Wynndel

Mrs. A. W. Mason and Mrs. E. Williams took a large party of children to Sanca Creek on Monday on a camping trip. They expect to remain there for at least a week.

Wynndel Athletic Club held a meeting in the schoolhouse on Monday evening re the purchasing of a piece of land for a baseball park. The finance committee report good progress, and sufficient money is now guaranteed, and a committee of three was named to see Paul Hagen and carry through the deal as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Joy and Messrs. Moon and Dewar, who were on a fishing trip to Sanca last week, returned on Saturday with a fine catch. Mr. Moon showed some char weighing between six and seven pounds.

Pete Wallace, who has been working for M. Wigen for the past seven or eight months, left on Wednesday for the prairie, where he figures to help at harvesting operations.

Mrs. J. P. Brooke, who has been residing in Nelson for the past three months, retusned to her home here on Tuesday. Mr. Brooke went through to Macleod, Alta., the same day.

Mrs. Webster of Cranbrook is the guest of Mrs. Rosindale for a few days.

M. Wigen's box factory, which has been closed down owing to some repairs being made to his re-saw plant, started running again on Tuesday.

Miss Ella Topliss, who has been staying with Misses Bathie during the berry season, left for her home in Winlaw on Monday. She expects to return with her sister in about two weeks' time.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Whittaker, who have been picking berries here all summer left for Creston on Wednesday.

Wynndel baseball team played the Creston nine on Sunday afternoon, and returned with the joyful tidings that they had scored a 11 to 6 victory. The boys are very much cheered due to the win, are once more in hopes of again walloping the town nine.

A Scandanavian travelling missionary was here Tuesday and Wednesday visiting all those of Swedish national ity, and had service in the schoolhouse in the evening.

The trustees received the new school blackboard and desks on Tuesday's freight, and by the time school reopens we will have about the best equipped country school in the Kootenay.

The Homeseekers' Agency sawmill is now running steady, and they are loading out ties at the rate of at least a carload a day.

The Athletic Club committee in charge of dances are talking of another big dance on Saturday night at the Clubhouse.

John Jacobson of Redcliff, Alta., who has been working for the Homeseekers' Agency, returned to his home on Tuesday to get busy with harvesting operations on his farm near that town. He states that the yield of grain this year will be quite good.

Mrs. J. B. Rudd was a business visitor to Coleman, Alta., and other Pass towns the latter part of the week, returning on Tuesday.

M. O. Ringheim left on Tuesday for Vidora, Sask., where he will assist his son, Ole, with harvesting operations.

Mr. and Mrs. Hook and family of Spokane are the guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. J. J. Grady.

The latter part of July and early August gave us postively the hottest weather recorded in these parts, the mercury on some of these days getting up as high as 98 and 100 in the shade.

Canyon City

Mr. Pepperdine of Calgary, Alta., who has been here for a couple of weeks' vacation with his daughter, Mrs. Bateman, left for home on Saturday. He likes Canyon so well that he intends to make it his annual vacation resort in the future.

In connection with the recent Entrance examinations it is worthy of note that Miss Nissie McRobb, one of Canyon's three successful candidates, is but twelve years of age. Very seldom is it that a pupil of a country school gets an Entrance class graduation at twelve years, and in this case it certainly indicates special talent that should be encouraged in every way possible.

Mr. Duncanson of California, a travelling missionary of the Swedish church, held service in Canyon schoolhouse on Sunday night, and drew an attendance of at least forty. He spoke in both English and his native tongue, and conspicuous platform ability along with splendid vocal musical ability made the service doubly noteworthy.

Messrs. Nelson and Moberg, who have been working at Galloway for several months, taking out poles on contract, are home again. A forest fire in that section having destroyed much of the timber they had contracted to take out.

John McRobb has returned to Galloway again for a couple of weeks, which he will spend at blacksmith work for the sawmill firm at that point.

Mr. and Mrs Blair, are home again after a weeks' vacation which they spent at Nelson and Proctor.

The Canyon local of the United Farmers meet in regular August session at the schoolhouse on Saturday night.

Miss Muriel Knott, who had charge of the junior room of Canyon school the last two years, has been engaged as teacher of the school at Shuswap Lake, on the main line.

T. Hickey and Chas. McCullough are taking life a little easier at present, and are making a few trips to Kitchener trying out their luck—and with some success—at fishing.

The pick and shovel work on the irrigation system is now completed, and for the rest of the pipe line a plough can be used to good advantage all the way. Dad Browrll is the first to figure in the casualties in connection with the work. One day last week the top flew off the hammer Eric Olson was using on the drill in the rock work, the flying head striking Dad on the arm, and laying him up for a few nays.

Johnson Bros. and Young have been working at the Siding for a few days loading out a few cars of the Winlaw cut of poles. Canyon City Lumber Co. men are busy loading about ten cars of pine lumber, which is billed for shipment to Philadelphia.

Mr. Hewitt has a 20 x 16 ft. residence under construction on the 20-acre tract he purchased at Calgary heights about a month ago.

At the adjourned school meeting on Saturday night $1000 was voted to carry on school affairs with this year, but so far there is no announcement as to the new one-room addition being built this fall.

A Quick Capture

Provincial police officer H. McLaren, who only took over the work here on Monday, made quite a clever capture at the eastbound train to-day, (Thursday) when on rather meagre information on which to identify suspects supplied by the Nelson police, he nabbed Harvey Long and Melville Orsen, who are wanted at Nelson for the theft of a gold watch and chain. The pair had stepped off the train here and proceeded to the Chinese restaurant for dinner, Mr. McLaren following them and taking them into custody when they had completed the noonday repast. When searched the missing watch and chain valued at $100 was found in the top coat pocket of one of the men. The pair were taken back to Nelson this afternoon by officer McLaren.

Kitchener

Mrs. McKowan and family of Cranbrook are here on a visit to Manager H. A. McKowan of the Sash & Door Company.

Mrs. Belanger and children of Creston were between-trains visitors here on Monday.

Mrs. Morris, who has been cooking for Mr. Lloyd, left last week for her home in the States.

C. H. Robinson of Nelson, fishery inspector for the Kootenay, was here this week looking over the streams.

Mr. and Mrs. Eppard and daughter, who have ceen in charge of the Paulson-Mason kitchen and dining room, have gone to Priest River, Idaho.

Lister

Following is a list of the honor roll winners and all promotions at Lister school for the term ended June 30th:

Division I.—Miss Austad, Principal.

Honor Rolls: Proficiency—Murielle Millington. Regularity and Punctuality—Cora Frampton. Deportment—Jessie Brain.

Promoted from Junior 4th to Senior 4th—Murielle Millington, Ernest Stevens, Jennie Chalmers.

Senior 3rd to Junior 4th—Ronald Brain, Clara Little.

Junior 3rd ta Senior 3rd—Doris Millington, Frances Malthouse, Cora Frampton, Jack Jory, Eva Brain. Recommended—Flossie Evans, Doris Yerbury, George Charleson.

Second Reader to Junior 3rd—Dorothy Weston, Alex. Mitchell, Margaret Little, John Malthouse, Jessie Brain, Albert Mitchell. Recommended—Freda Lye, Annie Yerbury, Marvin Little.

First Reader to Second Reader—Peter McKay, George Chudley.

Phonic Primer to First Reader—Charlie Malthouse, Fred Weston, Jack Bird.

Beginners' Reader to Phonic Primer—George Frampton, Fred Yerbury, Margaret Chalmers, Albert Weston, Lucy Lye, Gladys Brain, Hilda Filmer, Agnes Sinclair, George Mitchell, Billy Yerbury.

Division II.—Miss Holmes, Teacher.

Honor Rolls: Proficiency—Margaret Chalmers and Peter McKay. Regularity—Agnes Sinclair. Deportment—Billy Yerbury.

Jas. Jory has moved his gang of workmen over to the Charles Davis place on Section 7, whose house is to be completed right away.

A meeting of the settlers of the district was held in the schoolhouse on Saturday night, with Robt. Milner occupying the chair. The session was taken up with a discussion of the terms of the agreement of sale which will be submitted to Hon. E. D. Barrow for approval, on the occasion of his visit here this week.

William Hurl is unanimously conceded to have won first place as a grower of feed. He has four acres sown to oats, peas and alsike clover and is harvesting a crop that will run eight tons to the acre. In places some of it measured five feet high. Mr. Hurl's place is about the lowest-lying lot in the area and with an abundance of moisture, careful planting and cultivation the crop is well deserved. Previous to coming here Mr. Hurl had much farming experienced in Saskatchewan.

Birth—At Lister, on July 21st, to Mr. and Mrs. E. Thompson, Lister, a son.

C. H. Phillips is a business visitor at Kimberley this week. Peter McKay is also away on a business trip to the same point.

Dave Fraser is busy on the erection of a one-room log shack on his location here.

Cutting the oat crop for green feed is the feature of farm operations at present. A couple of outside parties are here with teams and mowers, cutting on the percentage basis.

Harry Brown is away on a trip to Palouse county, Washington, where he is working at harvesting operations. He states there are more than enough men there now to take care of all the work offering.

Alice Siding

With the flats again almost clear of water the mosquito season is about over. Old timers cannot recall a year when the pest was as numerous and business like as the 1921 skeeters.

Stanley Paul is here from the prairie on a visit to his parents on the Matthews ranch.

Miss Alice Carr got back on Sunday after a week's holiday with friends at Yahk.

Kuskanook is attracting picnic parties from this section almost every Sunday, and if it were not for the trouble experienced with hornets the spot would be quite ideal for outings of this sort.

J. W. Vaness is claiming the honors of being the first Alice Siding rancher to export tomatoes and cucumbers this season. He had tomatoes available for export the latter part of the week.

Tom Anderson and Walter Carr were at Summit Creek for a couple of days' fishing the fore part of the week.

Reed & Mather are planning to take things a little easier this winter, and are gradually reducing their herd of beef cattle. Last week they let seven head of young stock go to the P. Burns Co.

The eastbound train stop at both Reed & Mather's and Smith's Crossing was discontinued on Tuesday, after being effective since the middle of June. In the six weeks F. W. Ash handled almost 2000 crates at the crossing stop—mostly berries and currants, with a few cherries. This year's exports were somewhat heavier than a year ago, though with about 70 packages the biggest day it was hardly in it with 1919 when some days as high as 140 crates of stuff went out.

For Sale—Tent 14 x 10, horse, wagon. W. K. Brown, Creston.

This season Penticton will ship about 10,000 crates of cherries. A year ago the export was over 17,000 crates.

The Dominion Day celebration at Fernie netted almost $1500 for the Children's Permanet Recreation Fund.

Two hours and twenty-five minutes has been established as record time for the auto run from Cranbrook to Fernie.

A new shingle mill is to be erected at Arrowhead, with a capacity of 30-000 a day, and employing at least 25 men.

Cranbrook Oddfellows are having plans drawn for a hall of their own. It will be 36 x 70 feet, and two stories high.

For Sale—Ford car, perfect running order. Terms if required, to responsible person. Apply Box 78, Review Office.

Sub-lot 54 of Lot 4595, containing 160 acres, approximately 120 acres good land, considerable timber, small stream on property, situated about a mile from the Alice Siding school. Price $4000. Terms. For further particulars apply to the owner, G. A. M. YOUNG, Creston, B.C.

Sirdar

Jim Cameron of Cranbrook was a visitor here the latter part of the week, with his brother, Jack, en route home from a business trip to Vancouver.

Ben Whitesides is a patient in Nelson hospital at present. A few days ago, while at work under the yard engine, a drop of scalding water from a leaky tap fell in his ear, and has since been giving him considerable trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Loasby had quite party of week-end guests, including Mrs. Gladder of Spokane, and Mrs. Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. Cook of Creston. They were jonesed back on Sunday evening—too late for church.

Ike Lewis, who has been resident on his ranch at Boswell for almost the past three months, returned to Sirdar to again take up residence the latter part of the week.

Freight traffic is slow but steady out of here. One through freight in about 9 a.m. and out again at 4.30 handles the business in addition to the tri weekly way freight.

Between tourists, fishing and picnic parties Kuskanook is quite a busy spot these days. On Sunday, July 24, Mrs. Jones had about 30 callers. Sam Bysouth, who is serving meals and catering to the wants of the travelling public, was equally busy.

Now the berry season is over Mayor Daly will likely be able to induce Jas. Blair to try out his newest creation in the way of a cool weather cover all. Either for work or dress wear the garment is equally efficacious.

Mr. Charlton, representing the Calgary Daily Herald, accompanied by his son, were week-end visitors here, touring the country in the Herald's one seat Ford runabout.

Sirdar had the pleasure of the Saturday to Tuesday company of a special policeman accompanying a car of liquor from Vancouver to the government store at Cranbrook. The car arrived too late to go east on Saturday, hence the holdover until Tuesday—and possibly the need for the close watch that was kept on the wet goods.

Rev. H. Varley announces that he will be here for the next Church of England service on Sunday morning, August 14th, at the usual hour.

If a few of Creston's conscientious objectors to irrigation would visit the Pascuzzo ranch just now their conversion to the irrigation army would certainly be speedy and complete. The output of both cucumbers and tomatoes is unbelievable to those not familiar with the merits of an abundance of water along with intensive cultivation. Santo is likely to have enough tomatoes and cucumbers go to waste to stock the C.P.R. diners with ketchup and dill pickles for at least a year.

Auto For Sale—Chevrolet touring car, 1918 model, in fine shape, $475. H. West, Rose ranch, Creston.

Darkness was settling down—darkness of the seventh night since their departure from Emerson—when, like a mole on the face of the plain, a little grey lump grew on the horizon. Arthurs rose in his sleigh and waved his fur cap in the air; Harris sent back an answering cheer; the women plied their husbands with questions; even the horses took on new energy, and plunged desperately through the frozen snow which one moment supported their weight and the next splintered in broken ice-cakes beneath them. Slowly the mole grew until in the gathering shadows it took on indistinctly the shape of a building, and just as the rising moon crested the ridge of the Pembina hills the travellers swung up at the door. Arthurs had carried the key of the padlock in his hand for the last mile; everybody was out of the sleighs in a moment, and the next they were stamping their cramped feet on the cold wooden floor of the little shack. Arthurs walked unerringly to a nail on the wall and took down a lantern; its dull flame drove the mist slowly down the glass, and presently the light was beating back from the glistening frost which sparkled on every log of the little room.

"Well, here we are in Hungry Hall," said Arthurs. "Everything just as I left it." Then, turning to his wife, "Come, Lil," he said. "Jack, perhaps you have an engagement of your own." He took his wife in a passionate embrace and planted a fervent kiss upon her lips, while Harris followed his example. Then they sat down on the boxes that served for chairs, amid a happiness too deep for words. . . . So the minutes passed until Mrs. Arthurs sprang to her feet. "Why, Mary," she exclaimed, "I do believe you're crying," while the moisture glistened on her own cheek. "Now, you men, clear out! I suppose you think the horses will stable themselves? Yes, I see you have the box full of wood, Fred. That's not so bad for a start. Leave some matches, and say, you might just get our boxes in here. Remember we've lived in these clothes for the best part of two weeks."

The young men sprang to their task, and as soon as they were out of the house the girls threw their arms about each other and wept like women together. It was only for a moment; a quick dash of the hand across the eyes, and both were busy removing coats and wraps. The door opened, and their "boxes," as well as other equipment from the sleighs, were carried in, and the men disappeared to the little stable at the back of the house. After several attempts the girls succeeded in starting a fire in the rusted stove, and soon its grateful heat was radiating to every corner of the room. As they busied themselves unpacking dishes and provisions they had opportunity to take observations of the new place that for one was to be a home and for the other a very welcome haven in a strange land.

The house was built of poplar logs, hewed and dovetailed at the corners with the skill of the Ontaria woodsman. It was about twelve by sixteen feet in size, with collar-beams eight feet from the floor. The roof was of two thicknesses of elm boards. The door was in the east side, near the southeast corner; the stove stood about the centre of the east wall. The only window was in the south; six panes of eight-by-ten glass sufficed for light. Through this window another lantern shone back from the darkness, and the flickering light from the stove danced in duplicate. A rough board table sat under the window; a nail box in the southwest corner evidently served as cupboard. No tools or movables of any value had been left in the place, Arthurs having stored such effects with a neighbor, some dozen miles away, lest they be stolen from the cabin by some unscrupulous traveller during his absence.

"I like the plan of it very much," said Mrs. Arthurs, after a general survey of the room. "Don't you think Fred has shown good judgment in the design? This"—indicating the door—"will be my reception-room. And this, a little further in, is the parlor. The kitchen and pantry are right at hand—so convenient for the maid in serving, you know. And then our rooms. Fred and I will have the long room in the northwest wing, while you, of course, will occupy the guest-chamber in the northeast. Do not be alarmed, my dear; if the silence of the prairies weighs too heavily upon you we shall be within call. The bath may be reached from either room with equal convenience."

Both laughed, but Mary, more serious and sober-minded, was already slicing ham and greasing a frying-pan. "We need water, Lil—get some snow while I find the tea. The bread is hard, but there'll be coals presently, and we shall have toast. Lucky there were baked potatoes left over from last night's camp; they'll fry up fine along with this——" But already Lil was outside gathering snow.

She returned in breathless excitement. "Oh, Mary, I've just had a great thought. All my wedding china—present, you know—is in that box, and I have my wedding clothes, too. Have you yours?"

"Of course. But why——"

"Why, dear, don't you see? The men are busy shovelling a path into the stable. It'll be an hour yet before they are in. Let's put on our wedding dresses, and set the table with our best dishes and best linen, just for a kind of post-nuptial. Let's!"

"But ham and fried potatoes!"

"And toast. Didn't you promise toast? And tea. And I'll wager there's some jam among these provisions. Oh, let's hurry."

An hour later, when the hungry men returned after making their horses and cattle comfortable, they stopped in amazement at the sight that confronted them. Snowy linen, delicate china, and sparkling glass returned the soft light from one of those great lamps such as are bought only for presentation; and beside the table, like fairies spirited from a strange land, stood two beautiful women, robed in the delicate draperies of their bridal hour. Exclamations of surprise were drowned in a flood of tender associations, and never in palace or banquet-hall did sweeter content and happiness reign than among these four young pioneers as they sat down to their first home-served meal in the new land.

The days that followed were days of intense activity for both men and women. There was much to do, inside and out. In the interior of the little house an extraordinary change was wrought; simple draperies and pictures relieved the bareness of the walls; shelves were built for the accommodation of many trinkets dear to the feminine heart; a rag carpet covered the centre of the floor; plain but appetising dishes peeked enticingly from behind the paper curtain that now clothed the bare ribs of the cupboard; and a sense of homeliness pervaded the atmosphere. The two men, in their own realm, had found much to occupy them, although for some days the range of their activities was limited owing to the necessity of giving the horses a much-needed rest before putting them back into the harness.

A week had passed, and no sign of life, other than that of the little party itself, had been seen about the Arthurses' homestead, when one day Harris's eyes already becoming keen to the prairie distances, espied a dark point on the horizon. It grew slowly from a point to a spot, from a spot to an object, and at length was defined as a man on horseback. Presently Aleck McCrae drew up at the door.

"Hello, farmers," he cried, "how goes the battle? An' the good wives? Building a little Eden in this wilderness, I'll warrant. Tell them to put another name in the pot, an' a hungry name at that. I haven't seen a white woman's meal I don't know when."

The friends gathered about the old-timer, plying him with questions, which he answered or discussed until the meal was over, holding his own business quietly in the background. But with supper ended, his pipe in his teeth and his feet resting comfortably in the oven, he broached his subject.

"Ready for the road in the morning, Jack? Don't want to break up your little honeymoon, y' know, but the month is wearing on. Nothing but horseback for it now, an' they do say the settlers are crowding up something wonderful. The best land's going fast. Most of them will hold up now, with the roads breaking, but by slipping out on our horses we can locate an' file before the real spring rush opens. You should get some kind of shelter up before the frost is out of the ground, so's to lose no time from ploughing once the spring opens."

Harris needed no urging, and in the early morning the two men, with blankets and provisions, started out on horseback for the still farther West. The snow was now going rapidly; water stood in a thousand pools and ponds on the face of the prairie, or ran with swift noiselessness in the creeks and ravines, although the real "break-up" of the streams would not occur until early in April. By avoiding the sleigh-trails and riding over the open prairie fairly sound footing was found for the horses and a good opportunity given to observe the land. Harris soon found that more judgment was required in the selection of a prairie farm than he had supposed, and he congratulated himself upon having fallen in with so experienced a plainsman as McCrae. On the first day they rode over mile after mile of beautiful country, following the survey stakes as closely as possible, and noting their location from time to time by lettering the posts.

"This is good enough for me," said Harris at length, as their horses crested a little elevation from which the prairie stretched away in all directions, smooth as a table. "Isn't it magnificent! And all free for the taking!"

"It's pretty to look at," said McCrae, "but I guess you didn't come West for scenery, did you?"

"Well, what's the matter with it? Look at that grass. If the soil wasn't all right it wouldn't grow native crops like that, would it?"

"The soil's all right," answered McCrae. "Nothing better anywhere, an' you can plough a hundred and sixty acres to every quarter-section. But this is in the frost belt. They get it every August—sometimes July. Shouldn't wonder but it'll be all right in time, when the country gets settled up, but most homesteaders can't afford to wait. We've got to get further West yet, into the higher land of the Turtle Mountain slopes. I know there's good stuff there that hasn't been taken."

And so they pressed on, until, in the bright sunshine, the blue line of the Turtle Mountain lay like a lake on the western horizon. Here McCrae began paying more minute attention to the soil, examining the diggings around badger holes, watching out for clumps of "wolf willow," with always a keen eye for stones and low-lying alkali patches and the general topography of the quarter.

"This is more rolling country, with more land broken up by sloughs an' creeks, but it's good stuff," he said. "It's early to make predictions, but I'll risk one guess. There are two classes of people coming into this country—men who are looking for wheat land, nothing but wheat land, an' men who want some wheat land an' some stock land. I predict that in twenty-five years the wheat farmers will be working for the mortgage companies, an' the stock farmers will be building up bank accounts. Now stock must have water, an' if you can get natural shelter, so much the better. A creek may break your land a little, but it's worth more than it costs."

Many times in their explorations they passed over sections that Harris would have accepted, but McCrae objected, finding always some flaw not apparent to the untrained eye. Once, where a little river had worn its way across the plain, they came on a sod shack, where a settler was already located. "Nice spot," said McCrae, "but too sandy. His farm'll blow away when he breaks the sod. There's an easy crossing there, though, an' perhaps he thinks the railway will hit him when it comes. That's all a gamble. It may go north of the lake; if it does we only bet on the wrong horse. We've got to take our chance on that."

Vanished Power

The great Krupp gunworks has become a cemetery. The allied commission has destroyed the machinery for making engines of destruction and has done away with all partially completed weapons. The immense works have been wrecked with dynamite. Their passing is a significant symbol of the vanished power of Germany, boastfully founded as it was of "blood and iron."—Rochester Herald.

Fresh Milk in Cubes

Milk In Solid Form Readily Dissolved In Tea.

In Holland milk is now put up and sold in solid form, being made into little cubes which are readily dissolved in tea, coffee or other fluids.

The milk, after removal of the cream, is reduced by heat to dryness, then powdered and mixed with the cream, the material being pressed into blocks.

These milk cubes have the advantage of preserving their freshness for a long time. They are recommended for use in regions where milk is not easily to be had, and travelers may find it convenient to carry a supply of them.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THIS WOMAN'S MISERY

Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Remarkable Recovery of Mrs. Church.

Smiths Falls, Ont.—"I suffered with falling of my organs, pains around my heart and in bowels and down my legs, neuralgia in my face and head, and that terrible sinking feeling. I felt that I could not live and would fix my house in order every night so there would be no trouble if I dropped off in the night. My husband went to the druggist to get the best remedy he had and he gave him Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles and felt a lot better. I will always recommend the Vegetable Compound, and you can use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. O. CHURCH, Box 845, Smiths Falls, Ont.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from nervous prostration, displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion and dizziness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

Wheat Sixty-Six Pounds to the Bushel

Exhibitors at Edmonton Fair Had Some Good Grain

Among the exhibitors of grain at the Edmonton fair, was Mr. Price Sheppard whose entry of wheat weighed 66 pounds to the bushel. J. Strassburger, of Stony Plain, was also a prominent exhibitor in grains and vegetables. Of special interest was the exhibit of Alta Swedish red clover above which was an inscription stating that this clover which was first sown in 1915 had stood the test of six years without a single failure. This information should be of great value to the farmers as it is generally believed that red clover will not winter in Alberta, consequently, farmers do not sow this clover which is valuable not only for feed and seed, but as fertilizer. Wm. Chalmers, of Edmonton south, was the exhibitor, and he is enthusiastic in his praise of its qualities, and adaptability to the country.

Is Your Stomach Sour? Do You Belch Gas?

If you have sour risings from the stomach, feel bloated and uncomfortable, just try twenty drops of Nerviline in sweetened water. Relief will come quick. Nerviline dispels the gas, sweetens the stomach, makes you fit and fine in a few minutes. As a general household remedy for many of the ills that constantly turn up, nothing is more useful in every home than a 35 cent bottle of good old "Nerviline."

Your Summer Vacation

Special Summer Tourist Fares To The Pacific Coast.

Special Summer Tourist tickets to Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle and other Pacific Coast points are now on sale daily by the Canadian Pacific Railway. These tickets will bear a final return limit until October 31st, and permit stopovers en route, which gives travellers an opportunity of visiting some of the beautiful resorts in the Rockies, such as Banff, Lake Louise, and Glacier, where the Company maintain splendid resort hotels. These tickets are optional via the main line or Arrow Lakes route in one or both directions without extra charge. No expensive side trips necessary.

In addition to the "Trans-Canada Limited" exclusive sleeping car train, a choice of two other daily trains is offered, and as all are equipped with open-top observation cars through the mountains an excellent view of the magnificent scenery may be had.

Any Agent of the Canadian Pacific will be pleased to give further particulars and make the necessary arrangements for the trip.

Hides Do Not Figure

A provincial manufacturer assures us that the price of hides is not a factor in the cost of shoes. A prominent labor man declares that the labor cost in a pair of shoes represents only about a dollar. One must conclude that the price of an expensive pair of shoes must be caused by something like spontaneous generation.—Hamilton Herald.

For Frost Bites and Chilblains.—Chilblains come from undue exposure to slush and cold and frost-bite from the icy winds of winter. In the treatment of either an excellent preparation is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, as it counteracts the inflammation and relieves the pain. The action of the oil is prompt and its application is extremely simple.

Work Doesn't Kill.

How much trustworthy evidence is there to show that the hurry and the overcrowding of modern civilization push men into premature graves? London, New York and Chicago have each a death rate very near the lowest ever known; octogenarians are more and more common, and active business men at sixty-five are so numerous that they attract no attention.—Youth's Companion.

A Big Butter Order

Butter from the Edmonton district is in demand, and one of the largest orders ever recorded there was placed recently when Paul de Wolff of Sardis, B.C., asked Edmonton dealers to supply him with 1,000,000 pounds destined for the New York market. A million pounds' order is a big one to fill, but agents at half a dozen or more other central Alberta points are also being asked to assist in filling the order.

A WOMAN'S RIGHT TO GOOD HEALTH

Most troubles Afflicting Women Are Due to Poor Blood.

To every woman belongs the right to enjoy a healthy, active life; yet nine out of ten suffer from some form of bloodlessness. That is why one sees on every side pale, thin cheeks, dull eyes and drooping figures—sure signs of headaches, weak backs, aching limbs and uncertain health. All weak women should win the right to be well by refreshing their weary bodies with the new, rich, red blood that promptly transforms them into healthy attractive women. This new, red blood is suppied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body. Through the use of these pills thousands of women have found benefit when suffering from anaemia, indigestion, general weakness and those ailments from which women alone suffer. Among the many women who tell of the good Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done them is Mrs. L. Hicks, Round Hill, N.S., who says: "I became very much run down in health; my blood seemed weak and watery, my strength failed, and I was so easily tired that my work was a burden. I had often read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them, and I can truly say that after using three boxes I found myself gaining, and under a further use of the pills all my old-time energy and vitality was restored. Out of my own experience I can strongly recommend this medicine."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Icebergs Carry Strange Freight.

Icebergs sometimes carry strange freight. One of the flat-topped variety, 100 feet high was seen in mid-Atlantic bearing three vessels on its icy summit. Another, near the Banks of Newfoundland, had several Polar bears walking about on it.

Cretonne Trims Muslin Apron

By Marie Belmont.

The apron of unbleached muslin is admirable for summer wear. Many of these creations are designed so that they take the place of the house dress. The model illustrated is fashioned with short sleeves and the upper part is cut long enough to blouse over the sash of cretonne. It is really a slip-over affair as the back is closed except for a small opening at the top which allows an easy exit from its enveloping folds. A band of cretonne outlines the square cut neck as well as the sleeves and pocket. A cretonne flower decorates the front.

With so thorough a preparation at hand as Miller's Worm Powders the mother who allows her children to suffer from the ravages of worms is unwise and culpably careless. A child subjectd to the attacks of worms is always unhealthy, and will be stunted in its growth. It is a merciful act to rid it of these destructive parasites, especially when it can be done without difficulty.

A Rational Razor

AN unstropped blade gets duller every shave. The best edge will break down with use. A dull blade is simply an unstropped blade. Therefore, to attain shaving happiness, you must have a blade which can be stropped quickly, easily, and without being taken out of the frame.

The Valet AutoStrop Razor is the only safety razor which meets all these conditions. Let your dealer demonstrate it to you and you will be convinced. 500 perfect shaves are guaranteed with every dollar package of blades.

Razor, strop and 12 blades in assortment of cases, $5.00 the set. Fancy sets up to $16.50.

Time Was Not Ripe for End of the World.

I should have felt more nervous about the late comet if I had thought the world was ripe. But it is very green yet, if I am not mistaken; and besides there is a great deal of coal to use up, which I cannot bring myself to think was made for nothing. If certain things, which seem to me essential to a millennium, had come to pass I should have been frightened; but I wasn't.

A Timely Boost

A timely and well reasoned editorial on Kootenay Flats drainage appears in a recent issue of the B.C. Farm and Home, in which strong endorsation is given of the move about to be made to determine its feasibility. Here is the concluding paragraph of the article:

"The burden of taxation rests equally heavy on all parts of rural British Columbia; there is only one thing that can sensibly reduce it without injuring the prospects of better roads and further badly needed public works; that one thing is greater land settlement so that there will be more shoulders to carry a burden of taxation largely entailed by the geographical extent of the province and the extended government thereby made necessary. The reclamation and settlement of Kootenay Flats would add about five hundred taxpayers to our present number and would therefore be in the best interests of every farmer in the province."

Enterprise at Canyon

Provided there arises no undue amount of feeling of any sort in the community, heartiest commendation is due the dozen and a half residents of Canyon City district who have just completed arrangements to install a domestic water supply of sufficient pipe proportion to make it available for irrigation, provided those interested can agree on a satisfactory rotation system of taking the wetness for that purpose the two or three months that is will be found necessary to use it on the land.

In the undertaking those directly interested have shown double-barreled enterprise: In practical fashion they provide themselves with a very essential utility, and in the providing of it they have not found it necessary to secure the all too common government assistance either by way of a loan or in any other direction.

In addition to showing enterprise the getting under way of the undertaking reflects a well-deserved confidence in the Canyon district—by those who are willing to put their own money and labor into it, as well as by those who are willing to borrow the needed cash,—and those who are willing to loan it for such a project. That such an investment will prove a paying one goes without saying, particularly with the practical and progressive type of land operator interested.

In the last three years it is quite safe to say that on the ranches of the prospective water users enough money has been lost, due to the dry seasons shortening up the berry crops alone, to more than meet the cost of installing irrigation—to say nothing at all of the lost time and inconvenience suffered through not having a domestic water supply.

While other parts of the Valley are talking irrigation Canyon's move to avail itself of such a needful utility in such whole hearted fashion deserves more than passing mention Without water in some abundance no distritt that invariably goes without rain for a month or more at a stretch in the midst of the growing season can ever attain maxiumum production—or prosperity—and of such, it surely has been demonstrated is Creston Valley.

The fall fair paize list committee will this week complete the work of revising the awards to be made at Creston's 1921 fall fair, and will have the printed prize list in the hands of exhibitors about the end of the month.

At the meeting of the school board on Monday night the bid of Mr. Barner for the janitorship for this term was accepted. There were about ten applications for the work this trip, as compared with but three a year ago.

Considerable routine business was put through at the July meeting of the Rod & Gun Club meeting on Thursday night. The 1921 game regulations just issued provide for a deer shooting season to open Sept. 17 and close on Dec. 15.

The Mercantile Company are this week putting on a clearance sale of women's, boys', girls' and children's white canvas rubber soled shoes, which are going at 10 per cent. below wholesale price. See display in window.

COAL—H. S. McCreath will have his first car of Galt coal in this week, and those in need of fuel for early fall use should get a supply out of this car. Price is the same as last season, $12 a ton, but you save money by taking delivery direct from the car.

The public health committee would very much appreciate it if all those who have promised contributions to the public health nurse fund would pay the amount due by them on the guarantee. A prompt response will very much expedite August financing.

Fred Ryckman, Indian constable, Fort Steele, was here a couple of days the fore part of the week, supervising the erection of some wire fencing on the Indian hay lands on the flats which will give the reds less pasture range, but increased area on which to cut feed.

The official weather report for July shows the Valley to have been favored with a rainfall of just about two thirds of an inch. The hottest day of the month was the 19th, when the mercury showed 93 in the shane. July 10th was the coolest touch, 41 being recorded that morning.

Hon. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture, and Col. Davies, chairman of the Land Settlement Board, arrived on Tuesday, and left immediately for Lister, where they are making a visit of inspection, and meeting the soldier settlers to discuss matters of policy in connection with the Lister area.

The show window of Norris' bakery has attracted a lot of attention the past few days, the attraction being a six story wedding cake which will figure in a matrimonial event at Erickson on Tuesday. Both for size and artistic finish throughout the cake was quite the most attractive ever seen here.

Messrs. Schade and Nickel were motor visitors at Bonners Ferry on Thursday last, and were present at all the excitement attendant upon the capture of the two daylight robbers who held up First State Bank officials that morning and loaded up with about $8000 in bills and a quantity of Liberty Bonds.

Miss Phyllis Lyne got home on Sunday from Corvallis, Ore., where she has just completed a successful four year course in the state agricultural college at that point. She will spend August at her home here, returning in September to teach the domestic science course in one of the city schools near Portland, Ore.

The Women's Institute garden party at the home of Mrs. Lyne on Wednesday night was both an enjoyable and successful social function. The dining room was cleared for dancing, and was kept quite busy all evening, while refreshments of all sorts were dispensed throughout the evening. After paying all expenses the affair will net the Institute $25.

C. H. Robinson of Nelson, fishery inspector for the Kootenays, was here on an official visit on Tuesday. Judging by the few complaints heard the fish laws are being pretty generally respected about the only kicks registered being as to some anglers taking home trout under the legal size of 8 inches, and occasionally some are guilty of a catch in excess of the 25 per day allowance.

Mr. Asher, who is taking the services in the Methodist Church during the holiday of Pastor Knox, demonstrated versatility as a speaker on Sunday night by addressing the congregation from a text that had been handed him just as he entered the pulpit that evening by a member of the Young People's Society, delivering a timely address on the text, "Behold I lay in Sion a stumbling stone."

Small mouth black bass are being caught this season in the Kootenay River near the ferry—the first time on record that this species of the finny tribe has ever been taken in any Kootenay stream. They are supposed to have come down stream from Bonners Ferry, at which point a considerable quantity of bass fry was deposited in the river three or four years ago. Some specimens as heavy as two pounds have been taken by the local Indians.

Following last week's visit of Rev. J. H. White, superintendent of missions, announcement is made that permission has been given Creston Methodist congregation to sell their present church site and to move the church building onto the half-acre lot adjoining the parsonage. Already a 20 foot strip has been sold to R. McLeod, which will give him a nice side entrance to his property, which is next to the church. The balance of the lot, which has a frontage of about 100 feet on Victoria Avenue, will be placed on sale at once, with the idea of having the church moved to its new site early in the fall.

School Matters

At a special meeting of Creston school board on Monday night, tenders for this year's janitor work were opened and it was decided to offer the position to Mr. Barner, whose bid was the best of the half-dozen received. It was decided to utilize the back room of the new 2-room school that is under construction for the primary department this term, and insurance up to $3000 will be placed on the new school.

The board instructed the secretary to write a letter to Principal Smith congratulating him on his exceptionally fine work with the pupils at this year's Entrance to High School examinations, and a letter will also be sent Principal Brousson of the High School, who is at present out of town, asking him to attend a special meeting of the board this month to discuss the unsatisfactory results obtained by him at this year's High School examinations. The board also put through the requisite resolution to protect the school in case this year's poor showing is repeated in 1922.

Owing to the attendance of pupils from Creston school district being sufficient to tax the capacity of Creston High School it will not be possible to allow scholars from outside schools to attend the local high school for the 1921 22 term.

Penticton board of trade now has a membership of almost 90, and is about the most active organization in that town.

The Menace of Bolshevism

During recent months, reference in the press of Canada to the activities of the radical socialistic Bolshevik and Communist movements have not been as frequent as was the case a year or so ago, but this does not mean that the menace to our free British institutions has passed. Notwithstanding the anxieties and arduous duties at present imposed on the statesmen of Great Britain because of the troubles in Ireland, the complex problem of world disarmament, and the gigantic financial difficulties to be overcome following the war, leaders in government in the Old Country are not overlooking the danger that still threatens from the Bolshevik propaganda.

A committee of the House of Lords, under the chairmanship of the Duke of Northumberland, spent several months of investigation and research into the activities of these revolutionary organizations and in a report recently issued it is stated that there is overwhelming evidence that an International conspiracy exists which aims at the destruction of all existing institutions of government and society, of all religion, of all moral laws, and all property rights, throughout Great Britain, Canada and other Overseas Dominions.

This report sets forth that the main points in the Revolutionary programme are:—

(1) The national power of Great Britain and other Allied States is to be broken down by the fomenting of internal revolutions, through appeals to class hatred, and by efforts to obtain greater freedom and privileges for one class of people. Governments which are strong are to be weakened by the introduction of Socialism, which will pave the way to anarchy.

(2) Internationalism is to be taught.

(3) In every possible way influence is to be secured over public officials.

(4) As religion is the oral mainstay of all government, it is to be destroyed.

(5) Property owning is to be rendered impossible—by means of a thousand laws, restrictions and taxes, thus bringing about some form of State Socialism, or Communism, or Anarchy.

The Communist Party, directed and subsidized from Moscow, exerts its power through magazines and printed matter, inoculating ideas of Red Revolution into the minds of the people, and by a process known as "boring from within." Communist schools have been established for perverting the young by the teaching of Communism and Atheism. In this connection it is important to note that there are over twenty weekly newspapers in Canada teaching and preaching Socialism and Communism, many of them of the most radical kind.

Despite all his many other duties and responsibilities, David Lloyd George, who is a radical of the sane and progressive type, felt impelled recently to sound a word of warning as to the danger that confronts British institutions from this subtle enemy. The British Prime Minister is reported as saying:

"The military danger is over, but there are greater, more insidious, more permanent dangers still remaining—the dangers that have arisen from the new conditions in this and every land, the new ideas that have arisen, the new organizations that have suddenly risen into great powers. What is the peril? It is the phenomenal rise to power of a new party, with new purposes of the most subversive character. It calls itself Labor, but it is really Socialist.

"If anyone doubts the reality of the danger, I would ask him to read the Socialist and Labor papers. We rarely see them, and we do not quite see what they are after, but what they write in these papers is repeated on hundreds and thousands of platforms, to hundreds and thousands and millions of people. And they are beginning to believe it. Socialism is fighting, and you will find it in these papers—to destroy everything that great prophets and leaders labored for generations to build up. Private enterprise, individual effort, the stimulus of reasonable gain, the present organization of commerce, of industry, of credits—all that goes if this new system which is being preached, succeeds. Even the political liberty which they build up is being threatened."

The old and tried Labor organizations of Canada and the United States are aware of the danger which threatens and are out combatting it. The business communities are becoming more and more aware of it. It is time the average man who loves the little home he has built up by patient effort and self-denial, the man with his quarter or half section of land, the men and women who know that in the public school and the church are to be found the real safeguards and guarantees of personal liberty and real political freedom, should bestir themselves and vigorously oppose this enemy to all that is dearest and best in life.

"There's a Reason"

Knew His Name

The Poet Whittier's Dog Was An Intelligent Animal.

During one of the last birthday celebrations of the poet Whittier, he was visited by a celebrated oratorio singer. The lady was asked to sing, and, seating herself at the piano, she began the beautiful ballad, "Robin Adair." She had hardly begun when Mr Whittier's pet dog came into the room and, seating himself by her side, watched her as if fascinated, and listened with a delight unusual for an animal. When she finished he came and put his paw very gravely into her hand and licked her cheek. "Robin takes that as a tribute to himself," said Mr. Whittier. "He also is a 'Robin Adair.'" The dog, hearing his own name, evidently considered that he was the hero of the song. From that moment, during the lady's visit, he was her devoted attendant. He kept by her side when she was indoors, and accompanied her when she went to walk. When she went away, he carried her satchel in his mouth to the gate, and watched her dparture with every evidence of distress.—St. Nicholas.

PAINFUL DIARRHOEA

CRAMPS IN STOMACH

Mr. Fred Funston, Craik, Sask., writes:—"A year ago last harvest I was taken with a sudden attack of diarrhoea which completely laid me out, and in a few hours I had to quit work. The cramps in my stomach were dreadful, the beads of perspiration would stand out on my face at times I was in such great distress. At last I got a chance to send to town for a couple of bottles of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I used it according to the way I felt and soon obtained a great change for the better, for which I was very thankful. I don't know what the cause of my sickness was except the extremely hot weather and the active work of stooking the wheat.

Several of my neighbors were taken the same as myself and had the doctor attend them, but they didn't get any great relief until I advised them to use "Dr. Fowler's," when they soon experienced a great change. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 76 years and many cheap imitations are being offered to the public.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any one of these troubles may prove deadly if not properly treated. During the summer the mothers' best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Successful Family

He was a young artist, and although a very gifted man, the world had not yet recognized what a man they had amongst them.

Still, success was coming his way little by little, and he was proudly telling his life story to a patron.

"A few years ago," he asserted, "I was quite unknown, but now my work is hung on the line!"

Then a bitter thought flittered through his brain, and he added:

"So is my wife's."—London Answers.

Drink Water When Tired.

Dr. Eliza E Mosher urged lately the members of the Women's Medical Society of New York, to drink a glass of water at 10 a.m. and others at 3, 4 and 5 p.m. This, she told them, would dilute the products of fatigue which were entering the blood and causing the tired feeling.

Saskatchewan Grain Man Found Operation Was Not Necessary

"I was doubtful about Tanlac until I tried it myself and now I know it does everything that is claimed for it," said Jacob Popp, well-known and prosperous grain grower of McNutt, Sask.

"I had a bad form of stomach trouble for sixteen years, which was steadily growing worse as time passed. I did not dare eat heavy food or pastry and at times I couldn't retain a thing on my stomach, not even a glass of water. I would bloat up with gas until my heart would beat like a trip-hammer and I used to have awful pains in my chest as well as in the pit of my stomach. My liver was all out of order and I was bothered a good deal with headaches. I was in such a bad fix I could scarcely sleep at night or work during the day. In fact, I spent two weeks in the hospital and thought an operation was going to be necessary. Luckily, the operation was deferred and as soon as I left the hospital I began taking Tanlac.

"I can hardly realize that so little medicine could do as much good as Tanlac has for me. Although I took only three bottles, I gained twenty-eight pounds in weight and am eating, sleeping and working better than I have in many years. Tanlac is truly a remarkable medicine."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

The Keeping Of Poultry

Pamphlet Tells How Poultry Can Be Made to Pay.

If resident in either town or country and you wish to know how best to keep poultry and secure the most satisfactory results, consult a pamphlet treating of the subject prepared by the Dominion Poultry Husbandman, F. C. Elford, and recently issued by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. The pamphlet can be had free on applications to the Publications Branch. It tells of how poultry can be made to pay, how the birds should be housed and fed, how they should be treated in winter and summer, how to commence keeping in a small way, the equipment that is desirable, how to choose a breed, how to hatch and rear, and how to gather, keep, or market the eggs. In short all the essentials to success in poultry keeping for home consumption or selling are clearly and explicity explained. In the term poultry are included turkeys, geese, ducks, guinea fowls and pigeons, the raising and care of which are fully discussed. Numerous illustrations of types of birds, and of methods of housing and feeding contribute to make the pamphlet an invaluable compendium on poultry-keeping and marketing.

Still Walking

Edward Payson Weston Once Walked 500 Miles In Six Days.

Edward Payson Weston, the pedestrian who was famous a generation ago for his wonderful walking feats, is still hale and hearty at the age of eighty-two years, so a newspaper paragraph states. Even now he walks three miles daily for his mail and several times a week takes a twelve-mile walk in the neighborhood of his home, Plutarch, Ulster county, New York, just to keep himself in condition. Weston once walked 500 miles in six days, and 5,000 miles in 100 days.—Outlook.

Divergence In Viewpoints Between France and Britain Over Question Of Silesia

London.—The French Government deems it impossible to decide on the holding of a meeting of the Allied Supreme Council until the question of sending reinforcements into Upper Silesia has been decided.

M. de St. Aulaire, the French ambassador here, called on Lord Curzon, the British foreign minister, and conveyed this information in the name of his Government. The French notification is regarded here to indicate a serious divergence in the viewpoints of the two countries. It is stated Lord Curzon merely took the note of M. de St. Aulaire's communication and informed him he would refer the matter to the British cabinet.

When France agreed to a meeting of the Supreme Council in Paris on Aug. 4, it was more or less understood French acquiescence depended either on the question of reinforcements being previously settled or upon its being made the first subject of the agenda of the Council. The communication of M. de St. Aulaire would appear to show that the British Government declines to yield on this point.

U. S. Reduces Army To 150,000 Men

Congress Refused Funds to Pay Greater Force.

Washington.—Reduction of the United States army to a peace-time strength of one hundred and fifty thousand men has been accomplished in accordance with the decision of Congress when it refused to appropriate funds for pay of a greater force after October 1. With the reduction, Secretary Weeks announces there would be a general redistribution of troops, practical abandonment of seven of the great war-time army cantonments; placement of many organizations on the inactive list, and skeletonization of others into materially reduced strength.

Circassians Kill Turkish Governor

As a Result British Are Reinforcing Dardanelles Garrison.

Constantinople.—Circassion bandits appeared in Karabogha, on the Sea of Marmora, 35 miles east of Gallipoli, raided the town and killed the Turkish governor and commandant of the gendarmerie. A British detachment assisted the Turks in pursuing the bandits. As a result of this incident the British are reinforcing the Dardanelles garrison.

Britain Cancels Government Bonus.

London.—The chancellor of the exchequer announced that after September 30 no bonus will be paid to government employees in receipt of salaries over £2,000 a year. He also stated that there would be reduction of 5 per cent. on salaries above £500. He said that £500,000 will be saved by these economics.

Turks Are Badly Defeated

Athens.—Information from all sources indicates that the resistance of the Turkish nationalists in Asia Minor is completely broken down, the Greek official news agency declares in a statement. The Turkish losses in killed, wounded and prisoners to date are estimated at 60,000. The Greeks, the statement says, are constantly pressing the Kemalists along the road to Angora. Along the route of their retreat the Turks set fire to stores of material which they were unable to take with them because of the rapidity of their flight.

Terrible Experience Of Mountain Climbers

Mrs. Stone Is Rescued After Undergoing Incredible Hardships.

Calgary.—The search party which discovered Mrs. Stone has forwarded meagre details of the accident to the Alpine Club in Banff.

Mrs. Stone, who is not much the worse for her terrible experience, reports that she and Dr. Stone were climbing Mount Eon and Dr. Stone in attempting to make a short cut started up Rock Chimney with Mrs. Stone following him. They were not roped together. About half way up the rock on which he was standing gave way, and he plunged over her head to his death on the cliff below.

Mrs. Stone attempted to go down to her husband and became marooned on a narrow ledge of rock about half way down, from which she was unable to move. She remained there for five days without food. The only water she had was from a small stream which trickled down the mountain side at noon when the snows above melted. When discovered Sunday night by a searching party she was in a weakened and exhausted condition but uninjured. A. O. Wheeler, president of the Alpine Club, went up to the camp on Marshall Creek, accompanied by a nurse from Banff.

Quebec Crop is Fifty Per Cent. Less

Farmers Optimistic Although Drought Damaged Hay and Cereals.

Quebec.—"I still believe there is a decrease of at least 50 per cent. in the crop of the year," stated Hon. J. E. Caron, minister of agriculture, just returned from an automobile trip on the southern shore where he personally inspected the crop. "Not only hay but cereals are greatly damaged by drought. The potatoes look well and vegetables should be an average crop. I found the farmers were optimistic, however, and they are courageously taking means to meet the situation," Mr. Caron added. "Due to our advice, farmers will keep their dairy cattle and will use all the fodder available but it is hoped that the Federal Government will consent to grant a reduction in the freight rates to meet the requirements as the department of agriculture has received offers from the western provinces to send hay here if needed at a very reasonable price."

Rainmaker Has Scored

Hatfield Wins Rain Bet With Medicine Hat District.

Medicine Hat.—Rainmaker Charles M. Hatfield has won his bet with the Medicine Hat United Agricultural Association and he will be paid $8,000 for rain which has fallen in the district during the past three months.

Hatfield was to receive $8,000 if four inches of rain fell between May 1 and July 1. Up to Saturday last four and one quarter inches had been recorded and so Hatfield draws the maximum payment, which will be made him at the end of the month.

The association will hold a meeting to determine whether or not the contract shall be renewed for another year. Despite the outcome of the unusual contract which was made with the rainmaker, all are not convinced that Hatfield is entitled to take responsibility for the precipitation. It is pointed out that the rainfall did not come at the time it was most needed, and further that whenever the rain did come, it was general throughout the west.

Wheat Field To Table In Few Hours

Ingersoll, Ont.—A record in which the harvester, the miller and the baker figured, was established a few days ago at Thamesford, Ont. On Thursday, at 3 o'clock, wheat was standing in the field. Later in the day it was threshed, drawn to the gristmill at Thamesford and ground into flour. On Friday morning biscuits of excellent quality were made and placed on the table for dinner.

Auto Accident Wipes Out Family

Autoists Misled By Car Being On Wrong Track.

Cleveland.—Five persons were killed, four of them almost instantly, when a car on the Abbey Avenue viaduct and an automobile crashed head on. One family was wiped out when John M. Francyk, 40, a garage owner, his wife, 37, and their two children, were killed. Each of the dead sustained a fractured skull.

The cause of the accident according to the police, was the operation of a shuttle car east on a westbound track, the eastbound track being under repairs. The motorists were westbound and when they saw the street car on the westbound track they apparently thought it was travelling in the same direction as their automobile.

Courts Intervene In Military Execution

Say Sinn Feiners Should Have Been Tried By Court Martial.

Dublin.—An important judgment was delivered in the chancery division when the master of the rolls ordered a writ of habeas corpus, returnable against General Sir Neville Macready, commander of the British troops in Ireland; Maj.-Gen. Sir Edward Strickland, divisional commander, and others, in the case of John Egan, sentenced to death by a military court at Limerick in June for having ammunition in his possession.

In a long judgment the master of rolls has decided that Egan should have been tried by court martial under the Restoration of Order Act. The claim of the military authorities that the existence of the state of insurrection justified them in overriding legislation seemed to him to call for a new bill of rights. There were considerations more important than the temporary duration of an insurrection. Among them were the eternal principles of justice, which could not be violated save with detriment to the interest and feeling of a civilized community.

Says Father Was Swindler

Daughter of Bank President Admits Knowledge of Alleged Theft.

Chicago.—Vivian Spurgin, daughter of Warren F. Spurgin, missing president of the closed Michigan Avenue Trust Company, who, with her mother, returned to Chicago from Detroit, where they fled following Spurgin's disappearance, has admitted that she had knowledge that her father had taken more than $500,000 of the bank's money before he fled, it was announced by James E. McShane, assistant state attorney.

To Help Unemployed.

Toronto.—The board of control has passed a resolution moved by Mayor Church, that in view of the large amount of unemployment in the city instructions be given to the heads of departments to remove from the pay rolls those who are occupying dual positions or those occupying positions in the city's employ and receiving a pension at the same time.

Patronize your local merchant and thereby help to build up your home town and community.

Ottawa.—A cablegram received from the International Institute of Agriculture gives the following preliminary estimates of crop production for 1921, corresponding figures for last year being given in parenthesis:

Wheat—Spain, 143,140,000 bushels (138,606,000); Hungary, 41,887,000 bushels (29,139,000). The total production of these two countries, and including Belgium, Bulgaria, Finland, Alsace-Lorraine, Greece, Canada (243,720,900), United States, India, Japan, Algeria, Morocco, and Tunis, is 1,712,000,000,000 bushels. This year's total production is 87.6 per cent. of the two previous years.

Rye—Spain, 27,254,000 bushels (27,831,000), Hungary, 18,938,000 bushels (16,520,000). The total of these two countries, and including Bulgaria, Belgium, Finland, Alsace-Lorraine, Greece, Canada and the United States, 172,983,000 bushels (164,865,000).

Barley—Spain, 92,180,000 bushels (90,463,000). Japan, 89,287,000 bushels (92,140,000). The total production of barley for the same countries as wheat, but excluding Hungary and India, is 552,349,000 bushels (531,738,000).

Oats—Spain, 32,500,000 bushels (35,550,000). The total production, including Bulgaria, Finland, Alsace-Lorraine, Greece, Canada (330,790,700), United States, Algeria and Tunis, is 1,828,000,000 bushels (2,142,000,000).

The grand total for wheat, rye, barley and oats, taken together, is 4,255,000,000,000 bushels compared with 4,568,000,000,000 last year, a decrease of 313,000,000,000.

Toronto Landlords Have New Graft

Charge $2.00 For Privilege of Viewing Prospective Homes.

Toronto.—That some landlords are asking prospective tenants the price of $2 for the privilege of looking at houses and apartments prior to renting them, is the complaint contained in a letters received by a local newspaper. A few days ago a man in the west end of the city asked a real estate agent whether he could take a look at a certain apartment. He was asked $2 admission fee.

"Will I get my money in case I do not take the place?" he asked.

"No," was the answer.

"But in case I like the looks of the apartment can I deduct $2 from the first month's rent?" he said next.

"I charge you the $2 to look at the place," said the agent. "It has nothing to do with the rent."

The indignant correspondent asks, "What will be the next ingenuity of profiteering be?"

Harvesters From B. C.

First Contingent Will Not Leave Until August 13.

Vancouver.—British Columbia will send every able-bodied man who wants to go to the prairie harvest fields this year. It is expected that a great number will take advantage of the reduced fares.

The provincial employment bureau, however, announces that none will be earlier than August 13, on which date the first contingent will go forward on the regular eastbound trains from Vancouver, and daily thereafter until requirements are filled.

Russians Fire On German Boats.

Berlin.—The German mine sweeping fleet which has been operating in the Kola Bight on the Northern Russian coast, is reported in a special despatch from Vardoe, Norway, to have been fired on by Russian land forts. The German fleet returned the fire but no damage was done on either side.

U.S. Parcel Post System Loss.

Washington.—The parcel post system now is being conducted at an annual loss to the government of approximately $50,000,000 a year, Congressman Steenerson, chairman of the house committee on post offices and post rates, states.
