THE CANADIAN ROYAL MINT

To be Coining Money Early in November Next.

The Canadian Royal mint, which is the first mint outside the capital of the empire to be destinated "royal," is expected to be completed in November. At present Canadian coins are minted in London, but after November they will be turned out at the Ottawa mint. The profit, which is at present nearly half a million dollars, will accrue to the Dominion government. Dr. Bonar, the recently appointed depty master of the Royal mint, will return to England shortly and will take up his residence in Ottawa this fall. The experts who will have actual charge of the coinage will be brought out from England, but the bulk of the employees will be Canadians. All the machinery except that for the actual minting has been manufactured in Canada.

M. A. Beale a Life Saver.

News has just arrived from England that M. A. Beale of this city, while on a visit to Tenby, North Wales, had the satisfaction in company with his brother-in-law Mr. A. Spreckbury, in bringing to shore a man who was on the point of drowning and being carried out to sea; this being after dark, and both gentlemen being in evening dress reflects great credit on their swimming powers and common sense. It took some considerable time to bring the unfortunate man to life again.

Will Build Sewer.

Contractor H. Oldham, of Fernie, has commenced the construction of a sewer from the C. P. R round house, along VanHorne avenue to the slough just north of the city limits.

No Council Meeting.

Only three members of the City Council were on hand on Wednesday, Mayor Finlay and aldermen McCowan and Hickenbotam. There being no quorum, owing to the absence of aldermen Fink, Ryan and Jackson, and the Old man of the Herald, no business was transacted. A regular meeting will be called for Tuesday August 6th.

Gus Threader Commits Sucide in Jail Saturday.

Gus Threader came up from Wardner, and while parading the street indicated that he was approaching a state of delirium tremens induced by excessive and prolonged use of intoxicants. He was arrested and placed in the provincial jail. He was visited, by the jailor several times during the night and found in a state of excitement, and early in the morning he was found hanging by a small piece of rope dead. Coroner Moffat held an inquest on Monday the jury finding that he came to his death by strangulation at his own hands while confined in a cell at the City jail by using a short rope, that, the jury can attach no blame to any of the city police for neglect of duty, as the evidence shows that reasonable precaution was taken for the protection and welfare of the deceased.

The New Cranbrook Hotel.

It has been decided to make the Cranbrook Hotel, now under construction a three story building. Contractor D. J Johnson has a large force of workman employed and the building is being rapidly completed. B. H Short has the contract for the painting.

THE KOOTENAY VALLEY

Home Seekers Coming—A Sportsman's Paradise—A Progressive District.

The attention of the home seeker has been attracted to the Kootenay valley, and the people are coming to appreciate the agricultural possibilities of the valley.

Here are to be found all the elements required to constitute a rich and progressive district, consisting of rich agricultural soil, magnificent herbage for cattle, sheep and horses, a salubrious climate, favorable to health, fruit growing, boundless forests of timber, untold wealth in all the minerals of commerce, such as gold, silver, lead, iron and copper, petroleum and immense areas of coal. Nature has surely endowed this valley with a lavish hand.

It is a sportsman's paradise, mountain goat and sheep, all kinds of deer, Elk, caribou and bear are abundant, as well as swan, geese, duck and prairie chicken.

The mountain streams are well stocked with trout and provide excellent sport for the angler.

The Kootenay valley offers special inducements to settlers who have sufficient stock and implements to carry on operations with, and there is no doubt but that the country itself will meet all the requirements of such in every respect.

The Kootenay valley contains all the elements necessary for successful farming and stock raising and is unequalled in natural resources.

Sunday School Picnic.

Thursday afternoon, August 1st, the Methodist Sunday School held one of the finest picnics ever known in the history of Cranbrook. All the town rigs were monopolized to convey the crowd to St. Josephs bridge which was chosen as the place for the festivities. The Sunday school scholars turned out in full force with an equal number of the older folk, making the total of friends present somewhere about 175. Everything went off without a hitch, the children and friends throwing themselves into the different events arranged for them, with a zeal that was bound to insure success. Much credit is due to the friends who had the organization of affairs. When evening came and it was necessary for the company to disperse, it was done with reluctance by old and young alike, everyone testifying to having spent a happy and enjoyable day.

Adopt A Two-Cent Rate.

The Dominion railway commission has ordered the Grand Trunk railway to have third class carriages put on its trains throughout the entire system in Canada, but gave the company the right to appeal to the supreme court This will mean a two cent rate for Canadians.

Mineral Float.

At the Sullivan Group Mines some sixty miners are employed. development is progressing and shipments of 100 tons are made daily.

At no time in the past year has there been so much important development work under way at the North Star mine.

There is not a mining district in the province of British Columbia that doesn't report progress this year.

Investments in Southeast-Kootenay mining properties as a general thing have proved satisfactory to the investor.

The hydraulic mines of Wild Horse creek are worked energetically every season with an abundance of water to keep the giants well supplied by strong water power for moving banks and washing gravel.

The area in this district known to contain placer gold is large and only been touched, leaving still virgin ground well worth prospecting.

It is reported that tin ore has been discovered on Wild Horse creek. The new discovery is being prospected by expert mining men.

The mining industry of South-east Kootenay instead of declining has a bright future, and there is every indication that the silver-lead mines will be largely increased before the year is closed.

TRANSPORTATION ASSURED

Some Facts Regarding the Mining and Lumbering Outlook of the District.

The principal wealth producing minerals of the Cranbrook district has so far been silver-lead and coal, with a small but increasing output of gold from the placer mines of Perry and Wild Horse creeks.

Many gold quartz prospects are now being developed. The prospecting and developing of galena properties in the Selkirks and the main range of the Rockies goes steadily on, and a number of properties have reached a condition that shipments can be made.

Copper in paying quantities is known to exist on the headwaters of the St. Mary's river, on the North Fork of Wild Horse creek, also at Tobacco Plains and Sheep Mountain.

Large deposits of hematite iron have been located on Bull River, and Baker Mountain. The big iron deposits of this district will no doubt surprise the world in production and quality when once it enters upon the production stage.

All over the Cranbrook district there are mines that are rapidly being developed. Perhaps in no section of the province is the outlook for mining brighter than in the Cranbrook district. In the mountains on both sides of the Kootenay river, prospectors and mine owners are slowly but surely driving tunnels or sinking shafts to cut the numerous veins which outcrop on the mountains.

In this district is found the two largest silver-lead producing mines in Canada, yet the mining as well as the lumbering industry of the district is handicapped by lack of transportation Agents of the C.P.R. have investigated the possibilities of the Upper Columbia and Kootenay valleys and chances for tonnage, and their report has been most favorable. The quiet yet persistent development of the mining resources, the daily increase of ore on the dumps of properties being worked, all demand increased railway facilities

To build railways, it requires substantial evidence of tonnage. This question has been answered by Mr. White, 2nd vice president of the C.P.R. who on his return from his trip through this district, said "There is no doubt of the future of this section of country either from the standpoint of the miner, the lumberman, the fruit grower and the agriculturist." These questions which always arise when enterprises looking towards the development of the district are inaugurated have all been met and answered. To the north in the Windermere district there is a large daily tonnage in sight from the mines, a large area of timber has been secured and mills will be built just as soon as there is transportation in sight.

Placer mining is increasing its development. Large power companies have been formed, and the immense water-power of the St. Mary's and Bull river will soon be harnessed.

While there has been many doubters in the district, there are still a large number of mine owners, lumbermen and business men who have had a firm faith in the future, who have foresight enough to put their business affairs into condition to anticipate the building of railways up the St Mary's river, also the Kootenay Central railway.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 3, 1907.

THE necessity for reorganization of the Dominion cabinet is at last recognized and frankly admitted by many Liberal organs, including, we are pleased to note, our esteemed local contemporary. It is especially gratifying to be informed on such authority that Sir Fred. Borden in slated for retirement. No member of any Dominion cabinet, past or present, has ever so fairly earned relief from the responsibilities of public office. A thorough cleansing of the cabinet, and the substitution of clean and competent men for some of the present incumbents will be a long step in the right direction. But more than that is required. Sir Wilfrid has not only to choose decent colleagues for his cabinet; he must infuse a public spirit and inspire some ideas of common honesty in the rank and file of his followers in the House. The party that votes as a unit for supression of the truth for fear of damage to party interests cannot be rehabilitated by the acquisition of a few honest men for the cabinet.—Nelson Canadian.

• • •

Dominion politics. Candidates for almost every constituency in the province will be named in the near future. Appearance indicate that a strong Conservative ticket of popular men will be put in the field as an aid in carrying this province for the Conservative party. Preliminary skirmishing in the coming political battle has already commenced and Canada will likely have one of the hottest campaigns of recent years.

• • •

At the coming general elections Kootenay Conservatives should remember that the best interests of the party will be served by nominating a home candidate, one who resides in the district, and one that fully understands the needs of the Kootenay.

• • •

The possible political effects of the great shifting of population from eastern to western Canada are being discussed by party leaders.

• • •

From dispatches published from London, it would appear that "final and unalterable" has again been inserted in the amendment of the British North American Act. If it has and the bill passes both houses, it is quite evident that the trouble is not yet over, even though Sir Wilfred Laurier was successful in securing the insertion once more. The province of British Columbia cannot be browbeaten, either at Ottawa or London, and better terms will be worked for till they are obtained.—Phoenix Pioneer.
