Variety Concert A Great Success

An audience that fairly well filled the Grand Theatre on Friday night got great value for their money at the variety concert put on by Creston District Brass Band. In the way of vocal and instrumental music a varied assortment of selections were presented, and if one were to judge bp the applause the most popular features were Mrs. Foreman's song and dance, and Messrs. L. Kyle and George, Bill and Percy Truscott, the wizard oil minstrels, who, with the aid of a ukelele and banjo manipulated by the two former, put over some old time southern melodies in poactical fashion. Amongst the vocalists the honors were divided between A. R. Spencer and Mrs. Foreman and Jas. Jory. The latter gave "Alice, Where Art Thou," in duett pleasingly, while Mr. Spencer is roundly praised for both his solo offerings, being heard to particularly fine advantage in "On the Road to Mandalay," which number Chautauqua patrons will recall as having been featured by Smithey, the baritone. W. Truscott got a great hand in his Lauder "She's the Girl for Me," in which he was accompanied by the band, and the usual hearty reception was accoroed R. B. Staples who also contributed a vocal number. Jas. Finlay of Lister contributed a cornet solo and encore, in the latter favoring with "The Rosary," which was a well deserved favorite of his double number. Fred Smith put one over on the crowd by havinfl his jet black 'possum make a couple of circuits of the stage when the coon parade item on the programme was announced. Geo. Davie of Canyon City gave a fine exhibition of snare drumming, while Bandmaster Hendy put the band through a varied lot of at least a dozen numbers that plainly indicated that the musicians continue to show improvement with the semi-weekly practice s that are in vogue. Mesdames Foreman, Garland and G. Davie of Canyon City were the accompanists.

Lister

John M. Paul, who has been working at the Sullivan mine at Kimberley for the last six months, returned on Monday, and is busy at spring operations on his ranch.

The Stockbreeders' Association Shorthorn sire has been transferred to the Jas. Huscroft ranch for keeping.

the move being made by Messrs. Frampton and Burgess. The move was quite spectacular, D. B. Peterson, who was called on for assistance on the job, providing some wild west c ttle handling feats at the work, and thereby speeding up the transfer which before his arrival looked like an all day job due to the safety first ideas invoked by the two elder Lister Stockmen.

John Davis, another of the settlers who have been at Kimberley for some time got back last month. He is going quite heavy into beekeeping, starting off with about ten hives of the honeymakers.

Ploughing started in the Lister section the latter part of the week D. Fraser being about the first to start turning the soil.

Some of the camp equ pment offered for sale by the Land Settlement Board is being purchased locally, the horses being in good demand, and are being acquired under the provisions of the provincial live stock loans legislation, with a 20 per cent. cash payment at time of purchase.

Fred Powers and F. N. Thompson have taken the contract of putting a fence around the sawmill property and are now busy at the work.

E. Thompson is keeping busy at present on a logging contract he has secured from Winlaw & Son.

Owing to a break in the power plant of the mill at Canyon City one of the engines of the local mill has been leased that concern for a month, being transferred last week and put to work operating the re-saw.

The outstanding feature of the United Farmers' meeting on Friday night was instructions that were given Secretary Head to place an order for 1000 pounds of potatoes for local use and seed, if possible the Gold Coin variety will be secured.

Mrs. A. R. Webb and young son are spending the week with friends in Creston.

Erickson

John Joy, the Creston shoemaker, is the latest addition to Erickson's business circle. He opened for business in the new Palmer store at the first of the month.

Gerald Craigie was a visitor with Spokane friends a few days the latter part of the week.

The Thurston ranch is claiming the season's record at Erickson for chicken raising, with a showing of 14 birds from 15 eggs.

Mrs. Jas. Maxwell spent a few days with Nelson friends the middle of last week.

The government's Federal truck was busy on the gravel haul in this section last week, and now has all the ruts caused by the spring freshets filled up for the season.

Jas. Woods is now a six-day-a-week resident of Duck Creek, having taken charge of the Wynndel Mercantile store at that point at the first of the month.

Walter Long of the Imperial Bank staff is taking the usual three weeks vacation this month, and will spend part of it with friends in Calgary.

Miss Edith Sanford, who has been keeping house of late for R. M. Telford, left last week for Roseland Alta., where she will be making her home in future. She was accompanied by her younger brother and sister, who have also been here for some time.

A number of the ranchers on the community water system are at work this week trying to locate the points which the water pipes are frozen and to proceed with thawing-out operations. All the users in both Erickson and West Erickson have been without a supply a supply since the latter part of December.

C.P.R. section crews have now been enlarged to three men and foreman, and the taking on of extra help has depletrd the ranks of the unemployed a matter of four hands.

West Creston

W. P. Stark of Creston was a visitor here a few days last week, the guest of Geo. Seymour.

Spring weather may be expected any day now. Already there is quite a showing of ducks and geese on some of the sloughs.

Roads in this section are not what you would call good and those who are hauling hay are having to do considerable doubling up. Old Nick is finding a ready sale for his surplus feed at $13 a ton at present.

J. D. Moore, the road superintendent was here on a business visit the fore part of the week, arranging for the purchase of the Hurry house at the ferry. Since the first of the month ferryman Lockhead has been making his home at the Reclamation Farm.

E. J. C. Richardson of Erickson was a business visitor here on Tuesday last, when he purchased a saddle horse from C. Blair.

F. K. Hurry has had the bad luck to lose a couple of cattle already this spring, both of them from drowning. One animal went through the ice in Kootenay River, and although rescued died afterwards from the effects of the submersion.

Floating ice in the river had the ferry out of commission last week for a couple of days. The ice jammed at the bend below the ferry which is always the last to clear itself of ice and backed up so thick that it was impossible to put the scow across. Ferryman Lockhead is giving excellent satisfaction in every way on the job.

Canyon City

Messrs. Larson and Anderson, who have been working at Yahk all winter, have just returned, and are busy getting things ready for spring work on their ranches, which they purchased last fall at New Sweden.

The United Farmers have their regular monthly meeting at the school house on Saturday night. This will be a straight business session with no entertainment at the close.

Mr. Johnson of Red Deer, Alta., arrived a few days ago, and at present is occupying the hause on A. R. Swanson place.

Mr. Sheehan, who has been employed at the mill for the past four years, is moving to Nelson this week, where he is going back at railroad work.

Quite a number from here were at Creston on Friday night for the variety concert at the Grand theatre, given by the Creston band.

Alfred Speaker, who has been in charge of the Canyon City Lumber Co. yard for the past few years, has just resigned that position, and intends removing shortly to Michigan.

Canyon Methodist Ladies' Aid are having a sale of needlework, cooking and candy on Monday afternoon, April 17th, at the schoolhouse, and in the evening there will be a lecture by Rev. Mr. Calvert of Kaslo, who wil illustrate his talk with magic lantern slides.

The residents in the New Sweden area are anxiously waiting the arrival of someone in authority to start the seison's road repair work. Just at present travelling is so bad that some of the ranchers are doing voluntary work on the roads to enable them to do what little bit of moving about that is absolutely necessary.

Mr. Shingaby of Jaffray is having a shack erected, with T. W. Davies and Olem Payette on the job. They expect to complete the contract this week.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Dunseth, who have recently settled in their new house, was invaded by a surprise party of about 30 young people on Monday night. Dancing and games were the chief items of amusement. A very dainty supper was served at midnight, after which dancing was continued until the wee sma' 'oors.

The Athletic Club concert is set for Saturday, April 22nd, in the Clubhouse, at 8 p.m. sharp. Don't miss this as it is one of the finest programmes ever put on in the Valley. Admission to concert 75 cents. Supper 25 cents. Dance after is free. All children under 10 years who are accompanied by parents, free.

The travelling Norweigan minister was here on Sunday and held a Norweigan service in the small schoolhouse. It was well attended, and he announces that he will be back again some time next month.

The teachers and pupils of the school held an afternoon tea and candy sale in the school on Wednesday. The proceeds are to defray the expenses of the sewing club. A very nice little sum was collected, and this will put the sewing circle on a good solid footing.

Jack Barraclough of Alice Siding is now a resident of Wynndel, working for M. Wigen, clearing land.

The Athletic Club figures to hold its meetings out of doors in future, and the first basketball game of the season will be on Sunday afternoon at the tennis court.

Monday is a public holiday for the banks and government officials and general delivery wicket at the postoffice will be open that day from 5 to 6 p.m. only.

The baseball talent had an informal sort of a workout at Exhibition Park on Sunday afternoon, and with a week of real spring weather the diamond will be in good shape to resume operations.

For March the official weather report shows the balmiest day to have been on the 9th when the mercury hit 49, and the coolest wiis the first day of March when the showing was 4 above zero. Not in at least half a dozen years has the Valley experienced as cold a March as 1922 furnished.

To provide the $10,000 additional revenue required at Grand Forks this year it is proposed to advance water rates 25 per cent. and to clip off the 10 per cent. previously allowed for prompt monthly payment of rates.

Kaslo District Liberal Meeting

Business was transacted with neatness and despatch at the re-organization meeting of the Kaslo District Liberal Association which was held in Speers' Hall on Friday afternoon, with President Frank Abey of Kaslo presiding.

Due to the fact that the delegates from the north end of the riding found it necessary to return on the afternoon train, no time was lost in getting down to business, and after the president had briefly sketched the association's activities since the last meeting, the election of officers was proceeded with, the following being chosen to handle affairs for the next twelve months:

Hon. President—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.
Hon. Vice-President—Hon. John Oliver.
President—R. B. Staples.
Vice-President—Frank Abey.
Secy. Treas.—C. F. Hayes.
Executive—R. McGregor, Crawford Bay; E. H. Latham, Kaslo; F. Putnam and S. A. Speers, Creston.

At advisory council, which will be made up of one member from each of the larger polling centres, will be selected forthwith, it being agreed that the Kaslo association would look after the work at the north end, whilst the Creston association will do the same at the south.

A number of resolutions that will be presented at the provincial Liberal convention in Nelson in June were agreed to and it was arranged that of the ten delegates the riding is entitled to seat five will be from the north and five from the south end of the constituency. Following the big Nelson get-together it is likely a nominating convention will be called and the Liberal standard beared placed in the field in this constituency.

A resolution of condolence with Mrs. Keen in the death of her husband, Hon. John Keen, former member was spoken to in feeling terms by several of the delegates, and will be forwarded by the secretary.

Resolutions asking the minister of customs to remove the duty of one cent a pound on lead re-entering Canada after being smelted in the U.S., and another directing the attention of the minister of public works to the necessity of completing the Queens Bay-Ainsworth link of the Kaslo-Nelson road were adopted. The game conservation board will also be asked to exercise greater care in the issuing of trappers permits to non-residents, and particularly to transients who are not British subjects.

Owing to the desire of the visiting Liberals to return the same day as they arrived the dinner arranged for them, along with other entertainment features, had to be cancelled. Harmony and enthusiasm marked proceedings throughout, and all are thoroughly optimistic that with the right candidate early in the field the next election should see Kaslo riding restored to the Liberal column.

The Homesteaders

"I haven't played the game fair with you two," he said, "and I want to say so now. Perhaps it would be truer to say that I played the wrong game. Twenty-five years have proved it was the wrong game. Now, without a penny, I can start just where I started twenty-five years ago. The only difference is that I am an old man instead of a young one. I'm going to take another homestead and start again, at the right game, if Mary will start with me."

She put her hand in his, and her eyes were bright again with the fire of youth. "You know there is only one answer, John," she whispered.

Harris called Travers over from the group of men. "There's one thing more," he continued. "When I started I had only a wife to keep and I don't intend to take any bigger responsibility now. Allan will be having a homestead of his own. Jim Travers, I am speaking to you! I owe you an apology for some things and an explanation for some things, but I'm going to square the debt with the only gift I have left."

The light breeze tossed the hair of Beulah's uncovered head, and the light of love and health glowed in her face and thrilled through the fine symmetry of her figure.

"Take her, Jim," he said.

"She is a godly gift," said the young man reverently.

"You think so now," said her father. "You know nothing about it. In twenty-five years you will know just how great a gift she is—or she will not be worthy of her mother."

Harris and his wife were gazing with unseeing eyes into the mountains when Arthurs handed them a letter. "It came in the mail which the boys brought out this morning," he said, "and I forgot all about it until this minute."

It was from Bradshaw. Harris opened it indifferently, but the first few lines aroused his interest, and he read it eagerly to the end.

"My dear Harris," it ran, "on receipt of your telegram I immediately opened negotiations through my connections looking to a sale of your farm with its crop and equipment, complete as a going concern. I succeeded in getting an offer of the $40,000 you set on it, and had all the papers drawn up, when I discovered that among us we had made a serious omission. You will remember that, a good many years ago, when you were taking on some fresh obligations, you transferred the homestead into your wife's name. I assured the purchaser that there would be no difficulty about getting title from your wife, but as all the buildings are on the homestead quarter he would agree to nothing better than paying $20,000 for the rest of your land, leaving the homestead quarter, with the buildings, stock and implements, out of the transaction. As his price seemed a fair one for the balance of the property, and as I assured your need of the money was urgent, I closed a deal on that basis, cashed the agreement, and remitted the proceeds to you at once by wire. I trust my actions in the matter meet with your approval.

"Yours sincerely,
"George Bradshaw."

Harris placed the letter in the hands of his wife. She tried to read it, but a great happiness enveloped her as a flood and the typewritten characters seemed to swim before her. "What does it mean, John?" she asked, noting his restrained excitement. "What does it mean?"

"It means that the homestead quarter was not sold—after all—that it is still yours, with the buildings, and machinery, and stock, and this year's crop just ready for cutting."

She raised her eyes to his. "Still ours, John, you mean. Still ours."

In the rapid succession of events everyone seemed to have forgotten, or disregarded, Gardiner. But at this moment the doctor came rushing out of the house.

"Gardiner's gone!" he exclaimed, as he came up to the men.

Some of the party romoved their hats.

"Oh, not that way—not that way!" exclaimed the doctor. "I mean he's gone—skipped—beat it, if you understand. Most extraordinary! I was taking his pulse. It was about normal, and he seemed resting easier, so I slipped downstairs for the antidote. When I went back—I was only gone a moment—there wasn't sight or sound of him."

The men stared at each other for a moment; then followed the doctor in a race for Gardiners room. They found it as he said. There was neither sight nor sound of Gardiner.

Sergeant Grey conducted a swift examination, not of Gardiner's room, but of the one in which Allan was lying. He was rewarded by finding the little slip of paper, with a few crystals of powder still clinging to it. The coroner examined the crystals through his magnifying glass; then, somewhat dubiously, raised them on a moistened finger to his tongue, and after a moment's hesitation swallowed in an impressive, scholarly fashion.

"Saacharum album!" he exclaimed. "Common white sugar! Most extraordinary!"

But Sergeant Grey was at the open window. It was only an eight-foot drop to the soft earth, and to the policeman there was no longer any mystery in Gardiner's disappearance. The mock suicide was a carefully-planned ruse to be employed by Gardiner if the worst came to the worst.

At that moment the sound of horse's hoofs was heard on the gravelly road, and three hundred yards away Gardiner dashed through a gap in the trees that swirted the base of the hills. He was on the policeman's horse, and riding like wild fire.

"I want all of you men, and a horse for each," said Grey quickly, turning upon them like a general marshalling his officers. "There are a dozen different trails he may follow, and we must put a man on each. I will give immediate pursuit, in the hope of riding him down before he can throw us off the scent, and I will leave it to you, Mr. Arthurs, to organize the posse and scour the whole country until he is located."

At Grey's first words two men had rushed to the corral, and were already saddling horses. The first and fastest was placed at the command of the policeman, and in a minute he, too, was riding breakneck into the hills. But the delay was enough to give Gardiner almost a mile's lead, and the Government horse was a match for any on the ranch.

Grey knew that the main road, if followed far enough, dwindled into a pack trail, which in turn seemed to lose itself in the fastnesses of the mountains, but in reality opened into a pass leading through the range. He gave Gardiner credit for knowing as much, and concluded that the fugitive would make a bolt straight through the mountains. There was no time to watch for tracks; his chance to ride this man down depended entirely upon speed. If he miscalculated, and Gardiner, instead of making for the pass, sought refuge in the mountains, the posse would certainly locate him or starve him into surrender. So the officer urged his horse to the limit and galloped straight into the mountain battlements ahead of him.

An hour's hard riding brought him into a tremendously rough country, where the trail at times was nothing more than narrow defile or ledge, and sheer walls of rock rose thousands of feet above, their giant edges cutting the blue sky like the teeth of a mighty saw. Far below, a ribbon of green and white, the river rolled in its canyon. Here and there a thin stream of water sprayed down the mountain side, cutting a damp, treacherous belt across the trail. But at one such spot Grey's heart leaped within him, for there, unmistakably clear in the thin soil and soft rock, were the marks of a horse's shoe, not an hour old. A few minutes later he saw Gardiner swinging round a spur of rock half a mile further up the pass.

The policeman began to watch the moist spots for the tell-tale hoofprints, and invariably their evidence revealed itself. He knew now that he had guessed Gardiner's course correctly, and it was a matter of minutes until he should ride him down. He wondered whether the man was armed or not; it would be an easy trick to hide behind a rock and pick the policeman off as he rode by.

Suddenly, at a turn in the path, his eye caught a sight which made him throw his horse back on his tracks. A sheer precipice fell away a thousand feet below him, and beetling cliffs cut off the sky above. Across the path trickled a little stream. And there in the stream, so clear they could not be misread, were the marks cut by a horse's feet sliding over the precipice.

The policeman dismounted carefully. There was scarcely room for him to pass his horse on the narrow ledge. Where the stream had worn it it sloped downwards at an uncomfortable angle. He knelt beside it and traced the marks of the shoe-calks with his finger. They led over the edge. Eighteen inches down the mountain side was a fresh scar where steel had struck a projecting corner of rock.

A thousand feet below the green water slid and swirled in the bed of the canyon.

The End

Anaemia

Thin, watery blood is no more nourishing than thin, watery milk—skim milk.

But you can soon enrich thin blood, overcome the anaemic condition and build up the whole system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. F. G. Simmons, 42 Curtis St., Brantford, Ont., writes:

"For about eight years I suffered from anaemia. My circulation was poor, my gums and lips were pale, and my hands and feet were always cold. I was nervous and unable to sleep well. I had frequent headaches, seemed restless and easily worried or irritated. There was a buzzing sound in my ears. Indigestion was also one of my complaints, and I often was attacked by weak spells. I went to a doctor, who told me I was anaemic, but as I did not get any better I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after the first box I felt lighter as I my headaches completely disappeared. I continued using the Nerve Food for quite a while. I am quite well now, and cheerfully and gratefully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to people suffering as I did before I used this splendid medicine."

USEFUL FOR OVER 500 PURPOSES

Gillett's Lye can be used for so many purposes that their enumeration here would be impossible. For example, Gillett's Lye can be used for making soap, in washing dishes, also as a disinfectant. For softening hard water. As a means of removing grease and smoke stains. These are only a few of its many uses, but they serve to indicate what has made Gillett's Lye such a general household utility to-day.

Rise in Price of Wheat Creates a Better Feeling

There is a decided note of optimism becoming apparent throughout Western Canada.

The immediate cause of the better feeling is the marked rise in the price of wheat. To nothing will Western Canada react more quickly, to little else will it react in a general way at all. The natural born pessimist, of course, says that the rise in the price of wheat is due to special and temporary causes, and that the improvement, visible as its effect, cannot be expected to continue.

The price of wheat may be to some small extent a premature or temporary phenomenon, but it is nevertheless part of a general process observable in every field of basic production the world over, and already casting its reflection upon railway business and shipping and finance, even if it has not yet reached the more subsidiary and dependent industries.

Our prosperity here rests directly upon basic production and its necessary transportation and distribution facilities. We feel the pulse of improvement first and others may take it from us that permanent improvement is on the way, rather than that we should take it from them that it is an necess of fever on our part, because they are still in the dumps.—The Winnipeg Tribune.

Why Irish Are Fighters

A certain diet specialist tells us that the Irish are a bellicose people, largely because they eat little meat but take a good deal of buttermilk and vegetables. The Balkan nations also are great fighters and at the same time are said to consume great quantities of buttermilk. He thinks if the Irish were to change their diet they would become much more peaceful. It seems strange how good an argument can be formed out of a few non-essential facts and a vivid imagination.—Christian Guardian.

KEEP BABY WELL IN THE SPRING

Mothers who have little ones in the home find the Spring a time of great anxiety. At this season conditions make it necessary to keep the baby indoors. He is often confined to overheated and badly ventilated rooms and catches colds which rack his whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. This will prevent colds; constipation or colic, and keep baby well. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

World's Available Water Power

A new French estimate of the world's water power resources credits the United States with 30,000,000 available horsepower; Canada with 25,000,000; Norway with 7,500,000; Sweden with 6,750,000; and Italy and Spain with about 5,000,000 each.

Regina Cattle Sale Very Successful

Prize Winning Shorthorn Bull Sells For $1,100.00

Considering financial conditions, the directors of the Saskatchewan Cattle Breeders' Association are very well pleased with the prices obtained at the pure-bred cattle sale recently held in Regina. Pure-bred females did not sell as readily as pure-bred bulls. The demand for bulls, however, was steady, and the bidding brisk.

An average of $200.00 each was secured for 85 Shorthorn bulls, and the top price for Shorthorns and for the sale was $1,100.00, which was paid for Mars Avon 3rd, sold by a Prince Albert man and purchased by a man from St. Walbourg. This bull had been a prize winner at the International last fall.

The average price for Hereford bulls was $162.00 on 30 head, with a top price for this breed of $375.00. Aberdeen Angus bulls sold at an average price of $170.00 and the top price of $735.00 was paid for Broadus Blackburn 7th, sold by G. N. Buffum, of Bechard, and purchased by Mr. Hume, of Manitoba.

Over 200 head were sold through the ring, and the breeders who had well bred bulls and had them in good condition were well satisfied with the prices obtained. The better bull campaign is having its effect in increasing the demand for real good bulls.

An Amazing Watch

Has Four Dials and Runs for Thirty Hours

One of the most remarkable watches in the world was recently constructed by a leading British firm. The front dial of the watch, upon which ordinary time is indicated, carries four small dials. One of these shows the days of the week and the date of the month. The other forms a perpetual calendar, indicating the first, second, third and leap years. No. 3 dial indicates the phases of the moon and No. 4 acts as a recording chronograph showing hours and minutes, seconds and fifths of seconds. There is also an indicator and pointer which shows at any time to what extent the watch is wound up. The main dial also carries a further hand distinguished by a small sun near its outer end. This hand shows the position of the sun before or after clock time. The watch strikes the hours and the quarters and repeats the hours, quarters and minutes at any time desired. On the back of the watch there is a dial showing the sidereal day of 24 hours. It also carries a star chart or planisphere. The point on the chart corresponding to the North Pole is set at the centre of this dial and the exposed portion of the chart reveals the portion of the sky visible in the latitude in which the watch is used. The movements of the watch are arranged in three tiers and are fitted throughout with diamond and ruby jewels. The watch runs for 30 hours with one winding. It was constructed to order and cost one thousand guineas.

The Bride's First Breakfast

"John, dear," began the bride tearfully, "breakfast is on the table—but—but—isn't it just too annoying—look at the bread!" "Why," exclaimed the bridegroom in surprise, "it isn't baked at all!" "I know it isn't dear; that's just it. And I p-p-put lots and l-l-lots of baking powder in it, too!"

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

A Household Medicine.—They that are acquainted with the sterling properties of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the treatment of many ailments would not be without it in the house. It is truly a household medicine and as it is effective in dealing with many ordinary complaints it is an inexpensive medicine. So, keep it at hand, as the call for it may come most unexpectedly.

Radio Telephones in B.C.

A radio telephone service for the British Columbia interior, for coastwise vessels and deep-sea ships as far out as 2,500 miles at sea has been inaugurated. It is planned to give world news, concerts and speeches to distant parts.

Externally or Internally it is Good—When applied externally by brisk rubbing, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil opens the pores and penetrates the tissue, touching the seat of the trouble and immediately affording relief. Administered internally, it will still the irritation in the throat which induces coughing and will relieve affections of the bronchial tubes and respiratory organs. Try it and be convinced.

COULD HARDLY STAND AT TIMES

Hips, Back and Legs Would Have That Tired Ache

Everett, Washington.—"For several years I have had trouble with the lowest part of my back and my hips and my legs would ache with that tired ache. I could hardly stand on my feet at times. I was always able to do my work although I did not feel good. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and having heard several praise it I decided to try it. I feel first-rate at the present time. It has done wonders for me and I keep it in the house right along. I always recommend it to others who are sick and ailing."—Mrs. J. M. SIBBERT, 4032 High St., Everett, Washington.

To do any kind of work, or to play for that matter, is next to impossible if you are suffering from some form of female trouble. It may cause your back or your legs to ache, it may make you nervous and irritable. You may be able to keep up and around, but you do not feel good.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women. It is especially adapted to relieve the cause of the trouble and then these annoying pains, aches and "no good" feelings disappear.

It has done this for many, many women; why not give it a fair trial—now.

Mr. Jenkins Took a Cracked Club To Tame Lions

The exhibition ended rather badly. It very nearly was a big day for the lions and a sad day for Mr. Jenkins—all for want of proper care in getting ready.

Many a man who has business to do and a living to make and a job to fill is as careless how he feeds his body as Mr. Jenkins was in picking out a club.

Some foods are too heavy, some are too starchy, many lack necessary elements and so starve the body—and many load the system down with fermentation and auto-intoxication.

Grape-Nuts helps build health and strength. It contains the full richness of wheat and malted barley, including the vital mineral elements, without which the body cannot be fully sustained. Grape-Nuts digests quickly and wholesomely. Served with cream or good milk, it is a complete food—crisp and delicious.

Grape-Nuts is just the food for those who care to meet life's situations well prepared in health. Order Grape-Nuts from your grocer today. Try it with cream or milk for breakfast or lunch, or made into a delightful pudding for dinner.

AN EASTER EPIC

By T. M. EDMONDSON

I stand upon a mountain top, with trees all girth around,
And thickets there of fen and fern that cover well the ground;
And little lakes of water lie still without a sound,
Create in me enquiry, deep and profound.

Being weary with my journey, as I climb the mountain steep,
It was there I made a little bed, and soon was fast asleep.
A holy awe around me crept as I lay down that night and slept,
While visions of a wondrous kind enveloped the subconscious mind.

I looked upon that mountain in its primeval dress;
Its beauty and its outline from ba e unto its crest;
Its mineral, its pyrites, and its golden mother lode,
Impres in me the reality of an eternal God.

Impressive as that mountain was, a voice was heard to sav,
"A time will come when it and all will fade and melt away,
For there's something more enduring in the wise Creator's plan;
It is the resurrection of what was first called man."

In His image and His likeness He gave to man a soul,
Which, it is said, will live forever, as the countless ages roll.
For the body where the soul doth live is subject to decay,
Though now is dead will rise again at the resurrection day.

A day by God appointed when His judgement will be given;
A testing, trying day for all who will be heir to heaven.
This is the wondrous day to all peoples will be known
When the eternal God will sit upon His judgment throne.

As at Christ's transfiguration Moses and Elias came,
So the souls that have departed will in likeness come again.
For the great archangel Michael with his trumpet in his hand
With one foot placed upon the sea and one upon the land,

Will wake the dead of nations, who have slept ten thousand years;
As a valley of dry bones they'll come with flesh that reappears.
Ye pyramids of Egypt, your Sarcophagus give;
Though now in mummied form, arise, come forth, and live.

Ye Pharohs of Egypt who pressed the Israelitish band,
Come take your place in yonder seat, your judgment is at hand.
Come ye recording angels of all the deeds of men,
Which you have kept for ages, tell what, and why, and when.

It will be a joyous day for the faithful sons of men,
But to those who've been unfaithful, I shall not describe with pen.
Provision has been made for my redemption here,
Through the atoning Lamb, who waits for me up there.

How then can I afford to sin my life away
In hurtful, low digression, that would lead the soul astray.
Each day to sear my conscience, the Spirit's power shun,
And lose my chance at last in the resurrection.

Epochs and eras roll, they know not father time;
Infinity expressed in eternitv sublime.
There is nothing here below that shall tempt my soul to stray,
Redeemned from sin I'll surely win in the resurrection day.

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, APR 14

Domestic Pack

Enlarging upon the announcement in the Review of March 24th, that Staples Fruit Company, Ltd., would operate a branch in Grand Forks this year, The Gazette remarks: "The Staples Company operated in Grand Forks in 1920 but did not do any business here in 1921. Their representative was here a few weeks ago and it is understood that they were prepared to make a lively bid for fruit of Grand Forks during the coming season. The Staples Fruit Co. are allied with the Nash fruit organization, which is particularly anxious to get the O.U.G. out of business and there is every reason to expect keen competition for fruit here next season."

The move of Creston Board of Trade to awake public interest and secure some needed financial assistance from local church and other organizations for a much needed beautification of the local cemetery is one that should have the serious and favorable consideration of all who may be approached in the matter. The shareholders in the cemetery are backing the movement to the limit of the company's financial resources, as well as being willing to have the tidying up of the burying ground proceed along such lines as any responsible citizens' committe may suggest, and are equally agreeable to devote all possible future revenues to keeping the cemetery in good shape. Once put right there should be little difficulty in perfecting a plot owners' organization to work in conjunction with the cemetery officials in keeping the burying ground always looking right, and situated where it is certainly the cemetery can be made and maintained as one of the very few beauty spots Creston at present boasts. A rough estimate is that $200 would put the area in the best possible shape for a permanent plan of beautification—a sum readily within the combined financial resources of the cemetery company, plot owners, and the several church and community organizations that abound in the Valley.

When it comes to being intemperate it is sometimes pretty hard to equal those who profess and call themselves temperate. The Government liquor store question is a very live one at Kaslo at the present time, and although the town voted "dry" in the plebiscite in October, 1920, the passing of petitions last month for and against the store seems to have revealed the fact that a majority are now in favor of the sale of hard stuff over a Government store counter. This moral lapse on the part of Kaslo citizens has so angered Pastor Hughes that he is publicly counselling the merchants of the town to all start doing a spot cash business just as soon as the prospective liquor store opens. Why all and sundry of the residents of that town who are less fortunately situated financially (though possibly equally as "dry" in sentiment) than Pastor Hughes should in these times of unemployment and slow pay be placed in dire straits caused by the rigid adherence to a no-credit system is not apparent at this distance, and certainly the advocacy of such a policy coming from one ordained to be kindly considerate one toward another does the author no permanent good and the cause of christianity much permanent harm.

If a recent statement appearing in the coast papers as to the daily intake at Government liquor stores in that city may be accepted as accurate it should not be long before the province will experience a standoff financially on government control of the liquor business and government ownership and operation of the P.G.E. Railway. According to the statement issued as covering the liquor business in February the stores in Vancouver city alone were accounting for a turnover of $10,000 a day, and it was estimated that this would probably be two-fifths of the total intake of all the province's wet goods emporiums, or a total of not less than $25,000 a day. Assuming that there are 300 shopping-days in the year, and that trade will be somewhat better during the tourist season, it is not hard to figure out a yearly turnover of $8,000,000, on which, we trust, a margin of 25 per cent. is provided for, thus giving the rather tidy net profit of almost $2,000,000 each year. Of this latter sum, of course, a fixed per centage is returned to organized municipalities for school and hospital purposes, but even allowing for that the province'sshare should still go a long way toward taking care of the province's first—and, let us hope, last,—railway venture,

'22 Berry-Selling Contract Closed

VANCOUVER, Arpil 7—Following a week of negotiation between berry-growing and selling organizations of the province, a decision was reached on Thursday afternoon to let the contract forthe disposal of this year's crop of strawberries, raspberries, loganberries, blackberries and cherries to the Mutual (Vancouver) Limited, which concern represents the big Nash fruit interests of Minneapolis, which maintains a chain of thirty-five jobbing houses on the Canadian prairie as well as brokerage offices at Calgary, Edmonton Regina, Saskatoon and Winnipeg.

By the terms of the contract, the selling concern agrees to handle 225,000 crates of the small fruits, of which 200 cars will be sent to the prairie, the remainder of about 100 cars being marketed on the Coast. The Nash people give a cash guarantee on a brokerage basis for each car and agree to settle for the balance immediately upon the sale of the car.

Mr. Skinner stated this morning that the deal, which would be signed during the day, would embrace the B.C. Berry Growers Association, the Pacific Berry Growers Association, the Gordon Head Fruit Growers Association and the Keatings and Saanich Fruit Growers Association, which produce practically the entire small fruit crop on a commercial basis in the province. He stated also, that his concern would also handle the Hood River strawberries this season which will be on the market slightly in advance of the B.C. berries, as well as the raspberries of Puyallup.

Mr. Geo. H. Snow, who has had a prominent part in closing the deal, said that the contract would also cover the rhubarb for which the Mission-Hatzie district is famous. The amount involved in the marketing of the crop would be well over $500,000, he stated. He was of the opinion that the increased acreage this year on strawberries would go along way in offsetting the damage by frost last winter, and that the yield of raspberries would be greater.

It will be remembered that last season probably 25 per cent. of the strawberry crop could not be rolled to the prairie on account of rains.

Last year both Creston Fruit Growers Union and Wyndel Co-Operative Growers marketed their fruit with Berry Growers Association, but up till Wednesday night O. J. Wigen, manager of the Wyndel organization had not been advised of the exact terms of the deal, and until he has perused this no announcement can be made as to whether the local berries will be sold through the Mutual Brokers or not.

Mrs. Llewellyn Was Discouraged Over Her Health, Says Husband

"My wife is the very picture of health now and she tells me she never felt better in her life. We certainly believe in Tanlac at our house," said Arthur Llewellyn, 428 Alexander Ave., Winnipeg, Man.

"My wife had been in failing health for so long that I was very much alarmed about her, especially since the many things she had tried failed to do her any good. She even spent some time in the country, but this also failed to help her and she came home utterly discouraged. I don't believe anybody ever had a worse or more stubborn case of stomach trouble than she did.

"Tanlac certainly was what she needed and she hadn't been taking it long before she was on the road to recovery. It not only has toned up her stomach so that she eats whatever she wants, but she has the color of health in her cheeks now and apparently is as strong and healthy as anyone could wish to be."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Assets And Liabilities

The importance, in fact the necessity, of any man engaged in business having an accurate statement of his assets and liabilities is universally recognized. It is essential that such a statement be revised from time to time and kept up to date, and the latest statement compared with previous ones in order to determine whether financial improvement is being effected, or if the reverse is true.

Such a statement is of first importance to the business man in all his dealings with his bank and with his creditors. Without such a statement a bank will not make loans, nor can a man establish a satisfactory rating for himself.

In determining the financial standing of a man by such a statement, which is regarded as the more important, his assets or his liabilities? It appears to be generally believed that a man's financial standing is revealed by his assets. But this is not so. Of course, his assets have a bearing on the subject, but it is his liabilities which more clearly indicate a man's financial standing.

Liabilities can only be lessened by a realization of assets. Assets, on the other hand, may shrink, frequently do in the process of realization. A statement of assets, therefore, usually represents something of greater value than is actually possessed, and allowance must be made for this. Liabilities, on the other hand, may be under-stated, quite innocently, too, because a liability may be of an indirect character and contingent on something which may never happen. But it may happen, and must therefore be taken into account.

The outstanding difficulty in Western Canada today is not that the average farmer's assets are not good, but that his liabilities are too great; that while he cannot realize on his assets at the present time except at enormous loss, his liabilities have accumulated and are not now acutely pressing.

One lesson to be learned from the experiences of the past few years is the importance of exercising care in incurring liabilities. There is such a thing as being cursed, rather than blessed, with too much credit. A liability once incurred, must be discharged, regardless of ability to realize on assets. The contracting of liabilities should therefore be guarded against all along the line, and every human precaution taken to protect oneself against the ultimate time of payment.

But it is not solely in the realm of business that a person should make a close study of their assets and liabilities, but more particularly their liabilities. Every man and every woman has a niche to fill in his or her community. In filling that niche they have certain assets and certain liabilities. They may have the assets of good health, or a splendid education, or wealth, or gifts of leadership, or inherited abilities. But they may also have the liability of an ungovernable temper, or the faculty of making enemies rather than friends, or a generally disagreeable disposition. And one such liability out-balances all assets when it comes to permanently establishing oneself in the esteem of neighbors and in the ability to render service in a community.

Cultivate your assets, and protect them, too. If you have an asset in a strong, healthy body and upon this are founding your worldly success, safeguard it. To lose health as an asset is to lose all, with nothing but liabilities left and which you would lack the ability to meet. If your main asset is wealth, it may disappear. But while cultivating and protecting your assets, give even closer heed to your liabilities. They will mar everything unless they are reduced and ultimately eliminated. Pay off that ungovernable temper, that caustic tongue, that mean disposition, just as rapidly as you possibly can.

Remember your liabilities! Keep close tab on them! Check them up frequently, and if you cannot find a lessening of liabilities you have good reason for alarm. Unless overcome, whether they be of the financial or other nature they will swamp you in the end.

Council of Women on Immigration

Quality, Not Quantity to be Sought in Picking Immigrants

At the concluding sessions of the Canadian Council of Women on immigration, the council met with the subcommittee of the Cabinet on immigration, and presented the result of its deliberations in the form of a number of recommendations. It expressed appreciation of the statement of Hon. Chas. Stewart, minister of immigration, to the effect that a large immigration programme was considered impossible in view of the unemployment situation and endorsed the opinion that quality rather than quantity of immigration must be the first consideration in building up Canadian national life.

The council recommended that the Government should make further efforts to familiarize intending immigrants with the actual conditions in Canada and with the rules and regulations restricting admission at the ports. It also recommended that, as far as possible, every immigrant should undergo a medical and mental examination before embarkation and that a medical adviser with psychiatric training be retained on the staff of the London office.

Only Four Passengers Killed Out of Over Fifty-one Million Carried In Year

Of more than 51 million passengers carried on Canadian railways during the year ending December 31, 1921, only four were killed and 240 injured, according to statistics contained in the annual report of the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada, tabled in the House. The total number of passengers carried during the year was 51,318,422. A total of 185,177 employees were engaged in railroad work during that period, and of this number 91 were killed and 1,344 injured.

There were a total of 1,821 accidents on railways during the year, in which 243 persons were killed and 1,938 injured, as compared with 2,093 accidents covering 254 killed and 2,330 injured during the previous 12 months.

Of the 148 persons, other than employees or passengers killed during the year 1921 in railway accidents, 64 persons, or 43 per cent. were trespassers, the report states, and of 344 others injured, 91 persons, or 36 per cent. were trespassers.

Applications to the board during the year numbered 3,404 and orders issued in the same period 1,454.

SHE FOUND RELIEF AFTER FIVE YEARS

An Ex-Service Man Tells How His Wife Found New Health

"I wish to testify," says Mr. R. A. F. Hughes, of Hamilton, Ont., "as to the efficiency of your Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the following reasons:

"When I returned home in May, 1919, after nearly five years absence on army service, my wife had changed from a healthy, robust woman, to one whose life was a burden and ordinary duties almost impossible. Through war worries, loneliness and other factors contributed through my unavoidable absence, her health had been steadily undergoing what I might describe as an undermining process, for years.

"I was fully aware from her letters that I would not find her the same woman, but, when I reached home, I was terribly shocked to find her in the condition she was in. Her healthy color had changed. She seemed bloodless and her skin was sallow. She was weak and listless, and with difficulty moved about the house. She hardly ever moved out of the house as she became so short of breath and feared she would fall during one of her dizzy spells, which she said were becoming more frequent.

"The day I arrived home I visited our doctor, who is an old friend, and, later, through his advice, consulted with another physician of this city. Everything was done that could be done, and many medicines were prescribed and faithfully taken. As these were of no avail I trusted that time alone would suffice to build up what had gradually been undone in the course of five years. After twelve months, conditions had become worse. Then I decided on change of air, gave up my position in the city and moved to the country. Even this did not do any good. I think it added to her depression.

"One day a friend visited us and as a result of their conversation my wife made up her mind to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"I had not much faith in what I did, but procured three boxes. This happened nine months ago. I was surprised to hear my wife say, after about the tenth day, 'I believe these pills are doing me good.' A week or so after that I certainly believed they were, for I saw color returning to her cheeks and the sallow, unhealthy color disappearing. The pills were certainly doing what you claim they will do, and of her own free will she continued them for about three months. At the end of this time she seemed quite a different woman. Life was worth living. The listlessness had gone and she could walk up the steep hill, which is half a mile long, leading to our house, without the slightest inconvenience. At this stage she discontinued the pills and she is just as well now as ever she was.

"Now, sir, I want to say I have every faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as I have had proof, and I believe that what this medicine did for my wife, it can do for others."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Servant of Empire

Lord Northcliffe has Accomplished Much in Few Months

During his travels Lord Northcliffe has rendered great services to the Empire. He has earned the gratitude of Australia by pressing her need for more population, he has told the blunt truth about India, he has disclosed the toilsome lives led by Britons in Malaya, and he has exposed the Palestine blunder. The French and Dutch have thanked him warmly for his tributes to their great work in the east, and he has shed much light on the obscurities of Chinese politics. A wonderful achievement in a few months! —London Sunday Pictorial.

Distance Traveled in Dancing

Dancers are Really Marathon Athletes Says Statistician

Swiss statistician estimates that the average foxtrotter travels about one mile in ten minutes, while, in the case of other dances, a dancing couple cover a mile in 20 minutes.

He found that dancers, at a ball which lasted from 10 p.m. until 5 a.m., made 56,000 steps, amounting to a distance of about 30 miles, and among them were women shod in tiny high-heeled shoes who would never walk a hundred yards in the street, preferring a motor car.

A Swiss doctor, by means of a pedometer, reckoned that he had made about 6,750,000 two-foot steps in a year.

Business is Business

A train in the Western States of American was held up by bandits, who ordered the passengers to give up all their money.

One of the passengers was a Jew from New York, and when his turn came, he reluctantly drew three hundred dollars from his pocket, and, taking six, put them in his pocket.

"What do you mean by that?" asked the bandit.

"Surely," answered the Jew, "you don't mind me taking a 2 per cent. discount on a cash transaction?"

A Successful Man

Among the notable professional men of this country who achieved great success along strictly legitimate lines was Dr. R. V. Pierce. Devoting his attention to the specialty of women's diseases, he became a recognized authority in that line.

Over fifty years ago this noted physician gave to the world a Prescription which has never been equaled for the weaknesses of women. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all thru treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening pains, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it in both tablet and fluid form.

Hon. J. M. Uhrich (Rosthern), Provincial Secretary and Minister in charge of the Bureau of Public Health.

The realignment of portfolios among the old members gives Mr. Hamilton two important departments, agriculture and municipal affairs.

Mr. Dunning, in addition to being premier and president of the council, retains his former portfolio of provincial treasurer and adds to that the department of railways, temporarily held by Mr. Martin since the retirement of Mr. Knowles.

Mr. Latta continues as minister of education and will superwise the bureau of publications and the office of King's printer. He has been in charge of the last two branches of work for some time, though the publications branch does not become a bureau until May 1, under the act passed at the last session of the House.

The important office of attorney-general held by Mr. Martin passes over to one of the new members of the Government, Col. J. A. German Tax Scheme Approved

Finance Minister Says Burden Imposed is Without Parallel

Berlin.—"No nation ever wrote taxation legislation of such magnitude on its statute books as does Germany now that the Reichstag has given its final approval to the Government tax scheme," said the finance minister, Andreas Hermes, to the deputies, in thanking them after the conclusion of the third reading of the measures which approves a compulsory loan, of one billion gold marks and the adoption of which automatically makes effective fourteen major tax laws.

Herr Hermes declared the tax burden imposed on the German people was without parallel in history and would demonstrate to the world that the German people were prepared to assume the financial obligations growing out of the last war.

The taxation laws, which received the Reichstag's final approval have been in the making for more than a year, yet hardly anyone in Germany possesses even an approximate idea of the extent to which the individual is affected directly or indirectly by the various taxes which the Government's experts have devised in an attempt to discover previously unlooked for sources for revenue.

Pay Last Tributes To Sir John C. Eaton

Public Demonstration of Mourning is Witnessed in Toronto

Toronto.—All classes of the community from shopgirls and laborers to legislators and members of the judiciary, gathered to pay last tributes of respect to the memory of Sir John C. Eaton, whose body was laid to rest in the family mausoleum, a stately structure of Scottish grey granite in Mount Pleasant Cemetery here. Representatives of the Federal Parliament, the Ontario Legislature, Toronto city council, the military, the judiciary, the universities, the hospitals and practically all religious denominations attended the funeral service in the Timothy Eaton Memorial Methodist Church, and followed the remains to the cemetery.

Toronto perhaps never before witnessed such a public demonstration of mourning for the passing of one of her citizens. It is estimated that 50,000 people at one time were banked in the vicinity of the church, waiting for an opportunity to enter. The procession was uninterrupted for four and a half hours when the doors closed to prepare for the funeral service. Four prominent ministers, representing different denominations, had a part in the service, including the pastor of the Eaton Memorial Church, Rev. C. A. Williams.

Sir John Craig Eaton was regarded as Toronto's biggest multi-millionaire. The interests of which he was the head has ramifications in many parts of Canada, Great Britain and foreign countries. He was prominent in philanthropic and patriotic work. He was born in Toronto in 1876, and succeeded his father as head of the company in 1907.

Lady Eaton and four young sons and one daugnter survive; also Mrs. Timothy Eaton, mother of Sir John; one brother and two sisters.

Government May Appoint New Commission For Federal Grain Inquiry

Ottawa.—It is not the intention of the Government to continue the Federal Grain Enquiry Commission as at present constituted. This information was given to the House by Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of trade and commerce, in answer to a question asked by Hon. H. H. Stevens.

That there might be a new commission appointed, however, was indicated when Mr. Robb stated that there was an appropriation in the estimates for 1922-23 to defray the expenses of such a commission.

Mr. Stevens asked if the Government "has instructed the Board of Grain Commisioners to investigate certain violations of the Canada Grain Act, alleged to have been committed by certain terminal elevator companies and sworn to before the Royal Grain Inquiry Commission."

The minister replied that if specific charges of irregularity were made the Government would investigate them. The late Royal Grain Inquiry Commission had made no report to the Government.

Milk Famine in London

Believe Supply Held Up On Account Of Price

London.—There is a milk famine in London and it is believed to be the result of the recent reduction in price from ninepence to fivepence per quart. It is thought the farmers are holding up the supply, as they complain of the large margin between the price they receive for milk and the retail prices. Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen, minister of agriculture, questioned in the House of Commons on the matter, admitted that the situation was serious but said he was unable to fix or control milk prices.

DO YOU SMOKE TOO MUCH?

There are many men on whose heart and nervous system tobacco produces the most serious results. It causes palpitation, pain in the heart, irregularity of its beat, makes the hands tremble, sets the nerves on edge, causes shortness of breath and loss of sleep.

To counteract this demoralizing influence on the heart and nerves there is no remedy to equal

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They make the heart beat strong and steady, restore tone and vigor to the nerves, and remove all the evil results caused by the tobacco.

Mr. Frank Lutes, 71 Terrace Hill St., Brantford, Ont., writes:—"I had been troubled with palpitation of the heart for a number of years, and by spells it would bother me a lot. The doctor told me it would stop on me sometime if I did not cut out tobacco. When I would get a spell my heart would pound, and I would break out in a perspiration, and get so weak I would have to sit right down and quit my work; also in the night I would wake up and my heart would be going, I should say, about 120 beats a minute. About three years ago I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, took them, and found that they did the job. I am feeling fine and have gained over 20 pounds in weight."

Price, 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Vice-principal Pearce presided and a varied programme was given, including a short play, "Waiting at the Train," in which fourteen scholars took part. The intake was $19.40, and the scholars fully appreciate the generous patronage of the parents and the good work done by Miss K. Moore in supervising the putting on of the entertainment.

Robert Stark, who has been sojourning in Italy and England for almost the past five months, returned to Creston on Saturday. It will be recalled that Mr. Stark had charge of the Valley exhibit of fruit at she Imperial Apple Show in London last October, at which Messrs. He is again this season serving the Curlew ice cream, using the Vortex individual service both for the fountain and ice cream serving. The added space will greatly facilitate the service in the tea and lunch room, and Mr. Norris states that he is arranging to extend his trade in this direction by serving light suppers and similar refreshments. A piano is also being placed in the Norris parlors which will aisure patrons both music and a varied line of refreshments.
