THE CRESTON REVIEW

VOL. XI. — CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1919 — No. 33.

Canyon City

Mrs. Knott has been spending a couple of weeks this month with her daughter, Mrs. Barnhardr, at Glenlily, a nine-pound young son having arrived in the Barnhardt family on the 10th inst.

Work at the new high level bridge goes on satisfactory. Cribbing is being put in fn for the bridges over the smaller ravines, and the stumps are being blown out of the right of way. It is reported that some of the iron work for the structure has also arrived.

Now the haying is completed A. D. Pochin has his auto livery running in good shape and is getting ready to handle his share of the fall fair business from the mill and camp Lister.

Last week's hope of having the new room at the school in operation by early in October have gone glimmering, word coming this week that the firm entrusted with supplying the desks had not them in stock, and if these have to be waited for it may be another month yet before the extra room is available. The trustees may decide to rig up temporary desks and make tne churcn seats do.

At the Literary Society meeting on Friday night last it was nip and tuck as to whether the debators favoring wheat growing or fruit raising should be de lared winners, but the judges favored the wheat men, whose case was handled by Earl Carver and Geo. Strong. Messrs. Gilbert and Manfred Samuelson handled the fruit case, the latter making a decidedly good impression as a debator, considering his age. At the close a collection was taken amounting to $4, which will be used to buy games for the club.

To-night the society will debate the question as to whether poultry is more profitable than dairying, with Mrs. Leslie McInnes and T. R. Mawson talking chickens, and Mrs. McMuarry and E. VanAckeran defending the dairy cows. All are quite competent on the subject assigned them and a first-class argument is anticipated.

C. O. Rodgers made a shipment of about twenty head of his purebred Shrorshire sheep to a rancher at Crescent Valley last week.

Favors Drainage

E. F. Drake, federal superintendent of reclamation work at Ottawa, accompanied by his assistant, R. S. Burley, had a look over Kootenay Flats on Thursday last, while on Friday they were motored to Bonners Ferry by President Constable of the Creston board of trade, and C. B. Garland, where they had ample opportunity to investigate the Idaho side of the project, as well as to see just what these lands are producing, leaving for the east on Saturday. They were thoroughly impressed with the possibilities of the area once it is brought under cultivation, and so far as they would commit themselves it seems certain the fullest co-operation of the Dominion authorities may be looked for in the work necessary to determine the feasibility of the project.

Mrs. Miller Dead

REVIEW readers this week will learn with sincere regret of the death of Mrs. Andy Miller, who passed away at the Nelson hospital on Tuesday morning following an operation a few days previaus for goitre. At the time she went to the hospital it was recognized the operation was a serious one but having come through it successfully the best was hoped for. The remains were brought to Creston and were interred in the local cemetry on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. J. S. Mahood taking the funeral services, with Messrs. R. J. Long, C. O. Rodgers, E. Mallandaine, Jas. Compton, C. F. Hayes and S. A. Speers officiating as pallbearers, a large showing of flowers and many citizens at the graveside bespeaking the popularity of deceased. The late Mrs. Miller was in her thirtieth year, and was a daughter of Mrs. M. Young. Her husbanb predeceased here almost a year, having been carried off by the flu epidemic last November. Five young children are left behind, and to them and the sorrowing relatives very genuine sympathy is extended.

Saturday's Moovies

It is said and never disputed, that the Canadian Northwest Mounted Police never fails to get a man once they start after him, if the trail leads around the world. The reason why is strikingly shown in Vitagraph's latest adventure serial, "A Fight for Millions," which will be seen in the Peekin theatre on Saturday. A troop starts after the outlaws in the first chapter and for fifteen thrilling, swift moving episodes it is give and take, first one and then the other getting the upper hand, until the troopers finally win out. There are many battles with hard riding and quick shooting, all screened with wonderful realism under the direction of William Duncan, who plays the leading male role, supported by Edith Johnson, Joe Ryan and other "Fighting Trail" favorites.

Erickson

Mrs. Attley, who has been here for some weeks on a visit to her brother, W. G. Littlejohn, is leaving on the return trip to England the latter part of the week.

Miss. Telford left on Sunday for Spokane, where she is spending a few days visiting friends.

Express shipping is on the down grade, only about 70 packages a day being handled. It is expected the express office will be closed by the end of the month at the latest.

A. W. Lyster of Youngstown, Alta. who was scouring the valley for fruit last week, loaded out a car of apples here on Monday. Much of it was of the smaller sizes and was purchased at quite a number of ranches.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Peck and family are visiting here this week with Mrs. Peck's parents Mr. and Mrs. G. Cartwright. Mr. Peck left for home at Edmonton, Alta., yesterday.

Miss Stella McKelvey left on Friday for Corvallis, Oregon, where she is taking the full commercial course offered by that institution.

W. G. Birney has been at Creston a few days this week, doing the painting and decorating on the new high school building there.

Geo. Markwick of Medicine Hat, Alta., arrived this week for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Cotterill. Mr. Markwick is steward of the Cypress Club in that city and on the eve of his departure was presented with a purse of money—to help the more enjoyably spend his vacation.

Presbyterian pastor Campbell of Kaslo has had Ainsworth added to the list of congregations he is expected to spiritually sustain.

Pentieton cannery is employing 125 hands, and the weekly payroll is almost $1500, and it is expected the plant will run until almost Christmas.

Cranbrook Fair

Cranbrook fall fair, which has always been favored with fair turnout of visitors from the Creston Valley, will be held on Wednesdey and Thursday next, Oct. 1st and 2nd, and from all apperance is going to be the best all round exhibition the divisional city has yet had. Cranbrook and district has woke up recently to the value of their annual fall fair, and both the townspeople and the farmers are co-operating in a fashion that promises to bring out a showing in all departments that will surprise those who have been at this fair for the past few years. Creston is also co-operating in its usual hearty fashion, which assures a crowded display in the fruit section, as well as adding its quota to the competition in the roots and vegetables. The outdoor attractions are splendid, including exhibitions of flying with "stunting" features by Capt. Fred McCall, of the Canadian air force. Capt. McCall will also be prepared to carry passengers on special trips during both days of the fair. There will be the usual line of horse racing, for which President Rutledge enjoys some distinction for arranging, as well as a line of sporting events and athletics that will amply occupy the time of both days of the fair. Of course there will be dances both evenings as well. Cranbrook is out this year to make a name for itself as entertainers, and visitors are assured a very hearty welcome. For a break of a few days from work Crestonites will not have a better short-holiday opportunity that next week's Cranbrook fair affords.

Local and Personal

J. C. Oswald of Vancouver, assistant provincial censor and inspector of moving picture theatres, was here on an official visit Wednesday, and found the Peekin up to standard in every respect.

R. G. L. Clark, of Vancouver, chief B.C. fruit inspector was a visitor here on Friday. He was at Trail earlier in the week for the annual fruit fair in the smelter city which he states was well up to the standard of the other years.

The White Lunch Restaurant, which has been in operation in the old armory building on Fourth street for the past year, has been forced to close due to the purchase of the building by A. E. French, who will utilize it for a barber shop.

The October meeting of the Auto Association is scheduled for next Thursday night. There should be a good attendance to arrange for the visit of Hon. J. H. King, minister of works, who is expected here early next month.

"The Home" is the subject fou the rally day service in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Parents and children meet together for this service. All are cordially invited to attend. Come, and make this a real rally day.

The finishing touches in the way of painting are being put on the new high school building this week, the desks having been installed several days ago, and the plastering finished last week. Classes will start the season's work there on Monday.

Creston district brass bandkhas just been re-organized with P. R. Truscott as president, and Gerald Craigie as secretary. The former has also been named temporary leader of the organization which is practising regularly and will likely be heard from on fair day.

According to present schedule his royal highness, the Prince of Wales should be passing through Creston on his special train late next Wednesday afternoon. He is due out of Nelson at 1 p.m. that day, and will probably make a short stay at Balfour on the trip east.

The old City Bakery building, next THE REVIEW, has been leased by Mrs. G. Bruce of Bow Island, Alta., who intends opening out in it in the millinery and children and ladies' wear line. She is packing up her stock now for shipment, and expects to be open for business early next month.

Latest word from Nelson is that approximately 60 of the business men as well as the members of the G.W.V.A. band will be here for the fall fair and reclamation features on Saturday and Sunday. The banquet on Saturday night will be in the Grady building, with the Women's Institute in charge.

Col. and Mrs. Fred Lister and family, are Vancouver visitors this week, taking part in the ceremonies attendant upon the visit of the Prince of Wales to that city. On Sunday Col. Lister formed in the service of putting the colors of the 102nd Regiment to rest in Christ Church, Vancouver.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of some of the officers the annual meeting of the Red Cross society will be postponed till a later date than announced in last week's issue. The rooms, however, will be open on Oct. 3rd for the receiving of the outstanding work. The annual meeting will be announced next week.

The last of the Valley's crop of Wealthy apples moved out early in the week, the year's yielb of these being placed at 12,000 poxes. McIntosh Reds are now to the force and wil be a larger crop than anticipated also. Both these varieties have gone out unwrapped and have sold at good prices, but the winter varieties will have to be wrapped and graded. The sugar shortage is crippling the demand for the winter varieties due to prairie buyers not having storage and being timid buyers until such time as the sugar situation is relieved.

The fall fair directors are in final session this (Thursday) evening making last arrangements for the fair on Saturday. There has been a whole lot of last-minute rush getting things in shaye at the grounds, but by Saturday morning the main building and sheds, as well as the grounds themselves, will be in good shape for the exhibition. The number of entries this year is almost on a par with last year, so a thoroughly representative exhibit is assured in almost every class. The sports committee have arranged an attractive program of races, etc., which will start at 3 prompt. There will also be two baseball games, between Creston, Porthill and Wycliffe teams, the first of which will start at 1.30 prompt.

Peekin's Monday Bill

The strange atmosphere of the Far East has been faithfully reproduced in "Vengeance," the new World Picture which has been secured by the Peekin theatre and will be shown on Monday night:

The story told in "Vengance," is an enthralling one, a strange one and a vitally interesting one. It deals with the experiences of John Cuddlestone, half Indian, half Englishman, who inherits a legacy of hate from his embittered father. The youag man has been brought up by the priests of the Temple of Buddha, but he has but small respect for that faith and when, upon his twenty-first birthday, the call to vengance comes unexpectedly into his life, he drops everything to follow out his father's wishes.

Through an old series of circumstances he meets Elsie, Lady Drillingcourt, and their lives touch time and again. Lady Drillingcourt is the ward of Andrew Cuddlestone, John's uncle. Andrew is the man against whom John's hate is directed. An Indian slave girl who falls in love with John adds to the complication of the play.

The whole production is elaborate and intensely interesting and exciting from start to finish.

Alice Siding

Mrs. Morgan Long, who has been visiting at Fairfax, Wash., and other points in that state, for the past few weeks, returned home on Friday.

W. H. Farrell was a business visitor at Nelson a couple of days the middle of the week.

Wedding bells are heard more than faintly. Alice Siding will likely furnish the first of the Valley's October brides.

Mr. Binnelson, the Trail contractor was here a couple of days last week, plastering the addition J. H. Webster has built to his home here.

Mrs. W. H. Hilton and the two children got away on Friday on a visit to the old home in England, and will likely be gone for several months.

The Bartholomew ranch has been sold, Morgan Long who at present has it rented having received notice to vacate by the end of October.

Wynndel

Mrs. W. McKay of Cranbrook was a visitor here a few days last week, the guest of the Misses Bathie.

A. Grady and E. Hook of Spokane are here at present, the guest of the former's father, J. J. Grady.

Sergt. Harry Bathie, accompanied by his bride, arrived from England the latter part of the week, and are at present guests of his father, John Bathie here. Sergt. Bathie has now five years to his credit in khaki, having joined up at Calgary, Alta., shortly after hostilities commenced. He was rather badly knocked out in the fighting in 1916, being buried alive in a cave-in of a trench struck by one of Fritz big shells. Fortunately he was hauled out in the nick of time, and after being discharged from the hospital some months later he has officiated as drill instructor and in several other capacities. He looks about the same as ever physically, and both he and Mrs. Bathie are warmly welcomed.

Another Wyndel soldier to return also last week is Pte. Gus. Rudd, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rudd, who movhere from Pincher Creek, Alta., about a year ago. He is also accompanied by his English bride. He was through much of the heavy fighting in the drives of 1918, but looks none the worse for the heavy camapigning in France.

J. Tvo who has been here all season prospecting, made a showing of his ores from his Wynndel mine in the prospector's class at the Nelson fair this week, carrying off second prize on the display.

The Ashley Cooper ranch certainly made Wynndel orchard products famous at the Nelson fruit fair, the Forest Stream ranch carrying off nine prizes on fourteen entrien, and in rather keen competition. Six of the wins were firsts, as follows: Jonathan apples, Hyslop crabs, Ponds Seeding plums, Italian Prunes, Flemish Beauty and Beure Fosc pears. The three seconds were gathered on MacIntosh Red apples, Yellow Egg plums and St. Louise da bonne de Jersey pears. Mr. Cooper's only disappointment was that he did not score on his Gravensteins and Wagners, which captured first and second last year. The winning is all the more creditable in that it was gathered at randon through the orchard the morning of the day it was shipped to Nelson.

Miss Sutherland arrived from the coast the latter part of the week, and has been installed as a teacher here for this term. She is accompanied by her mother.

Sunken Eyes Brighten Quickly, Health Returns

In a Message to Ailing Women Doctor Hamilton Tells How It Is Done

In speaking of the ills from which women suffer, Dr. Hamilton points out that nine out of every ten women are by nature inclined to habitual constipation. Harsh purgatives are resorted to, which only intensify the trouble. Although not generally known, it is a constipated condition of the bowels that causes half the sickness and tired weariness with which all womankind is so familiar. It was after long years of study that Dr. Hamilton perfected the pills which have been of such marvellous benefit to women the world over. In his pills of Mandrake and Butternut every sufferer will find an absolute specific for constipation, sick headache and biliousness. It is safe to say that Dr. Hamilton's Pills bring better health and keep the system in a more vigorous condition than any other medicine ever discovered. At all dealers, in 25c boxes.

Ruggles had no desire to crowd his wares on Darthea. For the sake of the Walkeasy Company he might have made the effort to hold her. But for his own sake he would not. So, with his heart like lead in its mourning for the death of her sympathy, and his eyes as hungry as those of a dog for a slight hint of kindness, he said:

"All right. Then I suppose there's no need for me to bother you any longer. Maybe you're right. After all, I'm not in the same class with you, I guess. I might have known it—if I hadn't—if I hadn't—" His voice caught in his throat and he walked toward the door, which was rather blurred and indistinct. Darthea followed him, straight and still and white as an Easter lily.

He opened the door of the ante chamber, went out—and turned.

"Good-bye," he said.

"Good-bye," Darthea answered, her hand on the knob to close the door behind him.

"Good-bye," Ruggles repeated. "I won't bother you again."

A sudden mania seized him. He took Darthea's hand, as it rested on the knob of the door, and raised it to [illegible] started [illegible] it.

"Good-bye," Ruggles muttered. [illegible] It was the [illegible] called her [illegible] said [illegible] hand. [illegible] And [illegible]

[illegible] the door and [illegible] gowned girl, followed [illegible] woman, descend and [illegible] hotel. Though still at some [illegible] Ruggles' quick eyes had [illegible] of the very first [illegible] some other than Ruth [illegible]

[illegible] the daring of [illegible] to whirl like a startling [illegible] up full stand [illegible] the loyalty of the [illegible] their great army [illegible] just this joy [illegible] would call upon [illegible] in trouble which was [illegible] all more or less her own doing [illegible]

Ruggles went out into the street hot of heart and blurred as to his eyes. But these conditions were as nothing compared to the mystification of his mind. No doubt he felt rather like a dog which has been caught and whipped without in the least understanding why (perhaps because the cat had misbehaved during the night). Ruggles had no knowledge of any cat, nor did he, as many men might have done, consider Darthea as of this class of supreme egoists. He did not blame Darthea; he did not blame anybody. He was merely very puzzled and very sad.

Wandering aimlessly, he crossed the Gardens and came out on the Boulevard Saint-Michel, then turned in the direction of the river, probably following the line of least resistance and because it was easier to walk downhill than on the level. Men are apt to feel that way after such an experience as that of Ruggles. He was tired, too, having walked several miles in the course of the morning, which would not have mattered much under ordinary circumstances, but all the spring appeared to have gone out of his knees, and on arriving opposite the Cafe Harcourt he slid in behind a table with his back to the wall and ordered coffee.

Repose and the inky mixture of chicory and some few beans of the order Rubiaceoe contributed to clear Ruggles's bewildered brain. With clearer thought came also a certain amount of better cheer, for Ruggles, as has been several times said, was a born optimist. After all, the situation was not so hopeless. Darthea was an artist and very young, and for both reasons infused with more than her due allowance of romance. He had come spinning into her life like a plumed knight-errant and she had endowed him with a station which he did not possess.

Although conscious of a certain tender sentiment for Darthea, Ruggles was by no means in love with her, nor did he deceive himself in this respect. But she was the first girl friend of her class that the boy had ever possessed, and this friendship had been very sweet and dear to him; more so, perhaps, than if it had been colored with passion. He was very fond of her, and deeply admired and respected her, and it cut him deeply, not only in his pride, but in his heart, that she could think him capable of cheap deception. He hoped, however, that on reflection she would relent, in which case he was quite ready and willing to forgive her and be readmitted to her friendship. There was much that was doglike in Ruggles's devotion.

Meanwhile, however, he was cheered by the reflection that there still remained to him two stable quantities on which to nail his worldly faith—the Downings and the Walkeasy Shoe Company. He worshipped both and felt that neither could ever betray his confidence. Had Dick Downing been accessible, the chances are that Ruggles would have found the courage to go straight to him in his perplexity, for he felt a dire need of friendly counsel after Darthea's apostasy. But he had heard that Dick had returned to America, while Mr. Downing, senior, who was not in the best of health, had remained in Switzerland with his daughter.

It was still, however, with a very heavy heart that Ruggles crossed the river and started to walk up the Champs Elysees on his way back to the little room in Passy where he [illegible] the rest of the [illegible] afternoon in the study of German [illegible] He had nearly reached the Carlton when he saw a big limousine [illegible] up before the door and an [illegible] gowned girl, followed by a [illegible] woman, descend and [illegible] hotel. Though still at some [illegible] Ruggles' quick eyes had [illegible] of the very first [illegible] some other than Ruth [illegible] in having fired his heart with ambition—and demand her sympathy and advice.

There was nothing presumptuous about this swift decision on the boy's part. He felt honestly that it was right, and there was about it something rather fine and belonging to a feudal age. His mother and father before him had lived and labored and died in the service of the company, which is to say, in the service of the Downing family. He himself was giving the best of his brain and body, the best of his youth, to the same service. Now, as a result of this fidelity, he was more unhappy than he could remember ever to have been, and he could see no reason why he should not turn to a Downing for aid in his perplexity. The responsibilities of liegedom should work both ways.

Glancing at the reflection of himself in the plate-glass window of an automobile agency, Ruggles was quite satisfied with his presentability. As always, he was nicely and becomingly dressed, and he reflected with a certain amount of professional pride that certainly no man in Paris was better shod or stockinged. It is probable that there was not at that moment a better looking young fellow between the Louvre and the gates of the Bois de Boulogne than our modest shoe clerk. He entered the fashionable hotel with an air of assurance which he was far from feeling, and sent up his card to Miss Downing—his social card, which was inscribed simply "Mr. Richard P. Ruggles." Ruggles was proud of that card, because two-thirds of it were identical with Richard P. Downing, junior and senior.

The boy returned presently to say that Miss Downing would receive Mr. Ruggles in the salon of her suite. Ruggles mounted in the lift, glancing at himself in the mirror and pushing back a long lock of wavy yellow hair, which was slightly damp. He was ushered into a salon prettily furnished in Louis XV. style, and perched himself on a chair a good deal as a bird reposes itself for a brief instant on a swaying twig.

The bell-boy bowed and retired, and Ruggles wondered whether perhaps he should have given him a tip. Some minutes passed, and they were not restful ones to Ruggles, who was beginning to repent him of his temerity. Then the door to an adjoining room opened, and Ruth entered. Ruggles could not have told to his dying day what she wore. If it had been a bathing peignoir, it is probable that he would not have observed the fact.

It may have been that Ruth had second sight and divined that Ruggles had some real and pressing need of her, or perhaps it was merely her natural graciousness of manner. At any rate, the instant she entered, all of Ruggles's embarrassment vanished, and as their eyes met, he felt that he had made no mistake in coming to her.

"How do you do, Mr. Ruggles?" said Ruth, and offered him her firm little hand. "I'm very glad to see you. Won't you sit down?"

Ruth was her father's own daughter, her brother's own sister, and no employee of the Walkeasy Company was in any danger of being snubbed at her hands. She would have received the door-boy of the Paris store if she had known that he was in the service of the company. The New York State manager, whom her father had asked to dine with them at their hotel in New York City before they had sailed for Europe, had told her that he had worked his way up through factory and salesroom, and Ruth had no contempt for the humble clerk. In the present case, she thought it probable that Ruggles had acted on her advice to ask for a promotion and had come to thank her and tell her of his success.

BABY HAD DIARRHOEA WAS GIVEN UP

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURED HER

Mothers should look well after their children during the hot summer months, as this is the time of year when the young ones are liable to all kinds of bowel complaints.

If your children have any looseness of the bowels do not experiment with new and untried remedies. Get one having stood the test of time. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 74 years. Don't accept a substitute and perhaps endanger your child's life.

Mrs. Willis Coupland, Sundridge, Ont., writes: "About four years ago my little girl, then a baby two months old, took diarrhoea. I took her to the doctor, but to no avail. After he had given her up, I read of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and immediately got a bottle. Within two days she was improving fast. I cannot ever praise it enough. I hope some poor sufferers will see this letter and lead them to a friend indeed."

Price 35 cents. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Order Farms Seized

Berlin.—The Prussian minister of agriculture has empowered the local communities to seize farms whose owners refuse to enter labor contracts with their employees, or who fail to live up to the wage scales and where terms ended by contracts. The lands to be seized are to be administered by the respective communities for the common good.

Mounted Police Strength

For First Time in History Now in Excess of Sixteen Hundred

Regina, Sask.—For the first time in the history of the force, the strength of the R.N.W.M.P. is in excess of 1,600 all ranks. Shortly after the outbreak of the war 500 men were taken on for a period of one year, bringing the strength to more than 1,500.

At the expiration of the year these men enlisted in various units when they learned there was no chance of the force going overseas as a unit. Continued enlistments and drafts brought the force to low ebb about a year ago.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests, which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw, and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called freezone applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of freezone, which costs very little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.

"If I'm disturbing you, father, I'll stop. I'm only practicing to kill time," said the young girl, pictured in Judge.

"Better stop, my dear, I think you've killed him."

PILES

Do not suffer another day with Itching, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and as certainly cure you. 60c. a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose 2c. stamp to pay postage.

Use More Corn Syrup For Preserving

Real home-made preserves, and the woman who puts them up—how they're both appreciated.

Preserving is not difficult to-day. The LILY WHITE way has removed the uncertainty.

Most of your preserving troubles have come from using sugar alone. Even the beginner can count on success if she will use half LILY WHITE and half sugar. LILY WHITE blends the sugar with the fruit and make preserves that will never crystallize.

Ex-Kaiser Not Wealthy

Total Amount of Cash When He Fled to Holland Was 650,000 Marks

Berlin.—The total amount of cash former Emperor William had on his person when he fled to Holland was 650,000 marks, according to a statement made by Dr. Albert Suidekum, Prussian minister of finance.

Dr. Suidekum also declared that a careful investigation had failed to prove that the former German imperial family has capital "planted" abroad. The minister added that he expected shortly to announce the proposed plan of settlement of the Hohenzollern family's financial affairs. This would not be dictated "by pettiness or malice" and would not call forth unjustified criticism.

Other Tablets Not Aspirin At All

Only Tablets Marked With "Bayer Cross" Are Aspirin

If You Don't See the "Bayer Cross" on the Tablets, You Are Not Getting Aspirin — Only Acid Imitation

BAYER

Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" are now made in Canada by a Canadian Company.—No German interest whatever, all rights being purchased from the United States Government.

During the war, acid imitations were sold as Aspirin in pill boxes and various other containers. The "Bayer Cross" is your only way of knowing that you are getting genuine Aspirin, proved safe by millions for Headache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, and for Pain generally.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—also larger sized "Bayer" packages can be had at drug stores.

Aspirin is the trade mark, registered in Canada, of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

Indian Farms Do Well

Saskatchewan Indians will reap a fair crop as the result of the extensive greater production scheme on which they entered a year ago, under the stimulus of the war. In 1918 much raw prairie was plowed in readiness for seeding this year. Although drought has proved a handicap in some of the reserves, in the main the crop has turned out well, and an average of fifteen bushels of wheat an acre will reward the red men for their efforts.

Poles Make Use Of Tanks

London, England.—Poles have captured the fortified town of Bobruisk, 85 miles southeast of Minsk, according to an announcement by the Polish authorities. They took 500 prisoners, and Poles used tanks for the first time. The enemy retreated to the eastern bank of the Beresina river, destroying the bridges.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentry, colic and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Your Asthma, Too. — The efficacy of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is not something that is merely to be hoped for; it is to be expected. It never fails to bring relief, and in your own individual case it will do the same. So universal has been the success of this far-famed cure that everyone afflicted with this disease owes it to himself to try it.

The Peace Loan

In October the Canadian public will be asked to subscribe to what is, to all intents and purposes another Government war loan. The sum asked will be at least three hundred millions, and presumably as much more as the public will take. The necessity for having this loan fully subscribed must be patent to all, and it will be the duty of every red-blooded Canadian to buy it to the exclusion, for the time being, of all other investments. The floating of this loan will be inaugurated on October 27th, and it is expected that three weeks from that date the full amount of the issue will be subscribed. Indeed, if it is not over-subscribed, there will be much disappointment among those in charge of the campaign. At this writing the terms of the loan have not been officially announced though it is unofficially to be a bond giving a return to the investor 5½ per cent., the bond to be taxable, and the issues to run five or fifteen years. Aside entirely from any patriotic motives, such a bond will prove an investment of the highest possible class.

Lister

Col. Fred Lister, with Mrs. Lister and the family, left on Thursday for Vancouver, where he will participate in the cermonies connected with the visit of the Prince of Wales to that city the fore part of the week.

Lister is getting on the map in good shape these days. The last couple of Sundays there has been church service in the afternoon, Rev. Dr Eby, who is stopping at Creston, officiating.

With a population of at least fifteen children of school age all are looking forward to the opening up of the school. A two acre site has been selected and it and the proposal to establish the seat of learning have been approved by the education department.

The crew pf carpenters who had been helping out at Creston fall fair buildings for a time this month, are making up for lost time in good shape, five more of the temporary soldier homes having been made available by the middle of last week.

The Cleveland tractors are busy at stump pulling operations on the area which was burned off earlier in the month, and are doing excellent work.

With the stumps coming out, and the prosepot of the sites of their permanent holmes being soon available, the married men in the camp are spending some of their spare time designing their new homes. If anyone in Creston needs plans for a new residence Listerites can supply them with all the newest ideas in house construction.

Mrs. Filmer of Lethbridge, Alta., and young son; Mrs. Fox and three children of Vancouver, and Mr. Bagg with two children are the newest arrivals at the camp. Between the time of his inspecting Lister and getting back to the coast again Mr. Bagg had the misfortune to be burned out, losing practically all his household effects.

Rev. J. S. Mahood, Anglican vicar at Creston, visited the camp this week and it is expected English Church services will be inaugurated here shortly.

Save Fuel, Food and Labor

Pyrex saves about one-half the fuel usually required, because it absorbs nearly all the oven heat and bakes food quickly.

It saves food in many ways. Meats, vegetables, etc., when cooked in Pyrex, retain their natural flavor to such a degree that economy may be practised in buying the less expensive kinds and yet have delicious foods.

Pyrex saves labor—it is always free from grease and odors, for nothing can penetrate the hard, smooth surface. You can wash it as easily as your china and silver.

Every practical shape and size for baking is made in Pyrex.

We invite your inspection of a complete line of PYREX now on display.

Synopsis of Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres before receiving Crown Grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

PRE-EMPTORS' FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from for one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enlistment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LANDS.

Provision made for issuance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfillment of conditions of purchase, interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING.

Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged; priority for established owners. Stock-owners may form Associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits for settlers, campers or travellers, up to ten head.

Good Roads And Education

In a report made to the Minister of Education for Saskatchewan, Mr. D. S. McCannel, chief attendance officer in the province, to whom is entrusted the administration of the Compulsory School Attendance Act, says, in part, as among the reasons assigned for the absence of children from rural schools: "Impassable roads, but this is a condition which will improve as the province grows older.

In previous issues, the writer of this column has dwelt upon the importance and necessity of good roads in these western provinces, and also upon the absolute necessity that farm boys and girls should be given the best possible education and kept in school as long as possible. In this article we hope to make clear the bearing which the provision of good roads has upon the successful carrying out of a better schools policy and a higher average attendance at school.

There are four main groups under which every problem treated as peculiar to rural communities are or can be properly grouped:

First: Greater production or more intensive farming, which is primarily a question of more population on the land.

Second: Proper educational facilities for the boys and girls, or provision for a high school education without forcing parents to leave the farm at the period of their greatest production in order to give their children an equal start with the town boy and aid in educational equipment.

Third: Proper [illegible] and amusement facilities for the entire family [illegible] of keeping them [illegible] on the farm.

[illegible] The development of a [illegible] co-operation [illegible] economic way, [illegible] marketing [illegible] of [illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible]

[illegible] Peevish, pale, restless, and sickly children owe their condition to worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will relieve them and restore health.

[illegible] No woman objects to embarking in [illegible]

one final answer to them, the one thing that will lay the foundation that will make them possible, and leaves but details in connection with each to be arranged, but without which success cannot be achieved, is a passable system of all-the-year good roads.

In some of our more thickly populated districts in the West, a consolidated school would mean a vast improvement over several small district schools. It would be a better school in every way, and provision for high school training would be possible. But without good roads for the conveyance of pupils the consolidated school and rural high school is impracticable, and many of such schools established in the United States have been abandoned solely because of the impossibility of transporting the school children over the existing roads.

But, it is said, it will take money to build roads. Certainly it will, and lots of it. But the city dweller cannot live in an eight or ten-room house with electric lights, hot water and other modern conveniences for the same outlay that he can live in a cave. He pays for those conveniences and he finds that it pays him to pay for them. So with good roads—they will more than pay for themselves.

Here in Western Canada we are somewhat inclined to look upon the Province of Quebec as backward and slow because we are not fully informed of what is transpiring there. Within the past fifteen years Quebec has been forging ahead in general agriculture, dairying and livestock raising faster than Ontario, and in some respects more rapidly and substantially than these Western Provinces. Industrially and commercially it is going ahead by leaps and bounds, and a complete transformation is taking place educationally.

What is the basis for this development in Quebec? Everyone who has studied it has but one answer: Good roads. The Province of Quebec has now the best roads in the Dominion, as far as it has gone, and it means to continue until every farmer can get his goods to market, his children to school, and his family to church, without a breakdown or being mired.

Some years ago the Provincial Government asked for authority to spend $20,000,000 on roads. Some people who think the French-Canadian habitant is penurious and unprogressive might give some thought to the fact that they enthusiastically gave the necessary authority. That $20,000,000 has been spent, and Quebec now leads the Dominion in good roads. Two or three months ago the Government appealed to the people for a new mandate to keep on spending millions on good roads, the result being that a majority of Government supporters were returned by acclamation.

FREQUENT HEADACHES

A Sure Sign That The Blood Is Watery And Impure

People with thin blood are much more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons, and the form of anaemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbance of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this effectively, and the rich, red blood made by these pills will remove the headache.

More disturbances to the health are caused by the blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment, and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are undernourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition every symptom of the trouble will disappear. There are more people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than to any other medicine, and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Even a hen can scratch up trouble between neighbors.

German Gold Hoard Surrendered

After the conclusion of the armistice at Spa, it was decided that Germany, before being re-victualled, must deposit with the National Bank of Brussels as guarantee 370,000,000 marks (normally $92,500,000).

Part of this gold was placed at the disposal of the Bank of England in New York. It is now being taken from Brussels to London, whence it will be conveyed to New York in consignments of $4,000,000 and $8,000,000, guarded by escorts of Belgian soldiers.

Ex Kaiser Goes Calling

The Hague. — Former Emperor William of Germany, for the first time since he took refuge in Holland, was a guest outside Bentinck Castle. Accompanied by his wife, who made [illegible] Count and Countess Bentinck, William Hohenzollern motored to Belmont Castle, 10 miles from Amerongen, and took tea with the Countess Constant. The ex-imperial couple returned late in the evening to Amerongen in a closed automobile.

Six Killed On Ship

Vancouver.—S. McRae, of Vancouver, second engineer, and five Chinese firemen were killed on the steamship Melville Dollar, of Vancouver. The nature of the accident which caused the deaths of the six men is not known here. The steamer was off the China coast at the time, having left this port some weeks ago for the Orient.

Pain Flees Before It. — There is more virtue in a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil as a subduer of pain than in gallons of other medicine. The public know this and there are few households throughout the country where it cannot be found. Thirty years of use has familiarized the people with it, and made it a household medicine throughout the western world.

There is no radical cure for laziness, but starvation will come the nearest to it.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make This Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents and See for Yourself

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way: Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well, and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

Don't be ashamed to begin life with a small show; you may eventually be the owner of a three-ring circus.

Always Serviceable. — Most pills lose their properties with age. Not so with Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. The pill mass is so compounded that their strength and effectiveness is preserved and the pills can be carried anywhere without fear of losing their potency. This is a quality that few pills possess. Some pills lose their power, but not so with Parmelee's. They will maintain their freshness and potency for a long time.

Dad is happy to find that his boy won't have to put up with what he went through — dull blades, tingling face, half-removed stubble.

Instead the lad will experience only the cleanliness and comfort, the sense of physical well being that follow a cool, clean, satiny shave such as only an AutoStrop Razor can give. This and the fact that the AutoStrop Razor sharpens its own blades, and is not taken apart for stropping or cleaning, has led thousands of dads everywhere to recommend the AutoStrop Razor to their sons.

Would Aid France

Berlin. — Four hundred thousand German workers have volunteered for work of restoration in northern France, according to the Vorwaerts.

Miller's Worm Powders work so effectively that no traces of worms can be found. The pests are macerated in the stomach and pass away in the stools without being perceptible. They make an entire and clean sweep of the intestines, and nothing in the shape of a worm can find lodgement there when these powders are in operation. Nothing could be more thorough or desirable than their action.

Peace Treaty Is Signed By Austria

St. Germain.—Austria's signature to the peace treaty and the departure of Dr. Karl Renner, the Austrian Chancellor and head of the peace delegation, for Vienna in an endeavor to brace up the unstable government have caused a feeling of relief in conference circles, where there has been great uneasiness lest the Vienna government should fall before the completion of the treaty.

The Bulgarian treaty probably will be handed to the Bulgarian delegation on Sept. 12 at the French Foreign Office, where arrangements have been made for an informal cermony, the Bulgarians having expressed discontent in the proposed simple delivery of the treaty by the secretary of the conference.

Probably 21 days will be granted the Bulgarians to make observations on the treaty, and it is expected that the conference will take a short vacation while the Bulgarians have it under consideration.

Dr. Renner's cheerful acceptance of the treaty which he had frankly denounced as impossible of acceptance, and the dignified good nature he displayed throughout the day's ordeal, when he alone faced the peace conference and signed the document which seals the fate of the old Austro-Hungarian empire and precludes the union of the old Austro-Hungarian empire and remaining fragment of the dual empire with Germany, proved the transcending feature of the ceremony and excited the imagination of all the allied delegates and spectators.

The feeling of friendliness among Austria's former enemies inspired by Dr. Renner's sportsmanlike conduct augurs well for Austria, and is generally commented upon as assurance that Vienna, with its two millions of population, and the four millions in the remaining bit of old Austria, comprising the present republic, may reasonably expect amelioration of the treaty terms in the near future if they make an honest effort to live up to them.

Against Leaving Russia To Fate

Col. John Ward Warns Britain of Real Meaning of Evacuation of Territory

London.—Col. John Ward, Labor member of the House of Commons, who has just returned from Russia, in an interview said that to desert the Russians who had rallied to our standard will make our name stink in the nostrils of every non-Bolshevik in Russia. "We went to Russia to prevent the Germans from transferring men to the western front," he declared. "Are we now to say to those who rallied round us, 'You have served our turn, we are going. We wish you luck'?"

That, said Col. Ward, is unthinkable. It would be black treachery to leave them to face the enemies they have made for our sakes without anything more substantial than our goodwill.

Sir Arthur Currie on War Gratuities

Hamilton, Ont.—General Sir Arthur Currie, the Canadian commander, who was received with open arms by this city, stated that while he sympathized with the veterans in their efforts to secure a more liberal allowance, he thought the $2,000 gratuity asked would prove too great a burden for the country to bear. The veterans' plea to have a commission appointed to consider their claims was reasonable, he said, and should receive consideration. He was in favor of generous pensions, and said the present pension regulations would have to be readjusted.

British Monitor Was Not Raided

London.—It is declared in official quarters that there is no truth in the report that a party of Sinn Feiners on a recent night had boarded a British monitor off Cork, overpowered the skeleton crew and raided the vessel. The report, printed in the Daily News, added that the raiders had escaped with a quantity of stores, munitions and valuable instruments.

Wheat Board Ruling

New Order Forbids Railway Companies to Transfer Wheat Without a Permit

Winnipeg.—The Canadian Wheat Board has issued an order (No. 42) which stipulates that no wheat shall be transferred by any railway company in the following areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan without a permit from the Canadian Wheat Board. In Alberta: The area bounded on the north by the C.P.R., Lacombe to Compeer; on the west the boundary line of the province; on the south the international boundary; and east by the Saskatchewan river. In Saskatchewan: C.P.R. subdivision, Cutknife, Wilkie, Hardisty, Macklin, Biford, Helfield, Kerrobert, Coronation, Swift Current, Empress, Maple Creek, Maynard, Shaunavon and Govenlock.

C.N.R. subdivision, Kindersley, Hanna, Elrose and Delisle.

G.T.P. line, Trandorato, Artland, Biggar, Calgary branch, Cutknife branch and Alean, Battleford branch.

Will Paralyze Steel Industry

Great Strike Is Declared Despite An Appeal From President Wilson to Wait

Washington.—Regardless of the request of President Wilson that they take no action pending the coming industrial conference, representatives of the organized workers in the steel industry called a strike, effective September 22, to compel recognition of their unions, and of the principle of collective bargaining by the United States Steel Corporation.

The executive council of the 24 unions represented among the workers made known their decision in an announcement issued after they had requested the President, by telegraph, for a "more definite statement" as to the possibilities of arranging a conference with steel corporation officials, and after they had received a reply from the President asking that they withhold action until after the industrial conference.

Aliens In Canada

W. D. Euler Will Enquire How Many Are Still Interned

Ottawa.—The question of interned aliens is to be brought to the notice of the House of Commons by W. D. Euler, North Waterloo, who has given notice that he will enquire how many alien enemies are still interned in Canada, how many were interned after the signing of the armistice, and when may their release or repatriation be expected.

Mr. Euler will also ask if a British subject being a naturalized citizen of New Zealand, of German origin, may be interned in Canada, or if he may be deported to Germany.

Gave His Blood to Save Life

Kingston, Ont.—A case of unusual self-sacrifice is revealed in an operation performed in the Queen Military Hospital. Sergt. Thompson, a patient at the hospital, is a victim of pernicious anaemia, and the hospital doctors decided that a transfusion of blood was necessary. Volunteers were asked for, and the first to offer was Harry Parkes, an orderly at the hospital. The operation was carried out successfully. A pint of blood was drawn from Parkes and transfused into the system of Thompson. Both men are doing well, and the patient's life will be prolonged many years.

War Indemnity for Australia

Melbourne.—Premier Hughes has informed the members of the Australian cabinet that if Germany makes the first indemnity payment by 1920 Australia's share will be ten million pounds sterling. When the indemnity was fully paid, he stated, Australia's share would be nearly sixty million pounds sterling.

Serious Outbreak Of Rioting In Boston

Two Men and Boy Killed in Turbulent Outbreaks in Massachusetts Capital

Boston, Mass.—Two men and a boy were killed in turbulent outbreaks growing out of the police strike. There were numerous injuries of a minor nature to members of mobs, police officers and state guardsmen.

The most serious disturbances were in the vicinity of Scollay Square and South Boston. Cavalry charged the crowds, and a machine gun was used, one man being killed and several wounded by its fire. Property damage was slight compared to that inflicted by the wild rampage of hoodlums.

One of the most serious elements in the complicated outlook was the possibility of sympathetic strikes by labor unions, which have declared their support of the policemen's union. Like the patrolmen's organization, most of these unions are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The crowd early became riotous and cavalrymen were sent to disperse it. The mob surged in and out of the square. Shots were fired and an unidentified man was killed. A woman was wounded in the arm, a middle-aged volunteer policeman was so badly beaten that he was removed to a hospital, and three cavalrymen were hit over the heads by other missiles and also were given hospital treatment. After military reinforcements arrived the square was finally cleared.

The South Boston district was so turbulent that it was considered one of the worst danger spots, and a large force of troops was thrown in there. For some time they had in check the mobs of the Peninsula section, but late at night conditions were so menacing that a machine gun crew was rushed over to aid them.

So fierce was the resistance of the angry crowd to the efforts of the guardsmen to preserve some sort of order that guns were levelled and the machine gun was put in position. All sorts of missiles were hurled at the guardsmen. A shower of stones so endangered the soldiers that machine gun crews were ordered to fire. One man was killed and several wounded.

Hurricane Hits Florida

It Is Believed That the Damage Will Exceed $2,000,00

Key West, Fla. — Lower Florida was paralyzed as a result of a violent hurricane that passed over that section. Three hundred and twenty frame buildings practically were razed, many church edifices wrecked and five retail stores tipped over. The damage is estimated at more than $2,000,000.

Shipping off the coast met with disaster. Several small vessels were sunk and others were driven on to the reefs. A strong wind and rough sea prevented rescue work.

In the little town of Goulds, near Miami, eight buildings were totally destroyed and 13 partially demolished.

Although the property damage was enormous, no fatality has been reported.

The steamer Grampus, with a crew of 125 men, was sunk in Key West harbor, and the two-masted schooner U. V. Drew, bound from Tampico for Cuba, with a crew of seven men, was reported sunk off Key West harbor, where she had put in to escape the storm. Whether or not the crews escaped is not known. The navy radio station was put out of commission. Fruit and vegetable growers suffered the heaviest losses, the damage around Miami being estimated at half a million dollars.

$400,000 Wage Increases

Winnipeg.—Although no official statement will be made until the end of the week, it was learned from an authoritative source that wage increases to the extent of $400,000 must be made by the Winnipeg Electric Railway, according to a decision reached by the Mathers board, which recently sat to investigate the men's grievances. The increases may be made retroactive, it is stated. This increase will affect carmen, conductors, motormen, trackmen, repairmen and inspectors.

For State Ownership Of British Mines

Strike Leaders Released

Were Greeted By Large Gathering of Sympathisers on Leaving Jail

Winnipeg.—After twenty-six days' incarceration, the eight strike leaders who have been held in the provincial jail pending their trial on charges of seditious conspiracy, were granted bail. Chief Justice Mathers, who, together with Mr. Justice MacDonald and Mr. Justice Metcalfe, heard the arguments of counsel, read the decision of the court.

Bail was granted in the sum of $4,000 each and two sureties of $2,000 each.

The court found that it had not been proven that the accused would not appear to stand their trial, and the decision went on to state: "The court would not be justified in refusing bail on the sole ground that public safety might be endangered by permitting the accused to be at large.

The decision, as read by Chief Justice Mathers, follows: "Because of the great public interest involved in this prosecution, and because bail has once been refused by a brother judge, I asked my brothers, MacDonald and Metcalfe, to sit with me while hearing this application, and had the satisfaction of knowing that both concurred with me in the views here expressed.

"I therefore order that the accused be admitted to bail in the sum of $4,000 each and two sureties of $2,000 each."

Immediately the court had adjourned, E. C. MacMurray, together with the bondsmen, left for the provincial jail, where the formal proceedings preceding the release of the accused were completed.

William Ivens was the first of the eight leaders to be released. His appearance in the doorway of the jail was the signal for cheers from the crowd of workers, numbering over 1,500, who had gathered to greet their leaders. Someone in the crowd started singing "For he's a jolly good fellow," and the song was immediately taken up. Ivens was "chaired" and carried around the square.

"I've gained eight pounds in the time I've been here," said Ivens, "and I think I'll go out and rob a bank to get back; they've treated us so well."

Ald. John Queen was the next to appear. He, too, received the same greeting from the crowd. The remainder of the men, Ald. A. A. Heaps, George Armstrong, R. E. Bray, W. E. Pritchard, R. J. Johns, and R. B. Russell came out together. They were immediately seized by their friends and "chaired."

Want Red Cross Help

Canada Can Aid Kolchak By Sending Supplies

Ottawa. — Kolchak and Denikine must be given support by means of munitions and Red Cross supplies if the menace of Bolshevism is to be swept from Russia, in the opinion of Lieut.-Col. Douglas D. Young, who went to France with the B.C.D., and who was a member of the British military mission in Siberia.

Col. Young laid the facts about Russia before the members of the House of Commons. What Canada can do to help the downtrodden Russian people is to send Red Cross supplies, said Col. Young, who stated the men were being sent down from the line with their wounds bound up with dirty rags, and there was an entire absence of medical and surgical needs in the country.

Against Trade With Germany

Montreal.—Premier Hughes, addressing a meeting of the Nationalists' Federation, said that Germany stood today the best organized nation in the world for a commercial war. He said some people had spoken to him of trade relations with Germany. If they wanted trade relations with Germany, they must get somebody else. (Cheers.)

Glasgow. — By an overwhelming vote the Trades Union Congress passed a resolution favoring the nationalization of the coal mines. The motion, presented by Robert Smillie, the miners' leader, was carried by a vote of 4,478,000 against 77,000.

The result of the vote was to throw virtually the entire congress solidly behind the coal miners' demands for the nationalization of their industry. The resolution pledges insistence by the body that the government adopt the majority report of the Coal Commission presented last June, known as the Sankey report.

This report provides for the state ownership of the mines and for joint control of their operation, in which the miners would have an effective voice. The resolution passed, calling for acceptance of the report by the government, adds:

"In the event of the government still refusing, a special congress shall be convened to decide what form of action shall be taken to compel the government to accept."

The resolution rejects the proposed alternative scheme of the government as contrary to the "interests of the nation," and as "creating the distinct trustification of the coal industry."

Postal Workers Set Own Path

Will Not Affiliate With Trades and Labor Council Nor Participate In Other Strikes

Winnipeg.—At a meeting of the Winnipeg branch of the Amalgamated Postal Workers, it was unanimously resolved not to affiliate with the Trades and Labor Council, and not to participate in any local or sympathetic strikes. The general executive was informed that the Winnipeg branch desires the clause permitting participation of a branch in local strikes deleted from the constitution.

It was decided to demand from the government representation on any deputation that would meet the Cabinet to discuss the civil service reclassification bill.

The next meeting of the Winnipeg branch will discuss the reductions in salaries caused by the new cost of living bonuses, which bonus reduces salaries of most employees from $40 to $100 a year, and the changes desired in the reclassification bill.

Frank R. Sutton was elected president, William Moore vice-president, and E. J. L. Fuller general secretary.

To Further Irrigation Plans

Edmonton.—"There are a number of things to be settled between the Dominion Government and us in connection with the matter, but I say go ahead with your schemes, and we will not hold you up."

This was the assurance given by Premier Stewart to a big deputation of landowners from Southern Alberta, who are interested in the promotion of irrigation in the south country, and came to the provincial ministry to ascertain their attitude in the matter.

Want Larger War Gratuity

Ottawa. — Representatives of the Great War Veterans who are prosecuting actively the demand for a $2,000 gratuity to each man who fought overseas are adopting a systematic plan of canvassing every member of the Commons. They are endeavoring to line them up for the party caucus to be held when Sir Robert Borden recovers from his indisposition. The attitude of each member is being reported to the local associations that pressure from that end may also be exercised.

To Control Cold Storage

Washington.—The first of the high cost of living laws proposed by President Wilson took form when the house agriculture commission ordered favorably reported a bill to control cold storage. All containers of food when placed in storage would be stamped "cold storage food" and the dates upon which they entered and left storage would be stamped.

Quality goods at prices that can't be beat.

Creston Mercantile Company, Ltd.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Embree and family of Wardner are spending a few days here with the former's mother, Mrs. Repsomer.

S. A. Speers is this week moving into his commodious new home at the north end of the town, next the R. S. Bevan residence.

Rev. C. H. Huestis will address a meeting in the Methodist Church on Thursday night in the interest of the Lord's Day Alliance.

Miss Estelle Smith left the latter part of the week for Penticton, where she will spend a month with her sister who is now resident there.

S. G. Foreman has taken a lease of the Jackson building, next the Peekin theatre, and will open out a music store the early part of next month.

The well-known G. W. V. A. orchestra of Nelson will furnish the music for the fair night dance in Mercantile Hall, which starts at 9 o'clock prompt.

Miss Phyllis Lyne left on Friday for Corvallis, Ore., to resume her course of study in the state agricultural college at that point. This is her thirb year there.

Contractor Hendren and his staff have commenced work on the two-story frame residence which Jas. Cook is having erected on his town property near the school.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blinco and family are spending a few days with Nelson friends this week. Mr. Blinco attending the sessions of the Kootenay Beekeepers Association.

Haying on the flats will be pretty well completed by the end of the week, the majority of the cut having been put up in fine shape. At least 2000 tons of it are now in stack.

The Women's Institute dining hall on fair day will be in the Grady building on Fourth Street, when dinner will be served at 50c, from 12 till 2 p.m. Afternoon tea and lunches can be had from 3 to 5.30.

M. J. Boyd is busy this week fitting up the old McPeak building, which now occupies the lot next Bevan garage, and which will open out in about three weeks stocked with a full line of hardware and furniture.

The grouse shooting season closed on Sunday. This class of bird was unusually numerous this year, and due to the high cost of living sportsmen are wondering why the season was limited to about two weeks.

Things are progressing nicely and the opening of the Peekin moving picture theatre on Saturday night is now assured. There will be two shows, the first at 8 o'clock, with the "Fight for Millions" as the feature film.

Lawyer Garland has just been notified of his appointment as local representative for the Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment board, and his duties are to look after the affairs of the returned men along various lines.

The Sinclair building on Fourth Street, better known as the armory, next the King George hotel, has been sold to A. E. French, who, we understand, intends opening out shortly with a barber shop and poolroom.

Rev. G. H. Hamilton got back last week from Cranbrook, where he had been lending a hand at some evangelisitic services it that town, in which all the Methodist and united church clergy in Kootenay have lent a hand.

Notwithstanding the providing of the extra room at the Creston school all four divisions at the public school have an enrollment of almost forty pupils—almost a 25 per cent. increase over the attendance at closing time in June.

Road foreman J. D. Moore of Kaslo was here a couple of days the latter part of the week, and as a result men and teams are busy this week levelling off the rough spots and filling in the low places on the flats and main roads and splendid traveling is assured for the auto trips in connection with the Nelson business men's visit.

The
Phonograph

The All-record Brunswick is the product of the Master Craftsman of North America.

After years of Phonographic development, the House of Brunswick has achieved a new method of reproduction.

To properly interpret the sound waves of all records, to round out these viberations in full, life-like volume,—these were the problems.

And they are solved by the Brunswick's new and distinctive method of reproduction combining the ULTONA and the OVAL WOOD TONE AMPLIFIER.

With the ULTONA, the precise requirements of each type of record are met by a turn of the hand. The proper weight, needle and reproducer are all provided in one compact, simple device which no other phonograph possesses.

The New Brunswick Tone Amplifier is built entirely of wood like a fine violin. Wood alone can give sound waves the mellow vibration essential to good music.

The Brunswick plays ALL records at their Best. Find out for yourself. We will be only too pleased at any time to play any any number of records, and thus afford you opportunity to compare its tone—and be convinced.
