CHURCH OPENING.

A Large Audience Attended the Dedication of the Presbyterian Church.

One of those events which mark the progress of any city took place last Sunday, when the Presbyterians opened their new church. The edifice is a beautiful building with a seating capacity of about 450. It is well lighted and the acoustic properties are good. On Sunday morning a good audience assembled to hear the dedicatory sermon by "Ralph Connor." He based his remarks on Mark 9; 2. The scene was the transfiguration and it was very graphically described by the speaker in his own unique way. Then he proceeded to picture the scene of the disciples as they tried to cure the boy, brought to them by his father. The cause of the failure was lack of faith and lack of prayer. The speaker said over-confidence and pride would mar the progress of any church and that because we had good equipment, was no proof of success. The sermon was a clear exposition of Divine truth and will long be remembered by the hearers. In the afternoon Mr. Gordon addressed the Sunday school, and in the evening a great crowd assembled, every available seat being taken and many were standing. On this occasion the speaker took as his subject, "The Rich Young Man." After describing the time, place and man, he then showed what Christ offered this man who inquired the way to eternal life. 1. A cross. 2. A character. 3. A career. At the close an appeal was made to all men to step into line and follow Christ.

On Monday evening another good audience assembled when short addresses were given by the local clergy and then Mr. Gordon gave two readings from "Black Rock" and "Sky Pilot." These were very enjoyable and deep interest was manifest to the end. Mr. Gordon's power of description is excellent and his voice added greatly to the entertainment, as he sang a few appropriate hymns and songs, illustrating his readings.

A report of this opening would not be complete were mention not made of the excellent music furnished by the choir under the leadership of Miss Rhoda Leitch. The choir was augmented for the day and rendered a few choice selections. Miss Leitch's solos were thoroughly enjoyed, and her pleasing manner was attractive to all. The opening was a success and Cranbrook may well be proud of such an edifice.

Appointment.

The Provincial Government has appointed R. A. Anderson as police magistrate for the city of Cranbrook. Mr. Anderson will also act as judge of the small debts court.

The mayor was appointed a delegate and Alderman Fink as an alternate to represent the city to confer with the provincial government re the construction of buildings for the city and Province.

Mr. McCowan, the piper of the society, opened by rendering a stirring pibroch, and also played several lively airs for the dancers. A committee will prepare a fine programme for the Barons' celebration on January 24th.

Give Account of Stewartship.

It is said that the present city council will seek re-election on their records as mayor and aldermen. Would it not be well if the council would give to the electors and citizens of Cranbrook an account of their stewardship.

OPENING OF PARLIAMENT

Speech From the Throne Tells of Prosperity of the Province.

Victoria, Jan. 11.—Parliament opened today. The following is the address from the throne:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

It is with much gratification that in meeting you again at the opening of another session of this parliament, I am able to congratulate you on the prosperity which has marked the year just closed, and on the favorable prospects for the period on which we are entering. The view expressed by me when releasing you from your labors at the close of last session, that the legislation you had passed would prove beneficial to the province, has been fulfilled, as you will learn from the reports that my ministers will present to you. The measures passed at the last two sessions in connection with the finances of the province have achieved what was desired. The stability of the finances has been restored, revenue has increased satisfactorily and the accounts that will be submitted you will show a substantial surplus. The credit of the province in the London money market has been re-established with great benefit to British Columbia as a field for the profitable employment of capital.

The changes made at your last session in the laws respecting the administration of timber lands of the crown have led to a great extension of the lumbering industry in all parts of the province resulting in advantage to those engaged in it and in a great augmentation of the revenue derived from it.

The efforts made by the department of agriculture to develop fruit growing have been crowned with success and British Columbia fruit has again beaten all competitors at the exhibition of the Royal Horticultural Society in London. The area of land in orchards has been largely increased and new markets have been opened for the disposal of their products.

My government has been engaged in negotiations with that of the Dominion in regard to the administration and control of the fisheries of the province and with a view to the permanency and development of this important industry, and it is hoped that an arrangement mutually satisfactory to the two governments and calculated to advance the interests of the industry will be reached.

The increase in the revenue, and the prospect of that growth being continued, it is hoped, will enable the government to make larger appropriations for public works, designed to open up the country, and to make easier the means of communication with districts towards which the attention of intending settlers is being directed.

You will be gratified to learn that the mining industry is showing signs of great activity throughout the province. While the older mining districts are steadily increasing their output, new mineral areas are being opened in the interior and along the coast, some of which give promise of great mineral wealth. With the reduction which is steadily going on in the cost of the treatment of ores, the importance of the mining industry in the provincial economic situation is rapidly increasing and large additions are being made to the capital invested in smelting and allied industries.

There has been great activity in railway construction during the past year and the indications are that this will continue for some time. Two great corporations are now engaged in building lines that will open up rich mineral, agricultural and timber areas in the Similkameen and adjacent districts and bring them into easy communication with the coast and with the great railway systems of this continent. It is to be hoped that the time will soon come when the economic conditions and the potentialities of traffic are such as will secure the construction of railways without imposing the additional burdens on the people, or any further alienation of the public domain in the form of grants or subsidies to railway corporations.

The extension of local self-government and the decentralization of administration by creation of municipal bodies is calculated to promote the interests of the people, and a measure for further consolidation of the Municipal Clauses Act will be submitted for your consideration for the furtherance of that object.

The Act passed by you at your last session for the protection of the game of the province has been effective to a considerable extent in the protection of what is a valuable provincial asset, and a bill to further achieve that object will be laid before you.

You will also be asked to consider measures for the adjustment of the Land Act so as to make more effective the laws for the administration and settlement of the public domain and the more rapid development of the vast natural resources of the province.

The estimates for the ensuing year, that have been submitted to you, have been framed with due consideration for economy, while recognizing the necessity that exists for the development of this great province, and the efficiency in every branch of the administration.

I trust that your deliberations will tend to advance the interests of British Columbia and promote the happiness and welfare of all sections of the community.

Rev. G. H. Findley, Presbyterian minister of Moyie, attended the lecture in the Presbyterian church on Monday evening.

The present municipal council have consented, at the request of their many supporters, to allow their names to be placed in nomination.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company are erecting a building 18x36, near the freight shed here, which will be used for the distribution of supplies for dining cars.

Attention Voters—Your vote and influence is respectfully solicited at the coming municipal election by Yours truly,

JAMES GREER.

George Watson, A. B. Fenwick, George Geary, Dr. H. Watt, Joe Walsh, T. T. McVittie and R. L. T. Galbraith, of Fort Steele, were in Cranbrook, Monday evening, attending the Kootenay Central Railway meeting.

Two parties were up before Stipendiary Magistrate Armstrong, Monday, charged with selling liquor to Indians. There was not sufficient evidence to convict them, hence they were discharged.

The new seats for the Methodist church, which are being made at the sash and door factory of this place, are nearing completion, and will be put in place next week. The painting will then be done by F. T. Bradley & Co., and special services will be held the following Sunday to mark the re opening. These seats will be a credit to the home firm, as those who have seen them are loud in their praise of the work.

The recreation building is progressing rapidly and in a few days the boys will have an opportunity of practicing and making general use of the rooms. The formal opening will take place January 22nd, when an interesting time will be spent. No pains will be spared to make this opening a success. The orchestra will be in attendance and some match games will be played and a general social time spent. Every young man should reserve that date.

KOOTENAY CENTRAL MEETING

A Plea for Government Aid—Delegation from Fort Steele in Attendance.

A public meeting was held on Monday evening in Wentworth hall in the interest of the immediate construction of the Kootenay Central Railway.

J. A. Harvey was chairman and presented C. Hungerford Pollen, who fully explained the object of the meeting and the position of the railway company, and why he had to appeal to the public, the residents of the upper Columbia and Kootenay valleys, who are chiefly interested in its construction.

His Worship Mayor Rogers was invited to the platform.

Mr. Pollen made a vigorous and telling speech, and was followed by Messrs. Rogers, Harvey, J. D. McBride, James Ryan, F. E. Simpson, G. H. Thompson, of Cranbrook; Dr. Watt, A. B. Fenwick, and R. L. T. Galbraith, of Fort Steele.

E. Elwell, of Cranbrook, moved that a resolution be presented to the provincial government, asking for substantial assistance toward the construction of this important railway. This was carried by an unanimous vote.

During the past week a petition has been circulated in the district, which has been signed by everybody, all of whom recognize the importance of the immediate construction of this railway.

"I Am a Hog."

Dr. Watt writes a letter to the Nelson Daily News, in the matter of constructing the Kootenay Central Railway, and concludes his article with the following: "Ye people of Cranbrook, when you have read this, I want you each to retire to his closet and ask himself this solemn question: "Am I a hog?—I am."

Very respectfully,

HUGH WATT, M. D.

Death of Michel Postmaster.

Albert Gammage, postmaster at Michel, brother of Mr. Walter Gammage of this city, died at Michel last Thursday night from the effects of a complication of appendicitis and peritonitis. Dr. McSorley performed an operation but it was found that owing to the presence of peritonitis his case was hopeless He was taken sick on New Year's day.

Mr. Gammage was a pioneer, coming ahead of the railroad and had been postmaster at Michel two years. He was born in England 33 years ago. He had been married a little more than a year to a young lady of Owen Sound, where he had resided previous to coming west. Scott & Ross embalmed the body and it was buried at Michel on Monday. Rev. Bartlett, of Christ church, conducted the service. Mr. Gammage was a member of the Ancient Order of Foresters. Much sympathy is felt for the young widow left alone so soon in her new western home.—Fernie Ledger.

A Letter from Shaugnessy.

Dr. Watt, of Fort Steele has received a letter from Sir Thomas Shaugnessy, saying: The Kootenay Central will be constructed on the lines of the present survey via Fort Steele. When completed it is possible a branch line may be built to Cranbrook.

The regular preaching services will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday as usual. The pastor will have charge. The evening subject will be "The New House." A specially interesting song service will be held at 7:30, when all will join. The choir will lead in choice anthems. All are invited to the services.

THE CANDIDATES.

WITHOUT the least intention to disparage any of the municipal candidates for mayor or aldermen, THE PROSPECTOR suggests that the voters consider carefully the qualifications of the opposing men who are canditates to represent them in the council, and who will have charge of the city's interests.

We have nothing to say of the personnel of the opposing candidates, but we wish to point out that the present council is composed of men who are largely identified with the city; who have permanent interests and homes here, and some of them have had a large part in the development of this city and the resources of the surrounding country.

In this respect, or any other respect, we invite comparison between the present council or a new council, with a confidence that no sensible man will say that the present council is and will not be the stronger in all points which go to make conscientious, able and aggressive members of the city council.

• • •

Why not retain them for another year?

• • •

Let them be elected by acclamation.

• • •

The slogan at the coming municipal election will be "Only old-timers need apply at the polling booth."

• • •

The city election issue this time is for the "outs" to be in and the people be damned.

• • •

The people of Southeast Kootenay are not in doubt, how far they are to take seriously the building of the Kootenay Central Railway, and are determined on engaging the attention of the legislative assembly, whose furtherance is understood to be dependent, in a greater of less degree upon public assistance.

The attitude of almost every citizen of the district is one of welcome to this railway, which is seeking an entry into the Columbia and Kootenay valleys, and, as on several previous occasions we have pointed out that from a mere business standpoint there seems to be no reason why assistance should not be given to this, one of the most important railway projects in British Columbia.

• • •

A house divided against itself must fall, and the necessity for all sections of Southeast Kootenay working together in harmony for the immediate construction of this railway is obvious. Hence one of the important aims of this paper has been, and is now, to bring all classes together on one common idea, or fact, that the future development of the district depends upon the immediate construction of this important artery of commerce.

• • •

The municipal political pot is beginning to boil. Candidates will be put in the field in opposition to the present members of the city council.

• • •

A friend of the people, of the city, indeed! Is it an evidence of friendliness for any individual to declare that he or they are opposed to the present council on personal grounds, and try to upset the wishes of the people, because the "push" seem to be falling to pieces?

• • •

A matter of vital importance, one which the electors must not lose sight of, requires prompt and vigorous action; that is the financial position of the city and its influence upon the future of this growing city.

COMMITTING SUICIDE

How Different Nationalities Seem to Adopt Different Methods.

"It is very strange how different nationalities seem to run to special modes of committing suicide," remarked a physician of this city who takes an interest in the bizarre side of human nature. "I see by the papers that an old German cut his throat here the other day. That is a favorite method of self destruction among middle class Germans of a suicidal temperament. Just why it should be so is hard to conjecture. It is unutterably horrible and a wholly unnecessary infliction of pain, yet anybody who has given the subject attention can recall dozens of cases—all Germans.

"Americans generally shoot themselves. That method, it seems to me, can be traced to certain national characteristics. When a typical American decides upon doing anything, he wants to do it the quickest, surest way, and there is nothing that fills the bill in all those particulars as well as a bullet. Drowning is a way of getting out of the world that is more likely to be followed by a Frenchman than one of any other nationality. There, again, is a chance for the theorist. The French are an aesthetic, romance loving people, and a plunge into the river is a vastly more poetic style of making an exit than at the end of a rope or by the mutilating impact of a lump lead. The despairing heroes and heroines of French novels generally take the water route to eternity, and the influence of fiction on everyday life is a good deal stronger than matter of fact people would care to admit.

"As far as hanging is concerned I don't know. I have memoranda of 70 suicides by hanging, covering a period of about five years, and the folk who predominate are Norwegians. The nationalities are so varied however, that it would be foolish to attempt to lay down a rule. Your English suicide is a most versatile individual. He plays no favorites. With him all roads lead to Lethe."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Didn't Like Her Picture on a Whiskey Bottle.

A Mrs. Peck, living at Mount Ayr, Iowa, has brought suit against the Duffy's Malt Whiskey people for publishing her portrait in connection with a testimonial for that beverage written by a Chicago woman, Mrs. O. Schuman. The latter, it is said, has made a business of giving medical testimonials, and in this case furnished the photograph of the Iowa woman, which was in her possession. Mrs. Peck is a temperance advocate, and sues because she has been grievously mortified and damaged.

Cured of Drunkenness

How a Montreal lady cured her husband of drunkenness with a secret home remedy.

"I want to tell you that tasteless Samaria Prescription has entirely cured my husband of drunkenness so quickly and simply that I am astonished. How glad I am that I confided in you and wrote for your free sample package. The sample tablets I got from you checked his drinking, and before I had used the full treatment he was permanently cured. I gave him the remedy in his tea, and as it had no taste or smell, he never knew he was taking it. I want others to know; so you can use this letter, but please not my name yet. I may say that my husband's health is better in every way than for years."

Free Package and pamphlet giving full particulars, testimonials and price sent in plain sealed envelope. Correspondence sacredly confidential. Address THE SAMARIA REMEDY CO., 92 Jordan Chambers, Jordan St., Toronto, Canada.
