CREATIVE GIVING

Private Gifts, Grants and Bequests to The University of British Columbia.

APRIL 1975 — MARCH 1976

"I regard the UBC as an institution which has a greater potential than any other for making a contribution to the future of the population of this Province."

H. R. MacMILLAN
(Extract from a letter to UBC on 27.8.70)

HARVEY

MACMILLAN

"His loss will be deeply felt, but his name will always be honored on this campus."

The words were spoken by Dr. Douglas T. Kenny, President of the University, after the death in February, 1976, of H.R. MacMillan who was, at the age of 90, described by Dr. Kenny as one of UBC's "greatest friends and benefactors".

Dr. MacMillan, who said in 1970 that he regarded UBC as an institution "which has a greater potential than any other for making a contribution to the future of the population of this province", backed up this belief by making gifts to the University totalling millions of dollars over a period of 30 years.

In the words of Dr. Kenny, "These gifts were notable not just for their size but for their purpose. H.R. made it a principle to provide aid in areas that he felt were not properly the responsibility of government. He gave his support to scholarship rather than to bricks and mortar."

Dr. MacMillan was also a strong supporter of UBC's Museum of Anthropology, contributing substantially to the museum's acquisition of Indian artifacts, totem poles and other massive carvings.

Shortly before his death, he made a handsome contribution to the University in memory of his great friend and former UBC Chancellor, John M. Buchanan.

In 1950, H.R. MacMillan was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Science by UBC.

THE UNIVERSITY WANTS TO SERVE YOU

The University wishes to express gratitude to donors in a variety of ways.

If you do not receive UBC Reports or the UBC Alumni Chronicle we will be pleased to place you on the mailing list.

You may wish to have information regarding a specific teaching or research programme, faculty or department; or advice in seeking sources of information or answers to problems.

The results of research conducted at the University are freely available and we are eager that they should be of the widest benefit.

A variety of excellent facilities are open to the general public for conferences, social functions, workshops and seminars. They cater for ten or a thousand persons and are backed by food, accommodation and programming services.

The magnificent site, the beauty of the campus and the varied activities of its community make UBC an outstanding place to visit. We will be happy to help you guide a friend or conduct a tour.

THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA
VANCOUVER

President Douglas T. Kenny

TO OUR FRIENDS IN THE COMMUNITY:

I am happy to have the opportunity to extend the University's heartfelt thanks to the many friends of UBC who have for so long provided, through their generous contributions, an essential supplement to our support from government grants and student fees.

These contributions have made a significant difference in students' chances for getting a university education, in maintaining our teaching and research programs, and in the necessary physical growth and development of the University.

I am particularly gratified by the increasing support for university activities from industry, foundations, clubs, societies, associations and individuals. Such support often makes possible programs which otherwise might not be possible.

It is clear that this University's reputation for excellence is due in no small manner to such generous support.

I know I speak for the University and generations of students in thanking donors for their generous support and in saluting Mr. Arthur F. Armstrong, Chairman of the UBC Resources Council and the many volunteers who have given unstintingly of their time in generating gifts.

Cordially yours,

Douglas T. Kenny

Support is welcome in every area of teaching, research and capital development; and money for the assistance of students is always needed. We welcome the opportunity to discuss with donors the form their support might take. No gift is too small — and none too large.

WILLS & BEQUESTS COMMITTEE

As Chairman of the Wills & Bequests Committee I have come to know how greatly the stature of the University has been enhanced by gifts that have been made to UBC in the wills of its friends. The first bequest — for $12,000 — was received in 1928. The many subsequent bequests range from $50 to the some $14,500,000 anticipated from the estates of Isaak and Dorothy Killam. This magnificent support has enabled the University to develop in fields that otherwise would remain fallow.

During the year 1975-1976, $527,989 was received from 23 bequests. Since 1928, the University has been advised of a beneficial interest in 225 wills, known amounts in 178 cases totalling over $25 million, most of which has been received. In addition, there have been a variety of bequests-in-kind in the past year including books, paintings, photographs, stamps, carvings and collections of artifacts.

The University would appreciate the opportunity to discuss with its friends, and their estate officers, intentions in regard to bequests. UBC is concerned that benefactors should be kept up-to-date in their particular fields of interest.

THE UBC MEMORIAL FUND

The University of British Columbia has established a Memorial Scholarship and Bursary Endowment Fund which it is hoped will provide a significant source of student support.

The purpose of the fund is to encourage memorial donations, and to cater for donations that in themselves would not provide sufficient investment income to provide a meaningful award.

The fund is designed to serve persons willing to leave small bequests to UBC, to serve lifetime donors and to serve corporations wishing to make gifts in memoriam.

In due course, a brochure will be produced listing the persons in whose name contributions have been received, and these brochures will be given to each student receiving an award from the fund.

In recent years there have been a number of organized in memoriam funds of sufficient amount to provide meaningful awards over a long period. For example, 408 friends of Professor Harry Logan established an annual scholarship in his name, as did 357 friends and corporations who paid tribute to Professor Leslie Wong.

However, the shrinking value of the dollar has meant that some earlier and smaller funds no longer perform the full function intended. With the permission of the donors concerned, some of these funds might become part of the new Memorial Fund and this will ensure that the names of the persons to whom tribute has been paid will remain known to future generations of students and faculty.

During the year ending March 31, 1976, several hundred donors made gifts (a number being repeat gifts) in memory of 142 persons. In many cases these gifts supported student aid.

A special feature of the Memorial Scholarship and Bursary Fund is the help it will give to individuals and small groups of donors who are not in a position to make major gifts at the time of death of a friend or relative but who may hope to make further lifetime gifts and/or to include an appropriate provision in their wills. By means of this new fund the name of a deceased person will be memorialized regularly from the time the original gift is made.

Donors interested in making in memoriam gifts for scholarships and bursaries, or considering other forms of student support are encouraged to write or call Mr. Byron Hender, the Director of Student Awards, The University of British Columbia, telephone: 228-5111. Should Mr. Hender be unavailable, call Mr. Alfred Adams, of the UBC Resources Council, telephone: 228-3917.

COMMERCE/ENGINEERING FUND

The fund was established to supplement monies from Provincial capital grants for additions and renovations for the Henry Angus Building (Commerce and Business Administration) and a new building to be shared by the Departments of Civil and Mechanical Engineering. The Fund was launched in 1974. Pledges and gifts in the amount of $780,000 have been received and will be divided equally between the two buildings.

The work on the Henry Angus Building is complete and cost $3,400,000. On February 12, 1976, there was a ceremony for the dedication of the Earle Douglas MacPhee Executive Conference Centre and the Cyrus H. McLean Audio-Visual Theatre, two special features in the building.

The construction of the Mechanical and Civil Engineering building is well under way and it is hoped the new facility will be in use in late 1976. The rapid escalation of building costs has advanced the estimated cost of this engineering complex to some $6,700,000.

The volunteer campaign committee worked under the able leadership of Cec Hurd and Trevor W. Pilley.

OTHER SPECIAL CAPITAL FUNDS

Payments on pledges continued to be received for:

The Geological Sciences Centre Fund

The Agricultural Sciences Fund

The Law Building Fund

The Law Building was named for George F. Curtis, Dean Emeritus and Professor of Law, at the official opening on September 17, 1976.

THE ASIAN CENTRE FUND

On March 22, 1971, steel girders from the Sanyo Corporation's Expo '70 Pavilion in Japan were accepted by the Government of British Columbia as a first gift for a fund to build an Asian Centre in Vancouver.

The leaders of the fund recommended that the building should be sited on the UBC campus so that it could house UBC's Asian-language library, the largest collection in Canada, and also serve as a research and community centre backed by the Asianists working at the University.

The University is grateful to friends in Japan and to Mr. Joseph L. Whitehead, the Fund Chairman, his predecessor, Mr. Alan F. Campney, and the committee for their sustained efforts.

It is estimated that a further $3.5 million will be required to complete the project.

As at March 31, 1976, pledges and gifts were as follows: Japan Expo '70 Foundation and Keidanren (Federation of Economic Organizations of Japan) — $800,000; Federal Government of Canada — $450,000; Government of British Columbia — $400,000; individuals and corporations — $74,268; Total — $1,724,268.

THE UBC AQUATIC CENTRE FUND

Construction of UBC's new indoor pool began on December 1, 1975. The current project, Stage I, is being funded with a cash contribution of $925,000 from the students, a matching grant from UBC's capital funds, and a $333,333 grant from the Government of B.C.'s Community Recreational Facilities Fund. This stage will provide the basic structure only. A fund-raising campaign has been launched to start Stage II which could have the pool open by September, 1977.

A one-day blitz of the area west of Granville Street netted $14,870 in spite of typical January weather. The UBC Alumni Association is supporting the fund and contributions from UBC graduates are arriving at an encouraging rate. The faculty of UBC has been very generous indeed. Under the leadership of Dr. Cy Finnegan of the Department of Zoology, faculty members have pledged $73,779 — an average of $164 from each donor. A similar appeal to the non-academic staff will be launched in the near future. Of the total estimated cost of $4,700,000, $1.1 million remains to be raised.

The pool will provide the most important public aquatic facility in British Columbia and a major portion of the operating hours will be set aside for use by the general community. It will be used by the University for academic classes by the Schools of Physical Education and Recreation, Rehabilitation Medicine and the faculties of Education and Science. Times and admission charges will be set by a six-member management committee: two members of the off-campus community, two students and two University representatives.

ALMA MATER SOCIETY

OF THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Student Union Building, University of British Columbia
VANCOUVER 8, B.C.

August 1976

On behalf of the students of the University of British Columbia, I would like to thank the many members of the community whose contributions have helped us receive the education we seek, as well as helping us find respite from the search.

The students themselves are proud of their own contributions to the University, not only to its governance, but to its capital development as well. Since 1928 students have contributed over $6,000,000 to projects as diverse as gymnasiums, the Armouries and student residences, as well as to the Student Union Building and the planned Indoor Pool.

Over and above their own fee levies, have been the efforts of students personally approaching the community on behalf of the university and the Alma Mater Society. These efforts have been, and I am sure will continue to be, well rewarded.

Yours sincerely,

David Van Blarcom
President
Student Representative Assembly
