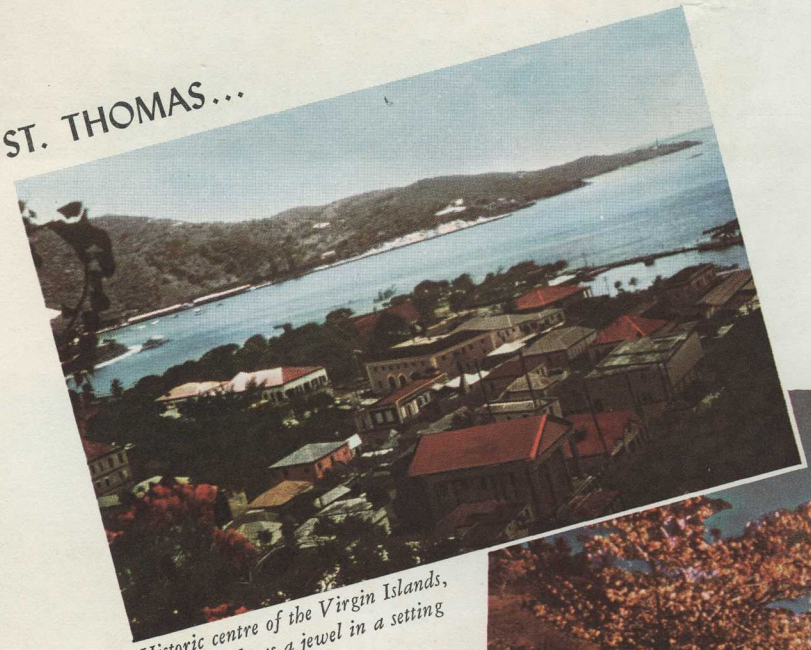
ROAM THE SPANISH MAIN ABOARD CANADIAN PACIFIC WHITE EMPRESSES!

"Relax," the blue waves whisper. "Have fun !" the calypsos bid you. And you do. Aboard Empress of England or her twin, Empress of Britain, your West Indies-South America cruise is a rare adventure. The White Empresses glide through pirate waters, sparkling blue battlegrounds where empires were won and lost. Exotic ports add their own intrigue and colour to legacies of custom and speech left by France, Spain, England and Holland. And Canadian Pacific makes sure you enjoy this treasure-place of history in luxury the privateers never imagined.

ST. THOMAS...



Historic centre of the Virgin Islands, nestles snugly as a jewel in a setting of surf and sea.

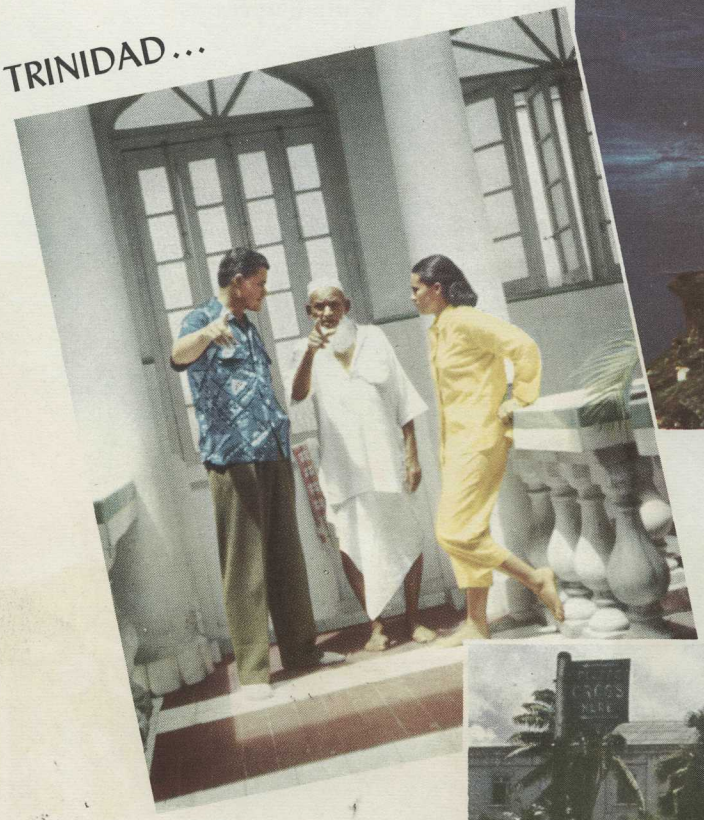
MARTINIQUE...

Mountains tower cloud-tipped from the glinting sea in the warm and life-loving land.

GRENADA...

and its capital, St. George's, dreaming of days when pirate galleons jockeyed and jostled in its bustling port.

TRINIDAD...



India and Pakistan are represented in Port of Spain by residents and temples.

BARBADOS...

Buoyant island with a happy heart. Craftsmen create tasteful pottery and play a mean game of cricket.

CURACAO...

Hospitable Holland where you'd least expect it. Dutch efficiency blends with casual tropic tempo in shops full of bargain buys.

HAITI...

Throbbing drums pace the rhythm of this mystic island, an exotic land of vivid colour and legend.

VENEZUELA...

And incredible Caracas, where skyscrapers and industry burgeon along with luxurious resort facilities in this ultra-modern Latin wonderland.

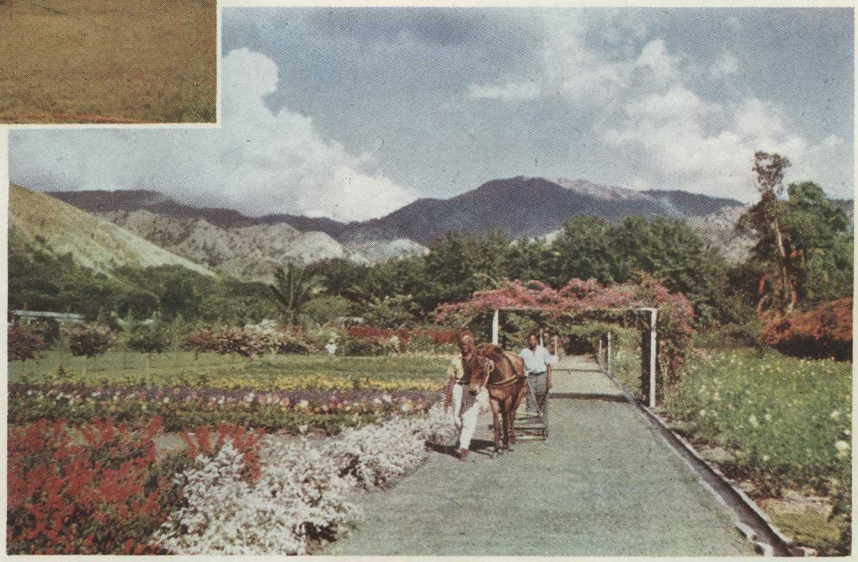
CANAL ZONE...

One of history's colossal engineering achievements; the fascinating thread of water which made the world a much smaller place.

SPANISH TOWN, JAMAICA...

A stately echo of Spanish elegance, perfectly preserved after more than three centuries.

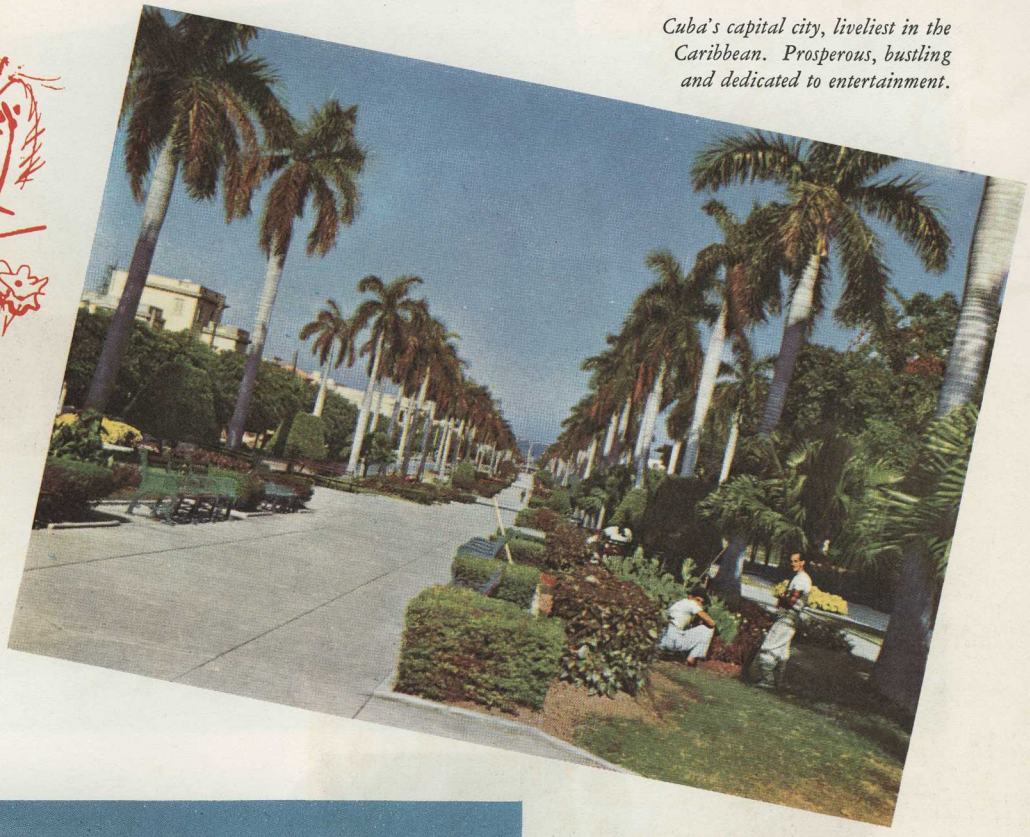
JAMAICA...

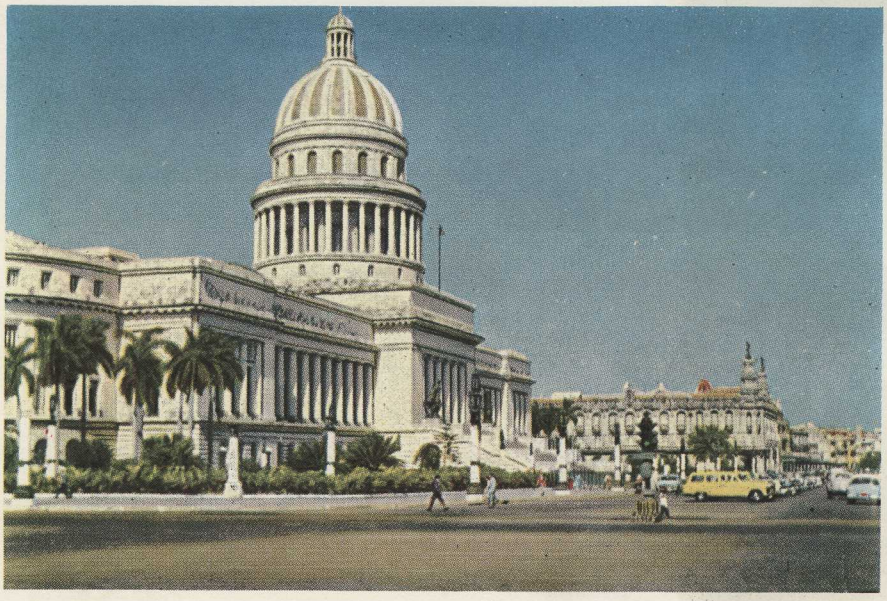


The garden island of the Caribbean, famous as a gay and gracious host.

HAVANA...

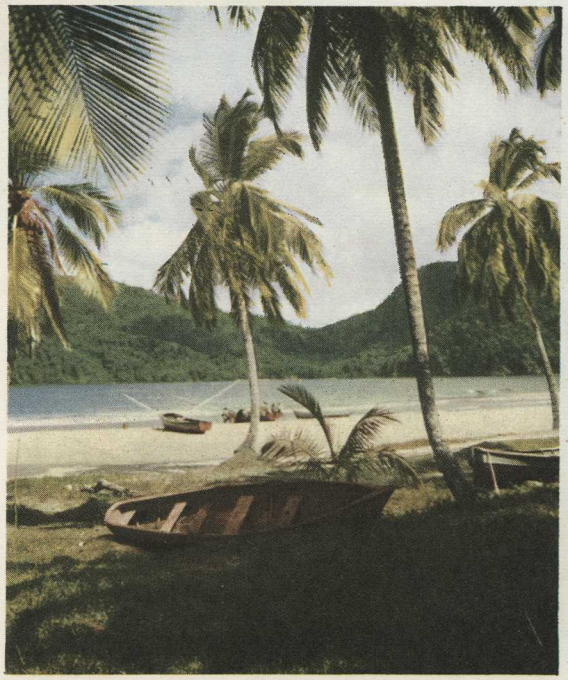
Cuba's capital city, liveliest in the Caribbean. Prosperous, bustling and dedicated to entertainment.



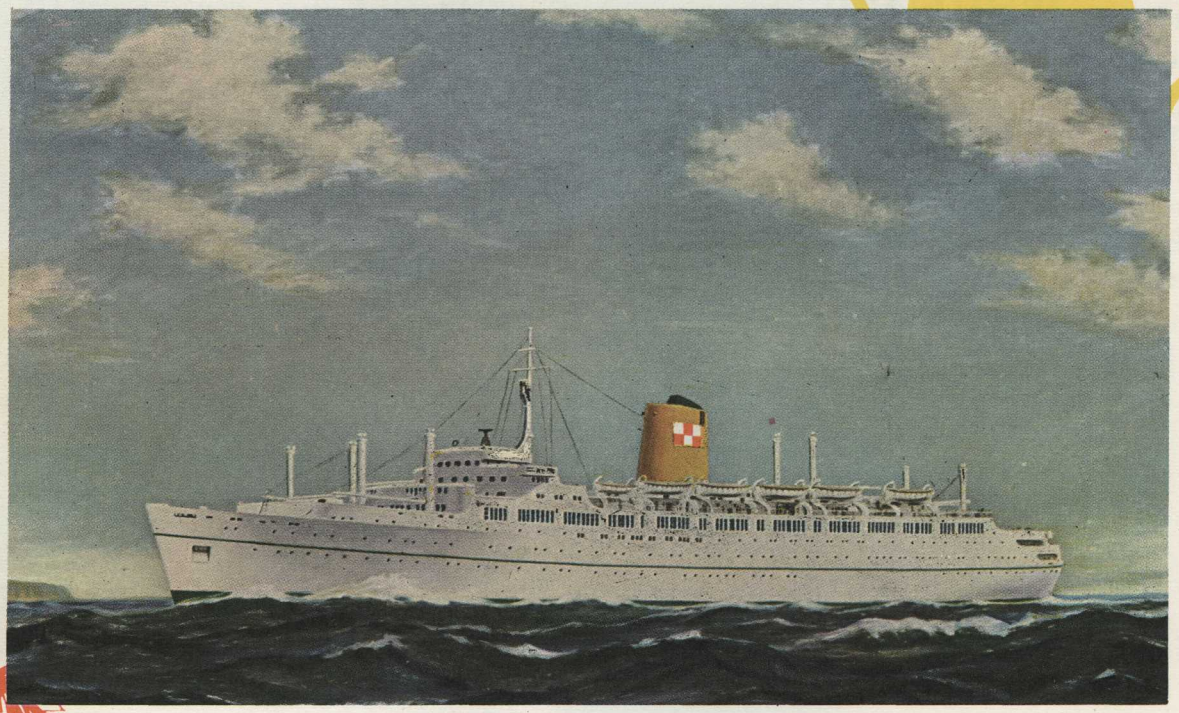


CUBA...

Like its majestic Capitol, is graceful and spectacular. Everywhere, Old World grace complements New World convenience.



Winter may be coating half the world in white, but the West Indies is eternally blue and green. Rainbow roofs peep from palm-clad island slopes; brilliant fish flicker through transparent depths. Colour glows everywhere. Its warmth is in the people and in their welcome to you.



THE EMPRESS AND YOU

You needn't look any further than your White Empress liner for one of the most beautiful sights on your tropic cruise. Empress of England and Empress of Britain are truly the twin queens of the Caribbean. These strikingly streamlined sister ships are gleaming white cities afloat—but no city was ever so smoothly run. Air-conditioned and stabilized, they feature every luxury of modern ocean travel . . . wonderful restaurants, lounges, shops, cocktail bars and swimming pools. And there's one extra luxury you'll never experience elsewhere—the thoughtfulness and genuine warmth of Canadian Pacific hospitality.

WHITE EMPRESSES - ADVENTURES IN THEMSELVES!

Gala ports lie ahead, fabled names will soon have new significance for you. Yet the simple experience of boarding your White Empress is as exciting as any part of the Caribbean cruise. Amid the cheery stir of sailing time, you'll get a hundred happy impressions. Princely public rooms and spacious promenades. Your genuine surprise at the luxury of your cabin. And the promise of new friends among the cosmopolitan passengers. Then, as the cruise unfolds, you'll appreciate the true glamour of your regal, floating resort. Distinctive decor gives each popular meeting place a refreshingly different atmosphere. Most of all, there's space—space enough for the easy sociability of cruise life on glassed-in or open sun swept Empress decks. And you'll find the Canadian Pacific staff knows when to attend to you and when to let you find your own tempo under the sun.

SINGLE AND DOUBLE BEDROOMS — Two views of expansive, luxurious quarters. You control the air-conditioning, have your choice of bath or shower. Every detail contributes to your comfort.

To your left (or port side) is one of the soundest reasons why experienced travellers always go White Empress . . . superb cuisine, the special magic which has won an international reputation for Canadian Pacific chefs. In the tasteful restaurants or deck buffets, topical or tropical dishes are featured in meals you'll remember always.

The Empress Room, social centre of your White Empress. As ballroom, lounge and playroom, it's a relaxing rendez-vous. In the evenings, night club celebrities entertain from the stage.

The Empress Room, a regular "Night Club" afloat

A White Empress cinema is perfectly planned to exhibit the newest films from America and England.

Patio-like and gay, pleasant for tete-a-tetes — The Garden Lounge.

Colour charms you subtly aboard your White Empress. Look at the mint-cool Garden Lounge above. Then at the sprightly good cheer of The Club Room to the right. Seem like fun? We'll see you there.

The Promenade, for all-weather enjoyment

The "Indoor" Swimming Pool — by elevator from all decks

Huge, glassed-in galleries and the buoyant sea water pool on "D" Deck are popular before your White Empress sweeps into the southern sun. Then such airy spots as the outdoor pool, and The Terrace below provide a carefree setting for sports, dancing, or simple sunning.

The Terrace — by day a sports deck — is transformed for dancing under the stars by night

WHAT TO PACK ON YOUR

West Indies-South America Cruise

ABOARD

EMPRESS OF ENGLAND • EMPRESS OF BRITAIN

Your good sense tells you, of course, that summery clothes make the wisest wardrobe for your White Empress adventure to the tropics (but don't forget the New York weather before and after your trip).

Here's a brief run-through of the most popular wear on such cruises:—

ON DECK: For sports or sunning, gentlemen favour country club casuals or beachwear, ladies come out in sunsuits, slacks, shorts and halters.

DINNER AND DANCING: For those gentlemen who dress for dinner, a tuxedo or white dinner jacket, both with soft shirts, are popular. Milady's choice can range from Paris originals to such basics as cottons or a cocktail dress. Jackets should always be worn in the restaurant — shorts never.

ASHORE: Compromise between formal and informal — most of the citizens in the ports you visit dress for business — but with the casual tropic touch. Don't forget comfortable shoes for excursions. And pack extra film for your camera if it's unusual. Films for standard cameras are stocked aboard your Empress.

LAST WORD: Don't overpack with washables — your White Empress has laundry or launderette facilities, also valet and pressing services.

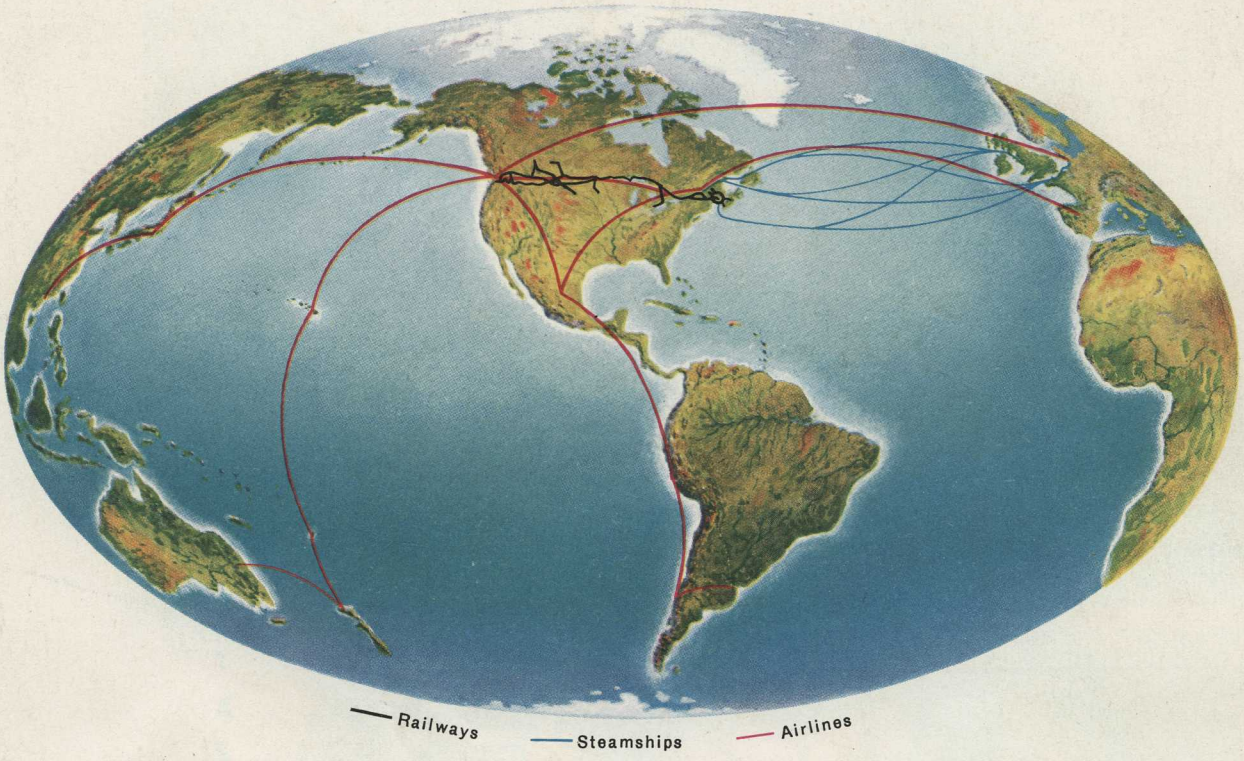
By land, by sea, by air, Canadian Pacific— the world's most complete transportation system.



Daily, Canadian Pacific's sleek scenic dome streamliner train, "The Canadian", speeds across Canada on the Banff-Lake Louise route.

Graceful White Empress ships glide down the scenic St. Lawrence River on weekly voyages to Europe, sail serenely past picturesque French Canadian farms and villages.

Jet-prop Britannias fly in Canada and Britannias and DC-6B's take wing regularly for trade and resort centers of the world's continents.

Across Canada, Canadian Pacific operates a chain of hotels typified by Banff Springs and Chateau Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies and the 1600-room Royal York in Toronto, largest hotel in the British Commonwealth.

And rounding out its many services, Canadian Pacific maintains a system of nationwide communications, express, trucking and piggyback services.

This is Canadian Pacific—the World's Most Complete Transportation System—progressively operating more than 85,000 route miles by land, sea and air.
