English Company To Operate North Western Fisheries.

London, Dec. 28.—A company was finally formed here to-day with a capital of $800,000 to work the British Columbia halibut and herring fisheries. Mr. Wethley was sent on behalf of the promoters to make investigations on the grounds, reported that steam trawlers could be successfully worked. Operations will be commenced as soon as possible.

"Much Ado About Nothing."

The one topic of conversation among politicians, all over the province, is the unexpected resignation from the cabinet of Hon. R. F. Green. If Mr. Green resigns, owing as he says to the pressure of private business, we see no reason why the Premier should be called upon for any further explanation. Mr. Green also understands his own business and makes his explanation which is satisfactory to all.

Among the Craft.

Cranbrook lodge A. F. & A. M., held their regular monthly meeting in Masonic temple on Thursday evening. The event of the evening was the installation of officers for the ensuing year. Our cowan reporter informs us that there was a candidate raised to the Master Mason's degree.

Spain to Tax Wheat and Flour.

Madrid, Dec. 28—The bill proceeding for the temporary taxing of foreign wheat 2½ pesetas per 100 Kilograms, introduced by Navarro Reverter, Minister of France will become law on or about the 10th January as there is no opposition to the measure.

A Double-Headed Martin.

It is announced that "Joe" Martin will run in both Victoria and Vancouver as an Independent Labor candidate. "Joe," like the English martin has a faculty of bobbing up most serenely about election time. It is to be hoped that he will be relegated back to the ranks of long forgotten politicians.

Miss Muriel Patmore entertained a number of young friends on Thursday afternoon from 3 to 7 p. m. Miss Helen Reid won the first prize in the beadchain competition.

Cranbrook is prosperous. As a direct proof of this fact we announce that the Salvation Army has established a post in this city. They never locate in a city that shows no signs of prosperity.

Tuesday January 1st, 1907. This is the day that is always set apart for the forming of good resolutions. The best resolution that you can make this year is that you will vote for J. A. Harvey and elect him to represent this riding in the next provincial assembly.

Christmas day 1906 will go on record as the close of the most successful holiday business trade this city has ever known. All the local merchants unite in stating that the past month, especially the last two weeks business has been nearly double that of the preceding year 1905.

May Visit Cranbrook.

Premier McBride and J. W. Bowser will tour the interior next week. He will speak at Nelson and possibly may visit Cranbrook.

Municipal Affairs.

There seems to be nothing done this week in regard to the municipal election. The old council seems to have done their work to the satisfaction of the majority of the citizens of Cranbrook, why not return them by acclamation and save the expense of an election.

CHIEF COMMISSIONER RESIGNS

Hon. R. F. Green Gives up Portfolio in the Provincial Cabinet.

Hon. R. F Green, on Saturday last, resigned as Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works in the McBride government. His successor has not yet been named and until one is selected, Hon. G. Tatlow will have charge of the department.

In an interview with a reporter for the Colonist, Mr. Green stated that he had about completed arrangements of a business character, which would make it absolutely impossible for him to devote his time to politics. It therefore became necessary that he should resign his portfolio and retire from political life. In pursuance of this determination, he will not again offer himself as a candidate for the district he has so long represented.

Questioned further on the subject, he was most emphatic that his resignation was not in any way due to the slanderous statements so freely circulated by the Grit press, and his political opponents, during the past year. He has always enjoyed and still has the confidence of his colleagues. It was with sincere regret that he severed his political association with the Premier for whom he expressed the greatest admiration and esteem. It was entirely for business reasons that he was retiring from politics, whilst still remaining a most loyal member of the Conservative party, both in the Province and in the Dominion. He was quite content to leave his reputation in the hands of his friends, feeling confident they would justify his departmental actions, and he was perfectly indifferent as to the opinion of his enemies and slanderers. He said one could not occupy the position he had without making enemies. He had contemplated this step for some time past, but the near approach of the election and his intended retirement from political life, compelled immediate action. Having recently, in the discharge of his duty as chief commissioner, visited many of the electorial districts throughout the province, he had no doubt about the result of the coming contest. The government would be sustained by a handsome majority, and his old riding, Kaslo, was perfectly safe in the hands of the prospective candidate.

Christmas Tree.

The annual Christmas tree and entertainment in connection with the Methodist Sunday School was held on Wednesday evening of this week. A very large crowd was in attendance and a deep interest manifested in the event. A varied programme of readings, recitations, choruses and drills were rendered and all called for loud applause. The tree was heavily laden with gifts and as usual the boys and girls had a good time in seeing it unloaded.

Election Items of Interest.

A. man wanted—is the slogan of the opposition. J. A. Macdonald has called "We Wullie McInness" to help push the "Grit" cause.

Conservatives all over British Columbia are actively preparing for the campaign which is predicted to be the liveliest in the history of the province.

The "Czar" of this riding, it is claimed, has a card up his sleeve that will defeat the Conservative candidate. He will try and ring up a labor candidate just to help boost the weakening cause of the opposition.

McBride and his followers are full of confidence and certain of victory. R. H. Green will tour the province with Mr. McBride and define his record. The premier, in a published statement, says that Mr. Green is one of the ablest ministers of Lands and Works British Columbia ever had.

It would be well to put meters on the opposition press so that the electorate of the province can see and understand the miles of slander which has been published by these "pianos" during the past year.

En Passant

For the benefit of our Baker Street contemporary, we will say, that the editor of the Prospector lived in Ontario, long before the Sioux city editor had stopped pulling at his nursing bottle.

Harvey's Tribulations, written in sorrow, published with pleasure by the local "Grit" organ, should have been dated from Fort Steele which would have been as base a lie as the article itself. "A Pioneer" is as good a name to hide ones identity under as would be "Lett-uce" at the present day.

The only trouble that is bothering the "Old Man" of the Independent Herald just now, is, that he can't have a hand in nominating both Grit and Conservative candidates.

Elects Officers.

The Cranbrook L. O. L. met in the hall in the Watts building on the evening of December 22, and elected the following officers: T. Boyter, Worshipful Master; W G. Hayward, deputy Master; S. Joyce, Chaplain; J. E. Larigan, Recording and Financial Secretary and Treasurer; W. Walsh, Director of Ceremonies; Zedrel Gibson, Lecturer; Committeemen: Alex. Taylor, Murdock McEacheran, J. M. McSweyn, R. Fraser and B. Goodfield.

Home Industry.

Patronize home dealers. If you patronize outside houses through their traveling agents you are bound to get skinned, if you send an order to a big "order by mail house" you also get left. It matters not how nice these traveling men may talk about fine bargains you are getting you must pay their traveling expenses and commissions, hence it stands to reason that your home dealer, who is a permanent fixture in our city, can sell you a better article for less money than the outside man. Do your trading with your home dealers and you will not be deceived and the goods you buy will not be misrepresented. Read the big "ads" in THE PROSPECTOR and you will find something that you want.

Will Be a Strenuous Month.

January 1907 will be a strenuous month in Cranbrook. The municipal election will take place on the third Thursday, the big bonspeil during the later part of the month, with the provincial elections to be fought out, with polling on February 2nd, there is no doubt but that this will be a warm month, very strenuous with everybody busy.

Millions for Canadian Railroads.

London, Dec. 27.—The Ottawa Valley railway project has been successfully financed here and the construction of the line from Montreal to the Great Lakes will be proceeded with at once. At a special meeting of the directors to day it was announced that all the capital required had been over subscribed.

Lumber operations in the vicinity of Cranbrook are progressing, and the men in the bush are busy getting out logs.

PROVINCIAL HOUSE DISSOLVED

Nominations January 19—Election February 2nd.

A telegram received at Cranbrook Monday January 24th, stated that the provincial legislative assembly had dissolved, and the nominations are set for January 19, and elections for February 2nd.

The new House is to meet on March 8th.

Political Items of Interest.

Conservative and independent voters of Cranbrook riding feel in honor bound, and will take great pleasure, in earnestly using every honorable means to secure the election of J. A. Harvey, as member of the provincial assembly, in accordance with the resolutions unanimously adopted at the Conservative convention held in Cranbrook last week.

After predicting, for nearly a year, that an election was to take place, then starting in the new year by saying that the elections would certainly take place as soon as the frost was out of the ground, our local contemporary has hit the nail on the head this week by announcing that the house had dissolved and the elections would take place February 2nd.

The parliamentary stocking was not filled on Christmas, the house having dissolved before the arrival of Santa Claus.

The Conservatives of Cranbrook riding have in mind a successor to Dr. King and his name is J. A. Harvey.

30,000 Settlers for Canada

London, Dec. 28.—General Booth, the head of the Salvation Army has announced that arrangements were being made to send 30,000 settlers to Canada from England during the coming year. The first shipload will reach Canada in the middle of February and will be sent to points in Western Ontario. The second shipload will be sent in March and will be sent west to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to the maritime provinces and later on a large number will be sent to British Columbia.

English Cricketers for the U. S.

London, Dec. 27.—Mr. J. R. Mason, Captain of the Kent Country Cricket Club, has received a communication from the Associated Cricket Clubs of Philadelphia U. S. A. inviting him to take a team to the states during the coming season to play matches in Philadelphia, New York and other cities. Mr. Mason has spoken to the captains of several leading clubs and all favor the idea of accepting the invitation. A strong team will probably be sent.

Sheer Nonsense.

It is the silliest nonsense to talk about a war between the United States and Japan. Japan is in no condition to go to war with the United States and is not seeking destruction. Japan's success over a badly organized Russian army and a still more worthless navy should not cause the little men to swell with importance. Uncle Sam will treat the Yankees of the Orient on the square and that's all they need expect and that's all they will get.

A $50,000 Flying Prize.

London, Dec. 28.—The "Daily Mail" has announced that it will award $50,000 to the person who succeeds in navigating an Aeroplane from London to Manchester, the contest to take place in April. The distance as the crow flies from London to Manchester is 180 miles.

The Prospector.

SATURDAY, DEC. 29, 1906.

NEW Year's Day, the first of January, as marking the beginning of the year has been observed as a public holiday from at least the time of the Julian reformation of the calendar. The year 1906 closes with a much brighter outlook and with better prospects for Cranbrook and Southeast Kootenay than that of 1905. In no single country in the world, we believe, has national progress been so marked during the year just ended as in the Dominion of Canada; in no province of the Dominion have such lengthy strides forward been made as in the province of British Columbia; and in no district of the province has there been more genuine development than in Southeast Kootenay; and in no city of the province a greater degree of prosperity than in our own city of Cranbrook.

* * *

Oh, yes; the provincial election will take place, but it is up to McBride and his ministers to apologize to the Nelson Daily piano and, the provincial Liberal press, for not informing them as to the exact date of the election.

* * *

The Cranbrook end of the Liberal machine is making desperate efforts to convince the people that its organ in this city is independent, but has succeeded in convincing the electors that it is in hearty accord with the grit machine. It is too late. You cannot make the people believe that a machine, controlled by a federal government, is better than a provincial government of the people, such as has been given to this province by the McBride administration.

* * *

Our friends of the grit machine think that the Conservative convention of last week was most tiresome. It is no wonder it was tiresome to the machine, and the candidate selected will make them more tired at the next election.

* * *

Mr. J A. Harvey, as the candidate selected by the Conservative party to represent this riding in the next legislative assembly, is a man that every Conservative and independent voter can support without evasion or apology. He is the strongest and best man ever named by a party in this district. Mr. Harvey is too well known in every corner of this riding to need any newspaper or other introduction of commendation, and the vote of confidence given by the convention that selected him will be ratified by the electors on election day.

* * *

A hurry-up order must have been issued to the Liberal machine in this province during the past week. A contest will be brought on while the grits are trying to make the electorate believe that a wave of depression and not one of prosperity is sweeping the province. Industrial prosperity spells disaster to them.

Kootenay Steel Range

A Good Baker

The oven in the Kootenay Range is scientifically proportioned to the size of the fire-box, so that no more fuel can be burned than is absolutely necessary to heat the oven.

The oven is lined with heavy sheet steel, which is a great radiator of heat and insures a uniform heat throughout the oven—no danger of a loaf of bread being half done on one side and burned on the other.

The Kootenay Range is built on scientific principles throughout, and should be carefully examined before buying any other.

Cranbrook Nomination.

The convention which met in Cranbrook last week and nominated J. A. Harvey to be the standard bearer for that riding in the Conservative interest has reason to feel proud both of the candidate selected and the unanimity and enthusiasm with which the nomination was confirmed. Cranbrook is usually fortunate in the possession of numerous citizens either one of whom would make an acceptable candidate and a creditable member of the legislative assembly. Few cities of its size have as wide a range of good Conservative parliamentary material from which to choose a candidate, and it was to this very abundance of good material that the Liberals looked for a disagreement and split party among the government forces. There have not been wanting efforts on the part of some of the Liberals to foment strife among the opposite party, but the unanimity of the convention will forever silence any future attempts of this kind.

The action of Mr. Thomas Cavin in retiring from the nomination and his manly urging of of the candidacy of Mr. Harvey must have been a serious blow to those who represented Mr. Cavin as an ambitious and self-seeking politican. That he has been represented as such by his enemies no one will venture to deny and that he magnanimously disproved the libel must have been a staggering blow to those among whom the wish was father to the thought Mr. Cavin's close run the last election when the Conservative party was less thoroughly organized than now, pointed him out as the likely candidate at the next election, and his generous action in placing himself and his following at Mr. Harvey's disposal will not be unappreciated by his party, and least of all by Mr. Harvey himself.

In Mr. Harvey, Cranbrook has a strong candidate A pioneer of the city, a highly respected citizen, an able member of the legal profession, an experienced politican, a gentlemen whose private life is above reproach, and whose knowledge of public affairs is wider than that of many who have had less opportunity to study the trend of events. Throughly acquainted with every square acre of his constituency and well known to a large majority of the voters, he enters the contest doubly equipped to put up a successful contest. With the undivided support of the Conservatives which was assured by the convention there need be no second thought as to the probabilities of his election. We congratulate the constituency on its excellent choice.—Nelson Canadian.

Cranbrook Has Led the Way.

Cranbrook Conservatives set a splendid example in sinking all personal and sectional difference in the choice of a candidate. If such an example of unification is followed in all of the constituencies of the province the McBride admistration will sweep the country from the far north to the Crow's Nest Pass. Unification and forsaking of jealousies is the one thing necessary to make the Conservatives invulnerable throughout British Columbia, and Cranbrook, where it was perhaps least expected, has led the way.—Nelson Canadian.

LOCAL NEWS.

A happy New Year.

A happy New Year to all the people of Cranbrook.

A happy New Year to the readers of THE PROSPECTOR—may your tribes increase.

A happy and prosperous New Year to the business men of Cranbrook. May the coming year be better for you than the last one.

A happy New Year to the municipal and legislative candidates that are elected. May you find office holding all that your fancies painted it.

A happy New Year to all the outgoing officials and the candidates who fail to make it. May you find private life more profitable than holding office.

Local curlers have been quite busy this week. The ice is in fine condition and the "stanes and besoms" were kept working over-time.

D. R. Yates and J. H. Staples of Wycliffe, E. E. Jones of Kimberley, J. J. Doran of Toronto and G. H. Parker of Moyie spent Christmas in Cranbrook.

Herb. Fullerton one of the most popular "knights of the road" is now with the Trites-Wood Co., of Fernie and will try and corral the trade of the Crow's Nest for that firm.

W. E. Burnham, of the Juvenile Bostonians, G. H. Everly of Selkirk, C. McDonald of Fort Steele, B. E. Taylor of Kimberley and J. A. Anderson of Jaffray were registered at the Cosmopolitan Wednesday.

The snowfall this winter is of untold benefit to loggers and the placer miners will have an abundance of water next spring. Last summer creeks and lakes never before known to fail dried up completely, fish and game were scarce and the situation, with a scarcity of water next year, would have been serious. The district so far this winter has been blessed with a bountiful fall.

We have a great name for selling the best. "STEWARTS" Chocolates and Bon Bons are made for those who desire quality—pure and delicious. H. Stewart, Armstrong, Ave.
