No Flower Show Too Few Entries

At the Women's Institute meeting on Friday afternoon it was decided that the proposed flower show in July should not be held, sufficient entries had not been sent in to warrant the holding of the show. The dance given by the Erickson and Canyon City members on June 3rd at the Parish Hall was a great success, Mrs. F. V. Staples turning in $27 to the institute treasurer, which will help swell the funds reqnired for the forthcoming conference. As a further way of making money the Institute members are serving a 50c. dinner in Speers' Hall on Sports' Day, June 25th, which will, no doubt, be much appreciated by those from out of tewn who will be here for the celebration. At a meeting of the directors and committee on Tuesday it was decided to cancel the 50c, dinner and instead serve the supper at the dance the same evening. The change is due to receiving a letter from Mr. Foreman which had not come to hand at Friday's meeting.

Mrs. McLachlan, secretary of B.C. Women's Institutes, a woman who is very much to the fore in all matters appertaining to public health and district nursing, and also an excellent speaker, will address a public meeting in Speers' Hall on Saturdry, June 26th, when it is hoped there will be a large attendance of members and friends—both women and Men. The Health Committee, to which the various organizations in the Valley have been asked to name a member, has not yet been formed, so far only Christ Church Ladies' Guild and the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid have sent in the names of their representatives. As soon as the other uames are forwardrd to the secretary the committee can get to work and determine what are the prospects for having a district nurse here.

Mrs. Morgan Long read a useful and interesting paper on bulbs, after which Mesdames Dow, Hayes and Garland served tea, and the customary collection netted $4.65.

Miss Alice Embree, who has spent the past month with faiends in Ttail returned on Saturday.

Creston disposed of Wynndel handily in the baseball match on Sunday afternoon, the score being 8 to 1 at the end of six innings, which is all that could be played owing to the late arrival of the Creston team on the field, and the visitors having to catch the afternoon train home. For the celebration on Friday next the committee in charge has decided that the late arrival of either team will forfeit the game to the on-time club.

In response to many enquiries as to who are the regularly appointed registrars of voters in this section, R. Hewat, the man at the head of registration has supplied The Review with the following names: Guy Constable, Dr. Henderson, Mrs. Downs, Mrs. F. H. Jackson, and G. M. Benny. These are well supplied with the necessary papers, and it is well to remember that the old lists have been abolished and that you must re-register before July 15th, or go without a vote on the forthcoming liquor referendum.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. T. Smith, near Porthill, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Thursday of last week, when their daughter, Miss Dorothy Ada, was united in marriage with Richard Stace Smith of Creston. Rev. T. D. McClintock of Nelson performing the ceremony in the presence of a small company of invited guests. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by Miss Nellie Anderson, while the groom was assisted by Wilfrid Smith. A sumptuous wedding dinner followed the ceremony, and the many useful and ornamental presents received was tangible evidence of the popularity of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside at Kitchener for the present and the best wishes of a host of friends for a long and happy wedded life are extended.

Canyon City

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Long, who recently sold their property in Creston, have this week moved onto their ranch on the Lister road, on which Mr. Long has lately erected quite a comfortable bungalow.

Another newcomer to the district is Mr. and Mrs. Plunkett of Cranbrook, who have just moved onto the John Huscroft place, vacated some time ago by Mr. Hodge.

Phonse Huygens is filiing in a little spare time while awaiting the strawberries coming in by hauling wood to customers in Creston—orders that could not be filled last winter owing to no sleighing.

Mrs. Sullivan (nee Violet Chambers) of Cranbrook is spending a short holiday here with friends, the guest of her father, R. J. Chambers.

Bert Hare of Creston is here at present in charge of the Company store during the absence of Fred Waylett at Winnipeg.

Miss Corbett, teacher of the senior room of the public school, has been on the sick list for a few days, necessitating the closing down of her room.

At leass six pupils from here will be at Creston for the Entrance examinations next week. They are Gertie Speaker, Annie McRobb, Kathleen Clayton, Norma Carver, Jeffrey Knott and Elmer Chambers.

West Creston

Geo. Seymour and Jack Smith are at work extending the Corn Creek trail to Boundary Lake for the forestry department.

Jos. Stephens has his horse stump puller in operation and reports it working excellently,

F. K. Hurry, who is in charge of the ferry, left this week for Soap Lake, Wash., where he is taking the baths for his rheumatism.

Geo. Seymour, who purchased the Burnett Bros. ranch about a year ago, and has already 30 acres of it fenced has let a contract to clear another five acres to Jos, Stephens.

When the hot weather comes look out for the high water. People who have been up Corn Creek trail as late as last week report ice and snow still in evidence.

Fishery inspector, C. W. Robinson of Nelson paid Corn Creek and Summit Creeks an official visit last week. He did not seem to be impressed with the idea of establishing a close season on those streams.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Olson of Waldo, is a Creston visitor at present, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Morrow.

FOR SALE—Farm wagon, double box, spring seat, whiffletrees and neckyoke, all in good order, $65. Morrow's Blacksmith Shop.

Al. Hendren is a visitor at Nelson this week, for the 1920 session of the B.C. Masonic grand lodge. R. J. Long, W.M., is also in attendance.

R.E. Beattie of Cranbrook was here the latter part of the week taking a look over operations on the firm's new store next the Mercantile Co., which they expect to be occupying before the end of the month.

H. Balmont of the Universal Film Co., Calgary, Alta., was a business visitor here this week, and during his stay booked the order for the full equipment of the new Peekin moving picture theatre, which is now in course of erection.

D. W. Briggs, president of the Canyon City Lumber Co., of Portland, is a business visitor here this week. By operating night and day the firm's caterpillar engine is managing to handle a haul of logs sufficient to keep the mill running steady.

Vice-principal Pearce last week moved into the new cottage he has erected on Hillside road, next to the Cherrington home. The Fulljames house thus vacated on Gurd Ave., is now occupied by H. B. Downs, who has moved in from the ranch.

Rev. P. C. Hayman, who up till about six years ago was in charge of Christ Church, and since then located at Grand Forks, went through on Sunday, on a holiday trip to the Old Country. There was quite a turnout of former pamishoners to see him during the train stop here.

There is quite a lively demand locally for pianos. During the month S. G. Foreman reports the sale of New Scale Williams instruments to J. W. Hamilton and the new Peekin theatre. Mr. Foreman asks us to remind the public that he has no connection whatever with the Willia piano firm.

In Speer Hall, on Saturday, June 26th, at 8.30 p.m., a meeting will be addressed by Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan of Victoria, a member of the provincial executive of the National Council of Women of Canada, on the subject of a public health nurse. Everybody—both men and women—invited,

F. Foster arrived the latter part of the week from Calgary, Alta., has been placed in full charge of the repair department at the R. S. Bevan garage. He is an experienced auto mechanic and customers are thus assured of a continuance of the excellent service this garage always affords.

There has been quite a number of new phones installed within the past month, particularly in Alice Siding section, where instruments have been placed in the residences of W. Simister. R. Stewart, M. Churchill, and Mrs. Cockerill. At Wynndel H. Rosendale has the phone in his house, and instruments are also now located at the Butterfield and Wynndel Mercantile Co. stores—the latter a public pay phone.

Erickson

A. L. McCullough, the Nelson surveyor, was here over the week-end, making the plans for the diversion reservoir of the local irrigation system. The lumber has been ordered for it and construction will be under way at once.

At the rate of progress on the new bridge it looks safe to predict that it will be ready for traffic by July 1st. The false work has now been all removed.

Cut worms and other troubles have taken about 5000 of Dong Barney's tomato plants and he will replant the area killed out to spuds.

Miss Stella McKelvey, who has been at the Oregon state ladies college at Corvallis since September, got home on Saturday for a three month's vacation, after successfully completing the first year course.

R. J. Long is spending a few days in Nelson this week attending the sessions of Masonic grand lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Palfryman and family and Miss Cotterll of Champlain, Ill., arrived on Thursday last on a visit to Mrs. C. Cotterill, and are so well taken with the Valley that it is more than likely they will remain permanently.

Whole Day Sports Friday, June 25

The committee in charge of the Get-Together Day celebration on Friday next put the finishing touches on the day's programme of events at a meeting on Tuesday night, and if the weather man delivers the brand of climate that has been spoken for for the 25th certainly the Creston Valley is due to have the biggest day's sport that has ever been provided. The day as mapped out by the committee will have something moving from 10 a.m. until long past midnight for those who dance, and till well well on in the evening for those who round off the day with a visit to the moving pictures, and for whose accomodation two shows will be run, the first at 7.30 and the second at 9.30.

Proceedings will open at 10 o'clock with a junior baseball match between the Boy Scouts and Public School teams. At 11 there will be a football match between Lister and Creston, which promises to be a keen one as Lister has a lot of splendid material and S. G. Foreman is handpicking the Creston aggregation in order to furnish a battle royal.

At 1 p.m. there will be a decorated auto parade, with a prize of $10 offered for the best decorated car, and there is promise of a good field of entries. After this the big list of races, jumping, logers' competitions, Indian and squaw races and contests, etc. These will be in front of the grand stand and the grounds will be specially prepared for the occasion under the supervision of R. S. Bevan.

At 2 p.m. the first of the two baseball matches will start. There are three teams entered, Porthill, Wynndel and Creston. The draw for these games will be on Sunday, when representatives of the clubs interested will be in town. The winner of the first game will play the team drawing the bye not later than 4.30 p.m. Seven inning games will be the rule, and this should see the baseball over in good time for the horse races which will be run on Canyon street at the close of the day.

Beattie-Oatway, Ltd., were the highest bidders for the refreshment privileges. They have sub-let the right to serve meals, etc. to a ladies' organization, which ensures that there will be an abundance of refreshments of all sorts well served, and those staying over for the theatre and dance will have no trouble securing supper—or dinner.

Manager Rodgers is offering "The Master Crook" and a three-real side splitter comedy by Charlie Chaplin, "Shoulder Arms," a two-hour show that could hardly be beat at popular prices. Creston orchestra will furnish music for the dance which is in Mercantile Hall at 9 o'clock prompt, and at which the Women's Institute will serve supper.

Those in charge of the various committees are: Football, S. G. Foreman. Baseball, R. B. Staples. Grounds, R. S. Bevan. Horse races, Geo. Johnson. Finance, C. W. Allen. C. F. Hayes. Races, etc., Major Mallandaine, C. B. Garland.

Cranbrook's four churches claim to have promises of $15,000 in connection with the recent Forward movement effort. The Methodists and Presbyterians account for $5000 each.

CHAPTER I.

Tardily the cloud gates, far eastward, opened to a new-born day; liquid glories licked the tree-spiked horizon. A misty sheen of orange and purple drifted across lake and forest and wiped the last sombre shadows from the mystery-enshrouded world.

Throughout the greening aisles wild life awoke and to the music of God's wind-played organ ascended the chanted thanks of His wild creatures.

Standing on the shore of the lake, a young man watched the wondrous streamers transform his solitude. Upon his bronzed face the morning sunlight lingered, and in his dark, wide-set eyes rested a deep perplexity born of the dumb groping for the solution of what was still to him a mystery. Linked to the wild, he was its worshipper, but one who could read the Lord's prayer in the lighting skies.

In the faint glow that dawned like a smile of promise — "Our Father which art in heaven—"

With the out-sweeping glory—"Thy kingdom come—"

And with the purple haze on lake and tree-tops, "Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven."

And with the pealing of the wind-fingered organ of the forest cathedral "For Thine is the kingdom, the [illegible]

[illegible] in his soul to that [illegible] which was to him [illegible]

[illegible]

Her eyes shifted and she half turned towards the path leading from the lake's edge, through the tangle of tamaracks, pausing to cast a look back over her shoulder at him. Her lips were drawn back from her white teeth, her short stub of a tail was lashing angrily. The man took a step towards her, and with a growl she turned and bounded away into the woods.

With a shrug he picked up a cake of soap and towel from the rock and turned towards the path.

The variegated tints of dawn had melted into a dome of blue and gold and the morning winds were wrinkling the face of the lake into millions of tiny waves. Close in along the shore, among the greening rushes, a flock of wood ducks were feeding clamorously, darting and cross-tagging and diving after the manner of their kind. The man paused for a moment to watch them. One gorgeous little drake, fluttering up above the reeds the better to display his glorious plumage to the dapper little duck he had selected for his mate, caught sight of him and gave a little quacking note of recognition.

He answered it, and immediately the whole flock of ducks came spattering, half swimming, half flying, towards him. They settled close in the lake before him in a half circle, squawking, dodging, diving and clamoring for food. He drew from the pockets of his deer-skin jacket a handful of yellow corn and scattered it among them. As they dived frantically for the sweet morsels, a pair of sleek black ducks winged in from [illegible] of the lake and settled [illegible] with soft-voiced quacks. its whole manner bespoke cringing shame and contrition.

The man turned slowly and let his eyes rest upon the lynx. There was no harshness or disapproval in the look; only reproach. At the glance the animal's big eyes slowly shifted and the purr became fainter.

"Drop it, Lulu," he ordered in a low voice. The lynx relaxed her hold on the bird with a cry that was half a snarl, half a whimper, sank to the ground. The partridge, happily a bird capable of withstanding much mauling, fluttered away a few paces and hopped on a log, where it sat swaying giddily for a moment, before taking flight. The amber eyes of the big cat followed it hungrily and the sinews of her forelegs twitched ominously, but at a low spoken word from the man she grovelled down again and lay with round head between paws, blinking up at him.

The woodsman stepped over beside her and bending down patted her grey sides. Immediately she broke into a joyous purring and turning over on her back lifted all four paws in the air. The man laughed and grabbing her roughly by the throat shook her from side to side. She snarled and spit and tapped the face above her own with great soft paws. She grabbed his hand in her mouth and champed it gently with her teeth. Then, as though fearing she had hurt him, she licked it with her rough tongue.

He gave her a parting shake and stood up. The lynx yawned, showing a huge red cavity spiked with long glistening teeth, and rolled over and over on a bed of newly shooting catnip; but as a bunch of dappled feathers, torn from the released partridge, came skimming along the sward, she gave a hissing snarl and struck at them viciously, her long claws leaving little black furrows on the face of the sod. Then she sat up moodily, and in the greenish-yellow eyes raised to the accusing ones of her master there lurked a gleam of rebellion.

"Lulu, I'm ashamed of you," said the man, sternly. "Go home to your kittens."

Her eyes shifted and she half turned towards the path leading from the lake's edge, through the tangle of tamaracks, pausing to cast a look back over her shoulder at him. Her lips were drawn back from her white teeth, her short stub of a tail was lashing angrily. The man took a step towards her, and with a growl she turned and bounded away into the woods.

the wild ducks had sprung to wing and were sweeping towards their rush retreat. The man divined the cause of the disturbance and turned with a frown to find a big grey fox hungrily watching the retreating birds, her family of five half-grown puppies squatted on their haunches close behind her.

Development of Abandoned Farms

The Western Michigan Development Bureau, a semi-official organization, launched a campaign to bring into production a part of Michigan's 18,000 abandoned farms. In co-operation with real estate firms and employment agencies, the plan calls for recruiting surplus labor in industrial centres and the placing of these men on fully-equipped farms.

SHORT OF BREATH

Could Hardly Walk Without Resting.

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble, one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes: "I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting, as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

Professional Ethics

Could there be a more vivid example of professional honor than that of the French doctor who continued on his way to the bedside of a seriously sick patient after he had been overtaken with the news that his son had met with a most distressing accident? The pathos of the incident is heightened by the fact that the father learned on his return that the boy had died in his absence.—Providence Journal.

Manitoba Government Will Help To Bring British Women Into The Province

As a result of representations made to the Manitoba provincial government by Charles Robson, who has recently returned from Great Britain where he was sent by the federal department of immigration, to enquire into the outlook for the emigration of British women to Canada, Hon. Valentine Winkler announced the intention of the Manitoba government to undertake a policy of advanced fares for bona fide domestics.

"For the present and because the undertaking will be more or less of an experiment, it has been decided," said Mr. Winkler, "to limit the operation of the policy to 100 women. The advance to each woman will approximate 50 to 75 percent of the fare and the government is providing for an expenditure of $7,500 this year. It is hoped that these women will be secured through a country-operation between federal and provincial governments' co-operation.

Seven Hundred Miles of Long Distance Projected

Approximately 700 miles of long distance telephone lines will be built by the Saskatchewan government this year, providing the program of the department is carried out as drafted. This will involve the use of 28,000 poles and about 1,200 miles of wire. Labor continues moderately scarce and wages high, to an extent which, coupled with heavy costs for building material, has seriously curtailed the building program of many firms.

A Perfect Antidote

Two rich girls have been arrested in New York stores during the past week on the charge of shop-lifting. In each case their lawyers claim they were the victims of aphasia. It seems they walked into the stores, looked around and suddenly the world became blank. They did not come back to their normal senses until detectives tapped them on the shoulder and said they were under arrest. It seems a good detective is an absolutely perfect antidote for aphasia.—New York Correspondent.

Sugar Plantation Workers in Honolulu Get Big Bonus

With sugar selling at 19.50 cents a pound, the monthly bonus rate which is being paid to sugar plantation laborers in Hawaii amounts to 345 percent of the wage rate, or a daily wage rate of $3.42 for the lowest paid unskilled laborer. In other words the laborer who receives a basic wage of $20 a month is now being paid $69 a month, the $21 man is being paid $79.34, and the $24 man is being paid $84. If sugar goes to 20 cents, the lowest paid unskilled laborer will receive $71 in wages and bonus. Under the Hawaiian plan, the laborer is paid his wages and 75 percent of his bonus each month, the remaining 25 percent of the bonus being retained for him until the end of the bonus year.

A Link With the Past

Old-timer at Edmonton Recalls Stirring Life of Early Days

To be seized and dragged from your horse by a party of Indians on the warpath; be tied to the stump of a tree and have brush piled about your feet, amid the jeers of the painted savages, and, just as the brush was fired, to be rescued by your companions who had heard your screams.—Did it ever happen to you, even in your dreams? Yet this is only one of the experiences that are milestones in the history of one of Edmonton's oldest citizens. Tlesphore Alexander Blair. Born 89 years ago on the banks of the St. Lawrence, "Daddy Blair," as he is known, is spending the evening of his eventful life in the Alberta capital, living again in his tales of the past his adventures in the days when the west was "West," when as frontier mail-carrier, scout, hunter and trapper, on foot and on pony-pack, he travelled the prairie and the northland from B. C. to Manitoba, and from the Yukon to the Dakotas. Probably no living man has made a longer mileage in the west, or all over the world, than this French-Canadian old-timer, now janitor of a "mission" in Edmonton.

Music by Long Distance Wireless

Remarkable Experiment Successfully Carried Out By Wireless Telephone

A large audience at the Chateau Laurier assembly hall heard perfectly a gramophone playing in Montreal and also Miss Lutton singing in that city over one hundred miles away by means of wireless telephone. It was arranged by Dr. A. S. Eve, in connection with an address on some great war inventions, before the Royal Society of Canada. The experiment took place at nine o'clock and by means of a Magna Vok the voice of the distant singer was quite distinctly heard in all parts of the hall.

Huge Irrigation Projects

More Land Is Brought Under Irrigation in Alberta

Another large area of land in southern Alberta has been brought under irrigation during the last few days when water was turned into the main ditch of the Canada Land and Irrigation company, east of the Little Bow Reservoir, for irrigating what is known as the Vauxhall district, where 5,000 acres of land purchased by settlers from the United States, will be put into crop this year. The water will be ready for use on the farms.

Water was turned into the main ditch from the Bow river intake, 40 miles east of Calgary, a year ago last fall, and since then the huge reservoir in the Snake Valley, known as Lake McGregor, which is nine miles long and holds enough water to run the entire project for a year, has been filled. Some weeks ago, water was turned from this reservoir into the main ditch to the east, and the reservoir at Little Bow, which holds enough for a month's operations, was filled. Now the water has been turned out into the ditches from this reservoir.

The turning of the water into the ditches marks the successful culmination of an engineering project which has been in course of development for a number of years. It is ten years or more since the project was first undertaken, and since then it has been through various reorganizations and changes, until it culminated in the amalgamation of three distinct companies into the Canada Land and Irrigation company. The main ditch of the project is 175 miles long, and from this it is ultimately planned to irrigate 220,000 acres of land.

NEURALGIA AND SCIATICA

Caused by Starved Nerves Due To Weak, Watery Blood

People generally think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve of the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the Sciatic nerve is called Sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease is the same. The cause is the same, and the remedy, to be effective, must be the same. The pain of neuralgia, whether it takes the form of Sciatica or whether it affects the face and head, is caused by starved nerves. The blood, which normally carries nourishment to the nerves, for some reason no longer does so and the excrutiating pain you feel is the cry of the starved nerves for food. The reason why the blood fails to properly nourish the nerves is usually because the blood itself is weak and thin.

When you build up the thin blood with Dr. Williams Pink Pills, you are attacking neuralgia, sciatica and kindred diseases at the root. As proof of the value of these pills in cases of this kind we give the statement of Mrs. Thomas McGuire, North Malden, Ont., who says: "I have been a severe sufferer from sciatica, which attacked the sciatic nerve in the left leg. At times the pain was most excrutiating and as a result of the trouble there was a distinct shrivelling of the leg. I could only hobble about by using a cane, and if I attempted to walk to the fields I would have to sit down every little while to ease the agony I felt. I was under medical treatment, but as there was no improvement shown, I was getting very despondent, as the trouble was affecting my general health. Finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills and I decided to do so. I took the pills faithfully for several months, finding a gradual and increasing improvement in my case, until finally every vestige of the trouble had gone, and I was again enjoying the blessing of good health and freedom from pain. What Dr. Williams Pink Pills did for me seems almost a miracle and I hope that my experience may benefit some other sufferer."

If you are suffering from any ailment due to weak blood avail yourself at once of the splendid home treatment which Dr. Williams Pink Pills so easily afford, and you will be among those who rejoice in regained health. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Good Prospects in Irrigation Block

Swedish Colony on Bow Slope Are Prospering

A few miles south of Brooks, in the eastern section of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Irrigation project in southern Alberta, a very productive district has sprung up during the last two or three years. This district lies to the north of the Bow River on what is known as the Bow Slope, and has been found especially suited to irrigation.

In one of the best parts of the Bow Slope is the Swedish colony of Upland, which was established in 1918 and which now has a population of about 300 people and an area close to 8,500 acres under crop. In 1918 the acreage under crop was 600, in 1919 2,200 acres were cropped and this year an authoritative source states that 8,362 acres of land has been seeded.

The Bow Slope produced heavy crops last year and the settlers there look for heavy production in 1920, as conditions are in every way a great deal more favorable. About 4,000 acres of the total area in crop is being seeded to flax, it having proved a splendid crop, especially on new broken land. Last year as high as 23 bushels to the acre was raised on Bow Slope farms. As the land is getting in better shape, alfalfa is being planted, and already about 200 acres are under that seed, made up of small plots on various farms.

Throughout the whole irrigation block, moisture conditions are excellent, and a great deal of breaking is being done. Many farmers have been working night and day, both to get in all the wheat possible and to prepare new land for crop. On the farms of the Duke of Sutherland work has been done in two shifts and wheat seeding is now completed with two thousand acres in crop.

Notwithstanding there is sufficient moisture everywhere for rapid germination, preparations for irrigating are being made and every possible minute is being taken advantage of to get the ditches in shape and ready for the water which is expected to be turned on within the next week, or, at the very latest, by the first of June.

Berry Season Late Outlook Excellent

Given a five-weeks' stretch of regulation Creston Valley summer weather from now on, with just an occasional shower, and the Wynndel section ought to market about the most satisfactory strawberry crop in that well-known strawberry section's history.

While the latter half of 1919 was far from ideal for a vigorous development of the strawberry plants yet, on the whole, they have come through the winter in good shape; the old plants never looked better in most cases, and while the spring plantings of last year are not quite so healthy looking they give every promise of a satisfactory yield, too.

The Co-Operative Fruit Growers Association is looking for an export of 12,000 to 15,000 crates this season, making their calculations on the basis of 30 acres under berries, and an average yield of better than 400 crates to the acre. The average might look high at first but when it is borne in mind that almost half that area will this year be irrigated by the Skinner overhead system an expectation of around 500 crates to the acre is not unreasonable.

That prices will rule high this year is indicated from the advance sales which amount to about ten straight cars, and these have been booked at $4.50 per crate f.o.b. Wynndel. The early berries will open at $6 possibly, and much of the express shipping is expected to bring $5.50. The Co-Operative have alreaky brought in 12,000 crates and a supply of cups for that amount of crates. This year the Co-Operative has not been able to advantageously purchase the same style of cup as has been used the past three or four years, although they have enough of them for 5000 crates, but the other 7000 are supplied with the square cup. Crates this year will cost as high as 41 cents, and it is likely pickers will get 50 cents a crate, with another half dollar added to the big growers' expense for packing, field supervision, etc., so that even should $5 a crate be the average for the year due to the increased cost of supplies and labor it is doubtful if the price net to the grower will be much better than in 1919 when the average price was almost $4.

At present there is little prospect of any berries moving much before the 25th, or almost 2 weeks later than last year, and certainly there will be no straight cars rolling before July 1st. Raspberries that were not trimmed last summer have wintered nicely and look promising. Apples are heavy and a big June drop will be welcome. In the vegetable line Wynndel will not cut much figure in export trade for 1920.

Five of the growers have installed the Skinner irrigation system this spring, with a total of fourteen acres under pipe line, as follows: O. J. Wigen, 4½ acres. Uri Brothers, 2 acres. Monrad Wigen, 4 acres. Joe Wigen, 2 acres, and Paul Ofner, 1½ acres. The Bathie ranch has installed the main line pipes also but have not put in the cross or sprinkler pipes as yet, ahd probably will not do so until fall. Messrs. O. J. and Joe Wigen are on a gravity system with the supply coming from the tunnel of the old Elsie Homes mine which, in addition to giving an ample flow is provided with a natural reservoir in the tunnel itself which stores water sufficient to irrigate two acres to the depth of an inch of rainfall. Paul Ofner has also a gravity system from a spring about half a mile east of the ranch but he is now installing a reservoir for storage purposes. Uri brothers and Monrad Wigen utilize a 6 h.p. gasoline engine to pump their water into a small reservoir which is filled by a pipe line from Duck Creek.

The main pipe lines grade down from 8 inches, but a 2 inch pipe is used to feed the sprinkler pipes, which are from an inch downward in size. The spray holes in the sprinkler pipes are about 30 inches apart and are guaranteed to throw the fine stream or spray 30 feet, and as they are reversible each sprinkler line will irrigate a space of 60 feet wide. At Wynndel, however, the pipes have been set about 55 feet apart so as to account for a sprinkle of 27 feet.

With the exception of the Ofner ranch the work of reversing the pipes will be done by hand. Mr. Ofner has, however, installed an hydraulic oscillator which keeps the sprinkler pipe on the reversing job steadily and is expected to give better results than where the water is allowed to spray in one position steadily for a couple or more hours before being turned over. The makers of the Skinner system estimate that a supply of moisture equal to an inch of rainfall is had by allowing their sprinkler system to run steadily for nine hours, and that a nine-hour wetting in this way will carry most plants from ten days to two weeks. Mr. Ofner, however, is planning to turn the wet goods on at least once a week if it is the usual summer season.

While the cost of installing the Skinner varies, the experience at Wynndel has been that it cannot be put in for less than from $850 to $1000 per acre. However, if we are this year favored with the same sultry conditions that have prevailed the past three years an increase of from 30 to 50 per cent. in berry output may be looked for, and at the present high price of strawberries the system will not be long in paying for itself.

Taxation and the Budget

The government at Ottawa has at last decided that the time has come to call a halt to further large borrowings and consequent increases in the national debt; that the current revenue of the country must be augmented sufficiently to cover all ordinary and capital expenditures, including interest on the public debt, pensions, railway deficits, etc; that, in fact, a beginning must be made in reducing the national debt. As has been pointed out in this column on other occasions, the desired result can be brought about in two ways, or rather by a combination of both—revenue to be increased to cover expenditures; expenditures to be decreased until they are balanced by revenue; or, and this is probably the only safe way, revenues to be increased and expenditures decreased until they balance.

The government has decided to curtail expenditures for the time being by postponing the carrying out of certain public works. These, however, are only deferred. But the government does not appear to have gone very far in the direction enforcing a more rigid economy in the cost of administration. There are still too many over-lapping departments and branches of the public service; still too many civil servants drawing salaries for the amount of work to be done; still an almost criminal waste of money in many ways. There is an absence of courage at Ottawa in tackling this great problem of governmental expenditure.

On the other hand, the recent budget does contain evidence of some degree of courage on the part of the new finance minister in the raising of a larger revenue by taxation. No finance minister and no government [illegible] and heavier taxation, but it must be done if Canada [illegible] the obligations which [illegible] upon it. The people of Canada realize this, and [illegible] to pay, just as they [illegible] that [illegible] All they ask [illegible] those [illegible] material [illegible]

[illegible] general belief that some articles, which, under the prevailing conditions and prices, are actual necessities, have been classified as luxuries, there is a very general approval of the principle of imposing a tax on luxuries, of increased stamp duties, of an increase in the tax on incomes in excess of $5,000. These are steps in the right direction.

From the standpoint of the agricultural producer and the great mass of the consuming public, however, there is real ground for criticism that some action has not been taken to encourage the work of primary production throughout the Dominion by reducing the tariff burden imposed on instruments of production. Increased production would so greatly add to the wealth of the country that the increased purchasing power of the people would more than offset any decease in customs revenue resulting from lower duties on the implements imported to promote that large production.

The presentation of the budget again brings to the fore the necessity of some amendment to the rules of procedure in the house of commons whereby it will be possible to offer more than one amendment to the budget resolutions. At present only one amendment is allowed, with the result that any member, or group of members, who do not favor the main motion, that is the budget itself, and who do not consider that any amendment offered goes far enough, or too far, in proposing changes, are precluded from offering an amendment to the amendment setting forth their views on the question. One amendment and one only is allowed, with the result that no opportunity is afforded of presenting a third alternative policy.

This rule last year operated to prevent the Farmers' group from submitting their views to Parliament and the country, and compelling the members at Ottawa to record their votes thereon and make their position clear before the electorate. Unless a change in the rules is effected, the same thing will occur this year. In almost all deliberative bodies an amendment to an amendment is accepted. It should be in the house of commons on the budget. Everybody will recognize the necessity for some limitation if the transaction of public business is not to be unduly delayed, but an amendment to an amendment is a safe limitation. Limitation to a single amendment only is too strict, and operates to the disadvantage of the country and prevents reasonable and legitimate discussion and presentation of views on the most important of all public questions, namely, the imposition of taxation on the people. It is time the rules were amended in respect to amendments to the budget.

Too Few Producers

In the United States now are too many people buying and selling the things— many of them rebuying and reselling the same things— and too few workers producing things. Principally to that fact the country is indebted for the present extravagant cost of living. Is it not time to begin the progress of selection of immigration that will give the country good producers of things rather than mere [illegible] of things?—Chicago News.

Large Increase in Wool Looked For

Association Encouraging Growers To Get Together and Ship In Car Lots

Approximately 375 contracts have been entered into this season by growers in the province of Saskatchewan, and the Canadian Co-Operative Wool Growers, Ltd., under which the growers' clips will be marketed through the co-operative. These contracts represent over 31,000 sheep and over 221,000 pounds of wool already definitely in sight. Approximately 150 contracts have been received from Manitoba. This showing is as good, and possibly better than the average at this time of the season in past years, according to the district manager of the Co-operative Wool Growers' for Manitoba and Saskatchewan. "I anticipate an increase of 100,000 pounds of wool handled this year over last," he states.

The association is encouraging the wool growers of the western provinces to get together this year and ship in car lots (e.g., 20,000 pounds) from local points. Wherever they will do so, a special representative of the co-operative will be sent to take delivery of the wool as it is loaded and ship it direct to the warehouses. The object of this procedure is to materially lessen freight charges and handling expenses.

Sale of Wheat

Canadian Farmers Will Receive Over Three Million Dollars

It is understood that a settlement has been reached in the disagreement between the Greek Government and the Canadian government over the wheat prices. As a result, it is said, Canadian farmers will benefit to the extent of three and a quarter million dollars, or the difference of fifty cents a bushel between $2.50 and $3.

The increase in the amount which the Greek government has agreed to pay for something like 6,600,000 bushels of wheat was secured chiefly through the effort of the Canadian Wheat Board and the Canadian Trade Commission, which has its headquarters at Ottawa. Sir Charles Gordon, of Montreal and Rhys D. Fairbairn of Toronto are the commissioners.

The dispute is said to have arisen through a misunderstanding as to the exact interpretation of an agreement between the Greek plenipotentiaries and the Canadian trade mission which was headed by Lloyd Harris.

Ambassador Geddes Is Received By U.S. President

Washington.—Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British ambassador, formally presented his credentials to President Wilson at the White House and exchanged with the executive assurance of good will and amity.

None of the diplomatic questions pending between Great Britain and the United States was touched on specifically in the addresses exchanged between the President and Sir Auckland. In addressing the president, Sir Auckland said: "His Majesty my king, has instructed me to deliver to you this letter. and to say that it is his desire that I renew to you, sir, his assurances of the lively interest that promotes the welfare and prosperity of the United States of America.

"Immediately before I left his court of St. James, I had the honor of being received in audience by him, when he charged me particularly to express to you, sir, the vivid sense of pleasurable recollection with which he remembers your excellency's visit and that of Mrs. Wilson to him at Buckingham palace.

"He has heard with deep emotion and regret of the loss of health from which you, sir, have unhappily suffered. He prays that it may be wholly temporary and of short duration and that Almighty God may restore you to your accustomed vigor.

"He has asked me also to thank you with the utmost warmth and cordiality for the gratifying receptions and boundless hospitality which have been extended to his eldest son, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, on each separate occasion on which he has visited the shores and lands of this great nation.

"May I, your excellency, on behalf of those who were my colleagues, the members of the government of the United Kingdom, and on my own behalf, associate not only them but also myself with each and all of the royal messages of affection, goodwill and gratitude which it has been my great good fortune and high honor to be permitted to deliver to you. I am devoutly thankful that Iam able to say that I believe it to be the unanimous wish and hope of the British peoples wherever they may be, that the relations of friendship and co-operation between the peoples of the United States of America and themselves may be strengthened and developed, and that no cloud of misunderstanding may ever arise between them.

"It will be my unceasing effort ever to serve the people whom I have the honor to represent in the furtherance of their wish and hope."

Mennonites May Leave Swift Current

Receiving Offers For the Land They Contemplate Vacating

Swift Current, Sask.—Jacob Friesen, head of the Mennonite colony south of Swift Current, left a few days ago for Mississippi to make the final arrangements in connection with removal of the Mennonites from this district to settle upon lands in the southern states. Upon the result of Mr. Friesen's negotiations rests the final decision concerning the migration of the Mennonites from Swift Current district, where they own 150,000 acres of the very best farming lands. Before leaving, Mr. Friesen stated that no papers had yet been signed guaranteeing special privileges to his people by the United States authorities. If these special privileges were not forthcoming the arrangements for moving to Mississippi would be at an end and the colony would then reconsider a proposal to move to Brazil. In the meantime, the Mennonites are receiving offers from several quarters for the land they contemplate vacating. Following an offer from an American syndicate recently, efforts are now being made by representatives of French settlers in Maine and Quebec to obtain options on every possible colony farm. The price offered is $40 an acre to include implements and improvements and the season's crop. Crop prospects are so favorable at present that many of the Mennonites will refuse to join in any exodus that may take place. The provincial government has arranged for the erection of several more schools in the settlement and will rigidly enforce the school attendance act.

They were clad in prison garb.

Compelled Farmer To Give Up Land

Sinn Fein Forbids Purchase Over the Heads of Local Young Men

Dublin.—Control of Irish land by the Sinn Fein is very effective, as is instanced by an occurrence at Carrick-on-Shannon, which was reported here. A farmer named Morrison was summoned before the Sinn Fein land committee to show why he had attempted to buy land over the heads of young men of the dictrict who did not own property. He had just purchased a grazing farm for $3,500, and told the committee he had bought it for his two brothers in the United States. The committee warned him to surrender it immediately, which he agreed to do with reluctance.

Unknown persons have seized and sunk Lord Kingston's yacht, the Meelah at Carrick-on-Shannon, apparently because Lord Kingston entered a claim for $2,000 for the destruction of a police barracks on his property. The claim was subsequently withdrawn, but no public announcement of this step had been made.

Kolchak Was Shot By Revolutionist

Denied Trial, He Smoked Cigarette While Facing the Firing Squad

Victoria.—Details of the killing of Admiral Kolchak, head of the allied government troops in Siberia, were told her by Captain Webb, provost marshall with the British Forces in Siberia, who has arrived here on the steamer Manila Maru, from Vladivostok. Through treachery, he said, Kolchak was captured by revolutionists and incarcerated with former Premier Reppeliayeff at Irkutsk. When placed in front of a firing squad, Peppeliayeff was shot down when he attempted to escape.

Kolchak, denied a trial and the privilege of seeing his wife, coolly smoked a cigarette and awaited the volley. The order to fire was disobeyed by the firing squad, whereupon a commissary strode forward, pushed Kolchak's head back, and shot him to death with a revolver.

Oppose Extension Of Divorce Laws

Anglican Bishop in Toronto States Case Against Proposed Legislation

Toronto.—Strong opposition to the relaxation of laws governing divorce was voiced by Bishop Sweeney in his charge at the opening of the 68th annual meeting of the Anglican synod of the diocese of Toronto. His lordship referred to proposed divorce legislation and declared that the church of England was opposed to divorce save for the cause allowed by her divine head.

The bishop quoted from legislation adopted by the church in 1905: "No clergyman within the juridiction of the Church of England in Canada shall solemnize a marriage between persons either of whom shall have been divorced from one who is living at the time." He concluded by saying: "We must oppose, by every legitimate means, any legislation which seeks to enlarge the causes for which divorce is to be granted."

Destruction and Serious Disorders Continue in Ireland

Government May Not Take Over Board

Edmonton, Dunvegan and B. C. Line Will Probably Be Reorganized

Edmonton.—National ownership of the Edmonton-Dunvegan and British Columbia railway is a decidedly remote possibility, according to premier Stewart, who has returned to the city from a two weeks' official trip to Ottawa. Instead of the federal government purchasing the system, as was semi-officially announced by Sir George Foster some months ago, a movement is well under way in the east, it appears, to reorganize the E. D. and B.C. company, and thus bring in sufficient capital to put the road in good shape for traffic and take adequate care of the business in hand.

Increased Savings Deposits

High Level Reached During Month Of April

Ottawa.— The bank statement for April, just issued by the finance department, showed a continued increase in saving bank deposits.

They now stand at the new high level, $1,209,000,000 as compared with $1,070,000,000 a year ago and $933,000,000 at the end of April two years ago.

Call loans in Canada were rather lower than shown in the statement for March. Current loans in Canada are about twenty-five millions higher.

Increase Rolling Stock

Winnipeg.—This year the Canadian National Railway rolling stock will be increased by the building of 5,750 freight cars, 80 locomotives and 70 passenger coaches. The additions to the rolling stock contracted for in 1919 are now almost completed, it was learned. In 1919 new freight cars to the number of 1,549 were built, 50 locomotives and 240 passenger cars.

Circus Crashes Through Bridge

Lethbridge.— One man was killed and another injured, though not seriously, in a wreck of Christie Brother's circus train which broke through an irrigation canal bridge on the Cardston sub-division of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The engine had passed over the bridge, but the heavily loaded baggage-car crashed through. The dead man and his injured comrade were both circus employees.

London.— More troops are being despatched to Ireland to combat the property destruction and similar movements which are continuing there. Unexpected disorders happening recently called for the despatch of further troops.

The newspapers all give this special prominence, it being added that not only is the garrison in Ireland being increased, but that steps are being taken to replace the younger soldiers by better disciplined soldiers, in order to provide prevention for further disorders.

Dublin.—The destruction of properyt in Ireland by Irish continues. Kilbritain Castle, near Brandon, County Cork, one of Ireland's ancient landmarks, was destroyed. It is estimated that the damage was $10,000. The castle was unoccupied. The reports do not state the cause of the fire.

Damage estimated at £40,000 was caused by fire on the farm of Major Pollock, at Gaveen, Ballinastone. The members of the family escaped with difficulty. Several valuable horses were burned. The police and military extinguished the fire. Reports of the fire received here allege that villagers who watched the fire would not render assistance in putting it out.

Other reports of fires received today include news of an attempt to burn the court house at Waterville, County Kerry. The police saved the records. The court house at Lerner, County Cork, was burned. One hundred men attacked the police barracks at Longs Gorge, Ballywilly, but were beaten off.

The coroner's jury has been receiving attentions from the campaigners. The members of a jury who sat in an inquest in two police stations were attacked for the decision handed out.

Stores of Sugar to be Sent Abroad

Halifax. —An interesting commentary upon the announcement that sugar is due for another advance is to be found in the fact that great quantities of sugar are being piled up here, presumably for exportation abroad. It is stated that several hundreds of thousands of bags of sugar are at present awaiting shipment at one pier and that the quantity is daily increasing. At another pier upwards of a quarter million bags of flour are waiting shipment abroad.
