THE CRESTON REVIEW

VOL. XIV. CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1922 No. 27

Erickson

James Maxwell left on Thursday last for Pembroke and other Ontario points, where he will spend a couple of months visiting friends and recuperating his health which has been poor of late.

Definite word has been received that the steam roller required for the road work will be shipped from Vancouver about the 12th, and should be at work here in less than two weeks.

Mrs. W. Percival of Yahk was a week-end visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Dodds.

Aubrey Kemp, who has been attending a private school at Vernon the past term is home for the holidays at the ranch here, after having been in camp with the boy scouts at Okanagan Lake. He was successful in passing the first-year high school work examinations this year.

Frank Botterill and Gerald Timmons left last week for Kellogg, Idaho, where they are working in the smelter in that town at present.

Messrs. L. Leveque, F. V. Staples and Milt Beam rendered valuable assistance to the Creston five-man trapshooting squad that trimmed Cranbrook at Creston on Saturday night by a margin of one point.

The contract for taking out the rock for the hard surface road operations has been let to a couple of men from Nelson, who are expected here this week to commence blasting operations

T. W. Bundy will represent the Valley Masonic Lodge on the joint committee that will have charge of soldiers memorial unveiling at Creston sometime this month.

Canyon City

E. Nouguier, who recently acquired the R. Chambers ranch, is a business visitor at Macleod, Alta., this week.

Glen Messenger, who lately purchased the Major Burritt place, left a few days ago for Saskatchewan where he will be in charge of an elevator near Moose Jaw.

A number of Canyonites who are working at the Winlaw mill at Wynndel are home for a few days, the mill being closed down this week for repairs.

There was a very large turnout at the Sunday School picnic at the old Goat River bridge on Wednesday afternoon. Next to the spread of good things to eat the swimming in the river was most popular with the children.

There are no unemployed in this area at present. Anyone in quest of work can land a job fire fighting in one of the two crews operating in the hills here.

Fred Smith of Creston has been here with his drilling outfit putting down a well on the Swanson ranch. He has reached a depth of 60 feet but as yet the water supply is light.

Mrs. George Hurry is a patient in the Cranbrook hospital at present where she has just undergone a rather critical operation.

Business at the United Farmers meeting on Saturday night was largely routine. $5 has been donated to the Creston cemetery beautification fund, and H. Young was named to act as the local's representative on the soldiers' memorial unveiling committee at Creston.

J. Jackson of Calgary, Alta., is here on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Bateman, on his way home from a holiday visit to the coast.

Word reached here early in the week of the death at Byron, Ontario, of Mrs. McKim, who up till a little more than a year ago made her home with her son-in law, R. J. Chambers. She was the widow of of the late Mr. McKim, who about fifteen years ago located on what is now known as the D. G. Lyon ranch, and whose death took place about seven years ago.

WANTED—Immediately experienced lumber pilers and lumber jackers, good wages, will consider contract with experienced men. Wire us quick if interested. Also want bush men. B.C. Spruce Mills, Lumberton.

Sirdar

Misses Williams of Cranbrook were Sirdar visitors for a few days last week, guests of Mrs. Sid McCabe.

Jim Pascuzzo got back a few days ago from a business trip to Michel, Natal, and other Crow points, where he was looking up a market for the ranch vegetable output this year.

Jack Cameron has extended his holidays to a full month, on his return Friday deciding to spend a couple more weeks holidaying at Cranbrook and in the Windermere country.

R. Dennes has just let the contract for the erection of another story to his residence here, and work will be started at once.

Miss Margeory Goodman is a visitor with friends in Cranbrook at present.

Ernest McCabe has had a very successful year of it with his garden raspberries, having a crop sufficient to supply much of the local demand for this variety of fruit.

The North ranch commenced the apple shipping season at the middle of last week, when they had several boxes of mature Yellow Transparents for Fernie customers.

Jim Doolan of Cranbrook is making Sirdar his home town for the month of August, replacing Jack Cameron on the yard crew.

The Church Guild will have their August sewing meeting at the schoolhouse on Saturday afternood as usual, with Mrs. Goodman as hostess.

Contractor Knowles of Nelson has the new store and hall building being erected by Ben Whiteside well under way, and is rushing it to completion as fast as possible.

In order to facilitate freight traffic the C.P.R. has made a change in the working hours of the yard crew, who now have Saturday off and Sunday on duty.

There were sounds of revelry by night at the new residence of Sam Lombardo on Friday when the genial host treated his friends to a house warming dance at his new residence, which is nearing completion. Dancing was the big feature—along with a substantial midnight lunch which the ladies provided.

POULTRY WANTED—Spring chicken, old hens and roosters, any color except white. Dong Barney, Pacific Restaurant.

A meeting of the unveiling committee of the soldiers' memorial will be held on Monday night at G.W.V.A. Hall for the purpose of making arrangements for the unveiling of the Valley's memorial to those fallen in the great war.

E. L. Taynton, at one time teller in the local branch of the Imperial Bank, now at Fernie accompanied by Mrs. Todd and Miss Cody of the same city, were motor visitors here on Sunday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Mead.

Creston Trapshots Beat Cranbrook

About the closest and most exciting trap shooting contest in the history of the Kootenays was staged here on Saturday night, when the locals and Cranbrook met in a five-man competition, with Creston emerging as victors by the narrow margin of one point, the final score being 88 to 87. This was a return shoot for the visit Creston made to Cranbrook on Dominion Day when Cranbrook had the best of the argument by a two point margin, the scores on that occasion being 79 and 77.

Geo. Mawson divided the high gun honors with Cooper of Cranbrook, each having a showing of 21 out of a possible 25 with Milt Beam, Leonard Leveque equalling Billy Cameron of the visiting team for second place. While Creston is offering no excuse for its close triumph it was noted that Col. Lister, who was under the weather, was not breaking the clay birds in his accustomed fashion, his mark at Cranbrook on the holiday being 17. The scores are:

CRESTON		CRANBROOK
G. Mawson	21	Cooper	21
M. Beam	19	Grey	16
Col. Lister	13	Cameron	19
L. Leveque	19	Masters	14
F. Staples	16	Bowness	17
	88		87

Although shooting did not commence until after 6 p.m. the match was concluded before the light began to fail, and the visitors speak in high praise of the excellent range the local club have for shooting purposes. It is likely Creston will make another visit to Cranbrook for a second match before the end of the month.

Local and Personal

Mrs. W. H. Crawford left on Sunday for Fort William, Ont., where she will spend a short holiday visit with friends.

The extra gang will this week complete the work of laying the new wood water pipe line from Glaser Creek to the C.P.R. tank at the depot.

At the board of trade meeting on Tuesday night Geo. Johnson was selected as the board's representative on the soldiers memorial unveiling committee.

Contractors Al. Hendren & Watson are making good headway with the new residence C. B. Garland is erecting on his Hillside Road property next the Edmondson ranch.

C. J. Fleming, mayor of Spokane and Messrs. Chatterton and Lallear, business men of the same city, were Sunday visitors here, en route home after a few days fishing in the neighborhood of Yahk.

Mrs. Oatway and children left on Saturday for Seattle, where they will visit relatives for a few weeks before going on to Vancouver, where Mr Oatway has a position, and where they will reside in future.

At the board of trade meeting on Tuesday night Messrs. Johnson, Gibbs and Norris were named the committee to take charge of the Labor Day dance, the funds of which will be used for publicity work this fall.

This issue of the Review is one of quality rather than quantity in the matter of news content—every point in the Valley having a live budget this week. The paper appears a day early, the editor leaving on Wednesday for what he hopes will be his final visit to the eye specialist at Calgary.

In the huckleberry line there is no decrease in the cost of living. The local Indians are now marketing the 1922 crop at the old reliable $5 for a gasoline can of the blue fruit, and no rebate for stems, leaves or other foreign content.

Alice Siding

J. W. Parkin returned to Michel on Sunday.

J. Johnson and Hector Stewart were at Kuskanook on a fishing trip on Sunday, and report quite a good catch.

Stanley Paul got back on Sunday from a trip to prairie points, and reports crop conditions south of Calgary as ideal.

F. Fairhall, who has been employed at the McMurtrie ranch for some time, left on Monday for Spokane.

Alice Siding started the tomato shipping season on Thursday last, J. W. Vaness had three crates for export.

Robert Stewart was a businesss visitor at Sirdar at the fore part of the week.

The eastbound express made its last stop at the Smith Crossing on Sunday. While the outgo of strawberries from this point this year was considerably less than the previous season, raspberry shipments were very much heavier.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne and son, Dave, of Medicine Hat, Alta., arrived on Sunday for a holiday outing with Mr. and Mrs. Wood.

Miss Alice Carr, who has been on the Nelson central telephone staff for the past couple of months, arrived home on Saturday.

Mrs. R. Stewart was hostess to the berry pickers who have taken off the crop on the ranch this year at at the Stewart residence on Tuesday night. A very happy time of it was spent at dancing, interspersed with vocal music and games, with a splendid supper served about mid-

Wynndel

A dance under the auspices of the United Farmers was held on Saturday night in one of the M Wigen packing sheds. There was a large and very lively crowd. The music was by the Ahdestad brothers orchestra, and was of the usual very high order. About $10 was netted the U.F.

A. H. Piggot was a week-end visitor from Cranbrook at his home here.

Wynndel Box Factory commenced operations on Tuesday, and he expects to keep the plant running late into the fall before he can complete all orders.

Cecil Moore, late of Alice Siding, who has not been seen in these parts for almost three years, has returned and is again on the box factory staff.

The home of Mrs. and Mrs. R. Uri was the scene of a most enjoyable party on Thursday night. The house was filled to the doors with a throng of lively young people. Dancing was the chief feature of the evening, Mr. J. Wood supplying a fine line of music on his mouth-organ-auto harp combination. Allan Moberg obliged on the accordeon, and R. Andestad and Guy Cooper on the violin. Considerable jazz was added by Pat Dow and his kazoo. A very midnight lunch was served, after which dancing was resumed until the wee sma' 'oors.

Mrs. V. Johnson and her sister, Miss O. Hagen, left on Thursday last for a week's visit at Nelson.

Julius Ore left on Tuesday for Sirdar, where he has a contract to contract to construct a house for one of the residents of that town.

J. Benadetti left on Saturday on a business visit to Lethbridge, Alta.

Kitchener

Z. Geroux and one assistant are busy making repairs to some of the worst holes and bad culverts on the highways in this section.

Jas. Beggs, quite an old timer here, who has been working at the Winlaw mill, spent a few days in town on his way back to Bow Island, Alta.

Miss Hunter of Penticton has been engaged by the trustees to take charge of Kitchener school next term.

Last word from the hospital at Cranbrook was to the effect that Mr. Crowe, while quite low is still holding his own. His brother was here at the end of the week after visiting him and left Monday for Vancouver.

Fishing is reported good in the streams hereabouts and more tourists than ever before are stopping at the Kitchener Hotel this season to enjoy the sport.

Messrs. Hunt and Schonnert are busy at haying operations at Goatfell and the Paulson Meadows respectfully, but owing to the excessively dry summer the crop is light.

About 50 men are engaged in the two fire fighting crews under Messrs. Davis and Forester and the flames are doing much damgge in the Russell Creek area where it is estimated that possibly 6000 poles have already gone up in smoke.

Lister

E. L. Langston left on Friday for Cranbrook, where he is spending a few days in St. Eugene hospital taking medical treatment for ear trouble that has been troublesome of late.

$73.30 is the exact amount realized at the Merville benefit dance on the evening of July 29th, and this amount has been remitted the Bank of Commerce at Courtenay, which is acting as treasurer of the fund.

A. R. Webb has about completed the erection of a new barn on his ranch, the structure having a hay storage capacity equal to anything in the area.

Col. Lister left on Monday for points in the Cranbrook riding where he will address meetings on behalf on the Conservative candidate in the impending bye-election.

There was only a fair turnout at the adjourned annual school meeting on Saturday night, which was presided over by President Powers of the United Farmers, with Mrs. Millington taking down the minutes. The trustee board for this year will be made up of Mrs. Geo. Jacks and Messrs. Frampton and Powers, with the two latter officiating as secretary and chairman respectively.

Death has paid another of its unwelcome visits to Camp Lister area, this time claiming Mrs. Alfred S. Evans, who passed away on Saturday evening, after quite a prolonged illness. The funeral took place on Monday to Creston cemetery, Rev. H. Varley conducting the last sad rites, and Messrs. Bird, Lister, Powers and Sinclair officiating as pallbearers. The family have been residents of Lister almost since its establishment about three years ago, and whilst her health permitted deceased took quite an active part in many of the community activities. The sympathy of all goes out to Mr. Evans and the one daughter who left to mourn the passing of a devoted wife and mother.

Whatever else may be lacking in the area certainly no fault can be found with the quality of the educational instruction given at the local school which has a record of 100 per cent efficiency in passing candidates the high school Entrance examinations for the past three years. Equally creditable is the showing of Miss Annie Chalmers, an Entrance pupil in 1920, who stood second in a large class graduating in the advanced course junior grade at the Cranbrook high school this term.

SADDLE PONY—Quiet, gentle; suit lady or children; used to packing, will sell cheap, or exchange for hay. P. G. Ebbutt, Creston.

MY CANADA

ELINOR MARSDEN ELIOT

Winnipeg,
July 5th, 19—

I am back in Winnipeg again, with Mrs. Arnold to mother me, Mr. Arnold to father me, and Mary to keep a constant watch over my manners and morals. The strong-minded and aggressively independent Elinor is rather glad to be here, much as she is reluctant to admit it.

Mrs. Fiske and Gypsy brought me in to the train yesterday afternoon. Gypsy, I know, was sorry to see me go, and I am tempted to believe that Mrs. Fiske was also. We called on Mrs. Mills for a few minutes; I could not leave Elba without saying goodbye to her and Mr. Hartford.

The train was half an hour late, but that surprised no one. In fact, the "oldest inhabitant" assures me that in the winter the train becomes later each day, until at regular intervals it is on time because exactly twenty-four hours late.

I had scarcely settled myself when a man rose from the opposite end of the coach and came over to where I sat.

"You're Miss Eliot, ain't you?" he asked, raising his hat awkwardly. "My name is Brown, Jerry Brown of Brownsville, Saskatchewan. I used to live hereabout and I've just been home to see Mother. I was at the picnic on Friday, and I seen you with the Fiskes and the Livingstones, but never got close enough to get an introduction to you, so I hope you will excuse me speaking now. You English ladies ain't much travelling alone, I guess, and there's some tough characters goes back and forth on this line."

By this time Jerry Brown of Brownsville was so hot and embarrassed that his collar was wilting visibly. I thanked him for his knightly courtesy—not in those words, of course—and after falling over my bag and apologizing profusely he threw his hat in the rack, sat down in the other half of my section, and proceeded to while away the weary hours.

News travels swiftly in the Elba district, apparently for some casual remarks that Mr. Brown let fall I think that my life-history in so far as it relates to my stay in Elba is fairly well known to him. He was very frank about his own affairs, told me in the first half-hour that his mother had been left a widow thirty years ago, and that with her five small children she had come West and taken up a homestead. He did not say very much about the inevitable hardships, but he did tell me that last winter he took his mother "back East among her folks and gave her a rattling good time."

Here he chuckled.

"You should have seen Mother at a picture show. I took her to the wildest Wild West one I could find, and I'll bet she liked it, though she did pretend to be shocked. What troubled her most was the cowgirl with red poppies in her hair and red 'chaps.' She wouldn't go to sleep that night until I swore on my honour that there weren't no cowgirls round about Brownsville. You know what mothers are like?"

At this interesting point the newsboy came along, crying his wares.

"Winnipeg Free Press, Tribune, and Telegram! All about the big fire in a shoe factory—five hundred souls lost!"

"Were the uppers burned too?" asked Mr. Brown.

The boy grinned appreciatively.

"Say, son," queried my escort, "have you got anything good to eat?"

"Peanuts, popcorn, chewing-gum, and caramels. Regular price twenty-five cents per package, but ten cents seeing it's you."

"Guess I'll have some gum," said Mr. Brown. "I've been telling the story of my life to this here young lady, and it's dry work." Then he turned to me, "You don't chew, I suppose?"

"Why, no," I replied; "but don't let me keep you from it."

So he bought a package of gum for himself and peanuts, papers and a magazine for me. Talk about American Yellow Journalism, that magazine was burnt orange!

Mary met me at the station and did not show the surprise she must have felt when I introduced Mr. Brown.

"I'll see you later," that gentleman announced as he picked up his bags. "What did you say your address was?"

I had not said that I so much as had an address, but Mary innocently broke in with, "314 Collegiate Avenue. Elinor never remembers numbers, so it's lucky that I am here to tell you the right one."

I could have shaken her, but of course she did not know at that time how Mr. Brown had happened to be with me. And when I told her, that night in the privacy of my bedroom, she threw herself face down on the bed and laughed until I began to think that she was hysterical.

"I cannot see anything so very funny," I objected at last.

"Elinor," she said, when she could speak without laughing, "I should never have suspected you of such a thing! To think that any well-bred English girl would so openly encourage a misguided youth!"

"Misguided youth!" I retorted. "He is thirty-seven—he told me so himself."

"Well, young or old, he has matrimony in his eye, or I'm no judge. His poor trusting mother!—and she was so sure that he was safe from all designing creatures."

"Mary," I replied, with all the dignity I could muster, "if you do not treat my confidences with more respect, I will never tell you another secret!"

This dire threat made her reform—for a time. But this afternoon, when a bix box of roses came from the florist's "with the compliments of Jerry Brown," she told me that the red poppies were in bloom and that she could lend me some invisible hairpins. I am very much afraid that Brother Jeremiah—that is Mary's name for him, it is only in an emergency that she calls anyone by his or her proper name—will think it necessary to call, and, much as I regret to say it, I cannot answer for Mary's good behaviour if he does so. Age cannot wither, nor custom stale, her infinite variety devices for the embarrassment of weak humanity.

The Arnolds have other guests at present—a Mrs. Bingham and her five-year-old daughter Sunny, from a ranch near Carbon City, Alberta. Sunny and I fell in love with each other at sigh, and this morning she came into my room before I was up to show me snapshots of her home and her dog and—last but not least—"Daddy and Uncle Don."

We were in the midst of a very confidential chat regarding life on a ranch when Mrs. Bingham knocked at the door.

"Excuse me, Miss Eliot, but I have looked everywhere for Sunny, and Mary suggested that she might be here."

"I'll come in a minute, Mother," Sunny promised, "but I'm just telling Miss Eliot about the time David nearly killed Thomas a Becket when he was going to steal the chickens," and she went on with her story.

David is the dog, a fox-terrier, and Thomas a Becket is the cat.

"Was David called after the David who killed Goliath?" I asked when the story was finished.

"No," answered Sunny. "Uncle Don named him David Lloyd George 'cause he's the dickens of a fighter," but we call him David for short."

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

The appointment of a permanent Canadian Trade Commissioner, together with an assistant, to Russia, has been authorized.

The Vancouver Harbor Commission has been authorized to strengthen the Ballantyne Pier sheds to carry grain conveyors.

The Government has endorsed a grant of $66,965 to the province of Alberta "for the purpose of aiding and advancing the farming industry by instruction in agriculture."

The Government has curtailed the weekly close salmon fishing at Rivers Inlet, B.C., from midnight on Friday to 6 p.m. Sunday for the balance of the 1922 fishing season.

Because of the great loss of life and property by fire during the past decade, all citizens have been asked to observe October 9 as Fire Prevention Day.

Djemal Pasha, former Minister of Marine in the Turkish Unionist Government, chief of staff of the Afghan army, has been assassinated. Two Armenians are charged with the crime.

The reputation of the province of Quebec is not to be hurt by the recent declarations to the effect that imported cheese of inferior and dangerous quality had been sold on the British markets, states Hon. J. A. Caron, Minister of Agriculture.

The late Sir John Eaton's palatial private car, "Eatonian" has been sold in Montreal to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. The car was furnished throughout with the most modern and luxurious manner and originally cost over $100,000.

Because of the political and religious unrest in Ireland, which has brought practically the whole flax industry there to a standstill, three manufacturers of Armagh, Ireland—Joseph Marshall David McClelland and R. R. Louden—have come over to Canada with a view to an investigation that may duplicate Ireland's flax industry in the Dominion.

THE REASON WHY ANAEMIA PREVAILS

The Strenuous Conditions of Life To-day Responsible

Mothers who remark that girls to-day are more prone to anaemia than the girls of a generation ago, should look back at the surroundings in which they and their companions lived. They would easily see the reason in life's altered circumstances to-day.

Now the school girl's life is more strenuous; her more numerous studies are a severe tax upon the strength. Also, girls enter business soon after leaving school—at an age when they most need rest and outdoor life. Their womanly development is hampered by the stress of working hours, hurried and often scanty meals. Girls are more liable to bloodlessness to-day, but there is this consolation that this condition is now more easly remedied than in the years past. Such medicine as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have helped thousands of weak, anaemic girls and women, simply because they contain the elements necessary to enrich the blood which means good health and vitality.

This is proved by the statement of Miss Eldora Acker, Lake Pleasant, N.S., who says:—"I shall be glad if some other ailing girl will profit by my experience with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was very much run down; my face was pale and there was dark circles around my eyes. My appetite was bad, and I had no ambition to do anything or go about. I had once before been helped by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them again. It proved a wise decision, for in less than two months time I felt in every way better; had a splendid appetite, the tired feeling disappeared, and I can work with enjoyment. Naturaly I think there is no better medicine for young girls than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or they will be sent to you by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Walruses are gentle except when attacked.

GINGHAM IS REIGNING SUPREME ONCE MORE

Nothing can compete with the gingham frock for morning wear and in the country. They are so cool and becoming to the majority that they are still very popular, although they have held their place of high esteem for quite some time. This one is of lavender and white check.

The List of the Missing

Search for Missing Veterans During Peace Time

There is no stronger proof of the effects of the Great War upon those who were active participants than the never-ending list of ex-service men recorded as missing in peace time. The most general cases are those of men whose minds become blank—temporarily in most instances. Others become touched with wanderlust, while some of the missing were undoubtedly victims of foul attacks.

The information department of the Dominion Command, G.W.V.A., has no more difficult problem to handle than that of the missing. The results are small compared with other branches of the association's work, but the sum total of re-unions ensuing from these efforts, reconciliations effected and information gleaned for relatives can best be measured in terms of human happiness.

The general method of procedure is first to circularize all commands and branches of the G.W.V.A.; notification of other agencies with whom the individual might come in contact; publication of particulars in "The Veteran," the official organ of the association; next, veteran organizations in other countries are notified, including The American Legion in the United States; the G.W.V.A. in Newfoundland; The British Legion in Great Britain (as well as the branches of the G.W.V.A.); the Returned Sailors' and Soldiers' Imperial League of Australia; Associations in New Zealand, South Africa, India and other British dependencies; France, Belgium and Italy. The extent of the search depends upon the circumstances surrounding the veteran who has disappeared.

Could Not Eat

Constipation is caused by a torpid condition of the liver. Dosing with salts, castor oil, etc., to move the bowels, cannot afford more than temporary relief.

If you are to rid yourself of this ailment and the scores of annoying symptoms and diseases which come in its wake, it is necessary to get the liver right by such treatment as is suggested in this letter:

Mrs. Alvin Richards, R. R. No. 1, Seeley's Bay, Ont., writes:

"For two years I was afflicted with indigestion, and in the morning when I got up my breath was bad. I had a poor appetite, and just felt like eating certain foods. I used many different medicines as a laxative without benefit, and the doctor's medicine did not help me at all. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and found them better than anything I had ever tried. I can highly recommend them to anyone troubled with constipation or kidney troubles."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Arrow Creek Irrigation

Victoria, B.C., July 15, 1922.

JAMES ADLARD,
Creston, B.C.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 10th instant addressed to the Honourable the Minister of Lands has been referred to the Board for reply and I have to advise you that, after careful consideration of the petition filed by you and of the water situation in your district, the Board is not prepared to recommend to the Minister the incorporation at the present time of the proposed district. In the first place, the problem of financing the construction of new irrigation systems just now is such a difficult one that it is felt that except in cases where the rehabilitation of existing systems is the only way of preventing the abandonment of developed orchards, it is in the best interests of the communities proposing to incorporate that the launching of such projects should be postponed until construction costs are lower and money easier. The funds set aside by the Legislature last year for expenditure by way of loans to irrigation districts have been exhausted and it is impossible to say when further funds may be made available. On the other hand, borrowing in the open market is almost impossible except at prohibitive rates of interest.

In the second place, the smallness of the majority of owners who have signed the petition and the opposition that was put forward last year indicates that the benefits to be derived from incorporation are not yet fully realized by a large body of the owners. It is true that the Act provides that a district may be incorporated upon the petition of a bare majority, but is is feared that, if a district were formed under such circumstances and if the operations of this district were not extraordinarily successful, the situation would soon be that, instead of there being a majority in favour of incorporation and actively co-operating to make the district's affairs a success, there would be a majority doing all in their power to hamper the Trustees and demanding the dissolution of the dissolution of the district. The history of many of the districts incorporated in the State of California shows conclusively that, unless there is an almost unanimous request for incorporation and a strong spirit of co-operation prevalent among the property owners, the successful operation of a district is practically impossible.

I note your statement that you are anxious to have the Incorporation of the district completed as soon as possible so that you can get your plans and estimates prepared and placed before the land owners. Do you not think it would be preferable to get further preliminary plans and estimates made and have the same placed before the owners prior to incorporation so that they might understand more fully how their interests would be affected and what financial burdens they were undertaking?

Yours very truly,
E. A. CLEVELAND,
Chairman, Board of Investigation.

EDITOR REVIEW:

SIR,—The above is the reply of the Board of Investigation to the petition that was circulated last March for the incorporation of the proposed Arrow Creek Improvement District.

The seriousness of the situation is such that we cannot let the matter rest here. We would direct the attention of those interested in this district to the second paragraph in the letter. We had a large majority in value but it left quite a large number of owners who did not sign. In order to overcome this objection will those owners who did not sign the petition last March, but now see the necessity of irrigation, send their signatures to either of the signors of this letter, that they may be incorporated into the original list.

Respecting the last paragraph we would put the question, who would pay the cost? Would anyone incur that liability without the means of recovering the cost in the possible chance that it might be turned down by the owners.

We hear much about the capacity of Arrow Creek to supply the district. Time and again during the last two weeks I have been told of the lowness of the water. In order to satisfy myself I made the trip to the creek last evening and, Mr. Editor, I am certain that there is between 15 and 20 cubic feet per second passing under the Arrow Creek bridge today. However, more of this later. For the present we would urge every owner to see that his signature is in our hands because it is names that count.

this season the Valley cucumbers cannot compete successfully in the markets where anything approximating normal demand exists.

Whilst there is yet no announcement as to final returns on strawberries and the crop was hardly more than 60 per cent. of normal, there is good reason to believe that where a considerable portion of the movement was l.c.l. the grower will net what should be considered a satisfactory return this year.

Up to the present at any rate the marketing situation may be stated as indicating a satisfactory demand for good stuff at fair prices; with little or no call for poor stuff at any price.

No Demand for Poor Quality Fruit

With the middle of August just around the corner the half mile post in the marketing of this season's crop looms in sight, and whilst conditions all round have hot been exactly ideal with either the growers or the selling agencies, a look over the season so far as it has developed should inspire a feeling of rational optimism, and if the balance of the year's output meets with as favorable a reception on the market 1922 should prove far from a disheartening one to the growers, when climatic and economic conditions are taken into full account.

In the fruit line, so far, disaster has only been encountered in the disposal of some varieties of cherries. Bings have moved in unexpectedly large quantities and while the price will be lower than last year there is every reason to assume that the grower will still find it quite satisfactory.

Sweet cherries have been dissappointing and market reports would indicate that this is entirely due to the season producing not only poor quality sweet cherries but also an abundance of them. With slightly less than a normal demand naturally prices will be low.

With sour cheeries the same situation was encountered, only a little worse. This year the dry season produced a sour cherry that was heavy to skin and stone and very little real fruit. After the careful housewife had "done down" a crate of these and glanced over the exceedingly small number of sealers required to hold the preserved product, quite naturally she decided that one crate of "sours" would be quite ample for this year. Blame for this unsatisfactory state of affairs may fairly be charged to the Early Richmond and both from present and past marketing experience it would look to be good business for the growers to eliminate this variety entirely.

Although the crop is considerably increased this year raspberry growers are assured a very satisfactory price, and this would have been better had it not been for a freak streak of production the first three days af August. At the end of July all the signs indicated that the peak of the raspberry season had been reached and receipts were falling steadily, but during last week's hot wave what might almost be termed a "second crop" developed at all points in B.C. and with this increased supply rolling onto an unexpecting market naturally the price of "rasps" was demoralized for a few days, much to the delight of the jam factories.

Growers would now appear to have eliminated sufficient of their red currants to equalize the law of demand for local supply, with the result that the 1922 red currant crop has been handled quite profitably, whilst black currants have also sold readily at satisfactory prices, and still more pleasing is th announcement that there has been little trouble experienced in disposing of the year's output of gooseberries.

In the vegetable line cucumbers are already bringing grief to the selling agencies. Due to the prolonged coal miners strike the merchants in the Pass towns are not buying at all, whilst further east Creston cukes have to compete with the Okanagan product, and as these latter are shipped by freight and are transported in car lots at a carrying charge of 10 cents a crate as compared with the minimum of 40 cents express on Creston cucumbers it is at once apparent that for

Put YOUR Fires Out

Protect Our Forests

A recent newspaper report stated that before midsummer had been reached, forest fires in Canada had already this year destroyed more timber than would be required to construct one hundred thousand new homes, or, in other words, make provision for housing half a million people.

Yet in practically every city and town in this Dominion there is an acute shortage of houses, with the result that rentals have climbed to unreasonable heights. Thousands of people are ready and anxious to build homes of their own, but are deterred from doing so because of the high cost of building. This high cost is made up of three main items—price of lumber, freight charges on lumber and other materials, wages of labor.

Because of these high costs only a fraction of the work of construction is under way that would be the case if costs were even slightly reduced. Because building operations are not more active, thousands of men are being kept out of employment, yet they are called upon to pay the high rentals occasioned by lack of houses.

While the high prices of lumber constitutes one of the chief deterrent factors in building operations, forest fires in Canada consume more than sufficient to erect 100,000 homes! Nor is the loss of this timber itself the only loss. These fires mean loss in lumbering operations, consequently further unemployment and loss in time and money to both workers and lumber manufacturers, loss to railways in freight, and loss all along the line of business because of decreased production. Nor can the destroyed timber be replaced by new growth within the lifetime of a generation.

A great deal is heard these days of reforestation, but not a word too much as it is necessary that the importance of that work should be fully appreciated by both Governments and people. By reforestation is meant, in the popularly accepted meaning of the term, the replanting of forest areas which have been cut over by the lumbermen; that as the larger trees are cut down for commercial use, smaller trees or tree seed should be planted and thus provide for new growth for future generations. Let it be repeated, that it is most important that such a policy be strictly enforced.

But how much more important it is that greatly advanced steps be taken to prevent forest fires and protect the trees already grown and ready for the use of this and future generations! In no one year does Canada erect 100,000 new homes, and our people therefore do not make inroads into the available amount of standing timber that fires have consumed in a few short months. The need for the creation of a much more extensive and efficient forest protection service in Canada has been clearly demonstrated in recent years. The people of the Prairie Provinces are vitally interested in this matter as they must depend upon those Provinces having large timber areas for the lumber wherewith to build their homes. Under even the most favorable conditions, the cost of lumber, due to long railway hauls and consequent heavy freight rates, is a severe handicap on building operations in the West, and if through carelessness and lack of an efficient protective service, countless millions of feet of timber are annually destroyed by fire, the handicap is thereby enormously increased.

There are broad national aspects of this question that call for consideration. Canada needs immigrants, tens of thousands of them. Each new family settled on our vacant lands requires lumber wherewith to erect houses, barns and other necessary farm buildings. The present cost of providing such needed buildings is one of the obstacles to be overcome in order to induce new settlers to come to this country and enable them to succeed. So long as millions of dollars worth of timber are burned up annually it is useless to expect any substantial reduction in lumber prices.

Nevertheless, until such reduction does take place, there is no likelihood of that revival in building construction which is now a crying need throughout Canada. The erection of more houses would provide much needed employment for all our artiazn classes; more houses would result in a decline in rents, and such a decline would enable workers to accept a somewhat lower wage, and thereby remove another of the present handicaps on building operations, namely, high labor costs. Increased freight traffic for our financially embarrassed National Railways would follow. Last of all, a further inducement to immigrants would be provided.

It is furthermore generally recognized that the presence of forests have a determining effect on such vitally important matters as climate and rainfall, while a recent poster of the Fisheries Department of Canada urges protection of forests with the slogan: "No forests, no fish."

Every Government, every corporation operating in timbered areas, every hunter, trapper, camper—in a word, every individual Canadian citizen—should exercise every care and put forth every reasonable effort to prevent fires and protect Canada's forest wealth, which, to an extent as yet not fully realized, is one of the basic national resources.

When Baby Complains.

THERE ARE MANY WAYS a baby has of expressing any pain or irregularity or digression from its normal condition of health and happiness. A short sharp cry, a prolonged irritated cry. Restlessness, a constant turning of the head or of the whole body, fretful. In these and other ways a baby tells you there is something wrong. Most mothers know that a disordered stomach, or bowels that do not act naturally are the cause of most of baby's sufferings. A call for the doctor is the first thought, but in the event of any delay there should be ready at hand a safe remedy such as Fletcher's Castoria.

Castoria has been used for baby's ailments for over 30 years and has merited the good will of the family physician in a measure not equaled by any other baby's medicine because of its harmlessness and the good results achieved.

And remember this: Castoria is essentially a baby's remedy and not a cure-all for every member of the family. What might help you is too often dangerous when given to a babe.

CASTORIA

Let's Think It Over.

There is such a thing as saying too much on any subject, and the "grand-stand" talker sooner or later becomes a bore. The truth is always welcomed, and the truth reiterated and confirmed is more than welcome—it reaches your innermost soul.

Fletcher's Castoria is all its advertising has claimed for it. Scrutinized by the microscope of public opinion and used for over thirty years it stands without a peer in the hearts of thoughtful, cautious, discerning Mothers. And once used, mother love—there is no substitute for mother love—will scorn to try a "substitute" or a "just-as-good".

Masquerading under many names drugs that are injurious to the tender babe have found their way into some households, but the light of experience soon casts them out. Are they cast out before it is too late?

DIARRHOEA
IS DANGEROUS
To Teething Babies
DURING HOT WEATHER

Hot weather is a dangerous time for the babies when cutting their teeth, and all mothers should watch very closely for any sign of diarrhoea, dysentry, cholera infantum or any other bowel trouble.

There is no remedy so safe and effectual for diarrhoea as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and all mothers who have used it speak of it with the greatest of confidence.

Mrs. James E. Green, Vermilion, Alta., writes under date of Aug. 18th, 1921, as follows:—"A week ago my baby boy, just one year and four months old, started cutting two stomach teeth, and was so sick he couldn't eat or sleep, and had the diarrhoea most terribly bad; his rectum was raw and bleeding, but after giving him Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry regularly for three days he was as well as any boy could be. I wouldn't be without your grand remedy for untold gold."

Russia's Finances

Only Experts in Higher Arithmetic Can Understand Figures

Russian financial statements presented at The Hague are without meaning to men of ordinary mathematical training. Only astronomers and other experts in higher arithmetic have experience in numbers running into hundreds of thousands of billions. When we say that Soviet Russia has outstanding national currency amount to 270,000,000,000,000 roubles, we speak an unknown tongue. It might help a little to divide it up and say that there is a note issue of $2,000,000 for every man, woman and child in the Soviet republic.

Last month Russia added 50 per cent to the currency by printing notes of the face value of 85,000 billions of roubles. It may make this statement easier to understand if we say that every three days Russia issued roubles to the nominal amount of the present British national debt.—From the Vancouver Province.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentry and colic are most prevalent. Any one of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. During the summer the mothers best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. "Indeed! And what is that?" asked the girl.

"Oh, well, you see, if you try to kiss a girl in this canoe there's great danger of upsetting it, and then both the fellow and the girl would be thrown into the river."

"Oh, indeed," said the girl reflectively. And she sat silent for a while.

At length she remarked softly: "Charlie, I can swim."

Spend Fifty Millions On Canada's Highways In Five Year Period

Ottawa.—Fifty million dollars will have been spent on improving Canada's highways when the five-year period terminates in the fall of 1923, according to reports received by A. W. Campbell, Dominion Commissioner of Highways. Of this total twenty millions will have been appropriated by the Dominion Government and the remainder by the different provinces. Of the federal sum there is yet $800,000 to be taken up by the provinces.

Agreements have already been entered into by the province of Ontario calling for an expenditure of $12,500,000 by the end of 1923, of which sum five million is the federal share.

The New Brunswick Government have now all of their appropriation of three million under agreement, the Dominion Government contributing $1,200,000. A total of 1,595 miles of highways is on the programme for improvement. Alberta, the last province to take part in the national highways scheme, has just filed for approval plans for roads improvement under the Canada Highways Act. All the provinces are now working under the general regulations provided by the act, and the work throughout these provinces is now being carried out in accordance with the uniform standard specifications.

Royal Family May Return to Bavaria

Socialists Protest Against Removal of Ban on Exiles

Berlin.—The Bavarian Government issued a decree intended to replace, so far as Bavaria is concerned, the legislation recently passed by the Reichstag for the defence of the republic. The decree omits the clauses in the Reichstag enactment relative to the establishment of a special tribunal, the competence of the German minister of the interior to prohibit meetings and suppress associations, and the competence of the Central Government to prohibit members of the former ruling house now living abroad from entering Germany. It also declines to allow non-Bavarian police to take independent official action in Bavaria.

The Socialist section of the Bavarian landtag has issued a manifesto declaring every attempt to counteract the reichstag legislation for the defence of the republic is an attack upon the political unity of the nation, while the Bavarian insistence upon special rights in this connection has caused alarm in Northern Bavaria, as well as in Berlin.

Australia Will Find Work for Unemployed

Government Offers to Spend $10,000,000 Unifying Railway Gauges

London.—Premier W. M. Hughes, of the Australian Commonwealth, according to a Reuter despatch from Melbourne, in replying to a deputation of unemployed men, said that the Commonwealth Government was ready to spend £2,000,000 on the unification of the railway guages in Australia and thus give work to large numbers if an agreement could be reached with the various Australian states.

Strike Bargain With Rating Companies

Railroads of Britain Reduce Yearly Expenses by £2,000,000

London.—The railway companies in Great Britain have secured a remarkable bargain from the rating authorities. Pleading serious loss of revenue they persuaded the National Union county assessment committee to make large reductions in the sums demanded from them for taxes.

Every parish through which a railroad passes levies tax rates upon the company on the basis of the assessment, which is broadly determined by the revenue of the company. The reductions granted possibly average 25 per cent., representing an aggregate saving to the railway companies of over £2,000,000 a year.

Grain Shipments for Europe

Fifty Million Bushels Creates New Record for Montreal Port

Montreal.—Figures supplied by the Grain Clearance Board of this port, show that from the opening of navigation to the evening of July 23, almost 50,000,000 bushels of grain were shipped to Europe from Montreal, a performance that creates a new record, exceeding that of last year by nearly two million bushels. The record of last year, when 138,453,980 bushels, or nearly fifty millions more than were shipped from any other port on the North American continent, will probably be exceeded this year at the present rate, M. P. Fennell, general manager of the port and chairman of the Grain Clearance Board, said.

Will Consolidate Soldier Settler Loans

Converted into One Loan for 25-Year Period

Edmonton, Alta.—Of great importance to the large number of soldier settlers in the west is the announcement that all the loans made by the Government prior to April 1, 1922, will be consolidated into one loan for a period of 25 years. This applies where a veteran has made three separate loans, stock, equipment and farms. Men established between October 1, 1919, and October 1, 1920, will have three years' grace in interest payments, and men established between Oct. 1, 1920, and October 1, 1921, will have two years' grace.

Germans Must Destroy Range Finding "School"

Buildings Established at Strategic Points on Kiel Canal

Paris.—The Council of Ambasasdors decided to send a sharp note to the German Government demanding the immediate destruction of the fire control and range finding school, which the German naval authorities have quietly established at strategic points on the Kiel Canal. Allied experts opinion has declared the school is convertible into a fort commanding the entrance to the canal.

Conference May Be Delayed

Washington.—Negotiations with financial representatives of Great Britain for funding of that country $5,000,000,000 war debt to the U.S., scheduled to begin early in September, may be deferred until the latter part of that month, it has been indicated at the treasury.

Three members of the allied debt funding commission will be away from Washington during the first part of September, it was explained.

May Authorize Sale of Vodka

Moscow.—A decree authorizing the sale of vodka, which has been prohibited since 1914, is expected to be issued on Aug. 1. The pre-war strength of vodka was 48 per cent. alcohol; under the new decree the strength will be 38 per cent., and the manufacture will be undertaken as a state monopoly.

Alberta Legislature Considers Wheat Board Bill

Must Be Satisfied With Personnel of the New Board

Edmonton.—Disposing of the customary debate on the speech from the throne with unanimous approval of a resolution to accept and express appreciation of His Honor's address, moved and seconded by A. B. Claypool, Didsbury and G. N. Johnstone, Coronation, the Legislature launched directly into consideration of the wheat board bill, the rules being waived to enable Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Attorney-General, to propose the second reading of the measure and give an explanation of the bill.

Before the debate was adjourned by Hon. J. R. Boyle, leader of the Liberals, he drew from Hon. Mr. Brownlee the admission that while the Legislature will be asked to enact enabling legislation for the Dominion Wheat Board, the Government will retain discretionary powers as to whether or not the credit of the province shall be pledged to the undertaking, it being conceded that the Government must be satisfied with the personnel of the board named by the Government at Ottawa, or the board will not be supported by the province.

Mr. Boyle also asked Premier Greenfield to give the House further details of the probable cost of financing the wheat board project, declining to procede with the debate until such details had been furnished. The Premier read to the House a telegram which he had received from James Stewart, Winnipeg, and concurred in by F. W. Riddell, Regina, to the effect that the operations of the board might involve the credit of the province anywhere from $3,000,000 to $15,000,000. This would, of course, be taken care of by a line of credit established at the banks under guarantee. Mr. Stewart's opinion was that under conservative operation, and following the procedure of the wheat board of 1919, a line of credit of from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 would suffice.

Colliers Honor Memory of Comrades

HOARSENESS RUBBED AWAY QUICKLY BY NERVILINE

Changeable weather causes congestion and sore throat. The blood must be drawn from the inflamed part, and this is speedily done by applying Nerviline. The beauty of Nerviline is that it penetrates quickly. It is not oily and every drop sinks right in. It draws out the inflammation, eases the pain, makes the chest and throat well quickly. For relieving coughs, colds, hoarseness, Nerviline is the proper remedy. Thousands say so. Large 35c bottles sold everywhere.

Actual Removal Of The Cattle Embargo Only Matter Of Time

London.—The debate in the House of Lords indicates that the peers are inclined to regard the actual removal of the embargo against Canadian store cattle as only a matter of time and some strong advocates of the embargo manifested a disposition to accept the situation.

Proceedings were a continuance of the debate started on July 12, when Lord Chaplin presented a resolution urging the maintenance of the embargo and Lord Lincolnshire moved a resolution demanding the fulfilment of the pledge of 1917 that the embargo would be removed. The weight of the speech of July 12 were decidedly against any change of policy, but sentiment, it was shown, on the issue, has undergone a remarkable change in the meantime.

After a considerable array of prominent peers had addressed the House, the Lord Lincolnshire amendment favoring unconditional removal of the embargo was voted down by 91 to 53, but the House adopted the Lord Long amendment as a substantiative resolution, accepting the conclusions of the Finlay Royal Commission that Canadian herds were free from the plague of pleuro-pneumonia and foot and mouth disease, and expressing the opinion that steers from the Dominions might be admitted as store cattle subject to quarantine precautions.

Lord Ancaster, who represents the Board of Agriculture in the upper chamber, made it quite plain that he anticipated legislation lifting the embargo and that he was only anxious that their removal of the embargo should be accompanied by certain safeguards.

"I recognize," said Lord Ancaster, "that the tide is against us, and that we have to expect legislation later. I can only hope that if there is a reversal of our present policy the effect may not be as serious as some suppose."

Deny Reports Of Syrian Revolt

Officials Say News of Rioting Was Greatly Exaggerated

Paris.—Reports received from Cairo by way of London that an attack on French troops in Syria and serious rioting followed news of the confirmation of the French mandate for Syria are greatly exaggerated, it was declared in official circles here. Reports that the rioting bordered on revolt were denied.

Cairo.—The Syrian committee here announces that when news that the League of Nations Council had confirmed the French Syrian mandate was received in that country a band of Syrians attacked French troops at Saurain, killing two officers and 17 men, destroyed two tanks and captured a number of prisoners and a quantity of war material. The French are reported to have been forced to retreat until reinforcements were hurried from Damascus.

The Syrians also are reported to have brought down a French airplane at Esrah and to have attacked a French outpost at Javroud, killing 15 Frenchmen. The committee alleges that disorder has broken out in the whole of Syria.

Extend Rural Phones

Providing for Further Phone Construction in Rural Alberta Sections

Edmonton.—Contracts for 1,100 miles rural telephone line construction have been awarded by the provincial telephone department, comprising the second instalment of the Government's programme for the 1922 season. The mileage represented in these contracts, six in number, is spread over all parts of Central and Southern Alberta, and the total expenditure involved will be about $125,000.

It is expected that the 1,100 miles of new lines will almost or entirely complete the work to be done this year in the way of rural telephone construction. Some 1,400 miles of similar construction had already been done on previous schemes, for which contracts were given in the early part of the season as the cost of which was about $150,000.

Morden Team Wins

Awards Given in Boys' Livestock Judging Competition

Brandon.—The boys' livestock judging competition of the provincial exhibition carrying with it the James McCurdy Memorial Cup, has been won by the Morden, Man., district boys team, with a score of 1,006 points. Elgin was second, two and a half points behind the leaders. Eleven teams competed in the competition, which comprises the judging of heavy horse, beef and dairy cattle, sheep and swine. Each team was allowed twenty minutes to complete the awards.

A Holstein cow owned by W. Hepburn, of Virden, Man., has established what is believed to be a record for Manitoba for production. This cow's record for the past year, as shown by a test just completed, totalled 26,013 pounds of milk.

Germans Land Cargo at Australia

London.—Although the official embargo against importation from former enemy countries to Victoria, Australia, does not expire until August 1, the first consignment of German cargo to reach Australia since 1914 is now being landed. The Victoria Government gave official notification on June 0, that the ban on importations would be lifted on the first of August.

Protest of Veterans

Regina, Sask.—Protest of Saskatchewan veterans over the failure of the federal authorities to appoint a western representative on the commission to investigate the pension charges made by the Great War Veterans' Association were forwarded to Grant McNeil, Dominion G.W.V.A. Secretary, by the provincial body here.

Report of Progressive-Liberal Fusion

Much Doubt Is Expressed As To Its Probability

Ottawa.—Statements published in Quebec that 52 Progressives, members of parliament, had announced their willingness to join the Liberal party, are received here with reserve. It is generally understood that there were some kind of pourparlers between some Progressives and some Liberals looking to closer co-operation, but it has been stated positively that there was no agreement reached of any binding character. It is regarded, as well established, there was no offer of "unconditional union" with the Liberal party.

Winnipeg.—"The weather must be pretty hot down there. The whole thing is a dream," said Hon. A. B. Hudson, K.C., member for South Winnipeg, interviewed here in connection with the report that he had been instrumental in converting 52 Progressive members in the federal house, to the Liberal party, and that he would enter the cabinet.
