"House of the Orient"

VANCOUVER
CANADA

IN THE HEART OF CHINATOWN

The House of Eng Chow is situated right in the heart of Chinatown, and along one of the main thoroughfares of the City of Vancouver. The premises are located on the corner of Columbia and Pender Streets and accessible from three directions. From Granville Street, the main business artery of Vancouver, tram cars will take you as far as the intersection of Columbia on Hastings street and it will only be necessary to walk one block South to reach the Premises of Eng Chow.

From the Canadian National Depot walk North for 4 blocks until you come to the intersection of Pender and Main then walk one block down to Columbia street.

From North Vancouver and West Vancouver Ferry Docks, it will only be necessary to walk South along Columbia for 4 blocks.

Information Gladly Given of Vancouver's Chinatown

Gifts and Souvenirs

NEVER before has the art of home decoration been given such serious thought and consideration as today. The desire for the joy of graceful living is constantly becoming more pronounced.

IN THE HOUSE OF ENG CHOW contains the largest collection of Oriental goods and art pieces to be found anywhere in Canada. There is something of a gay, jaunty and distinctive character about Eng Chow Oriental merchandise that that lifts it clear out of the class of ordinary goods. You will find here, genuine examples of the Oriental craftsman's skill and patience.

It is a sheer delight to turn the pages of this carefully written catalogue and enjoy the exquisite assortment of goods listed—many of which are genuine Oriental antiques. Note how carefully each page reveals the wonders of the Oriental workshop, articles unmatched for beauty and charm and which bring a new dignity to any home.

Eng Chow's Oriental novelties, in a home, can only be appreciated after seeing the astounding difference that many such oddities make.

The house of Eng Chow maintains a staff of qualified buyers who continually search the Orient for rare pieces with a Western World appeal. Remember, all Eng Chow goods are sold in Canada at exceptionally low prices—extremely moderate for the wealth of delicate workmanship so devotedly wrought into each piece.

Every demand for a distinctive gift can be gratified from the vast stocks of Eng Chow. Objects suitable for Christmas, birthdays, weddings, showers, parties, anniversaries; articles appropriate for souvenirs; choice pieces for display in your own home—are fully described and also illustrated on the following pages.

Eng Chow extend to you a cordial invitation to visit his spacious showrooms, and will be pleased to explain the history and the colorful old legends associated with each piece displayed.

HOW TO ORDER

Write or print your name and address plainly. Mention the number of the articles as well as the page of the catalogue on which it appears. Remit by means of Post Office, Express or Bank Money Orders. If payment is sent by cheque, it must be certified by the bank on which it is drawn. If payment is made in cash, be sure to register the package before mailing. We prepay delivery charges in Canada and the United States, unless otherwise specified in the catalogue. All prices subject to market fluctuation.

NOTICE TO AMERICAN TOURISTS

American Tourists are allowed to take back $100.00 worth of goods purchased in Canada duty free. Oriental goods enter Canada at lower duty rates than the U. S. A.; you are, therefore, able to purchase at much lower rates at Eng Chow's.

EMBROIDERED SILK SHAWLS AND MANDARIN COATS

The beautiful shawl shown above draws its feeling and grace from the renowned source of Shen Nung Dynasty. Rich and beautiful, it constitutes a perfect gift.

Right from the time of Shen Nung (B.C. 2737), whose wife discovered the rearing of silk worms and the making of silk cloths, the use of silk had a phenomenal growth. Embroidery as an art was also introduced by her, soon cultured to a degree, though still in its infancy, played an important part as ornamentations on wearing apparels and tapestries.

Descending to us through the ages, it has been an inspiration for artists at all times, and through their skill and patience, resulted in a new era where every individual may share and enjoy the beauty and comfort that no other material may ever substitute in its place. Along with the change came these beautiful Canton, hand-embroidered shawls that express clearly the new trends in ideas, form and color effects, emphasizing a distinct creation unequalled.

BEAUTIFUL CHINESE HANDKERCHIEFS

Chinese craftsmanship is continually appreciated by all as being original and exquisite. They again have achieved distinction right from the coast of China, entirely a new creation of silk handkerchiefs. Their practical field of exclusiveness are pre-eminently successful because of the silk used and the delicacy of the colors executed, which are modern—yet the designs are contrasted with the enchanting Chinese ancient art as artistic backgrounds for unmatched originality.

CHI CHI

Chinese Fortune Teller Is Implicit In the Fortune It Reveals—This, said to be the oldest known method of Chinese fortune telling; derived from Taoism, dated back in 480 B. C. Chi-Chi will make unique gifts and provides interesting amusement for parties and at dinner tables. It consists of 78 sticks of bamboo in a ornamented cylinder, and a book in English poetically reveals your fortune.

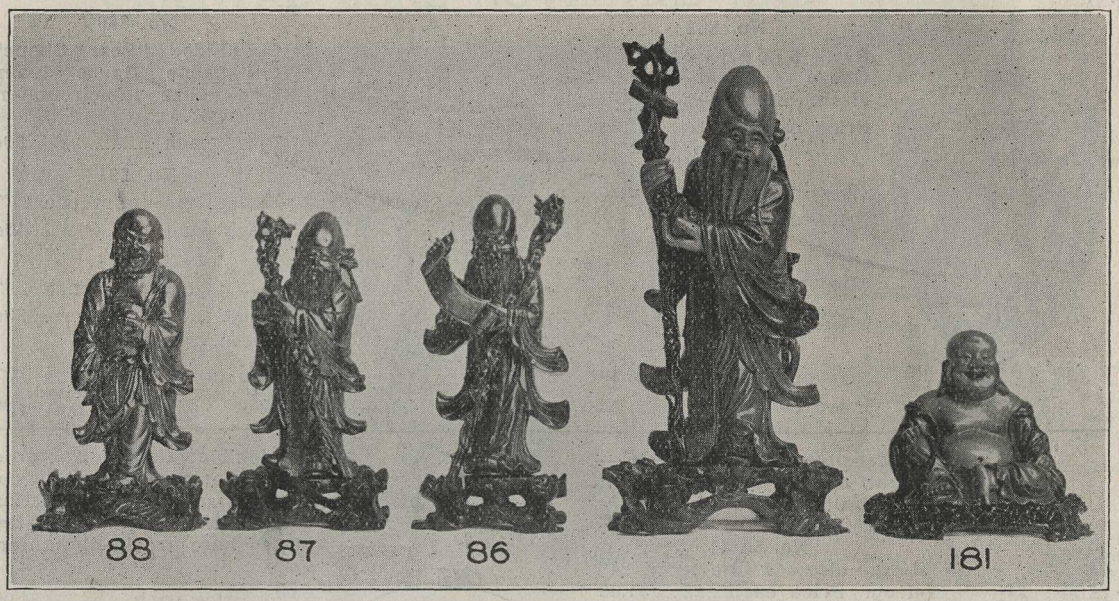
GOLD LACQUERED AND CARVED TEAK DEITIES



The most delicate of all is the process of gold lacquering. Such process requires accurate attenuation and purifying. This method was discovered in the Chou Dynasty. Lacquering as an art, long nourished by the Chinese, is found in these statuettes. These ranked with some of the best and the most beautiful pieces, and were much cherished at that time. All these figures are immortals who lived and still live in the language of men.

Kwan Yin, "The Goddess of Mercy," was not a myth, but a living person who lived in the Han dynasty. It was revealed in her biography that she came into the world with the Holy Ghost of Buddha to renew the teaching of Buddhism. During the time of her youth she erected many temples. From these temples her supreme glory was to convert the Eastern civilization to her teaching. Her desire was about to be fulfilled when tragedy came upon her. The aged father wishes her to marry a suitor, but she disobeyed him. At last she aroused the aged father's wrath. He finally set fire to her personal temple, not knowing she was within. The temple quickly perished but she was found in the smouldering ashes, untouched, sitting on a gigantic lotus in a praying position.

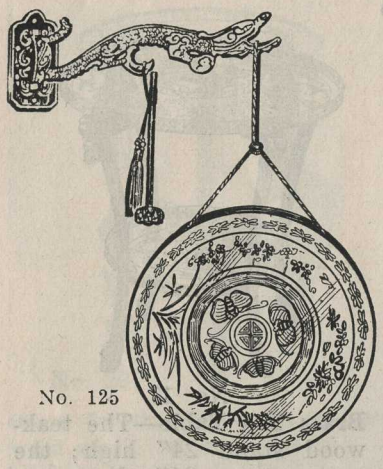
CHINESE HAND CARVED BRASS DINNER GONGS, ETC.



No. 125

Theatrical Gongs—Famous for their fascinating and charming sounds. The brass is secretly attuned to render the gongs sensitive and responsive. If struck softly with the accompanying padded hammer, will peal forth a mellow lingering tone. Yet—if struck forcibly and continuously, the vibrating sound resembles that of the on-rushing water of a cataract. These gongs are appropriate for boats, private yachts, home and camping use. Every gong is beautifully etched. Gong 12½" in diameter with brass dragon hanger 11" long.

CHINESE MAH-JONG SETS

No. 6
PRICE PER SET
$8.00

Price, per set, covers the complete set—i.e., 148 tiles, 116 counters, dice, four wind buttons, instruction book, together with a Chinese brass-trimmed, five-drawer rosewood chest, as illustrated below.

No. 8
PRICE PER SET
$5.00

The values, or prices, of the various types are based upon the comparative thickness and quality of the bone in the tiles, the perfection of dove-tailing of the bone and bamboo, and the quality of the engraving.

Illustration of the various tiles are as approximately correct as possible as there is a slight fluctuation amongst different sets of the same number.

We assure you that our prices are the very lowest, and we have the biggest stocks for selection.
