THE CRESTON REVIEW

Vol. XI. CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1919 No. 38

Local and Personal

High school inspector DeLong was here on an official visit on Friday, and had many complimentary things to say of the new high school building. About 20 scholars are enrolled at present.

The coldest touch of the month was on Saturday morning when the mercury got down to 12 above zero. Following an almost equally cold dip two mornings previous the finishing touch was put on any apples that were still on the trees, as well as doing damage to un dug potatoes.

D. W. Hynds of Fernie is here this week putting a coat of plaster on the exterior of the new Mallandaine office building, as well as plastering the interior. Mayor Little has guaranteed seasonable weather hence the undertaking of a rather risky piece of work at this season of the year.

The school board is after provincial engineer Ramsay to build them a new sidewalk leading to the new nigh school building. The trustees are also adopting measures to ensure all children of school age attend the seat of learning the prescribed number of days set forth in the school act.

Col. and Mrs. Lister were visitors at Vancouver a few days at the week-end where he was attending a confereuce of the B.C. officers commanding, which was adjusting matters generally in connection with the provincial militia. He got back Wednesday via the Kettle Valley, and reports a foot of snow at Okanagan points.

The C.P.R. went back on to Pacific time on Sunday last, and as the town still maintains mountain time trains now depart at 1.35 and 4.15 town time. Cranbrook council is consulting all the other centees in East Kootenay as to the advisability of the towns all adopting C.P.R. time. At present none of them have taken the railway time.

Another passenger destined for the Old Country on Sunday's train was Mrs. M. Young, who has conducted a millinery store on Fourth street for seueral years past, and who will probably remain overseas permanently. She took with her five of the children of the late Mrs. Andy Miller, who will make their home with Mrs. Miller's brother in England.

Wednesday night next, Nov. 5, the Peekin Theatre will start the first of its Wednesday night shows which will be a high grade of pictures consisting of a feature, comedy and a screen magazine. On Wednesday night the Peekin will present Marie Walcamp in "Tongues of Flame," a Bret Harte story of the Forty-Niner days of California, and is well worth seeing.

A. E. Foreman of Victoria, deputy minister of public works, and Wm. Ramsay, Nelson, provincial engineer for Kootenay, were visitors here the latter part of the week, looking things over at the site of the new Goat River high level bridge. Bids have been recieved for the concrete piers, which are to go in at once, but no decision has been made as yet whether the bridge will be built by day labor or a contract let.

Prior to the temporary freeze-up which came on Friday morning potato shipping was quite active, but the cold spell has halted the spud export this week. Some apprehension is expressed for the potatoes the cold dip caught not harvested. 20 degrees of frost is pretty sure to have nipped some of them and there are several acres of potatoes throughout the Valley in the ground at the time.

The Valley was favored with a four-inch snowfall on Wednesday and Thursday morning—the very earliest date old timers can recall sleighing ever being in evidence in these parts. The weather is quite mild, however, and as we go to press the snow is quite rapidly disappearing. On the prairie the snowfall is two feet at some points—and is accompanied by 12 below zero weather in Southern Alberta.

The end of October sees at least 80 per cent. of the Valley apple crop already shipped, and the remainder will be largely shipped within the next ten days. Early in the season Manager Staples of the Fruit Growers Union contracted to supply 95 cars of all varieties and from present appearances he is confident he will not fall far short of delivering every car booked. Shipping at Frickson is heavier this year than ever before.

After about two years at prairie farming at Glenavon, Sask., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Goodwin arrived back in Creston on Wednesday to resume ranching on their eight-acre oachard property here, and are being royally welcomed back. Although both 1918 and 1919 were inclined to be on the dry side Mr. Goodwin states that crops in the Glenavon section were quite satisfactory and he is well pleased with his two-year venture at grain growing.

CHAPTER IX.

"Cafe de Madrid—et marchez vite," said Ruggles's friend, and slammed the door of the taxi behind him.

Ruggles sat staring straight in front of him until they had crossed the Place de la Concord. Then he suddenly dropped his face into his hands. The doctor reached into his side pocket, drew out a well-seasoned pipe, which he stuffed from his tobacco pouch, and, leaning back in his seat, smoked tranquilly. He did not so much as glance at Ruggles as they spun up the Champs Elysees.

Ruggles got himself in hand before the Etoile was reached. He mopped his face with his handkerchief and turned to look at his companion.

"Say, doctor," said Ruggles, "why did you do that?"

"Haul you out of the mess? Because I heard the whole thing and liked your methods, old chap. That German brute forced it on you. He had it over you a good three stone, too. You did give him pepper! And those other cads, too!" He chuckled. "I went out to Auteuil yesterday, but I didn't see any such jumping as that fat Johnny did when you were chivying him around the chairs! You're pretty useful in a scrap, aren't you?"

"Oh, I don't know," said Ruggles [illegible] "Say, doctor, when I went in [illegible] the last thing in my mind [illegible] But I just [illegible] those two just [illegible] They'd done [illegible] "Don't [illegible] You've [illegible]

[illegible] arm. He remembered having knocked Lorenz down, and was not disposed to grieve greatly over this, though he wished that it might have happened in the street. But first to maul and then to chase the pulpy Duraud round and round he chairs and up into the ladies department was nothing short of ruffianly and Ruggles's blond head was bowed with shame at the recollection.

He decided that beneath his polite exterior he must be possessed of the soul of an Apache. What would Ruth think when she heard of his violence? What would Dick and Mr. Downing think—and Darthea and Miss Challand and Mr. Falconer (an elderly retired English clergyman whom Ruggles had frequently met at Darthea's and who had shown him great consideration), and the rector of the English Church and other friends and acquaintances who had always regarded him as an eminently respectable and gentlemanly person? It would all be in the papers, no doubt, and he would very probably be arrested on a charge of assault preferred by Durand and publicly disgraced before a tribunal. Darthea was right. She had not considered that a person of his position was a fit associate—and the train of circumstances appeared to show that Darthea's estimate was accurate. Ruggles felt that he had acted like what he would have called a "thug," and that he was no longer entitled to the respect of any decent person, least of all, himself.

Consequently he was a good deal surprised when this kind-hearted young Englishman, who had come to his rescue at the critical moment, pulled his pipe from his mouth and said briefly:

"I know just how you feel. I felt the same way once, after I'd lost my temper in a shop on the Strand and chucked everything out of the windows. Only I hadn't half your excuse. I saw red merely because they gave me some cheek. I chased the shopkeeper into the cellar: made an awful ass of myself. All the same, I never regretted it. The beggars need a straightening out, once in a time."

Ruggles nodded, rather absently. He was quite appreciative of the kindness which had been done him, but was inclined to feel that, after all, he would have preferred to be left to face the music and take the consequences of his act, instead of being whisked away like a pickpocket or sandbagger with an accomplice waiting in a taxi at the corner. He could not help liking his friend and feeling grateful to him, but at the same time he was inclined to distrust such disinterested kindness. Why should this fellow have dragged him out of the store, crammed him into a taxi, and raced off with him? Why should he care whether he was arrested or not? Sharing the end of a bench and giving him a newspaper with which he was finished was hardly enough to account for such gratuitous aid. Ruggles felt forced to admit to himself that his friend in need, for all of his charm, must be a rather tough sort of fellow, who had warmed to him because he had enjoyed his performance in the shop, and also because he felt rather lonely and wanted a little excitement. Glancing at the Englishman's hands, he observed that they were hard and roughened as if from sun or some caustic agent. His face, too, was weather-beaten; the sort of face one would expect to find on a cowboy rather than on a surgeon of the Red Cross. Ruggles de- [illegible] his friend all due thanks and escape from his guardianship as soon as possible. The English[illegible] confession of having assaulted a London shopkeeper seemed to indicate him as a rather unruly person, and at the moment there was no individual type which could possibly have had less charm for Rug- [illegible] all right, and not a bad fellow, and he [illegible] certainly under obligation to him [illegible] extricated him from a [illegible] good in chance ac- [illegible] when they got too [illegible] decided that [illegible] and say [illegible] as soon as possible. He be- [illegible] his doubts whether his [illegible] what he represented. Had [illegible] been, he would scarcely have bothered himself about Ruggles. Nobody had ever done so before unless he had [illegible] good and [illegible] and [illegible] bethought himself of the considerable sum of money reposing in his breast-pocket.

"Say," he asked, "where are we going, anyhow?"

The doctor smiled. "I thought we'd go out to the Madrid and get a bite," said he. "I lunched there yesterday, and they gave me some chow that wasn't half bad."

Ruggles's worst suspicions were confirmed. He knew the Madrid as one of the fashionable restaurants of the city. Why should a stranger ask him to lunch at the Madrid? There must be something behind it all.

"I think I'd rather get out here and go back to where I live, if you don't mind," said he. "I'm not feeling very good."

The doctor smiled. "If I'm any judge of symptoms," said he, "your chief trouble at just this moment is hunger. This thing has got on your nerves, and you've not been eating as you ought—what?"

"Oh, I was never much of an eater," Ruggles answered uneasily.

"Yes, you are. Any man that can hit out as you can is a good eater. Come, now, you're my guest, of course—and we're almost there."

Ruggles did not have the force to protest further. Besides, as the doctor said, they had almost arrived. The taxi turned into the gardens of the cafe and halted, and Ruggles stepped out after his host. The first person on whom his eyes fell was Mr. Falconer, who was in the act of giving some directions to his chauffeur, his car having entered directly before that of Ruggles and his host.

Mr. Falconer was with a friend, a gentleman whose years approached his own. Ruggles hoped that he might escape without recognition, considering the fact that he had just come from having disgraced himself and was in the company of a man whose name he did not know, but who was, as Ruggles was becoming more and more convinced, not at all what he represented himself. A doctor, Ruggles had thought, as they had spun uptown in the taxi, would have been prompt to offer his services to Lorenz, who, as far as he was able to recall, had appeared to be in a very serious condition. A doctor of the British Red Cross, particularly, would scarcely have assisted a stranger in escaping justice. No, the man, for all of his charm, was very obviously a fraud.

But Mr. Falconer's keen eyes had already caught sight of Ruggles, for Mr. Falconer had a lifelong habit of looking at a great many people almost at the same time and remembering their names. Then as his quick glance rested on Ruggles's companion, his genial face broke into smiles and he came forward with outstretched hand.

"Pembroke, my dear fellow!" said he, "this is indeed a pleasure! And Mr. Ruggles—delighted to see you." He turned to his friend. "Sir Henry, perhaps you have already met Lord Pembroke, who is on his way out to the Porte under the auspices of the Red Cross. And this is Mr. Ruggles, Sir Henry Stafford," said he, beaming at Ruggles and wondering inwardly how in the name of all that was conventional he happened to be lunching at the Madrid with John Willoughby, seventh Earl of Pembroke.

Ruggles was not required to say much, which was fortunate for Ruggles. Lord Pembroke made a few pleasant remarks, and then they separated to find their tables. Ruggles followed his host, his head in a whirl.

"Lord Pembroke!" he muttered to himself. "Gee!"

"Better have a wash and brush up," said Pembroke. "You skinned your knuckles on the big blighter. I must say, though, you got out of it awfully well. The last row I was in I managed to swim clear, somehow, but I wasn't pretty to look at for a few days. That was out in Sydney. I've been in Australia for the last ten years. Only came back to inherit when my older brother died a few months ago." He thrust his strong hands under the faucet for a moment, then picked up a towel. "So you know old Falconer? Nice old bird! Got me out of lots of scrapes when I was a nipper. He was our vicar. Then his uncle died and left him a pot of money. Glad of it."

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis

If there is an ailment in the throat or chest, it is surely essential that the remedy be conveyed direct to the affected part. It's because the healing vapor of Catarrhozone is breathed into the sore, irritated throat and bronchial tubes that its balsamic fumes kill the germs and destroy the cause of the trouble. These are the reasons why Catarrhozone never yet failed to cure a genuine case of Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis or Throat Trouble.

The wonderfully-soothing vapor of Catarrhozone instantly reaches the furthest recesses of the lungs, produces a healing curative effect that is impossible with a tablet or liquid, which goes merely to the stomach, and fails entirely to help the throat or lungs.

Catarrhozone
Just Breathe It

To permanently cure your winter ills, your coughs, sneezing and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhozone. But beware of the substitutor. Large outfit lasts two months, costs $1.00, small size 50c, trial size 25c, at dealers everywhere.

Canadian Grown Seeds

In Many Cases Are Superior to the Imported Varieties

Since 1914, important, almost colossal, developments have taken place in roots. Previous to the war, Canada imported 95 per cent. of her seed, but war conditions emphasized the fact that she should depend on her own resources. At the present moment Canadian-grown seeds compare most favorably and in many cases are superior to the imported varieties.

Mangel seed in British Columbia has exceeded a ton an acre. Carrot seed in the same province is not only extremely heavy, but is of A1 quality. It has been found that Nova Scotia is essentially a turnip growing home. The result of what were originally only experiments has proved conclusively that Canada will not only be able to supply her own needs, but will be able to export in large quantities. With this end in view, the experimental stations in both Eastern Canada and British Columbia are being utilized for the purpose of providing seed growing concerns with stock seed, in other words the guaranteed pure and first quality article.

"I HAVE PROVED"

Zam-Buk invaluable for eczema, both in the case of my baby and myself," says Mrs. L. Bouin of West Arichat, N.S. She adds: "Baby's skin was badly broken out, but repeated applications of Zam-Buk entirely cured it.

"In my own case, I had eczema on my hands, which made it very inconvenient for me to do my housework. Particularly was this so, as it aggravated the trouble so to put my hands in water. By using Zam-Buk, however, I soon got relief, and it was not very long before every trace of the trouble had disappeared. I really think no home should be without Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk is equally good for all skin injuries. All dealers 50c. box.

Marking British Aircraft

Under recent instructions issued by the British Air Ministry, the marks on private or tourist aircraft as opposed to commercial or state machines, are to be distinguished by having the marks underlined with a black line. This brings the marking of British machines into line with the regulations of the International Air Convention.

"FIDDLE-FIT"

Keep Liver and Bowels Clean and Active with "Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food, and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will have you feeling clear, rosy and as fit as a fiddle by morning. They work while you sleep.

About the only good things that can be said in some men's favor is that they are not society favorites.

Action Against Mennonites

The patience of the Saskatchewan Department of Education in connection with the Mennonite parents who persist in their refusal to send their children to the public schools has become exhausted. This was made plain in order issued to the provincial police to prepare summonses against every parent with children of school age. The Mennonites have made no efforts to co-operate with the department.

HOW TO "BE FIT" AT SIXTY

BY DR. LEE HERBERT SMITH.

As our boys "came marching home," they brought a certain red-blooded doctrine, and showed us the glory of a perfect body. They will show us how to "keep fit," even if we have passed middle life and are beyond the athletic stage. For the tired business man, the man who feels the daily grind and the nightly fag, has meager appetite, headaches, nerves unstrung, is gloomy, ending in a soggy brain, try the right way. Get out of bed, open the window, breathe deeply, exercise the army "setting-up" exercise or use dumb bells, until in a warm glow.

Before breakfast take hot water, and occasionally castor oil or a pleasant laxative made up of May-apple, aloin, jalap, and sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

As Prof. Strauss says, "The excretion of uric acid we are able to effect by exciting diuresis." Drink copiously of soft rain or distilled water, six or eight glasses per day, hot water before meals, and obtain Anuric Tablets, double strength, for 50 cts., at the nearest drug store and take them three times a day. If you want a trial package send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Anuric" (anti-uric-acid) is the recent discovery of Dr. Pierce and is much more potent than lithia, for it will dissolve uric acid as hot tea dissolves sugar.

Sixty Acres Broken in Nine Days

Ease and Rapidity With Which the Prairie of Western Canada Can Be Broken Up

An example of the ease and rapidity with which the virgin prairie of Western Canada can be broken up and made ready for crop is provided by Mr. Howard Blachly, who is farming 480 acres of irrigable land in Southern Alberta, between Duchess and Patricia.

Mr. Blachly came to Alberta from Idaho some five or six weeks ago, when he inspected the land and purchased it. He returned to Ohio and, after disposing of his property in that state, returned to Alberta. He purchased a Titon 10-20 h.p. tractor and, with one man to help him, started breaking on September 2nd. Nine days later Mr. Blachly had plowed 60 acres and had 45 acres of this double disced and harrowed.

Mr. Blachly is naturally very proud of this performance and states he has never seen land which works up in better shape.

Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the ether discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shrivelled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

You can learn a little each day—unless you are one of those persons who know it all.

Best Time to Plow

Never plow ground when it is dry, and never plow ground when it is wet, says Campbell's Scientific Farmer. To plow heavy soil when dry is a positive injury to the soil and a needless waste of power. It is always best to wait until the upper layer is sufficiently moist to turn over easily and crumble readily. Plowing should be done when the soil is in the best condition to respond to the pulverizing effect of the mouldboard.

Former Emperor Offers Large Sum to Suppress Pictures

Strong efforts are being made to prevent the publication of photographs of former Emperor William of Germany, taken recently by two Dutch photographers, who were concealed in a load of hay near Count Hohenzollern's temporary home.

The former emperor is said to have offered a large sum for the negatives and all prints made from them. The correspondent of the Associated Press has seen the pictures, which show Count Hohenzollern bearded and sturdy appearing in a happy mood, while talking to his wife and General Gontard, unconscious of the presence of the camera man.

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, OCT. 31

Now, All Together

Once more, citizens of Creston Valley, comes your call to duty.

Nobly has this district responded to the call for men and money to win the war.

Creston Valley has a record of patriotic service to her country that takes no second place to any part of Canada.

Let's not fall down now.

We MUST finish the job.

We have yet to pay the price of victory.

Citizens, this Victory Loan must be driven to the same complete success.

Only by the self-sacrificing efforts of every man, woman, and child can this be done.

Buy Bonds to the limit of your capacity, for the country's sake, for the soldier's sake: and for your conscience sake.

Creston Valley must raise not less than $50,000.

Buy Victory Bonds.

10 Months to Pay

Creston's two banks will make it possible for every one of our citizens to buy all the Victory Bonds they can pay for in ten months.

The Finance Minister has made arrangements with the bank managers throughout the Dominion to give every co-operation to enable you to buy all the Bonds you can possibly pay for on the instalment plan.

You do not need to be a customer of a bank to buy Bonds under this instalment plan—it is open to everyone.

Put every dollar you can gather together into Bonds—and then buy on the instalment plan all the Bonds you can pay for during the next ten months.

Under this plan you pay ten per cent on or before Nov. 15th, and ten per cent. each month till August 16, 1920. when you will get your bond. The interest charged you by the bank is balanced by the interest you get on your Victory Bonds.

Any branch of any bank will store the Bonds of small investors for safe keeping for a year without charge.

Buy all the Victory Bonds you can pay for—then buy more on the instalment plan—the banks will help you.

Good as Cash

The people of Canada are asked once more to do what Sir Thomas White in floating the first domesloan was satisfied they could easily do, that is, finance themselves instead of going into the outside money market for the funds necessary to conduct the business of the country.

Sir Thomas White's confidence in the people was not misplaced. Canadians had the money to finance Canada, and Canadians when shown the absolute necessity for self-support have cheerfully transferred their savings from the care of the banks to the use of the country.

This was done to the tune of $610,000,000 in the 1918 Victory Loan, and done at a time when the war clouds still hung black across the face of the future. People were not even sure of how long the war would last or what the final outcome was to be. It was possible that the security for their money was in peril, and that tribute to a Teuton conqueror might be added to the country's burdens.

The Victory Loan of 1919 is floated under entirely different conditions. Our troops have forever settled the matter of tribute. They have made government security doubly secure, and there is not the remotest possibility of Victory Bonds being ever worth less than their face value.

Today a $100 Victory Bond is better than a hundred dollar bill.

It may be changed into $102 in small bills and it bears interest at 5½ per cent. per annum.

It can be cashed at a moment's notice or it can be kept in a box and earn its keep.

It can be used as collateral security for a loan up to face value or it can be loaned to someone who needs it temporarily.

As easily transferrable as a bank bill, it is as safe and profitable as a savings account.

Drainage Effort

Victoria, Oct. 23—While in the city of Nelson last week, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands was presented with a resolution by the Board of Trade dealing with the subject of reclamaing the Kootenay flats.

In the preamble of the resolution in question, it is set forth that the Dominion Government would undertake to do the reclamatory work if it were in possession of the land.

Mr. Pattullo replied that the Provincial Government would promptly transfer the land once it could be demonstrated that the reclamatory scheme was a feasible one and that the Dominion Gouernment would use the recovered acres for the purpose of soldier settlement.

The Nelson Board of Trade appreciative of the immense agricultural wealth the reclamation of 30,000 acres would add to the Kootenay section of the province, will now commence a drive on the Dominion Government with renewed hope.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between F. C. Rodgers and S. G. Foreman in connection with the Peekin theatre at Creston has been dissolved. All debts contracted by the firm are payable by the first-named.

F. C. RODGERS.
Sept. 20, 1919. S. G. FOREMAN.

Synopsis of Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown Grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

PRE-EMPTORS' FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from for one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enlistment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LANDS.

Provision made for issuance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfilment of conditions of purchase, interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING.

Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged; priority for established owners. [illegible] forta Associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permit for [illegible] to ten head.

Wynndel

A cement foundation is being put under the clubhouse-packing shed, which will make the structure plenty safe enough even for the largest of Creston crowds.

The mill has been running the last few days on a cut of lumber which will ensure a supply of crate material for next season's use, as well as provide lumber for some local demand.

D. J. Dewar is on the rounds disposing of Victory Bonds this week. Last year Wynndel took up about $3500 worth of these and it looks safe to predict that at least that amount will be sold here this trip.

A hallowe'en dance is on the tapis for the schoolhouse on Saturday night, and as sociability of this sort has been scarce of late the event is sure to be worth while.

J. B. Rudd has recently purchased an eleven acre lot near the school which, we understand, will be taken charge of by his son, Gus., who is just recently back from overseas.

On the part of the Dixon ranch which the Dewar's recently acquired clearing operaeions are going ahead in great shape. The two boys, Ken and Ed. are in charge of operations.

The Bathie ranch is also getting some added acreage for berry and orchard planting. An acre of the new area is ready for the plough, and slashing is under way on another stretch of it.

The overhead irrigation systems a number of the ranchers below the track are figuering on installing have all been figuered out and plans made, and as soon as the pipe gets here construction will be rushed.

Lister

Last week saw four of the Listerites occupying their permanent residences, which are situated on the owners 20-acre tract, and on which the owners can now readily start their improvement. The fortunate ones are Messrs. Frampton, Burgess, Stone and Butler.

J. W. Knight is one of the absentees from the camp at present. Last week he had his hand gashed through that member coming in contact with the Wee McGregor saw he was operating, and he has gone to Vancouver to straighten up some business affairs.

Dr. Sproule, who has been here for a couple of weeks looking after the dental needs of the men in the camp, has completed his work, and is now in Creston doing similar work on Valley returned men.

A. Lowes, one of the camp foremen is also away on a short vacation. He is at Nelson.

Well drilling was a feature of camp operations the past week. Two more wells are being put down in the locality where the permanent locations are being taken up. They are also quite convenient for the rest of the men with homes.

Col. Lister, accompanied by Mrs. Lister, was a Vancouver visitor this week, for a military conference of B.C. officers commanding.

Mr. Burgess is the latest of the married men to arrive back with his family, and has moved direct to his new residence on his permanent location.

Miss Vernon, who has been a visitor here with her brother-in-law, Mr. Bagg, is moving to Creston in a few days, where she is opening a dressmaking parlor.

Messrs. Stone and Layton have been selected to work Lister on behalf of the Victory Loan. Amongst the single men there should be some demand for this high class security.

Four teams of horses are now kept busy at operations throughout the camp, and a fifth span is expected in any time now.

Sirdar

Mr. and Mrs. Aspey got away last week on a trip to the Old Country, and are due to sail from Montreal on the 31st, en route for Liverpool.

During their absence from Sirdar Principal and Mrs. Brewis are occupying the house vacated by the Aspeys.

Creston callers this week include Mesdames Loasby and Grunday and W. H. Morris, who were at the metropolis the fore part of the week.

The temporary boiler to supply heat for the C.P.R. Hotel has arrived but as yet it has not been installed.

Sirdar is on the apple shipping list this year in good shape. Already S. Pascuzzo has loaded out two straight cars of them, and has still another to go forward in a few days.

Never within the memory of the old-timers can they recall ducks being as numerous as they are this year at Kootenay Landing. The Indians have no trouble in getting the bag limit every day, and the reds are there in goodly numbers, too.

Rev. J. S. Mahood was here on Monday night for the regular English Church service, and had a good turnout of citizens. For Nov. 16th it is likely Rev. Yolland of Fernie will be here to officiate.

Building operations at the roundhouse and turntable make Sirdar a hive of industry these days. While Mayor Daly officially welcomes the development, personally he objects to the early morning blasting and other noisome operations disturbing his morning slumber.

Mrs. Grundy was hostess on Thursday night at whist, at which several tables of players participated, the prize scores being made by Mrs. Tuohey and Mr. Brewis. There were also music and refreshments to round out a most enjoyable social function.

W. H. Morris is busy this week posting up the Victory Loan posters and handing out the literature, to say nothing of writing up an occasional application. Sirdar took $5000 of these bonds a year ago, and it wont be for want of effort if Billy don't equal that showing this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cameron got away a few days ago on a trip to California, where they will spend most of the winter with her sister, Mrs. Ryck-

Proportional Representation ---No. 4

Opponents of the adoption of the Proportional Representation system in connection with parliamentary, legislative and municipal elections, to which attention has been devoted in this series of articles, urge:

1. It is too complicated for the voters to understand.

The following was the percentage of spoiled ballots in some elections recently held under the P.R. system:

Sligo Municipal election: Votes cast, 2,251; spoiled ballots, 43. Of this latter number, 24 only were attributable to the new system, whilst 19 were declared invalid for other reasons. The percentage of spoiled papers due to the P.R. system was, therefore, just over 1 per cent.

Edinburgh election: Votes cast, [illegible]97; invalid from all causes, 2,750; [illegible]tage of invalid votes, 2.2.

[illegible] method of counting the [illegible] too elaborate and the process [illegible]es too long.

The following comments from [illegible] P.R. has been tried may [illegible] indicative of feeling on [illegible]

[illegible]: The returning officer [illegible]ounted no fewer than [illegible] spread over seven elec[illegible] of the city.

[illegible]: It took 2¾ times as [illegible] ballots as under the [illegible]

[illegible]: It took 6¼ hours [illegible] ballots.

[illegible] election in Sligo, "The [illegible] of that city says: "The [illegible]ystem has justified its adoption. We [illegible] it work; we saw its simplicity. We saw its unerring honesty to the [illegible] . . . It is as [illegible] it is a big im[illegible] it is absolutely fair. [illegible] It is very plain, very simple."

[illegible] three days [illegible] the bal[illegible] 36 days left [illegible] Government to [illegible] Parliament, [illegible] never takes [illegible] secures [illegible]

[illegible] selected as returning officers?

3. It divides the electorate into groups and fosters group feeling.

Is not group feeling more apt to be inflamed by lack of adequate representation? In cities where the ward system prevails, this same group or sectional feeling is cultivated, whereas under P.R. the ward system can be done away with while at the same time making adequate provision that minorities can secure their proportionate representation in the Council.

4. P.R., by giving complete representation to the people, will weaken government and make it unstable.

This criticism is not borne out by experience where P.R. has been tried. The strength and stability of a democratic executive depend upon two factors—its personnel and its ability to interpret the will of the people. P.R. tends to strengthen the personnel. M. Georges Lorand, the well-known Belgian M.P., states that under P.R. not only were all parties represented in Parliament, but "they were represented by their ablest men and leaders, whilst under the former majority system prominent men passed half their lives outside the House. Parliamentary life has consequently gained in authority." "Perhaps the principal benefit of P.R.," he adds, "has been that political life, which has been intensified everywhere, has also been purified, the weapons employed being generally more courteous and more dignified."

Further, a democratic government will be stable if it interprets the will of the people correctly, and P.R., by making our public bodies completely representative of the people, places in the hands of governments a more effective instrument for ascertaining what that will is. This explains why P.R. has rendered government in Belgium stable.

There are many other objections advanced against Proportional Representation, but these are the chief ones, and certainly they do not hold against the manifest fairness of the P.R. method to all people in the election of their representatives.

As pointed out in the first of these articles, the principle of Proportional Representation has now been endorsed in Canada by the National Liberal Convention, the Great War Veterans' Association, the Canadian Council of Agriculture, the Labor party, Social Service Councils, and numerous other reform organizations. It was endorsed by the recent Industrial Conference at Ottawa, and the Government has announced its intention of having an exhaustive inquiry made with a view to its adoption in Federal Parliamentary elections.

People everywhere should, therefore, embrace every opportunity that presents itself to study the question and become as fully informed as possible in regard to it, as it is practically a certainty that it will be adopted in Canada in the not distant future. It is to encourage such closer study that this series of articles has been written.

Had a Very Bad Attack OF Bowel Complaint IT WAS CURED BY DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

Any one suffering from bowel complaints such as diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the stomach, summer complaint, etc., will find that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will give quicker and more permanent relief than any other remedy on the market today.

This old tried and proven medicine has been on the market for the past 74 years. You don't experiment when you buy it. Surely the test of time proves this.

Mrs. Daniel Hartwick, Mountain Grove, Ont., writes: "I used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and have found that it is a good remedy. When my little girl was 2½ years old she had a very bad attack of bowel complaint. Nothing prescribed by the doctor seemed to do her any good. She got worse, until we thought we would lose her. I got a bottle of 'Dr. Fowler's,' and she soon found relief. Everyone who has children should not be without it in their home.

Worms, however generated, are found in the digestive tracts, where they set up disturbances detrimental to the health of the child. There can be no comfort for the little ones until the hurtful intruders have been expelled. No better preparation for this purpose can be had than Miller's Worm Powders. They will immediately destroy the worms and correct the conditions that were favorable to their existence.

Missed a Mixup

An amusing incident in which the chauffeurs of M. Clemenceau and M. Millerand, the Governor-General of Alsace-Lorraine, played the principal parts, occurred recently in Paris. The chauffeurs were driving their distinguished employers through one of the main thoroughfares of Paris the other day, when in some way they nearly collided. Both drivers were convinced the other was to blame, and with much gesticulation began to abuse each other volubly. An unpleasant scene was developing when the chauffeurs recognized that the men they were driving were saluting each other from the carriage windows with every mark of amity and profound respect. The drivers' quarrel terminated abruptly, and with a superb air of dignified indifference they [illegible]

Natural Salt Beds in Alberta

Provincial Government Developing Immense Deposits Near Fort McMurray

Drilling for salt at Fort McMurray, Alberta, has just been commenced, according to an official of the Department of Mines.

An outfit, with seven men, has just been sent in by the provincial government. The deposit underlays the town of Fort McMurray, so is feasible from the transportation standpoint.

According to previous investigations, there is a bed 180 feet deep, lying 480 feet under the surface. Professor Allan, of Alberta, was sent in by the provincial government a couple of months ago, and he reported very favorably.

It is not decided whether the government will mine salt, supposing everything is as expected, or whether it will turn the work over to a company.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA

Is Caused By Thin, Watery Blood and Cured By Enriching the Blood

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or in the face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The cause being the same, the cure to be effective must be the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but you can only cure the trouble by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose we know of no medicine that can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich blood and thus act as the most efficient of nerve tonics. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and see how speedily you will be restored to good health.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Closing In On The Bolsheviki Forces

London.—In official quarters here it is declared that General Yudenitch, commander of the northwestern Russian force advancing on Petrograd, is working in close understanding with Admiral Kolchak, head of the all-Russian government, and General Denikine in a combined effort against the Bolshevik armies in Siberia, southern Russia and on the northwestern front.

General Yudenitch's troops are fully equipped now by the allies, with whom the general is in constant touch. He, as well as General Denikine and Admiral Kolchak, it is declared, has consistently rejected all overtures from Germany and maintained their connection with the allies.

In connection with the report from Germany that Great Britain had invited Germany to co-operate in the coercion of Soviet Russia, the correspondent of the Associated Press learns that a communication of this nature was made to Germany by the peace conference.

Word of the request to Germany to participate in a blockade of Soviet Russia came first from Berlin, and later was followed by reports from neutral states intimating that they, too, had been requested to join in a blockade. No definite announcement of such contemplated measures had, however, been made from Paris or London, causing adverse newspaper comment. It was stated in Paris that the United States did not join with the entente powers in asking Germany to co-operate in such a blockade.

Food in Storage in Dominion

Ottawa.—The advance survey of stocks of food commodities in storage throughout the country published monthly by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows a substantial increase.

There are close to 19,000,000 more pounds of foodstuffs on hand than a month ago, the chief increase being in cheese, sweet pickled pork and pork in process of cure. Frozen beef also shows a considerable advance.

Want Stamped Cheques

Winnipeg.—The Federal Government is being asked to arrange for an issue of cheques for the use of all chartered banks which will bear the two-cent stamp.

Canadians Anxious To Come Home

Great Britain Is No Place for the Holiday-Maker at Present

Ottawa.—The Department of Immigration and Colonization has received by cable a warning from England that there are thousands of Canadians on the other side anxious to come home, but unable to secure return passage for at least six months. It is said that this situation is being accentuated by the arrival of visitors from Canada. When the cable was sent from London rationing had been resorted to. The weekly allowance was: Butter, 1 ounce; sugar, six ounces; coal, 100 pounds; meats, 40 cents' worth.

Canadians who contemplate a visit to the mother country during the next few months should take into consideration the impossibility of returning within a few weeks after arrival there.

Land For Soldiers

2,700 Quarter-Sections In All for Sale By Public Auction This Fall

Ottawa.—Through the intervention of the Soldier Settlement Board, school lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, aggregating 432,000 acres, have been withheld from sale by auction, in order to be made available for settlement by returned soldiers. Arrangements have been completed to advertize these lands, 2,700 quarter-sections in all, for sale by public auction this fall. The lands are situated in the Winnipeg, Brandon, Ashern and St. Rose de Lac districts in Manitoba, and the Canora, Wadena, Prince Albert and Wakaw districts in Saskatchewan.

Want Prohibition in France

Paris.—The fight against alcohol will be a leading plank of the national platform in the forthcoming elections. Ministers are demanding the absolute suppression of alcohol, and the walls of Paris and the larger cities are already placarded with these demands, and pamphlets and posters have been mailed by the hundred thousand to hotels and individuals in the provinces.

"If France does not suppress alcohol, alcohol will suppress France," the posters proclaim in huge characters, and add, "Three million individuals live upon the traffic of alcohol; thirty-five million suffer and die from it."

R.N.W.M.P. Headquarters to Go East

Ottawa.—On a bill amalgamating the Dominion and the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, Sir James Lougheed in the senate stated that the headquarters of the organization would likely be in Ottawa, but a large portion of the force would be continued west of the lakes. Senator Casgrain asked if they could be put on trains and brought east to serve in case of riot.

Sir James: They will be a mobile body.

The bill was given a second reading.

Prohibition Enforcement Bill Signed

Washington.—The prohibition enforcement bill was signed by Vice-President Marshall and Speaker Gillette for immediate transmission to President Wilson. The President will have ten days from the time it reaches the White House to sign it. Announcement has been made at the White House that the bill would be referred to Attorney-General Palmer for an opinion as to its constitutionality before any executive action was taken.

Clemenceau Ministry Is Sustained

By Large Majority on Chronological Order of Elections

Paris.—The Clemenceau ministry was sustained in the Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 324 to 132. The premier thus victoriously emerged from the bitterest and best organized assault which the ministry has ever faced, the chamber adopting the cabinet's policy on the chronological order of the elections, placing the legislative elections first, on November 16, and the senatorial and municipal elections in that order.

For the first time, Aristide Briand, the former premier, came out openly in leading the opposition forces, but M. Clemenceau's majority was the largest he had ever received when the question of confidence was presented.

Reds a Menace to U.S.

Senator Poindexter Says Measures Necessary Against Revolution

Washington.—"The United States government is in grave danger from the movement of international revolutionists, and it may fall unless vigorous measures of defence are taken now," Senator Poindexter, Washington, declared in the senate.

"There are revolutionary interests in this country," Poindexter said, "and their object is the overthrow of the government and the seizure of private property. There is no doubt of the existence of that condition."

Check for the Consumer

Ottawa.—New regulations governing the lobster packing industry of the Maritime Provinces are provided for in an amendment to the Meat and Canned Foods Act, of which notice has been given by the government. Provision is also made for the correct labelling of all cans of fish or shell fish imported into Canada, and other particulars, including weight of contents, place of origin, and the names of the packers, and also of the importer.

French Want Canadian Houses

London.—The secretary of the Export Association of Canada states that the association is consulting with the ministry of health for a supply of ready-made houses on the Canadian plan, in connection with the new government housing scheme, and a definite decision may be expected within a few weeks. There is a growing demand for these houses from France.

C.M.A. Extending Organization

Toronto.—In pursuance of an intensive policy of organization, and with the object of permitting greater co-operation among members more or less closely located the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has divided the Dominion into five divisions, each of which will have a separate chairman, vice-chairman and executive.

Prince Rupert, B.C.—Thirteen carloads of paper made at Ocean Falls and consigned to the New York Times, are on their way east from Prince Rupert. Demand Surrender Of German Vessels

Wants a Pool to Indemnify Allies

French Senate Adopts Resolution Asking for Further Disarmament

Paris.—The senate adopted the resolution, which has already been passed by the Chamber of Deputies, asking the government to suggest to the allies further measures for the disarmament of Germany, and another resolution suggesting that France be given a prior claim in the distribution of repatriation payments made by the Germans.

The Chamber adopted a resolution which, after expressing confidence in the spirit of equity and justice of the allied and associated powers, asks the French government to negotiate with them for the establishment of a common pool between the allies to indemnify the participants in the great war.

Huns Are in a Quandary

Germans Are Not Keen on Blockade of Russ. Soviets

Berlin.—Suggestions from the entente that Germany join in the blockade of Soviet Russia, have not yet been officially considered by the German cabinet, but have inspired a statement indicating the government's answer will neither be an unconditional refusal nor an indication of assent. It is said that the Germans will suggest the installation of an international commission to deliberate on the proposition which unquestionably found Germany unprepared and places her in a quandary.

Hauling Wheat Across the Line

Winnipeg.—It is reported here in grain circles that farmers in Manitoba and Saskatchewan to a distance of 40 and 50 miles north of the international boundary line, are this fall hauling large quantities of wheat across to the United States market points and receiving 60 cents or 70 cents more a bushel than it would be possible if they sold their wheat in Canada.

This international trade has assumed such proportions that a number of elevators located at southern points in the two provinces are being closed up as the amount of business they are receiving does not warrant the expense of keeping them open.

Pensions Laws Give Little Complaint

Winnipeg. — Lieut.-Colonel John Thompson, chairman of the Pensions Board, Ottawa, and Major Stanley Corostine, commissioner, arrived in Winnipeg for a routine inspection of the district pensions office here. The commissioners have inspected the district pensions offices from Victoria, B.C., to Winnipeg, and report that there was very little complaint as to the manner in which the pensions law was administered in the West. In practically all instances they found that a proper explanation of the regulations eliminated the reasons brought forward for the complaints.

Riga More Normal

Helsingfors.—Conditions are becoming more normal in Riga following the German Russian attempt to capture the city, it is stated in advices received here.

Most of the newspapers are again appearing. Supplies are short, however, and prices of commodities are soaring.

Valuable Salmon Stock

Prince Rupert, B.C.—The Skeena River salmon pack has been completed, and the season's value is set at $4,027,900. The sockeye pack was a good deal larger than usual, the total going 180,000 cases, which at $15 a case is valued at $2,700,000.

British Land Reinforcements

Constantinople. — Two British transports have landed reinforcements on the Turkish Asiatic coast for the British contingent operating against the rebels.

Paris.—The supreme council approved the text of a notification to be addressed to the neutral powers, which will be asked to join the League of Nations, setting forth the conditions under which they may adhere to the covenant of the league.

The council also approved the draft note to be sent to Germany demanding the surrender to the allied and associated powers of German ships which were turned over during the war to companies in the Netherlands, and which are at present in German ports. The note declares that the sales are void because of their irregularity. Another draft note to Germany, regarding German representations on the subject of the territory of Memel, on the eastern Baltic frontier of Germany, declares that the allies decline to discuss the destiny of Memel with Germany which renounced its rights over this territory by the treaty of Versailles. The solution of this question, it is stated, concerns only the allied and associated powers.

No Chance For Profiteers

British Courts Take Prompt Action to Regulate Prices

London.—Following are typical examples of the decisions of the profiteering committees this week:

At Manchester the committee held that 20 per cent. too much profit was charged to Prof. Tout, of Manchester University, for suits for his sons. Twenty-five per cent. too much profit was charged also on a pair of trousers. Another firm of military tailors was order to refund 16 pense to a purchaser of a medal bar bought for two shillings. Many complaints have been postponed for further enquiries.

One alleged flaw in the Profiteering Act is that the onus of complaint is laid upon the purchaser, which obviously involves considerable trouble in the recovery of overcharges in individual payments. A church bazaar notice at Wimbledon significantly states that no article will be sold above shop prices.

May Abandon U.S. Tour

London.—It is quite possible that the visit of the Prince of Wales to the United States may be abandoned, owing to President Wilson's continued illness, says the Daily Mail. The King has been in communication with the Prince concerning this possibility, and the question will probably be decided soon. If the Prince does not go to the United States, it is understood that he will stay a somewhat longer period in Canada.
