THE DAY WE CELEBRATE

Labor Day a Great Success—Two Thousand Visitors in Attendance all Events Closely Contested.

Monday last, Labor Day was a gala day in Cranbrook. On Saturday the visitors began to arrive and continued until 10.30 a.m. Monday. As a result there were fully two thousand visitors in town by Monday noon. Every place was full, and the hotel accommodations taxed to their utmost, and everyone was busy.

The early morning was dark and cloudy, and at 11 o'clock there was a heavy shower that flooded the streets making things very unpleasant, but this only lasted about half an hour, and then old "sol" came out turning the balance of the day into one of glorious sunshine.

It was nearly 12 o'clock when the parade got started, and was composed of Labor organizations of the district, and the Band of Hope under the guidance of Rev. R. Hughes, of the Methodist Church.

Foot Ball between Moyie and Cranbrook won by Cranbrook.

Cranbrook vs Fernie.

It was nearly six o'clock when Cranbrook and Fernie crossed bats for the base ball honors of the day. Fernie was first at bat and received three goose eggs; Cranbrook was treated the same dish in the second half of the first. Fernie gets some more eggs in the second while Cranbrook scores an earned run. Cranbrook gets another supply of 000 in the next innings while Fernie scratched out a run on a base hit assisted by errors. In the next two innings Fernie was shut out while Cranbrook secures two runs, then comes a reverse and Cranbrook is shut out in two inning and Fernie scores twice. Cranbrook scores two runs in the eighth, and Fernie to make things pleasant does the same trick. The score is now 5 5, and the rooters from Fernie and Cranbrook uproarious in their efforts to urge their team to victory. Then comes the fatal ninth, with Fernie first at the plate. Sullivan had by this time succeeded in getting the right dope, and the side was retired in one, two, three order. Cranbrook is now at the bat, Johnson hits to short, and the ball beats him to first. Miller, is at the bat, he has blood in his eye, and swats the ball for two bases. Debeck fans out, and the old reliable Jack Reid takes the waggon tongue only to be fanned twice, only a single chance to win, and Miller who has stole to third, makes a further attempt to beat the ball to home plate, he gets about half way when Whelen get the ball, back towards third goes Miller, who has his eye on the ball, Whelen throws high to third, Miller doubles on his track and flys for home, he crosses the plate and wins the game for Cranbrook.

The score.

Fatal Accident.

L. E. Bergren, who has been engaged in doing the annual assessment work on the Maud mineral, situated on Perry creek was killed on Saturday last by an explosion of giant powder It seems that Bergren was experimenting with some powder that had been stored in a cabin since last year. but as to how the explosion occurred there is no details. The cabin was completely destroyed, when found Bergren was lying under a large log with his head fractured.

Bergren was buried on Tuesday under the auspices of the Miners Union.

The Medal Contest.

The Presbyterian Church was well filled by an interested audience to listen to the efforts of the young candidates for the second contest for the silver medal. The programme was well rendered by the youthful performers. The contestants all did exceedingly well and deserved the approbation of the audience. But one only of the six was eligible and the medal was adjudged to Miss Eva Conely.

Those who helped to make the evening a success were Miss Eva Conely — a song "No Sir." Miss Gracie Higgings sang very sweetly two songs "Cold Water" and "Sip no Wine."

Miss Muriel Patmore, a promising young elocutionist recited "What do we drink."

After a few remarks by Rev C. O. Main on the value and importance of these elocutionary contests and that more of the young boys should have the ambition to take part even if not always winning a medal. The training is the chief thing to be obtained and every encouragement should be given by parents to those who are devoting a good deal of time to the improvement of the rising generation.

DEATH OF R. C. DORE

Pioneer of Southeast Kootenay—The Discoverer of Famous Wild Horse Placer Mines.

Robert C. Dore, died at the St. Eugene Hospital on Saturday last after a short illness.

Mr. Dore was ill but a short time and was attended by his wife who came from San Francisco a few weeks before his death, also by the Sisters at the St. Eugene Hospital.

Robert C. Dore was attracted to this country by the reports of rich discoveries of gold on Finlay creek. He came into the country in 1864, over the old Walla Walla trail. He was accompained by J. Fisher and Curley Carroll. The party first camped on Joseph's prairie, where the City of Cranbrook is now located, from there he went to the mouth of Wild Horse creek, on their way to Finlay creek. The party prospected the various creeks encountered on their travels. At Wild Horse where it empties in the Kootenay colors were found, then the party commenced to prospect the historic old creek. "Bob" Dore first discovered gold just north of Brewery creek where it empties into wild horse. He and his party located five discovery claims, all of which produced large amounts of the yellow metal. Mr. Dore mined on Wild Horse from 1864 until 1872. About that time he went to a new strike or excitement in Cassier district, from there he returned to San Francisco taking an active part in municipal affairs. But the old prospecting fever again broke out and he returned to the Kootenay in 1891, to Wild Horse creek where he resided until his death.

Of the old pioneers who came to this country in 1864, there remain but Dave Griffith who came in over the same trial with Mr. Dore, Patrick Quirk, Peter Boyle Roger Moore, George Dougherty M. Philipps of Elko was another pioneer, though not a miner or prospector, he holding the position of Hudson Bay factor at Tobacco Plains, and later at Wild Horse creek.

Mr. Dore was a man well and favorably known, he was generous to a fault, and all his associates of pioneer days have always a kindly word for "Bob" Dore. He leaves a widow and daughter to mourn his loss.

SEPTEMBER WEDDING BELLS.

Manning—Huchcroft.

Two of Cranbrook's most popular young people were made man and wife early on Wednesday morning—Mr. Ira R Manning, and Miss Maude E Huchcroft, at the residence of the bride's brother. The ceremony was witnessed by a few intimate friends only. A few minutes past eight the groom arrived accompanied by Mr. J. F. Campbell who did his duties as best man with marked ability, these were soon after joined by the guests, and as Mrs. J. F. Huchcroft rendered a portion of the beautiful wedding march by Mendelssohn the bride charmingly attired in white silk net over silk, with embroidered veil and orange blossoms came into the room leaning upon the arm of her brother and stepped forward to her place by the groom. Miss Lilly Finniss acted as bridesmaid and was gracefully attired in crepe de chene with picture hat of plucked beaver, relieved with violets and roses. Both the bride and bridesmaid carried shower boquets, the former, one of beautiful white roses and lillies of the valley, the latter, one of pink carnations At the conclusion of the service which was conducted by Rev. Robert Hughes pastor of the Methodist Church, Mr. and Mrs. Manning were the recipients of sincere and hearty congratulations, and the happy party then sat down to breakfast which had been tastefully prepared by Mrs. J. F. Huchcroft. and shortly left on the "flyer" for the coast cities The farewell at the depot was an eloquent testimonial of the regard which is felt for the newly married pair. Mrs. Manning will be greatly missed by the Methodist choir where she has efficiently acted as organist for a considerable time.

Patterson-Leitch.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday morning of this week at the Presbyterian Church, when the Rev. C. O. Main united in Marriage Mr. Edward I. Patterson and Miss Rhoda Leitch Promptly at 10 30 the bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, attended by her sister Miss Ella Leitch. At the alter they were met by the groom, who was accompained by Mr. A. K. Leitch, brother of the bride. The ceremony being over the wedding party retired to the lobby, where they received the congratulations of their friends.

The bride presented a very attractive and neat appearance, dressed in a traveling suit of blue panama cloth with blouse of cream lace, and a hat of blue mohair trimed with velvet, and carried a boquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in a gown of old rose crepe de chene, and carried a boquet of pink roses. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the altar covered with flowers, and from the centre hung a floral wedding bell.

The presents were numerous and costly and showed the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held in the community.

Both have been popular in the city and thus carry with them the best wishes of their numerous friends who unite in wishing them many years of happy wedded life.

The young couple left on the morning train for the coast, where they will spend a few weeks, returning to Cranbrook where they will reside.

Brower — Miller.

A quiet wedding took place on Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride, when Loyd Dennis Brower of Minneapolis was united in marriage to Alice Rebecca Miller, by the Rev. R. Hughes.

THE KOOTENAY VALLEY

Rich in Agricultural Resources—And has extensive Quartz and Gravel Rich in Gold.

The Kootenay valley is an elevated region, most of the area having an elevation of from 1,500 to 2,000 feet above sea level.

The valley of the Kootenay extends from the International boundary to Canal Flat, a distance of about 150 miles, embracing the Cranbrook and Fernie districts, with a soil so fertile that everything grows luxuriously, and where many happy homes are found. Stock raising is carried on to a large extent and is a profitable business. The Mountain sides, and benches, afford splendid grazing in summer and the soil is so productive that hay in abundance for winter feeding is to be had for the cutting.

All kinds of vegetables and grain are raised, and the mines and lumber camps furnish a constantly increasing market for produce of all kinds. As fine and well flavored apples as can be found in British Columbia are raised in the Kootenay valley in the vicinity of Cranbrook, the soil and climate being just suited for apples and kindred fruits.

The mountain sides are heavily covered with pine, and tamarac and fir, and lumbering is one of the most important industries of the district.

There is an unlimited supply of water, and there is water enough going to waste to supply power to every mine and lumbering plant, and to furnish power for lighting every town in Southeast Kootenay.

The climate for ten months in the year is unexcelled. The summer is long and pleasant. It is warm without being hot and is always healthy and invigorating. The winters are not rigorous, no deep snowfall, and there is no freezing blizzards like those of Alberta and Manitoba.

It is true that the mines of the district, with the exception of the North Star, St. Eugene and Sullivan, have been slow in in developing, but they have passed their lowest ebb, and at present the mining industry is rapidly recovering. Better transportation, the construction of railways in the district will give an added impetus to all mines situated in the main range of the Rockies, and the Selkirks.

The mineral deposits, as far as those that have been developed to a shipping stage, have proved to be the largest silver-lead mines in Canada, and with increased transportation and cheap freight and treatment rates, produce a larger tonnage than any other mining district in British Columbia.

Placer mines at Perry creek and Wild Horse have been in constant operation for nearly fifty years, and the output of the yellow metal, during the past ten years has been a source of profit.

Wycliffe vs Fernie.

Nearly a thousand fans braved the black sky and scattering rain drops to see Fernie defeat Wycliffe on Labor Day.

Hancock the crack pitcher of Fernie outfit, who made a big record by defeating Elko recently, was in the box and held the boys of the sawmill city down to five runs. On the other hand Wendal of Wycliffe's also pitched excellent ball, but five of the Fernie bunch getting to first on base hits, poor throwing to bases and costly errors gave to Fernie ten runs and the game. The following is the score:—

The Prospector.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 7, 1907.

Communicated.

Cranbrook, B. C. Sept., 4th, 1907.

Editor of Prospector:—Will you kindly allow me a little space in your valuable paper? I noticed an article, one that appeared in the Spokesman Review, from one of the prominent men at Washington, D.C., in which he gave his opinion that the Negro race were not as useful by being educated. I am only a common man, but my opinion is that education would help all our brothers in the world to make life worth living for. A colored man in the South does not have to be educated to do any crime. If his principal of character is not right, education would not benefit him at all. The American phrases, which are used now-a-days in speaking of our fellow brothers as coon, nigger, sheeny, Mick, or any such expressions are not what we can call evidence of good breeding or education. Any man can act the part of a gentleman if he has any principal. Good men make good citizens, and do not need a bible to lead them, but the most essential point is for us to use the every day common sense. God blessed us all, regardless of creed, race or color with brains, and I think if we use them properly we would be a more contented people. Let a man be rich or poor, he can show human respect for another, in other words let each and every man behave himself, and we would all be happy. In short, life is just what we make it.

Clarence Washington.

Uncle Tom.

Downie's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company, which give a night performance under Canvas in Cranbrook on Monday night Sept. 9th, is said to carry the greatest troupe of genuine Southern Negro Jubilee Singers, Dancers, and Cake-walkers in the business. This part of the entertainment alone is well worth the price of admission, and they have been creating a great deal of favorable comment everywhere.

Litttle Miss Hackett, who plays the part of Eva, is a wonderful child. She is only 7 years of age, and is very versatile, and her singing and dancing speciality is one of the most pleasing features of the performance.

A Grand Street Parade will be given daily.
