THE CRESTON REVIEW

VOL. XIV. CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, MARCH 24, 1922 No. 7

Sirdar

Mrs. Geo. Monahan of Cranbrook was a week-end visitor with her father C. M. Goodman, and sisters, here.

There was a splendid turnout at the ladies' sewing circle on Saturday, with Mrs. Jack Cameron as tea hostess. Owing to quite a large number of orders ahead the circle will be kept busy for some time yet.

Vice-president Coleman and assistant general superintendent Cotterill, were barged down from Nelson on Sunday, arriving about 10 p.m., and left immediately for Cranbrook by special train. Supt. Flett and master mechanic McFayden were here to meet them on arrival, and returned to Cranbrook with them.

Owing to the immense accumulation of water along the track, just east of Creston station, Supt. Flett and Mr. McFayden went from here to Creston by motor car Sunday to make sure no damage was being done. To avoid possibility of damage he ordered bridge foreman McCabe and crew out to look after it, and the McCabe crew arrived back here on Wednesday.

There is a large amount of sickness in town at present, and Dr. Henderson of Creston has already made several trips to Sirdar. Among those invalided are Mr. and Mrs. T. Rogers, both of whom are in bed, with Mrs. Hugh Taylor taking care of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennes and section foreman Joe Tolerico have also been laid up, but all are almost recovered now. Harry Hughes has also been forced to knock off for a week owing to illness.

The government dredge is now tied up at the Landing for some repairs, and the yard engine is now back on its former day schedule. The night operator, Mr. Lawrie, has been taken off, and will, we hear, return to Cranbrook in a day or two. Mrs. Lawrie is here at present with him.

Roy Proctor, who has been working in yard as switchman has returned to Cranbrook, and will resume his road run again.

Jack Cameron and Ben Whitesides were between-trains visitors at Creston on Tuesday. Messrs. Parker and Dobdy were also looking in on friends at the metropolis this week.

Mayor Daly had a real St. Patrick's Day jubilation—combining a celebration of Dr. King's victory in East Kootenay with a fitting observance of the natal day of Ireland's patron saint. Almost any day last week his laugh could be heard half way to Boswell.

Mrs. Jones of Kuskanook was a Saturday visitor here, for the sewing circle meeting.

The attention of the government road authorities is called to the bad shape the highway is in this neighborhood. The rain and snow thaw has brought down many boulders and rocks and also washed the road away badly in places.

Dominic Lobardo is in charge of the Rogers store during the illness of the proprietor.

Mr. Wilson, quarryman, is arranging to send several larger pieces of granite this week to Creston for the use in the erection of the soldiers' memorial at that point.

Arthur Dibbin, who has been a visitor at Alice Siding for the past week, has returned to Sirdar.

Messrs. North, Pascuzzo and Jim Manerino are busy this week at pruning operations.

Rev. H. Varley announces that he will take a mid week service here in the schoolhouse, on Wednesday evening next, March 29th.

Wednesday Half-Holiday

Creston, March 21, 1922.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to close our stores at 1 p.m., Town Time, on each and every Wednesday COMMENCING APRIL 5th and CONTINUING UNTIL NOVEMBER 1st, 1922.

Signed:

S. A. Speers.

Wyndel

M. Wigen, who has been on a trip to Vancouver, Seattle and Spokane, arrived home on Tuesday. He reports having had a good time, and also observed that times are much duller across the line than they are on this side.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt. Hagen were host and hostess at a most enjoyable party in the Clubhouse on Saturday evening last, about seventy guests being present, and all report having had a swell time. Dancing was mostly the order of the evening, with some card playing, and a very dainty supper was served about midnight, after which dancing was resumed until 3 a.m., and everyone went home feeling happy.

T. Dunsuth of Jaffray, who has recently bought a block of land from H. A. Bathie, sr., arrived here on Monday, and has three men busy slashing and building, as he wants to move his family here as soon as possible.

Gus Rudd is busy disposing of raffle tickets on a real fine gramaphone and 100 records—along with some folders—and if you want a chance a ticket is only half a dollar.

The annual concert of the Athletic Club is now in course of preparation, and notice as to date will soon be given. This concert will be too good to miss, so keep your eyes peeled for the date, and don't make any other engagement for that evening.

The Co-Operative store has a crew of men working, enlarging the building, so as to be in shape to handle a bigger share of the summer business this year.

Mrs. W. J. Cooper left on Thursday for Nelson, where she has undergone an operation. Latest reports are to the effect that it was entirely successful, and that Mrs. Cooper is regaining her former health rapidly.

Vic. Johnson was a business visitor at Yahk on Monday, returning the following day.

F. C. Thrift, who has been on the J. B. Winlaw payroll here all winter, left on Thursday last for Jaffray. March 15.

Drainage Decision in 1922

R. B. Staples was a business visitor in Nelson a couple of days the latter part of the week. While in the city he had a talk with Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, who assured that Kootenay Flats drainage investigational work was receiving every possible attention, and that a definite pronouncement as to the feasibility of the scheme would probably be forthcoming before the end of the year.

Open Branch at Grand Forks

Staples Fruit Company, Ltd., have just announced that they are opening a permanent branch at Grand Forks this season, and have already signed contracts that amount to at least eighty cars of fruit. Of this amount 30 cars will be plums, prunes and pears which will provide them with a variety of tonnage which the Valley has not been able to supply them in the desired quantity the past two years, and will thus greatly expedite the marketing of the crops of the company's Valley customers.

Rod and Gun Club Has Busy Session

The Rod and Gun Club had an interesting and profitable session at the March meeting on Thursday night, Milt Beam occupying the chair in the absence of President Mallandaine.

There was an animated discussion on the fishery regulations and several recommendations were adopted and will be forwarded the local inspector, who in turn will see that they come before the Dominion fishery officials. The secretary will also enquire of the inspector as to the correctness of a recent report that a federal order-in-council had been passed establishing a close season on trout in all B.C. waters from the middle of February until the 16th of May. In view of the enormous appetites Hume possess for fish the club will also call attention of the game conservation board to the desirability of permitting the kill of loons twelve months in the year.

The members threshed out the question of a close season on bass but it was finally decided to make no recommendation to the department. Now that this species of fish is being taken in the Kootenay River and in view of its well known destructive habits many of the members were of the opinion there should be no basket or time limit on the catch of bass in local waters.

To produce better duck and goose shooting the club contemplates planting wild rice and wild celery in some of the sloughs on Kootenay Flats that are adapted for its growth, and the secretary has written away for quotations on these seeds in quantities. The club will also subscribe for the magazine, Rod and Gun in Canada, for the use of the members. It will be kept at Mawson Bros. store and each member will be entitled to have it for perusual two days a month.

In the absence of Secretary Crompton, who is leaving in a few days on an extended trip to the Old Country, G. Hendy was chosen to act as secretary during Mr. Crompton's absence.

Erickson

R. J. Long was a week end visitor at Nelson, attending the big Saturday night Conservative rally in that city.

Eric Craigie got back from Cranbrook on Sunday, where he had been for a couple of days for eye treatment.

Good roads foreman Davis has a small crew of men at work assembling rock so that when crushing operations commence there will be no need to stop for material. We understand the hard surface road will be built as far as the C.P.R. crossing beyond the school this season.

W. Percival of Yahk was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Dodds, spending the St. Patrick's vacation in Creston Valley.

J. M. Craigie is still aware of the fact that he is on excellent terms with all his neighbors, which fact was evidenced in a surprise party crowd that gathered at the Craigie home on the 14th to see that his birthday was appropriately celebrated. The spacious packing shed was utilized for both cards and dancing, and these along with a sumptuous midnight lunch helped provide a most enjoyable night for all the guests.

Following is the report of Erickson school for February. Division I. Perfect attendance—Warren Harrison, Edith Palfreyman, Winnifred Edward Clark, Florence Craigie, Stewart Penson. Rank: Senior Fourth—Edith Palfreyman, Kathleen Littlejohn. Junior Fourth—Effie Littlejohn, Jean Craigie. Junior Third—Jean Wood, Annie Botterill.

Division II.: Perfect attendance—Lloyd Cartwright, Ruth Cartwright, Walter Fields, Margaret Fraser, Jas. Handley, Denis Harrison, Mary Jensen, Ruby Jensen, Ruby Martin, Perley Putnam, Marcella Sanford, Sidney Scott. Proficiency: B Class—Muriel Thurston. A Class—Mary Jansen Frances Handley and Ruby Jansen equal, Sydney Scott. Junior First Reader—Lula Foreman, Marion Foreman, Denis Harrison. Senior First Reader—Stanley Sanford, Douglas Putnam. Second Reader—Margaret Fraser, James Handley, Madeleine Putnam.

Lister

Col. Lister, M.P.P., was at Nelson on Saturday, delivering an address at the Conservative rally in that city that evening.

Jos. W. Bell is busy with the erection of a barn on the Bird ranch at present.

A. R. Webb got away on Sunday for Penticton, and will probably spend the next few months working at Okanagan points.

The Yerbury brothers, Harry Brown and Jas. Jory were at Canyon on Friday night, at the St. Patrick's night concert under United Farmer auspices.

Mr. and Mrs. VanAckeran of Canyon were combining business and pleasure on a trip here last week. The former was making an inspection of Lister beekeeping operations during his stay.

Sam Lazachuk, who gave his foot a bad gash with an axe a few days ago, will be off work until at least the end of the month.

O. H. Phillips has just returned from a business visit to Cranbrook and Kimberley.

Harry Vernon, who is working at the Continental mine at Klockmann, Idaho, spent a few days on his ranch here last week.

Ed. Armstrong has just returned after almost six months' absence, and is making ready for spring work on his place here.

The shareholders of the Lister Trading & Supply Co., Ltd., had their annual meeting in the schoolhouse on Monday night. Jos. W. Bell presided, in the absence of E. Langston, sr., who is undergoing an operation at Cranbrook. The secretary-treasurer read a financial report that indicates a decided improvement in business under the new management. The store is on a sound financial footing, with an encouraging balance on credit side of ledger. The directors have declared a dividend of 2 per cent. on paid up capital for the year ended December 31, 1921. Directors were elected as follows: E. Langston, Jos. W. Bell, T. A. Milner, J. Duncan and H. P. Vernon. A. B. Bernard remains as manager, and John Bird will continue the work of secretary-treasurer.

St. Patrick's Whist

The ladies of Holy Cross Church had a capacity crowd at their St. Patrick's night whist and dance in the Parish Hall, at which the winners at cards were Mrs. W. H. Crawford and O. Harris, with Miss Arbow and Mr. Fair hall capturing the second prizes. A sumptuous lunch followed the whist, and then the floor was cleared for dancing, the music being furnished by Mrs. Foreman and Al. Lidgate. After paying all expenses the ladies will clear almost $40 on the at home.

Kitchener

Mr. Crowe of the Kitchener Timber Co., Ltd., who has spent the winter at eastern points, has returned to Kitchener.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb, who have resided here for the past two months, left on Monday for Creston, where they will make their home in future.

Mr. Strudwick, who has been visiting Creston friends for several weeks, returned on Tuesday.

Mr. Woodman has just returned to his home in Cranbrook.

The Sash & Door Company sawmill shut down on Saturday, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Dunn returned to their home at Creston on Monday.

Miss A. Desummer, who has been the guest of Mr. Erickson for a few days, left for her home in Cranbrook on Saturday.

Alice Siding

Miss Leona Pendry of West Creston was a week-end visitor with Mrs. Churchill.

BIRTH—On March 15th, to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie McMurtrie, a son.

W. A. Mason of Wyndel is here at present, in charge of pruning operations at the Constable ranch.

R. Stewart took advantage of the milder spell of weather last week to complete the concrete cribbing in the new well on the Victor Carr ranch.

Alice Siding was deserted on Friday night. The St. Patrick's night whist as well as the dance in the Grady Hall coaxing most of our residents to Creston.

Local ranchers were out in full force for the agricultural meetings in town on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Trevelyan were at home to a party of some twenty friends on Tuesday night, entertaining them in decidedly interesting fashion at dancing and games, with a substantial lunch at midnight. All present had a real fine time.

Alice Siding Social Club held its fortnightly meeting in Mr. Wood's packing shed on Tuesday evening of last week. In between the dances—for which excellent music was furnished by T. Trevelyan and Mr. West, jr. songs were given by Messrs. Beazer and S. Vaness; recitations were provided by Mrs. Payne and Stanley Paul and readings by R. Stewart and T. Anderson. The vocal hit of the evening was "Mr. Dooley," as rendered by Mr. Beazer.

Kaslo Presbyterian Ladies' Aid gathered in $870 last year, and spent about $750 improving the church, and still the job is not complete.

"I Serve"

The words employed as the title to this article constitute the motto of the Prince of Wales, and giving consideration to the splendid services His Royal Highness has rendered to the Empire during the years since he reached his majority, it is probably not far wide of the mark to say that no former Prince of Wales strove quite so diligently to live up to the motto of his house. Edward, Prince of Wales, served with the British armies in France throughout the war, not in some safe billet, but well within the battle zone. Since the war he has hardly had a moment's rest from the really exacting work of discharging the duties of a task which has been aptly described as "the Empire's ambassador to all the world." He has unquestionably rendered invaluable service in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India and elsewhere.

But in the work of empire, and in endeavor to create the best possible conditions for all people following the upheaval of the Great War, the Prince of Wales has no monopoly of the duty and responsibility of rendering service. Each and every citizen however humble their station in life has a like duty and responsibility and their own particular field in which to serve. And it is only to the extent that each individual citizen discharges that duty and gives service for the benefit of others that the desired betterment and progress in human relationships and conditions can be achieved.

Some men and women enjoy greater opportunities for service to their fellow citizens and to the extent that this is so their responsibilities are greater. Particularly is it necessary in these days that men and women entrusted with the administration of public affairs should be actuated with a keen desire to serve, because the consciousness of having served one's country and fellow men will, in all likelihood, be the only reward received.

Addressing the seven hundred or more Saskatchewan municipal reeves, councillors and secretaries-treasurer assembled in annual convention a few days ago, Hon. C. A. Dunning, Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Municipal Affairs, after reviewing the difficult financial conditions now confronting Western Canada, and sounding a note of optimism and encouragement, concluded his remarks by saying:

"Officials of municipalities have a duty to their people to perform, a service. These are difficult days for men who are in public service whether it is municipal, Provincial, Dominion or Empire-wide. There is a psychology largely resultant from the hysteria of the past few years which is passing over the whole world which will ultimately produce good results. There is only one thing for us to do, only one thing for those of us who are public servants to do. Keep on serving. That is the way the world will be saved. It will not be saved by theorists and shouters but by the men who stick to their job, do their duty and serve with the very best that is in them."

The absolute truth of this declaration cannot be successfully challenged. Any person in public life today who is merely striving to achieve some personal ambition, or to gain some selfish end, or is actuated by any motive other than a sincere desire to render service, will prove a failure. No matter how earnestly he may strive for the public good, and even though he give all his energies and the best that is in him, to the point of great worldly sacrifices and the ruin of his health, the strong probabilities are that he will receive but scant thanks from the people who placed him in office and whom he has diligently sought to serve. The public, as a rule, are ungrateful and the man of the hour today is rejected with scorn tomorrow.

The daily press teems with instances in support of this statement. Hardly a day passes but records the overthrow of some Government or statesman who has rendered long and valued service to his fellow citizens, while great strikes and industrial upheavels the world over indicate that countless masses of people are anything but ready to yield their quota of unselfish service to the welfare of all; rather selfishness seems rampant, each individual or group striving to attain their own ends regardless of the effect on other individuals and group or the nation as a whole.

The true and loyal citizen, and the one who in the final analysis will enjoy the satisfaction of the commendation of his own conscience—and that, after all, is the most lasting and supreme satisfaction—is the one who, regardless of temporary success, or the plaudits or sneers of others, sticks to his job and keeps on serving his country and fellowmen. Only so was the world saved through the great crises of the past; only so can it be saved now.

TRYING TO RUB OUT YOUR RHEUMATISM

It Can't Be Done—The Trouble Must be Treated Through the Blood

The pain of rheumatism is something you cannot rub out. Every sufferer from rheumatism has been advised to rub this liniment or that on the affected part, but after all the rubbing the pain remained. Rubbing did not cure it and can't cure it.

Thin blood and rheumatism come together and if they are properly treated they will go together. Rheumatism is in the blod—in poor watery blood. Sometimes cold, damp weather starts the aches and pains, but it is the condition of the blood that is at fault, and only by correcting this, and making the blood rich and red can the rheumatic poison be driven out. This is what is done in the treatment of rheumatism with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Acute and muscular rheumatism show improvement as the thin blood is built up, and when the blood has been restored to its normal condition the trouble vanishes. This is proved by the experience of Mr. John A. O'Neill, Port Hood, N.S., who says: "I was a periodical sufferer from rheumatism for years. I tried many remedies, but with indifferent results, and I had about concluded that the trouble was too firmly rooted in my system to be got rid of. While I was suffering from an attack a friend advised me to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. I first got three boxes' and by the time I had taken them I felt much better. Then I got three more boxes, and when I had taken them not only was the rheumatism gone, but I was feeling better in every way. If you suffer from rheumatism I strongly advise a trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Moving a Mountain

Task Undertaken by Engineers in Rio de Janiero

Moving a mountain is the huge task undertaken by engineers in Rio de Janeiro, where the Morro do Castello—consisting of an estimated 7,000,000 cu. yd. of earth and rock—is being obliterated, the completion of which is expected to make the southern metropolis much more breezy, cool and healthful, besides adding some 66 blocks to the heart of the city. Various methods have been tried in the transporting of this mass from its present location and depositing it in the bay, among these being pick and shovel, mule cart, steam shovel, and "dinky or dummy train," all of which are described with full illustrations in the April Popular Mechanics Magazine. The presence of an old convent on the summit of the mountain has given rise to the rumor that gold is hidden near it, and causes added zest among the credulous workmen.

Moose Jaw Member Deals With Problems Of Grain Marketing

Ottawa—Debate on the address saw participants from Ontario and the West. R. M. Johnson, Progressive, Moose Jaw, thanked the Government for the reforms promised in the speech from the throne even though, as set forth, they left a good deal to the imagination. He expressed the hope that the business barometer would continue to rise and that the improvement would be permanent. Business conditions in the West had been adversely affected by the tariff restriction in the United States. This had been very serious for the livestock industry, though not so much for grain growing. The people of Canada were not responsible for the imposition of these restrictions, but he wondered whether those restrictions would have been imposed if the Canadian people had accepted the measure of freedom of trade which was offered to them in 1911. (Liberal applause).

Dealing with the problem of grain growing, grading and marketing, Mr. Johnson said that the greatest blow that had ever been given to Western agriculture was the greater production campaign of 1918. The farmers had desired to respond to that appeal and to raise as large crops as possible. But nature could not be driven and when an effort was made to do so, the result would not be what was expected, while future returns would be handicapped. The present system for the physical handling of grain could not be, he thought, bettered, but he was speaking, he believed, for all in his section of the House when he said all opposition to the establishment of a wheat board had not been swept away. He did not mean that the wheat board system was perfect. He was disposed to agree that a voluntary co-operative system of control would be better. But the farmers were still living in abnormal times and they could not afford to wait for normal times for that ideal. He believed that 90 per cent. of the product of last season would be sold at less than the actual cost of raising it. He approved of the proposal to have the suggestion for the establishment of a wheat board investigated by the agricultural committee, but the country could not afford to wait for that investigation.

Pain In Her Arm Is Now All Gone

MRS. STANTON RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Woodstock Lady whose Rheumatism has Vanished Tells why She Believes in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Woodstock, Ont.—(Special)—Mrs. John Stanton who lives on R. R. I. near here is never tired of telling of the benefit she received from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"About four years ago I had rheumatism in my left arm," Mrs. Stanton states. "It was so painful I couldn't dress myself."

"I read about Dodds Kidney Pills and what they had done for others, so I sent and got six boxes. They did me good right from the start. The pain is now gone, but I keep Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house as I have an occasional touch of lumbago and they help it a lot. They help my husband's head too."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best known and most reliable of Kidney remedies. They heal the kidneys. Sound kidneys strain all the uric acid, the cause of rheumatism, out of the blood.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make healthy kidneys.

Daylight Saving in Britain

London.—"Summer time" in Great Britain will begin March 26 and end October 8. An order to this effect has been issued to secure uniformity in time with France and Belgium.

Backache

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlook the derangement of the kidneys until serious developments have made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.

This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven so effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.

Mrs. Albert Brunet, R.R. No. 1, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months, having been afflicted with kidney trouble. I used two doctors' medicine previous to this, without any good results. A friend told me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and the second box made me feel a good deal better. I have now used about six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."

Arrest of Gandhi Causes Grave Concern

Durban Natives Believe He Helped Preserve Peace in India

Durban.—The Indian Congress of Natal in protest against arrest in India of Gandhi, the civil disobedience leader, attempted to precipitate a general strike in Natal industries. The attempt, however, has proved only partially successful. The East Indians here in Durban adopted a resolution recording their grave concern over the arrest of Gandhi, and expressing belief he had been largely instrumental in preserving peace in India.

Zanzibar, Island of Zanzibar.—The East Indians here have declared a one-day hartal in protest against the arrest of Gandhi, no disturbances marked the observance of the hartal.

Sores Flee Before It.—There are many who have been afflicted with sores and have driven them away with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. All similarly troubled should lose no time in applying this splendid remedy, as there is nothing like it to be had. It is cheap, but its power is in no way expressed by its low price.

No Medals for Home Services

London.—An announcement in the House of Commons that the army council had decided not to grant medals for home services during the war, was received with cheers. The Secretary of State for War, Right Hon. Sir L. Worthington-Evans, was reminded that special constables had received medals, and he replied that they were not army medals.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N.S., Harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N.S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows:—"I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care.

I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes, and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS as the best remedy to tone up the entire nervous system, and strengthen the weakened organs. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the original heart and nerve food having been on the market for the past 27 years. Price, 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Manitoba Election Predicted in June

Polling Probably Deferred Until Seeding is Finished

Winnipeg.—A provincial election in June is the prediction of political observers, following the defeat of the Norris Government in the Legislature. The election could not be brought on in less than seven weeks, it was stated by Frederick Axford, clerk of the executive council, and it is held to be probable that the active campaign and the polling will be deferred until seeding is completed in the province.

Asthma No Longer Dreaded. The dread of renewed attacks from asthma has no hold upon those who have learned to rely upon Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. So safe do they feel that complete reliance is placed on this true specific with the certainty that it will always do all that its makers claim. If you have not yet learned how safe you are with this preparation at hand get it to-day and know for yourself.

China's Trade Outlook Considered Serious

Business Conditions Paralyzed By Strike of Seamen

Victoria, B.C.—Trade depression is noticeable throughout the Orient, and in China, the outlook is serious, according to F. W. Peters, general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, British Columbia division, who reached here from Hong Kong by the liner Empress of Russia.

Business conditions in China were virtually paralyzed by the strike of Chinese seamen at Hong Kong, said Mr. Peters. The Chinese Guilds have control, and now include all branches of Chinese labor. In Japan, Mr. Peters found competition keen. Much shipping, however, is tied up, owing to lack of cargoes.

Proposed Plans To Increase British Army By Further Enlistments

London.—Risks involved in the reduction of the army, in the opinion of the war secretary, Right Hon. Sir Laming Worthington Evans, were outlined by him in introducng the army estimates in the House of Commons. He said the proposed personnel of 152,000, excluding the troops on the establishment in India, showed a reduction of 20,000, compared with the number in 1914, when there was behind the army a reserve of 146,000 men, and 55,000 militia. The reserve today, he said, was 65,000 and no militia, but there was a large potential reserve of war veterans.

Sir Laming said he proposed to strengthen the reserve by enlisting key men and make a fresh start with the militia at a cost of £1,000,000. Dealing with the risks incurred in consequence of the reduction, he said the army might be called on to reinforce the forces of the crown in India. In certain eventualities, reinforcements greatly exceeding the proposed future estimates might be requested. Sir Laming hoped that a sound policy and wise administration would justify running whatever risks were involved in reducing the army.

Resents Interference Of Viceroy

London.—A dispatch to the Central News from Belfast says Sir James Craig, replying to a question in the Ulster Parliament asserted that the Londonderry prisoners had been reprieved over the heads of the Ulster Government, and that if there were further interference with the courts by the viceroy, he would resign.

Belfast.—The Belfast Telegraph declared that the police murders were committed to deter the Royal Irish Constabulary from joining the Ulster forces. The newspaper charged that the campaign was specially directed against Roman Catholic members many of whom already had intimated their intention of serving the Northern Parliament.

The Telegraph reports a document found by Sergeant Clark, contained the names of 12 policemen who had been marked for assassination and all of whom had expressed their willingness to re-enlist.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Helping Sick Women to Health

The two letters which follow clearly show the broad field covered by this well-known medicine. Women from every section—you know some in your own neighborhood—praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a wonderful medicine for troubles women often have.

From Prince Edward's Island—East

Miscouche, P. E. I.—"I had female troubles for two years. I always had a headache and a pain in my side and sometimes I felt so weak that I could not do my work. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken six bottles of it. It has done me a lot of good and I am still taking it. I will tell my friends of your medicine and hope they will try it."—MRS. CAMILLE DES ROCHE, Miscouche, P. E. I.

From Saskatchewan—West

Wadena, Sackatchewan.—"A friend in Rose Valley recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and it has been a great help to me. I recommend it and you can use this letter as a testimonial if you wish."—MRS. PETER NORDIN, Wadena, Saskatchewan.

DISTEMPER AMONG HORSES successfully treated with

Spohn's Distemper Compound

During the winter and spring months horses are again more liable to contract contagious disease—DISTEMPER, INFLUENZA, COUGHS and COLDS. As a preventive against these, an occasional dose of "SPOHN'S" is marvelously effective. As a remedy for cases already suffering "SPOHN'S" is equally effective. Give it as a preventive. Don't wait. Domestic Pack

Creston Valley is not the only spot where recent increases in assessments have been responsible for districts giving serious heed to undertaking home rule. Here is something that sounds like business from Kelowna: "The various districts surrounding Kelowna have been driven to consider the feasibility of establishing home rule, owing to the tremendous increase recently in provincial taxes, due chiefly to wholesale raising of assessment values. So little of the money comes back in the form of road construction and maintenance that many farmers have come to believe that better value would be obtained by spending their own money and by fixing the rate of taxation themselves. Glenmore and Rutland seem to be pretty well committed to taking the plunge, but some of the other districts are shivering on the brink of the chill waters of self-government and still hanker after the suppositious advantages of administration direct from Victoria."

That the automobile may now rightly be considered a necessity is indicated in the figures reliable authorities have given out as to the output of cars during 1922. Although this year is undoubtedly one of marked economy in practically every direction, yet it is estimated that in the United States no less than 1,800,000 new cars will be turned out before next Christmas—of which number possibly 1,100,000 will be Fords. The increasing popularity of the lower-priced auto is indicated in the returns of sales in the past four years. In 1919 the output of Fords was 42 per cent. of the year's total manufacture. In 1920 it grew to 47 per cent., while in 1921 the returns place it as attaining a showing of 60 per cent. In 1921 the output of Fords was almost equal to that of 1920, while the output of other makes was hardly more than half as large as the previous year. In compiling these figures it may be of interest to note that 160 makes of cars are accounted for.

A Tidy Cemetery Board's Endeavor

The March meeting of Creston Board of Trade, on Tuesday night, was largely attended. President Hayes occupied the chair, and considerable arrears of business was cleaned up, and several matters of community interest were introduced.

Secretary Garland, who is the board's representative on the enlarged Ratepayer's Association executive, reported on the proceedings of the association so far, chief interest centering in his announcement that the Arrow Creek irrigation project was now being canvassed to take care of the area from Crawford's hill and including the whole Erickson district. Block 525, which comprises the Creston townsite, is not included, and attention was called to the fact that if the irrigation water mains as now planned are installed and no provision made for taking care of increased distribution, should the town ever incorporate and wish to increase its water supply Arrow Creek would not be available except at the expense of putting in a separate main pipe. This feature of the irrigation undertaking is submitted for the serious consideration of those who favor municipilization. It should be more economical to municipilize now and get in on Arrow Creek water than to delay matters and later on have to put in a separate system.

The board's standing committees for 1922 were struck as follows:

Finance—Geo. Johnson, E. C. Gibbs, A. B. Norris.

Transportation and Highways—C. W. Allan, C. O. Rodgers, Col. Fred Lister, M.P.P.

Agriculture and Irrigation—Jas. Adlard, W. B. Embree, A. R. Swanson.

Reclamation—Guy Constable, R. S. Bevan, Major Mallandaine.

Publicity—C. G. Bennett, C. F. Hayes, R. B. Staples.

Legislative and Municipal—C. B. Garland, S. A. Speers, W. H. Crawford.

Bonner's Ferry Commercial Club is still pressing for an authorative statemedt that a connecting link for the U.S. north and south road will be provided from Creston to Porthill, and the transportation committee will endeavor to have an interview with Premier Oliver or the new minister of public works, both of whom are expected to be at Nelson and possibly Cranbrook within the next week.

All the members concurred in the suggestion that whole hearted co-operation should be given clean up day this year in connection with the Creston cemetery, and Messrs. Bennett, Constable and Hayes were named a committee to investigate the burying ground and interview the cemetery committee with a view to making a start this year at having the burying ground made a beauty spot, for which its location ideally adapts it.

A. H. Bleumenauer, manager of Beattie-Oatway, Ltd., was elected to membership, and during the month the members now enrolled will each make a canvass to at least double the board membership within the next thirty days.

Synopsis of Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres before receiving Crown Grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption; if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

PRE-EMPTORS' FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from for one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enlistment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LANDS.

Provision made for issuance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfilment of conditions of purchase, interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING.

Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged; priority for established owners. Stock-owners may form Associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits for settlers, campers or travellers, up to ten head.

Canyon City

"Shorty" Adams, who has been working at Camp 3 all winter, is home again, and is getting things in shape to slash, burn and generally clear up the balance of his ten-acre ranch.

At the rate folks with families are coming into Canyon City district at present it will not be surprising if a third room will have to be added to the school. The two rooms now are almost filled to capacity, the attendance totalling 61 pupils.

W. Lasher, who is making headquarters at Glenlilly at present, has just purchased 40 acres of Canyon area land from the Land Settlement Board. His tract is in the neighborhood at the Sam Scott place.

E. Nuguier of Macleod, who lately purchased the Jap place, has been joined by his wife and four children, and are occupying a temporary house on the place. Amongst his effects are about eight horses and three or four head of cattle.

In connection with the St. Patrick's concert a good word is due the people of Lister who, in order to attend and help with the programme were forced to walk to Canyon, the roads being in poor shape. They got transportation home behind the Huygens & VanAckeran team—but it was 7 a.m. before Phonse got back from the trip, so strenuous was the travelling.

Pleasure and profit were combined in the St. Patrick's concert and dance in the schoolhouse on Friday night under the direction of the U.F. social committee, the affair netting the piano fund almost $25. Ex-president Bevan of Creston board of trade presided in oldtime Irish style throughout and the programme submitted was not only carefully selected but was equally well rendered by all those taking part.

Jas. Jory of Lister contributed two solos, "Eileen Alannah" and "Off to Philadelphia." Mr. Bateman favored with "Mother McCree" and "Carry Me Back to Old Viginnia," being nicely supported by the chorus in the latter number. Mrs. Knott was heard to good advantage in "Land of Hope and Glory," and H. Young was well received in "Father O'Flynn." Mr. Kolthammer had a real Irish favorite in "Come Back to Erin," while a solo number by Jeff Knott closed the programme. There were but two recitations, Mrs. G. Davie and H. Young being responsible for the literary numbers, which were a welcome change from many musical items. The school children furnished two choruses, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" and "Mickey." There were four individual instrumental contributions, Mrs. Pochin favoring with a piano solo; and T. Mawson and Harry Brown of Lister in violin selections, while Misses Evelyn and Louise Bevan of Creston in their double violin number were tendered a hearty reception. The Yerbury brothers and Brown orchestra of Lister were roundly applauded in their Hawaiian guitars and violin, and equally popular was the celestophone by Mrs. Davie and T. Mawson.

After the concert adjournment was taken to the new schoolhouse where the dance was started and the ladies got busy on the preparation of supper, which was served in the old school midnight. For the dance there was excellent music in abundance, Mrs. Davie and Mr. Lasher, pianists; Yerbury brothers of Lister, guitars, and T. Mawson and Harry Brown of Lister, violins. Despite the bad travelling the attendance was very large, and certainly the affair throughout has not been excelled in the history of Canyon City.

1500 Club

Creston District Fifteen Hundred Club organization was completed on Thursday night last when at a largely attended meeting of those interested, in Speers' Hall, permanent officers were elected as follows: President E. C. Gibbs; Secretary and general manager, C. B. Garland; Directors Jas. Cook, R. B. Nelson, H. S. McCreath. Votes of thanks were tendered Messrs. Gibbs and Nelson for the splendid services rendered by them as president and secretary pro tem while all the preliminaries to organization were being put through. The club is an exceptionally attractive proposition; already there has been a demand for almost 200 applications for membership.

Mc-Larty-James Wedding

The paragraph below, from the Vancouver Province of March 16th, will be read with interest here, the bride favorably known in Creston, where she has from time to time been a guest of Mrs. Stocks:

A pretty wedding was solemnized at 5 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon in the First Christian Church, Vancouver, when Miss Olive McLarty, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McLarty, Fort George became the bride of Mr. Francis R. James, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. James Vancouver. Rev. M. P. Ely performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Adam Watson, was attired in a smart travelling costume of navy blue serge, with which she wore a large black hat trimmed with French flowers. Her bouquet was of Ophelia roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. T. W. Connor. Mr. and Mrs. James leaving on the night boat for Victoria, where they will spend their honeymoon.

"The Golden Snare"

Another triumph of the silent drama is David Hartford's production of "The Golden Snare," which will be seen at the Grand on Wednesday, March 29.

Adapted from James Oliver Curwood's fascinating story of the same name, this remarkable photodrama, with a compelling, vital, throbbing plot, fairly smacks of the charm and mystery and primitiveness of the Far North country and which the scenes are laid.

Lewis Stone, as a member of the Royal Northwest Mounted selected to bring back "dead or alive" Bram Johnson, long wanted fugitive from justice, is the featured player and gives a wonderful characterization. Ruth Renick portrays the girl Celie around whom the mystery of the golden snare and the madman of the barrens centres.

A beautiful romance is interwoven in this thrilling tale of the snow country. The photography is remarkable. Night in the Arctic, a raging blizzard, Bram Johnson driving his pack of savage wolf-dogs—these are a few of the striking scenes which will linger long in the memory.

STOMACH TROUBLE? INDIGESTION?

Here's Good News for You

Lindsay, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine I have ever taken for stomach trouble. For many years I suffered with gastric stomach trouble and nervous indigestion. Would be so bad at times that it was necessary for me to be in bed two or three days at a time. I have doctored and taken many different medicines with little relief. Just recently I began taking Golden Medical Discovery and it has given more relief than all the other medicines I have ever taken. My stomach does not bother me and I have not had any indigestion since taking this medicine. I can highly recommend the 'Discovery' to others who suffer with stomach trouble."—Mrs. Geo. Wellington, 6 John St.

Mrs. Fawcett Gives Advice to Mothers

St. Catharines, Ont.—"I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription during expectancy when I felt especially in need of a tonic and it benefited me greatly. I always take pleasure in recommending this 'Prescription' to young mothers because I know it will not fail to help them." — Mrs. J. H. Fawcett, 8 Beach St.

Write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., if you want free medical advice.

"Have you thought it over, Beulah?" he said. "I have no right, as matters stand, to give or take a promise. I have no right——"

"You have no right to say 'as matters stand' as though matters had anything to do with it. They haven't Jim. No, I have not thought it over. This isn't something you think. It is something that comes to you when you don't think, or in spite of your thinking. But it's real—more real than these bars, which are not so close as you seem to fancy——"

And then, between the iron rods across the open window, his lips met hers.

"And you were seeking life, Beulah," he said at last. "Life that you should live in your own way, for the joy of living it. And——"

"And I have found it," she answered, in a voice low and thrilling with tenderness. "I have found it in you. We shall work out our destiny together, but we must keep our thought on the destiny, rather than the work. Oh, Jim, I'm just dying to see your homestead—our homestead. And are there two windows? We must have two windows, Jim—one in the east for the sun, and one in the west for the mountains."

"Our house is all windows, as yet," he answered gaily. "And there isn't as much as a fence post to break the view."

"What are you doing here?" said a sharp voice, and Beulah felt as though her tin box were suddenly sinking into a great abyss. She turned with a little gasp. Sergeant Grey stood within arm's length of her.

"Oh, it's Sergeant Grey," she said, with a tone of relief. "I am Beulah Harris. And I've just been getting myself engaged to your prisoner here. Oh, it's not so awful as you think. You see, we knew each other in Manitoba, and we've really been engaged for quite a while, but he didn't know it until to-night."

For a moment the policeman retained his reserve. He remembered the girl, who had already cost him a deflected glance, and he reproached himself that he could doubt her even as he doubted, but how could he know that she had not been passing in firearms or planning a release?

"What she says is right, sergeant," said Travers. "She has just broken the news to me, and I'm the happiest man in Canada, jail or no jail."

There was no mistaking the genuine rink in Travers' voice, and the policeman was convinced. "Most extraordinary," he remarked, at length, "but entirely natural on your part, I must say. I congratulate you, sir." The officer had not forgotten the girl who clung to his arm the morning before. "Hang me, sir," he continued, "there's luck everywhere but in the Mounted Police."

He unlocked the door of the cell. "I ought to search you," he said to Beulah, "but if you'll give me your word that you have no firearms, weapons, knives, or matches, I'll admit you to this—er—drawing-room for a few minutes."

"Nothing worse than a hat-pin," she assured him. "But you must come, too," she added, placing her hand on his arm. "You must understand that."

He accompanied her into the cell, but remained in the doorway, where he suddenly developed an interest in astronomy. At length he turned quickly and faced into the darkness.

"Speaking, not as an officer, but as a fellow-man, I wish you were damned well—that is, very well—out of this, old chap," he said to Travers.

"Oh, that's all right," Jim assured him. "You couldn't help taking me up, of course, and for all your kindness you would quite cheerfully hang me if it fell to your lot. But it isn't going to."

"I stand ready to be of any service to you that is permissible."

"The inquest is to be to-morrow, isn't it?" asked Beulah. "I think you should be at the inquest, Jim."

"That's right," said the sergeant. "You may throw some new light on the case."

"I've just one request," said Travers. "You know Gardiner?"

"I've heard of him."

"Have him at the inquest."

"As a juror or witness?"

"It doesn't matter, but have him there."

"All right. I'll see to it. And now, Miss Harris, if you will permit me, I will bring your horse for you."

Grey took a conveniently long time to find the horse, but at last he appeared in the door. Beulah released her fingers from Jim's and swung herself into the saddle.

"Sergeant Grey," she said, "I think you're the second best man in the world. Goodnight."

The sergeant's military shoulders came up squarer still, and he stood at attention as she rode into the darkness.

CHAPTER XX.

An Inquest—And Some Explanations

The inquest party consisted of the coroner, who was the doctor that had already attended Allan; Sergeant Grey; six jurors, selected from the townspeople; the manager of the bank, whose suspicions had first been communicated to Grey; Travers; and Gardiner. In the early morning the policeman had ridden out to the ranch for Gardiner, but had met him on his way to town. News of the tragedy had reached him, he said, and he was hurrying in to see if he could be of some assistance to Travers, in arranging for a lawyer, or in any way that might be practicable. Grey told him that as yet no formal charge had been laid against Travers; that he was merely being held pending the finding of the coroner's jury, and suggested that if Gardiner would accompany him to the inquest he might be able, not only to throw some light on Travers' character, but also on his whereabouts on the night of the tragedy. To this Gardiner readily agreed.

It was noon when the party reached the Arthurses' ranch. Beulah counted them out with a field-glass while they were still miles down the valley, and a big table was set in the bunkhouse where the cowboys were accommodated during the branding season. It was a matter of course that the men should be fed when they reached Arthurs'. At intervals in the setting of the table the girl returned to her field-glass, until she was quite sure of the straight figure riding beside the mounted policeman.

They swung into the yard amid a cloud of dust, the jingle of trappings, and the hearty exchange of greetings between Arthurs and his acquaintances from town. Gardiner was introduced to Arthurs, and shook hands without removing his gauntlets. He had learned that the party were to have dinner here, and he excused himself, saying that the long ride in the heat had upset him somewhat, and he thought he would be wiser to lie in the shade for an hour or two before eating. Arthurs pressed his hospitality upon him, but as Gardiner seemed fixed in his purpose he did not insist. Then the rancher walked over and shook hands with Travers. There were no signs of handcuffs now, and an outsider would not have known that the young man's position differed from that of the others present.

After the meal Gardiner joined them again, and the party, which now included Arthurs and Harris, proceeded up the valley to the scene of the tragedy. It was a great shock to Harris to find that the victim of Allan's gun was his old neighbor, Riles. He stood for a long time as one dazed by the discovery, but gradually out of the confusion a horrible fear took shape in his mind. Allan had shot this man, with whom they had an appointment at this spot; had shot him down, as far as could be shown, without excuse or provocation, before he had so much as entered the door. The body proved to be unarmed, and from its position had evidently fallen into the building after receiving the fatal charge.

The old man turned dry eyes from the gruesome thing across the warm, shimmering valleys. On the farther slopes, leagues distant through the clear air, ripening fields of wheat lay on the hillsides like patches of copper-plate, and farther still thin columns of smoke marked the points where steam-ploughs were wrapping the virgin prairie in her first black bridal of commerce. But he saw none of these. He saw Allan, and he saw bars, and a prisoner's dock. And there was something else that he would not see; he would close his eyes; he would not let its horrid gaunt ligaments thrust themselves into his vision!

After a thorough examination of the scene they laid the body in a democrat and returned to Arthurs', where the coroner held his court in the bunk-house.

Harris's evidence was first received. He found it difficult to give his story connectedly, but item by item he told of his acquaintance with Riles in the eastern province; of their decision to come west and take up more land; of the chance by which they had fallen with Gardiner, and the prospect he had laid before them of more profitable returns from another form of investment; of how his hesitation had finally been overcome by the assurance that all he need do was have his money ready—he was to be under no obligation to go any further in the transaction unless entirely satisfied; of the offer wired by the New York capitalists; of the sale of his farm for a disappointing sum, and their journey with the money to the old shanty up the valley, where they were to be met by Riles and Gardiner, and also, as they expected, by the owner of the mine, with whom they would open direct negotiations, producing the money as proof of their desire and ability to carry out their undertaking; of how they hoped the owner would be induced to accept a deposit and accompany them back to town, where an option would be secured from him for a period sufficient to enable them to turn the property over to the New York investors at a handsome profit.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Oldest Post Office in United States

Building at St. Angustine, Florida, Was Erected in 1568

Erected in 1568, the post office building at St. Augustine, Florida, is believed to be the oldest structure of the kind in the country. According to official records in the "Archives of the Indies," at Seville, Spain, it was purchased by the King of Spain in 1604 from Gonzola Mendez, former governor of Florida, who erected it for $10,000 as a residence for Gov. Pedro De Yderra and his successors. In requesting that the purchase be made, Gov. Yderra wrote the king that the house in which he lived was built over the seas, and was so cold and damp that two former governors had died in it.

Internal parasites in the shape of worms in the stomach and bowels of children sap their vitality and retard physical development. They keep the child in a constant state of unrest and, if not attended to, endanger life. The child can be spared much suffering and the mother much anxiety by using a reliable worm remedy, such as Miller's Worm Powders, which are sure death to worms.

Rent for Fighting Ground

A Viewpoint on the Question of Paying France for Use of Docks

Great Britain, it appears, paid France the huge sum of 22 million pounds as rental for docks, buildings and trenches used or occupied in connection with the British military operations in the recent war. A critic suggests that this is the first instance on record of one country paying rent for trenches in which to fight to defend the country owning the ground. That is not a candid statement of fact. Britain was not fighting France's battle, but its own. That it did the fighting in France, and not in Britain, was a piece of good fortune for which even the sum cited is a cheap price. It is likely, too, that the British authorities saw in this means a way to give some financial help to a hard-pressed ally whose sense of independence would not permit it to accept a straight gift.—Edmonton Bulletin.

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION

Constipation—that disordered state of the digestive tract which is nearly always caused by improper feeding—can be readily regulated by the use of Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative. They are easy to take and are absolutely free from injurious drugs. Concerning them Mrs. Joseph Dion, Ste. Perpetue, Que., writes:—"I have nothing but praise for Baby's Own Tablets. When my baby was three months old he was terribly constipated but the Tablets soon set him right and now at the age of fifteen months he is a big healthy boy and this good health I attribute entirely to the use of the Tablets." They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mother, Quick! Give California Fig Syrup For Child's Bowels

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels, and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

A Simple House Dress of Gingham

By Marie Belmont

The season is approaching when every particular housekeeper wants an attractive dress to wear about her duties indoors. The modern trend is for bright effects and gay colors in frocks of this type, and the example above is charming in red-checked gingham.

The square cut neck is flanked at either side by the yoke, and to this the waist is slightly fulled at the shoulders. Here and there the skirt joins the blouse at the lowered waistline, black wool embroidery imparting a striking note. A slender black patent leather belt finishes the costume.

The same frock may be made up in cotton, crepe or handkerchief linen for dressier occasions.

The Oil of the People.—Many oils have come and gone, but Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil continues to maintain its position and increase its sphere of usefulness each year. Its sterling qualities have brought it to the front and kept it there, and it can truly be called the oil of the people. Thousands have benefited by it and would use no other preparation.

Better a good paying job than a low salaried position.

Melon Growing by Mennonites

Melon Growing as a Commercial Proposition in Southern Manitoba

The Mennonites in Southern Manitoba have paid considerable attention to melon growing and have succeeded in cultivating both watermelons and muskmelons of good quality. Experiments at the Morden Experimental Station, near the Mennonite settlement, show that in hot years melons do well, and prove of excellent flavor, but when the summers are cool they do not flourish. At this station tests have been made in planting in the hot beds and transplanting to the open in comparison with planting in the field. Variety tests have also been made. On the whole the superintendent at the station is able to report satisfactory results. He declares that he sees no reason why melon growing should not be a commercial proposition in Southern Manitoba, especially having regard to the success achieved by the Mennonites, who besides having no scientific knowledge do not exercise a superabundance of care. Muskmelons and watermelons are alike easily grown.

B.C. Increases Lumber Export

The Provincial Minister of Lands reports that the water-borne lumber export from British Columbia in 1921 was in excess of 133,000,000 feet, an excess of about 44,000,000 feet over the record of 1920. A large share of this export went to Japan and China.

HERMAN KURTZTISCH

"When it comes to eating, working and sleeping, I'm like a different man from what I was a short time ago," said Herman Kurtztisch, 406½ Norris Place, Milwaukee, with the Northwestern Life Insurance Co., in relating his experience with Tanlac.

"My whole system was about to give way as a result of two years' constant suffering from stomach trouble and I was so run down and worn out I was hardly able to work. I actually dreaded to eat, as after every meal I suffered so terribly from heartburn, and I was so nervous I got little rest day or night.

"If it hadn't been for Tanlac I'm firmly convinced I would have had to resign my place. It came to my aid in the nick of time and I am strong for it. Tanlac was worth at least fifty times what it cost me."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

William found a pocketbook
But the string jerked it back

It looked like a happy discovery as it lay there on the sidewalk—until the discoverer reached to pick it up. Then the hidden string jerked it away. All William got was disappointment.

That's the way a good many people have found it to be with the comfort and cheer they thought they had secured in tea and coffee. When they came to depend on it—there was a hidden string, and nothing left but disappointment.

The drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee, is a nerve stimulant. Constant stimulation of the nerves often produces rebellion that takes the form of sleeplessness, headaches, irritability, high blood pressure. That's the string to tea and coffee.

Postum, that wholesome and delightful cereal beverage, is completely satisfying and there's no harmful quality whatsoever, to jerk away the comfort which you find in this splendid table drink. Any member of the family may enjoy Postum with any meal—and there will be no after-regrets.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by grocers.

In order to bring their programme up to the highest state of efficiency Creston District brass band have found it necessary to postpone the date of their concert a week, and now announce it for Friday evening, April 7th.

Mesdames Edmondson, Linn and Miss Morrow were hostess at a silver tea at the home of the former on Wednesday afternoon, under Methodist Ladies' Aid auspices, that was quite well attended, the intake being almost $9.

An auction sale of the household and other effects of N. Schade, will take place next Friday afternoon, March 31st, at 1 o'clock. There is a long list of furniture, etc., as well as other articles that should attract a large crowd of buyers.

Mrs. W. G. Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Atkins of Regina, Sask., arrived the latter part of the week on a visit to Creston friends, and are stopping with Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Jackson—the ladies being Mr. Jackson's mother and sister respectively.

Bluebirds made their first 1922 appearance in the Valley the latter part of the week, and in spite of the bounty paid on them crows are again quite numerous and noisy. With a new moon due on the 28th real spring weather cannot be very far off.

Large crowds attended the series of lectures given in Mercantile Hall on Saturday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the provincial department of agriculture, all five of the speakers delivering interesting addresses on practical ranch topics.

Beginning the first Saturday in April, Mrs. Harrison intends spending the day in Creston, for the purpose of giving pianoforte lessons. Mrs. Harrison could then accommodate four more pupils. Names and enquiries may be left with Mrs. Roy Staples during the week.

Guy Constable, president of the Fruit Growers' Union, is at Vernon this week for a meeting of the Traffic and Credit Men's Association. Growers at Grand Forks have just been advised by the O.U.G. that a final settlement on all fruit sold this season will be made not later than the end of April.

At a meeting of the entertainment committee of the fall fair it has been decided to make the Easter Monday evening attraction a straight whist drive and dance—the box social feature having been dropped. The best possible local music has been secured and there will be four good prizes at cards.

E. H. Small of the Creston Hotel was a business visitor at Cranbrook a few days last week, and in his long acquaintances with the divisional city states that he never saw a political victory so universally popular as was the win of Hon. Dr. King in East Kootenay in the voting on Tuesday of last week.

J. W. Humphrey of Malakwa, well known here as organizer of the five Valley locals of the United Farmers, spent Monday and Tuesday in the Valley on a business visit. He is working the fruit districts of the province in the interests of a Calgary firm booking orders for rotted manure for fertilizer purposes.

Final touches were put on the organization of the Fifteen Hundred Club at a well attended meeting on Thursday night last, at which the 1922 directors were chosen. E. C. Gibbs is president of the club, with C. B. Garland, secretary and managing director. The membership is now well over the 100 mark.

The Grand had another capacity house on Wednesday night last for the showing of the popular lumbering picture film, "Conflict." The next picture will be Wednesday, March 29th, when the well known Curwood film, "The Golden Snare," will be shown. This is a north woods screen production that has drawn big business wherever shown.

Provincial police McLaren has just had official notice from the superintendent of police, Victoria, to on April 1st issue summons on all auto owners who have been running their cars since the first of the year without a 1922 license. Car owners who have their cars in use and have not as yet complied with the law will be wise to get their license immediately and save trouble.

Little outside of routine matters occupied the attention of the school board at the March meeting on Monday night. Some improvements are to be made to the playgrounds so as to enable the boys to make themselves a good diamond for baseball, while Principal Smith will have a couple of courts put in shape for basketball for the girls as soon as weather permit.

The annual meeting of Creston Local of the United Farmers was held on Monday night, the gathering being favored with the attendance of Mr. Humphrey of Malakwa, who organized the local here, just a little over two years ago. The 1922 officers are: President, C. O. Quist; vice-president, W. J. Truscott; secretary, Jas. Adlard; Directors, Guy Constable, J. P. Cook, and Bert Dodd.

Carpenters are busy this week on an addition to the Norris bakery and confectionery store, and when the work is complete the oven and equipment will be moved into the new part, and the room now occupied as a bake room will be utilized as an addition to the tea room and ice cream parlor. With this increased accommodation Mr. Norris will be in fine shape to take care of his constantly expanding tea and lunch room trade.

James Oliver Curwood

never wrote a better story—never made a faster picture than

"THE GOLDEN SNARE"

A Royal North-West sergeant on a man hunt.
A baby found in a blizzard.
A snare made of a girl's golden hair.

Follow from there through a real Curwood tale of Arctic mystery and frozen peril.

It's a stirring story of what happened when the sergeant got his man—a mad loup-garou—and found him sheltering a girl—a glorious girl of mystery whose hair laid the trail of the golden snare.

The screen cannot give two pictures such as this!
