CLASSES OF Service

FULL-RATE TELEGRAM . . .

A highly expedited service providing immediate transmission and delivery. Charged on the basis of a 10-word minimum. May be written in plain language or code.

DAY LETTER . . . . . .

Although classified as a deferred service the delivery of day letters is subordinated only to full-rate telegrams. Day letter service provides an economical medium for lengthy messages, the rate for 50 words being 1½ times the cost for a 10-word full-rate telegram. Each group of 10 words or less in excess of the initial 50 is charged at one-fifth of the initial cost for 50 words. Code permitted.

EVENING AND SUNDAY SERVICE

A reduced rate allowing up to 40 words for the same rate as a 10-word full-rate telegram. Words in excess of 40 are charged at one-fifth of the initial rate for each group of 10 or a lesser number of words. Replies paid for at time of filing are transmitted at half rate, thereby providing a round-trip rate of 1½ times the one-way rate. Messages may be filed at any time for delivery after 7 p.m. (destination or point of filing time). Also available all day Sunday. This service is only available between offices in Canada.

NIGHT LETTER . . . . .

An overnight service, 50 words or less being charged at the same rate as a 10-word full-rate telegram. Words in excess of 50 are charged at one-fifth of the initial rate for each group of 10 or a lesser number of words. Code is permitted.

NIGHT MESSAGE . . . . .

An overnight service, at approximately 20% less cost than a 10-word full-rate telegram. Words in excess of 10 are charged at a cost per word rate. This is the most economical rate for a short telegram for overnight delivery.

FIXED TEXT MESSAGES . . .

For special occasions such as Christmas, New Year, St. Valentine's Day, Easter, Mother's Day and Birthdays, a specialized service permitting flat reduced rates for prepared texts. Further details will be found in this booklet.

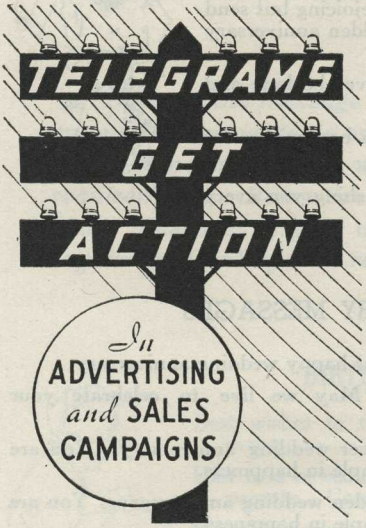
—AND THE COST IS REASONABLE

IN ADVERTISING AND SALES CAMPAIGNS

Telegrams get Results



Advertising agencies advise their clients to broadcast messages by means of identical telegrams sent to lists of customers, agents or salesmen. The quantity discounts make the cost of each message surprisingly low.

Overnight, changes in prices can be put into effect from coast to coast . . . delegates to a convention or a salesmen's gathering can each receive a telegram with all the force of a personal message . . . at little expense.

Take advantage of the special discounts on identical messages to lists of over 50 names.

ONE ADVERTISING AGENCY WRITES:

"The 1832 telegrams we sent out on behalf of the.....company were part of a sales promotion plan to introduce their new advertising campaign. In selecting this media we did so with the firm conviction that it would attract the druggists' attention much more than a letter or broadside, and if sales are any criterion, these messages played a very important part."

The message was prepared and a list of names and addresses supplied by the advertising agency. Canadian Pacific Telegraphs did the rest. Each message was delivered on the regular form by a uniformed messenger and thus obtained—

Preferred Attention! Assured Delivery! A Lasting Impression!
