Emma Dunn, Noted Actress, Arrives To Be Guest Star at the Vancouver

THE above photograph shows Miss Emma Dunn, famous character actress, having the beauties of Vancouver Harbor described to her by Capt. R. A. Hunter from the bridge of the SS. Princess Marguerite. Miss Dunn arrived in Vancouver yesterday to fill a four-weeks' engagement as guest star with the Henry Duffy Players. An Englishwoman by birth, Miss Dunn expressed her delight at the prospect of playing before a Canadian audience. Opening at the Vancouver Theatre on Monday next with "Mother," the play by Jules Eckert Goodman, in which she created the title role and starred for two seasons, Miss Dunn will provide a real treat to theatregoers.

Sketch of Expansion of B. C. Coast Service Since Transfer From Canadian Pacific Navigation Company in 1901—Value of Fleet Grows

A number of telegrams reached Captain J. W. Troup, Manager of the B.C. Coast Service, yesterday, congratulating him on completing a quarter of a century with that service, which he has completely reorganized.

In the twenty-five years since the Canadian Pacific Railway took over the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company, on March 4, 1901, the fleet has grown rapidly. At the time of the transfer it consisted of the Charmer, the only vessel now in the service, the Islander, the Amur, Tees, Danube, the earlier Princess Louise, Yosemite, Queen City, Willapa, and two river steamers on the Fraser River, the Beaver and Transfer.
