Jannary Council Meet Uneventful

Have Two Applications for Permission Freet Service Stations —Will Pay Hospital 70c. Day on All Patients from Village.

The January meeting of the village council was uneventful. Reeve Jackson presided, and Councillors Edmondson and Henderson were in attendance and if there was an outstanding feature it came to the fore in the correspondence, which included two applications to install and operate service stations at pretty much the same location.

These were from Frank and Joe Romano who wish to start up in that line on Canyon Street at a site on the Talerico estate about opposite the tourist camp. The other applicant was L.B. Schinnour who would like to do business also on Canyon street at a location just west of the proposed new hotel. The council gave its approval provided the provincial and village regulations in this connection are lived up to in every respect.

Creston Power & Light Company, Limited, will be consulted before a decision will be given in connection with a request for a street light to be installed at the corner of Fifth Street and Cemetery Road. Just at present there is no pole line erected to give such service. The council agreed to pay Creston public hospital 70 cents per day per patient coming from within the village area which will necessitate an expenditnre of about $60 up to the end of October, and this consideration will apply for all 1930.

On motion of Edmondson—Jackson the clerk was instructed to write a letter to the lieutenant-governor-in-council (which is the provincial cabinet) entering a vigorous protest against the giving of a license to develop Goat River canyon power to the South Kootenay Water Power Company.

The clerk was instructed to notify the provincial fire marshall that in accordance with his request Sam Steenstrup has been named temporary assistant fire marshall for Creston village and he is endeavoring to form a fire brigade.

January accounts passed for payment totalled $297, of which amount $238 was paid for work on village streets. Favorable consideration was given the application from B. Morabito for permission to make some needed repairs to the steps leading up to the kitchen at the King George Hotel.

Lister

Harry and Tom Yerbury, who are trapping at Summit Lake, were home for a few days earlier in the month. They report considerable suow in that locality, but so far trapping has been only fair.

Col. Fred Lister was a business visitor at Nelson the fore part of the week.

The bachelors are to do the honors at the Community Society social fixture on Saturday night, which is to be a commencing at 8.30 prompt.

Lister was well supplied with church services on Sunday. At 2.30 p.m., Rev. R. E. Cribb took the usual United Church worship, and at 3.30 Rev. C. Basse, accompanied by Rev. Carl Janzow of Nelson, held Lutheran service at the schoolhouse.

Commencing Monday a new crew went to work on the road between the boundary and the Hurry corner. Married men are getting two weeks and single men one week's employment under present arrangements.

The German residents, who have been working on the road contract at Twin Bay, and who finished the job about January 12th, were paid off at the first of the week.

R. Willcox of Salmon Arm, R.O.P. inspector for the federal government, was here on Friday on his usual inspection of the R.O.P. flock at the Fred Powers ranch.

Property owners have just been advised as to the amount of rates to be paid this year in connection with the domestic water system completed about a year ago. A rate of $4 a month is charged for domestic water, and a flat rate of $1.35 per acre. On a 20-acre place this works out at $6.25 per month.

In connection with the school taxes, notices of which also came to hand last week, the property owners have experienced something of a surprise. Due to the influx of new residents and less money asked for school purposes it was expected taxes would be lower, but the 1931 demand is almoat one mill in excess of 1930.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Stevens were hostesses at a delightful bridge on Saturday night, at which three tables were in play, and the prize scores made by Mrs. A. W. Sinclair and A. R Bernard. A tempting lunch was served to close a most enjoyable evening just prior to midnight.

Mrs. R. Price, who has been on a visit at Rossland, returned home last week.

Geo. Leach of Spokane was a visitor with Mr and Mrs. Glasier during the past week.

The hockey match on Sunday afternoon was the best of the season. The Creston-Wynndel sextette scored a 1-1 draw against the fast travelling team from Yahk.

K. Witt an, who is employed at the McInnis pole camp, is home at present with a rather bad axe cut in the leg.

Work has commenced on the new bridge over Duck Creek. The crew are putting in the cement foundation.

The K. K. Klub meeting on Wednesday evening last was one of the best yet. A splendid turnout of members and their enthusiasm in joining in the games and dancing made the evening very enjoyable

The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held on Tuesday afternoon last at which a report of the year's work and the financial statement were received and adopted. The 1931 officers are: President, Mrs. Davidge, vice-president, Mrs. Towson; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Greig. A splendid programme has been outlined for this year.

The January meeting of Wynndel Women's Institute was held on Wednesday afternoon last at the home of Mrs. L. A. Davis, with a fair turnout of members and the president, Mrs. Bathie, presiding. It was decided that while the cold weather lasted the regular meetings will be held at the home of the members and the February meeting, on the 15th, will be at Mrs. Grady's The tea hostesses on this occasion were Mrs. Desbrem and Mrs. Bathie, and the tea collection will go to the crippled children's work.

Third High School Teacher Needed

Attendance Necessitates Hiring Auother Instructor at Midsummer—May Also Need a Seventh Teacher Public School.

After disposing of the business features at the January meeting of Creston school board, which was in charge of chairman, Mrs. Henderson, and trustees Geo. Nickel and Jas. Cook in attendance, Principal Levirs of the high school in a very businesslike address outlined the more important features of the three and four year courses for high schools, and at the conclusion of his address the trustees were agreed that the four year course was the one best adapted to Creston.

In connection with the high school the enrollment now stands at 60 students and will necessitate securing a third teacher for the term commencing September. 1931. Secretary Nickel was instructed to write the department of education to find out exactly what portion of the cost of building an furnishing a three-room high school the department is willing to pay. This information will be passed on to the other school districts in the Valley in an effort to secure united action in building a consolidated high school at Creston, something the community needs.

In connection with the public school the enrollment continues to increase and is now about 214. If the increase is maintained until midsummer it is just possible there will be occasion to establish a seventh room in the public school.

Accounts passed for payment totalled $634

Death Summons J. C. Rykert

Opened Rykert's Customs Office 1882 and Resident There Ever Since—With Mounted Police Southern Alberta 1874-78.

After an illness that has extended over many months death, on Monday morning, ended the long and eventful career of John Charles Rykert, the veteran retired customs officer at Rykerts, who in addition to his pioneer connection with the civil service, was also with the Mounted Police in 1874, when the post at Macleod, Alberta, was established, and in 1875, when Calgary was similarly favored. Prior to that he had worked on a survey of the C.P.R. line around the head of the Great Lakes in northern Ontario.

Deceased, who was in his 74th year, was a native of St. Catharines, Ontario, a son of Hon. J. C. Rykert, who at the time of his death, in 1917, was the last surviving member of Canana's first parliament. In 1878 he was married to Miss Ella Wells of Niagara Falls, N.Y., daughter of Mark Wells, who founded the widely-known Wells-Fargo Express Co coming west again in 1881 when he was a customs officer on the boats plying between San Francisco, Calif., and Victoria. In 1883 he was commissioned to establish a customs port of entry to handle the heavy freight traffic entering Canada for the mines in the Kootenays, and he made his headquarters at Rykerts, where he continued to reside until the time of his death. His wife predeceased him about twelve years ago, and shortly after that he was superannuated but continued to reside at the old home with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, Mr. Davis succeeding to the post of customs officer.

Late John Charles Rykert

For many years the deceased officer handled the territory from Cranbrook to Waneta and thousands upon thousands of dollars were collected in gold dust which had to be shipped out of the country by way of Sandpoint, Idaho. The implicit confidence the department had in the late Mr. Rykert's ability and integrity, is revealed in the fact that for seven years after the office was opened not an inspection was ever made.

During his life many distinguished guests enjoyed the well known Rykert hospitality, one of these being none other than the late President Roosevelt who in the late 80's spent part of one summer here, a souvenir of his stay being still in evidence in a caribou head which hangs over the Rykert fireplace, and which was shot by the late U.S. president during his visit.

In a sketch of the life of the late Mr. Rykert, in "Scarlet and Gold," G. A. Yardley very aptly says: "One could go on writing indefinitely about a man with such a varied history and such a sterling character and thousands of tales, comical, tragic and pathetic, could be told, but the most outstanding part of Mr. Rykert's life may be spoken of by way of reference to Mrs. Rykert, the daughter of an immensely wealthy man, who could have possibly lived anywhere in the world had she so desired, yet she chose to be with Mr. Rykert pioneering in the Kootenays and ministering to the Indians. Mrs. Rykerts was the only white woman in the country for years."

The esteem in which deceased was held was in evidence at the funeral on Wednesday afternoon, which was attended by representative citizens from all points in Creston district and from points in Idaho as far south as Bonners Ferry. The floral remembrances were many and beautiful.

Deceased was laid to rest beside his wife in the family plot at Rykerts, at a commanding site overlooking the Kootenay River. The burial service was in charge of Rev. A. Garlick, Anglican rector at Creston, and during the service Mrs. Frank B. Camp of Bonners Ferry very feelingly rendered "Rock of Ages" and "Abide with Me." The pallbearers were oldtime friends, H. A. French of Porthill, Col. Mallandaine, W. H. Crawford, H. S. McCreath, S. A. Speers and R. J. Forbes of Creston.

From many points came telegrams expressing regret at the passing or so valued a friend and citizen one of the most prized of which is that from E. S. Busby, of Ottawa, chief and general inspector of customs, who referred with feeling to 40 years of personal and official friendship that has been severed.

Among those remembering with flowers were R.N.W.M.P. Veterans' Association, Calgary, Alberta; C. P. Hill, Victoria: W. J. Wakefield and D. W. Twohy, president of Old National Bank Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kent, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Blakeburn and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thomas, Bonners Ferry; and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davis, C. Moore, jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McCreath, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Rodgers, Dr. Olivier, Premier Garage, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Speers, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Kelly.

Farmers' Institute Annual Meeting

Vote $25 for Life Membership in Hospital—Re-Elect Former Directorate — Name Committee to Probe Cold Storage.

The annual meeting of Creston Farmers Institute was held in the town hall Wednesday afternoon last. The attendance was disappointing in point of numbers, and bore out the old saying that what "Everybody's business was nobody's business." However there was no lack of enthusiasm on the part of those present and many matters were promptly dealt with. The presidents address, which will be printed in full in the Review, and the financial report were accepted. The latter revealed that the value of supplies purchased for members was around $20,000. This included 20 cars of feed and some 85 cases of powder, while miscellaneous supplies perchased amounted to $1700. The membership numbered 66, and membership of at least 100 for 1931 is looked for.

The directors elected were, D. Bradley, W. H. Hilton, K. E. Paulson, Chas. Moore, E. Wickstrom.

The question of cold storage was fully discussed and it was felt that from the poultryman's point of view that a storage was essential. While it is possible to get a grant of 33% from the government it was felt that, if possible, it would try to raise the necessary capital locally. A committee was appointed to handle this problem consisting of Messrs, Bradley, Chas. Moore and Hilton.

The Littlejohn resolution was endorsed and the Institute agreed to bear one-fifth of the expense of sending a delegate to Victoria should it be necessary after receiving the report of the B.C.F.G.A. delegates to the Kelowna convention.

A letter from the Hospital board asking for support was read, and the directors were instructed to purchase a life membership for the Institute.

The secretary reported that the Egg Pool was receiving good support and that about 25 cases had been handled during December. Market conditions were not good owing to the mild weather on the prairies where the co-operatives were consigning eggs to anyone who would take them.

Various matters in connection with Institute activities were discussed and the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the directors for their services.

L.O.B.A. Whist

Twelve tables of players were on hand on Friday night for the bridge and whist drive put on by the L.O.B.A. in aid of the orphanage fund, with high score prize at bridge going to Mrs. Telford and Ralph Wilcox of Salmon Arm. Second prizes fell to Mrs. Henderson and Harold Beninger. At oldstyle whist the prize scores were by Mrs. D. Learmoth and F. Ross, while second prizes fell to Miss Marion Learmonth and D. Learmonth. A delightful lunch was served, and all present thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

Keep Cool.

Foreign Minister Briand, of France, when recently taken to task by one of the Nationalist leaders who charged him with lack of firmness in dealing with the existing situation, answered with some show of spirit: "I believe the best service one can render his country just now is by remaining cool."

Another state executive, Marcus Aurelius, gave practically the same counsel in the second century of this era when he said: "Do not be whirled about, but in every movement have respect to justice, and on the occasion of every impression maintain the faculty of understanding." Or, more briefly, keep cool.

The advice to keep cool, says a United States publication, is sound advice to every one of us at the beginning of 1931. True, but it is good advice at all times. The advice will be just as sound at the end of 1931 as at the beginning, and at all time intervening. The two quotations above demonstrate this, inasmuch as the advice tendered by an outstanding statesman of the second century is repeated by one of our leading world statesman in the twentieth century. The words used may be different, but the meaning is the same.

Do not be whirled about. Keep cool.

When the stream of life is flowing evenly toward its destined port or goal, following a well marked channel, with hardly a ripple on the surface, it is comparatively easy to keep cool. There is nothing to whirl us about, and in the resultant tide of prosperity we pride ourselves on our strength and boast of the stability and greatness of our country.

But it is when, feeling thus safe from a sense of false security, whether in our individual or national life, we reach the rapids, and rocks of disaster loom up ahead, that we are inclined to be whirled about. Then is the time for cool heads, stout hearts and steady hands. It is then that our strength will be proven, and the stability and greatness of our people and our country established.

In the realm of nature, cyclones and tornadoes result from the impact of hot air currents with cooler currents, the one rising, the other descending. Conflict ensues. So in the realm of world economics, business depressions follow inevitably upon periods of abounding prosperity. Just as heated air becomes inflated, so does man in his business enterprise become puffed up. Both ultimately must be deflated, and it is in the process of deflation that trouble comes.

Then is the time to keep cool. When the sun is shining, and storm clouds are absent from the sky, and the barometer is steady, a ship's captain has a comparatively easy time, but when the storm breaks and the hurricane roars, and the ship is tossed and whirled about, it is essential that the captain remain cool and not whirled about.

This old world is just now in a "storm centre." It is passing through it; in time it will emerge. But it is now that we must all keep cool; it is now that it would be fatal to be whirled about. The present is not the time to abandon the old charts which have guided us in the past. Now is not the time to throw the compass overboard, and mutiny against the captain. When we have finally emerged from the present difficulty we should, of course, take stock of our harrowing experience, and endeavor to devise ways and means to prevent or lessen the force of another such storm. But while the storm rages, keep cool.

Keep busy; work harder than ever before and work cheerfully, knowing that thereby the present task will be made the easier to bear; keep the faculty of understanding in full play; take alert advantage of every opportunity. Don't be stampeded and don't be discouraged. Let every one put his shoulder to the wheel and all push together.

To one and all, now and for every day of this year, is presented the admonition of the ancient Philistine leader: "Be strong, and quit yourselves like men."

Vast Gold Field In Japan

Mining Engineers Discover One Of Unprecedented Wealth

A gold field, which is declared to be of unprecedented extent and wealth, has been discovered in Formosa by mining engineers representing the Tokio Imperial University. Dr. Jisaburo Yokobori, head of the expedition, estimates the amount of gold available to aggregate $2,500,000. The deposits, he said, extend for approximately 150 miles and are alluvial in nature. "I actually picked up gold dust in river beds, in the mountains, on the plains and even in the streets of small villages," Dr. Yokobori said.

Vegetables From U.S.

Canada Imports Large Quantities Of Potatoes and Onions

During the first nine months of 1930, Canadians ate more potatoes and onions grown in the United States than the people of any other foreign country, according to a commerce department report. Despite the countervailing duty of 75 cents a hundredweight instituted in May, Canada took 43 per cent. of the total export crop of potatoes during that period. The Dominion took about 40 per cent. of the total export onion crop.

Canada paid less than a million dollars for the early potatoes and less than $200,000 for the onions.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Was Weak and Run Down

Could Scarcely Do Housework

Mrs. Edward A. Allen, Bezanson, Alta., writes:—"I would like to tell you of the great benefit I have received from your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was feeling very much run down in health, and was so weak I could scarcely do my housework, in fact, I would have to lie down in the afternoon for an hour or so. I saw your Pills in the drug store and took a box home with me, and I was delighted with my renewed strength. I have recommended them to a neighbor and feel sure they will help her too."

Prize For Timothy Seed

Robt. Cochrane, Of Grand Prairie Awarded C.N.R. Cash Prize

In recognition of having won the world's championship for 1930 in timothy seed, Robert Cochrane, of Grand Prairie, Alta., has been awarded the special Canadian National Railway's cash prize granted at the Chicago international hay and grain show to the Canadian taking first place in that competition.

Announcement has also been made by R. English, of the Canadian National Agricultural Department, that the special prize for top place in alfalfa seed at the same show goes to Nick Chjelte, of Ranier, Alta., who has been a winner in this field for some years. Cochrane, too, has been taking championships at Chicago for many years, the donors of the prize say, but this is the first time he has taken first place as a grower of timothy seed.

Overwork or Worry

Taxes the Health Of Thousands Of Young Girls

In the "teen-age" years when school or office work is exacting and outside activities use up so much energy, many girls undermine their health and spoil their happiness for years to come.

At such a time Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found most valuable. They purify and enrich the blood; build up the nerve cells and correct run-down conditions. Concerning them Miss Margaret Torrey, Indian Road, Toronto, Ont., says: "When I was attending high school I suffered a complete breakdown. My heart would palpitate at the least exertion; I could not sleep and nothing I ate agreed with me. I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and before long I gained in weight and every distressing symptom left me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Furs a Necessity

Market For Furs Has Not Suffered During Hard Times

The success of any business lies in the market demand. It might have been expected that under existing depression fur farming would suffer heavily. For some reason, however, this has not been the case for good furs, even at the late winter sales, brought fair prices. From this it would appear that furs are more or less a necessity, particularly in the northern countries.—Animal Report, Federal Department of Agriculture.

Miller's Worm Powders not only exterminate intestinal and other worms, but they are a remedy for many other ailments of children. They strengthen the young stomach against biliousness and are tonical in their effects where the child suffers from loss of appetite. In feverish conditions they will be found useful and they will serve to allay pain and griping in the stomach, from which children so often suffer.

Agriculture Needs Help

Ways and means have been devised for helping all the industries except agriculture. Thought should be directed at once to a policy that will bolster up farming. If agriculture can be made even tolerably prosperous all other industries will derive more benefit from the reflected prosperity than they could ever hope to enjoy from a tariff as high as the peace tower on Parliament Hill. —Farmers' Advocate.

Asthma Doesn't Wear Off Alone. Do not make the mistake of waiting for asthma to wear away by itself. While you are waiting the disease is surely gathering a stronger foothold and you live in danger of stronger and yet stronger attacks. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy taken early, will prevent incipient condition from becoming chronic and saves hours of awful suffering.

What Price Glory

Judging from an incident which occurred recently at the Balfour Technical school, Regina, that city might still be in wastes of snow and ice, for all one gentleman overseas knows about it. The mailman delivered a science catalogue to the technical school mailed from London, England, advertising scientific equipment. It was addressed simply: "Science Master, High School, Regina, North West Territories." What price glory, Saskatchewan?

Doctor Lives On Raw Food

Advocates Simple Diet In Order To Keep In Good Health

Hard times and unemployment distress could be greatly lessened, according to Dr. Julian P. Thomas, Winnipeg food specialist, because one bushel of wheat and one bushel of oats, together with a little fresh vegetation, would keep a man well nourished for at least a year.

In support of this startling assertion, Dr. Thomas cites an experiment performed by himself some forty years ago, when he lived on nothing but raw wheat and water for a period of ninety days. At that time the wheat cost $1 per bushel. When he started the experiment, he had such a weak stomach that he could not eat sufficient ordinary food to keep going. On the raw foods he became so strong and healthy that he was able to turn his excessive energy into money.

Upon investigating the subject, he finds that some people in all of the older nations have lived as he is now living, some of them attaining such old age that modern folks do not believe the accounts, even when they occur in the Bible. The fact is, Dr. Thomas was first induced to pay attention to his diet through reading the Book of Daniel. His first experiments were started years ago, and many people then laughed at his ideas. But all of these people are now dead, and he is still going strong, with the firm belief that he will live for one or two hundred years, and that each day of his life will be happy and vigorous.

An Accurate Clock

Designed For Timing Football Matches At Highbury, England

A novel clock has been installed on the football grounds at Highbury, England. It is a forty-two minute timepiece, and at half-time and time it sounds an electrically-worked hooter. From one to forty-five minutes are marked on the face in black. From forty-six to ninety they are in red. If a player is injured during the course of a match, the operator can stop the clock at once, for it is worked by ordinary clockwork mechanism. Thus, this clock can be adjusted so as to measure the exact duration of actual play. This mammoth timepiece weighs one and a quarter tons without its frame and is no less than eight feet in diameter. It has been designed for the sole purpose of making the timing of football matches as accurate as possible.

HUGE TELEGRAPH MERGER MAY BE ARRANGED

Montreal. — Amalgamation in a $50,000,000 corporation of the respective commercial telegraph systems of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railway is being considered by the two parties. The Canadian Press understands the proposal has also been put before the Dominion Government at Ottawa. This is the much larger idea behind the statement in Ottawa of Sir Basil Blackett, chairman of Imperial and International Communications, Limited, "that the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National shall become partners with the I.I.C. in forming a Canadian overseas communication company, which shall include the Canadian Marconi Company."

The suggested amalgamation presents obvious advantages and no less obvious disadvantages. Economically, there would be the saving in the present duplication from coast to coast in equipment and personnel, but even more important would be the advantages of a strong, all-Canadian corporation, able to meet competition and hold its own against all comers. For neither of the two Canadian commercial telegraph companies is really independent, because each is necessarily allied and more or less dependent upon one or other of the rival United States communication groups, the Western Union and the Postal, which again results in the bulk of overseas going through foreign rather than British channels.

This strong corporation would operate at a much lower cost and therefore at lower rates to the permanent advantage of the Canadian public. At the present time, eight commercial telegraph zones are strung across the Canadian continent, and a message, to pass from one to another and beyond, means an increasingly higher rate, constituting a heavy toll on the economic life of the country. It is probable that such an amalgamation would permit of the cutting down of these eight zones to only three: Eastern zone, from Cape Breton to the Head of the Lakes; Central zone, Head of the Lakes to Regina; Western zone, Regina to Victoria. In other words, commercial telegraph traffic would have to bump over only two cost summits as from coast to coast, instead of over seven, while the great area of Eastern Canada would enjoy a flat rate.

Opening Of Manitoba's Legislature Announced

January 27 Date Decided On At Cabinet Meeting

Winnipeg, Man.—Manitoba's legislature will open Tuesday, January 27, Premier John Bracken has announced. Decision to commence the session on this date was reached at a cabinet meeting.

Unemployment relief measures loom as an important subject for the session. Re-adjustment of provincial taxation to enable the government to reduce the municipal levy by one-half is another important piece of business to be discussed by the members of the legislature.

Revenues Decrease

Ordinary Revenues For Canada Decreased By $66,000,000 In Nine Months Period

Ottawa, Ont.—Ordinary revenues of Canada decreased by $66,000,000 approximately for the nine months ended December 31 last, as compared with the corresponding period in 1929. During the past nine months' period, according to the official financial statement issued recently, ordinary revenues totalled $285,221,051, as against $351,287,325.

Ordinary expenditures increased by $15,000,000 in the period under review. For the nine months ended December 31 last, ordinary expenditures amounted to $280,722,205 as contrasted with $265,141,767 for the period of 1929.

The statement represents only the receipts and payments which have passed through the books of the department of finance up to the last day of the month.

The net debt of Canada, according to the statement, shows an increase. On December 31 last, the net debt was $2,193,748,531, as compared with $2,159,214,730 on December 31, 1929.

Miss MacPhail Thinks Representatives In House Should Follow Their Conscience

Brantford, Ont.—"You can take your conscience into the House of Commons, but to keep it there—oh, boy!" commented Agnes MacPhail, M.P., in an address here, after reviewing the attitude of the members toward a woman colleague.

Miss MacPhail declared that there was great need today in parilament for members to follow their own consciences, and courage to stand for what was right, irrespective of party or the big interests. The House, she said, "badly needed Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. Charles Dunning, two men of courage."

She declared that prosperity could not be secured by injecting life into one or another industry as with a hypodermic needle, but was dependent on the prosperity of all.

Advocates Fruit Growing

Manitoba Farmer Says More Money In Fruit Than In Grain

Winnipeg, Man.—A pioneer fruit grower of the prairies told delegates to the annual convention of the Manitoba Horticultural Association recently, that fruit growing should be regarded as a profitable field by farmers.

His four acres of crab apples, plum and hybrid cherry trees netted him a greater profit last year, William Shepherd, Rathwell, Man., said, than 300 acres of grain would have. Mr. Shepherd considered fruit farming had a bright future in Manitoba.

Question Of Gold Payment

Paris, France.—The answer of the French Government to the last British note relating to the payment in gold of the French war loan, which will be remitted soon, will constitute a courteous refusal to submit the differences to the exceptional procedure of arbitration, when normally competent jurisdiction has not been invoked, it was reported recently.

Is Canadian Firm

Toronto, Ont.—Durant Motors of Canada, Limited, is now owned, controlled and operated by Canadians, it was announced by Roy D. Kerby, president and general manager of the company. The announcement said the company is now probably the only automobile company in Canada so controlled and managed.

Ottawa, Ont.—Ottawa's needy children are to have a handsome automobile of their own—the gift of the departing Governor-General and Viscountess Willingdon.

The generous presentation was made by Their Excellencies to Mrs. C. H. Thoburn, prominently identified with several organizations having to do with child welfare. In tendering the auto, of an expensive make and brought to the Dominion when Lord and Lady Willingdon first took up residence here. Their Excellencies voiced a desire that it be devoted to the use of the children for their various outings.

The car will be used by Ottawa's young folk, under direction of the Children's Aid Society.

Buys Seat On Grain Exchange

Arthur Cutten, Chicago Operator, Pays Good Price For Entry To Winnipeg Pit

Winnipeg, Man.—With wheat dethroned as king in the Chicago grain pit, big operators there are transferring their activities to the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The latest recruit to the local pit is Arthur Cutten, Canadian-born and long called king of the traders, who Tuesday, January 13, bought a seat on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. While his interests traded here before, this is the first time Mr. Cutten has been a qualified member of the Exchange.

Cutten is understood to have paid $12,600 for his membership.

British Shipyards Busy

Built Over Third Of World Construction During Last Quarter-Year

London, England.—Well over one-third of the total shipping under construction in the world in the quarter-year ending December 31, was in British shipyards, according to Lloyd's quarterly report. The exact percentage was 39.1 out of a total of 2,326,086 tons. The only figures not taken into account are the comparatively small tonnages building in Russia, which does not supply statistics.

The number of ships being built in Great Britain in the period was 181 with a total tonnage of 908,802. This was a decrease of 207,844 tons from the previous quarter, and 651,352 tons less than in the same period of 1929.

Of the foreign tonnage under construction, 232,030 was recorded in the United States, 281,215 in Germany, 179,677 in Italy, 174,215 in France, and 160,078 in Holland.

Expect Improvement In Fishing Industry

Comprehensive Survey Being Carried Out By Fisheries Department

Halifax, N.S.—A marked improvement and more stable conditions in the Canadian fishing industry are expected in the reasonably near future by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, minister of fisheries.

Speaking of the survey of the industry being carried out by the department, Hon. Mr. Rhodes said it was of such a comprehensive character that it could not be completed before next August. A study of market conditions at different seasons of the year was one of the factors involved.

New Commander Appointed

Lieut. Hart Will Take Canadian S.S. Vancouver On Winter Cruise

Ottawa, Ont. — Lieut.-Commander Frederick G. Hart, R.C.N., has been appointed to the command of H.M.C.S. Vancouver. His appointment took effect on January 20 and he will take the "Vancouver" on its winter cruise to United States and other foreign ports, leaving Esquimalt, B.C., on January 26.

Lieut.-Commander Hart joined the Royal Canadian Navy during the war as a cadet at Halifax and was promoted to lieutenant commander in 1928. He qualified for command of destroyers while serving in the Royal Navy in 1929.

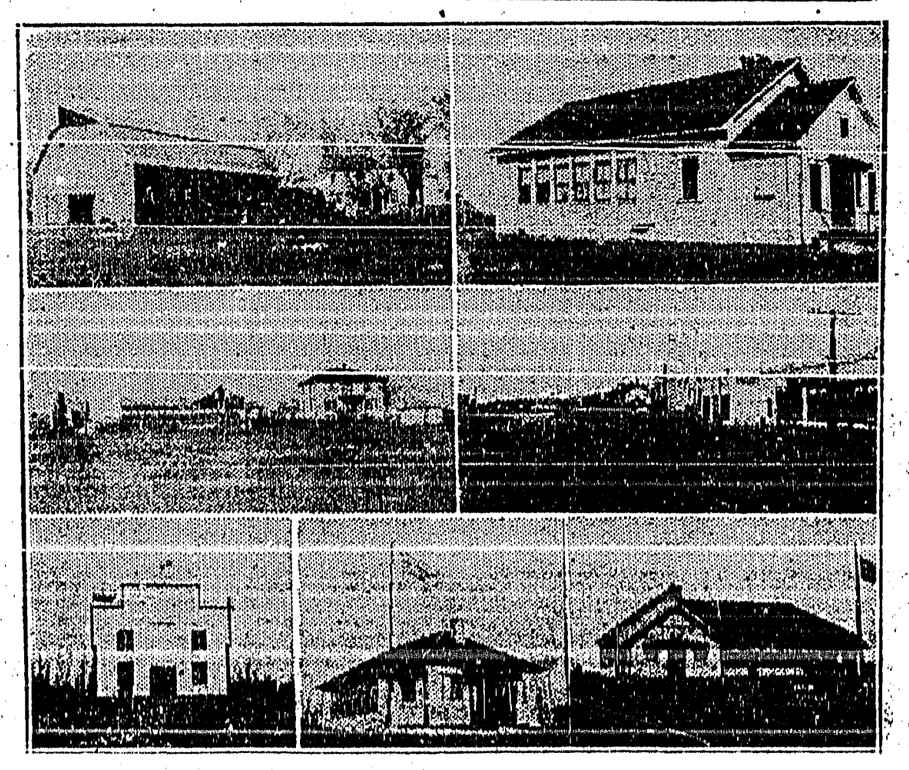
Edmonton, Alberta.—According to Provincial Government figures homestead entries and soldiers grants for the month of November amounted to 758 as against 553 for the same period last year.

Winning Manitoba Communities in C.N.R. Progress Contests



Completion of the first year's contests in the Canadian National Railways community progress competitions for European settlements in Manitoba placed Rossburn, Ukrainian, first; Steinbach, Mennonite, second; Rhineland, Mennonite, third; Ethelbert, Ukrainian, fourth, and Stuartburn, Ukrainian, fifth. Above pictures show: (1) Residence of Jacob Schollenberg, Rhineland; (2) Blumenort school, Steinbach; (3) A. R. Penner's farm home, Steinbach; (4) Main street of Ethelbert; (5) Community Hall, Rossburn; (6) Byrd school, Rossburn, and (7) King George school, Rossburn.

BID WILLINGDONS FAREWELL ON LEAVING CANADA

Ottawa, Ont.—Ottawa said "good-bye and good luck" to Their Excellencies Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon. In the brightness of a sparkling sharp Canada winter day, prominent representatives of the political, diplomatic, business and social worlds of the Dominion gathered to bid farewell to the Governor-General and his wife, who, for more than four years, have lived among the Canadian people. Bright uniforms of the soldiers, who constituted travelling escort and guard of honor for Their Excellencies, flags and bunting, and a large wreath of beautiful roses with its message of "Good Luck" added colour to the scene.

Headed by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, prime minister, members of the Dominion cabinet were present to shake the hands of Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon for the last time. Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader: Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, newly-appointed high commissioner for Canada in Great Britain: Hon. Vincent Massey, former Canadian minister to Washington, representatives of foreign governments in Ottawa, and others prominent in various walks of life in the Dominion were among the crowd which gathered at the station.

After the last farewells were said, as the train moved slowly away from the carpeted stairway up which Their Excellencies had walked to the rear platform of their private train, the band of the governor-general's foot guards struck up the National Anthem, and in a minute changed to the familiar strains of "Auld Lang Syne." The crowd broke into cheers, Their Excellencies waved farewell, and the train pulled away.

Viscount and Lady Willingdon will spend a couple of months in England before leaving to take up their new duties in India.

From Government House, which Their Excellencies left shortly before noon to drive in the state car of the Central Station, a travelling escort of the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards accompanied them. Boy Scouts lined the drive through which the vice-regal party drove in the Government House grounds. His Excellency was Chief Scout for Canada.

Accompanying Their Excellencies were E. C. Mieville, private secretary, and Mrs. Mieville, Col. Humphrey Snow, comptroller of the household, and members of the staff. Mr. and Mrs. Mieville will go to India with Lord and Lady Willingdon.

Decision On Freight Rates Re-Affirmed

Railway Board Explains Method Of Computing Reduction In Maritimes

Ottawa, Ont.—A re-affirmation of their former decision as to the correct method of computing how the 20 per cent. cut in maritime freight rates should be arrived at is contained in a judgment of the board of railway commissioners, delivered here.

The judgment decrees that on westbound freight traffic the point of whose origin lies within the "select region," the reduction shall be calculated on the ratio which the distance between that point of origin and the westerly limit of the "select area," Diamond Junction, bears to the whole distance from the point of origin to the ultimate destination. That is to say, a commodity transported, for example, from Moncton, N.B., to Calgary, Alta., enjoys the 20 per cent. freight reduction not on the entire Moncton-Calgary rate but on that proportion of the Moncton-Calgary rate which that commodity bears on the distance between Moncton and Diamond Junction, or Levis, Que.

Ferguson High Commissioner

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada's new High Commissioner in Great Britain—Hon. G. Howard Ferguson—became a member of the Canadian Privy Council, January 14. Acompanied by Premier R. B. Bennett, the High Commissioner proceeded to Government House and in the presence of His Excellency took the oath as a privy councillor.

Long distance seldom fails to find him

"I feel it is particularly appropriate at this time to express my long-felt appreciation of the service I receive from long-distance operators," a Nanaimo business man recently wrote.

"Often long-distance calls come for me at Nanaimo while I am away," he said. "No matter where I am located your long-distance oporators invariably find me and put me in touch with the person calling in the very shortest time. I sincerely appreciate this service and think it only right that I should draw this to your attention."

Library Association

Mrs. J. W. Hamilton has tendered her resignation as secretary of Creston District Public Library Association, and the directors desire to express their appreciation of her efficient and faithful services in that capacity extending over a period of twelve years.

The Library began under the auspices of the Womens' Institute and after a couple of years was organized as a separate body. The books were housed in a cabin owned by the Creston Co-operative Fruit Growers, on the lot now owned by Arthur French, on Canyon Road. Subsequently the cabin and books were moved to a lot on Barton Avenue, in the rear of the theatre. The building was wrecked in the blizzard of 1924. S. A. Speers then kindly consented to the Library being kept in a portion of his store, where it remained until it was moved to its present location in the village hall last year.

A general meeting of the Creston District Public Library Association will be held at the Village Hall on Saturday, 7th day of February, at 3 o'clock, to hear the result of the canvass for membership and to decide if it will be possible to carry on. If the people of Creston Valley desire to have a Public Library this is the last opportunity they have to keep it.

Board of Trade Annual Meeting

Col. Mallandaine Again President—J. S. Clowes New Secretary—1930 Shows Much Good Work Accomplished by Board

A year of accomplishment and much actvity was revealed in the reports submitted at the annual meeting of Creston Board of Trade which was held Friday evening at the Creston Hotel, preceded by the usual dinner and closing with the customary toasts and responses. The meeting was in charge of president Col. Mallandaine, with a representative turnout of members and citizens.

Outstanding features of 1930 board operations was the establishment of a public hospital at Creston, which had been undertaken in August by Dr. Olivier of Blairmore, Alberta, on a guarantee from the board that they would take the hospital over as a community project when the institution was ready to receive patients. This agreement had been fully met with the organization of Creston Valley Hospital Association.

The president recalled that after a close contest it had been decided to have the 1931 convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia at Creston, and he spoke in most optimistic terms of the 1930 effort of the board in interesting the provincial government in constructing a government building at Creston being realized in 1931. Very defibite guarantees in this connection had been given by Premier Tolmie on his visit to Nelson in December.

Satisfaction was expressed with the completion and putting into operation of the East Creston irrigation project and the domestic water system at Ca p Lister during 1930. And with the completion of the former the water supply in the village had been increased to the point where there is now ample water for a town of 5000 people.

Appreciation was expressed of an expenditure by the public works department of some $120,000 on new roads, bridges and highway maintenance and betterments in the area tributary to Creston. As justifying still better treatment, particularly on the North and South highway via Rykert's, the president submitted figures to show that 13,233 autos, carrying 45,421 persons, had cleared customs at Rykerts-Porthill in 1930, and in the same period 3646 autos, carrying 14,584 persons had travelled east and west through Creston over Kootenay Lake.

President Mallandaine submitted his usual carefully prepared statement of the 1930 outgo of fruits, vegetables, grain, forest products, etc., and in local industrial activity spoke in favorable terms of the continued expansion at the C. O. Rodgers sawmill and box factory, which last year had increased its payroll to just over $70,000 for twelve months' operation, and for this year was taking on new lines and pressing forward into new markets to still further increase its turnover.

President Mallandaine offered a statement of revenues collected at Creston office of the provincial police which convinced all that the erection of a government building at Creston was not only necessaty but was also the soundest kind of investment for the authorities at Victoria. In connection with forestry work it was discovered that but $17,000 had been spent in forest fire protection, accounting for 45 fires.

For 1931 the retiring president recommended that continued pressure be brought to bear on Victoria in connection with the wanted public building as well as on the construction of the North and South highway via Rykerts. With irrigation available the need for a canning and jam factory was more apparent. Whatever help could be given should be extended to encourage the growing of peas on the dyked lands on Kootenay Flats.

The election of officers resulted in the return of practically the 1930 board, the most noted change being in that of secretary and a couple of changes in the directorate. This year's officers are:

President—Col. Mallandaine.
Vice-president—R. J. Forbes.
Secretary—J. S. W. Clowes.
Executive—C. O. Rodgers, S. A. Speers, Geo. Johnson, Frank Putnam, Dr. McKenzie, R. Walmsley.

The financial statement submitted by the retiring secretary treasurer, C. F. Hayes, showed all accounts paid and a balance of $94. The usual vote of thanks was tendered the retiring officers.

The total list was somewhat unique in that many of the regulation toasts were missing, but the substituted ones were responded and proposed in happy fashion. After justice had been done to the King with a hearty rendering of the national anthem, Geo. Johnson was most eloquent in introducing a toast to the past presidents, which was responded in equally felicitous fashion by S. A. Speers and C. O. Rodgers.

Creston village was introduced by C. F. Hayes who recalled the municipal life since 1924 and maintained that the citizens had every right to congratulate themselves in taking on local self-government. The response was by Reeve F. H. Jackson who dealt in some detail with our civic life, with which he has been actively identified, having served as councillor ever since the village came into being.

1931 was honored in spirited fashion in its introduction by C. W. Allan, and the response by J. S. W. Clowes, and like ability and enthusiasm was shown towards the ladies, which toast was taken care of by R. Walmsley and Dr. McKenzie.

Throughout the evening there was some community singing with Mrs. Hewat of Kaslo, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Labelle, presideing at the piano. In closing proceedings President Mallandaine paid a well deserved compliment to Mr. Labelle and his staff for the splendid supper and the equally excellent service, to say nothing of the pleasure afforded the guests in Mr. Labell's rendering of "Alouette."

Weak After Operation

"I was very weak after an operation. My nerves were so bad I would sit down and cry and my husband would not go out and leave me alone. Now my nerves are much better, thanks to a booklet that was left under the door. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound surely put me on my feet. I have taken eight bottles. My friends tell me I look fine. My sister has taken this medicine too."—Mrs. Annie Walton, 67 Stanley St., Kingston, Ontario.

JESUS TEMPTED

Golden Text: "In that He, Himself, hath suffered being tempted, He is able to succor them that are tempted."—Hebrews 2.18.

Lesson: Luke 3.21 to 4.30.

Devotional Reading: Romans 8.31-39.

Explanations and Comments

The Nature Of Christ's Temptations, verses 1, 2.—Yielding to the control of the Holy Spirit, which had come to Him in a special way at His baptism, Jesus went from the Jordan into the neighboring wilderness, that He might there meditate undisturbed upon the work God had given Him to do. As the story is told in Mark, Jesus seems to have waged His great struggle througout His wilderness sojourn, but as it is told in Matthew and Luke, the specific temptations seem to have come at the end of the period.

The Temptation To Free Himself From the Limitations Of His Humanity, verses 3, 4.—During a long period Jesus had eaten nothing, and when He was hungry the devil said unto Him, "If Thou art the Son of God, command this stone that it become bread." The word "if" may be taken in the sense of "since": Since you have the power (Jesus had just been assured of this at His baptism), why not make use of it for yourself? The question which Jesus had to settle was, should He for His personal relief use power which was given Him for the sake of the kingdom, or should He trust His Father and accept whatever sufferings His Father might send? His answer was, Thou shalt trust.

The Temptation To Establish an Earthly Rather Than a Spiritual Kingdom, verses 5-8.—The Jews were chafing under the Roman yoke. They expected a Messiah who would free them from Rome, and establish an earthly kingdom greater than that of their father David. What might Jesus not accomplish if He yielded to their expectations and established an earthly kingdom! All His countrymen would rally to His side if He adopted the role of a temporal Messiah; for such a Messiah they would sacrifice their lives freely and gladly. The devil showed Him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time. Jesus might have all this authority and the glory of them—if He would pay the price. Would it not be a quicker and easier road to travel than the road to Calvary? To seek temporal instead of eternal good, to build up a material instead of a spiritual kingdom, would be to ally Himself with the devil to worship before him.

The Temptation To Presume Upon God's Call, verses 9-12.—Throughout His ministry Jesus was asked for a "sign" of His divine Sonship but here at the beginning of His work He settled that question once and for all: conscious as He was of His oneness with the Father, He would not make trial of Him to prove this to the world. "To leap unhurt from the pinnacle of the temple was to rival a mountain goat or a chamois, but it had no connection at all with spiritual power and was no sign of disposition and ability to save men from their sins. To abandon the region of men's actual need and work wonders, not for their relief but for mere display, was to trespass against the Father's love and to mistake the Father's intention."—Marcus Dods.

The Tempter Vanquished, verse 13.—When the devil had completed every temptation, he departed from Him for a season. "The moment that the obedience of the life was established, the mental tumult settled into peace within him."—Phillips Brooks.

Marine Merger

World-Wide United States Shipping Service To Be Created

A world-wide shipping service under the United States flag will be created through a consolidation of interests of the International Mercantile Marine Company and the Roosevelt Steamship Company, which was announced in New York.

The merger, which has been rumored for several months, was announced by P. A. S. Franklin, president of the International Mercantile Marine. The Roosevelt Company, which was organized in 1925, will retain its corporate identity.

Moose Jaw Grain Elevator

Dominion Government Grain Elevator Has Huge Storage Capacity

"Although the normal capacity of the Dominion Government grain elevator at Moose Jaw (exclusive of the new 2,000,000 bushel addition) is generally placed at 3,500,000 bushels," says "The Optimeter," "this amount of grain has been exceeded on several occasions during the past few weeks. On October 30th last, a total of 3,584,792 bushels of various grains were in store, while on November 13th there were 3,570,504 bushels and on November 22nd, there were 3,553,604 bushels stored up."

A Simple Treatment For Children's Colds

Cold in the head is very common at this time of year, especially in the very young. Neglect of a cold is prone to lead to serious consequences. To relieve all congestion of the system is the first step in treating a cold, whether in infants or adults. For the very young, Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal means of doing this. Containing no narcotic or other harmful drugs they soothe the child's frefulness, relieve its suffering and ensure convalesence.

Baby's Own Tablets are without an equal for relieving indigestion, constipation and colic. They check diarrhoea; break up colds and simple fevers; promote health-giving sleep and make the dreaded teething period easy. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Exhibition Profit

Operating profit of the Canadian National Exhibition for the past year amounted to $279,915. The city of Toronto received a cheque from exhibition officials for $110,491; this and other payments to the city bring the amount turned into the municipal coffers for 1930 up to $245,850.

A Noisy Headlight

Some day the captain may turn to the first mate and ask: "Hear that headlight?" Sounds funny, but John Rohlfs, marine expert, declares that a new type of headlight with a modified radio beam, combining light and sound, will soon make navigating in fog safe.

All-Canada Phone System

Big Telephone Project To Link Halifax With Vancouver

As a result of the co-operative arrangements between the seven main telephone systems of Canada, the work is now proceeding to realize an all-Canada transcontinental system that will make it possible for a firm in Halifax to speak with one in Vancouver, a distance of 4,319 miles, without using lines outside of the Dominion.

At the present time a long distance call from Montreal to Vancouver would require a connection first with Chicago then with Seattle and from there to Vancouver.

Up to the present time it has been impossible to link western Canada with eastern Canada over an all-Canadian route. This has been partly due to differences in standard equipment of the various companies, but chiefly to the fact that what is known as "long" long distance service requires somewhat different equipment than the "short haul" traffic, such as large size copper wire, etc.

With a view to inaugurating the all-Canada service, large size copper wires have already been installed between Toronto and Winnipeg, while the three government systems of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are now at work constructing such heavy duty lines preparatory to the introduction of the all-Canada service. British Columbia and Maritime organizations are also undertaking the work, so that in the near future the construction of the line from coast to coast is expected to be complete.

At the rate the work is at present proceeding, it is anticipated that by the summer of 1931 long distance messages may be transmitted from Halifax to Calgary, and by the spring of 1932, it is expected the entire coast to coast service will be in operation.

A pleasant medicine for children is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, and it is excellent for driving worms from the system.

West Indies and Canada

Canada must assume a temporary role of "big brother" to the British West Indies if the full possibilities of trade between these parts of the Empire are to be attained, says a report issued by the Empire Club of Ottawa following a study of the subject. In other words, the report holds, Canadians must spend a greater sum in the West Indies in order that the Island citizens may be placed in a position where they can become heavy purchasers.

"Always, Nick, or I wouldn't have gone with you, of course, I remember just how I felt. I watched you start, and the tears were so near that to stop them I stooped down and began fussing with those jonquils. And then—you came! Oh, I was so afraid you'd see! I had the strangest emotions. I was happy and frightened all in a breath—terribly happy because you'd come, even to say good-bye; and frightened because I feared my heart was in my eyes. I was almost relieved when at last you turned away, though if you hadn't looked back—if you hadn't come back, Nick, I think I should have died."

"Why, my dear, precious little Gay!" Nick's voice was husky. "I never guessed. Aren't—aren't women the very limit? Think of your springing that on me after four whole years! And I was too much of a dunce to even know that you were the one girl in the world—for me. Well, you'll have to adm't that it didn't take me long to find it out!"

She looked up at him almost shyly.

"Nick—do you still feel that way about me?"

He laughed, and kissed her.

"I wouldn't change a hair of your head, my dear."

"Really, Nick?"

Her voice sounded so sober that he said: "Why should you ask? Haven't I been a model husband? Come, Gay, let's not get serious. Let's forget every trouble we ever had, and be kids again. If we start now we can have a half hour at The Bird's Nest, and get back in time to kiss the boys good-night."

It was two weeks after this, one Friday evening when Gay and Simeon were sitting together on the porch, that they were interrupted by a call to the telephone.

"It's a long distance for Mrs. Hastings," announced the housekeeper, who had answered the ring.

Instantly Gay's heart pounded. Suppose something had happened to Nick! But it was Nick's own voice that reassured her a moment later.

"That you, Gay? How's everything?"

"All right. You frightened me, Nick. What's happened?"

His laugh came back over the wire, sounding so dearly familiar that he seemed very near.

"Nothing—that is—Gay, would you think it terrible if I didn't come up this week?"

"Why?"

Her voice was hollow. Perhaps Nick noticed for he said: Don't sound so mournful! Of course I want to come; but Mrs. Halliday has asked a favor, and I hate to refuse. Her husband's been called away by the death of h's mother, and she's expecting friends for Sunday. She'd planned to take them to Mason's Falls. They've got a new car, you know, and for some reason she doesn't want to drive it, so she asked me to go."

"I see," said Gay.

There followed the least little silence, then Nick said: "What do you think, dear? I don't exactly like to refuse. I was there to dinner tonight, and she's waiting now to hear your verdict."

"You know best, Nick. We'll miss you, of course; but if you feel you must——"

"Well, I sort of do feel that way; and next week you'll be coming home. Look here! you understand, Gay, don't you?"

Anxiety was in his voice, and she replied: "Yes I understand. Good-night, Nick. Our time must be more than up."

"Hold on a minute! You're really all right, aren't you? Not sick or anything?"

"Of course."

"And the boys?"

"Oh, they're splendid; but they'll be disappointed not to see their dad."

"You can tell 'em he's disappointed too. Gee! it's good to hear your voice! I'm getting a little tired of subsisting on letters and week-end visits. Good-night dear."

"Good-night," said Gay quietly, and hung up.

But she didn't move for a minute. She sat there by the telephonce, her heart pounding too rapidly. "Why on earth should I mind so much?" she asked herself. "It's ridiculous—childish. It's not right to get dependent on one human being for all your happiness, even if he's your husband. If I let that feeling grow on me I'll become a jailer. Of course Nick couldn't refuse to go with Mrs. Halliday. This is the third time he's dined there; and we'll go home on Wednesday anyway. I ought to be ashamed to mind at all!"

She drew a deep breath and went back to the piazza. It was dark, and Simeon couldn't see her face.

"What's up?" he questioned.

VICKS VAPORUB

FOR COLDS OF ALL THE FAMILY

"Nothing, except that Nick can't come tomorrow."

She tried to speak cheerfully, but her mood was not lost on the old man.

"Ain't s'ck, is he?" he questioned.

"No; but our new ne'ghbor has asked a favor he couldn't very well refuse. She has some visitors, and wants him to drive them to Mason's Falls on Sunday."

"Can't that cynical husband o' hers drive a car?"

"She usually drives herself, but she wants a chauffeur for this special trip. Her husband's mother has just died and he's away."

"M—m," growled Simeon. "So while he attends the funeral, she goes gallivantin' with her fine friends? Somehow, Gay, I don't noways take to that neighbor o' yours."

A breath of relief escaped Gay's lips.

"It does me good to hear you say so, Uncle Sim. I don't take to her, either; yet I can't lay a finger on anyth'ng really wrong with her, except her silly talk about children spoiling her career. I don't see that she has much of a career anyway, though she does sing divinely, and paints, too. Nick says I'm unjust to her. Perhaps I am. I'll admit that to see her ordering a man to weed those flower beds she makes such a fuss about, sometimes enrages me. She looks so neat. Nick spoke of it one day, and I just know he was wish'ng I looked the same, though he didn't say so."

"Good land! dearie, I wouldn't call you no 'Slovenly Peter.'"

"Well," Gay answered, with a rueful laugh, "I feel like one when I look at Mrs. Halliday! It's hard to keep up with everything when you have two babies as young as mine. I know some of my clothes are behind the times; but they're not worth sending to a dressmaker, and I'm too tired to sew myself. But—but I hate to have my husband think me—historic!"

"Shucks!" said the old man gently, "He don't think no such thing."

"He wouldn't have thought so if it hadn't been for Mrs. Halliday," said Gay. "She's not a product of Bakersville, and she's different from the few summer people who come to us. I just can't understand the Hallidays choosing such a place. They don't fit in—never will, I am sure. I suppose they'll just upset us a b't and go away—when she tires of her garden."

"The sooner, the better," growled Simeon below his breath; then added cheerfully: "Now, dearie, don't you go to gettin' worried about yer looks. I bet if you was to ask Nick outright he'd say you'd got Mrs. Halliday beat to a frazzle."

He rocked quietly for a while. Save for the frogs down by the mill pond, the night was quiet, unt'l, suddenly, a whip-poor-will raised its voice.

"First I've heard this year," said Simeon quietly; then: "Dearie, if I was to make you a little present—say a hundred dollars I got clutter'n' up my desk, couldn't you buy some o' them airy nothin's like Mrs. Halliday's, without the bother o' goin' to a dressmaker? Seems like I seen catalogues o' most everything under heaven, from this new-fangled underwear they call undies, to party dresses that ain't got no backs. Not that I'm advisin' you to dress that-a-way; but you can't be young only once, Gay, and I wouldn't want to think you was goin' without things you hanker for—not wh'le I don't know what to do with my spare cash."

For a minute Gay did not speak, then she arose impulsively, and seating herself upon the old man's knee, kissed his cheek.

"Uncle Sim—you're the most understanding person in the world. My first thought, after gratitude to you, was that I mustn't take a gift l'ke that from anybody; but I've changed my mind because I know it will make you happy to give happiness to me. I don't say I'll spend it all on clothes; but I'll freshen up a bit, and get some things the children need.

Sight-Sound Dramatic Production Broadcast

Actors In Studio At Chicago Make Television History

S'de-stepping sinister looking equipment, a small audience squeezed in between humming machinery in the control room of station W9XAP and watched from behind the scenes what is believed to have been the world premier broadcast of a synchronized sight-sound dramatic production.

Irene Wicker, Vinton Haworth and Douglas Hope, made television history in their appearance in "The Maker of Dreams."

The play went on the air to be received by those with a television and radio combination set, the effect being a close relative to a small talkie, but not without many flaws as yet. But the experts said "Give science time."

Everything possible was done to outlaw noise because the creak of shoe-leather would have given the impression of artillery in action; the men played in stockinged feet. The girls wore soft sandals.

Thought Converted Into Electric Energy

Invention Of German Professor Something Entirely New

A mach'ne which is said to register thought by curves has been invented by Professor Hans Berger, of the University of Jena, Germany. The invention converts thought into electric energy, which is registered on a chart. The "thought chart" looks like a weather or earthquake chart. Deep thinking shows violent up and downs, shallow thinking merely a zigzag line. So far, nobody has been able to read the thoughts themselves, and further research will be made to discover whether an interpretation of the curve is possible.

LOSE YOUR FAT

This sensible way

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common-sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd almost forgotten had existed—you get the needful exercise.

As a result instead of planting yourself in an easy chair every free moment and letting flabby fat accumulate you feel an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and needed to do to keep you in good condition.

Kruschen Salts are the up-to-date Fountain of Youth. Take one-half teaspoon in a glass of hot water to-morrow morning and every morning—be careful of the foods you eat—take regular moderate exercise—then watch the pounds slide off.

Little Helps For This Week

"Thou wilt show me the path of life; in Thy presence is fulness of joy."—Psalm xvi. 11.

I need Thy presence every passing hour:
What but Thy grace can foil the tempter's power?
Who like Thyself my gu'de and stay can be?
Through cloud and sunshine, oh, abide with me.

You remember the old story of how Michael Angelo wore ever on his forehead, fastened in his artist's cap, a lighted candle, which always shone brightly on his work, and kept his shadow from fall'ng on it. If I could always have thus the light of Christ's felt presence ever falling onwards on my path, keeping the shadow of self behind and out of sight, ah, what an easy climb it would be then!—In the Mists.

Always Ready and Reliable.—Practically all pains arising from inflammation can be removed with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Simply rub it on the sore spot and it is quickly absorbed by the sk'n. Its healing power is conveyed to the inflamed tissue which is quickly soothed. This fine old remedy is also a specific for all manner of cuts, scratches, bruises and sprains. Keep a bottle handy always.

Valuable Manuscript

A valuable Syriac manuscript in the University of Chicago weighs 50 pounds and its parchment pages are expected to reveal new light on Christianity in the Dark Ages, for it deals with "A Collection of Selected Discourses On All the Feasts Composed by Orthodox Holy Fathers."

ACID after meals

GET RID of your dread of pain after eating. Eat without fear of "indigestion," sour stomach, disagreeable gas or headaches.

When your food ferments, "disagrees," lies like a lump in your stomach it's a sign of too much acid. You need not resort to crude methods—take instead an anti-acid that will correct the condition. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

A spoonful of this pleasant-tasting, soothing fluid neutralizes many times its volume in acid. It restores the proper alkaline balance to an acid-soaked stomach and bowels—ass'sts these organs to function as they should.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is what you need when a bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, nausea or billiousness indicates an over-acid condition. Take a spoon.ul today and for several days and see how it sweetens the system. You won't be nearly so liable to colds or s'ckness. All drugstores in the Dominion sell it in 50c bottles.

Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle.
