THE CRESTON REVIEW

Vol. XXIII. CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1932 No. 50

Alice Siding

Harry Compton, who returned from Kimberley last month, is now at the C.P.R. station at Creston, as messenger.

Saturday night's surprise party was at the home of Mrs. Marshall, and attracted the usual attendance, all reporting a very fine time, and an excellent midnight lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Webster and family are again residents at Alice Siding, moving back to the ranch from Creston, where they have been residing for a couple of years, at the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Pagen, who have been on the ranch, are now living at Erickson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, jr. with Will Mather and Will Miller made the trip to Wasa by auto truck last week, where Mrs. Miller will make a short visit. The other three are back again, bringing with them a couple of cows, which were transported by truck.

At the Community Whist Club meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Martin on Friday night the high scores were made by Miss Jessie Parkin and Cecil Hamilton. The pie eating contest caused no end of fun, as the contestants had their hands tied behind their back and had to depend entirely on head and mouth work to get away with the pastry. Frist prize went to Jim Taylor.

Sirdar

Miss Eileen Heap left for Nelson on Thursday afternoon, making the trip by bus.

Jas. S. Wilson was a business visitor at Canyon and Creston on Thursday, remaining overnight to attend K P. lodge.

Mr. Frampton of the Sanca Mines was a between bus visitor at Creston on Friday.

Mrs R. Heap was a visitor at Creston on Thursday.

Mrs. A. Mackie of Boswell was visiting and shopping in Creston on Thursday.

Mrs. Charlie Neil of Kuskanoook was a Friday guest at the home of Mrs. T. Rogers

Dominic Pasenzzo was a business visitor at Creston on Saturday.

Several types of wild flowers have been observed in bloom, while there is still a slight covering of snow.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaren and family of Creston were last Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Pascuzzo.

Joe Koliman, watchman at Kootenay Landing, was a visitor at Nelson a few day last week.

Bob Stewart, watchman at Ty , had a surprise in store for everyone when he passed through last Sunday with his bride. Mrs. Stewart is a niece of Mr. Paskusky of Wynndel.

The water guage at Slough bridge stands at .15. This is a raise of .07 for the week. This is the first raise registered.

Mr. Frank Cummings and Willie Mackie of Boswell were visitors at Creston on Thursday, taking in K.P. Lodge in the evening.

Tony Lombardo spent a few days at Creston during the week. John Audino spent Thurday and Friday in Creston receiving medical treatment.

Messrs. Timmons went own to their claim near Sanca at the beginning of the week. It is probable that much will be heard from this area this summer.

Mrs. P Cherbo entertained the second last meeting of the ladies sewing circle at her home on Friday last. There was a good turnout, and it was decided that the final gathering should take place at the home of Mrs. R. Bleumaneaur this Friday.

The roads in the vicinity of Sirdar are being made a little difficult with small slides and boulders. Fortunately a small crew has been able to deal with these effectively and without any delay in traffic.

From early Thursday morning continual and heavy blasting was heard on the C.P.R. line, alongside the lake continuing all day Friday and during that evening. Heavy slides and rock obstructions were the cause.

Canyon City

Birth—On March 1st, to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kolthammer, a son.

Mrs. Guy Browell of Nelson is a visi or here this week, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Hickey.

The Seaforth r nch is the first to report the arrival of 1932 chickens. A Rhode Island Red clucker belonging to H. Young brought out a batch of ten chicks Wednesday morning.

Hilton Young got back on Sunday from a two months' vacation which he spent with relatives and friends at Toronto and other Ontario centres. In some parts the weather was so mild the skating rinks never were opened

The United Church Ladies' Aid had the regular meeting on Saturday afternoon at which it was decided to have the usual Easter tea and sale of work. Although the membership is the smallest in years the ladies' are doing their usual good work.

Those who have had apples in cellar storage in these parts are moving them out for shipment through Scott Fruit Company this week. While the quantity to move is not heavy, it is larger than in any other year.

Due to the poor shape of the roads, or for some other good and sufficient reason, the Creston baseball club leap year dance at the hall fo. Monday night last had to be cancel ed.

Mrs. Niblow was hostess at a miscellaneous shower at her home on Saturday evening honoring Mrs. Moulton (nee Roberta Walsh) of Kaslo, who with Mr. Moulton is here on a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowerison. The bride of January was the recipient of many useful gifts and the guests greatly enjoyed the hospitality dispensed.

The bridge drive under community hall directors auspices at the hall on Saturday nigh was only fairly well attended, and the honors of the evening were evenly distributed as between Canyon and Erickson. Mrs. Van Ackeran and Mrs. Roy Browell captured the ladies' high score prizes and Lewis and W. G. Littlejohn annexed the gents' honors.

The government is finding quite a good demand for its old bridges in this district. The former Wearmouth structure is being dissected by P. W. Wiltse, the Arrow Creek fox farm proprietor, and Hoglund brothers have purchased the remains of the former north bridge on the Canyon-Lister road. Purchasers are to burn all the material they do not care to otherwise make use of.

Snowshoe Party Goes Aid Trapper

Ed. Jordan, Operating Line up Summit Creek, Stricken with Appendicits, to be Packed Out Impossile to Use Airplane

A. Lovestrom, R. W. Maxwell, Ed. Benney and Art Hurry comprise a party that pulled out on snowshoes Wednesday afternoon for the Ed. Jordan cabin up Summit Creek, with the intention of bringing Jordan out for medical treatment. The unlucky trapper is reported to be critically ill with appendicitis, word to this effect reaching town Wednesday morning by Lovestrom, who is working with Jordan. It would appear that the two left Creston for their cabin on Saturday morning and on his arrival home Jordan complained of not feeling well and his condition not improving Lovestrom pulled out again late Tuesday for Creston for help, reaching here Wednesday morning when the rescue party was organized and got away almost immediately. They are travelling by snowshoe and by staying on the trail all night hope to be able to start back with Jordan on Thursday morning, and if the snow permits and a toboggan can be used for transport the party hopes to be back to town sometime Thursday evening, but here is no certainty as to snow conditions as the fall is reported to be the heaviest ever known up Summit in the last twenty years. On hearing of the unfortunate incident W. M. Archibald and his pilot, Page McPhee, had a look over the Su mit Creek area so see if it would be possible to speed up the rescue with the former's plane. Quite a good temporary landing field was located but as it was not big enough to provide a takeoff the use of the plane had to be abandoned. The Jordan cabin is located about 25 miles up Summit Creek from the ferry.

Wynndel

Birth—On February 19th to Mr. and Mrs. L. Paskoski, a son.

Birth— On February 25th, to Mr. and Mrs. Hess, a son.

Miss Ruth Joy is a patient in Nelson hospital, having undergone an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. A. Joy was a Nelson visitor last week.

Mrs. A F. Rudd is spending a few days with friends in Montana.

Miss S. Benedetti of Boswell spent a few days with her parents here last week.

Percy Cockle left for Alhambra, Alberta, where he will remain to help with spring work.

The first of a series of bridge afternoons was held at the home of Mrs. Watson Friday last. Five tables were in play, prize score going to Mrs. G. W. Taylor. Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Ogilvie were joint hostesses. Freewill offering amounted to about $5, and goes to the Lillian Gregory return fund

T. Sixsmith, who has been renewing acquaintances at Elnora, Alberta, returned home on Sunday.

The March meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held on Wednesday, 9th, at the home of Mrs. Towson, at 2 30 p.m.

The K.K. Klub meeting last week has the record of being the best evening's entertainment to date. A mock wedding in niggerland was the feature. George Heller was the bride, tastefully dressed in sheets, and carrying a young tree as a bouquet. Whitfield Abbott was the happy groom. Geo McIntyre was best man, and Mrs. Murgatroyd was bridesmaid. G. W. Taylor was the officiating clergyman, and Mrs. W.J. Cooper played the wedding march, and the remainder of the committee were guests. A bridal scene was announced. The audience brought their chairs in line with the stage, but when the curtain was drawn the audience was badly stung, the scene being a horse's bridle reposing on the table. Vocal numbers by F. Menhinick, J. Hulme, G. Payette and Miss Payette were greatly enjoyed. A tie knotting contest was a great success and was won by Mrs. A. Benedetti and O. Hagen. A novel lunch of doughnuts, biscuits, cheese and crackers was served. Oldtime dances were much in evidence, and were greatly enjoyed.

Lister

Mrs Reno House and daughter are away on a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. VanEtten, at Bonners Ferry at present.

R. Stevens got back on Thursday from a ten-day business and pleasure trip to Nelson and Trail.

Col. Lister has been named one of the Conservative members of the legislative committee investigating unemployment funds mismanagement. He refused the chairmanship of the committee.

Mrs. Ed. Smith is a Creston visitor this week, a guest of Mrs. A. Stuart Evans.

Rev. T. Scott of Creston will be here on Sunday morning for Anglican Church service at the sohoolhouse at 11 o'clock.

The Community Society is entertaining at a bridge drive at the schoolhouse on Saturday evening, 5th. with cards at 8 15.

Notices are up for the annual meeting of Lister Waterworks District which is to be held at the schoolhouse on Saturday. 12th, with H. Langston, assessor and collector, in charge. R. A. Hunt of the Land Settlement Board is the retiring trustee.

Mr. and Mrs. Bird were hosts at a bridge at their home on Saturday evening with five tables in play, and the high score honors going to Mr. and Mrs. R. Stevens. A delightful lunch was served to clase an enjoyable evening just at midnight. The evening was in honor of Miss Curtis, principal of Lister school, whose birthday it was.

Division 1 of Lister school had an average attendance of 97 per cent. for February according to the report just given out by Miss Curtis, who has charge of the room. Those making highest standings were: Grade 7—Clara Domke, David Gustafson. Grade 6—Douglas Sinclair, Clara Meyer. Grade 5—Erika Meyer, Raymond McKee. Perfect attendance—Kirk Beard, Kitty Beard, Cyril Bird, Clara Domke, Martha Domke, David Gustafson, Raymond McKee, Erika Meyer, Clara Meyer, Manning Powers, J hn Riemer, Douglas Sinclair.

Miss Webster reports that Division 2 also had an average attendance of 97 per cent. attendance for February, with the following making highest standings: Grade 4—Irene Letoille, Alice Wellspring. Grade 3—Margaret Sinclair, Johanna Daus. Grade 2—Elsie Ramm, Rosemary Wolfrum. Grade 1a—Tonia Riemer, Doris Stieb. Grade 1b—Mary Millner, Stella Beard. Perfect attendance—Milly Beard, Stella Beard, Johanna Daus, Mary Daus Margaret Dent, Daniel Domke, Mary Domke, Eric Jacks, Irene Letoille, Mary Millner, Elsie Ramm, Tonia Riemer, Margaret Sinclair, Hug Sommerfeld, Elsie Stieb, Rose Wolfrum

Erickson

T. Wilson was a weekend visitor with friends at Cranbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Campbell of Bellvue, have moved to their ranch at Erickson, and will be remaining for the spring work.

Mrs. F. Clark, who has been visiting friends in Cranbrook, arrived home last week.

Erickson Christ Church Ladies' Guild had the March meeting on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. Murphy.

J. Dugdale, of Bellvue, Alberta, has again taken up residence at his ranch, and will be remaining until fall.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Celli of Coleman, Alberta, are visitors at their ranch at Erickson.

Tom Mawson, who has been attending school here while a guest of Mrs A. Cameron, left for his home at Kimberley on Tuesday.

Mrs. T. Wilson (nee Dora Healey) is a patient at Creston Valley public hospital this week.

Mrs. Thos. Bysouth, who has been a patient at Creston Valley public hospital, left the hospital last week, feeling much better.

Kitchener

Miss Vivian Langlois, who attends business college in Nelson, arrived home last week on a visit.

Mrs. C. Foisy returned on Friday after spending a few days visiting friends in Cranbrook.

Miss M. Sproule spent the weekend in Nelson, visiting with friends, returning on Sunday.

Dr. Henderson of Creston was here on professional calls Friday and Saturday.

Chas. Harmer spent the weekend in Nelson, visiting with friends, returning on Monday.

Mrs. Geo. Young of Creston spent a few days here last week visiting her sister, Mrs. E. Driffil, returning on Monday.

Government road relief work opened here on Monday, with a crew of men at work at Mosquito Creek road camp, and some of the local married men at work west of town.

The Community Bridge Club put on a social evening on Saturday when six tables of bridge were in play. The ladies prizes were won by Leland Nowlin, playing a lady's hand, and Miss Vivian Langlois. The gents' high was captured by Marcel Senesael, and gents' second by Willard Blair. A dainty lunch was served at the close of card play, and then dancing was enjoyed to music by Mrs. E. Blair, piano; Lewis Simpson, violin, and Denis Bush, banjo. A good time was had by all.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Canada's investment in highways is said to total $900,000,000, covering roads estimated at 390,000 miles in length.

Waterloo bridge is sinking and must be replaced by a new one which will cost £1,295,000. The present bridge was opened in 1817.

A total of 21,392 persons were naturalized during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1931. Twenty-seven certificates were revoked. Those naturalized were mainly central Europeans.

Furniture and other articles recently seized by the police in Mahatma Gandhi's seminary brought $133.22, when they were auctioned to help pay taxes on the property.

William Miller, 73, pioneer, is dead at Calgary. He attended the ceremony of driving the last spike into the Canadian Pacific Railway line at Craigellachie, B.C., in 1885.

The Citreon-Haardt-Asiatic-Expedition, travelling 8,000 miles across Asia, met temperatures ranging from 120 degrees above zero to 16 degrees below.

Premier Tolmie of British Columbia does not agree with the three reports tabled at Ottawa stating the Peace River outlet was not feasible at present. He supports building of the outlet.

W. F. Powell and R. M. McLeod, reading of the departure of an expedition to seek treasure on the Cocos Island, recall a similar unsuccessful expedition they took part in 45 years ago to seek the same treasure.

There will be no change in the French disarmament and reparations policy under the government headed by Andre Tardieu, the new premier told the Chamber of Deputies in his first ministerial declaration.

A bill to link Glacier National Park with Waterton Park across the Canadian Border in an International Peace Park has been reported favorably by the United States House of Representatives public lands committee.

Her Majesty Queen Mary, accompanied by the Duke of York and Prince George, visited the Canadian industrial section at the British Industrial fair at Olympia, London, England, according to a cable received by the Department of Trade and Commerce.

Close Judicial Districts

Four judicial districts of Saskatchewan will not operate this year, as no appropriations have been provided for them by the government for the fiscal year 1932-33. They are: Gravelbourg, Leader, Maple Creek, and Wynyard. In the fiscal year now closing 23 districts operated, and the closing of the four for which no appropriation is provided will mean a saving in expenditure of $30,870.

Saskatchewan Leads In Mental Hygiene

National Committee Expresses Hope That All Large Hospitals Will Follow Lead Given By Hon. Dr. Munroe

The report of the activities of the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene for the period 1930-31, just issued, makes special complimentary reference to the work being done by Saskatchewan's Minister of Public Health, the Hon. F. D. Munroe, in connection with the establishment of a division of Mental Health in Saskatchewan.

"The progressive Minister of Health," says the report, "is taking a statesmanlike interest in mental hygiene and has created a division of mental health. It will fall to this division to work out policies and programmes in regard to mental institutions, clinics and the application of mental hygiene principles in education, social work, administration of criminal justice, etc. The Minister of Health has also made possible the organization of psychiatric wards in connection with the Regina General Hospital. It is to be hoped that all large general hospitals throughout the country will follow the lead furnished by Regina."

During the period 1930-31 the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene has been active in all parts of Canada in the promotion of mental hygiene progress. The outstanding pieces of work include a survey of the Province of Prince Edward Island; organization of a post-graduate centre in psychiatry in Toronto; integration of mental hygiene into the school system of Montreal; activities leading to the enlargement of the mental hospital at Brandon, Manitoba; arrangement in collaboration with the Federal Census Bureau to secure uniform statistics from mental institutions of the country; publication of weekly articles in two hundred newspapers; demonstration of the value of social work in the parole of mental patients in British Columbia; establishment of a Division of Mental Health in connection with the Department of Public Health of the Province of Saskatchewan; organization of psychiatric wards in connection with the Regina General Hospital; educational publicity; continuation of important research activities at four leading Canadian universities and the knitting of mental hygiene activities through co-opertive efforts between the National Committees of Canada and the United States.

C. N. R. Branch Lines

$648,000 To Be Expended On Construction Work This Year

A total of $648,000 will be expended on branch line construction for the Canadian National Railways this year, that amount being authorized in the 1929-1932 programme, according to a return tabled by R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways, in the House of Commons. A number of the branch lines are completed, but work this year will be confined to five, of which two are in Alberta, one in Saskatchewan, one each in British Columbia and Ontario. The programme follows: Bulwark (Alberta) easterly, $15,000; Brantford (Ontario) cut-off, $312,000; Hemaruka-Scapa (Alberta), $115,000; St. Walburg (Saskatchewan) Bonnyville, $35,000; Lulu Island (B.C.), $171,000.

Expenditures in connection with the programme up to December 21, 1931, amounted to $17,610,769. During the year the sum of $4,378,050 was spent. The amount authorized in the schedule, plus the customary 15 per cent., totalled $33,061,350.

A number of the constructions have been discontinued for the time being.

In Deference To Jews

The Shakespeare play, "Julius Caesar," has been substituted in the public schools of the province for "The Merchant of Venice," as the result of objections raised by Jewish people, Dr. J. T. M. Anderson, Premier and Minister of Education, told the Saskatchewan School Trustees' Association, when he defended the department's policy regarding text books and denied frequent changes.

DECIDEDLY SMART DAY DRESS FOR MATRONS OR ANYONE WHOSE FIGURE NEEDS SLIMMING

You'll love this dress. It is black canton-faille crepe silk.

It has the lines which have been proven by experience are becoming to the heavier figure. It also has the new modish sleeve flounce and is quite one-sided about its white crepe rever, that provided so much smartness and charm.

Some may like the rever to tone with the dress, which is also very smart and a bit more practical.

It is especially fascinating in soft royal blue shade crepe silk. Printed crepe silk is attractive in this model with the rever and sleeve flounce of plain crepe in blending tone.

Style No. 672 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3⅝ yards of 39-inch material with ½ yard of 35-inch contrasting.

Price of pattern 25 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MARCH 6

JESUS WASHES HIS DISCIPLES' FEET

Golden Text: "The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a ransome for many."—Matthew 20.28.

Lesson: John 13.1-15.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 52.13 to 53.6

Explanations and Comments

Supreme Love and Supreme Treachery, verses 1 and 2.—Before partaking of the Feast of the Passover, Jesus was fully aware of the death awaiting Him, and the washing of the disciples' feet was a last illustration of His uttermost love for his own —His disciples with whom He had lived so long and so intimately. Side by side with His Lord's great love for them, the Evangelist places the treachery of Judas Iscariot, who at the supper fully made up his mind to betray Jesus.

Supreme Power and Lowliest Service, verses 3-5.—In later years Peter wrote this admonition: "All of you gird yourselves with humility to serve one another." Was he not thinking of the girded towel about his Lord and the lowly service performed on that last night that Jesus companied with His disciples? The consciousness of power, mission and destiny did not deter Jesus from this humblest of tasks which He set Himself; rather did it urge Him to undertake it. He arose from the table, poured water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet.

"No impulse is too splendid for the simplest tasks; no task is too simple for the most splendid impulse." — Phillips Brooks.

Blundering Love, verses 6-9.—"Dost Thou wash my feet?" Peter exclaimed when his Master came to him. In the Greek the words "su mou"—thou, of me—are in emphatic contrast at the beginning of the sentence. "What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt understand hereafter," Christ's answer, is partly explained in verses 12-17.

"Thou shalt never wash my feet," impetuous Peter cried out. Recall Matthew 16.22. "It is the old strange mixture of self-conceit and self-disgust: the self-conceit of old, which under the shadow of Hermon had called upon him so stern a rebuke when he had said, 'That be far from Thee, Lord; this shall never be unto Thee'; the self-disgust which of old, in the boat on the Sea of Galilee, had flung him on his knees, with that great cry wringing from his yearning heart, 'Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord'."—F. W. Farrar.

"I love Simon; I have made pretty much the same blunders as he has, only the publicity has not been given to them."—G. W. Bull.

"If I wash thee not, thou has no part with Me," no part in my fellowship and kingdom, was Jesus' answer. Peter did not fully understand, but he was wholly loyal to his Lord. His revulsion of feeling was complete when he cried, "Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head."

Gasoline Tax

Net Revenue Shown For Saskatchewan For Year 1931

The Saskatchewan gasoline tax resulted in a net revenue of $1,254,058.20 being received into the provincial treasury in 1931, figures made public in the legislature disclosed.

The total amount collected through the tax was $2,458,675.29, of which $1,148,528.59 was rebated in addition to $56,088.50 paid out by way of commissions for collections.

In addition, it was stated by Hon. A. C. Stewart, Minister of Highways, that 91,276 automobile licenses were issued in 1931, 15,678 licenses for trucks, 41 for public vehicles, 110 for freight vehicles, 306 for motorcycles, 570 for livery vehicles, 2 for pedal bicycles with motor attachments and 1,107 for trailers.

A Good Investment

Big Business In Orient Developed From Few Gifts

About a quarter of a century ago the Standard Oil Co. gave away without cost a large number of kerosene oil lamps and stoves in China and throughout the Orient. This was designed to increase the demand for kerosene oil. It was a good investment. Today tankships operated by the Standard Oil and the Shell Oil Companies carry many millions of gallons of kerosene to Oriental countries annually. While electric lighting is common in port towns, throughout the Orient the interior cities and towns as well as the rural districts still employ kerosene oil as their principal means of lighting.

Government and Municipal Co-Operation

Necessity Of Economy In Order To Safeguard Solvency Of Municipalities

Hon. Howard McConnell, Provincial Minister of Municipal Affairs for Saskatchewan, has addressed a letter over his personal signature to the various municipalities pointing out the necessity of close co-operation between Saskatchewan Government and the municipalities. He points out the paramount importance of safe guarding the solvency of the municipalities, by pursuing a course of the most rigid economy. He pays a tribute to the public spirit of certain municipalities, pointing out that there have been instances where tax collections in districts where crops have not been good, have exceeded tax collections in districts where crops have been reasonably good. In some districts which have been dried out the financial statements submitted have given the greatest encouragement. Regret is expressed that in some municipalities more favored in the way of better crops financial conditions are not what they should be.

The Minister expresses the desirability of the employment of capable secretaries and paying them reasonable returns for the important services rendered. He urges the utmost economy in preparing the budget for the coming year, and suggests that only the most necessary expenditures be undertaken. He asks for a copy of the forthcoming budget with an indication of the proposed savings, and offers the earnest co-operation of the Government, the Minister, and the Department.

Tuberculosis Affects Indians

Resistance Less Vigorous Among Those Residing In Remote Reserves

Resistance to tuberculosis is less vigorous among the Indian population of Canada residing in the remote reserves than elsewhere, a report of the superintendent of Indian Affairs indicates. Near white settlements the ravages of this disease can be controlled; and Indians engaged in agricultural pursuits show increasing resistance. The Department of Indian Affairs declares in regard to the latter that "it would not be impossible to practically stamp out tuberculosis on several reserves, and the measures required to this end would not be unduly costly."

Of the Indians in the less accessible reserves, however, the report says that they are not showing "any satisfactory tendency towards increased resistance to tuberculosis, and their location and manner of life makes it difficult, if not impossible, for the department to give them effective aid in this respect."

Still Some Differences

There are still some differences between the sexes, despite the desperate efforts to eradicate them all and we never saw a man earnestly endeavoring to ascertain by a prolonged study of the outside of the envelope whom the letter came from, instead of opening it and finding out at once and for sure.

Farm Implements Exported

Canadian farm implements exported during January were valued at $120,324, an increase of $9,300 over December, 1931, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported recently. The best purchaser was the United States at $43,486. Great Britain's purchases totalled $15,806.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

— BY —

MARGARET PEDLER

Author Of "The Splendid Folly." "The Hermit Of Far End."

Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., London.

He was looking, not at her but beyond her, as she spoke, as though his thoughts dwelt with some past memory. His expression was inscrutable; she could not interpret it. Presently he turned back to her and though he smiled there was a deep, unfathomable sadness in his eyes.

"I've had one unforgettable lesson," he said quietly. "The Tormarin temper—the cursed inheritance of every one of us—has ruined my life just as it has ruined others before me."

The words seemed to fall on Jean's ears with a numbing sense of calamity, not alone in that past to which they primarily had reference, but as though thrusting forward in some mysterious way into the future—her future.

She was conscous of a vague foreboding that that "cursed inheritance" of the Tormarins was destined, sooner or later, to impinge upon her own life.

At night, when she went to bed, her mind was still groping blindly in the dark places of dim premonition. Single sentences from the afternoon's conversation kept flitting through her brain, and when at last she slept it was to dream that she had lost her way and was wandering alone in a wild and desolate region. Presently she came to a solitary dwelling, set lonely in the midst of the interminable plain. Three wretched-looking scrubby little fir trees grew to one side of the house, all three of them bent in the same direction as though beaten and bowed forward by ceaseless winds. While she stood wondering whether she should venture to knock at the door of the house and ask her way, it opened and Geoffrey Burke came out.

"Ah! There you are!" he exclaimed, as though he had been expecting her. "I've been waiting for you. Will you come into my parlour?"

He smiled at her as he spoke—she could see the even flash of his white teeth—but there was something in the quality of the smile which terrified her, and without answering a word she turned to escape.

But he overtook her in a couple of strides, catching her by the hand in a grip so fierce that it seemed as though the bones of her fingers must crack under it.

"Come into my parlour," he repeated. "If you don't, you'll be stamped forever with the mark of the beast. It's too late to try and run away."

Jean woke in a cold perspiration of terror. The dream had been of such vividness that it was a full minute before she could realize that, actually, she was safely tucked up in her own bed at Staple. When she did, the relief was so immeasurable that she almost cried.

The next morning, with the May sunshine streaming in through the open window, it was easier to laugh at her nocturnal fears; and to trace the odd phrases which, snatched from the previous day's conversation with Burke and Tormarin and jumbled up together, had supplied the nightmare horror of her dream.

But, even so, it was many days before she could altogether shake off the disagreeable impression it had made on her.

CHAPTER XIV.

A Compact

"You don't like Jean Peterson."

Burke made the announcement without preface. He and Judith were sitting together on the verandah at Willow Ferry, where their coffee had been brought them after lunch. Judith inhaled a whiff of cigarette smoke before she answered. Then, without any change of expression, her eyes fixed on the glowing tip of her cigarette, she answered composedly:

"No. Did you expect I should?"

"Well, hang it all, you don't hold her accountable for her father's defection, do you?"

A dull red crept up under Mrs. Craig's sallow skin, but she did not lift her eyes. They were still intent on the little red star of light dulling slowly into grey ash.

"Not accountable," she replied coolly. "I look upon her as an unpleasant consequence." She bent forward suddenly. "Do you realise that she might have been—my child?" There was a sudden vibrating quality in her voice, and for an instant a rapt look look came into her face, transforming its hard lines. "But she isn't. She happens to be the child of the man I loved—and another woman."

"You surely can't hate her for that?"

"Can't I? You don't know much about women, Geoff. Glyn Peterson stamped on my pride, and a woman never forgives that."

She leaned back in her chair again, her face once more an indifferent mask. Burke sat silent, staring broodingly in front of him. Presently her glance flickered curiously over his face.

"Why does it matter to you whether I like her or not?" she asked, breaking the silence which had fallen.

Burke shifted in his chair so that he faced her. His eyes looked far more red than brown at the moment, as though they glowed with some hot inner light.

"Because," he said deliberately, "I'm going to marry her."

Judith sat suddenly upright.

"So that's the meaning of your constant pilgrimages to Staple, is it?"

"Just that."

She laughed—a disagreeable little laugh like a douche of cold water.

"You're rather late in the field, aren't you?"

"You mean that Blaise Tormarin wants her?"

"Of course I do. It's evident enough, isn't it?"

Burke pulled at his pipe reflectively.

"I should have thought he'd had a sickener with Nesta Freyne."

"So he had. But not in the way you mean. He never—loved—Nesta."

"Then why on earth did he ask her to marry him?"

"Good heavens, Geoffrey! You're a man—and you ask me that! There are heaps of men who ask women to marry them on the strength of a temporary infatuation, and then regret it ever after. Luckily for Blaise, Nesta saved him the 'ever after' part. But"—eyeing him significantly—"Blaise's feeling for Jean isn't of the 'temporary' type. Of that I'm sure."

"All the same, I don't believe he means to ask her to marry him."

"No. I don't think he does—mean to. He's probably got some high-minded scruples about not asking a second woman to make a mess of her life as a result of the Tormarin temper. It would be just like Blaise to adopt that attitude. But he will ask her, all the same. The thing'll get too strong for him. And when he asks her, Jean will say yes.

"You may be right. I've always said you were no fool, Judy. But if it's as you think, then I must get in first, that's all. First or last, though"—with a grim laugh—"I'll back myself to beat Blaise Tormarin. And you've got to help me."

Followed a silence while Judith threw away the stump of her cigarette and lit another. She did not hurry over the process, but went about it slowly and deliberately, holding the flame of the match to the tip of her cigarette for quite an unnecessarily long time.

At last:

"I don't mind if I do," she said slowly. "I don't think I—envy—your wife much, Geoffrey. She won't be a very happy woman, so I don't mind assisting Glyn Peterson's daughter to the position. It would make things so charming all round if he and I ever met again"—smiling ironically.

Burke looked at her with a mixture of admiration and disgust.

"What a thorough-going little beast you are, Judith," he observed tranquilly.

She shrugged her thin, supple shoulders with indifference.

"I didn't make myself. Glyn Peterson had a good share in kneading the dough: why shouldn't his daughter eat the bread? And anyhow, old thing"—her whole face suddenly softening—"I should like you to have what you want—even if you wanted the moon! So you can count on me. But I don't think you'll find it all plain sailing."

"No"—sardonically. "She'll likely be a little devil to break. . . . Well, start being a bit more friendly, will you? Ask her to lunch."

Accordingly, a day or two later, a charming little note found its way to Staple, inviting Jean to lunch with Mrs. Craig.

"I shall be quite alone," it ran, "as Geoffrey is going off for a day's fishing, so I hope Lady Anne will spare you to come over and keep me company for an hour or two."

Jean was delighted at this evidence that Judith was thawing towards her. She was genuinely anxious that they should become friends, feeling that it was up to her, as Glyn's daughter, to atone—in so far as friendliness and sympathy could be said to atone—for his treatment of her. Beyond this, she had a vague hope that later, if she and Judith ever became intimate enough to touch on the happenings of the past, she might be able to make the latter see her father in the same light in which she herself saw him—as a charming, lovable, irresponsible child, innocent of any intention to wound, but with all a child's unregarding pursuit of a desired object, irrespective of the consequencess to others.

Nerves Kept Her Awake

Mrs. Scheer Says She Sleeps Like Log Since Taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Feels So Refreshed In Morning.

"I can truthfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for all those suffering from a rundown state of nerves," writes Mrs. Scheer, of Prince Albert, Sask. "My nerves were in such a rundown condition that I could not sleep at night. Many nights I could not lie in bed at all, and would get up and walk the floor. A friend told me her mother was in the same condition and had found relief by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I have taken four boxes, and can now sleep like a log, and I feel so refreshed in the morning. I do my own housework and am a dressmaker besides."

The reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are so effective in such cases is that they create new rich blood, which supplies to the nerves the very elements they need. Equally effective for all rundown or anaemic conditions. Try them. At your druggist's. 50c a package. 275

GAINED ½ lb. A WEEK

Kruschen Stopped it—Now 11 lbs. Down

"I started to take Kruschen Salts a month ago, to reduce my weight—after trying several other ways. I am pleased with the results, as from 224 lbs., I have lost 11 lbs., which I think is a move in the right direction. I feel better all round, and am hoping to get down to 168 lbs. I am 52 years of age, and 5 feet 8 inches, and was putting on weight consistently at the rate of half-a-pound per week, so you see I have cause to be thankful for Kruschen Salts."—H. W.

An over-stout person is an auto-intoxicated (or self-poisoned) person whose internal organs are failing to expel from the body the waste products of digestion. Allowed to accumulate, this waste matter is turned into layer after layer of hideous fat.

The six salts in Kruschen assist the internal organs to perform their functions properly—to throw off each day the wastage and poisons that encumber the system. Then, little by little, that ugly fat goes—slowly, yes—but surely, and you feel so wonderfully healthy, youthful, and energetic—more so than ever before in your life!

FREE TRIAL OFFER

If you have never tried Kruschen—try it now at our expense. We have distributed a great many special "GIANT" packages which make it easy for you to prove our claim for yourself. Ask your druggist for the new "GIANT" 75c. package.

This consists of our regular 75c. bottle together with a separate trial bottle—sufficient for about one week. Open the trial bottle first, put it to the test, and then, if not entirely convinced that Kruschen does everything we claim it to do, the regular bottle is still as good as new. Take it back. Your druggist is authorised to return your 75c. immediately and without question. You have tried Kruschen free, at our expense. What could be fairer? Manufactured by E. Griffiths Hughes, Ltd., Manchester, Eng. (Estab. 1756). Importers: McGillivray Bros., Ltd., Toronto.

More War Than Peace

3,153 War Years In the Last 3,421 Years Of World's History

There have been 3,153 "war years" in the last 3,421 years of the world's history, according to statistics published by the Society of International Law.

The society's report said that so far as is known there have been only 268 "peace years," but incomplete records of this evolution of nations make it difficult to determine definitely whether even those years were entirely peaceful.

SAVED IMPORTED DRESS

"After a little wearing, a lovely green voile—an imported dress—lost colour so completely that it was not wearable. A friend who had admired it asked me why I wasn't wearing it any more. On hearing the reason she advised dyeing it and recommended Diamond Dyes. To make a long story short, it turned out beautifully. I have a lovely new dress that really cost just 15c—the price of one package of Diamond Dyes.

"I have since used Diamond Dyes for both tinting and dyeing. They do either equally well. I am not an expert dyer but I never have a failure with Diamond Dyes. They seem to be made so they always go on smoothly and evenly. They never spot, streak or run; and friends, never know the things I dye with Diamond Dyes are redyed at all!"

Little Helps For This Week

"Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth."—Matthew v. 5.

He that is down need fear no fall,
He that is low no pride;
He that is humble ever shall
Have God to be his guide.

I am content with what I have,
Little be it or much;
And, Lord, contentment still I crave,
Because Thou savest such.
—John Bunyan.

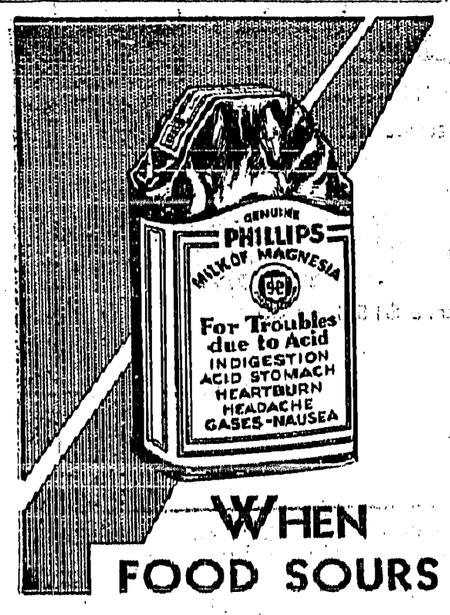
He, and he only, possesses the earth as he goes toward heaven, by benig humble and cheerful, and content with what his good God has allotted him. He has no turbulent, repining, vexatious thoughts that he deserves better; nor is he vexed when he sees others possessed of more honour or more riches than his wise God has allotted for his share. But he possesses what he has with a meek and contented quietness. God has two dwellings,—one in heaven, and the other in a meek and thankful heart.—Izaak Walton.

Dust Causes Asthma. Even a little speck too small to see will lead to agonies which no words can describe. The walls of the breathing tubes contract and it seems as if the very life must pass. From this condition Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy brings the user to perfect rest. It relieves the passages and normal breathing is firmly established again. Hundreds of testimonials received annually prove its effectiveness.

Word Growing In Use

"World" is a word constantly growing in use—world court, world bank, world trade conferences, world disarmament, world peace—and made possible only through better world understanding.

Distemper responds quickly to Douglas' Egyptian Liniment. Keep a bottle handy in the stable.



WHEN FOOD SOURS

ABOUT two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for correcting excess acids. 50c a bottle—any drug store.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior toothpaste that safeguards against acid-mouth. (Made in Canada.)

COMFORT

. . . THROUGH CASTORIA'S GENTLE REGULATION

The best way to prevent colic, doctors say, is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste. But remember this: a tiny baby's tender little organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged. This is just the time Castoria can help most. Castoria, you know, is made specially for babies and children, it is a pure vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. For years it has helped mothers through trying times with colicky babies and children suffering with digestive upsets, colds and fever. Keep genuine Castoria on hand, with the name:

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, MAR. 4

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

More About Canyon Power

Editor Review:

Sir—Your editorial in the Review of February 26th gives my suggestion, that the proper way to develop Goat Canyon is by local effort, such good support that I feel every effort should be made to carry this through.

There is a kind of inferiority complex in the Valley when it comes to undertaking anything; a kind of "Let George do it" feeling, and when George does it and makes a profit everybody grumbles.

As I pointed out in my former letter the advantages of the scheme are so obvious that it is well worth an effort to pull together and put the scheme over. Therefore let's take off our coats and get busy. There are difficulties, of course, but things worth while are seldom easy.

You pointed out how other communities have found that the ownership of these plants is not only beneficial to the community but also very profitable. The city of Nelson, in the annual statement, shows a profit of $72,430.50 from their light plant after allowing for operating costs, interest and sinking fund charges. If Grand Forks can spend $45000.00 and save money on their contract with the West Kootenay, and get the benefits outlined in your editorial, the same thing applies to this Valley.

Let it be granted, the efore, that we have nothing to lose by owning our dower plant, so that the next step is to consider how this can be done. Had we a district municipality in the Valley the thing would have been easy. As we have not, the only other responsible organization is the Village. It is to the commissioners that we have to turn for leadership and I would suggest that they take immediate steps to find out just what such a plant as we would require would cost to build and operate.

I do not mean a plant just to supply the needs of the Village, but of the whole Valley. There is no need at the present time to install a plant more than sufficient for our needs but if the damming, or whatever method the engineers advise, is installed to develop the whole power available other units can be added as more power is required.

It may be urged that the Village has no power to raise money or undertake an enterprise of this kind. True, but we can obtain leave from the lieutenant-governor-in-council, and while n ordinary times this leave might be hard to obtain there is no doubt at the present time any project that would create work would be very favorably received. Moreover the taxpayers of this Valley have to put up their share of the money used for relief work so that again we are on the right side of the fence when we use money to benefit everybody.

There is another thing that goes with the Canyon development, Water—and lots of it. When we consider that a large portion of the Valley has not even an efficient supply for domestic use, much less water for irrigation purposes, it can readily be seen that an efficient water supply is a logical adjunct to power development.

It may be said that it is impossible to pump for irrigation. This may be true when an irrigation project pure and simple is being operated but in conjunction with domestic water and a light plant it becomes a simple matter. The water would go through the turbines and then into the pumps. When the big quantity of water is needed the light load would be low and it would require no more help in the plant than is necessary for the ordinary running of such a plant. It is a regretable fact that had the money spent on the Arrow Creek Irrigation project been spent on the Canyon it would have sufficed the whole Valley and to spare.

It must not be inferred that in advocating a municipal-owned plant that I am in any way hostile to Creston Power & Light Company. It is quite easy to make a working agreement with them, or to take over their lines, at a fair valuation. This company has given us good service and are entitled to consideration.

The March meeting of the Board of Trade happens to be prior to the Village council meeting. Would it be amiss if the members gave this matter serious thought so that it can be discussed intelligently and possibly a deputation could be appointed to meet the village commissioners.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, so many of my friends have congratulated mo on bringing this matter to the notice of the Valley that I feel that no apology is required for this second letter, especially after the clear and lucid way you summed up the situation in your editorial.

I was told also to get anywhere I should have to make myself a confounded nuisance. I have a better opinion of the good sense of my fellow citizens than to think that this will be necessary in a matter so obviously in the interest of the whole Valley.

I have heard talk of a sewer system. This is useless without an adequate water supply. The light and water project will not cost more and is fifty times more essential. There is a lot of preliminary work to be done, so once again I suggest that we get busy.

New Chevrolet Six Owners Know What a Difference Six Cylinders Make!

SO many motorists have discovered the difference six cylinders make that today the Chevrolet Six leads all other automobiles in sales.

Six cylinders are better in every way. For example, Chevrolet's six-cylinder motor "picks-up" in high gear quickly and without vibration. You get away ahead of the traffic and you do not have to shift gears so often.

Secondly, you can drive as fast and as far as you like without any sense of strain or fatigue. For six-cylinder travel is smooth, quiet and restful at every speed.

Then, too, Chevrolet smoothness is built-in smoothness—inherent in six-cylinder design and Chevrolet's method of insulating engine from chassis by thick rubber cushions. It protects against the wear-and-tear of constant vibration as long as you drive your Chevrolet.

In addition to these great advantages, Chevrolet offers you Free Wheeling with safe, silent Syncro-Mesh gear shifting. It gives you 60-horsepower performance with lowest operating costs of any full-size car, regardless of the number of cylinders. And Chevrolet provides Bodies by Fisher — smarter, roomier and more lastingly quiet.

Drive a Chevrolet Six. You will find one pleasure and advantage after another to emphasize the fact: It's Wise to Choose a Chevrolet Six!

FOR SALE—Ford light delivery truck. 1927 model, in good shape, or will exchange for team of work horses. F. Hollaus, Lister.

H. Crosby, yard man at the C. O. Rodgers sawmill, has just completed the purchase of the former Henry Lyne place of four acres of choice orchard property on upper Grandview Heights, and gets possession at the first of the month For the past two years the place has been operated by the Patalla brothers, and was owned by C. W. Allan.

Ollie Christie, an employee of the Rodgers box factory, is taking enforced vacation at present. While at work on Friday morning around the hot pond in which the veneer bolts are floated to take the frost out of them before going onto the knife that cuts them into strips, he missed his footing and sustained scalds on his legs which, while not serious, are decidedly painful.

In the presence of the immediate friends and relatives Miss Minnie Ewert of Regina, Sask., became the bride of Otto Kockott at the Lutheran parsonage on Wednesday, Rev. C. Baase officiating The bride was gowned in a pink crepe ensemble. Mr. and Mrs. Kockott will make their home on the groom's ranch at East Creston, and have the best wishes of friends for a successful future.

For the first time in many years Creston was absolutely without train service on Saturday The westbound was held up for 20 hours due to a washout near Hosmer, and the eastbound did not leave Nelson at all due to heavy slides on the line between Proctor and Kootenay Landing. On Sunday the westbound was on time but the eastbound did not go through until almost midnight. No freight was moving either Saturday or Sunday.

Mrs. W. Fraser was hostess at a miscellaneous shower at her home on Friday night honoring Miss Lyda Christie, whose marriage to Alf. Speaker took place on Sunday afternoon. About 20 girl friends were invited and bridge was a feature of the evening with high score prize going to Miss Ena Christie, while the low score trophy was annexed by Miss Rita Kirk. The guest of honor was the recipient of many useful gifts for the new home, and a delightful lunch was served at the close of an evening that all very much enjoyed.

After being closed to traffic Tuesday and Wednesday the bridge across the Kootenay River at Bonners Ferry was put into use again on Thursday with certain restrictions. For the two days mentioned the long structure was in danger of going out due to the pressure of ice that is backed up for about eight miles. Relief came with the colder weather which set in yesterday and new piling is being driven in the hope of saving the bridge. In the pressure of the ice the bridge has been sprung 14 inches out of alignment at the centre.

"I wonder how the folks at home are" is a natural thought when you're many miles away from them. Why not find out now? It's so easy when there's a telephone handy.

A few words to a long-distance operator will enable you to "drop in" on the family, and your talk with them will be almost like chatting face to face.

Christie-Speaker Nuptials

A marriage of great interest to a wide circle of friends was solmenized at Trinity United Church on Sunday afternoon by the pastor, Rev A.Walker, when Lyda, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Christie, was united in wedlock with Alfred Speaker, in the presence of a company of invited guests. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a travelling suit of navy blue with coat and hat to match, and was supported by her sister, Miss Ena Christie, who was similarly attired. W. H. Fortin was best man. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs Speaker left by auto for Spokane, where the honeymoon will be spent, and on their return they will take up housekeeping in apartments in the Lamont building. Both of the contracting parties are well known and popular members of Creston's younger set, and have all the good wishes of a host of friends for success and happiness.

High School Activities

At a meeting of the executive of the High School Literary and Athletic Syciety, on Friday, Kate Payne was appointed as representative on the executive for grade 9. The appointment was necessitated by the resignation of Dorothea MacDonald, who has left school. The executive also appointed Margaret Armitage and Eva LaBelle as captains of the B and C basketball teams.

On Friday afternoon, February 19th, Grade 9 entertained the other members of the Literary Society in the Parish Hall. The programme included community singing, a shadow play, and a one-act playlet, as well as a number of songs by a girls' choir.

Basketball proves of interest to a great many. Over 30 girls and 12 boys taking an active part.

High School B team handed a surprise defeat to the High School C team on Wednesday last when they defeated them by a 13 10 score. There was little to choose between the teams, the game being fairly even all the way through. With three minutes to go Margaret Armitage converted a free throw, reducing the C's lead to one point. Immediately afterwards Edith Rentz sank one from under the basket, followed by a nice shot from the side by Margaret Armitage.

Thursday night's game was rather one-sided, with the High School A's beating the Pals by a score of 26-3. The Pals made a game fight but were no match for the more experienced and smoothly running high school girls. Helen Meldrum, Nancy Downes and Irene LaBelle were outstanding for the losers, while Nellie Payne, Opal LaBelle and Betty Speers did excellent work for the winners.

The Centipedes' boys team played an exhibition game between themselves, the Reds captained by E. Whitfild, against the Blues, in charge of Earl Marriott. The game was ragged, the Blues winning 15-10.

A crowd of about 50 saw the games. E. Marriott and Frank Levirs handled the whistles for for the first game, and Mrs. Levirs was arbitrator in the second. The girls' teams:

High School A—E. Armitage 3, A. Crane 2, B. Speers 3, H. Lewis 2, Kate Payne, O LaBelle 2, M. Abbott, Nellie Payne 10, Irens Bourdon 4, Molly Moore.

The Imperial Economic Conference

The outstanding event listed on the Canadian national calendar for 1932 is the Imperial Economic Conference which will open at Ottawa on July 18. The deliberations of this conference, the decisions it may reach or fail to reach, yes, even the spirit manifested within the conference, will have far-reaching effects not only upon Canada and the British nations of the world, but upon all nations.

Because this is true, the people of Canada will follow the proceedings of the conference with an interest surpassing in its intensity that usually displayed by them in the sessions of their own parliament. It is, in a sense, a parliament of the Empire that will be in session, and while its conclusions will have to be confirmed and ratified later by each individual parliament in Great Britain and the Dominions, it is safe to say that once the conference itself has reached unanimity, its decisions will be accepted by all.

On the other hand, should the conference fail in its avowed object, should it prove as abortive of results as the London conference of 1930, the outcome may possibly be very disastrous; in fact, in such an event, it would have been better if there had been no conference. British people everywhere entertained high hopes of the conference of 1930 in advance of its sittings, and their disappointment over its almost complete failure was correspondingly great, their only consolation being the decision reached to meet again and make another try for success.

All political parties in Canada are sincerely desirous that the Ottawa conference should succeed where the London conference failed. We believe the same can be said of all political parties in Great Britain and the other Dominions. If this united will to succeed is persisted in, if it becomes intensified as the opening date of the conference approaches, if the determination of the masses of the people that the conference shall succeed is manifested everywhere, then success will be achieved.

That such a feeling and desire now animates the people of Western Canada is indicated by the proposal made in the Saskatchewan Legislature that all parties in that Assembly should unite in framing and unanimously adopting a resolution setting forth the views of their people as to the policies which Canada should present to the conference, thus, so far as Saskatchewan is concerned, eliminating all partizan contentions. The suggestion goes even farther, namely, that all the other Western Provincial Legislatures should follow the same course. In a word, the suggestion is that so far as the Western Provinces of Canada are concerned they should, in advance of the conference, reach common ground in regard to matters of policy in the sphere of Empire trade, as the interests of the West may be affected thereby, and acquaint the Ottawa Government of its conclusions.

Great Britain is to be represented in the conference by a new National Government representative of Conservatives, Liberals, and a section of Labor; Australia will be represented by a new Government representative of a combination of political groups. It is well, therefore, that the national viewpoint of Canada, as represented by political groups, should thus be ascertained and presented to the Canadian Government.

Admittedly the difficulties to be overcome, the problems to be solved, are many and great. The national interests of each component part of the Empire have to be recognized, while the combined interests of all are being worked out. There must, therefore, be a willingness to give and take, to compromise, to reach common grounds of understanding, rather than to adopt inflexible attitudes. Fortunately for the ultimate success of the conference this fact appears to be more generally recognized and accepted than heretofore.

It is fortunate, too, that in manufacturing circles in Eastern Canada there is everywhere in evidence a willingness to go some way at least in the direction of more encouragement for the sale of British-made goods in Canada in return for preferences in the Old Country markets for those products which constitute the great bulk of Canada's export trade. Taken all in all the omens appear to be favorable to a successful outcome of the conference's deliberations.

It is also well that the move for unanimity in the matter of Canadian policy in the conference should originate in these Western Provinces. No part of Canada stands to gain more, or to lose more, than does the West. For example, it is universally recognized that the success of the Hudson Bay route depends upon the development of a large import trade from Britain through the port of Churchill. An absence of such import trade means that the export of grain and other Western products will be strictly limited because a one-way rail and steamship traffic can never succeed. It is economically impossible, too expensive, because without two-way traffic vessels put on the route, rates on both railway and such ships as do operate will, of necessity, be too high to insure success.

This is but one aspect of the subject, small, perhaps, in relation to the whole subject of Empire trade, but very vital nevertheless to Western Canada. It is because of just such aspects, however, that a unity of Canadian opinion is so essential before the conference begins its work. It is to be hoped that such unity will be established and find expression around the conference table.

Fifty Million Gas Masks

France Will Ensure Every Citizen Against Gas Attacks

Fifty million gas masks have been ordered by the French Government for civilian use, it was learned officially.

The masks, to be manufactured during the next two years, will be fitted against the deadliest gases developed since the World War. They will insure immunity for ten hours after which the chemical canisters can be changed.

The masks were ordered by the Ministry of the Interior for the protection of the civil population in case of a gas attack. It is intended by the French Government to have enough gas masks on hand to guarantee every citizen protection.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis or stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with pepsin or artificial digestants that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little Bisurated Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bisurated Magnesia, to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. Your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive.

To Protect Forests

New Machine For Constructing Fire Lines Is Invented

A new machine has been invented to aid in fighting forest fires. It is nothing more than a powerful tractor with a wide plough fixed in front. The plough is used for constructing fire lines to prevent the spread of forest fires. It can make a furrow fifteen inches wide and will throw out the dirt sixteen inches on either side, making a fire line almost four feet wide. It will accomplish in one hour, work that would keep ten men busy for a whole day.

Time Has Tested It.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has been on the market upwards of fifty ears and in that time it has proved a blessing to thousands. It is in high favour throughout Canada and its excellence has carried its fame beond the seas. If it were double the price it would be a cheap liniment.

How Railway Fights Weeds

English Company Finds Spraying Poison From Tracks Effective

Weeds are the railwayman's enemy as well as the gardener's. If left alone they would choke the permanent way as effectively as in like circumstances, they would do our flower-beds and gravel paths. The British Southern Railway has made an effective weed-killing train by coupling two old tenders together and fitting them with spray pipes and tanks. A special form of liquid weed-killer is used, and the spray pipes have an effective range of about ten feet.

Cost Of Stamp Commission

The cost of the Stamp Commission which investigated trading in grain futures is the subject of questions placed on the order paper of the House of Commons by A. L. Beaubien (Lib. Provencher). Mr. Beaubien asks the total cost of the commission, amounts paid the three commissioners for both fees and expenses, and amounts expended in fees for lawyers engaged by the Government.

Clean Seed For Farmers

Hon. Mr. Buckle Announces Plan For Cleaning Wheat In Relief Area

The Honourable W. C. Buckle, Minister of Agriculture, announces plans for the cleaning of wheat supplied to farmers in the relief area of Saskatchewan.

The stocks in local elevators will be distributed insofar as they are satisfactory and farmers will take the wheat home and clean it or they may arrange with custom cleaning outfits to clean it. Some of these may be operated by private individuals and some by municipal councils. An alternative is to have it cleaned by the local elevator or milling company.

The cost of cleaning the wheat is included in the price and those cleaning it themselves can claim a rebate from the Saskatchewan Relief Commission of 2½ cents per bushel.

When a farmer is unable to clean it himself he will make his own arrangements for getting it cleaned and the Relief Commission will pay to the cleaner a rate not exceeding 2½ cents per bushel for the quantity of wheat cleaned. The charge will be based on the quantity of uncleaned wheat (excluding commercial dockage), put through the cleaner.

The operator of the cleaning machine will be required to submit to the Relief Commission satisfactory evidence of cleaning. Proper forms for this purpose can be obtained from the local relief officer.

The Relief Commission will only accept responsibility for cleaning charges on wheat supplied by the Relief Commission.

Any cleaning for which the Relief Commission pays must be satisfactory to the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, whose representatives will make periodical inspections of cleaning operations as soon as the wheat is released for delivery to farmers.

Keep Trade In Canada

Carrying of Canadian wheat by Canadian traffic facilities and through Canadian ports rather than through United States channels, would solve to a large extent the transportation problems of the Dominion, and would provide millions of dollors for Canadian labor, said Col. E. C. Phinney, president of the Halifax harbor commission, addressing the Toronto Transportation Club.

PLAN TO RAISE LARGE SUM FOR POLITICAL ACTION

Saskatoon, Sask.—Undismayed by financial difficulties and dwindling membership dues the organized farmers of Saskatchewan re-elected their principal officers and embarked on a determined effort to raise money for the political battle they plan to wage within the next year.

A. J. Macauley, Faseca, steadfast proponent of political action, was unanimously re-elected president of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, at their convention here, and J. F. Herman, Rocanville, was re-elected vice-president.

At the same time the delegates to the convention pledged themselves to raise the sum of $10,000 for the treasuryy of the association within the next four months and failing that to consider ways and means of disbanding.

With a view to facilitating the enrollment of members the present membership fee of $5 per year was reduced to $2 for a family, this to include children under 16 years of age. Individual adult membership fees were placed at $2 and fees for persons between the ages of 16 and 21 at $1.

Re-election of Mr. Macauley puts the stamp of approval on his work during the past year in organizing the Saskatchewan farmers on a political basis and in attempting to form a working alliance with farm bodies in other provinces as well as with the Labor Party. It was Mr. Macauley, too, who broached the suggestion for amalgamation of the three prairie provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta under one government.

The financial difficulties of the farm organization are due in part to the practice of collecting their fees through the wheat pool. Members authorized the wheat pool to deduct the amount of the fee from the second payment on the crop and turn it over to the United Farmers of Canada. Since 1929 no second crop payments have been made by the pool and some $63,056 in dues is tied up in wheat pool requisitions. A reoslution was passed calling for the termination of this arrangement at the earliest possible moment.

Many delegates expressed dissatisfaction with the working of the present Saskatchewan Debt Adjustment Act. The convention decided to ask the provincial legislature to amend the act to provide enlargement of the debt adjustment commission to three members with the chairman a trustee in bankruptcy. Another amendment was requested to prevent the launching of any legal proceedings for the recovery of debts without the permission of the commission.

Heavy Grain Shipments

Over Six Million Bushels For United Kingdom Pass Through Vancouver Port

Vancouver, B.C.—During the past two weeks approximately 6,200,000 bushels of grain have been booked for shipment through this port for the United Kingdom and the continent, according to local grain brokers.

During the past week, the weekly report of the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange shows, shipments totalled 1,431,056 bushels, bringing the season's total to 43,430,886 bushels. At this time last year the export was 45,511,070 bushels.

Chinese Purchase 'Planes

Worcester, Mass.—Harry S. Jue, head of the Worcester Chinese Aid Committee, states Chinese in this country have bought and are shipping to the Chinese for use at Shanghai 75 military aeroplanes. "Chinese leaders" he added, "are now also negotiating with German interests for the purchase of another 100 fighting 'planes to send home."

Comparison Favors Canada

Banking System Of Dominion Is Praised By American Official

Washington, D.C.—Comparison between the banking systems of Canada and the United States to the disadvantage of the latter appears in the report of the treasury appropriation bill.

Comptroller of Currency John W. Pole told a congressional committee there had been 2,290 bank failures in the United States during the calendar year 1931 and none in Canada since 1923.

"It is a sad commentary on our system," he said, "when we realize that with an imaginary line running between Canada and the United States, where the same character of people live and where the same economic conditions prevail, there is this great difference in banking conditions.

"The people on both sides of the border have similar characteristics. They are only separated by an imaginary line, while on one side they have had no bank failures whatever, on our side there have been hundreds of bank failures."

May Terminate Trade Agreement With Russia

British Government Is Urged To Take Immediate Action

London, England.—The trade and industry committee of the Conservative party decided to urge upon the government immediate steps to terminate the Anglo-Soviet trade agreement.

The committee reached its decision, it said, in a desire to see Great Britain free to take appropriate steps to remedy present unsatisfactory industrial conditions and to give representatives of the United Kingdom greater freedom in their conversations with the Dominions at the Imperial Conference at Ottawa next July.

Corn From Africa

Shipment Received In Calgary To Be Used For Poultry Feed

Calgary, Alberta.—Believed a precedent, a shipment of corn from Africa arrived in Calgary for delivery to local feed dealers recently. The shipment came from Vancouver and will be used for poultry feed.

The dealers receiving the corn explained that it was cheaper to purchase African corn at present than the North or South Dakota product which had previously been used by them. The African corn, they declared, was better suited for the purpose, being harder and smaller than the United States variety.

Boost Churchill Port

Expect That Twenty Ships Will Be Needed To Take Care Of Cargoes

Winnipeg, Man.—Churchill, Manitoba's far north port on Hudson Bay, to be opened this summer, will be extensively used during its first open season, Brig.-Gen. R. W. Paterson, president of the On-to-the-Bay Association, predicted. He said possibly 20 ships would be required to take care of cargoes available.

Majority of the ships that will make the journey through Hudson Straits from British and European ports will have bulk cargoes, Gen. Paterson said, but he believed at least half a dozen would carry package freight.

Arrangements are being made by grain and cattle interests in western Canada to take full advantage of the new route, the On-to-the-Bay president said. Annual meeting of the On-to-the-Bay Association will be held at Moose Jaw, Sask., March 23 and 24.

Quebec Favors Sweepstakes

Hamilton, Ont.—Representatives of 48 municipalities from all over Ontario condemned sweepstakes as a means of raising money to meet relief expenditure in the province. Prediction that Dominion-wide sweepstakes would soon be a reality was made by Mayor Houde. If Ontario was not prepared to co-operate, Quebec would lead the way, he said, declaring, "I'm going to start it in Montreal."

Russian Wheat Shortage

Soviet To Use Thirty-Two Million Bushels For Seed

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has received a cable from London giving the official text of the Molotov-Stalin decree regarding Soviet grain. It announces that 1,926,000,000 pounds of grain (32,100,000 bushels) will be sent to collective and state farms in the drouth areas for seed and food, the principal areas affected being the lower and middle Volga, Kazakstan and western Siberia regions.

It is also decreed that the collection of grain for spring sowing on collective farms shall be 5,700,000 metric tons, to be completed in the principal areas by March 10. Up to February 10, 39 per cent. of this program had been fulfilled.

This report gives further evidence of the suspected crop failure over large Russian areas last season and explains in large measure why south Russian wheat shipments have fallen to such low levels in the past few months.

Victims Of War

Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson Makes Appeal On Behalf Of Children Of the World

Geneva, Switzerland.—Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, president of the world disarmament conference, addressed an eloquent appeal to the assembled delegates in behalf of the children of the world, who, he said, are always the victims of war.

President Henderson's address marked the closing of general discussions at the conference. It held a note of hopefulness.

Many millons of children were sacrificed behind the lines in the Great War, he said, to tuberculosis, rickets and other diseases which ruthlessly destroyed a rising generation.

Found Flight Difficult

Aviators Take Six Weeks For Tran-Canada Trip

Victoria, B.C.—Battling ice and fog for practically the entire six weeks consumed for the trip, and dogged by ill luck in the form of three minor crashes, W. H. Cross, Victoria, owner, and Hari Grubbstrom, Montreal, aviator, landed here to complete their trans-Canada flight from Montreal to Victoria.

"We did not have one clear day all the way across Canada," said Cross, describing the difficulties of long winter flying.

BRITAIN'S EMERGENCY CABINET SITS ALL NIGHT ON WAR SITUATION

News from London, England, states that Britain's Emergency Cabinet Committee sat all night keeping in constant touch with the latest developments in Shanghai. The committee will maintain contact with the situation in China and will be prepared to meet on one hour's notice. This is the first time since the World War that such a Committee has been formed. Above are five of the seven Emergency Cabinet members: Left, top and bottom, Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary; Lord Hailsham, Secretary of War. Centre: Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Lord President of the Council. Right, top and bottom: Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer; and Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary of State for India.

SIR MALCOLM SETS UP A NEW SPEED RECORD

Daytona Beach, Fla.—Sir Malcolm Campbell, British speed king, wrote another thrilling chapter to his years of racing history by hanging up a new world's automobile speed record of 253,96 miles an hour over a mile route.

The 48-year-old driver who has been blazing new speed marks down the "roaring road" for a quarter of a century, drove his 12-cylinder "Bluebird" car twice over the ocean course to surpass by 8.235 miles an hour his former record of 245.733 established in the same car here last year.

On his first run, made southward over the beach, Sir Malcolm attained the speed of 267.459 miles an hour. Upon reaching the south end of the course, he immediately turned his bullet-nosed machine around and shot back northward over the beach at a speed of 241.773.

He covered the mile on his first run in 13.46 seconds and flashed across that distance on his second trial in 14.89 seconds for an average time of 14.17 seconds for both runs.

In establishing a new record over the mile, Sir Malcolm clipped .47 of a second off his old record.

On his return Sir Malcolm also established new world speed records over one and five kilometre routes, but the announcement was not made public by officials until after they had checked their calculations.

Sir Malcolm's new record for the kilometre, which is approximately 2,000 feet less than a mile, was 251.-340 miles an hour, compared with his former record for that distance of 246.086. His new record for five kilometres was 241.569 miles an hour as compared with his old record of 216.045.

Improvement In Wheat Situation Is Predicted

Statistical Experts Believe Canada Will Again Sell To Europe

Ottawa, Ont.—Cables from Italy, Germany and Russia brought encouraging news from a Canadian standpoint in regard to the wheat situation. Italy is allowing its millers to use a larger percentage of foreign wheat beginning March 1. Germany is soon to be a buyer of wheat again. Meanwhile, from Russia comes word of shortages for seeding purposes in the Volga, Siberia and Kayakstan area.

The despatch from Berlin predicting Germany will soon be buying wheat, is corroborated in letters which Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, has received. Statistical experts of the department also expressed the opinion that very soon Spain would lift the barriers against foreign wheat as her domestic wheat supply becomes exhausted. France has been relaxing her restrictions until now the millers can mix 20 per cent. of foreign wheat and this may be increased.

Statistical experts here take the view that very soon Italy, France, Spain and Germany will all be buying wheat. This, it is suggested, should help Canada materially. The Dominion has approximately 185,000,000 bushels of wheat for export.

Murderous Attack

Blaine Lake School Teacher Is Seriously Wounded By Gunner

Saskatoon, Sask.—The spotlight of notoriety was again turned on Blaine Lake, Doukhobor settlement in northern Saskatchewan and the scene of several incendiary school fires during the past few months, as word was received of a murderous attempt on the life of Miss Olga Wasley, 22-year-old school teacher, of Moose Jaw, as she lay in her bed in a little schoolhouse about six miles from Blaine Lake. Miss Wasley was the target of two shots from an unknown gunman, who smashed the window and used a shotgun in his efforts to kill the young teacher.

Word of the shooting was almost immediately followed by the arrest of Pete Dowlenko, 18, son of a Doukhobor farmer, living one mile from the school.

Sunday provided the first touch of real springlike weather, with bright sunshine all day and the mercury getting up to 51 in the shade. There was another two-inch snowfal Wednesday morning with the proverbial March wind blowing all day.

Rev. E. R. McLean who is in charge of the work of the religious education department for B.C. churches, was a speaker t Trinity United Church on Thursday evening last, and during his stay was a guest of Rev. A. and Mrs. Walker.

A meeting of those interested in organizing a young women's hospital auxiliary is called for Saturday afternoon, March 5th, at 3 o'clock, at the Mallandaine block. Mrs. Mallandaine is convenor of the committee in charge of organization.

For glasses that give perfect and easy vision make an appointment at the Cranna jewlery store for Monday, March 7th. Some of my patients are still getting service from lenses fitted by me ten years ago Murdoch McLeod, R.O., Trail, B.C.

The March meeting of Creston nd District Women's Institute will be held on Friday next, 11th, at which Mrs. North of Sirdar is expected to give a demonstration on needlecraft. Members are asked to make a report on all tickets sold on the quilt raffle.

Farmers' Institute egg pool shipped almost 325 cases of eggs last month, the most of which went to Kimberley and Fernie. At the former place local eggs enjoy great popularity. Notwithstanding heavy production the pool is at times, unable to fill its orders.

Quite a number of Creston people who are members of Kaslo and District 1500 Club will hear with satisfaction that the Grand Forks Club with about 350 members has just been amalgamated with the Kaslo Club, bringing the total membership well over the stipulated 1500.

The turnout was pretty slim at the Women's Institute bridge in the Parish Hall on Friday night, less than ten tables being in play. The high score prizes were annexed by Miss Yurick and R. M. Telford, and the secondary honors by Mrs. Forbes and Jim Cherrington.
