UNIONIST GAIN OF TWO SEATS

Result of Polling at Yesterday's Elections

STILL RUNNING NECK AND NECK

Winston Churchill's Majority is Substantially Reduced--Rioting at Belfast

London, Dec. 8.—At the close of the polling tonight in the general elections the standing of the parties is as follows: Government coalition, Liberals 147, Laborites 28, Nationalists 45, Independent Nationalists 6, total 226. Opposition, Unionists 193.

The fifth day of the election ended with the parties still running neck and neck with the prospects that they will come under the wire in almost precisely the same relative position they held at the start. Returns had been received up to midnight from the voting for 49 members and the result is a Unionist gain of two seats. This amazing result is as unprecedented in English history as it is embarrassing to politicians of all factions. Both parties went in predicting great gains Both are now convinced that the new house of commons will be practically identical with the old. Discussion is now concentrated upon the question of what the people's verdict means and what course shall be followed under such unexpected circumstances.

The Conservatives argue that the premier bid for a sweeping endorsement from the country and has not obtained it, therefore he cannot be justified in fastening upon the nation such radical changes as home rule and the disarming of the house of lords. The Coalitionists ins st that the voters by returning them to power endorse their policies and direct them to carry out their programme in its entirety.

Glasgow, which the Liberals counted upon for an increased vote went off some two thousand. Winston Churchill, home secretary, was returned by Dundee but about 1500 votes shifted to the Unionist column, largely as the results of attacks upon his personality. Heavy rains tonight coupled with a delay in the reports decreased the general enthusiasm.

Premier Asquith, speaking at East Fyfe, was questioned on home rule. He replied that he could not give details regrading the measure at this stage. John Redmond speaking at Dublin said: "The election has already killed the veto power of the lords and the abolition of the veto means with a mathematical certainty the establishment of home rule."

At Belfast rioting followed the closing of the polls. There was much stone throwing and many of the windows were broken. Police reinforcements quelled the trouble.

London, Dec.—On the result of the day's polling the government is one up. The fight as a whole is so stubborn that there almost seems a possibility of the sporting interest submerging the political interest in the matter of gains and losses. With Gngland nearly polled, the Liberals are now awaiting the putting up of an effective majority. Scotland appears sound and Wales also, despite the defection in Cardiff and at least they anticipate a couple of gains tomorrow.

London, Dec. 8.—State of parties at midnight: Unionists, 193; Liberals, 146; Labor, 28; Nationalists, 48; Independent Nationalists, 5.

Gains: Unionists, 19; Liberals, 13; Labor,4; Nationa,ists, 1; Independent Nationalists,1; unchanged 380; total elected 418.

CONTROLLING RATES

Mr. R. L. Borden in his speech in the debate on the address was very happy in exposing the ineptitude of the Government's transportation policy.—Here is wahat it has done.

First it builds the Transcontinental railway.

Then it gives that as a present to the G. T. P.

Then Mr. Pugsley begins to promise to build a canal across the prairie to control the rates on the railway, which the people built and the G. T. P. is to control.

The next step, Mr. Borden said, probably wi,l be to promise an air ship line to control the rates on the canal built by the people to control the rates on the railway built by the people.

Al. Doyle, of Fort Steele, was in the city Friday on business.

A Smart Oove

Arthur S. Meighon, the young Conservat ve member for Portage la Prairie, stole a march on the government the opening day of the session with the result that the Conservatives are jubilant while the supporters of the government are correspondingly doleful.

For years the government has posed before the country, and the west particularly, as the low tariff party, while preserving high tariff. To accomplish this they have made a blocking move. For four years they have put up W. E. Knowles, of Moose Jaw, to place upon the order paper a resolution calling for a reduction of the duties on agricultural implements. For four years therefore, this resolution has lain on the on the order paper, yet not a sound has been uttered regarding it. It has had the effect, however, of preventing the Opposition from discussing it. To understand this it should be said that no one can open up a question so long as there is a resolution on the order paper covering exactly the same question.

However, Mr. Meighon, by a little smart work this year got in ahead of Mr. Knowles, and gave the first notice of this resolution. Thus the Opposition will be able to bring up the subject in the House. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be compelled to declare his policy in the matter, and will be in a serious position if he decl nes to act upon his declaration, that is if he agrees with the resolution. He will be in a serious position also if he disagrees.

This is the first bombardment of a session which promises to be a terrible battle for supremacy. The resolution reads: "That it is the opinion of this House, a substantial reduction in the import duties on agricultural implements is now due the agriculturists of Canada, and in just accord with the true end of a protective tariff.

THE KOOTENAY VALLEY

The attention of the home-seeker has been attracted to the agricultural possibilities of the Kootenay valley. The miner to its immense undeveloped mineral resources, and the lumberman to its virgin forests.

Cranbrook has no rival as a city, either prsent or prospective, in an area larger than some empires. It located in the centre of a vast mining district, where placer mines, dold quartz, silver, lead and copper properties are being developed.

It is a healthy country, and a country of great opportunities for the capitalist, miner, lumberman, agriculturist and tourist, and the scenic grandeur of the mountains rival those of Switzerland.

It is a sportsman's paradise. Bear, deer, cariboo, goat and mountain sheep abound in plenty, and the mountain streams are well stocked with trout and provide excellent sport for the hunter and angler.

Here in the Kootenay valley are to be found all the elements required to constitute a rich and progressive district, consisting of rich agricultural soil, a salubrious climate favorable to health, boundless forests of timber, untold wealth in all the minerals of commerce, such as gold, silver, lead, iron, copper, coal and petroleum. Nature has surely endowed this valley with a lavish hand.

MINING NOTES

Of Interest to Those Engaged in the Mining Industry

The Sullivan Group of mines are now being developed, and mining operations are being pushed with a force of not less than 120 men. A large amount of ore has been broken, far larger than the amount shippe, while prospecting is carr ed on with the assistance of two diamond drills. When the present year is closed it will be found that this group of mines will rank, either first or second among the producing mines of the province.

One of the greatest needs of the district today, is a cheap and efficient system of transportation, so that mining, and other industries, may in the near future add to the revenues of the district.

AND WHY?

Nowadays the people of Southeast Kootenay are talking about the construction of the Kootenay Central railway, and a line from the Ctow's Nest Branch, south to Waldo and other lumbering points to the south.

The Prospector was the first newspaper in the Province, or in Canada, to advocate the construction of the Crow's Nest branch, or as it was called in those days the British Columbia Southern railway.

Since that time it has in season and out strongly urged the necessity of a railway north and south through the Kootenay valley; "and why?"

Because the building of railways were needed to develop the mining, agricultural and lumbering resources of Southeast Kootenay.

Railways are needed to develop the immense water powers of the district

The construction of a railway to the south is also needed to develop the extreme South-eastern portion of this district, an agricultural district of much promise, and one that is being rapidly populated.

Railways will bring people to this section of the Province, will stimulate every branch of industry, more especially mining, which is being retarded lor the lack of necessary mean of transportation of ore.

UNION LABEL

James Hill, of the Great Northern, predicts a period of dull times for the United States and other countries. If this should prove true, what would the railroads do? poor things.

—o—

A special correspondent of the New York Commercial, has published a summary of his travels in Western Canada, he says: "Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia will have a population of at least 10,000,000, before 1920.

—o—

The by-election in Drummond-Athabaska is gaining additional importance every day. At the time results were announced they were regarded as a local expression of opinion, but the House of Commons and the minister from Quebec are making it a general issue.

—o—

British elections appear to be bargain days, held on the installment plan.

—o—

It is delightful to be assured that British Columbia had the greatest exposition of apples ever held in England. Not content with scooping the big "Gold Hogg Medal," not less than 25 or 30 silver medals and first and second prizes are placed to the credit of this province.

—o—

Building permits issued in Cranbrook during the past year has beat the record. November permits were larger this year than last.

—o—

The time is approaching when the electors of Cranbrook will be called upon to decide who shall represent them in the city council next year, giving rise to considerable speculation in the matter of candidates.

—o—

The editor of the Renfrew Journal is fond of apt similes, and he uses them to good advantage as witness the following clever editorial:

"The Indians have a saying that a dog once chased a bear around a tree. Faster and faster went the pair until at last the dog chased the bear so fast that—the bear caught the dog. This is just about what happened to Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Quebec. For years he has been using the race cry in Quebec to serve his purpose, or at least he has stood back and taken the advantages accruing from others using the cry. This procedure has resulted hitherto in a practically solid Quebec for Laurier, but recently the bear chased too hard, and in the Athabaska-Drummond election, the dog got caught."

—o—

"It is inconceivable, says the Guthrie (Okla.) Capital, editorially, "How any person not a candidate for the asylum, can call the conditions known to everybody in Oklahoma 'prohibition.' The Anti-Saloon league, its enforcement officers and those who preach Prohibition have had ample opportunity to know and must know from evidence on every hand that there are at least one thousand places in Oklahoma City where liquor can be openly purchased under the name of the liquor desired by the individual; that no pretense of enforcement of Prohibition is made. There are probably ten thousand men in Oklahoma City who can lead any person to hundreds of joints where the selling of liquor is not the only illicit thing done. Practically every one of these joints has a gambling room attached and boys 16 to 21 years of age are liberal patrons of these places. What is true of Oklahoma City is true likewise of Muskogee, Tulsa, Sapula, Lawton, Shawnee and practically every other populous city in the State."

"In face of the fact that vast sums of money have been appropriated by by the counties and the state for the enforcement of the prohibition laws and in the face of the fact that municipal and county officers have made a faithful attempt to discharge their duty in this direction, the whole thing has been a stupendous failure."

"What a farce it is to assume that this is a better condition than that produced by the open and regulated saloon. When prohibitionists and prohibition preachers announced their endorsement of this condition in preference to the licensed and regulated conduct of the liquor business it is the same as saying that the prefer a condition of anarchy to that of respectable government; that a criminal is better than a man who obeys the law; that debauchery is better than morality; that deceit, hypocracy and perjury is better than righteousness and decency."

"The people are tired—yes, disgusted—with the conditions created by thisautocratic and insane enactment."

"You can hardly pick up a newspaper printed in Oklahoma that does not contain an open account of some atrocious crime that is traceable directly to these 'bootlegging' joints."

"The intolerant, unreasoning spirit of the prohibitionist is retrogressive and degenerating. It is the spirit that moves the mob and caused destruction and disaster."

Reading the above, one no longer wonders why it was that Oklahoma on the 8th of November endorsed the amendment to the State Constitution providing licensed saloons with a limit of one to every thousand of population. The new law prohibits the sale of liquor to minors and drunkards and then as a further protection to the public, it commands that there shall be no screen or other thing to obstruct the full view of the interior of the saloon from the street by the public.
