CANADIAN CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION
OTTAWA JULY 5-7, 1938.

Dear Sir or Madam:

I understand you contemplate attending the above convention and am therefore submitting to you particulars of fares and arrangements which are being made available for the British Columbia Delegation.

For a party of 25 or more travelling together there will be a first class round trip fare of $92.50 in effect from Vancouver. In the event of special party not materializing, the special convention fare of $112.40 would apply. Either fare will allow a thirty day limit.

The cost of sleeping car accommodation between Vancouver and Ottawa is as follows:

Lower standard berth	$ 21.75
Upper standard berth	17.40
Compartment for two persons	61.05
Drawing room for two or more persons	77.00

At the suggestion of Mr. Morgan, two special cars have been ordered to leave Vancouver on the Dominion Train No.8 at 7.35 pm Friday, July 1st. Arrival time at Ottawa will be 6.40 am Tuesday, July 5th, the day the convention opens.

In order to secure the lowest possible basis of fare it is desirable that applications for reservations in these cars be made at your earliest convenience to the undersigned or to the nearest Canadian Pacific ticket agent, and it is important that delegates specify immediately the class of accommodation desired.

For delegates leaving from main line points east of Vancouver, the Vancouver party fare will apply. Delegates in the Okanagan Valley may purchase regular return tickets to Sicamous, and use Vancouver party fare from there. There are also intermediate class convention fares available for delegates wishing to use Tourist instead of standard sleepers en route.

Please be assured everything possible will be done for the comfort and convenience of the delegates, and we will be glad to hear from you regarding any information and reservations required.
