THE CRESTON REVIEW

VOL. XIV. CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1922 No. 38

Kitchener

Kitchener Timber Company has started a crew of men building a flume farther up the creek, with our genial friend, Dave Desbain, in charge.

A very enjoyable time was had by the young people at the dance at the Castonquay Hotel on Saturday evening.

G. A. Hunt is busy with the erection of a large warehouse, with Al. Hendren and Percy Watson of Creston in charge of construction.

Mrs. McGonegal and children were week-end visitors at Creston.

Some of the young people motored to Creston on Wednesday night last for the dance in the Grand Theatre ballroom.

It is quite definitely stated that the parties who were to have taken over Mr. Sullivan's mining property have postponed purchasing, due to the unsettled conditions in England. The deal was reported as spot cash $40,000. It is expected, however, that the dea will go through in the spring for sure

Erickson

Frank Morrow, who has been on the G. Cartwright ranch staff all summer, is away on a trip to Vancouver at present.

The men from Nelson, who have been working here the past six weeks on their contract for taking out rock for hard surface roads operations, completed the taking out of 1500 square yards and left for home at the end of the week.

L. T. Leveque is a visitor at Vancouvepr at resent, where he is due to undergo an operation in a military hospital in that city.

Carload shipping of apples and mixed cars has now topped the 100 mark. On Tuesday the total eastward movement was 104 cars.

A number from here are arranging to be at Canyon to-night for the ladies' aid chicken supper and entertainment.

Apple picking is completed in the Erickson section and the end of the week, possibly, will see the packing sheds through for the season.

Some fifteen of the 33 pieces of Erickson land offered at the land sale at Creston on Monday were easily disposed of at the upset price. Sam Fraser paid the top figure of local buyers, going to $145 an acre for Lot 26 of subdivision of Lot 9953. There is about five acres in this piece.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Telford were given a post nuptial community reception at the Telford home on Saturday night, when a large gathering of Erickson and Canyon friends made them an unexpected visit and proceeded to spend an evening, with cards music and various other amusements, with a substanial lunch about midnight. The occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by all, and just as fully appreciated by the bride and groom not withstanding its unexpectedness.

The United Farmers had no opposition in their bidding for the fifth of an acre comprised in Lot 5, which came their way at the upset price of $40. It is expected a community hall will in due course be built thereon—something Erickson badly needs.

Mr. Bean, who this spring purchased the Spence ranch in the neighborhood of Geo. Brownrigg's, is reported to have sold six acres of it to Mr. Linn of Creston this week.

The local of the United Farmers at Erickson is resuming operations on Tuesday, November 7th, at 8 p.m. at the schoolhouse. All members and all interested in community work are invited to make the opening meeting a good start for the winter season.

Mrs. J. B. Rudd has returned from prairie polnts and states that she has disposed of the whole of her apple crop at very favorable prices.

J. D. Moore, the provincial road superintendent, of Kaslo, was here on an official visit Tuesday.

A Nelson man has the contract for the new road at Wilds Creek, and part of his crew arrived on Tuesday.

There will be a dance under the auspices of the United Farmers on Saturday, 28th, at the old schoolhouse. Gents 50c. Ladies are asked to bring refreshments.

A. H. Piggott and a friend from Cranbrook spent last Saturday fishing in the channel, and were successful in catching severrl nice size black bass.

Jack Smith, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Sadler, returned to Coleman on Sunday. His mother, Mrs. Smith, remaining here until Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper and son, Allan, started for Manitoba on Thursday last, where they expect to remain for a few weeks.

Grading work on the new road running from the government road to Penson's, began on Monday, with Matt. Hagen in charge of the work.

Mr. Bachmatt is again in the district, and is working on his claims.

Uri brothers and their families left on Thursday for Arrow Park, where they expect to remain for the winter. It is expected Mrs. R. Uri will be at her home at Burton for some time.

John Bathie, who has been on jury duty at Nelson got home at the first of the week.

Apple picking is now over, but packing is held up temporarily due to a shortage of wrapping paper.

Canadian Pacific Steamships are deservedly popular for this trip and to give extra special accommodation for those who are going overseas this season, the Canadian Pacific Railway has arranged for a special train to connect with the S.S. "Montcalm" sailing St. John, Tuesday, December 12th. Through tourist sleepers will be operated from Edmonton at 10 p.m. Thursday, December 7th and from Calgary at 1.35 a.m. Friday December 8th, making connection with this special train leaving Winnipeg 9.20 a.m. December 9th.

Government Land Sale Big Success

"Wanted lands at a reasonable upset price" was the slogan of the provincial department of lands in connecion with the sale of government lands here on Monday, Oct. 23rd, and as a result of this wise policy the great majority of the tracts offered were readily disposed of at the price set on them, or a little more. With the exception of the bottom lands that overflow annually, and some rather inaccessible tracts near the Idaho boundary, the buying was fairly evenly divided over the subdivisions offered.

J. W. Smith, the well known lands appraiser, officiated as autioneer, with John Cartmel, government agent at Nelson, and an office assistant, along with Charles Moore of Creston looking after the clerical work, buyers being given their agreement of sale immediately the land was knocked down to them, and in more than a few cases where full payment was made certificate of title was issued the buyer before Mr. Cartmel left for home.

There was very little competitive bidding, nor was this encouraged by auctioneer Smith; once the upset was bid he lost no time in declaring the land sold. This absence of competition was particularly noticeable on the tracts on which some returned soldiers have squatted. On all of these the squatter-occupant had things all his own way, while the modest upset price on these same tracts, and the provision for spot cash payment for improvements in case others purchased indicated that Mr. Smith, who did the valuating, certainly well safeguarded the interests of the squatter-settlers. The same policy held with regard to lands that have reverted back but which are tenanted; these latter were also able to buy their unowned homes at the upset figure.

In some cases high-enough prices were reached. Sam Fraser having to bid up to $145 an acre to secure a five-acre lot in the Erickson area, while G. Nickel paid $125 an acre for almost five acres in Lot 67 in the Alice Siding section, while Frank Simister came through with $100 an acre to secure the former Tom Caven place in the same district.

Erickson local of the United Farmers secured unopposed a fifth of an acre at Erickson as a site for the community hall at $40. J. H. Webster made a good buy at $800 for the whole place when he secured the Noble place, which has a small orchard planting on it, besides otherwise partly improved, the Noble holding adjoining the Webster ranch.

Auctioneer Smith is everywhere complimented on his fairness in correctly describing the various tracts. This was particularly noticeable in his handling of the lands on Goat River bottom; on all of these that were liable to overflow he quite strongly emphasized that fact. Certainly no one bought land at this sale due to misrepresentation or at an excessive price. Following is the list of lands sold, their area, and the price obtained

Sirdar

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Swanson of Penticton were here last week on a visit to Mrs. Jack Cameron, who is a sister of Mrs. Swanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid McCabe are back from a two weeks' visit with Spokane and Portland friends, Sid having a brother in business at the latter place.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Manahan of Cranbrook is here on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Goodman.

Frank Banford of Cranbrook was a Sirdar visitor for a few days the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Ben Whitesides was at Lethbridge for a few days' visit with friends last week.

Apple shippers this year are complaining loudly about the poor shipping facilities that prevail. The chief complaint is in connection with the location of the station and this is aggrevated by the fact that the gate from the road to the track is so narrow that a team attached to a load of fruit cannot get through it and shippers are compelled to hand carry every box from the road clear across all the tracks to get to the depot. This is but another reason why the station should be moved across the track. Quite large quantities of vegetables as well as all kinds of fruit are shipped from here each year to say nothing at all of the ordinary traffic that is just as badly inconvenienced. Everybody hopes this year's C.P.R. plan of improvements will include the transfer of the Sirdar station.

Alice Siding

R. Alderson, who has been here for some time looking after harvest operations on his ranch, returned to Hosmer on Sunday.

Tom Anderson is looking for a visit from his father, who is en route home from eastern points to Victoria, for the winter.

Jack Smith was a business visitor at Kitchener a couple of days the latter part of the week.

The rain this week has interfered somewhat with the vegetable harvest, which is now in full swing, and most of the root crops are turning out bigger than expected, one rancher claiming a yield of carrots that equals 35 tons to the acre.

Burning operations have been quite noticeable in this section this month. Mr. Kelly is operating extensively in this line on the Hummingbird ranch, which he lately purchased from R. Sinclair Smith.

A number of Alice Siding residents added to their land holdings at the government sale of lands at Creston on Monday, Frank Simister being the heaviest buyer, securing the former Tom Caven ranch as well as Lot 111, paying $100 an acre for the Caven property.

The Noble ranch, which was included in the land sale, was acquired by J. H. Webster, while Fred Ash picked Lot 103, which adjoins him on the Creston side, at $25 an acre, and G. Nickel put up $125 an acre for the almost five acres in Lot 67.

Reed & Mather, who unfortunately in building their house partly on government-owned land, protected themselves by purchasing another 25 acre tract at the upset price of $10 an acre. Other buyers here were George Hood, Victor Carr and Guy Constable.

Canyon City

About two dozen Canyon residents were at Erickson on Saturday night for a post nuptial surprise party that was tendered him by Canyon and Erickson friends, and at which Mrs. Telford was presented with a pyrex casserole. A most enjoyable time was had until midnight at cards, music and other amusements, and a very tasty supper.

A. G. Samuelson is erecting a camp near the Lyon ranch at which location he has a pole cutting contract and will be employing four or five men all winter.

Canyon City Lumber Company have already about 40 men working at Camp 3, and from present appearances th's winter will see them operating on the most extensive scale for several years. Lumber movement is quite good again, some of the cars rolling as far east as New York. The box factory will be through for the season this week.

The school board is calling for tenders for the annual wood supply, as well as for the moving of the old furn

Otto and John Johnson have just closed a winter's log skidding contract with Winlaw & Son, and will operate along the Goat back of the Browell place.

C. Cleave, who had his leg jammed by a rolling rock while at forest fire fighting last August is still under the doctor's care, and still gets around with considerable help from a cane.

Mr. Bond of Proctor, who has done considerable plastering work in the Valley this summer, has decided to locate here, and at present occupies the house on A. R. Swanson's ranch. His wife and family of six children will join him in a few days.

An excellent spread of good things to eat, and a fine concert programme is assured for the ladies' aid chicken supper and entertainment at the schoolhouse to-night.

While the potato area this year is smaller than last the total crop will be much larger. A. G. Samuelson reports a crop that will average eight tons to the acre.

Ellen was delighted to hear that I had seen her illustrious namesake, and I had to describe him minutely for her edification. She speaks very good English, with a pretty accent that I wish I could reproduce in writing.

From Ellen's tent we went to the cottage where lives Mr. Benjamin Little Bear with his wife, nee Mary Two Stars. Both these young people are "ex-pupils" of whom the Indian Department has every reason to be proud. Mr. Little Bear is a member of "the staff," albeit a humble one; he has charge of the gardens and the livestock. His wife was Mrs. Bingham's maid from the time she graduated until she married. She is not pretty according to English standards—is the pretty Indian girl a myth?—but she is very neat and capable-looking and she is evidently a model housewife. I wish we could have accepted her invitation to stay to tea—what a lovely story I should have had to write to the home-folk!

I am almost afraid to attempt to describe the third member of the Little Bear family. I know that I cannot do her justice. Helen Little Bear—called after Mrs. Bingham—is the most fascinating three-months-old baby I have ever seen. Mrs. Little Bear follows the good old Indian custom and keeps her small daughter in a moss-bag which covers her all but her head. It made me think of the old pictures in which the Holy Child is seen "wrapped in swaddling clothes." Wee Helen's moss-bag is made of black velvet gorgeously embroidered and beaded, but neither embroidery nor beads can compare in brightness with the two black eyes that shine and twinkle above the velvet.

After Mrs. Bingham and I had praised the baby to the mother's satisfaction, Mr. Livingstone, who had been looking on with the usual masculine assumption of superiority to such trifles, evidently thought it was his turn.

"Let's have the kid a minute, Mary," he said. "That's right, young lady"—this to the baby, as he took her awkwardly—"let's see what you can do in the way of a smile; if you cry, I'll drop you and run."

"Do be careful of her back, Don," cautioned Mrs. Bingham.

"Gee, yes!" was the cheerful reply. "The young ones get cross-eyed or bow-legged if you don't hold their backs steady, don't they, Mary?"

Mary laughed shyly, and went on talking with Mrs. Bingham, but I observed that she kept one eye on the baby. That young persons was having a glorious time trying to catch Mr. Livingstone's watch in her mouth, as he swung it by the chain just out of her reach, and flirting shamelessly as only a baby can flirt. I was sorry when Mrs. Bingham rose to go. I was always perfectly foolish about babies, and this one is such a dear. I wish I could buy or steal her.

The service in the school chapel was short and simple, as was the sermon, and admirably fitted to the capacity of the children who listened to it. The singing was very good, and as we sang the old hymns I longed for a glimpse of the church at home, with Father at the desk and Mother and Ralph and Helen in our high-backed pew.

After the service was over, I met all the staff. The deaconess was very much in evidence; when not lavishing her St. Cecilia expression on Mr. Livingstone, she turned it on the doctor, who does not seem to be of a responsive temperament. Dr. McMurray is middle aged, rather distinguished in appearance, and more taciturn than Mr. Bingham at his worst.

The memory of our drive home makes me shiver even now. Before we left the Mission heavy clouds had begun to pile up in the sky. Mrs. Davidson endeavoured to persuade us to stay with her all night, and when the storm broke, while we were still five miles from home, I wished with all my heart that we had done so. First came a wind that seemed as if it would lift us bodily out of our seats, then sudden darkness, and then blinding flashes of lightning, followed by thunder so close that it sounded like the crashing and splintering of heavy timber. Even the horses were frightened, poor creatures! I shut my teeth hard and prayed for the rain to begin, thankful in one way for the untimely darkness that hid my fear. But when the rain began to fall, it did not bring the relief that I had hoped for; it came in torrents, and with such force that the drops smarted like sleet against my face—and still the thunder and lightning continued. It was so dark that, except during the flashes of lightning, I could not see where we were going, and the fear of being lost added to my already humiliating terror. We lost no time on the road, and we were at the ford before I realized how far we had come. And I had forgotten the ford!

It was dark as the horses felt their way carefully down the bank to the edge of the water; but just as we were well into the river, the whole sky broke into a blaze, and at the same moment came a crash of thunder which was absolutely deafening. The horses stopped short in the stream, Sunny began to cry pitifully, and I felt Mr. Livingstone's hand close tightly over mine. Of course I tried instinctively to pull my hand away, even although his touch did lessen the awful feeling that I was alone in the universe and at the mercy of uncontrollable natural forces; but in the deathly silence that followed the thunder he said quietly, "That's all right. Sunny doesn't like the ford either, and I always hold her hand while we cross." I hardly know how we reached this side of the river, but as soon as we were out of the water Mr. Livingstone let go my hand. If he had continued to hold it I should have known what to do, but as it was I am rather puzzled. I hate to have anyone touch me, but when he did it so simply it would have been silly for me to protest, would it not? I wish I were not so great a coward where water and storms are concerned; comparison with Sunny is not very flattering to my vanity.

The storm ceased as suddenly as it began, there was no more severe thunder and lightning after we crossed the river, and long before I could sleep—I tossed in bed for half the night—the stars were shining brightly. Verily, this is a marvellous country!

Backache

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlook the derangement of the kidneys until serious developments have made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.

This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven so effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.

Mrs. Albert Brunet, R.R. No. 1, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months, having been afflicted with kidney trouble. I used two doctors' medicine previous to this, without any good results. A friend told me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and the second box made me feel a good deal better. I have now used about six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."

Cold Future For Earth

Major Marriott Predicts Another Glacial Epoch in A.D. 15839

Professors and weather prophets are predicting great future changes in climatic conditions on our earth. As a rule they wisely refrain from precise particulars as to when these changes will take place. Major R. A. Marriott has been more definite. Working on the late General Drayson's theory of a big change in the inclination of the earth's axis, Major Marriott tells us that for the next four centuries the winters will grow progressively warmer, until about A.D. 2295 the difference between summer and winter will be least. Subsequently, however, the earth will get colder and colder every year, and instead of the tropical temperatures which some predict, another glacial epoch is promised by Major Marriott, the maximum severity of which will be felt by the human race—if any are left on the earth—A.D.15839.

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. Walked Two Miles In Sleep

Man Cycling Through Norfolk Had Extraordinary Experiences

An extraordinary case of sleep-walking is reported from Fleet, Lincolnshire. A Norfolk man was cycling through the country, and arriving at Holbeck close upon mdinight, was unable to obtain lodging. Placing his bicycle against the gate, he lay down exhausted by the roadside and went to sleep.

On awakening he could not find his machine. He aroused the village constable, and learned that he had walked to Fleet, two miles away in his sleep. The bicycle was later found where he had left it at Holbeck.

The Poor Man's Friend.—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil possesses power in concentrated form. Its cheapness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

Good-bye Asthma. Persons suffering from that extremely trying trouble known as asthma know what it is to long with all their hearts for escape as from a tyrant. Roller Bearings for Trains

Successful roller bearings for trains, for a long time a dream of engineers, seem to have been produced in England. One man pushed with ease a twenty-seven ton coach equipped with the new bearings, whereas it had taken seven men to push it without the bearings. It is expected that the saving in fuel will be about thirty per cent.

The Oil for the Farmer.—A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the farm house will save many a journey for the doctor. There should always be a bottle of it in the house.

You Can Get Back Your Grip On Health

A statement that will be of much concern to thousands of people in Alberta was made recently by William Williamson, a Veteran of the World War, residing at 215 Tenth St., Northeast, Calgary.

"I believe in giving everything its due," he continued, "and I want to say right now that I just can't praise Tanlac too highly for what it has done in my case. For some time I had been in a badly run-down condition. I had absolutely no appetite and had fallen off seventeen pounds in weight. My nerves were all undone. I could not get sufficient rest at night and got up mornings feeling as tired as when I went to bed. I was also bothered a great deal with rheumatism in my legs and ankles, which would often get so stiff and sore I could not walk without great pain.

"So much was being said in the papers about Tanlac that I went to a druggist friend for advice. He assured me that Tanlac was good, so I began using it and soon found myself wonderfully improved. After taking a few bottles my troubles all disappeared and I found I had regained fifteen pounds of my lost weight. I am now enjoying splendid health and do not hesitate to recommend Tanlac to anyone."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Lister

Gus Charleson, who has been working at Lumberton for some time past, has shifted to the Continental mine at Porthill, in order to be handier to the family here.

Fred Weston makes the round trip daily to Erickson at present, where he is working in the Union packing shed.

Col. Fred Lister will be leaving at the end of the week for Victoria, to attend the session of the legislature which opens on the 31st.

The whist feature of Saturday night's engagement at the schoolhouse failed to materialize, but all present had a fine time at the dance which took all the evening, with A. H. Bernhard in charge of the floor. Miss Hardisty was winner of the box of chocolates which featured a drawing contest

An entertainment and dance will be held in the Lister school on hallowe'en, Tuesday, Oct. 31st, at 8 p.m. Masquerade dress is optional. Admission, gentlemen 50c. Everybody welcome. Proceeds to go toward funds for children's Christmas tree entertainment.

Some time later the children are to have a sale of work, the proceeds from which will be used to finance the usual Christmas tree and entertainment for all the children in the area.

A considerable spell of wet weather is desired befor the freeze up as quite a number of the wells in the area are showing signs of going dry already.

Queen O' the Turf

"Queen o' the Turf" is a romance of the racecourse. It is peopled by a fascinating group of characters whose experience have been woven into a turf drama that recalls the memorable "Checkers," the grand old story of the turf that thrilled the whole world more than a decade ago. It is the attraction at the Grand, Saturday, Oct 28th.

The outstanding scene, among several of undoubted dramatic value, is the race episode in which two sleek thoroughbreds outdistance a field of sprinters and finish in an absolute dead heat. The frenzy of the spectators who jam the towering grandstands, the milling throngs in the betting ring where thousands of dollars change hands, the paddock where the horses are given their last minute preparation for the big event and many other scenes gives a note of realism to the production that wil thrill even the most calloused of race goers.

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, OCT. 27

Honor the Occasion

Definite announcement is made that the Valley's soldiers' memorial at Creston will be unveiled on Armistice Day, Saturday, November 11th. Arrangements are now going forward to make the day one to be remembered, and young and old alike, are asked to make every possible effort to be present on that occasion—and to be early.

The co-operation of outside school districts is sought to the end that all the children of the Valley may take part in the vocal exercises and en masse occupy the space that is being reserved for them. There will be a military parade and the band is already in shape to handle their part of the ceremony in first-class fashion, while the unveiling address has been entrusted to a competent speaker.

Don't let possible disagreeable weather keep you at home. When the boys went away the elements never prevented us turning out in hundreds to wish them godspeed. In paying our last tribute of respect to those fallen we should all be even more weatherproof.

Bay a Tag

Parents and others resident in the Creston school district are expected to be in generous humor for the next few days. The local scholars are launching a drive by way of the sale of tags for the purpose of raising funds to purchase one of the bronze wreaths that will adorn the peak of the soldiers' monument.

Some months ago the Sirdar youngsters accounted for a donation at over $50 to this cause, and the other Valley schools have also done their bit in a more or less creditable manner.

With an enrollment of well over 200 scholars and parents in due proportion—and remembering that the monument has been erected in Creston—the youngsters are at least hoping to equal Sirdar's showing, whilst every dollar over that total can be used to good advantage by the memorial committee.

Everybody do the very best they can; the youngsters, at any rate, won't bother you again until Christmas.

Fair Needs $150

To enable the directors of Creston Valley's 1922 fall fair close the year with a balance on the credit side at least $150 of additional revenue is required, and to secure this amount tickets are now on sale on a raffle of a Singer sewing machine, the drawing for which will take place tomorrow night.

The machine is a new one and sells in the regular way at not less than $90. The generosity of Mr. Powell, the Singer agent, in coming to the rescue of Creston's fall fair in such tangible fashion, is certainly appreciated, and it is to be hoped Valley citizens generally will copy his splendid example by buying generously of the raffle tickets.

With the exception of a very small government grant the local fall fair depends absolutely on the gate receipts and such contributions as its finance committee can rustle to put over an exhibition that offers over $400 of its own funds for prizes alone, to say nothing at all of operating expense.

This year a wet fair day cut the gate intake almost in half, and it is to make good the deficit the weather man is directly responsible for that the raffle is undertaken.

Everybody realizes the very useful purpose the fall fair serves. Encourage the directors to continue and improve their good work by seeing to it that they have sufficient revenue to meet all their bills. Buy at least a raffle ticket each for yourself and wife—and as many more as your finances will permit.

He who contributes to a good cause lendeth to the Lord, and He will repay.

Three Good Friends Gone

In the departure this month of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Downs and Mr. A. R. Swanson Creston has taken leave of a trio of citizens whose going is deserving of more than passing mention.

To Mrs. Downs must go full measure of credit for the establishment of the Valley's Women's Institute, which she headed as president for the first two years of its existence, as well as being an active and accomplished worker particularly in the musical features of Creston's social life.

While not so prominent possibly in the community life as his life partner, Mr. Downs was none the less highly respected. A thoroughly practical horticulturist himself, no greater pleasure could be his than unostententatiously lending what assistance he could to promote in every direction the best interests of that industry, and the while enjoying the esteem and respect of a very much wider circle of friends than himself was pobably aware of.

Mr. Downs will for many years be remembered in Creston due to his efficient work in connection with the soldiers' monument, of which he is the designer, besides voluntarily contributing the time and effort necessary to supervising the erection of this fitting memorial to those who fought and fell in the great war.

While at times tempramental, it can be well said that Mr. Swanson's heart was in the right place, and particularly when anything was afoot for the betterment of community conditions in any direction. He was prominent in United Farmer circles, an active and useful member of the board of trade, whilst in sports of all sorts he was even more prominent.

As the head of a likable family the Review knows of no one who has played their part more creditably than Mr. Swanson and his estimable wife, and certainly Creston is the poorer for their leaving.

With a very genuine happy to meet, sorry to part, happy to meet again, is coupled the hope that the departing friends will in their new homes be the same useful and respected citizens that we in Creston will always recall them.

New Minister of Railways

British Columbia has a new minister of railways. Last week Premier Oliver turned in his resignation as head of that department, and his mantle has fallen on Hon. J. D. MacLean who, for the present, will supervise railway matters as well as those appertaining to education, and the duties of provincial secretary—all of which portfolios he now holds.

That Mr. MacLean will not long shoulder this triple responsibility goes without saying, the popular belief being that a cabinet shuffle that will bring Mrs. Ralph Smith into the administration will be announced before the year ends.

In quitting as head of railway affairs the premier has made a move that will not come as a surprise to those who take even a casual interest in matters political.

To remain with the department, and devote to it all the attention requisite for its semi successful administration at best, would take up altogether too much time for a less astute leader than Mr. Oliver to give to departmental effort at a juncture when the best interests of the party necessitates his being abroad in the land, rather than more or less permanently located at the capital.

In addition to an unsympathetic daily press, opposition leader Bowser has just recently announced that he has quit his law practice, and in future will devote all his time and energy to spreading the Tory political gospel.

The one man who can circumvent the arguments and devices of Mr. Bowser is Premier Oliver, and in those constituencies that are represented by opposition members the recent convention at Nelson made it abundantly clear to the administration that both in the way of education and organization no time could safely be lost in starting an old time revival amongst the Liberal rank and file.

Just how great the ministerial offensive will be remains to be seen, but if the enthusiasm and unanimity manifest at the Nelson gathering is any criterion it seems safe to predict that the good deeds o the government are not going to be obscured by an unfriendly press and the oratory of opposition critics—not if Liberal platform effort can save the day.

As to the department of railways if Hon. Mr. MacLean shows ability equal to that displayed in his handling of educational affairs the province should be the better for the change and the party prospects of continuing in power in good measure improved.

Canada's Place In The World

Referring to the position which Canada occupies as a producer of wealth, F. C. Wade, Agent-General for British Columbia in London, has said:

"Canada has only one-half of one per cent. of the population of the world. She produces 90 per cent. of its cobalt, 88 per cent. of its asbestos, 85 per cent. of its nickel, 32 per cent. of its pulpwood, 20 per cent. of its lumber, 20 per cent. of its cured fish, 18 per cent. of its oats, 15 per cent. of its potatoes, 12 per cent. of its silver, 11½ per cent. of its wheat, 11 per cent. of its barley, 4 per cent. of its gold, 4 per cent. of its copper."

Contemplation of the fact that with only one-half of one per cent. of the world's population, Canada is already contributing so largely to the world's wealth, coupled with the further fact that, as yet, and owing to lack of population, the enormous wealth of natural resources which the Dominion possesses have barely been scratched, should convince even the most pessimistic of the great future in store for this country. These figures alone are sufficient to establish abounding confidence on the part of all.

These figures, however, only begin to tell the story of Canada's present position. Last year Canada's exports to foreign countries reached a total of $800,000,000, and more than 50 per cent. of this total was made up of "fully or partly" manufactured goods, thus demonstrating that, to an ever increasing extent, the raw materials produced in the Dominion are being utilized in our own factories and shipped abroad in a finished or partly finished condition instead of in their raw state.

At the recent meeting of the General Assembly of the League of Nations an official declaration was made naming the six most important nations in the League, outside the Allied powers of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, etc., and Canada was accorded a foremost place among these six.

If this is the position now occupied in the world's estimation and in world commerce and economics by a young and only partially developed country of only eight millions of people, what a wonderful future and position awaits the Dominion when, with several times its present population, and the more complete settlement of its lands and more intensive development of its resources, its representatives sit around the council board of the world!

A realization of Canada's present position, and the glowing probabilities of the future, only serve to emphasize the importance and need of now bending all our energies to the task of encouraging immigrants of the right type from all parts of the world to come and assist in the work of nation building in this Dominion. What immigration did for the United States in the last century, it can do for Canada in this century.

The late Sir Wilfrid Laurier once declared that the Twentieth Century belonged to Canada. The Great War delayed the fulfillmnt of that prophecy, but it was only a temporary interruption, and the final result may well be that, with careful and energetic management, the conditions following the war may be turned to Canada's advantage.

This Dominion needs immigration of a two-fold character, people and capital. Young men and women, healthy and ambitious, are required to settle on our vacant lands; youths are needed to engage in the production of wealth from our forests, our fisheries and our mines; laborers will be needed to build railways, roads and various Government and municipal works; capital is required to make such development possible and provide employment for these people. The one cannot get along without the other.

The foundation stone of all our national policies should, therefore, be the encouragement of the right type of immigrants, and the providing of all reasonable inducements and guarantees to foreign capital to engage in the task of building up a great and prosperous Canadian nation, and to this great enterprise the Canadian people, East and West, should unitedly devote their best energies.

MANY TROUBLES COME THROUGH THE BLOOD

If Kept Rich and Red Good Health Will Be Yours

Nearly all the common diseases are caused by bad blood, weak, watery blood poisoned by impurities. Bad blood is the cause of headaches and backaches, lumbago and rheumatism, debility and indigestion, neuralgia, sciatica and other nerve troubles. It is bad blood that causes disfiguring skin diseases like eczema, and salt rheum, pimples and eruptions. The severity of the trouble indicates how impure the blood is, and it goes always from bad to worse unless steps are promptly taken to enrich and purify the blood. There is no use trying a different medicine for each trouble, for they all come through the one cause—bad blood. In conditions of this kind Dr. Williams Pink Pills have been found very beneficial, as they have a direct action on the blood, enriching and purifying it. That is why this medicine is so often successful, after other remedies have failed—they reach the root of the trouble in the blood. Mr. Albert E. Giffin, Mount Pleasant, P.E.I., tells what these pills did for him. He says:—"Some months ago I was in a badly run-down condition. My blood was poor, I had no appetite and my work left me completely tired out. I fell off in weight, was altogether in a miserable condition. I was taking medicine, but it was not doing me any good. At this stage a friend who had used Dr. Williams Pink Pills with beneficial results, advised me to take them, and acting on his advice I did so. The result can be summed up in a few words: I took the pills for a little more than a month, when I can honestly say I never felt better in my life. I can now eat a hearty meal, do my work with comparative ease, and have gained in weight. I advise weak, run-down people to give these pills a fair trial."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

American Lumbermen for B.C.

The placing of shingles on the free list has caused American manufacturers to look to British Columbia to establish mills, according to Seattle despatches. One large manufacturer has announced that he will eventually dismantle four large mills now operating in Washington, and remove them to British Columbia. The position of the Americans is rendered more difficult by the fact that there is a duty of $1.00 a thousand on logs. Vast quantities of cedar logs are annually exported to Washington and Oregon mills from British Columbia.

Britain Still Leads

Relative Strength of Shipping Tonnage of Leading Nations

The new edition of Lloyd's Register of Shipping contains some illuminating figures on the relative strength of the shipping tonnage possessed by the various nations. The figures are really striking, and indicate that, while Great Britain has increased her tonnage only in a slight degree, the United States has made tremendous strides. The advantages gained place the latter country in a position to successfully compete with Britain for the mastery of the world's trade. If tonnage alone counted in the development of a vast commerce, the United States would be in a position to threaten the present supremacy of Britain on the sea.

There are altogether 33,935 seagoing vessels in the world, and their total tonnage is 64,370,786. Of this number, 4,680 vessels are sailing vessels aggregating 3,027,834 tons and 29,255 are steam and motor ships of 61,342,952 tons. Great Britain heads the list with 19,053,000 tons, an increase of only 176,000 tons since June, 1914; the United States comes second with 12,506,000 tons, an increase of 10,639,000 tons since 1914.

In 1914 Germany ranked second to Great Britain with 5,000,000 tons, while now she possesses only 1,782,000 tons. Norway has descended from third place to seventh, and Japan has risen from sixth to third position.

Agreement Between Turks And The Allies Reached On All Points

Mudania.—The final agreement between the Turkish Nationalists and the Allies on all points was reached by the conferees after two sessions of the delegates.

The Greeks refused to sign the convention because they were out of touch with their home government, and the terms were not fully approved by the Athens authorities. The Turks, however, will look to the Allies to see that the Greeks fulfil their conditions of the armistice, and the Allies gave assurances to that effect.

The agreement provides that the Turks will be permitted a gendarmerie of 8,000 in Thrace and Ismid. They asked for 10,000, but a compromise was reached on the former figure

The Thracean boundary, as specified by the agreement, is from the mouth of the Maritzar along its course to the Bulgarian boundary.

After the ceremony of signing the agreement was concluded, General Harrington said to the Associated Press:

"A great crisis has been successfully met. I believe peace is now assured. We got everything we asked for and our patience has been fully rewarded.

"The final stage of the negotiations was characterized by the friendliest spirit and I am confident both sides will carry out the agreement in spirit as well as in letter."

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. He early moved to Buffalo and put up in ready-to-use form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well-known tonic for the blood. This strength-builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in diseases of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow if you take this Alterative Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear. Her Two Children Had Diarrhoea Terribly Bad

Anyone suffering from bowel complaints such as diarrhoea, dysentry, colic, cholera, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, or any other looseness of the bowels, will find that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will give quicker and more permanent relief than any other remedy on the market today.

Mrs. Roy Keith, Charlton, Ont., writes:—"I am writing to tell you what Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry did for me. Last summer my children had diarrhoea, terribly bad, and they would vomit and pass a great deal of blood. I tried every remedy we could think of, but finally bought a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and about one-half of it stopped the diarrhoea altogether. I have told several others about it, and I would not be without it in the house, as I can truthfully say it saved the lives of my two children."

For Wider Publicity To Attract Desirable Immigrants To Canada

Ottawa.—Administration of the Department of Immigration and Colonization by a separate minister; a wider publicity scheme to attract desirable immigrants to Canada; and that the Government accept the offer of the British Government as outlined in the Empire Settlement Act of 1922, calling for joint action in securing settlers from the British Isles, were among the measures urged upon Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, by representatives of the transportation interests.

After the conference, Mr. Stewart intimated that the proposals would be thoroughly studied and the representatives of the transportation interests called to Ottawa in the near future, when a definite statement with regard to the whole situation would be made. Interests represented at the meeting included the Canadian National Railways, Canadian Pacific Railways and Steamships, Cunard Line, White Star Dominion Line, the Anchor-Donaldson Line and the Canadian Colonization Association.

Col. J. S. Dennis, in a statement on behalf of the transportation interests, made reference to the need of immigration as disclosed by the census returns, the national debt, the railway mileage and the large acreage of untilled land, especially in the west. Immigration during the first eight months of the current year, he said, was 35 per cent. below that for 1921. The steamship companies had provided greatly increased equipment for handling immigrants, much of which was now lying idle.

I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my neighbors and you may publish my letter."—MRS. JOSEPHAT A. GRENIER, Box 47, Carbon, Alberta.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble. Give it a fair trial.

SATURDAY and MONDAY SPECIAL

Swift's Silver Leaf LARD

5-lb. Pail at $1.10

Whether you eat to live, or live to eat, the best you can afford is none too good. This applies particularly to cooking.

Where Lard is required something cheaper can sometimes be used but an inferior bit of baking always results.

This week's special should appeal to every housewife. There is no better lard than Swift's, and at the price we offer it for Saturday and Monday certainly it is matchless value.

With the Christmas baking almost at hand an extra pail will be excellent buying. We are stocked up liberally.
