A most enjoyable barn dance was held by Miss Woods on Wednesday evening to bid farewell to Miss Lila Grieve who is leaving for Victoria.

The City Council should pass a by-law to regulate the speed with which autos and other vehicles should be driven within the city limits, and if they have the power they should also deal stringently wifh 'road hogs,'' that is drivers who do not willingiv give half the road when passing other drivers. It is anything but pleasant for a nervous driver to meet a fellow of this description going full speed. There are numerous incidents where serious accidents have been narrowly averted.

Ever since O H. Fee ner fixed up the lawn in front of the Riverside hotel it has been a lounging place for dogs. No amount of chasing could keep them off. Yesterday they fixed up a piece of meat attached to a pair of batteries by a long wire. and whenever a purp took hold of the meat the juice was turned on, poor doggie let out a howl and ran, and gave the lawn a wide berth the next time he passed. Needless to say the experiment was much enjoyed by the onlookers, and the lawn was clean this morning.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. D. Bubar on Monday evening to bid farewell to Mrs. P. Bubar. who has spent the winter with her son. Whist and dancing were indulged in until far into the wee sma' hours. A pleasing part of the program was the presentation to Mrs. Bubar of an address and a pretty souvenir spoon, which she much appreciated and very feelingly replied to. After singing "For she's a jolly good fellow" and "Auld Lang Syne," the party broke up, everyone pronouncing the event one of the best they had spent in Courtenay, and wishing Mrs. Bubar all the good things in life, and a pleasant journey to her home in Denver, Colorado., for which place she leaves on Sunday's boat.

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1915

We congratulate Mr. Hicks-Beach upon his appointment to the office of Police Magistrate and judge of the small debts court for our city. We believe the appointment to be a popular one, and that Mr. Hicks-Beach will in all cases do justice to all.

The most welcome news that Courtenay could have, came last Saturday, when it was definately announced that the Logging Camps would commence operations this week. The offices of the company were immediately besiged with applications for employment, and a goodly number of the 300 men required were lined up here. Work will commence on Monday morning with that complement, and more will be added as needed.

A by-law, entitled, A by-law to regulate the standing committees of the City Council, has been forced through its several readings by the "solid four," None of them seem to understand what it means, not even Dr Crompton, who is credited with being able to see into the millstone as far as anyone, said "give it up" when askedthe meaning of certain clauses, Ald. Johnston, the father of the by-law, said an eminent K. C. drew it, and gave it as his opinion that the council had to pass the by-law willy-nilly. This is a bright state of affairs. No wonder the fame of our City Council has reached Nanaimo and other places. If these vaudeville performances keep up we will have visitors from all over the province applying for reserved seats at every performance.

Lord Kitchener is quoted as saying that he "didn't know when the war would end, but he did know that it would begin next May." That's a grim observation enough and it sounds like the old soldier who is credited with making it. Kitchener with 2,000,000 men and Roumania with 600,000, will be ready then. Nobody can guess how many Russia will have by that time, but unquestionably more than ever before. Perhaps Italy, with a million and a half or thereabouts, will have taken her place in the ranks of the allies. On both sides the winter will be more or less devoted to preparation for the titanic activities of the spring campaign.—New York Press.

The estimates for the province for the next fiscal year have been published. The following grants are made in the Comox district.

Public Works	$59,000
Courtenay schools	$2,760
Minto	$1,960
Comox school	$1,640
Grantham school	$840
Lazo	$900
No. 8 Mine	$1,860
Royston	$780
Sandwick	$960
Constable	$1,020
Game Warden	$960

By t is we see t iat upwards of $73,000 of government money wil be spent in t is immediate district The estimates for the school were probably made before Courtenay became incorporated as they include salaries for three teachers. Of course there will be very little if any public money spent o i o r roads this year, although there is no reason why the government should not pay for the upkeep of the main Island highway and the Courtenay bridge.

The Conservative Party

When we take into consideration the length of time the party has been in control of the province, and their extensive developments in every department, the great number of men employed from the heads of the departments down to the petty employees, and never a charge of graft substantiated, it is a record of which any party might feel proud The high moral integrity, the watchfulness, the keen penetration that is necessary to accomplish this speaks well of the heads of the government. The chiefs of this government have held with a firm hand over all departments, tolerating neither loose methods or slipshod work, and demanding of all a strict account of their stewartship. While I am not a worshipper of the Conservative shrine nor a devotee of perpetual adoration before McBride and Bowser, I cannot but in all fairness give them the praise they so justly deserve,

The land policy of the Government up to the present has been in the best interests of the province. Private individuals, by buying up large tracts of land, can get that land occupied by settlers better than the government could. How much development has been made in Comox Valley this last twenty years when the land was sold to settlers? Has there been one hundred acres cleared? How much is there being cleared just now? Has the class of people coming into the province got the pioneering spirit of those of forty years ago? Those who have taken up land in the last few years have been too familiar with the derby hat the stiff collar, and could not resist the lure of the ball game and peanut bag. These are the people who have tried to develop the province and pose as settlers in the land. We have seen samples around here of this type. Why should the government not sell to the capitalist in preference to this boob?

The government needed the money and was not looking for the job to be wet nurse to baby farmers. When the government sold to the sp c ilator, the transaction was completed and the money went into the treasury. If instead, they sold to the derby hat and the kid glove farmer settler there would be a perpetual demand for good roads so that they could walk back to the cities agsin. Some of the Liberals think it is as easy to get the proper people on the land as it is to steal a platform.

Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Courtenay Conservative Association was held on Thursday evening last. The Secretary's report was a very exhaustive one, and covered the work done by the Association during the past year. Fourteen meetings had been held and much good accomplished, The Treasurer's report showed that there were 212 members on the roll, and that there was $25 on haud.

The president Mr. S, Calhoun announced that he did not wish to stand for election again this year. He had been in office for three years and that was plenty. He had done his duty to the best of his ability for the district as a whole. He paid a glowing tribute to Sir Richard McBride, and thanked the association for the confidence it had reposed in him. He then declared all offices vacant, and Mr. C. E. Beasley was elected to the chair to conduct the election which resulted as follows,

Hon. President, Hon. R. L. Borden, Hon. Vice Presidents, Sir Richard McBride, H. S. Clements. M. P. and Mr. Manson M. P. P. President Mayor D Kilpatrick, (by acclamation.) Vice Pres S. Calhoun. Secretary, E. Hicks-Beach, Treasurer G. Leighton, Executive Committee, R. M, Allan O. H. Fechner, Dr. Millard, F, D. Cameron, E. Creech, H. Morrison, J. Turnbull, M. Marsden. F. Kerton, C. Jackson, H. Bridges, J. R. Johnston, M. Perez, N, H. Boden,

After the election, Mr. Martin, of Comox, addressed the meeting, stating that owing to a faulty survey by government licensed surveyors' he now stood to lose his hotel, which had cost him nearly $22,000. He had asked the government to make a new survey of of the towusite, but had been unable to get them to consent. The meeting acceeded to Mr. Martin's request, and the Association will add their entreaties to that of Mr. Martin to have the survey made at the expense of the deed holders of the village of Comox.

In speaking about the unemployed in the city, Ald. Robertson asked if the association had any suggestion to bring before the council in this connection.

N. H. Boden suggested that Union street from the Royal Bank to the Cumberland road might be scraped and mecadamized, and a few other streets improved where very deep holes have been worn in them.

Mr, Hicks-Beach made a brief address as to the manner in which work should be carried on.

Mr. C. E, Beasley suggested that the military authorities be communicated with and asked to have some of the newly enlisted portions of the 3rd contingent quartered at the Comox Spit, where there are rifle butts, large buildings etc., and plenty of dry ground for manoeuvers.

COMOX

The annual herring run has commenced, The herring have reached the outer bay, and will be well up the mouth of the river in a few days, when everybody will be able to get plenty of these bony fellows.

An interesting basketball game took place on Monday evening and a merry dance followed. The game was a double header, the visiting teams being the Cumberland and West Cumberland ball pusher. The first game was between West Cumberland and a team composed of Ted Cliffe, Geo Cliffe, Harold Grant, R. Grant and P. Downey and resulted in a win for the local boys by 19 to 10 The other game with the Cumberland city team was a good exhibition, although the score was altogether too large 3 to 3. The teams were as follows Comox, G. Thomas, R. Harding, J. Downey, E. Grant, W, Radford Cumberland, Grant, Bannerman, Wilson, Cameron, another. The local boys expect to take two teams to Cumberland in the near future to play the rerurn match.

Everybody "nose" what happened to one of our popular young ladies while playing basket ball.

There is a rumor that the C. P. R. passenger boats are to be withdrawn from the Comox run in a few months.

THE COURTENAY REVIEW

CITY COUNCIL

The council met on Monday evening. Members all present. The secretary of the Board of Trade sent a letter setting out what had been done in the matter of getting the city incorporated.

The chief Constable notified the council that the city would be expected to provide their own policeman and lock-up in the future.

The provincial Secretary notified the council that Mr. E. Hicks-Beach had been appointed Police Magistrate, and judge of small debts court, with a salary of $25 per month, which the city will be required to pay.

C. G. Callin offered to sell the city a typewriter for $30, also submitted a lease amended as requested The lease was ordered signed, and the letter laid over.

The Courtenay Condensed Milk Co. called the attention of the council to the bad state of the road near the wharf. The road will be repaired.

O. H. Fechner made application for a pool room license. It will be granted on the usual terms.

The following accounts were passed on to the Finance Committee to pay if correct. Dept. Printing and Stationery for Statutes etc, $30 The Courtenay Herald $6.84, Repairs to bridge $5.00, Repairs to Mill St. $19.20, School requirements for Feb., $259.79.

Ald. Kirkwood called the attention of the council to the fact that the teachers salary for the night school was $10 more that the council will be required to pay.

Ald. Crompton then asked leave to introduce a paper setting forth the matters they wished to discuss with the Electric Light Co. This bore all the ear marks of having been concocted by the "solid four" and various outsiders, and met with opposition from the Mayor. After some discussion the matter was forced through the council,

A heated discussion arose over the question of repairing the holes in the road on Mill street and the Union Bay road, and the fixing of Union street, The Mayor said that he would not put any motions to spend money for building roads until he knew where the money was coming from. The discussion got so warm that the Mayor told Ald. McKenzie to sit down, or he would have him ejecetd. Ald. Johnston said he did not think the Mayor should silence the council.

Ald. Kirkwood said it was queer that we should be called upon to pay the salary of a police magistrate when the man we recommended was turned down.

Ald. Crompton said he had known for 5 months that Mr. Hicks Beach was appointed, and wanted to know if the government had fined us $1000 for daring to ask for a different police magistrate.

By-law no 2 was then given its third reading. The council went into committee of the whole to consider by law no. 4, and the Electric Light resolution Ald. Robertson in the chair.

Ald. Leighton suggested that Ald. Johnston was getting ready for a new election. The chairman May I ask who drew this by-law? Ald. Johnston, Mr. Bodwell, K. C a most eminent lawyer. Will you read on sir, please?

In answer to the chairman's query if clause 4 was legal, Ald. Crompton stated they wanted something to go by, except the Mayor's recollection of Cumberlands early Council. Ald. Johnston said he would bet any money he was worth that it was perfectly legal; as it had been drawn by a K. C.

The by-law was then read without more discussion.

The articles to be discussed with the Electric Light Co. went the same way, Ald. Leighton remarking that it was no use trying to introduce any sense into it, as it was all cut and dried, and he was only one against four.

The council adjourned until Tuesday evening.

At the adjourned meeting on Tuesday evening it was decided to expend $75 on Union street besides fixing the holes in the other places and Mr. Jos. Fitzgerald was appointed to have charge of the work

The council decided to hire a typewriter for a time.

A committee will also look into the matter of securing Government relief for needy citizens if there are any A committee was appointed to get assessment roll and other forms needed.

Letter to The Editor

Editor Review

Sir.—I am directed by the Patriotic Service Committee to inform you that they have decided to give $200 in giving employment to those who are in need in this district. After considering what objects would appeal generally to the inhabitants of the town and the district they have come to the conclusian that the improvements of the Agricultural Hall and grounds would be of benefit to the district as a whole.

Now that there are in existence, the Creamery, the Condensory, and the Live Stock Association, they think that the natural corollary of these would be such improvements of the Agricultural Society's premises as may make them at the same time more of a credit to the town and district and more generally useful to the members of the farming community on whom the prosperity of the town and district so largely depends.

I am instructed to say that there will be employment for carpenters and painters as well as laborers, and that reference will be given to those who have wives ahd families dependent upon them, and who by the circumstances resulting from the War have been deprived of the opportunity of earning a living.

Having regard to the fact that this employment will be for the benefit of those more or less urgently in need of it and also to the fact that it is the policy of the committee to make the money provide as much employment as possible. The wages to be paid will be 25 cents an hour. Applicants for work should register their name at the office of Messes. Hicks-Beach & Field, Isabel Street, on or before Saturday, March 6th.

It is perhaps unnecessary to add that the committee have obtained the approval of the Agricultural Society and the Landlord.

It should also be unnecessary to point out the connection between this expenditure and the Patriotic purposes for which the committee was formed. Production at this time is as practical a form of patriotism as any, and any assistance which can be given towards objects having as their aim the stimulation of production may fairly be considered within the scope of the committee's powers, particularly when, as in the present case such assistance also helps those who lack employment owing to conditions produced by the war.

I am to take this opportunity of giving some explanations of general policy of the Committee with regard to relief in respect to the money they hold in trust. They have held this for the benefit, in the first place, of dependents of those who are serving at the front, and secondly, of those who are in want of the necessities of life and who cannot obtain Government relief.

So far as can be ascertained, there do not exist now any cases of want amounting to starvation which are not being relieved, but there are a number of people who are feeling very much the pinch of these hard times and who would gladly take work if they could get it. In the course of a few weeks it is to be expected that there will be some employment in the district, but meanwhile those who would have been out of it through the winter are feeling the pinch more severely and it is to tide them over this time that the Committee provide the work referred to in this letter. As the winter is now nearly over they do not feel they are taking any risk in spending a considerable portion of the money in their hands.

With regard to the question of an employment bureau, I am to point out that the first essential for success in this direction is that there should be employment. If there is no reasonable chance of this, people will not even register Six months ago the committee advertised an employment bureau in the hope that though there was no employment of the usual character to be had, yet people might be able to create small jobs at low wages for the purpose of helping distress. At that time, however, the need had not made itself sufficiently felt for people to do this, or for those wanting work to be prepared to accept a lower rate of wages, and accordingly there was no result.

Now, however, that employment should naturally open up with the spring, the Committee invite those who can give it to communicate with them at the office [as above] if they desire to be informed of those who come from having to support a family or other circumstances are in more urgent need of it, and they invite those who need work to register their names.

The Committee, for reasons that brought it into existence, is in the rather exceptional position of not being debarred from discrimminating in its recommendations between those more or less urgently in need of work. It is under no obligation, working as it does without renuneration, to make recommendations in order of application.

With regard to the amount now to be expended, the committee venture to hope that those who require work will take this opportunity of assisting themselves and of improving the town and district in which they live.

I am, Sir
Your obedient servant

Patriotism and Production

questions as the correct soil, the best way of preparing the ground, the time to sow and the time to cut.

Dr. F. S. Tolmie, western representative of the Dominion Livestock Commissioner, spoke of the balance of livestock in favor of the Allies. He considered that the war would bring enormous shortages, which would be Canada's opportunity. For instance, referring to horses, he pointed out that the life of a cavalry horse in time of war was only about seven days, and the life of an artillery horse about one month. The Allies were buying remounts on this continent, though Canada has been able to supply not more than 50,000.

Dr. Tolmie was surprised that sheep had not been more extensively bred in Canada. There were not more than 2,000,000 in the whole country and a climate like this was most ideal for them. The prospects for the hog market were very good, as not more than sixty per cent, of the number sold in 1914 were available this year. Great attention should be given to their feed, which should never contain trimmings of pork, for hog cholera was given an opportunity to spread in this manner. All new hogs should be isolated.

The removal of the duty by the United States on cattle had opened up large markets. While this would probably not result in large sales of Canadian cattle in the States it would have the effect of raising prices paid to the producer through the extra competition. The speaker referred to the amount of produce imported into British Columbia which amounted annually to many millions of dollars. All this produce might just as well be raised at home, The benefit to the farming community of these extra millions could easily be imagined.

Poultry men: said the speaker, had not had a very rosy time just lately, with the low price for their produce and the high price for feed, Nevertheless, he would advise them to hang on, study every economy and cut out the culls. In dairying too, better business methods should be practistd. Economy in production would be largely obtained if dairymen grew as much grain as was possible for their livestock instead of buying it, It was wise to keep a close record of the cattle with regard to their yield of butter and milk, This was done a great deal in the east and had resulted in larger yields.
