dinner-pail in the factory with the stitching-room gang as he would at the training-table of the football team, or anywhere else; just the same nice fellow. The men he worked with in the factory all called him 'Dick,' and he liked it. That's the way we are in America. It doesn't make any difference that his father's a millionaire and a big swell into the bargain. Dick Downing ain't too good for any of us, nor his sister, either. Why, do you know they came into the store about three months ago, and you'd have thought we were old friends the way they treated me? And here he'll probably be our next president—"

"President of the United States?" exclaimed Miss Challand, for the reverential hush of Ruggles's tone as he mentioned this exalted office impressed her in spite of her bewilderment.

"No—president of the Walkeasy Shoe Company of America," said Ruggles. "And his sister, Ruth Downing, is just as fine as Dick. Say, she's a wonder, Miss Challand. I'll show you her pictures, some day. While I was trying on her shoes—"

"Trying—on—her—shoes!" gasped Miss Challand. "Do you try on — shoes?"

"Sure!" answered Ruggles. "That's my job—"

"And she gave you her pictures—after you had tried on her shoes?"

"Oh, no. I cut them out of weekly papers and pinned 'em up around my room. She's a beauty, and just as nice as she is pretty. While we were waiting for her brother she asked me if I was satisfied with my job and wanted to know why I didn't ask for something better—"

"Then, am I to understand that your present—er—job, as you call it, is waiting on the customers in the store—fitting them with shoes?"

"That's it," answered Ruggles stoutly. "But it's not going to be much longer. After what Ruth Downing said, I put in my application for the managership of a new store we're about to open in Vienna, and I've as good as got the job. I'm expecting to get orders to go out there any day."

Miss Challand stared at him stonily. Had Ruggles stated that he was [illegible] agent of the white slave [illegible] he hoped shortly to be given [illegible] of a disorderly establishment, [illegible] her face [illegible] more rapid lines.

"Why didn't you tell me of this before?" she demanded.

"Oh, I don't know, but it wasn't [illegible] I thought [illegible] I got my promotion." [illegible] that all of this time [illegible] have been going about the city [illegible] Miss Challand's voice was almost shrill.

"Well, why not?" Ruggles's clear eyes narrowed and his brows straightened.

Miss Challand had never seen such an expression on his face, and it excited her. So the man was an impostor—a mere clerk in a shoe-shop who had been masquerading as a gentleman, and so successfully as to have entered into terms of social equality and even intimacy with Darthea and herself! And now that her niece had found him out, he seemed disposed to be ugly about it, if facial expression was an indication of emotions within. Miss Challand's long neck grew rigid and her green eyes became the color of jade. But she realized that she had only herself to blame and must thank her own laxity for this most unpleasant and humiliating situation. However, the first thing was to get rid of Ruggles with as little fuss as possible.

"There is no use in trying to argue the matter," said she. "Our points of view in this respect are so different that we could never come to any understanding. No doubt in America the lines of social difference are very loosely drawn, but with us English it is quite different. The idea of my niece continuing her social relations with one in your position is quite impossible, Mr. Ruggles."

Ruggles leaned slightly forward, his expression one of mingled perplexity and resentment.

"What's the matter with my position, Miss Challand?" he asked. "And what's the matter with me? I've always been a hard worker, and I've always been steady. I've got no bad habits, and I always try to be polite and gentlemanly. There was never anything tough about me. Say, Miss Challand,"—his voice was almost pleading, — "what's the matter with me, anyhow? Some way I can't seem to dope it out. Where's the disgrace in selling shoes? A fellow has to work his way up, and I'm doing it as fast as a man can. The company is sort of like an army—you've got to go up rank by rank. Why, if I make good, I might be general manager some day—or even president of the company"—Ruggles gave free rein to his imagination for a brief second—"and that's just like being the general of an army, except that there's a lot more money in it. The business is a big one and laid out on good, sound lines. It ain't as if I was with some concern that took the people's money without delivering the goods. I've noticed that you wear our shoes yourself. Well, you get your money's worth, don't you? If we were flooding the market with rotten stock and trusting to all sorts of advertising tricks to sell it, that'd be different But we're not. We sell the best ready-made shoes in the world, and we sell 'em for a fair price. People have to wear shoes, just like they have to eat and drink, and it seems to me that the concern that gives them the best value for their money is doing a lot of good in he world, if you want to look at it that way. I wouldn't handle a poor article. I couldn't sell it. I've got my self-respect, just like anybody else, and I wouldn't lie about my goods, no matter what they paid me. If I've got anything to be ashamed of, I wish you'd tell me what it is."

Actors' Strike in New York

New York.—Two more theatres, the Casino and Liberty, were forced to close last night by a walk-out of stage hands and musicians, in sympathy with the striking Actors' Equity Association. This brings the total of New York's playhouses closed by the strike to 23, and leaves vaudeville houses almost supreme on Broadway. But three legitimate houses remain open, and two of these are not affiliated with the Producing Managers' Protective Association.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 7

PARABLES OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN

I. The Parable of the Mustard Seed (v. 31, 32).

Three things mainly occupy our attention in this parable:

1. Its unimportant beginning. It begins as the least of all seeds and grows to be the greatest among herbs. The king was of ordinary parentage and humble circumstances. He selected unlettered fishermen as his royal advisers. The prophet had said concerning him that he would be "despised," "rejected," "forsaken," "cut off" and as "having nothing."

2. Its vigorous growth. From these small beginnings Christ's influence has gone forth so that there is no power or influence equal in greatness to that of Christendom.

3. Its lodging capacity.

The birds which find lodgment in the tree do not represent the children of men who find safety and salvation in the church. The birds constitute no part of the tree, while the believer becomes a part of the tree, adding to its strength and fruitfulness. The birds are something foreign to the tree, and are burdensome and injurious to it. They come to find shelter and wait to pluck off the tender buds, or to prey upon the ripened fruit. The effect of their lodging in the tree is evil and blighting. In Christ's interpretation (v. 19) he said that the fowls represent the wicked ones. He who would make the lodgers here anything else makes Christ's interpretation a farce. The same Greek word is used in both cases, and the circumstances are the same.

II. The Parable of the Leavened Meal (v. 23).

Three things mainly occupy our attention here: the meal, the woman, and the leaven.

1. The meal. Meal has a wholesome and nutritious effect. It was used in one of the sweet-savor offerings which was typical of Christ (Lev. 2:1-3 R. V.); it was food for the priests (Lev. 6:15-17 R. V.); Abraham had Sarah to knead a cake out of three measures of meal for the angelic messengers of the Lord (Gen. 18:6); Solomon's royal table was provided with meal (I. Kings 4:2); Elijah was fed upon a cake made of meal (II. Kings 4:41); Elisha used meal as an antidote for the poison of death from the pot (II. Kings 4:38-41).

2. The woman. In scripture we find false doctrine being taught by woman (Rev. 2:20). Dealing with doctrine is forbidden to women (I. Tim. 2:12). In I. Tim. 4:13; II. Tim. 2:17, 18; II. Peter 2:1-3, we find that the apostasy will be brought in through false teaching within the ranks of God's people. The meaning, then, of the parable is that the true doctrine, the mean given for the nourishment of the children of the kingdom (II. Peter 2:2, 1. Tim. 4:6), will be officially corrupted by false doctrine. Woman is a type of the church in some sense. The church is hiding away false doctrine, and its corrupting effects are seen on every hand.

3. The leaven. In scripture leaven is invariably a type of evil. (1) All through the Old Testament leaven is a continual and unvarying type of evil (Ex. 12:15; Lev. 2:11). It is inconceivable that Jesus should arbitrarily change, without due notice and explanation, a word from an evil to a good sense, which the Spirit of God had so unchangingly used for two thousand years (2) Jesus himself makes leaven to denote sin (Matt. 16:6, 12; Mark 8:15). (3) Paul uses leaven in its usual biblical sense (I. Cor. 5:6-8; Gal. 5:8, 9). Further, this is the only interpretation that will harmonize with Christ's interpretation of he first two parables. Facts patent to all prove that the professed church today is feeding upon the leaven of formalism and legalism instead of the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth—the Word of God.

III. The Parable of the Hidden Treasure (v. 44).

IV. The Parable of the Merchantman Seeking Pearls (v. 45, 46).

V. The Parable of the Drag Net (v. 47 50).

(For a detailed study of the last three parables see the Review for September 23.)

Market For Horses Wanted

New Dominion Minister of Agriculture Outlines Some of His Ideas

Calgary.—Dr. F. S. Tolmie, new Dominion minister of agriculture; Hon. Arthur Meighen, minister of the interior; Hon. J. A. Calder, minister of immigration and colonization, were the chief speakers at a noonday luncheon of the Calgary board of trade. Hon. Charles Stewart, premier of Alberta, was present also.

One of the chief points pressed by Dr. Tolmie in his address was that more attention should be given to mixed farming and the cattle industry. He emphasized the necessity of paying more attention to the British market and also that across the Pacific. He dwelt at some length on the subject of improving breeds of cattle, and announced that the federal department of agriculture was preparing to give prizes for steers at fat stock shows.

Dr. Tolmie also related how the market for high-bred dairy cattle, especially Holsteins from Canada, was becoming constantly wider across the line.

The speaker referred to the importance of finding a market for light horses in Alberta. There was a market in Poland, where the horses and cattle had been stolen by the Germans, but the instability of the government there made it impossible to extend credit. The Americans had shipped in some 200,000 head, and there was need of another 100,000. There also was a need of such horses in Siberia.

He extended his sympathy and promised all the assistance in his power to the farmers in the drouth-stricken area of the west.

Hon. J. A. Calder recalled that he had been a resident of Alberta in 1894, 1895 and 1896, and prophesied a great future for that section of the Dominion, in spite of the drouth.

He said the ministers had come out to personally investigate the alarming reports of the drouth. He had been travelling in the Saskatchewan drouth areas and found the situation not so bad as reported; nevertheless, it must be met. Difficulties in the past had been overcome through the western spirit. We must endeavor, he said, to avoid a repetition of the situation. He thought something could be done. There were extensive areas in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan that could be irrigated. Wherever that was feasible, it must be done.

Referring to the big war debt of $1,950,000, he said that governments had got into the habit of spending during the war regardless of cost. This had got down to the individual citizen, but if we were to get over the hill we must get these extravagant ideas out of our heads. It was only by work and saving that we could win out. In his visit west, if there was one thing that had struck him, it was the extravagant expenditure on every hand in the cities. A knife must be put in to the hilt on all unnecessary expenditures, by the government and by individuals.

The railway policy of the country for the last ten years had also loaded the country staggeringly. There was only one way to solve these questions and that was to bring in as many people of the right class as it was possible to bring in.

Investigate Racing Situation

Ottawa.—The appointment of Dr. Rutherford to investigate the racing situation is favorably regarded by the racing interests, who look to him for what they regard as a square deal. The commissioner's report will be the basis of permanent legislation in the next session of parliament, and the enquiry implements a promise made by Sir Thomas White last session. It is predicted that racing will come back, but with limitation of tracks and a divvying up of receipts with the government.

Germans Still in Courland

Stockholm.—The German troops in Courland have not evacuated that country, according to reports from Helsingfors. On the contrary, they are preparing an offensive from there against the Bolshevik, and are bringing considerable bodies of Russian prisoners from Germany in order that they shall participate in the proposed attack.

Von Beulow On The War

Tells What He Knows About Who Started the Trouble

Berlin.—Prince Bernhard von Buelow, former German chancellor, has in a rather belated manner entered the list of those making reservations concerning the outbreak of war by writing a letter to the Fremdenblatt of Hamburg, regarding the statement made by Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, chancellor in 1914, that the declaration of war was inevitable. Prince von Buelow sketched his long years as chancellor, tells how he was unable to avoid war and admits that peace was desired by Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg, who, he says, however, "lacked political art."

"During the grave weeks before the war," writes Prince von Buelow, "serious diplomatic and political mistakes were made by Germany's political leaders which were unjustly ascribed to the people's responsibility."

Bolshevik Troops Murder Persians

London. — Details have reached here of the murder by Bolshevik of Ibadullabeg, the Persian consular agent at Armavir, Armenia, together with 310 Persian subjects, of whom 270 were Mohammedans and forty Christians.

When the volunteer army evacuated Armavir, July 27, according to the reports, the Bolshevik called Ibadullabeg out, shot him down and mutilated his body with swords and bayonets. The Bolshevik then herded together all the Persians who had taken shelter under the protection of the Persian flag, and shot them en masse with machine-guns and buried them, partly in the consular graveyard and partly in a common pit.

Monument In A School Yard

A Figure of Young Infantryman Done in Fine Granite

Looking out over grain fields and meadow in one of the best agricultural districts of Huron County, Ontario, is a figure of a young infantryman, done in fine granite. The figure surmounts a base, also of stone, and altogether it is a highly creditable art work. Inscribed on the base of the monument are the names of the young farmers of the district, who gave their lives in the nation's defense in the great war, and also those who enlisted, and those who were wounded. What makes the monument the more striking is the fact that it stands in the corner of a school yard. The three young men whose lives were sacrificed in the war were once scholars in the little white brick schoolhouse. They were the sons of farmers in the neighborhood. They played and studied and worked by turns. Their schoolmates, many of them, are still there. The homes from which they went, and in which there is a vacant chair, are representative homes.—London Free Press.

London.—The Ukrainia authorities declare that the Ukrainia national government has taken measures to prevent all attempts at persecution of Jews in territory occupied by its troops, according to advices received here.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that, while freezone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whittling at his corns, but clip this out and make him try it.

Money is called the circulating medium because it is difficult to circulate without it.

Worms, by the irritation that they cause in the stomach and intestines, deprive infants of the nourishment that they should derive from food, and mal-nutrition is the result. Miller's Worm Powders destroy worms and correct the morbid conditions in the stomach and bowels that are favorable to worms, so that the full nutriment of the child is assured and development in every way encouraged.

Provinces Get Share

Money Voted for Highway Construction to Be Divided

Ottawa.—A conference on the question of highway development was opened here in the office of J. A. Campbell, head of the highways branch of the department of railways.

The problem under discussion relates to the spending of the $20,000,000 voted for highway construction by the Dominion parliament last session. Under the provisions of the legislation adopted $80,000 is to be paid to each of the provinces in a lump sum, and the subsequent assistance will be on the basis of population.

Representatives of provincial highways departments present at the conference included A. McGillivray, of Manitoba; Mr. McLean, of the Ontario Highway Department, and Mr. Carpenter, of the Saskatchewan Highways Department.

Airman Decorated

Major G. H. Scott, Commander of R-34, Given Commandership of O.B.E.

London.—The decorations awarded in connection with the trans-Atlantic flight of the airship R-34 have been gazetted. Major G. H. Scott, commander of the dirigible, is given a commandership in the military division of the Order of the British Empire. Brigadier-General E. M. Maitland, who represented the British Air Ministry in the flight; Capt. G. H. Cook, the navigating officer; Lieut. Guy Harris, the meteorologist; and Lieut. John D. Shotter, engineer officer of the R-34, are awarded the Air Force Cross, and six sergeants who were aboard the airship are given Air Force medals.

Canadian Wounded Station Closed

Portland, Maine.—The transportation of wounded Canadian soldiers from Liverpool through this port to the various military districts in Canada has been completed, according to an announcement by Major Howard Jeffs, the medical officer in charge of the Canadian hospital clearing depot.

Major Jeffs said the transport Esequibo had been removed from the hospital service and that the Araguaya would make one trip to Halifax with 200 wounded men.

Everything he wants will come to the man who waits until he doesn't want anything.

VERY SIMPLE CURE FOR BAD COLDS

Let your cold gain headway and you can't keep it from running into Catarrh.

Catarrh never stays in the same place—it travels down into the lungs, then it's too late!

Drive colds and catarrh right out of your system while you have the chance.

Easily done by inhaling Catarrhozone, which instantly reaches the true source of the trouble, gets right where the living germs of catarrh are working.

Alleged Betrayer Of Edith Cavell

Georges Gaston Quien Will Appear Before Sixth Court-Martial of Paris

Paris. — Georges Gaston Quien, charged with having intercourse with the enemy, and alleged betrayer of Edith Cavell, will appear before the sixth court-martial of Paris. The prosecution claims that it will prove that after obtaining funds and help from the English nurse, Quien went to Holland and returned to Brussels as a German agent and betrayed her to the Germans.

The defence will ask for an indefinite postponement until such time "as the kaiser and other parties primarily responsible for the death of Miss Cavell are brought before an international tribunal."

Britain Will Establish Fair Prices

Practical Plan to Defeat Speculating Exporters in Necessities

London.—The board of trade, in explaining the profiteering law, indicates that there will be a central investigation by a central committee into the cost and profits of production and distribution of goods, also a local investigation by a committee subject to appeal to a tribunal into complaints of the general public concerning prices charged and profits made in the railway distribution of goods.

Local authorities have the option of establishing a local committee. All committees and tribunals established under the act will advise not to take action which will hamper or restrict legitimate commercial enterprise.

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, SEPT. 12

Canyon City

Rev. G.H Hamilton, the new Methodist pastor, will make his first appearance at Canyon on Sunday, Sept. 14th, he and Mrs. Hamilton arriving at Creston early in the week.

Mrs. Crosswell of Winnipeg, Man., is here at present on a visit to her brother, Mr. John Wood.

School inspector Calvert was here again on an official visit the fore part of the week, and after giving the matter of increased school accommodation his serious consideration since a previous visit he has decided that another teacher will have to be employed, and it is expected the church will be utilized for the extra room when the new teacher is secured.

Road boss T. Harris has a couple of camps pitched at the site of the new high level bridge, and has a crew of men busy cutting out the right of way of the approach to the bridge, working on the Erickson side.

Miss Annie Samuelson arrived home last week from the hospital at Cranbrook, where she had undergone an operation for appendicitus. She has been rather unfortunate in this respect as her recent hospital experience followed close upon her recovery from an operation she underwent at the same hospital last May.

Mrs. Monquit and son of Fernie are spending a few days with Canyon City friends, and are guests of Mr. and Mrs Con. Hall.

Building operations here include a commodious new packing shed which Matt. Clayton is erecting on the D. Rodgers ranch at present.

The landscape to the south is well hidden by smoke due to the first of the burning operations at the soldier settlement. They have the fire going on a few huadred acres almost opposite the C. O. Rodgers farm.

Mr. Hodsdon, the assistant water rights engineer of Nelson, was here at the end of the week, and with the assistance of Mr. VanAckeran they made the survey of the streams that will be utilized by the Water Users Association. By putting in a reservoir and at times utilizing a stream in the same neighborhood it seems there will be plenty of water for domestic and irrigation purposes. A report as to the cost will be submitted before the end of the year.

Guy Browell, who is just recently back from Alberta, is busy at the haymaking and is using the Staples Fordson tractor for hauling the feed home. Owing to the excessive grades the load hauled seems little larger than a good team would handle.

G. A. Hunt was at Cranbrook a couple of days last week looking for a few men to work on his road building contract at the Crossing. The job is supposed to be finished this month.

F. Belanger of Creston and Mr. Mangan of Fernie were here the latter part of the week looking over some cedar lots and also trying their luck at the fishing.

Miss Alice Lythgoe, who has been in charge of the postoffice the past three months, has returned to her home at Yahk, and is succeeded by a young man from Moyie.

Joe Langlois, who has been taking treatment at Cranbrook hospital, returned home on Saturday, accompanied by his wife, who had been a visitor in that city.

School re-opened on the 2nd with Miss Rutledge of Nelson in charge, and an attendance of pupils slightly larger than last term.

Mrs. Mawson and Mrs. McWilliams of Creston were here a few days last week guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Cameron.

The mill of the Cranbrook Sash & Door Co. was shut down a few days last week due to a shortage of help. Manager McKowan made a trip to Cranbrook in search of reinforcements.

Mrs. Fulmer of Creston is a visitor here this week. Mr. Fulmer being in charge of the blacksmith shop at the Sash & Door Co. mill. Mrs. McGonegal got back on Wednesday last after a few days visit at Creston.

A Keir, stable foreman for Geo. Hunt, is at the Reclamation Farm with a haymaking outfit, putting up the winter's supply of feed. They intend bailing it and shipping it in by train.

Mr. Shortt, the Saskatchewan farmer who has secured the crop of hay on the Paulson meadow, moved his family and outfit in this week, and is now busy at cutting operations. We hear he will bring in about 125 head of cattle to range and stack feed this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Vachon of Canyon City have just arrived to take charge of the Paulson boarding house, Mr. and Mrs. Persian having moved to Cranbrook to go into business. There is a new mulligan mixer at the Sash & Door Co. camp in Mr. Grouchy, who has recently arrived from Cranbrook.

Increased and increasing business at Hotel Kitchener has necessitated Billy Johnson throwing up his job as section foreman to devote all his time to running the hotel and poolroom. The new foreman in his place is E. Erickson.

Waldo won the $1400 ball game at Fernie on Labor Day, beating Wycliffe 7 to 2.

Stop Decrying The Farm

Confronted with the task of reorganizing Canada on a peace basis following the upheaval of the Great War, and faced with the necessity of discharging that task under entirely new conditions and with a new social order demanded by all, thinking men and women all over the Dominion are endeavoring to ascertain what is Canada's most pressing need and how that need can be supplied.

It seems to be fairly generally accepted that from a financial, economic and purely business standpoint the most pressing national need of this Dominion is that all men and women shall become imbued with the ambition to work as they have never worked before, and by their labor produce from the natural resources of this country the wealth which will enable Canada to meet its enormous war debt and heavy national obligations, and discharge the duties and responsibilities imposed upon it.

Opinion, however, is divided as to the policies to be inaugurated and the methods employed to bring about this development of our natural resources and consequent greater production of wealth. Consequent upon this division of opinion, many phases of the big problem have become political issues in a partizan sense, one party advocating one policy, another party upholding an entirely different policy and course of action. In regard to those aspects of this problem which have become subjects of political controversy it is not the function nor intention of the writer of this article to deal. We leave them to governments and politcians, and to the people who, by the exercise of their franchise, make or unmake governments and politicians.

In the final analysis, however, it is the farmers of Canada who must largely solve the problem which confronts Canada today. Farmers represent the greatest and the basic industry of Canada. As a class they constitute the largest group in our population. They are the largest primary producers of wealth in this Dominion. Unless agriculture succeeds, Canada cannot grow and prosper. These are evident facts. It [illegible] therefore, that the country [illegible] be impressed by them, and [illegible] in Canada [illegible] according- [illegible] that devotes it- [illegible] to the welfare [illegible] agricul- [illegible] to be the [illegible] can [illegible] to do far more [illegible] in the past to [illegible] and develop the business [illegible] things [illegible] but the [illegible] do [illegible] referred to by Hon. Duncan Marshall minister of agriculture for Alberta, in a recent speech which is deserving of the widest possible publiciity.

First and foremost, declared Mr. Marshall, it is our duty to see to it that the farmers' sons and daughters throughout the entire Dominion are so effectively trained that they will be qualified to make he best farmers and farmers' wives that can be found anywhere in the civilized world. He arraigned Canadian governments for their failure to spread agricultural education throughout Canada. "Never in Canada's history," he said, was the need of agricultural education so serious. Never in public school did a teacher tell me it would be a fine thing to be a farmer. I never had a teacher say to me that it would be the finest and best ambition to settle down and endeavor to become the best cultivator of land and best live stock breeder in the county of Bruce. I am a big shorthorn breeder in Alberta in spite of the education I got in Ontario. In Belgium, the best draft horse breeding country in the world, I find in the school text books such lines as 'this horse is a good horse because his feet are sound,' and 'this horse is a strong horse because his back is short.' When I read that I understand why Belgium beats the world in horse breeding, and then I think of the stuff they told me about the cat and the rat and the hat and the mat."

Mr. Marshall continued: "We have got to teach the boys and girls in the public schools that the finest business in this world, the one that offers the biggest opportunity for home building and the greatest opportunity to become a useful citizen is that of tilling the soil on a good farm. We have got to get away from this business of belittling the farmer, and there have been many farmers engaged in running down their own business more than anybody else. They say that it is drudgery, and the ladies at times have said such things as, 'Poor girl, she married a farmer.' That is the kind of thing I want to get out of the minds of the sons and daughters of this Dominion of Canada."

And who will say Mr. Marshall is not right? One never hears of a lawyer, a doctor, or a manufacturer decrying his business, nor their wives and children so. On the contrary, they boast of their occupations as the best and finest in the world. We all need to stop decrying the farming business, and, on the other hand, to give Canadian boys and girls an inspiration to take up agriculture. The welfare of our people and our national stability depends upon it.

His Chief Want

The parlor Bolshevik had the floor. "I want land reform," he shrilled. "I want education reform. I want church reform. I want marriage reform. I want—"

But here a listener interrupted with a loud and savage yawn:

"What you want, old man," he said, "is chloroform."

It Eases Pain.—Ask any druggist or dealer in medicines what is the most popular of the medicinal oils for pains in the joints, in the muscles or nerves, or for neuralgia and rheumatism, and he will tell you that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is in greater demand than any other. The reason for this is that it possesses greater healing qualities than any other oil.

Third Dose Relief! Fifth Dose! Diarrhoea Stopped.

Diarhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and very often total collapse.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only prompt and effectual in checking the diarrhoea, but at the same time acts as a stimulant, strengthens the heart and braces up the whole system, and one of its principal points is that it does not leave the bowels in a constipated condition.

Mr. W. H. Arnold, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., writes: "A few years ago while out threshing, I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I was getting worse all the time. Hearing that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry was good for diarrhoea, I went into town and procured a bottle. After the third dose I felt relief, and after I had taken the fifth dose the diarrhoea had stopped. I always keep it in the house, and would not be without it."

See that you get the original "Dr. Fowler's." It has been on the market for the past 74 years. Substitutes may endanger your health. Price 35c. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

One of the ever present difficulties of a married man is to account for his absence from home.

LEMON JUICE IS FRECKLE REMOVER

Girls! Make This Cheap Beauty Lotion to Clear and Whiten Your Skin

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear, and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! it is harmless.

What a pity that the truth is the most disagreeable thing one can say about some people!

Big Expenditure at North Battleford

One hundred thousand dollars is the estimated cost of the new buildings being constructed by the Canadian National railways at North Battleford. The new works include a 15-stall roundhouse, a new machine shop, 86 by 40 feet, a new compressed air driven turntable, and a complete new equipment for the machine shop. The new roundhouse is being built in the rear of the existing one, and is half as big again as the present structure. Some idea of the amount of concrete called for in the specifications can be gathered from the fact that over 4,000 barrels of cement will be used.

Canadian Soldiers Wanting Land

Approximately 6,500 Loans Granted Through the Board to Former Soldiers

Regina.—To the end of July, 25,000 applications had been made to the Soldiers' Settlement Board by returned soldiers wishing to go on the land, according to Col. R. Innes, director of the agricultural branch of the board's work, who paid an inspection visit here. Of these, 22,000 had been disposed of and 74 per cent. of the 22,000 actually had been approved. Approximately 6,500 loans had been granted through the board to former soldiers and 3,500 discharged men had been given free land grants. The total expenditures to July 31 amounted to $20,500,000 and the average loan was $3,100. There was no sign of falling off in the demand for loans, according to Colonel Innes, and settlement was well distributed throughout the entire country. At present there were 600 returned soldiers in the various training centres acquiring experience in farming before taking up land.

All Night with Asthma.—Everyone knows how attacks of asthma often keep their victim awake the whole night long. Morning finds him wholly unfitted for a day of business, and yet, business must still be carried through. All this night suffering and lack of rest can be avoided by the prompt use of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy, which positively does drive away the attacks.

Livestock Industry in North

Some idea of the extent of the livestock industry in the Battleford district can be gained from the fact that 120 cars of stock have received official certificates for shipment since July 1. A considerable portion of the shipments was from the Turtleford branch, along which thousands of cattle are being fattened upon the prairie grasses. It should be understood that this shipment represents fat stock and cattle have not been rushed to market in an unfinished condition because of shortness of feed, which is responsible for heavy shipments in some dry areas.

The Lot of the Rural Teacher

Coalition of schools provides better buildings and other advantages, but the important step in improvement of public schools is procurement of well-equipped teachers in such circumstances that they will feel warranted in continuing in their situations. When the rural teacher is the worst paid toiler in the community it is not to be expected that the community will have good schools.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"My baby brother had eczema which began when he was about four days old. It came in little pimples and then a rash, and he was covered. He was so cross that he could not sleep, and he cried.

"This lasted about two months before we used Cuticura. It helped him, so we bought more, and he was all healed after we had used two cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment." (Signed) Miss Almeda Williams, Youngs Cove, N. B., May 22, 1918.

A MOTHER'S TRIALS

Care of Home and Children Often Causes a Breakdown

The woman at home, deep in household duties and the cares of motherhood, needs occasional help to keep her in good health. The demands upon a mother's health are many and severe. Her own health trials and her children's welfare exact heavy tolls, while hurried meals, broken rest and much indoor living tend to weaken her constitution. No wonder that the woman at home is often indisposed through weakness, headaches, backaches and nervousness. Too many women have grown to accept these visitations as a part of the lot of motherhood. But many and varied as her health troubles are, the cause is simple and the cure at hand. When well, it is the woman's good blood that keeps her well; when ill, she must make her blood rich to renew her health. The nursing mother more than any other woman in the world needs rich blood and plenty of it. There is one always unfailing way to get this good blood so necessary to perfect health, and that is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills make new blood abundantly, and through their use thousands of weak, ailing wives and mothers have been made bright, cheerful and strong. If you are ailing, easily tired, or depressed, it is a duty you owe yourself and your family to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. What this medicine has done for others it will surely do for you.

Warning Against Hoarding Sugar

Toronto.—With reference to an Ottawa dispatch of August 23, stating that the wholesale grocers, in their convention at Ottawa, had predicted that sugar would rise to 20 cents a pound before the present shortage would be relieved, Hugh Blain, president of the Wholesale Grocers' association of Canada, said:

"There must be some mistake about this, as no discussion took place at the convention as to what the price of sugar was likely to be. It was, however, stated to the convention that speculators in the United States had bought fifty cars of granulated sugar, held in Halifax, at the regular Canadian price, but it had been resold to other speculators in the United States and was now offered at $13.90 at Halifax to the Dominion government, and I believe a few cars were bought at this price. The convention generally felt that to buy sugar at such a figure might have the effect of creating an advance on all sugars, which would be most unfortunate.

"It was also felt that selling this sugar would have the appearance of profiteering, even if sold again at cost, because sugar is sold today in Montreal to the wholesale trade at $10.40 and $10.50, with the usual discount off, and is resold to the retail trade at these figures, with the freight added. The shortage in sugar has been caused entirely through the lack of shipping facilities, owing to the marine strike, which prevented refiners from getting raw sugar, and if shipping facilities can be restored to normal conditions without further delay, we should get supplies of refined sugar to meet our requirements within the next 30 or 60 days.

"I would like to warn the public against buying sugar beyond their pressing requirements, because hoarding sugar is certainly going to increase the price to the consumers, who will be in want, besides depriving the rest of the public from getting their fair share of what sugar is to be had. Every wholesale and retail grocer should furnish their customers with the smallest quantity of sugar they can get along with until sugar becomes more plentiful."

Wheat Board to Meet at Toronto

Winnipeg.—A public meeting of the Canadian Wheat Board will be held in the Board of Trade rooms, Royal Bank building, Toronto, Ont., at 9.30 a.m., Monday, September 8, when the board will hear expressions of opinion from the public on the scheme for the handling of the 1919 wheat crop.

Stop Work On Warships

Step May Involve Loss of Some 25 Million Pounds

London.—All private shipbuilding yards throughout the country, numbering about twenty, are affected by the government order that all work be stopped on warships except those about to be launched.

The Admiralty yards at Chatham, Devonport and Portsmouth will not stop, however, as they are entirely occupied with the refitting of 2,700 steamers which are about to be returned to the owners from whom they were requisitioned for war service. Among the warships being built at private yards are cruisers, destroyers and submarines, and the work on some of these may be continued, according to the Mail, if it is found cheaper to complete them than to break them up.

Shipbuilders must be liberally compensated in cases where contracts are broken, but although several million pounds sterling may be involved, it may prove more economical than carrying out the building program.

The Mail quotes an officer of the Admiralty as saying that one sound reason for stopping work on warships is that the step will clear the yards for commercial building. There is an excellent demand for new tonnage, and this work will probably absorb the men liberated by the stoppage of work on naval vessels. According to the Glasgow Daily Record, work on 40 warships valued at $125,000,000 has been stopped.

Abdicated Ruler Sues for Estate.

Berlin.—Former Duke Charles Edward of Coburg-Gotha has filed a suit against the republic of Gotha and its commissioners to recover his estate, which was confiscated when he declined to accept a settlement of 15,000,000 marks.

The Prince of Waldeck-Pyrmont is also suing for the recovery of half of his domain after the failure of negotiations with the new government.

Sending Families to Switzerland

Geneva.—Swiss newspapers state that nearly all the Bolshevist leaders in Russia and Hungary, and even in Germany, have sent their wives and relatives to Switzerland lately for safety, thereby condemning their own regime of terror.

The women were supplied with false passports, chiefly Czecho-Slovak, and false names. The Swiss authorities have discovered this trickery and are applying stricter measures on examination.

Cannot Rely On States

Sir Auckland Geddes Says Europe Must Work Independently

London.—Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction, speaking at Basingstoke on government economy, said that a special financial committee, of which Premier Lloyd George is chairman, has been formed for that purpose and that the Premier was throwing himself with great energy into the work of cutting down expenditure.

Sir Auckland said that it was useless to rely on the United States to pull the British people through their difficulties. The United States had her own trade difficulties. She had increased the industrialism of her population and was not only a great exporter of manufactures, but the greatest exporter of raw materials.

She was in the unhappy position of possessing so much that there was little she wanted, and, as a result, exchange between New York and London moved in her favor and, therefore, against her power to export. Moreover, because Britain required United States raw material, he said, it was increasingly difficult for the United States to get her manufactures across the Atlantic. The only result of United States flooding Europe with goods would be a movement of exchange in her favor, making the price of United States goods in this country prohibitive. Europe must, therefore, work out her own salvation, he declared.

Admit Loss Of Odessa

Reds Could Not Stand Bombardment in Black Sea

London.—Occupation of Odessa, chief Russian port on the Black Sea, by allied forces is admitted in a Bolshevik government wireless message from Moscow received here. The occupation was effected, the dispatch states, after thirty vessels had bombarded the city for two days.

On the Russian northwestern front, according to the soviet statement, the Bolshevik troops are advancing in the region of Pksov, having progressed already to within three and one-half miles of that city.

Shortly after the Bolshevik message was received, confirmation was given in official quarters here of the occupation of Odessa. A Russian volunteer army, it is stated, had occupied the city. The Bolsheviki retired in the direction of Balta, 120 miles northwest of Odessa.

Withdraw From One Big Union

Vancouver.—The Vancouver postal workers have withdrawn from the Vancouver trades and labor council (One Big Union). The vote of a referendum that has been in progress for the past two weeks was counted here. The result was given as 314 in favor of withdrawing and 90 against.

There are approximately 400 members of the Postal Workers' Association in Vancouver.

The Bremen Not Captured

London.—There is no truth in the report that the German submarine Bremen was captured during the war and returned recently to Germany, according to official information given out here. It was added that the British Admiralty had no knowledge concerning the fate of the Bremen, but that it is assumed the submarine foundered while endeavoring to cross the Atlantic.

U. S. Government Forces Prices Down

German Ambassadors Chosen

Dr. Solf Will Represent Germany in Great Britain

Berlin.—Dr. Haniel von Haimhausen, former counsellor of the German embassy at Washington, has been selected for appointment as German ambassador to the United States, according to authoritative information.

Dr. W. S. Solf, the secretary for the colonies, is the selection for ambassadorship to Great Britain, and Herr Badowitz, former under-secretary of state, for the ambassadorship to China.

Fritz August Thiel, former German consular representative in Japan, has been picked for the post of ambassador at Tokio.

The appointments of the men selected for ambassadorships, it is stated, depend upon the attitude of the powers in question. If they send charge d'affaires to Berlin, Germany will take like action as to representation in the capitals of such powers.

There is no mention at present of the selection of a German ambassador to France.

Washington.—No inquiry has been made of the United States as to whether Von Haimhauser, former counsellor of the imperial German embassy here, would be acceptable as ambassador, but there is every indication that this government will not receive Haimhausen or anyone else formerly connected with the embassy under the regime of Count von Bernstorff.

600 Huns Deported

Sydney, N.S.W.—Following out the announced policy of the government, 600 more Germans have been deported. They include several well-known buyers.

Brussels.—The Belgian senate unanimously approved the peace treaty with Germany. The chamber of deputies ratified the treaty August 8.

Washington.—Prices are beginning to turn downward in various parts of the country, but the slump has not yet gathered momentum sufficient to affect purchases being made for immediate use, according to reports to the department of justice.

Attorney-General Palmer, asked how soon results could be expected from the campaign to reduce the cost of living, the outcome of which railroad employees have been requested to await before pressing demands for wage increases, said all the government wanted was a fair chance to show what could be done to take the artificial inflation out of the market. He said officials were well pleased with the success so far attained and that cumulative results were expected when congress enacts amendments to the food control law by which criminal penalties can be imposed on profiteers and hoarders.

"We hope the public will begin to reap the benefit of our efforts before long," Mr. Palmer said. "For instance, we are making progress in obtaining promises from shoe manufacturers as to fixing a limit beyond which prices shall not go."

Wanted Dangerous Correspondence Destroyed

Basle.—Rumanian military authorities have discovered in the archives of the Hungarian foreign ministry a telegram from Otto Bauer, former Austrian state secretary, entrusted with the management of the state bureau of foreign affairs of Bela Kun, former head of the Hungarian communist government, asking him to destroy all documents relative to the delivery of arms by Austria to Hungary, according to a Budapest dispatch received here.

Rome to Naples By Air

Rome.—Announcement is made here of the inauguration of passenger airplane service between this city and Naples.

Rapid Advance On Western Russian Front

London.—A communique issued by the War Office states that General Denikine's advance on the western Russian front continues with great rapidity all along the line.

The capture of Odessa is confirmed, the city having been taken by a detachment of volunteers after two days' bombardment in the Black Sea. The detachment was landed and drove the Bolsheviki out of the town.

Along both banks of the Dnieper the volunteers advance toward Kieff is progressing.

It is stated on reliable authority that the Bolshevik forces throughout the whole of the Ukraine are completely demoralized.

Paris.—General Denikine, the anti-Bolshevik leader in southern Russia, now dominates a territory larger than Germany, and his forces are daily progressing into central Russia with comparatively slight opposition.

His actual front two days ago, according to accurate military information received here, extended from a few miles east of Odessa northward to Elizabetgrad, then northeast to a few miles south of Kursk, thence east to Novookopersk, continuing to a point on the Volga, a few miles south of Saratov. (Since this dispatch was received the capture of Odessa by anti-Bolshevik forces has been announced.)

General Denikine also occupies all the Caucasus region from the Caspian to the Black Sea and south to the Georgian border. His forces are not occupying Astrakhan, at the mouth of the Volga, but he controls traffic on that river by occupying Tzaritzen and a stretch along the river running northward for a distance of 200 miles.

Lloyd George Calls Halt To Expenditures

London.—After his recent speech in the House of Commons, in which he insisted upon economy, Premier Lloyd George wrote to his ministerial colleagues, calling attention to the huge national expenditure and impressing upon them the need of immediately curtailing. The letter, as quoted by the Daily Mail, says among other things:

"The time has come when each minister ought to make clear to those under his control that if they cannot reduce expenditure they must make room for somebody who can. That is the public temper and it is right."

The Premier declares it is indefensible that the staffs of the public services have hardly been reduced perceptibly since the ending of the war, and says that those responsible must be compelled to perform their duty, however unpleasant. With regard to ruthless cutting, he adds:

"We must content ourselves with the second best where the best is too costly."

The Premier concludes by telling the ministers that they must find time during recess to consider the best method of dealing with the question and report to him by midnight what steps they have taken or propose to take.

Denies Report

That Great Britain Is Seeking Railway Concession Through Esthonia

Copenhagen.—The Esthonian press bureau officially denies the report recently printed by the National Tidende that Great Britain is seeking a railway concession through Esthonia to Russia, or that negotiations are under way for the lease of the islands of Dago and Oesel.

The National Tidende declared that negotiations were proceeding for the lease of Dago and Oesel, in the Baltic Sea, to England for the construction of a commercial port. The paper also states that England was seeking a railway concession through Esthonia to reach the Russian market.

$10,000,000 Silk Cargo

Vancouver.—Ten million dollars' worth of silk, carried in four special trains, has left Vancouver for the east. The shipment was brought from the Orient on the Empress of Asia.

Creston Women's Institute meets this afternoon, and among the business listed for this session is arranging for serving hot lunches to the pupils attending Creston school.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church have decided to serve their annual thanksgiving dinner on the Friday evening before Thanksgiving Day. Full particulars later.

Dr. Henderson this week took delivery of a new Ford car from the Bevan garage. It is the very newest 1919 design, including the electric light and self-starting features.

Copies of the Cranbrook fall fair prize list can be had of E. C. Gibbs at the postoffice. It is worthy of special attention as almost $350 is hung up in prizes in the fruit classes alone.

At the Board of Trade meeting on Tuesday night it was decided to write authorities at Victoria asking for the building of a sidewalk from the McCreath corner to the new fair grounds.

Although there have been unconfirmed reports of frost touches in the Valley the past week, 38—or six degrees above freezing—is the lowest the government thermometer has registered.

Word has just been received that if a suitable five or six room house with stabling accommodation can be secured a two-man detachment of the Mounted Police will be located at Creston.

Henry Chester, who has been second in command at the C.P.R. station for the past year, left this week for Cranbrook, for a vacation before returning to work with the company at some other centre.

Prosecutions for contraventions of the Fruit Marks Act are in prospect. Growers have been caught marketing stuff hardly up to No. 3 standard as domestic pack and police court proceedings are pending.

Word came on Tuesday that the C.P.R., had conceded a rate of single fare for the round trip to Creston in connection with the fall fair.

Mrs. W. R. Forward returned on Wednesday from an extended holiday with her daughter, Mrs. Allison, at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. Master Aimey Walmsley, who was there also for about three weeks, returned with her.

Local hunters report grouse fairly plentiful this year, with some fair bags of duck being taken. Only another week remains to get your licence's worth of grouse, the season closing on the 20th. The deer season will open tomorrow.

School inspector Calvert of Nelson was here early in the week on an official visit. The heavy attendance at the Canyon City school will necessitate hiring another teacher, and utilizing the union church building as a temporary school.

At the special session of the Red Cross Society on Tuesday afternoon two ladies turned in finished work; Mrs. Cook a couple of amputation socks and Mrs. C. Hall, a child's petticoat. The society is discontinuing operations after the October meeting.

T. R. Henage of Vancouver, who is in charge of the Boy Scout work in B. C., reached Creston yesterday and is meeting with the local scouts to arrange for the continuance of the work in the absence of Vice-Principal Smith who is now located at West Vancouver.

Engineers Biker and Hodsdon were here the latter part of the week taking measurements of the water in Arrow and O'Kell creeks in connection with the local irrigation scheme, and announce that there is ample of the wet goods to supply moisture for at least 3000 acres.

The Red Cross Society is winding up affairs, and the last meeting will be held on the first Friday in October. All parties having work to bring in kindly do so before that date. October 3rd is the date of the annual meeting and all interested in Red Cross work are invited to attend.

E. C. Hunt, of Nelson, the government horticulturist, predicts the Valley plum crop will exceed last year's by at least 25 per cent., bringing the production of these up to almost 5000 crates. On Saturday night last the Union had handled more than they had sold for the whole of 1918.

C. B. Garland, who was at Nelson on legal business the fore part of the week, reports that the Nelson business men who are to visit Creston on fair day, are bringing the Veterans brass band of that city with them, and they will help furnish music for the exhibition. It numbers about 22 musicians.

Rev. G. H. Hamilton, the somewhat long-expected pastor of the Creston Methodist church, arrived on Tuesday accompanied by Mrs. Hamilton, and are now getting nicely settled in the parsonage. For the present the old order of service will be maintained—Creston at 11.15 and 7.30, and Canyon in the afternoon.

A feature of this year's game regulations that will interest the juveniles is the spot cash bounty of 10 cents on crows. Provincial palice Vachon has the necessary forms and cash to do business with, and all that is needed to get the money is to produce the dead crow's head. The bounty on cougar is now $25, with wolves at $15.

Messrs. Waimsley, Bevan and Allan have been named a committee to look after getting sleeping accommodation especially for the Nelson men who will be here for the fall fair. Hotel accommodatiod is entirely inadequate and it is asked that citizens who can sleep one or more of the visitors for the Saturday night will notify any one of these gentlemen.

The week-end weather, and even up until Wednesday, has been decidedly showery and in consequence haying operations have not only been delayed but some quantity of this feed has been destroyed. Report has it that the late August rains have materially helped the crops in Southern Alberta and that there will be considerable grain cut for green feed.

Chairman Nelems and directors Ward, Davies and Latta of the provincial land settlement board were here on an official visit to the soldier settlement area at Lister on Saturday. Mr. Nelems particularly was greatly taken with the rapid progress Col. Lister and his staff is making in getting this area ready for the men who are waiting to cultivate it, as well as the first-class all round accommodation the camp affords. This week saw work started on clearing the thirtieth farm. During the week, too, three more men moved their families in, and four more are away for their wives and effects.

Electric light has arrived at Creston the R. S. Bevan garage being now illuminated with the white light. While at Calgary last month Dick purchased an electric plant which he will use for re-charging auto batteries, and which has sufficient capacity to handle forty 50 candle power lights as well. It is equipped with storage batteries, that will run this number of lights for 26 hours. His battery re-charging capacity will take care of 10 them at once if desired, the generator being of 500 watt capacity, each battery requiring 22 hours to completely re-charge. After wiring the garage any surplus juice will be sold to light other premises in the neighborhood of the garage. Auto owners will appreciate this improved service. Hitherto batteries had to be sent to Vancouver to be recharged.

The end of the 1918 Apple season, owing to certain conditions, saw Growers and Shippers taking considerable losses on Apples.

We are always up against the probability of car shortage, and liable to have to face conditions similar to 1918 at any time.

Much of last season's losses would have been avoided if all our Winter Apples had been wrapped, for the reason that buyers were afraid to chance shipping unwrapped stuff in cold weather.

It is the best kind of price insurance to wrap Winter Apples. To help Growers to do this we are selling MacIntosh and Wealthy apples Orchard Run—these to be put up what is known as "face and fill," and must not have one's packed out.
