Leveque Succeeds Himself, Trustee

East Creston Irrigation District Annual Meeting Adopts Balance Sheet—Debate Return of $25.00 Guaranteed for Survey.

Orchardists in the East Creston Irrigation District were out in large numbers on Wednesday afternoon last for the annual meeting of the district in the United Church hall, with W. J. Truscott elected chairman, and P. R. Truscott, secretary for the gathering.

The balance sheet was presented by the secretary-treasurer, L. T. Leveque, and his review of financial affairs proved quite satisfactory as few questions were asked prior to the meeting adopting the statement, which has been audited by J. W. Hamilton.

The assets of the district show that $94,041 was spent on the construction of the main conduit, with the laterals shown as costing $10,785, and materials $38,379. Payments to engineers is shown at $7,401. Of the $150,000 Conservation Fund, $3332 is shown as unissued. Payments retained on contract include $4462 still due the B.C. Concrete Company, which installed the main.

There was quite a lively discussion on the item of $1176, which was a sum raised prior to construction from businessmen and ranchers to enable the trustees to engage Engineer McCulloch to make the initial survey on which the district was able to make out a clear case for the government loan of $150,000. Orchardists who had contributed to this at the rate of $25 each argued that the amount should have been deducted from the charges paid this year. The matter will have the attention of the 1931 trustees and it is hoped to be able to satisfactorily reimburse the guarantors this year.

The meeting was informed that the grading of the lands for assessment purposes last year will probably be changed this season as it is expected the government will send in an authority on irrigated fruit lands to make an official classification. It was intimated, too, that in future the collecting of the monies due would be made by the provincial collector of taxes.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Levevue, whose term as trustee has expired, was submitted by Col. Mallandaine and Frank Putnam, both of whom spoke in praise of the efficient service he had rendered, carried unanimously, and confidence of the same sort was in evidence when Mr. Leveque was re-elected unopposed for a three-year term as trustee, and with R. J. Long and J. M. Craigie will comprise the trustee board for 1931.

Erickson

Mrs. Bamford, who has spent some months at Nelson, arrived on Sunday on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Bundy.

Alex. Derby, the well known representative of Western Grocers, Cranbrook, made his usual visit here on Thursday last. This will be his last call as he has been transferred to Lethbridge, Alberta.

Steve Bullock is a patient at Creston hospital this week. He is laid up with a woodtick infection.

Quite a number of Erickson young people were at Wynndel on Tuesday night for the St. Patrick's dance given by the K.K. Klub of that town.

More than a few from Erickson were at Creston on Saturday afternoon for the annual meeting of Creston Valley Co-Operative Association at which J. M. Craigie and E. Haskins retired from the directorae and are replaced by F. Knott and W. H. Kolthammer. The former has been a member of the executive for about a dozen years.

It is expected that quite a number of Erickson school pupils will have entries in the Women's Institute birdhouse exhibition to be held at Creston on March 28th.

At the annual meeting of Creston baseball club on Sunday, Ray Crisler was chosen manager for 1931. Roy Telford had charge of the club last year.

Lister

Miss Curtis and R. Stevens are the committee in charge of the Community Society court whist at the schoolhouse on Saturday night, 21st, with an admission of 25 cents.

The grader was over the roads again at the first of the week and travelling is in good shape in this district. A crew of three men are giving the highway at the twin bridges some needed attention.

All the Lister residents working at Washout Creek were home for the weekend, taking in the waterworks district meeting on Saturday night.

Ivor Gustafson spent a few days with friends in Nelson this week.

Mr. Thiesen of Vancouver, district representative for the Canada Colonization Association, was here on Friday on a checkup of the German settlers the association has placed in the area.

The landowners had a meeting at the schoolhouse on Friday night when waterworks district matters were discussed preparatory for the annual meeting the following evening. Frank Baker was in charge of the gathering.

R. A. Hunt of Victoria, legal adviser to the Land Settlement Board, was here at the weekend, representing the board at the waterworks district meeting on Saturday night.

Mr. Wilson of Vancouver, a poultry hatchery inspector for the Dominion governme .t, was here on an official visit at the Fred Powers poultry farm at end of the week. All White Wyandottes at the Powers farm are now enrolled in what is styled a government approved flock, numbering about 150 birds. Specializing in high class production is proving worth while as the Powers farm has just received an order for 500 hatching eggs from the Hawkeye hatchery at Carroll, Iowa.

Practically every land owner in the district was out on Saturday night for the annual meeting of the Lister Waterworks District which was held in the schoolhouse with Frank Baker presiding, and A. R. Bernard secretary for the meeting. R. A. Hunt of Victoria was here representing the Land Settlement Board. Two trustees had to be elected, Col. Fred Lister's term having expired, and to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of R T. Milliner. Col. Lister was re-elected for a three-year term over Frank Baker, and W. P. Edwards will succeed Mr. Milliner, also beating Mr. Baker in the balloting. German landowners expressed great disappointment when they were declared ineligible to vote, the Water Act giving this right to British subjects only. Yearly payments totalling $6400 are required and the meeting was emphatic in declaring such an amount was altogether too high under existing conditions. About 3000 acres are being assessed, of which about 1085 are owed by the land Settlement Board, and just over 1000 acres have been sold or leased in the past two years to newcomers.

Baseball Club Ready for 1931

Expect to Have League Games Same as 1930—Past Year Success Financially—Season Tickets at $2.50 Available 1931.

Baseball enthusiasts from all points in the district were on hand Sunday afternoon for the annual meeting of Creston Baseball Club which was held in the Commercial Hotel, with M. R. Joyce in charge of proceedings. The financial statement covering 1930 was presented and revealed that from all sources last year the club had enjoyed a cash intake of about $750. Out of this the grounds had been put in first-class shape, the grandstand rebuilt, uniforms purchased, sacks, bats, balls and transportation provided, and there is still a balance of $32.

Collections taken at the various games had been uniformly good, the opening game here with Sandpoint being the big money getter, paid admissions that day running over $90. Citizens had been generous in contributing via the subscription list passed about a year ago, and the village council had donated $50. The balance sheet was adopted with little discussion and officers for 1931 were then elected as follows:

President—Frank Putnam.
Vice-president—A. L. Palmer.
Secy.-Treas —M. R. Joyce.
Manager—Ray Crisler.
Finance Committee—M. J. Beninger, C. F. Armstrong, R. Chandler, R. S. Bevan.
Grounds committee—Orin Hayden, Joe Romano.

Word is already to hand that Troy, Sandpoint and Bonners Ferry are anxious to have the same four-club league as last year, and it is expected a meeting will be called early next month at Bonners Ferry to re-organize the league.

The meeting was agreed that no subscription list should be circulated this year, but it is planned to issue a season ticket which will admit the holder to all league games and which will sell at $2.50.

Creston will have all of last year's pl yers for duty in 1931, and will have the pick of the intermediate talent which last year dished up a pretty fair line of baseball on the Sunday afternoons the league team was out of town.

The usual votes of thanks were tendered the players, officers and club officials for their work, and the general public for the fine support given the game in 1930.

Canyon City

A. Wickholm was a business visitor at Nelson the past week.

It is reported here that Mr. Tedford of the Huscroft area has leased the Geo. Leach ranch and will be taking possession shortly.

There was quite a good turnout on Saturday night for the social evening put on by the Farmers' Institute, the feature of which was a very practical First Aid talk by Dr. Henderson of Creston.

The roads in this section have been put in shape for travel, the road grader having been over them at the weekend.

A number of Canyon young people were at Wynndel on Tuesday night for the St. Patrick's dance in the new Recreation Company hall.

Canyon was well represented at the annual meeting of Creston Valley Co-Operative Association at Creston on Saturday afternoon at which F. Knott and W. H. Kolthammer were elected directors to replace J M. Craigie and E. Haskins. The other directors are T. R. Mawso , H. Young, Percy Boffey, A Glasier, and L. T. Leveque. Canyon thus contributes four of the seven members of the executive.

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Slingsby, the event being a surprise party on Howard, on the eve of his departure for Toronto, Ontario, to live. Games, contests, music and bridge were the order of the evening, and a dainty lunch was served by the ladies. The evening came to a close with "For he's a jolly good fellow," and Auld Lang Syne. Best wishes are extended by all for a successful future.

The biggest crowd ever seen at a dance in Wynndel was in evidence on Tuesday night at the K.K. Klub St. Patrick's masquerade in Recreation Hall, with Al Fredericks' five-piece orchestra supplying the music and the club president, A. F. Rudd, in charge of proceedings Almost 75 per cent. of the large attendance were in costume and considerable difficulty was experienced in awarding the prizes, with the following declared winners: Best ladies' costume, Mrs. Chas. Institute Having Bird House Fair

March 28th is Exhibition Date—Tea and Home Cooking Sale Same Afternoon—Will Back Field Day for Valley Schools.

Business and pleasure were very happily combined at the March meeting of Creston and District Women's Institute on Friday afternoon, which was in charge of the president, Mrs. C. F. Hayes. 26 members were in attendance atd five new ones were enrolled, bringing the membership to date up to 40.

The bird house competition, which is open to all boys attending public school at Erickson, Alice Siding and Creston, will be held in the United Church hall on Saturday, March 28th, with all houses to be in place by noon, so that judging can be started immediately after lunch. The Institute ladies will serve tea and home cooking will also be on sale at the fair.

For the school committee, of which Mrs. Hendy and Mrs. Mallandaine are members, the latter reported that Principals Levirs and Marriott of the high and bublic school had been interviewed regarding a field day for the local school and that they were in favor of such an event, and had also assured that a like get-together for all the schools in the valley would be taken up at the March meeting of the teachers association. Authority was given the committee to purchase some first aid supplies as well as to spend up to $10 in securing a vaulting pole for the senior pupils at the public school.

The hospital committee is made up of Mrs. Jas. Cook, Mrs. R. Stevens, Mrs. Cherrington and Mrs. Hayes and the former, as convenor, reported a very busy four weeks since the last meeting. A regulation hospital bed had been installed in the institute ward at the hospital and this room is now modernly furnished throughout. Mending of hospital linen has been taken care of and supplies in the way of pillows, bed jackets, towels, etc., had been supplied. Anyone with clean white rags to spare can do the hospital a good turn by donating these through the institute's committee.

The visiting committee of Mrs. M. Young and Mrs. M. Ross reported making half a dozen calls. $2 was voted for a membership in the Home Crafts Fund, through which materials for home craft work can be secured at all times.

Vocal solos were contributed by Master Tom Johnston and Mrs. Edmondson, with Mrs. Kernaghan as accompanist, and Mrs. J. E. Johnston favored with a recitation. The tea hostesses were Mrs. F. C. Rodgers, Mrs. Cherrington and Mrs. Cook, and the collection for the crippled children's work was $8.

Reckless Motor Driving

With the approach of spring the time draws near when once again the roads and highways of the country will be thronged with tens of thousands of automobiles and the streets of our larger cities jammed with traffic. Soon tourists will again be in our midst, while week-end trips from our centres of population to summer resorts and other vacation spots will engage the attention of the residents of all urban and many rural sections.

Is the result to be the hanging up of another new high record number of fatalities arising out of automobile accidents? Is 1931 to provide another dark spot on our much vaunted civilization with as much recklessness in automobile driving and resultant deaths as were recorded in 1930? Are the more and better highways being provided all over the country to have the tragic outcome of steadily adding to the death toll because people using such better roads exercise less care in operating their cars?

Recent figures published for the city of Regina show a very large increase in the number of car accidents reported in 1930 as compared with previous years, and what is true of Regina is true of practically every ctiy in Canada and the United States.

A United States magazine, in a recent issue, dealt with the rising death toll due to reckless automobile driving across the line. While these figures apply only to the United States, they disclose a state of affairs which is equally applicable to Canada. A few of the facts established may well be quoted.

Motor accidents in the United States, in 1930, killed 32,500 people, and injured more than 960,000,—in other words, one million victims. More than 2,000 little children under five years of age were killed, and more than 45,000 were injured. The magazine notes that the World War did not take a greater toll of American lives in battle.

Remarkable as it may seem, this magazine considers that the most encouraging aspect of this appalling loss lies in the fact that recklessness was its principal cause, saying: "If carelessness and over-confidence kill and injure so many, carefulness and consideration can prevent such losses."

Evidence goes to show that the majority of accidents occurred on straight and dry roads, in broad daylight, with experienced and mature drivers at the wheel. In an overwhelming majority the machine functioned properly; the man was at fault. He took unjustifiable chances.

In a striking analysis of accident reports from forty States, a well known insurance company dispels many cherished illusions on this subject. Contrary to a common impression, women were proved to be safer drivers than men. Young men at their best physical development were the worst offenders.

Improper driving and nothing else was responsible for more than two-thirds of all the deaths and injuries recorded in 1930. Speeding, driving on the wrong side of the road, and failure to grant right-of-way, all evidences of improper driving, accounted for 68 per cent. of the accidents.

Other violations of the laws as well as of common sense took a heavy toll. Failure to signal caused the deaths of 490 people, and accounted for the injuries of 48,928. More than 80,000 accidents resulted from motorists driving off the roadway. The biggest single cause of accidents, however, was the improper attempt to take the right-of-way from some other traveller—selfishness, hoggishness.

As might be expected, week-end driving is most hazardous. Sunday is the worst day by far, and Saturday is next.

There was a time when defective construction of cars, poor brakes, etc., were held responsible for most accidents. Today the fact has been well established that as drivers we are not so good as the cars we operate. Men have learned to operate ships at sea safely. The records of the railroads are marvellous. Where safety is the goal, airplanes have achieved miracles in protecting human life. In other words, we can operate high-powered, fast moving machines if we put our minds to it.

What we have to learn is that safety is more important than speed. Drivers must be made to realize that they are steering three or four thousand pounds of steel in swift momentum, the possible destructive power of which is enormous.

Safety is worth more than anything else. The maiming, and the killing, and the destruction of millions of property must be stopped and we, the average drivers, can do it.

La Grippe and "Flu" are Spreading

"Flu" First Appears as a Sore Throat, but Gains Tremendous Headway in Six Hours

AN EFFECTIVE TREATMENT DESCRIBED

Nearly every case of "Flu" starts with a simple cold. At first the throat is sore—often just a little hoarse—soon the infection goes lower—then the chest is affected. A safe plan is to gargle the throat three times daily with "Nerviline"—this will keep the throat free from germs. If there is any sign of tightness in the chest, rub on Nerviline—every drop penetrates deeply—congestion will be relieved—the cold will break up quickly. Many a dangerous case of "Flu" can be avoided by this simple home treatment.

Experienced mothers know how valuable Nerviline is for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, and the little ailments that arise in every family. Nerviline in most homes is called "Mother's Best Friend." 35c at all dealers.

World's Leading Flyer

French Aviator Wins Award Holding Five World Records

Dieudonne Coste, Paris-to-New York flyer, has been designated the world's premier aviator by the awards committee of the International League of Aviators.

Miss Amy Johnson, who flew from London, England, to Australia, was given highest honors among women flyers. She and Coste were received at the Elysee Palace by President Doumergue and presented with silver cups at a formal ceremony.

Coste's only rival at the committee session was Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, the Australian "ace," and the Frenchman was chosen because he holds five world records in addition to the accomplishment of his Atlantic flight.

The committee also ordered plaques to be struck to honor Mrs. Victor Bruce, Maryse Bastie and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh.

Dr. Hugo Eckener was designated the world's premier dirigible pilot.

Magnesia Best for Your Indigestion

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, take a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them. They are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and make digestion easy. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

Life Insurance More Popular

People Taking Advantage Of Attractive Policies Offered

One of the outstanding developments in the recent financial history of the United States is the remarkable growth of life insurance. The application of the principle of group life insurance to institutions and industries has made life insurance available to large numbers of persons who have never before carried any form of life insurance. The individual amounts of insurance in these cases are usually small, ranging from $1,000 to $5,000. But there has also been a marked increase in the number of large policies written. In 1923 there were 58 persons whose lives were insured for $1,,000,000 or more. In 1930 there were 323 persons carrying life insurance for that amount.—Wall Street Journal.

Hatchery Approval Policy

Big Saving To Canadian Farmers This Year Is Forecast

A saving to Canadian farmers this year of $300,000 is forecast for the hatchery approval policy of the Department of Agriculture, according to the Minister, Hon. Robert Weir. Under the scheme, 134 hatcheries are operated, producing about 5,000,000 baby chicks a year, which are available to farmers at low prices. Records show these chicks to have a low mortality rate.

Unusual Operation

Piece Of Dental Plate Is Removed From Lung Of Patient

A piece of dental plate, measuring 1¼ inches by ½ inch and holding three teeth, was taken from the lung of Victor Brander, Cochrane lumber merchant, by Dr. S. B. McMillan, of the Lockwood Clinic in Toronto, after one of the most unusual operations in medical records.

Four months ago Brander was seized with a violent coughing spell, and, without knowing it, bit upon the metal dental plate. The broken portion passed down his throat and lodged in his lungs.

The bronchoscope, instrument used for retrieving objects from the lungs, was used and it took more than two hours of very delicate manipulation by the doctor before he was successful.

Came Back To Starting Point

Because the early Egyptian calendar allowed exactly 365 days to a year, a festival observed on a fixed date would occur one day earlier every four years, until in the course of 1,460 years it had been observed at every season and was back at the starting point.

POOL ELEVATOR PROBE IS ASKED FOR MANITOBA

Winnipeg, Man. — Charges that Manitoba Wheat Pool elevators deprived their farmer-shareholders of "enormous sums" through overages and under-grading may be probed by the provincial government.

Premier John Bracken had before him for consideration two requests for the appointment of a royal commission to inquire into the operation of the Pool elevators. One was from J. R. Murray, vice-president of the Alberta Pacific Grain Company, Limited, the other was delivered from Colin H. Burnell, president of the Manitoba Wheat Pool.

With both the accused and accuser demanding a governmental investigation, it seemed certain that a commission would be appointed, although grain authorities here thought the premier might wait action of the Dominion government which, it has been rumored, soon will appoint commissioners to conduct a probe into grain marketing.

Premier Bracken refused comment on the letters. He said the government must have time to study the texts before announcing the stand to be taken. "I have nothing to say at present," he told newspaper interviewers.

"That should be satisfactory," said Mr. Murray, when advised that the president of the co-operative organization had requested a commission of investigation. "My charges are not an attack on the Pool by the grain trade," he said. "I sought the probe on my own responsibility, in the interests of my many good friends among the farmers."

Mr. Burnell branded the charges of "extravagantly high expenses," etc., "absolutely false" in his letter to the premier, and urged that a commission be appointed "as soon as possible," to probe the allegations.

In a letter to Mr. Bracken, Mr. Murray made his charges against the Pool elevators operation, and urged a government inquiry. He charged that farmers were "inveigled" into becoming shareholders in Pool elevators, had been deprived of large sums through overages and under-grading to meet "extravagantly high expenses" and that the latter had been concealed from shareholders by "bookkeeping devices."

The letter from Mr. Burnell to the premier reads: "I have seen in the press a letter from Mr. Murray, former manager of the United Grain Growers, in which he charges the Manitoba Pool elevators with practices which by inference are equivalent to the deliberate cheating of the members of the Pool elevator associations, and he demands you to institute an investigation into Manitoba Pool Elevators, Limited.

"These charges are absolutely false, and I am instructed by the board of directors of the Manitoba Pool Elevators, Limited, acting on behalf of the members and patrons of the local Pool elevator situation, to request you to have a commission appointed to fully investigate the above mentioned charges as soon as possible."

To Assist Farmers

Government Grants For Promotion Of Cattle Raising

Ottawa, Ont.—Government grants for the promotion of cattle raising in Western Canada were announced by Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture. With a view to assisting farmers to establish themselves in the breeding of cattle for either beef or dairy purposes, the government will pay freight charges on carload lots of accredited stock from Eastern Canada.

Freight charges will be refunded, Mr. Weir stated, provinding the consignee forwards to the acting livestock commissioner at Ottawa the receipted freight bill and a formal statement showing that conditions attached to the grants have been complied with. In order to benefit, the purchaser must show that the carload consisted of at least 12 head of female cattle, not under eight months and not over five years of age.

Only cattle that have been declared by a Dominion veterinarian to be free from tuberculosis or other disease may be included in a shipment and the animals must be shown to be of merit from a producing standpoint. The new policy goes into effect immediately.

Official notice to this effect has been forwarded to the shareholders.

Toronto, Ont.—"While no direct explanation was forthcoming to explain why the Canadian Pacific should require an additional $50,000,000, if approved, it is generally understood that it indicates a continuation of the company's expansion programme," the Mail and Empire says.

"It has been known for some time that the Canadian Pacific plans expansion of its rail service through the Canada west," the newspaper continued.

The reports from Saskatchewan indicate that the total number of men given employment was 19,554 up to February 28, 379,174 man-days work having been provided. In addition 14,151 individuals were given direct relief.

Woollen Mill Owners Are Visiting Canada

Better Business Relations Being Sought By Scotch Manufacturers

New York.—Four representatives of woollen manufacturers of Scotland arrived here on the liner "Olympic" on their way to Canada for the purpose of promoting better business relations with the Dominions. There was a possibility they would discuss arrangements for establishing branches of representative firms in Canada. They will also visit throughout the United States. Their Canadian itinerary will include Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal.

French Envoy For Ottawa

Ottawa, Ont.—Once again France is represented in Canada by her own minister. Charles Arsene Henry, minister plenipotentiary to Canada of France, accompanied by Madame Henry, has arrived in Ottawa from New York. At Montreal M. Henry said he thought France would prove a good market for Canadian wheat as she has not committed herself to relegated purchases from European countries.

For Empire Trade

London, England.—The erection of Empire Marketing Board poster frames in Canada to demonstrate work being done by the board in promotion of the sale of British products in Britain is being considered by the government, Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary for Dominion affairs, stated.

Work For Unemployed

Says More Relief Money Earned In Manitoba Than Any Other Western Province

Winnipeg, Man.—Hon. W. R. Clubb, director of relief projects, replied to Conservative charges that Dominion government money had been withheld from unemployed in Manitoba with an assertion that more unemployment relief money had been earned in Manitoba than any other western province. He told the legislature that projects financed jointly by the Dominion, province and municipalities had been started promptly last fall and would be continued in the spring.

This province, said Mr. Clubb, had led the way in providing jobs for the out-of-work. Instead of money being withheld, it had been paid out in late-fall and winter construction. More would go to men now out of jobs when some of the largest projects were started in the spring.

By using Dominion Government relief money in constructing Manitoba's link of the trans-Canada highway, Mr. Clubb said more men had been employed than if the province had done the work alone. A "wider and better" road would be the result, he added.

Wheat Exports Increase

Ottawa, Ont.—Wheat is moving freely through export channels, according to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. During the seven months ended February 28, exports totalled 148,594,000 bushels, as against 88,420,000 bushels in the corresponding period a year ago.

Shipments of Canadian wheat from United States ports are not included.

Despite the heavier volume, lower wheat prices kept the total value down, the figure being $111,725,000, as compared with $117,429,000. Of the total, 90,746,000 bushels went to the United Kingdom, 7,722,000 bushels to the United States, and 50,125,000 to other countries.

Arranging New Mail Service

Sea and Air Service Will Soon Be Connected

London, England.—As soon as the connecting air service is available, letters prepaid for air transmission, will be carried by sea from Great Britain to Belle Isle and thence taken by air to Montreal and beyond, the assistant postmaster-general S. P. Iviant, announced in the House of Commons.

Arrangements to this effect have been completed with the Canadian authorities, and the date of the opening of the service and the fees to be charged will be announced in due course.

CANADA'S NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL

Here are shown Earl and Countess of Bessborough. The Earl of Bessborough has been appointed the new Governor-General of Canada in succession to Lord Willingdon. Widely experienced in parliamentary and financial affairs, Earl of Bessborough is now 51 years of age. The Countess is the daughter of Baron de Neuflize of Paris. They have a son and daughter.

NAVAL ACCORD IS MADE PUBLIC IN LONDON

London, England.—Limitation of French and Italian naval programs until 1936 is definitely laid down in the terms of the British-Franco-Italian naval accord, made public recently.

But even more important than its technical provisions in the opinion of the three governments concerned, the agreement brings European peace measurably closer and provides a point of departure for the disarmament conference at Geneva next year.

The accord covers building programmes for battleships, cruisers, aircraft-carriers and submarines, in substance as follows:

Battleships—Both France and Italy are given the right to complete before December, 1936, two capital ships whose displacement shall not exceed 23,333 tons, and whose gun calibre shall not exceed 12 inches.

Cruisers—Both nations agree that after completion of the 1930 class they will build no more big cruisers with armament larger than six-inch guns. In the small cruiser category they agree that tonnage of new construction to be completed shall not exceed the tonnage which is replaceable in this category before December 31, 1936.

Aircraft-carriers—Each nation may build 34,000 tons in this category.

Submarines—Both countries agree not to include any submarines in the 1931 programme, and not to lay down any further submarine tonnage before 1933.

Essence of the agreement is maintenance of the status quo in tonnage ratios, France retaining an estimated superiority of 150,000 tons.

The terms were made public here in the form of a memorandum to parliament by Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Secretary, and Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, who achieved the agreement in conferences with representatives of France and Italy.

Gasoline Prices Reduced

Cut Is Announced In Prices For Eastern Canada

Montreal, Que.—Gasoline prices in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime provinces were reduced this morning.

The reductions follow: Toronto, the Island of Montreal, and principal cities in Western Ontario, 2½ cents per gallon; elsewhere in the provinces of Quebec and Ontario, 1½ cents per gallon; Maritime provinces, one-half cent per gallon.

The changes were announced by John Irwin, president of McColl-Frontenac Oil Company, who said all refiners had decided on the changes. It was the second downward revision of prices in about a month, and followed the establishment by the Ottawa Government of a 2½ cents protective tariff on the products of Canadian oil refineries.

Rules Of Living

Gandhi Gives Four Commandments To His Followers

Ahmadabad, India. — Mahatma Gandhi gave four commandments to his followers recently.

When they asked him what their conduct should be he replied:

"Don't tell lies."

"Don't use abusive language."

"Don't smoke."

"Don't eat sweets."

A youth asked plaintively, "How about tea?" and Gandhi replied wtih a broad smile, "You may drink tea. Drink it from the River Sabarmati." The Sabarmati is the holy river of Gujerat.

Grandson Of Jules Verne

Havre, France.—Jean Jules Verne, whose grandfather wrote "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," has sailed for New York on the liner "Lafayette," to be a guest at the launching of the submarine "Nautilus," in which Sir Hubert Wilkins plans an undersea expedition to the North Pole. Verne is a police magistrate in Rouen.

After this he'll telephone first

"I'm sorry, sir, every room in the place is taken!"

Bill was in a pretty pickle. He had expected to spend the night in the town, but evidently many others had the same idea.

If I'd only taken Jack,s advice and made reservation by long-distance telephone," Bill reflected. But he hadn't, so there was nothing left to do but push on to the next point—after he had put through a telephone call to make sure of accommodations there.

"Believe me, I'm going to let the telephone save me a lot of inconvenience from now on," he said as he continued on his way.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Time to Reorganize

Editor Review:

Sir,—Could you tell me what has happened to the Creston Valley Conservative Association executive? I have never seen the obituary notices of any of them, or of their having left the country, in your esteemed paper.

One would think that they could do some very interesting work just now in the public works department, which is certainly far from being what it should be. If the Liberal Association executive could reorganize the public works department in this district, why can't the Conservatives do the same?

No wonder, at Victoria, the finance minister has to put a one per cent. tax on the workers' wages. If the other districts are handled like they are here you need not be surprised to see the tax go to ten per cent., and I think it is high time someone awoke to the fact of what is going on in the Creston Valley, or the next provincial election will certainly tell its own tale.

DISGUSTED RATEPAYER.

HOME BREW

In connection with hospital finance, while the Review has been specializing in an effort to secure life memberships at $25, let us make it clear that if a remembrance of this size is out of the question the next best contribution you can make will be quite satisfactory, And might we remind that he gives twice who gives quickly, that the Lord loveth a cheerful giver, and that "he who gives to a good cause lendeth to the Lord, and He will repay."

To Conservative members who are insisting that finance minister Jones raise the income tax exemption from $600 to at least $1000 per year, the minister retorts that such consideration would mean the loss in revenue of at least $800,000. All of which goes to show just how heavily the tax falls on the small wage earner. Incidentally we believe that Mr. Littlejohn will agree with us that here is another case where "From him that hath not shall be taken even that which he hath."

The Review was altogether too conservative last week in at least one feature of its reference to Tolmie government extravagance. We had it that about 50 new civil servants had been taken on since the Tory administration came into power 30 months ago. The correct total is 192, drawing total salaries of $200,000. With business so quiet in all departments surely all of these could now be laid off and the resultant saving enable the finance minister to raise the income tax minimum in like proportion.

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, minister of education, fondly hopes the municipalities will not take the Jones income tax so badly now he assures them that $500,000 is to be given the cities and district municipalities to help them with school expenditures. The Hinchliffe proposal will not affect Crestou, however, as the village has nothing to do with school financing If Creston's share could be transferred to the public works department and ear arked for expenditure on the Creston-Rykerts link of the North and South highway—with the aid of a powerful microscope it might be possible to determine just how much betterment has been thus accomplished.

One of the stoutest defenders of the Jones income tax is Hon. R. L. Maitland, one of the members from Vancouver. His efforts, however is very heavily discounted due the fact that Vancouver Central Conservative Association has just called on Mr. Maitland and the other M.P.P.'s from that city to resign as a protest against the finance minister's iniquitous proposals.

Along with its demand for the resignation of the six members the Vancouver Conservatives ask that the Tolmie cabinet be reduced from the present twelve members to about eight. The idea is of merit. The Tolmie government has as many cabinet ministers as the government in Ontario—a province of over 3,000,000 inhabitants and an annual revenue of about $72,000,000. In 1928 the Liberals governed the country with half a dozen ministers, and made ever so much better job of it than Premier Tolmie and his galaxy of good spenders.

The board of trade does well to protest the transfer of C. B. Twigg, district agriculturist, to Cranbrook. Everyone will commend the administration on the economy the change effects, but if the greatest good to the greatest number is the aim of the department of agriculture then it would certainly be well to have Mr. Twigg serve Cranbrook and district from Creston rather than the proposed new arrangement. Creston district has just about as many men on the land as the rest of East Kootenay combined, and in value of production Creston's superiority is just as pronounced.

The official tryout on Saturday of the town's new fire alarm while unsatisfactory does not, of necessity, prove that the bell will not serve the purpose. Now that the investment has been made it might be well to heighten the bell tower cosiderably and also make it somewhat roomier and thus give the tone a better chance to develop and distribute. Unless one were listening for it residents on Vancouves street could not hear the alarm. In fact Friday night's alarm for the blaze at the power house went unheard.

Last week's card of thanks from Wynndel Women'i Institute emphasizing the life-saving support at the Institute dance on the sixth by people from Creston, Canyon and Erickson does not listen good, and is hard to understand in a section hitherto noted for its community spirit The Review is entirely disinterested in what looks to have been a sort of boycott on a bit of unselfish effort in a commendable cause, and it seems just too bad that the good people of old Duck Creek cannot agree to disagree in such circumstances.

And while we are paying some attention to the pleasurable activities at Wynndel it may be opportune to observe that an effort should be made to secure a suitable name for the new auditorium the Recreation Company has recently opened. "Community hall" is not exactly fitting and does not do full justice to this fine structure. Surely there is something historical or of community significance that could be fittingly commemorated in the name agreed upon for the building that will serve so well as a community centre. Up to the time of his untimely passing the late Bob Dixon enjoyed a considerable popularity in that area, particularly in school matters. How about Dixon Hall? All of which is ever so respectfully submitted.

Plans for a district field day for school pupils were discussed. Any athletic talent would be developed, and a representative might be found to compete in the Kootenay-Boundary District sports at Nelson in May.

THE USE AND ABUSE OF GOD'S GIFTS—TEMPERANCE LESSON

Golden Text: "Be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled with the Spirit."—Ephesians 5.18.

Lesson: Luke 12.

Devotional Reading: Matthew 6.19-24.

Explanations and Comments

The Warning Against Covetousness, verses 13-21.—A certain rich man, so the parable of Jesus begins, whose fields yielded more than his barns would hold, propounded to himself this query, "What shall I do because I have not where to bestow my fruits?"

"God has provided barns for superfluous corn in mouths that hunger, limbs that shiver, homes where the orphaned and the widowed sit in want. To store in these treasure-houses is the luxury as well as the duty of wealth."

The rich man proceeded to answer his query: "This will I do; I will pull down my barns, and build greater. And I will say to my soul [some one observes that he was talking to his stomach under the impression that he was addressing his soul], Soul, thou hast much good laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, be merry." "He does not say to it, 'Now, my soul, let us study art, and music, and literature.' The finer instincts have gone; his feeling for God, his enthusiasm for humanity. He has so lived that at the end of his years he has lost the capacity to live. He has made a living and unmade a life."—J. H. Jowett.

"It is a shameful conception of wealth which regards it only as a means to ease and luxurious living. The ease it brings is, or should be, only the reward for the heavy responsibilities it imposes. The man who is rich by reason of the great business interests he has built up is accountable to the community for the honesty and usefulness of his service, to his hundreds of thousands of employees for such a conduct of the business as will assure them of their means of livelihood, to his own conscience for laborious and unremitting attention to the wearisome details of business management. Too often the loss of leisure, health, and happiness is the penalty he pays for the luxuries he enjoys."

"The rich fool made three mistakes: he mistook his body for his soul; he mistook time for eternity; and he mistook himself for God, the Ruler of all destinies."—James Orr.

God said unto him, "Thou foolish one, this night is thy soul required of thee; and the things which thou hast prepared, whose shall they be?"

The Parable Of Faithful and Unfaithful Servants, verses 35-40.—Watch eagerly for the coming of the King, like servants of a lord who, with loins girt for servcie, and with lamps burning, await his coming in the night time. "In the spiritual sphere the loins girt point to a noble purpose in life, and the burning lamp to the spirit of hope." When the master finds them watching, he in his joy will himself take the place of a servant, make them sit down, and serve them. Blessed is that master who finds them watching in the second or in the third watch—the time when men are most liable to give way to sleep. Then Jesus used a new figure, that of a master of the house on his guard against the coming of a thief at an unexpected time. And the conclusion of the parable is: "Be ye also ready; for in an hour that ye think not, the Son of Man cometh."

Manufacturing In the West

Figures Would Indicate Phenomenal Development Within Recent Years

J. M. Davidson, managing secretary of the Industrial Development Board of Manitoba, pointed out in the course of an address in Montreal recently, that industrial production in Alberta exceeds $100,000,000 annually; in Saskatchewan, $60,000,000 and in Manitoba, $165,000,000. There are $16,880,000 more capital invested in Manitoba's manufacturing industries, he added, than in all the livestock, poultry, implements and machinery in the province, and Manitoba's manufacturing output last year was more than double the combined western returns from dairy products, field crops (exclusive of grain), poultry and honey.

Try Miss Caldwell's Recipe for *RASPBERRY BISCUITS

2 cups flour
4 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons shortening
¾ cup milk
Tea-cubes of sugar
Raspberry juice or syrup

Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Cut the hard, cold shortening into them with a knife, using a quick, short, chopping motion; or reduce the hard cold fat to tiny particles with a pastry blender or a steel-pronged fork. When the mixture resembles a very coarse meal, add the liquid, mixing quickly and lightly. Turn out the dough on a slightly floured board; pat it down lightly or roll it to a thickness of about one inch. Shape with a small cutter or cut in squares with a floured knife.

Dip the small lumps of sugar into syrup from canned or fresh respberries . . . Press a lump into each biscuit . . . forcing it well down into the dough so that it will not run down the sides when melted.

Place the biscuits on a greased pan or baking sheet and bake in a very hot oven, 450° F., 12 to 15 minutes.

Does Not Appear Weak

Lightning Strokes Which Split Great Rocks Compel Respect

A 5,000,000-volt stroke of lightning having been caught and measured on an electric line in Arkansas, the scientists state that it is considerably weaker than machine-produced electricity.

This conclusion may satisfy electricians of note, but the ordinary man should beware of trifling with lightning when it is raging about. Strokes that split great rocks, hit and raze big buildings and wipe out herds of cattle, are quite capable of disposing of a mere man in astonishingly quick order.

Lightning is a natural force that compels respect.

Doctors Donate Millions

Investigations show that the medical men in the United States give away a sum of $365,000,000 annually by donating their services to people who cannot or do not pay. On this basis of reckoning the medical fraternity in Canada must be giving away annually some $30,000,000. Their critics have no such record of philanthropy to show.

Atmosphere Of Earth Hundred Miles Deep

But Sun Has Atmosphere Depth Of 9,000 Miles

New discoveries about the sun's atmosphere have been disclosed to Dr. Albert Einstein at the Mount Wilson Solar Observatory, Pasadena, California, by Dr. Charles E. St. John, of the Carnegie Institution, of Washington. The sun's atmosphere is 9,000 miles deep, compared with the 100 mile depth of the earth's atmosphere. The outermost layer of the earth's atmosphere is composed of the lightest gases, helium and hydrogen. The sun's atmosphere is quite different, the outermost layer being of ionized calcium, forty times heavier than the layer of hydrogen 3,000 miles closer to the sun.

In the earth's atmosphere the first seven miles from the earth form a layer in which wind storms occur up to a velocity of 200 miles per hour. At 35 miles up argon, one of the constituents of air, disappears. Farther up there is no more oxygen, and at 70 miles nitrogen disappears, leaving only helium and hydrogen for the last thirty miles.

Both are subject to many ailments arising from inflammation and to all manner of cuts and bruises. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is an entirely reliable remedy for such ailments and mishaps in both human beings and the lower orders of animals.

An Ever-Present Menace

Carbon Monoxide Gas Most Treacherous Because No Warning Given

A recent bulletin issued by the Roads Department of the Province of Quebec, contains an important reference to the danger created by the presence of carbon monoxide, a menace all the greater because it may extend even to an automobile in motion. The note is well worth careful perusal by all motor drivers. Carbon monoxide is a colorless, tasteless, practically odorless gas, and is without any irritant action on the mucosa of the respiratory tract. Because of these properties, it is impossible to detect it by any of the five senses. It is, therefore, a most treacherous gas, since it can be present in dangerous quantities without giving any warning whatever.

Britain expects a record pleasure-boating season this year.

C for ANY CHILD

WE can never be sure just what makes a child restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as your child has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes constipation. Or diarrhea—a condition that should always be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly; if it doesn't, you should call a physician.

CHAPTER XII.—Continued

The color pounded in Gay's cheeks. All her sympathy for James Halliday rushed over her as she said, her voice colder than Nick had ever heard it: "It was no joke, Nick. Her husband was in that hack."

"How—horrible!"

Nick raised himself on one elbow; then sank back limply.

"I hope she'll never know. It would h kill her, because—well, she was laughing when we drew up beside him. I remember motioning her to stop, for the window of the hack was open, and I saw a hand reach out to pull down the shade. Gee! what a situation You—you don't suppose he'll tell her, do you?"

"Probably not. He keeps his feelings pretty much to himself, I think; but if he cared for his mother (and he did, Nick, I could see that), it must have been something of a blow."

"It was ghastly. Why did he tell you?"

"... wanted me to know that you were safe at that time anyway. He said he saw you, and I unfortunately asked where."

"Poor fellow! Do you know, Gay, I think they're unhappy. I've thought so all along. At first I imagined their trouble was due to his beastly cynicism, but——"

"He's not always cynical," broke in Gay defensively. "There wasn't a trace of it that night; he was only kind. If they're not happy the fault isn't all his, Nick. Julie says——"

"Gay, how can you listen to Julie's chatter?"

"I didn't. It sifted through to me when I was thinking about you. No one can stop Julie when she gets going; and I was too unhappy just then to care about the ethics of the case. Let's forget it, Nick. I don't want to think about that time, ever again. It was a nightmare."

For a while there was silence, then Nick said thoughtfully: "I could stand all of it, Gay, if we hadn't run down that child."

He shuddered at the memory, and she said: "Don't think about it, dear."

"Ho wcan I help thinking? It was a little girl, Gay, hardly more than a baby, and I've always wanted a little girl. She was chasing a kitten. Perhaps she was afraid we'd run over it—anyway, she ran straight in our path. If I'd seen her a moment sooner—but I wasn't driving, and when I caught the wheel, well, I hate to think so, but it seemed to me that Mrs. Halliday almost kept me from turning. She had hold very firmly with both hands, and the child was so near——"

He closed his eyes, and Gay protested: "Nick, you mustn't talk about it. It will make you sick. You, surely, were not to blame; and the child is having the very best of care. Mr. Halliday has been there every week, sometimes oftener. He says she's a wiry little thing and is doing splendidly. Besides, she wouldn't have lived an hour if it hadn't been for you. Everyone says that."

"I know. It makes me feel responsible for her in a way. I sometimes wonder (she was a State ward, you know), what the little thing has got to live for. I didn't like the face of that woman who boards her. It was hard as nails. Nobody seemed to care—that's what made me so determined to save her. She was somebody's baby once, Gay."

Gay moved nearer, and stooping, kissed his cheek.

"There!" she said cheerfully, "as Uncle Sim says: 'Don't you go to worryin' any more than you can help.' It's time for baby's nap, and you can entertain Sonny for a while. He's a sure antidote for morbidness."

Nick watched her go down the path to the sand pile—lift her baby, and turn again toward the house; while Sonny, carefully carrying a mud pie in his chubby hands, trotted at her side.

"It's a present," he announced, laying the delicacy on his father's knee. "It'll give you an appletite."

"Sure it will!" said Nick, grnining. "Maybe I'll get as fat as Uncle Sim."

Sonny shook his head.

"Uncle Sim's too fat, Daddy. His lap's most all stummick, an' me slides off."

Nick laughed.

"Well, from present indications I guess it'll be some time before I reach those proportions! I was never so thin in my life. I bet you could knock me down if you tried real hard."

"Sonny wouldn't knock you down, Daddy," said the little boy seriously. "Sonny loves you tebbly."

"Come here then, and show me how much 'tebbly' is. I want a hug the worst way."

"A big hug, or a little one?" asked Sonny, advancing a step and resting one small elbow on Nick's knee.

"The kind you give Mother when you love her best."

"That's the big kind—only—only you been sick, Daddy, and it might hurt. Julie says sick folks is kind o' brittle."

"I don't feel brittle in the least," Nick answered soberly. "Let's risk it."

It was this embrace that James Halliday interrupted, coming through the gap in the hedge, and seating himself in the chair that Gay had vacated. Nick unclasped Sonny's arms in order to stretch out a lean hand, which Halliday gripped hard.

"I won't stay long enough to tire you," he said. "I want some advice from Mrs. Hastings. I'm wondering if I can get hold of that nurse who has just left you."

'A nurse? Is anybody sick?"

"I'm moving that little girl from the hospital to-day," answered Halliday. "She was able to leave, and I didn't think she'd get proper care from that Mrs. Williams who boards her. Don't like the woman's face; and I've a notion" (with a faint smile), "that she doesn't like mine! Mrs. Halliday won't be back for a month. She's gone on a cruise with some friends; and it struck me that the child would be better off here, with a good nurse. I had to go through some red tape with the authorities; but anyway, I've got her away from Mrs. Williams, which is the main thing. The child's afraid of her. I don't believe she's been well treated."

"I'm not surprised. The few words I had with the woman showed me that I'd hate to have a child of mine under her care. But—won't it make a lot of trouble for you, Halliday? I suppose there are good places where you could send her."

"No place where she'd have a sleeping porch and a nurse to herself. I—I want her to be happy. It seems terrible for a child not to be happy, doesn't it?—and I feel, somehow, responsible for her, you know."

"Well, that's mighty fine of you," Nick began, when Sonny interrupted:

"Me'll make mud pies for her. Want one?"

He lifted the pie which was to give his father an "appletite," and offered it to the caller.

Halliday took it rather awkwardly, and said to Nick: "Am I supposed to eat the thing?"

"Just pertend eat," explained Sonny kindly, while Nick smiled a bit at Halliday's ignorance of childhood's ways.

"With my fingers?" asked Halliday, smiling himself, as he warmed to the task.

"Daddy laps 'em sometimes, like kitty," said the little boy, "but Mummy says it's not nice manners. Just pertend."

Halliday "pertended," smacking his lips with relish as he laid it down.

"It's blewbewy," said Sonny. "Now bre a your teefe."

Nick roared, but Gay saved James Halliday from the embarrassing situation by appearing in the doorway. He arose relievedly and offered her his chair, stating his errand as he did so.

"I'll call up Miss Carberry at once," she said. "Oh, Mr. Halliday, I think that's a wonderful thing to do! It will give us all a chance to help the little girl. How old is she?"

"They say she's four; but she doesn't look as big as this boy of yours. I think she's been—well, if not abused, at least treated with indifference. I've been there twice when Mrs. Williams came in, and though she made a fuss over the child for my benefit, it was plain that the little thing was frightened."

"Oh, dear!" said Gay. "Surely you can keep them from sending her back there when she gets well?"

"She sha'n't go back there if I have to adopt her myself," answered Halliday grimly. "I—I can't understand it, but the child seems to—to like me. Usually children don't."

"I do," said Sonny suddenly. "I'll bake you anover pie if you want one."

Halliday laughed, and arose.

"I rather think my digestion won't stand for it," he replied. "And besides, I must go home and get ready for my guest. I'll come back later and find out what you hear from the nurse, Mrs. Hastings. Just now Julie's waiting for my orders. It's fine to see this man of yours about again, isn't it?"

He turned away, while Sonny slid down the steps to join him, slipping his little hand into James Halliday's as confidingly as he would have put it into Nick's.

"I got a oven where I bake 'em," he said sociably. "Daddy made it. Daddy can make anyfing. I'll show you 'fore you go home."

"Gay," murmured Nick softly, "you ought to have seen Halliday's face when the kid offered him that pie! I don't believe he ever played in his life—or if he did he's forgotten how. But it's fine of him to do so much for that little girl."

Gay didn't answer. She was watching James Halliday bending above the pile of stones that was Sonny's oven. In the silence she heard her little boy explaining: "You put 'em there first, an' then brown 'em on the tops, same as Mummy does, only me can't have matches. Daddy says mud pies don't need matches. He says they're sun-baked, an' the flavor's more 'licious that-a-way. Some day when you got time I'll let you make one."

"Thanks," said James Halliday. "When my little girl gets better perhaps you'll teach her how to do it. I must go now. I enjoyed my refreshments very much."

"It wasn't 'freshments," corrected Sonny soberly. "It was pie. 'Freshments is ice cream."

Halliday laughed.

"I see. I'll try not to make such a mistake again. Good-bye, little chap."

"By," said Sonny, and turned once more to his absorbing task.

Gay watched James Halliday go through the garden and into his own house.

"His little girl!" she exclaimed softly. "Did you hear that, Nick? Oh, wouldn't it be wonderful if——"

Nick smiled, and said: "My dear girl, have you forgotten the Hallidays' careers?"

"Careers!" echoed Gay with scorn. She arose, and moved toward the door. "I must go in and telephone that nurse. I tell you what, Nick Hastings, it's some career just keeping a family going! And if the Hallidays should keep that little girl——"

Mrs. Corcoran, of Leigh, writes:—"I suffered with biliousness accompanied by sick headaches for days at a time, and every medicine I tried failed to bring relief. A friend gave me some of your wonderful Carter's Little Liver Pills and the first dose gave me great relief. For three years I have taken them every night as a regulator and I find they prevent these bilious and sick headache attacks. I have five little boys and I give them three or four every week. BACKACHE

Wonderful relief from pain

Backache is one of those wearying complaints which bind all their victims together with a common bond of misery. And when any one sufferer from backache finds a sure remedy, fellowship prompts the quick report of that discovery to others. Here's a woman who has her friend to thank for knowledge of a remarkably successful treatment. Now gratitude compels her, in turn, to pass along the good news to you.

"I am writing to tell you of the great benefit I have received from Kruschen Salts. My friend, Mrs. H., had received so much benefit that she begged me to give Kruschen a trial, although at first I was doubtful, because I had tried so many things. At last, however, I tried some of her Kruschen, and, feeling hopeful, I purchased a bottle, and I can honestly say that before I had finished the bottle my backache was gone. I have suffered for years with kidney trouble and dreadful headaches, and now to be free from the pain altogether is wonderful."—(Mrs. C.)

FREE TRIAL OFFER

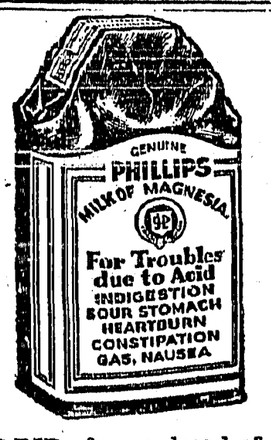
If you have never tried Kruschen—try it now at our expense. We have distributed a great many special "GIANT" packages which make it easy for you to prove our claim for yourself. Ask your druggist for the new "GIANT" 75c. package.

This consists of our regular 75c. bottle together with a separate trial bottle—sufficient for about one week. Open the trial bottle first, put it to the test, and then, if not entirely convinced that Kruschen does everything we claim it to do, the regular bottle is still as good as new. Take it back. Your druggist is authorised to return your 75c. immediately and without question. You have tried Kruschen free, at our expense. What could be fairer? Manufactured by E. Griffiths Hughes, Ltd., Manchester, Eng. (Estab. 1756). Importers: McGillivray Bros., Ltd., Toronto.

Better Than King Canute

The bridegroom was in a poetic frenzy as he strolled along the seashore. "Roll on, thou deep and dark blue ocean, roll," he recited to his bride.

"Oh, Gerald," she exclaimed "how wonderful you are. It's doing it."



ACID after meals

GET RID of your dread of pain after eating. Eat without fear of "indigestion," sour stomach, disagreeable gas or headaches.

When your food ferments, "disagrees," lies like a lump in your stomach, it's a sign of too much acid. You need not resort to crude methods—take instead an anti-acid that will correct the condition. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

A spoonful of this pleasant-tasting, soothing fluid neutralizes many times its volume in acid. It restores the proper alkaline balance to an acid-soaked stomach and bowels—assists these organs to function as they should.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is what you need when a bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, nausea or biliousness indicates an over-acid condition. Take a spoonful today and for several days and see how it sweetens the system. You won't be nearly so liable to colds or sickness. All drugstores in the Dominion sell it in 50c bottles.

Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle.
