Fair Day Effort Will Net $125

The October meeting of Creston Women's Institute was featured by a timely adbress by Dr. Henderson on the care of infants between the ages of two and ten years. The address was brief but thorough and practical and was thoroughly appreciated by the fairly large turnout of members. The session was curtailed due to the fact that the hall was required for the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid supper, and a complete report on the fair day dining hall and banquet effort was not submitted. From the returns in the treasurer's hands, however, it is quite safe to predict that at least $125 will be clear profit on the undertaking. Mrs. Hamilton the librarian submitted a report showing 185 books on the library shelves, and it was decided that members should answer roll call at the November meeting and give the name and author of a book they would like to see added to the collection at the library. Special attention is drawn to the date of the November meeting which is to be held on Saturday afternoon, November 1st. This is arranged so that ample time will elapse between the meeting and the W.I. whist and dance on the 11th for committees that will be named at the next session to do the work required to successfully stage the entertainment. The delgates who go to the convention at Nakusp next week will report on the gathering at the November meeting. A report on the drive Capts. Downs and Hamilton and their assistants are making for new members will appear next week.

Lister

Lister public school district was regularly organized at a ratepayers meeting on Thursday night, at which the following trustees were elected: J. McGee, D. Chalmers and F. E. Bagshow. The school site of two acres has already been slashed and burned and will be stumped in a few days following which the carpenters will get busy on the schoolhouse, lumber being already on the ground.

The new bunkhouse, which provides accommodation for another 30 men, is completed, and already almost enough men have come in to fill up the increased house and sleeping room. Today there are 105 men in camp, 50 of whom are married men, and many of them with their wives here with them.

Thursday last was payday, and the camp was favored with a business call from bank managers Allan and Bennett of Creston, both of whom had quite a busy day of it taking deposits. The September pay was in the neighborhood of $8000.

Mrs. E. H. McPhee of Cranbrook is a Lister visitor at present, the guest of Mrs. S. Coop, who had her visitor enjoying the sights of Creston on Friday.

Just now the crew of carpenters are at work on a number of permanent houses. These are five and six room structures that are being built so as to be readily movable to their permanent locations as soon as these latter are ready to be taken possession of. Burning was in progress on Friday on another sixty-acre tract.

Lister now has telephone connection with all Valley points, the phone to the store now being in operation. As soon as another instrument is available it will be installed in the office here.

The [illegible] will not back for scholars, as a census of scholars available taken at the Thursday night meeting showed at least 24 of them already in camp, a dozen of which are at present attending the Huscroft school.

The opening up of the new bunkhouse has necessitated more equipment at the cookhouse, and Chef Eagle is now provided with two 7-foot ranges whereon to manufacture the culinary supplies. Mr. Eagle left this week on a short holiday at Vancouver, and in his absence H. Mansfield is mixing the mulligan.

E. Kenyon, storekeeper, is another temporary absentee. He is visiting Nelson friends for a few days. Truck driver, J. Bishop, had a few days leave last week to see the sights at Cranbrook fair.

Another camp is due to be opened this month. It will be on section 7, and there will be accommodation at it for 25 men. The usual line of clearing operations will be carried on, and the camp will be equipped similar to the headquarters layout here.

Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of agriculture, and Hon. J. H. King, minister of works, were visitors here on Monday of last week. Both were extremely well pleased with the development that has been accomplished in so short a time. Mr. Barrow put in the whole day here, and after a thorough inspection went away more than satisfied that Lister will prove the best all round soldier settlement area in all B.C.

Kitchener

Scott Price was a business visitor at Spokane a few days last week. His sister, who has been his guest for the past few weeks, is returning to that city in a few days.

Geo. Young had the district mining engineer, Mr. Langley of Revelstoke, in here last week, looking over some of the claims Mr. Young has been developing in this section.

It is likely that Jud Fulmer, the Cranbrook Sash & Door Co. blacksmith, will move his family from Creston to reside here, at least for the winter.

Miss Rutledge, teacher, spent the week-end with friends at Nelson. The school now has an attendance of 22 pupils. There is talk of buying a piano for it, which would come handy for entertainments as well as school work.

Kitchener would not appear to be very long on religion these times. Elder Boadway made the trip here for service a couple of Sundays ago and had no turnout at all.

Mrs. Shiev, who has been with her sister, Mrs. Shotton, at the Paulson meadows for a few weeks, left for her home in Saskatchewan last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Cameron, who have been residents here since early in the spring, moved to Creston on Wednesday last, where he has secured a position with F. Belanger.

Eric Hanson is a visitor at Nelson this week. After a couple of months holidays Billy Johnson is again back in charge of his section crew, which was in charge of Mr. Hanson during his vacation.

Contractor Hunt has nine men at work on his new rord building at Goat River Crossing and if the prevailing fine weather continues will likely complete the work this month.

Victory Loan 1919

At the meeting on Tuesday night to organize for the 1919 Victory Loan drive in the Creston Valley, a committee of three was named, with power to add. The committee is Dr. Henderson, S. A. Speers and C. F. Hayes, the former being chairman and the latter secretary. The committee is meeting today to appoint canvassers and arrange the other details of the effort. The Valley's quota has not been fixed as yet, but it is liable to be $50,000. Last year $48,000 of the 1919 loan was taken up locally.

Since Organizing Collected $4000

Creston Valley Red Cross Society was favored with rather a small turnout for the annual meeting or Tuesday afternoon, at which the President, Mrs. McMurtrie presided. Reports covering the year just closed were submitted and adopted, as well as a statement dealing with the work of the organization since its inception in the fall of 1914, all of which will appear next week. With the exception of some wool all the materials the society had on hand have been sold, and the ladies will be pleased to part company with the stock of wool on hand to anyone desiring any of it. The memberships do not expire until next march, and it was decided to keep the society in existance until that time, Mrs. Mallandaine being prevailed upon to act as president on Mrs. McMurtrie declining further honor of the sort, and Mrs. Cherrington was likewise persuaded to continue as secretary-treasurer. During its four and a half years labor the society gathered in almost $4000.

Wynndel

Land clearing operations are prominent in Wynndel activities this month At the Bingheim ranch these are going on a considerable scale, Sam Moon is busy on four acres recently purchased from Major Mallandaine, and Joe Wigen is also getting a little more land ready for berry planting.

P. Andestad left the early part of the week on a trip to Letnbridge and other Alberta points.

John and Harry Bathie along with some Creston hunters are spending the week in the hills back of Canyon in quest of deer.

Douglas and Miss Butterfield were visitiors with Nelson friends the latter part of the week.

Apparently there is small demand for coke these days. The C.P.R. has its siding here pretty well filled with empty coke cars, and there are also a lot of them on the sidings at Creston and Sirdar.

John Huscroft has had a crew busy at his camp here baling hay for the Stockbreeders' Association, which is being shippeb to Erickson and Canyon.

Major Mallandaine of Creston was a visitor here one day last week at the Uri ranch, where he was laying out the plans for the overhead irrigation system that is likely to be installed on the Uri place this fall.

Creston Girl Weds

The Perth (Ont.) Expositor of Sept. 24th, contained the following mention of the marriage of Miss Olive Gilpin, until lately a resident of Creston:

A very quiet wedding took place in Perth on September 17th at the home of Mrs. Gilpin, Gore street west, when her daughter, Miss Olive was united in marriage to Mr. J. A. Bridge of Eganville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. Clayton before only the immediate relatives. The couple were unattended. The bride looked very charming and was dressed in georgette over white satin and carried a boquet of white asters. At five p.m. the bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her cousin, Mr. Thomas Ireton of Drummond Centre, who gave her away. After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served in the dining room The happy couple then took the train for Renfrew, Eganville and westeren points and on their return will reside in Perth. Their many friends join in wishing them a long and happy life together.

Erickson

Mrs. M R. and Miss Jeanne Palmer were week-end visitors with friends in Spokane.

R. Lamont had a Nelson surveyor with his staff here the fore part of the month subdividing his quite extensive holdings here into five acre tracts. He looks for a healthy demand for land next spring.

The A. Lode ranch of ten acres is reported sold under the soldier loan scheme to John Adrew, who gets possession this fall. W. V. Jackson has had the place leased the last two years.

Penson & Willson, the local contractors, are having a busy time finishing up their house building contracts while the weather is right. Last week they started on the new home Jas. Adlard is building in Creston.

Erickson ranchers are expecting their allotment of flats hay in by carloads this week from Duck Creek. The Stockbreeders' Association is selling it at $18 a ton f.o.b. here, baled.

During his trip to Cranbrook fair early in the month W. V. Jackson secured a prize winning bird for his flock of Rose comb Rhode Island Reds. The cockerel was the red ticket bird in his class and also the best male at the show in competition with all breeds. The bird was shown by a Fernie fancier and is certainly a dandy.

Canyon City

All doubt as to the department's intention to proceed with the erection of the new high level bridge disappears with the call for tenders for the erection of the two concrete piers. Tenders are to be in by Monday, and the work must be finished by the end of November.

J. G. Hodge, who came in here from Macleod early in the spring, taking a lease of the John Huscroft ranch, has left these parts, and has moved to somewhere in Idaho.

The Huscroft school is crowded to capacity these days. About a dozen of the children from Lister are attending there, and desk room is scarce;

W. C. Cleave has commenced work on the erection of the new frame house on the land purchased by Geo. Strong last spring.

An assorted crowd of Duck Creek and Creston hunters are in the hills here this week. Very little venison has been taken so far, but it is a wonder some bears are not shot, as these animals are reported unusually numerous this summer and fall.

October Session Board of Trade

The meeting of the Creston board of trade on Tuesday night, attracted an attendance of seventeen members, with presidedt Constable presiding. The membership was brought up to a total of 42 by the election of Col. Lister full board membership.

The session was largely taken up with business of winding up affairs connected with the visit of the Nelson business men here on fair day. The banquet committee's report was accepted and an order made that the expense therewith be met by a pro rata levy on the board members, with C. B. Garland selected as financial agent. Warm appreciation was expressed of the good work of the Women's Institute not only for seaying such an excellent banquet spread, but also for their timely work in serving meals on fair day and and on Sunday. Without this extra eating accommodation it was pointed ont that many of the visitors would have had trouble in getting meals. The secretary will convey the board's thanks to the W.I. by formal letter.

The board's fall fair committee was similarly remembered for their successful effort in staging the fruit and vegetable exhibit at the Cranbrook fair. The prize winnings at Cranbrook along with the sale of the plate exhibits is expected to net the board's treasury almost $.00.

Chairman Constable of the Reclamation committee reported fully on the investigation federal drainage expert Drake and his assistant, Mr. Burley made of Kootenay flats both in B.C. and Idaho on Sept. 15th and 16th. Both were impressed with the wonderful possibilities of the area were it brought under cultivating, and Mr. Drake had definitely assured that were the lands turned over to the Dominion under the Soldier Settlement Act Ottawa would undertake to determine feasibility of project, and proceed with drainage were reclamation found possible. Mr. Drake also intimated that steps had already been taken to have Washington appoint a committee of drainage engineers to work in conjunction with a like engineers' commission from Canada to search out and set in order the information that had already been obtained in connection with reclamation so as to be able to make a definite start on the work yet remaining to be done if Ottawa is empowered to proceed with the work. On features of the project in which the Dominion government is concerned something definite should be reported at next meetiug.

The irrigation committee advised that the Arrow Creek survey report is still unfinished. It seems that a few days work are necessary on the outside work and after that a month will be required to complete the office work. At present all this is being allowed to stand. The board will write water rights comptroller Cleveland urging that the matter be finished up at once and a report thereon supplied at the very earliest possible date.

Simple Way to Get "Pep," To Be Put Right On Your Feet

When a man has lost ambition to "dig in" and stay at things—when he complains of headache, fullness in the right side, pains in the shoulder blade—it's purely a case of "Liver."

These symptoms invariably indicate a clogged, inactive liver. The body can't get rid of its wastes, and the whole system is half paralyzed.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the liver into activity in one night. Being a mild vegetable laxative, they produce results in a few hours. The bilious headache and constipation are cured, spirits rise, complexion clears, animation returns. Nothing in the calendar so efficient for that tired, lazy feeling as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Very mild, don't interfere with work, invariably do lots of good. Try a 25c box, all dealers.

Filling His Own Shoes

For Ruggles was naturally convinced that Lorenz had taken advantage of his early confidence to go to work deliberately to get his promotion away from him. Lorenz would probably never have thought of trying for the managership of the Vienna branch had he not learned from Ruggles of the ready response to his application. Thereafter, Lorenz had been working quietly for his own preferment, advancing his claims of capacity as a native of Vienna and a man thoroughly acquainted from previous experience with the retail shoe trade of that city. Ruggles thought of Lorenz's recent absence. Without doubt he had gone to London to advance his application in person to the general manager, who had his headquarters there, for the Walkeasy Shoe Company had stores in most of the leading cities of the British Isles.

But that which ate like acid into Ruggles's soul was the fact that the company should not have given him due notice that his own claims were being contested. The company had not played fair, and for Ruggles to feel that the company had not played fair was akin to the conviction of an ardent patriot that his country had betrayed him. To feel that the Walkeasy Shoe Company could have been guilty of broken faith was outrageous, almost sacrilegious, yet how could it be regarded otherwise? [illegible] which it had taken in this [illegible] to Ruggles to be de[illegible] and an American, [illegible] saturnine [illegible] rather tortuous a [illegible] of shoes, had [illegible] million [illegible] if [illegible] city [illegible] the [illegible] as a [illegible] —an insignificant little shoe clerk, the limit of whose importance in the social scheme of things was to unlace and remove muddy shoes from feet not always tidy, and to smile into the faces of the proletariat.

For the first time in his life he was seized with a loathing of his occupation. Darthea was right; Miss Challand was right; Ruth was right. It was a rotten, humiliating job! He wondered that he had never seen it in this way before. It did not occur to him that he had not done so because he had always regarded the business in its larger light—as a great commercial affair of which he was a humble but necessary unit. A private soldier, an orderly, cleaning the boots of his superior on active service, does not think of himself as a valet; he thinks of himself as a soldier. In currying a horse, he does not think of himself as a groom; he thinks of himself as a soldier, and his self-respect is not impaired. Ruggles had thought of himself as a soldier, a private in the invading army of American trade. He was not the servant of the public to whom he sold shoes; he was not the servant of the great industrial organization which was destined to carry its country's flag to where East becomes West and West East. He was nobody's servant. He was an enlisted man in the great army of American commerce, and as such entitled to his chevrons.

It never entered Ruggles's head to go to Ruth in his distress. Neither did he seriously consider an appeal to Mr. Downing. A private soldier with a sense of wrong might look to his colonel for redress, but he would scarcely think of trying to carry the matter to his king or president or minister or secretary of war. Had Dick Downing been in Europe, Ruggles might have turned to him for counsel, but Dick was in America. However, that was not the point. Ruggles did not want the benefit of personal influence from the seats of the mighty. He wanted merely a square deal from the company as a company. He considered his relations with the Downings—especially after his call on Ruth—as social rather than professional, so far as his humble part was concerned. He wanted no crumbs falling from the tables of the rich. All he wanted was a square deal!

It is possible that if Ruggles had not gone to Ruth for advice in regard to his personal affairs, he might have taken his grievance in both hands and shown it to Mr. Downing, Senior, in which case it is most probable that his wrongs would have been investigated and justice done. Mr. Downing had lost his health in the examining of just such conditions, and was cheerfully prepared to die in the same harness. But Ruggles could not do that. Mr. Downing was Mr. Downing, the president of the company and a great man, but the company that he administered was far greater than its chief executive. It was the company that was responsible to him for the injustice done; not Mr. Downing or Ruth or Dick. The Downings had done their best to make the company a good, honest company, to employees as well as clients, and if they had failed it was not their fault, but that of their unworthy stewards. Ruggles felt that his quarrel was no with the Downings, but with the company, and he was prepared to fight it out as such. He felt that the Downings had been deceived in their organization as much as he.

To go to Ruth or Mr. Downing [illegible] was quite impossible. It smacked too much of boot-licking and while Ruggles was willing and ready to do almost anything with a pair of boots, he drew the line at the [illegible] process. Besides, after the [illegible] and comfort which Ruth had [illegible] him, Ruggles could not bear to [illegible] up to her the company in [illegible] idiotic.

It [illegible] to Ruggles that he had [illegible] his allegiance to an octopus, a [illegible] grinding machine of [illegible] be worn ragged and flung on [illegible] heap. There was his [illegible] had earned [illegible] the company, and who [illegible] over two hundred dollars a month. Damn the company! Curse the company! Ruggles grabbed up his hat and rushed out. [illegible] direct, he wandered [illegible]

then went back to his room and to bed. He would work no longer for any greedy, soulless, treacherous combination of liars which could so treat a man! He determined to throw up his job the following day, draw the three thousand and odd francs which represented the savings of many years and which was deposited in a French bank, then take the first steamer for New York, where he would hunt up some work of an entirely different character.

Ruggles, in spite of his youth and glowing health, slept badly that night. His dreams were ugly and confused. He thought that Lorenz, with the face of a rat (suggested perhaps by the mouse episode), was leaning over his bed and trying to gnaw his feet. He struck at him in his sleep and knocked over his table-de-nuit. About dawn he fell into a heavy, sluggish sleep and did not awake until nine o'clock. Then he got up, took his sponge-bath, dressed with care, and walked slowly down into Paris. Before going to the store, he called at the bank, drew out his balance, and told the cashier that he was going away.

His mood had changed in the last few hours, and he found himself, instead of being sad, in a state of savage, smouldering resentment. It had occurred to him that, besides Lorenz, the manager of the store, whom he had always considered a good friend, had acted treacherously. He must have known what Lorenz was up to, but he had failed to put Ruggles on his guard. Ruggles decided to tell Durand what he thought of him. He felt that he would enjoy an interview with Lorenz also, but reflected that the Austrian had probably left Paris for Vienna. His packing of the morning before would indicate immediate departure. This also explained his surly, inhospitable conduct. Ruggles reflected that Lorenz had felt that he had served him a dirty trick and was on the defensive.

"I'd like to meet him out on the road somewheres," said Ruggles to himself. "He may be twice my size, but I'll bet I could give him something besides shoes to think about for a couple of days. And that darn Durand, too."

In this opinion Ruggles was quite correct. Of stature he was perhaps a little beneath the medium size, but clean living and exercise had developed a frame which was solid of bone and muscle. He was also a very useful man with his fists, having gone in for boxing when living in New York, where he had belonged to the Y.M.C.A. and practiced nightly in the gymnasium.

It was about ten o'clock when he entered the store, where the first person on whom his eyes happened to fall was the young English surgeon of the British Red Cross, whom he had met the previous morning on the Avenue du Bois de Boulogne, and who was in the act of purchasing a pair of high hunting-boots. He did not see Ruggles, who, not wishing to disturb him, passed to the other side of the store, where he came upon the manager and Lorenz, standing at the door of the office engaged in conversation.

Ruggles's eyes, red-rimmed from lack of sleep, blazed up at the sight, and he could feel the blood pumping into his head. His mouth seemed suddenly to become hot and dry and his muscles tighten. He had no desire to make a scene, especially as there was a fair sprinkling of customers in the place for that early hour, and his years of training had made polite shop manners almost a second nature with him. But the sight of these two men who had so traitorously used him awakened in his system some quality long latent, and which now came boiling up and imperiously demanding expression.

Durand caught sight of Ruggles as he approached. Perhaps at the same time he saw trouble in the congested eyes, for the pink color faded from his sleek face. But he looked at Ruggles with cold disapproval.

"Why are you so late?" he demanded, in his excellent English. "We have had some customers who have been kept waiting."

"Oh, have you?" Ruggles answered. "Then what's the matter with Lorenz waiting on them?" And he glared belligerently at his enemy, whose saturnine face had become suddenly venomous. It suggested, in fact, the face of a rat, a large, combative, cornered rat, and his beady eyes glittered. Ruggles recalled his dream, which did not go far to help the situation.

"Mr. Lorenz is going away," said Durand. "He is going to Vienna to take the managership of our new store, which is to open this week."

"Oh, is he?" Ruggles's voice was ominously calm. "I guess that must be the job that was promised to me. How did the company happen to give it to Lorenz?"

French Military Plans

Paris.—A peace time army of 350,000 men and reduction of the term of military service from three years to one are recommended to the military committee of the chamber of deputies by Paul Demer, former minister of state. Under his plan 200,000 men would be called to the colors annually by conscription and 150,000 others recruited through voluntary enlistment.

This system would make the French army on a war footing total 4,000,000 men, divided into an active army of 1,300,000 men, 700,000 reservists and 2,000,000 territorials.

Will Attempt To Signal Mars

Building Huge Balloon for Communication With Far Away Planet

Omaha.—Leo Stevens, balloon instructor at Fort Omaha, announced that David Todd will attempt to communicate with the planet Mars this fall in a balloon to be constructed and piloted by Stevens. The balloon, to be the largest ever made, will ascend 50,000 feet, Stevens said.

Its capacity will be 140,000 feet. The balloon will be enabled to rise to the expected height, Stevens said, by use of an invention which divides the balloon into two compartments, the upper containing hydrogen gas and the lower fresh air.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

Belgian Embassy Issues A Denial

Belgian Minister Has Not Been Recalled From The Hague

London, England.—The Belgian Embassy in London has authorized a complete denial of the Berlin report that the Belgian Minister has been recalled from The Hague and the Dutch Minister from Brussels. It is explained that the return to their respective countries of Carton De Wiart and Van Vollenhoven is merely a coincidence.

The former is giving up his diplomatic work to resume his political career, and the future Dutch Minister, who is taking the place of the charge d'affaires, Van Vollenhoven, has been already nominated.

DREADED INFLUENZA

Medical Men Believe It Will Again Visit Canada This Autumn and Winter

There is a widespread belief among medical men that the epidemic of la grippe, or influenza, which swept over the world last year, will again appear in Canada during this autumn and coming winter. This dangerous trouble spares neither age nor sex, but it naturally finds its easiest victims among those who are run down in health, or those whose blood is weak and watery, and it is among the latter class in which the greatest number of fatalities occur. The surest way to prevent an attack of this dreaded trouble is to keep the blood rich and pure, and the safest and best way to do this is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

No reasonable precaution to avert an attack of influenza or la grippe should be spared. The disease itself is deadly, but its after-effects, among those who are spared, make the life of the victim one of constant misery. Ask almost any of those who have been attacked by influenza what their present condition of health is and most of them will answer: "Since I had the influenza I have never been fully well." This trouble leaves behind it a persistent weakness of the limbs, shortness of breath, bad digestion, palpitation of the heart, and a tired feeling after even slight exertion. This is due to the thin-blooded condition in which la grippe almost always leaves its victims after the fever and influenza have subsided. They are at the mercy of relapses and complications, often very serious. This condition will continue until the blood is built up again, and for the purpose of building up the blood and strengthening the nerves nothing can equal a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. From first to last dose these pills make new, rich blood, which reaches every organ and nerve in the body. Thus the lingering germs are driven out, and the weak, despondent victims of influenza are transformed into cheerful, healthy, happy men and women.

But better still, you can put yourself in a condition to resist an attack of influenza by enriching the blood through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and this, it seems, is the sensible thing to do at once.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Some men seem to expect Opportunity to drive up to the door and take them for a joy-ride.

Faultless in Preparation. — Unlike any other stomach regulator, Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are the result of long study of vegetable compounds calculated to stimulate the stomachic functions and maintain them at the normal condition. Years of use have proved their faultless character and established their excellent reputation. And this reputation they have maintained for years and will continue to maintain, for these pills must always stand at the head of the list of standard preparations.

Sheep And Swine Sale

No Charge for Transfer of Registration of Livestock

Edmonton, Alta.—An innovation in connection with the annual sale of sheep and swine to be held here October 22-23 by the Alberta Provincial Sheep and Swine Breeders' Associations, is that this year certificates of registration for livestock purchased will be forwarded to Ottawa, where the transfer to the new owner will be made free of charge.

The entries are numerous, and W. J. Stark declares that there is always a good demand for particularly good individuals, either sheep or swine, for the improvement of flocks and herds.

DEWS OF EVE

No More Gentle Than "Cascarets" for the Liver, Bowels

It is just as needless as it is dangerous to take violent or nasty cathartics. Nature provides no shock-absorbers for your liver and bowels against calomel, harsh pills, sickening oil and salts. Cascarets give quick relief without injury from Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Gases and Sick Headache. Cascarets work while you sleep, removing the toxins, poisons and sour, indigestible waste without griping or inconvenience. Cascarets regulate by strengthening the bowel muscles. They cost so little, too.

The 1919 Loan

Next year will be well advanced before Canada's main expenditures for war can be completed. Every dollar that can be raised for the Victory loan 1919 will be required.

Although hostilities ceased in 1918 the war expenses went on.

This is just as much a war year as last year was, as far as the money is concerned. Pressing liabilities incurred by the war and involving vast sums of money have to be cared for. The simplest and most profitable manner in which this can be done is for the people to provide the mouey themselves.

The Victory loan 1919 is entitled to just as much consideration as was given to its predecessors. It is up to loyal Canadian to do his utmost to make the new loan an overwhelming success. The continuance of the prosperity of the nation is wholly dependent upon it.

It was naturally to be expected trade depression in the Dominion would have followed the armistice but this was averted by the application of a large proportion of the last Victory loan as credits to Great Britain and our Allies for grain, dairy produce, fish, lumber and ships. These credits were absolutely necessary, and strictly good business. They must be continued. They are national re-investments. The debts will be paid eventually and in the meantime industrial and agricultural workers will be kept in busy and lucrative employment.

Cranbrook Fair Awards in Fruit

Below will be found the list of Creston growers who captured prizes at the Cranbrook fair early this month. The list will be interesting to our readers in that the provincial horticulturist in the Windermere country did the judging at Cranbrook, and in at least twenty sections he awarded the ptizes differently than they were placed at Creston fair on the same orchard product. These changes are not very noticeable in the box lots; only two changes were made in that department. These were in the Wagners where Jas. Cook was entirely eliminated and first prize given Jas. Adlard, while in the Ontarios the winners are reversed.

In the plates the changes are in wholesale fashion. In five of them both first and second are given to exhibitors whose fruit did not get a tick in the same variety at Creston, while in ten others one of the winners here had to make way for a different Creston exhibitor when the tickets were placed at Cranbrook. Transcendant crabs were the only line in which Creston did not capture first and second in the entire fruit division, a Mr. McCarthy of that town beating W. V. Jackson's winners here.

In the vegetable department Creston got a few prize tags on a limited showing, though Sam Moon's first prize plate of tomatoes at Creston was only good for a second away from home. Robt. Dodds got a first on both citron and watermelon. The awards:

In connection with the exhibit a word of thanks is due fruit inspector A. McL. Fletcher, and Mr. Marples of the experimental farm at Invermere, whose help in setting up the fruit display is much appreciated. The Cranbrook fair people availed themselves of the services of Mrs. H. B. Downs, who was installed as supervisor in the cooking class.

W. V. Jackson, who had charge of the exhibit, is sending out a statement to those directly interested, but finds he has a box of MacIntosh Reds for which no owner is in sight. Those who get statements are asked to at once check them and whoever is shy the box of Macs should notify Mr. Jackson immediately.

Everyone Who Bought Canada's Victory Bonds Made Money . . . . . .

EVERY one of the million and a half subscribers to Canada's Victory Bonds knows that he can sell them today for more than he paid for them.

Every one who bought Canada's Victory Bonds has received 5½ per cent. interest per annum—paid twice a year.

Over half a million Canadians who bought Canada's Victory Bonds on the instalment plan saved money that they would not otherwise have saved.

The guarantee back of Canada's Victory Bonds is the same as the guarantee back of a One Dollar or a Two Dollar bill. There is this difference, however, that you get interest on the Victory Bonds and you don't on the One or Two Dollar bill.

Canada's Victory Bonds will always be accepted as security for a loan.

Banks are ready to loan money on Canada's Victory Bonds.

Canada's Victory Bonds may be turned into cash at any time.

There is no other way in which you can invest your money with such absolute security—paying such a good rate of interest.

Canada will soon give her citizens an opportunity to buy Victory Bonds 1919. It will probably be the last chance to buy Canada's Victory Bonds on such favorable terms.

Prepare to buy as many Victory Bonds this time as you now wish you had been able to buy the last time

100 Competitors 80 Win Prizes

According to the official records Creston's 1919 fall fair had a few over 100 citizens who made entries. Due to the bad weather the day preceding the exhibition it is likely a few of these failed to get into town with the exhibits, though a run through the names would establish the fact that at least 90 had their goods entered for competition, and of these just over eighty were successful in obtaining at least one prize.

The tabulated statement that follows shows only the names of those who were fortunate enough to get in on the prize money. This information should be timely, showing as it does to what extent exhibitors were successful in comparison with the number of entries made. In total entries W. V. Jackson heads the list with 39 to his credit, while Mrs. E. N. Holmes is next with 33, and Geo. Cartwright third at 29.

In the matter of prizes obtained in proportion to goods shown both Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cook are well to the fore, the latter with a showing of 14 firsts and 4 seconds on 21 entries, Mr. Cook's figures are six firsts and four seconds on eleven entries. Mrs. C. O. Rodgers is another who deserves mention in this connection with 7 firsts nnd 4 seconds on 13 entries, while Miss Hazel Andrew has three firsts and a second on five entries, while Mrs. Compton made a perfect score with two firsts on as many entries. Another good showing is by Jas. Maxwell with four firsts and a seond on six chances. Those entitled to receive prize money are:

Proportional Representation —No. 2

In last week's article on the above subject some of the inequalities of our present system of electing representatives to public office were pointed out, the growth of the P.R. method of election noted, and one or two principles underlying that method outlined. In conclusion it was stated that an endeavor would be made to explain the method of voting and election in this week's article.

First of all, let it be repeated and emphasized that it is the essence of representative government that every voter should be represented in the representative assembly. If a considerable proportion of the electorate come to feel that they have no voice in the Government, the distance is short to that dangerous state of mind which regards political processes as futile and hopeless. The world today, Canada included, requires to guard against this.

The theory of Proportional Representation is that each considerable party or group of opinion should be represented in parliament, or legislature, or municipal council, in proportion to its voting strength—that majorities may rule and minorities be heard. How does Proportional Representation put this theory into practice? The method used is what is known as the transferable vote.

When the ballot with the list of candidates for an office, say a municipal council, is presented, the elector, instead of marking "X" after his choice, or choices if more than one is to be elected, as at present, votes as follows:

(a) By placing the figure 1 after his favorite candidate. The voter may also:

(c) Place the figure 3 after his third choice, and so on, numbering as many candidates as he pleases in the order of his preference, and may [illegible] his preference for a [illegible] than are [illegible]

[illegible] election, [illegible] but only a [illegible] votes cast, [illegible] is the [illegible] required to [illegible] in a [illegible] that [illegible] if he [illegible] be [illegible]

[illegible] will be [illegible]

cure a clear majority. In a two-member constituency, a candidate who obtains one more than a third would be elected, for only two candidates can each poll more than a third. If three members are to be elected, it would take one more vote than a fourth of the votes cast to ensure election.

This quota necessary to election is, therefore, found by dividing the total number of votes cast by one more than the number of representatives to be elected and adding one. For example, assuming that there are three candidates to be elected, and the total vote cast was 620. The latter figure divided by four (that is, one more than the number to be elected) gives 155, and this, plus one, gives 156, which would be the quota, and as not more than three candidates could secure that number, regardless of how many might be in the field, those three would be elected.

The next question is: How are the votes counted and transferred?

(b) The quota is ascertained in the manner outlined above.

(c) Candidates, if any, who have received the quota, or more than the quota, are declared elected.

(d) Surplus votes of those candidates who have received more than their quota are transferred, in strict proportions, to the unelected candidates indicated as the next preferences by the voters (that is, candidates having the figure 2 opposite their names).

(e) Any further candidates who, as the result of such transfer of second preferences, have received the necessary quota are declared elected.

(f) The candidates lowest on the poll are then eliminated one after another, and the votes they receive are transferred in accordance with the next choice of the electors indicated thereon. This process is continued until the required number of candidates have obtained a quota, or the number of candidates not eliminated is reduced to the number of seats vacant.

It will be seen, therefore, that whereas under our present system the voter who marks a ballot for a canddate who is at the foot of the poll completely loses his representation in the public body for which the election is held, under Proportional Representation he, having failed to secure the election of his first choice, has his ballot transferred to his second choice; if his second choice fails of election, his vote is transferred to his third choice, and so on. Thus every voter, in the final analysis, is represented by a representative for whom he recorder a preference. Surely, a more democratic and fairer way than obtains under our present system.

(Next week some examples of how P.R. has worked out where it has been tried will be given, and possibly some of the objections raised against P.R. answered.)

"There's a Reason"

Chain of Imperial Aerodromes

London.—Right Hon. Mr. Weir, at a public welcome to the crew of the R-34 at Glasgow, stated that he looked forward to the time when there would be a chain of imperial aerodromes linking the main units of the Empire and connected by auxiliary services to the smaller nations. He said that he had great faith in the usefulness of coastal flying boats, as proposed in connection with Australian and West Indian coastal services. Military reasons, he stated, required the linking up of the Empire by definite routes, largely coinciding with the commercial routes. He deprecated the government action in monopolizing civil aviation, and anticipated great results from the rivalry of private firms.

Sir Robert Horne stated that the public had not yet realized the remarkable war work accomplished by the airships. The Admiralty had started with eight and finished with a hundred—beating the Germans.

Regulate Cold Storage

Washington.—Federal regulation of cold storage as an aid in reducing the cost of living was agreed to by the house agriculture committee, as recommended by the President in his address on the high cost of living. The committee reported a Bill limiting the time that food may be held in storage to twelve months, and providing that cold storage food must be plainly marked.

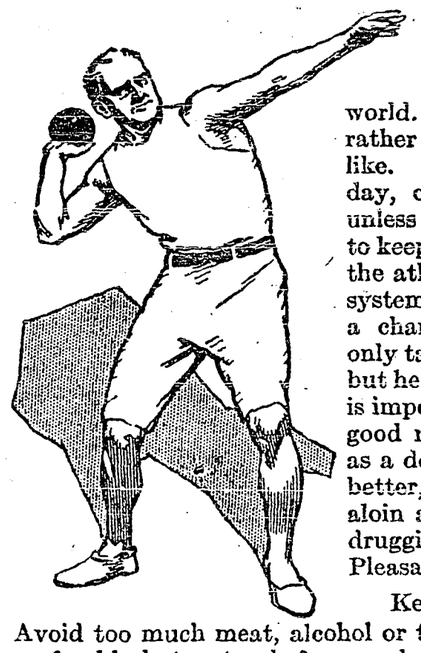
Keeping Fit

BY DR. SAMUEL HAMILTON.



It is because of the war that the perfect physical man has all at once become the idol of the world. You can make of yourself, even rather late in life, almost anything you like. You are not going to get fit in one day, one month, or, perhaps, a year, unless you take enough outdoor exercise to keep the circulation going and practise the athlete's first principle—to keep the system clean. He does not give his body a chance to absorb poisons. He not only takes his cold shower, after exercise, but he knows a cleansing of the intestines is important, and he takes occasionally a good regulator and liver cleanser, such as a dose of castor oil, or, what is much better, a tiny pill made up of May-apple, aloin and jalap, and sold by almost all druggists in the land as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Keep the kidneys in good order also. Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking "Anuric" (anti-uric-acid). This can be obtained at almost any drug store.

Send a bottle of water to the chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive free medical advice as to whether the kidneys are affected. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headaches, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. Take heed, before too late! Get Anuric (anti-uric-acid), for it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Ask your nearest druggist for it or send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial package of "Anuric"

Admiral Beatty Given Banquet

Unique Compliment By Sailors To Admirals Of British Fleet

Portsmouth, England. — Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty was given an unique compliment when, with 42 of his admirals, he was entertained at dinner in the town hall here by some 500 lower deck men, and presented with a silver cigar box as a token of loyalty and affection from all the ratings in the navy.

The day was made a great occasion here, salutes being fired upon the vice-admiral's arrival and his automobile being hauled through the streets to the town hall by sailors. Twenty thousand townspeople gathered at the town hall and cheered heartily, while the 500 hosts of the vice-admiral formed up on the steps to welcome him.

It Makes New Friends Every Day.—Not a day goes by that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil does not widen the circle of its friends. Orders for it come from the most unlikely places in the west and far north, for its fame has travelled far. It deserves this attention, for no oil has done so much for humanity. Its moderate cost makes it easy to get.

Huge Stocks Held In Cold Storage

Winnipeg.—There is sufficient butter in cold storage in the warehouses of the Manitoba Cold Storage Company and the William Davies Company to take care of Manitoba's home consumption for nearly five months, reports filed by the managers of the two plants at a recent session of the Board of Commerce food probe revealed.

Gordon W. Shantz, general manager of the Manitoba Cold Storage Company, stated that there are in storage at present 1,367,000 pounds of butter. John MacPherson, manager of William Davies' plant, has 367,878 pounds of butter in storage, making a total of 1,704,878 pounds of butter stored in these two warehouses at present. Both managers declared that this was nothing out of the ordinary and certainly not an abnormal condition.

The Manitoba Cold Storage plant has a matter of 1,110,000 dozen eggs in storage.

Particulars of the butter stored with the William Davies Company showed that Arthur Lobb, M.L.A. for Rockwood, has 13,500 pounds.

Over a half million pounds of frozen beef is storaged by the same firm for Gordon, Ironside and Fares, also 30,000 barrels of pickled pork. One of the men assisting with the work of the commission made the comment at the close of the session that he believed there would be discovered 3,000,000 pounds of beef in cold storage in Manitoba before the board was through its probe.

Hun Activities In Baltic

Germany's Recall of General Von Der Goltz Will Not Satisfy Supreme Council

Paris.—Germany's recall of General von der Goltz from the Baltic region will not satisfy the Supreme Council, it is asserted, the Council being determined to place economic pressure on Germany until all German soldiers are withdrawn from the Baltic.

While it cannot be said that a blockade is actually on, steps are being taken to bring about financial pressure which will speedily cut off the German food supply and bring the German public to a realization of the fact that German activities in the Baltic states must cease.

Custom Receipts

Ottawa.—Customs receipts for the six months of the fiscal year ending September 30 totalled $82,269,212, an increase over the same period last year of $256,323. For the month of September alone receipts totalled $14,833,240, which was $2,756,729 greater than in September, 1918.

Notables Marked For Assassination

Testimony Given By Former Military Attache of German Consulate

San Francisco, Cal.—Charles M. Schwab, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, former British Ambassador to the United States; Lord Fisher, of the British Admiralty; the late Lord Kitchener, and the British vice-consulate at Enzenada, Mexico, were marked for assassination by agents of the German government, according to sworn testimony given by former First Lieutenant Wilhelm von Brincken, formerly military attache of the German consulate in San Francisco, to Commissioner of Immigration Henry M. White, of Seattle, Washington.

A transcript of the statement was received here by Attorney Henry M. Owens, von Brincken's legal adviser in San Francisco. Von Brincken is serving a two-year sentence in the federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island for the part he played in the so-called Hindu conspiracy case.

SUMMER COMPLAINT IS A SERIOUS BOWEL TROUBLE

Very few people escape an attack of Summer Complaint. It may be slight, or it may be severe, but nearly every-one is liable to it.

Mrs. L. J. Alteen, wife of the well known wholesale and retail Fish Dealer, 44 Hill St., Amherst, N.S., writes:—"I have four children, the oldest being eight years old. Every summer they were troubled with Summer Complaint. Doctors' prescriptions did not seem to help them any. One day a friend asked me to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I at once got a bottle, and to my surprise and wonder, I soon saw a change in them. I now keep a bottle of it in the house all the time, and will recommend it to any mother."

D'Annumzio Aids Regulars

Blockade of Fiume Is More Severe Than Formerly

Rome.—Orders closing the Jugo-Slav frontier have led to the chief of staff of the 26th Italian regiment army corps at Abbassia to interview Captain d'Annunzio's chief of staff and discuss measures to be taken. This has resulted in the sending of some of Captain d'Annunzio's volunteers to hold the armistice line according to the Epoca, which adds: "The event shows the cordial collaboration between the d'Annunzio troops and the regulars."

The correspondent of the Epoca says the blockade of Fiume is more severe than formerly, even mail being held at the frontier. There is food sufficient for three months for the population of Fiume.

Milk Advances In Toronto

Instead of 15 Tickets for a Dollar Consumer Will Receive Only 13

Toronto.—Under the order of the Board of Commerce, the price of milk will be increased here. Instead of 15 tickets for $1, the consumers will now receive 13 tickets for the same sum, which means an advance of a cent per pint.

The board permitted an increase to the farmer of 45 cents a can, which, upon the basis of consumption of 6,000 cans per day, means an increased income to the farmers of $2,700 a day, or $985,000 a year.

Rumanians Seize German Plane

Manned By Four Officers Who Resented Their Arrest

Geneva.—Rumanian troops have seized a big German biplane carrying 300,000,000 paper rubles and a miniature but complete printing press at Hotin, Bessarabia, according to the Rumanian bureau at Berne. The plane, which was en route to Moscow, was forced to land at Hotin because of a leak in the gasoline tank. It was manned by four German officers, who are said to have resented their arrest. The rubles were all said to have been new notes.

Russian General Must Apologize

For the Arrest of Two United States Officers

Vladivostok. — Maj.-Gen. Graves, commander of the United States forces in Siberia, has demanded an apology from General Rozanoff, in command of Russian troops in Priamur province, for the arrest of two United States officers, Captain L. P. Johns and Corporal Benjamin Speerling, and the flogging of the latter by Cossacks commanded by General Kalminkoff. An investigation of the conduct of a Japanese officer at Iman, the place where the arrests took place, has also been begun by the Japanese high command. The incident, which occurred September 5, is considered one of the most serious to occur since the allies landed in Siberia. The men were arrested by a detachment of Cossacks, who claimed the Americans were not provided with identification papers.

May Flame Into War

Italian Situation Becoming More of an International Question

Paris.—The inflamed conditions in the Adriatic region and the dissolution of the Italian parliament for the holding of a general election on November 16, as Rome dispatches have announced, is giving the supreme council much concern, in view of the possibility of all the Balkans becoming involved in the turmoil.

In peace conference circles the approaching Italian elections are regarded as a struggle between the war and peace parties, or rather between the forces on the military side and those of socialistic and pacific tendencies, while it appears that d'Annunzio and Fiume would be an issue. The feeling is growing in Paris that as d'Annunzio has indicated that his aspirations include far more than Fiume, the Italian situation is daily becoming more of an international question.

The view is expressed here that the agitation might flame into war any day, if, for instance, a Jugo-Slav should happen to be killed by Italian troops.

Too Much Canadian Bacon

So Plentiful That It Is Being Sold To Soapmakers in England

Montreal.—The Herald quotes a man who has just returned from Liverpool as claiming that unrequired Canadian bacon was sent to the soap factories in England. "Canadian bacon is a drug on the market in England," says the Herald's informant. "When I was at Liverpool 2,000 cases of Canadian bacon were going bad on the wharves there. It was sold to Lever Bros. to melt down to soap. Cases of Canadian bacon of 500-pound lot cases sold for 1s 2d each, or 28 cents for 500 pounds."

Clothing Is Next On Price List

Retailers Will Be Called To Give Evidence

Toronto.—Another sitting of the Board of Commerce will be held here when Judge Robson, chairman, W. F. O'Connor, vice-chairman, and F. A. Acland, deputy minister of labor, will be the commissioners present.

The probe will embrace the retailers' end of the high price of wearing apparel. Retailers will be called to give evidence, and the costs will be worked back to the manufacturer to see where the great spread comes in the prices of all textiles at the present time.

The sitting of the court promises further interest in the fact that the "big five" packers will be on hand to fight to the last ditch the order bringing down the price of wholesale pork products.

U. S. Shipyard Tied Up Now

About 60,000 Men in Grip of Great Industrial Struggle

San Francisco.—Involving approximately 60,000 men, including both skilled and unskilled labor, San Francisco, Oakland and Alameda are in the grip of industrial disturbances which have greatly hampered industry in the entire San Francisco Bay district. Shipyard and iron trades workers, tailors, stevedors, taxi drivers, clerks, street railway employees, ferry boat employees and river steamer men are affected.

The most serious development in the labor situation came when 25,000 shipyard and iron trades workers in Oakland and Alameda, and 30,000 in San Francisco, struck. The shipyard and iron workers went out in an effort to force the payment of a wage increase of eight cents per hour.

Union officials say the tie-up of the shipyards is complete. No statement was forthcoming from the California Metal Trades Association.

Blockade Begins

Paris.—The blockade of Germany which was threatened by the allies in case the German troops of General von der Goltz were not removed from the Baltic region has started, according to the Intransigeant. No food ships, it declares, will be permitted to start for Germany until further orders are issued.

Vessels now on the way to German ports, however, will be permitted to proceed to their destinations.

St. Louis, Mo.—Warning that if Germany is permitted to continue her "nefarious operations" in Russia, in ten years she would become as powerful as before the war, David R. Francis, American ambassador to Russia, talking before the convention of the American Bankers' Association, said the real solution of industrial unrest in Russia and the United States is in the peace treaty. He urged immediate ratification of the League of Nations.

He charged that the Brest-Litovsk treaty was arranged by Lenine with Germany, and that Lenine and Trotsky were German agents. Labor troubles all over the world emanated from Russia, he said, and said it was impossible to establish peace in Europe while the Bolshevists reigned in Russia.
