THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1913

Since aviation evolutions commenced in 1908 there have been 333 lives lost in attempts to fly. One is filled with horror at the thought of one loosing his life, but little if any sympathy can be offered. Man's place is not in the air. If it was he would have been provided with wings.

The Vancouver board of trade and the citizens generally are very much disgusted with the manner in which horseracing at Minoru Park and the fighting at Brighouse arena are being conducted, and are preparing an appeal to the Federal and Provincial governments to have them curtailed, if not eliminated.

Ex-President Taft has been spending the summer at Murray Bay, Quebec. The ocean breezes have blown away from him all the haze of error in which his term of office left him. He now sees without the aid of "interested" advisors, and being freed of the offiicial gag, he has spoken that which he sees. In an interview on Wednesday he is reported as saying that he believes political union between Canada and the United States is something we will never see. He should have spent a week at Murray Bay before making his celebrated manitesto on the Reciprocity Bill, or, better still, before he committed his party to the deal: the wreck of two governments might thus have been averted.

Mr. Wilson of the telephone Co. takes exception to our remarks about the manner in which the poles are being placed in the orchard. He says that the poles were placed with the approval of Mr. Wilmshurst, and that they were to be six feet from the line. We are glad to learn that some one exercises some control over our streets, but at the same time we do not think the road superintendent's intention was that the Telephone Co. should block the existing roadway without providing another, as is being done. Furthermore, if the surveyor's stakes are in their proper places some of the poles are not six feet from the line. Despite all Mr Wilson's arguments to the contrary we still maintain that the poles are not an ornament to the landscape or anything else.

Mr. Joe Foreciea has opened a barber shop in Mr. McPhee's block He has had long experience in oome of the best shops in Minneapolis and Vancouver, and will be pleased to provide anyone with a first class shave or hair cut at any time.

Messrs. Shepherd & Hornby have returned from Vancouver with a full line of fruits, candies, vegetables, etc., for their new store which they have opened up in the building formerly occupied by the Co-Operative Society as a butcher shop. There seems to be an opening for a fruit and confectionery store in this place, and we trust these popular and painstaking young men will meet with a full measure of success in their undertaking.

WEDDING BELLS AT SANDWICK

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Andrew's (English) church on Wednesday Aug. 27, 1913, when Miss Robina Dingwall, younger daughter of the late William Munro Dingwall, Esq., was led to the altar by Mr. Harold H. Smith, third son of the late William H. Smith, Esq., and Mrs. Smith, late of Temple Ewell, England. The Rev. Musgrave F. Hilton, acting vicar of Sandwick officiated at the ceremony. The bride was charmingly attired in an ivory satin dress made en traine, the bodice being trimmed with shadow lace with pattern outlined in pearls and draped bertha of darned net; an insert of shadow lace and pearl buckle adorned the skirt over which fell an embroidered veil caught with orange blossoms, the only ornament being a gold locket and chain, the gift of the bridegroom. She was attended by her bridesmaids, the Misses Margaret Manson and Mildred Smith, who wore pale blue voile over silk with black picture hats and carried bouquets of sweet peas and fern sprays, and by the Misses Margaret Duncan and Olive Dingwall Mouat as flower girls, daintily clad in white lingerie dresses with pale blue sashes, carrying baskets of sweet peas.

The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. Hugh Smith, as best man.

The church was fittingly decorated with sweet peas on a background of evergreens, and a large congregation was in church by 2 p.m., the appointed time. Mrs. J. W. Cooke presided at the organ, the bride entering the church on her mother's arm, to the strains of Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus," while Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Mr. Robt. G. Duncan and Mr. Charles Duncan ably performed their duties as ushers.

After the wedding an informal reception was given on the lawn at "Braeburn" by Mrs. Dingwall, at the conclusion of which Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith left for the north via Campbell River. A large number of commemorative gifts were received, among them being a solid silver tea service, the gift of St. Andrew's congregation in appreciation of the bride's services as organist, and a silver berry spoon from the pupils of Division II. Courtenay Public school.

Mr. Chas. Simms, formerly with O. B. Allan, Vancouver, has taken charge of Mr. McLean's jewellery shop.

Mr. John Roe, collector of Customs at Union Bay was among the passengers on the Cowichan on Sunday. On the way down he regaled a number of his friends with reminiscenses of his hunting trips to Courtenay, where he often bags twenty-five birds and a deer in a single day. He is figuring on having a week's hunting this fall.

R. Surgenour's team took a notion to run away this afternoon. They made a good getaway from McPhee & Morrison's store down Mill street, but the gate at the slaughter house pasture field stopped them.

The Courtenay Fair takes place on Thursday and Friday of next week. There promises to be a large exhibit in nearly all the departments. The sporting events will be well filled. Owners of fast horses from outside have heard of the fame of our track and the fleetness of some of our horses, and are coming to try their luck.
