NEW BUILDINGS AT CRANBROOK

The Fink Mercantile Co. have Commenced the Construction of New Store—Addition to the Queens Hotel—King Lumber Co.'s New Mill.

The Fink Mercantile Co. are building a two storey building on Baker Street.

Excavations was commenced Friday for the new store building for the Fink Mercantile Company. W. E. Worden has a contract for excavating the basement. The building will be 52 feet by 100, two storeys high. A basement eight feet deep will be constructed. The main store will have a plate glass front, will be 14 feet between floor and ceiling, and there will be two offices at the back. The second floor will be fitted for, and rented as offices. The building will be made as near fire proof as possible. The estimated cost of the building and lot is between $18,000 and $20,000.

Contractors, Geo. Leask & Co., will commence the construction of a large two storey addition to the Queens Hotel next week. Lumber is now being hauled, and work will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

At the Mill site of the King Lumber Co.'s new mill active operations are progressing. An office building and stable has been completed. The big mill is now being framed, the stone foundation, and walls for the engine and boiler room has been finished. The Czar's Birthday.

St. Petersburg, May 18.—The city is ablaze with decorations and from early morn thousands of people, dressed in their best clothes, thronged the streets, so as to miss not a single feature of the various ceremonies with which the birthday of the Czar is observed. During the early morning hours the churches in all parts of the city was crowded with worshippers, who offered thanks for the preservation of the Czar's life and prayed for his future preservation. There was a marked contrast in the enthusiasm displayed by the people of all classes to the downcast and sullen stolidity with which the Czar's birthday was observed last year and the year before. At noon the guns of the fortress on the banks of the Neva fired an imperial salute of 121 guns. The program for the day includes a grand reception at the Palace, where the Czar received the congratulations of the members of the court, the high state officials, the members of the diplomatic corps and delegations from various departments of the country. Many promotions and decorations were announced today. In the evening there were special performances in the theatres, many banquets and fireworks for the masses.

Nicholas II., the present Czar, who is the eighth ruler to represent the House of Romanof-Holstein was born May 6, or May 18 according to the new style, in the year 1868, and was the oldest son of Emperor Alexander III. and Princess Dagmar, the daughter of the late King of Denmark. He ascended the throne November 1, 1894, and, four weeks later, was married to Princess Alexandra Alix, daughter of Grand Duke Ludwig IV, of Hesse. They have five children, four of them daughters, the youngest a son.

"EYE OF GOD" CRY ZULUS.

Rebel Natives Cower When Searchlight Flashes.

Durban, Natal, May 14th.—Searchlights promise to prove as effective weapons in subduing the sedition of the Zulus as the British guns, judging from the display given last night by Native Commissioner Saunders before a huge gathering of Zulus at the Khanadahala headquarters of the punative force.

The natives were awestricken and regarded the searchlight as the eye of the Almighty and said that God has turned it upon them in his anger.

The flashing of the light on the surrounding hills, bringing in plain view the Kaffir trails as far as the horizon, powerfully impressed the Zulus, who, when the light was suddenly flashed in their faces, cowered and fell on the ground before what they termed the "latest witchcraft of the whites."

Preliminary Hearing.

Kamloops, May 17.—The preliminary hearing of the three men arrested Monday in connection with the C.P.R. hold-up began this morning before Magistrate Gordon. Attorney-General Fulton conducting the prosecution, and A. D. McIntire defending. The examination so far has not elicited any new facts The defense intend to dispute the jurisdiction of the mounted police in making the arrest. The prisoners appear unconcerned, but during the proceedings were alert and took a lively interest. Seavey was not in court, evidently being kept out of the way at this stage of the trial Edwards bears marks identical with those described as borne by Bill Miner, and Seavey is satisfied that he is one and the same man.

Items of Interest.

The price of lead on the London market is still rising steadily. It was quoted at £17 1s 3d a ton on Wednesday. Silver was quoted at 66½ cents.

It is reported that the Duke of Connaught will visit Canada during the latter part of September.

The volcanic activity of Mount Vesuvius is increasing, and the main crater is discharging a great quantity of sand.

On Monday afternoon, near Douglas lake, the three C. P. R. train robbers were captured by a posse of mounted police under Sergeant Wilson.

Anderson of Slocan Junction, who attempted to murder C. Street, was captured on Tuesday night by Constable Black, while trying to cross the river at Nelson.

It is reported that Bambaata, the insurgent Zulu chief, has crossed into Natal. Heavy gun firing was heard May 14 from Krantzkop.

In The British Parliament.

London, May 14.—In the House of Lords today, the Earl of Wemyiss, Conservative, called the attention to the question of home defence. He asserted that the country was practically without an army and that there were not at present any up-to-date guns in the country. The question would be solved he said if the government had the courage to adopt the compulsory service at home and volunteer service abroad.

PROGRESS ON CORBIN LINE

Track Laying Crew Now in Sight of Bonners Ferry.

Bonners Ferry, Idaho, May 15.—The track laying crew on the Corbin line is rounding the big bend from the Moyie into the Kootenay valley. The trains are now in sight of Bonners Ferry and the whistle of the engines can be heard. The end of the track is about five miles out, and the rails will reach a point on the north side of the river opposite town during this week. The crew can lay a mile and a half of track a day, but do not lay track every day, having to lay off to load ties and ballast.

The rock cut near the approach to the bridge will be completed about May 25, it is now estimated, and track laying must stop at that point until that time. The bridge across the river should be ready to allow trains to pass over by June 1. From Bonners Ferry to the crossing of the Pend d'Orielle river, the work is almost completed. There may be a few gaps where there will be some delay, but it is likely that track laying can proceed along to the Pend d'Oreille, after the Kootenay is crossed.

MEETING OF COUNCIL.

What the City Fathers Were Doing This Week in the Interest of the City.

A regular meeting of the city council was held on Wednesday evening. There were present His Honor Mayor Rogers, and aldermen Fink, Baker, Tisdale, Ryan, Jackson and Murphy.

Minutes of last regular meeting were read and adopted

A communication from S. McDonald, re the refunding of money paid for the impounding of his cow, was refused.

Alderman Ryan reported that a team for fire and city purposes could be procured at a cost of $450.00.

The pound keeper was notified not to use a horse or roping of animals.

Mr. Worden was allowed 8 cents per yard for grading Baker street, the gravel to be distributed under the direction of Board of Works.

A suggestion from Alderman Murphy that the fines paid for impounding of cattle on first day be returned, was referred to committee.

Alderman Jackson gave notice that at next meeting of council he would introduce an amendment to the Pound and Dog Tax by-law.

By-law No. 15, the "Rate by law" was reconsidered, and finally passed and adopted.

The salary of the jailor was raised to $50 per month from May 1st.

Council then adjourned.

"Still Harping on Me Daughter".

E. C. Miller of Fort Steele has written a letter to the Wilmer Outcrop, re the K. C. R., and where its terminal will be. The letter is filled with personal abuse and shows that the writer is not acquainted with any portion of his subject, except that of abusing his neighbors

Dr. Watt also appears in print in the Fernie Ledger. His letter is on a parity with that of E. C. M., and states when "we" obtained the K.C.R., charter, also what "my" friend Shaughnessy says, but omits to say "anything about, when" I "was in the local house", or what "I" will do, when "I" am Doctor in chief for the K.C.R.

WHERE is the scandal? The Kaien Island inquiry is being made capital of for political purposes. What strikes the outsider most forcibly is, where is the scandal? If the Grand Trunk Pacific had never picked on this spot for terminal purposes, would it ever have had the value of the price paid for it? Had the Grand Trunk Pacific picked on a private individuals land and paid the same amount, keeping the identity of the purchasing party in the background, would the seller have had any recourse at law? In what way is it any different with the Government? It would have been immoral to have utilized advanced information on location to hold up the Grand Trunk Pacific, and in any event the railway company would not have stood for it. The Opposition is pretty hard up for ammunition.—Sandon Standard.

The Importance of Expert Gunnery.

London, May 16.—According to the deductions which the British naval experts have drawn from the Russe-Japanese naval campaign, and especially from the battle of Tsushima, it is highly probable that all great naval engagements of the future will be fought at long ranges. The importance of expert gunnery is, therefore, the first consideration. But the damage that can be wrought by modern 12 inch naval guns, at ranges varying from 3,000 to 7,000 yards, renders it necessary that. Naval constructors should provide the best type of protective armor in all battleships The Dreadnought is stated to be an up-to-date battleship in every respect, but it is doubtful whether her armor plating would be proof against 10-inch guns at a range of 2,000 yards. In theory no hostile battleship will be permitted to approach within that distance. In actual practice, however, it is always the unexpected that happens.

The largest Naval guns in use today are the 12-inch type, similar to those with which the flagship of the Atlantic squadron, the King Edward VII., recently established a world's record of thirteen hits out of fourteen shots. These 12-inch guns are costly to maintain, and their inner tubes invariably need renovation after from 24 to 35 shots have been fired. It is, therefore, to be assumed that no Power will incline to the production of guns of larger caliber for Naval warfare, and it would be quite possible by means of 16-inch Krupp steel to render a battleship impervious to heavy gun fire at all reasonable ranges. At present our latest type of battleship is armored with nine or ten inches of steel plating, and it is, therefore, doubtful whether finality in armor plating has yet been arrived at

It is now contended that the size required for a battleship of twenty-five knots speed, armored with a 16-inch Krup steel belt from stem to stern, would be about twenty-five per cent less displacement than several of the Trans-Atlantic liners. Such a vessel would, therefore, be quite practicable and apparently desirable in every way. For scouting and reconnaissance purposes against opposition, a battleship of this type would be invaluable. She would be, to all intents and purposes, invulnerable, save against torpedo or submarine attack, and would, therefore, constitute a unique factor in future warfare. It is not improbable that the type of battleship which will supersede the Dreadnought will be a vessel of a considerably increased weight of armor such as the one now under discussion, as many indications are pointing in that direction at present.
