CLOSING EXERCISES

THE SCHOOLS OF CRANBROOK CLOSE FOR THE SUMMER IN A MOST APPROPRIATE MANNER.

Last Friday evening the closing exercises of the public schools of Cranbrook were held at Wentworth hall and there was a large attendance, in fact every available space in the hall was taken. Mr. Macneil and the other teachers had worked very hard to make the closing exercises a success and they are deserving of a lot of credit for the manner everything was carried out. There was a dearth of monotonous exercises, there was a pleasing plentitude of appropriate talks, there were a few national songs by the children that warmed the cockles around the patriotic heart, for there is nothing more appealing than a national song by the children of the country. W. T. Reid, J. A. Harvey, Mr. Macneil, Rev. Flewellyn, Rev. Fortune, Rev. Westman presented the prizes in talks that were appropriate and interesting, showing a proper appreciation of the importance of school work. The gathering was a great success from the beginning to the end, and showed that there had been most excellent work done by the Cranbrook teachers during the past year.

CARD OF THANKS.

I take occasion to thank all those who participated in, and all those who assisted by their presence the school exercises of last Friday night. I thank Mr. F. E. Simpson for free programmes particularly, as it was necessary, owing to press of business for some of his staff to work after hours to complete the work.

A. A. Macneil, Principal.

As a post script I might state that if there are any who are not satisfied with the results of the examinations from the intermediate to the senior grade of the school, that they shall have the privilege, if they wish, of seeing those papers.

NOW BE GOOD

THE PRINCIPAL POINTS OF THE SUNDAY OBSERVANCE LAW.

Ottawa, June 15.—The bill respecting the Lord's day, as amended by the special committee, has been reprinted and it is now possible to gather a clearer conception of the provisions than was possible in the first rough draft. The exemption clause is of interest to many callings and industries, and there is one section which provides among other things that a domestic servant who is employed on Sunday is to have a day off during the ensuing week.

Sections 3 and 4 read as follows:

3. Notwithstanding anything herein contained, any person may on the Lord's day do any work of necessity or mercy, and for greater certainty, but not so as to restrict the ordinary meaning of the expression "work of necessity or mercy," it is hereby declared that it shall be deemed to include the following classes of work:

(a) Any necessary or customary work in connection with divine worship.

(b) Work for the relief of sickness and suffering, including the sale of drugs, medicines and surgical appliances by retail;

(c) Receiving, transmitting or delivering telegraph or telephone messages;

(d) Starting or maintaining fires, making repairs to furnaces and repairs in cases of emergency, and doing other work when such fires, repairs or work are necessary to any industrial process of such a continuous nature that it cannot be stopped without serious injury to its product or to the plant or property used in process, or if without the doing of such work on the Lord's day such process cannot be carried on safely during the other six days of the week;

(e) Any work, without the doing of which on the Lord's day, electric current, light, heat or gas cannot be continuously supplied for lawful purposes;

(f) The conveyance of travelers and work incidental thereto;

(g) The continuance to their destination of trains and vessels in transit when the Lord's day begins;

(h) Loading and unloading merchandise at intermediate points on or from passenger boats and passenger trains;

(i) Keeping railway tracks clear of snow or ice, making repairs in case of emergency, or doing any other work of a like nature, without the doing of which on the Lord's day the traffic on the transportation lines cannot be safely carried on;

(j) Work before six o'clock in the morning or eight o'clock in the afternoon of yard crews handling cars in a railway yard;

(k) Loading, unloading and caulking any ocean going vessel which otherwise would be unduly delayed after her schedule time of sailing, or any vessel which would otherwise be in imminent danger of being stopped by the closing of navigation;

(l) Caring for stock and perishable products arriving at any point during the Lord's day;

(m) The operation of any ferry boat authorized by any competent authority to carry passengers on the Lord's day;

(n) The hiring of horses and carriages for the personal use of the hirer or his family for any purpose not prohibited by the act;

(o) Any unavoidable work after 8 o'clock in the evening of the Lord's day in the preparation of the regular Monday morning edition of a daily newspaper;

(p) Any unavoiuable work after 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the Lord's day for or in connection with the setting of baker's sponges;

(q) The delivery of milk and ice for domestic purposes and the work of domestic servants.

(r) The operation of any Canadian electric street railway company whose line is interprovincial or international, of its cars for passenger traffic on the Lord's day on any line or branch now regularly so operated.

Clause 4 says: It shall not be lawful for any person to permit any employee other than employees on boats which do not complete their regular trips within 24 hours to do on the Lord's day any work within subsections (c) and (n) inclusive, and subsections (q) and (r) of section 3 of this act or incidental thereto, unless such employee is given during the six days of such week 24 consecutive hours without labor.

All kinds of excursions are stopped by clause 6, which reads: It shall not be lawful for any person on the Lords day, to run, conduct or convey by any mode of conveyance, any excursion on which passengers are conveyed for hire and having for its principal or only object the carriage of such passenger for amusement or pleasure, and passengers so conveyed shall not be deemed to be pasengers within the meaning of the act.

Clause 7 says: It shall not be lawol for any person on the Lord's day to open to the public any park or pleasure ground or other place maintained for gain to which an admission fee is charged directly or indirectly, or within which a fee is charged for any service or privilege.

Hunting on Sunday is aimed at by clause 9: It shall not be lawful for any person on that day to shoot at any target, mark, or any other object, or to use any gun, rifle or other engine for that purpose.

Clause 10 is of interest to newsdealers: It shall not be lawful for any person to bring into Canada for sale or distribution, or to sell or distribute within Canada on the Lord's day any foreign newspaper or publication classed as a newspaper.

Any constable is given authority under the act to enter suspected premises other than a dwelling house.

CELEBRATE RIGHT

YOU CAN GO TO MOYIE ON THE 2ND AND FERNIE ON THE 3RD AND 4TH.

Next week will be a strenuous one for the people of East Kootenay. There will be opportunities galore for a good time, as both Moyie and Fernie are going to indulge in celebrations. Moyie, as is her custom, will observe Dominion day on the 2nd, and the committee have prepared a most attractive programme. On the eighth page of this paper the programme in detail can be found, and those who read it will be induced to go, for there they can surely have a good time. And then Cranbrook should go to Moyie for Moyie never fails to turn out to Cranbrook. It might be well to say this is the holiday week of the year, the chance to make good to our friends and neighbors. Business will not be rushing next week. It never is that time of the year. Let us get out and show our neighbors what we can do in the way of making good fellows of ourselves and at the same time have an enjoyable day.

Fernie will celebrate on the 3rd and 4th, under the auspices of the Eagles and that is a guarantee of a good time from start to finish. The committee demonstrated on the start that they were not chubbers and hung up prizes that would make Spokane or Vancouver open up their eyes. There will be foot races, lacrosse matches, football matches, in fact all kinds of sport. On the eighth page will be found a big ad. telling what the committee have in store for you, a carnival of glorious fun.

The people of Cranbrook cannot quit business altogether on these days, but they can divide the thing up so that the town will be well represented at both towns. Just stop and take this into consideration and then put a couple of bills in your pocket and hike for the train with the idea that you are entitled to a good time. That is the way to have it. Ain't it the truth.

THE NEW METHOD LAUNDRY

MR. JAS. H. MANNING, who has had ten years' experience in the leading laundries of Winnipeg, has purchased the Crows Nest Laundry and will adopt new methods and place the institution on a sound business basis

A careful system of handling work has been inaugurated and in future there will be no confusion in returning laundry. We are here to make this laundry the best in the interior of Western Canada

Don't Hesitate to Send in your Work in Future. It Will Come Back O. K.

Mr. Manning appreciates the fact that Cranbrook is a splendid location for a laundry, operated by a practical laundryman who will put forth every effort to please his patrons. Mr. Manning is prepared to do this, and asks the people of this district to give him a fair trial

Hereafter all work will be done promptly. All work will be delivered promptly. All work will prove satisfactory. All prices will be fair.

N. B.--There are some goods here badly mixed. Those having laundry here can get the same by calling and identifying it. The management will do all it can to assist you

A FASHIONABLE FUNCTION.

THE INDIANS NEAR ROOSVILLE HOLD A LEVEE.

Fred Roo, poet, philosopher, humorist and merchant, of Roosville, has written another of his rare Indian descriptions for the Tobacco Plains Journal that is unique and laughable. The Herald takes pleasure in reproducing the same:

Ther was a notable gathering at the pretty Indian village situated a short distance from Roosville, Tobacco Plains (the land of sunhine, fruit and flowers), on Saturday, June 2nd, in celebration of the coming of age of Young Chief Mighty-Rolls-the-Thunder.

Lavish arrangements had been made for Saturday's celebration, and dozens of Indians, with their squaws, and papooses, being invited to the festivities, a large company assembled.

All the cream-de-la-skim were there from distant reserves, and the proceedings went along smooth like a prayer meeting.

The chief event on Saturday was the presentation to young Chief Mighty-Rolls-the-Thunder with a fine running horse, bought by subscription among the braves. Happy Frank "The Jolly Dutchman," president of the Sauer Kraut valley Ping Pong club, made the presentation.

Young Chief Mighty-Rolls-the-Thunder, who was greeted with applause, spoke with Indian directness and brevity in expressing his thanks for the gift and appreciation of the good feeling that had been shown. Like a clash of thunder that follows the lightnining the enthusiasm began, and he received an ovation which might have gratified the last of the Caesars and he went around shaking hands like a president on parade.

Prominent among the visitors were Black Kettle, Red Moon, Stone Calf, Lone Wolf, Hole-in-the-Blanket, Big Moon, Iron Tail, Paul Prairie Chicken, Mud-in-the-Eye, Afraid-of-a-Bear, Flying Bird, Running Wolf, Three Weasels, Black Rabbit, Yellow Shirt, Little Raven, Painted Horse, Asleep-in-the-Sun, Eagle Feather, Yellow Tail and Afraid-of-His-Moccasins.

The proceedings took place in the village square, where a substantial repast was provided for the visitors. The banquet was held in the open air and the menu was as follows:

Mud Turtle Soup
Highballs and Snowshoe Rabbit Sandwiches
Rawhide Roast Boiled Beaver
Grizzly Bear Turnovers
Moccasin Short Cake
Weasel Wafers
Tea, Coffee and Buttermilk

The banquet was excellent and the tea, coffee and buttermilk beyond reproach, and the braves and their squaws and papooses went after the good things like a Kentucky colonel after corn juice, and never blinked an eye.

The flunkies were a miracle of speed and politeness.

A variety of outdoor sports and amusements had been arranged and was carried out without a hitch.

Wrestling on horseback was won by Mud-in-the-Eye.

Flying Bird captured the 300 yard horse race.

The men's foot race, 100 yards, was won by Running Wolf.

Sally Two-Kettles took the squaw pony race by a nose.

The squaw running race, two miles, was won pantingly by Millie Moccasin-String.

The three-legged race went to Yellow Shirt and Painted Horse.

The village band, which consisted of first bass drum, second bass drum, big drum and little drum, played selections of music between the events, making an elegant combination of harmony.

Gloriously fine weather favored the occasion, the sun shining during the whole of the festivities with all the warmth and brightnes possible. The village was gaily decorated with flags and bunting, kindly lent for the occasion by the Roosville Cash Store. The braves had on their best clothes and enough face powder to raise a sour dough bannock.

The squaws were dressed like New York society ladies, with a slight difference, and looked as proud as a drove of peacocks.

In the evening Miss Millie Bull Trout, the "Speckled Beauty," sang several selections by request, and was accompanied by Gall-in-His-Hand on the tom-tom.

She was very stylishly dressed in an exquisite, very short skirt of Tobacco Plains sheepherders plaid, with mud dots and green goose quills. A Squawtown opera shawl covered her classic shoulders and was fastened in front by a very pretty barb-wire-plaited fence spike, rainbow colored blanket hose and the very latest Parisian ball slippers. She had a ring with a diamond in it as big as a hickory nut, and when she fanned herself you would think she had bought out some jeweler.

Her hair, black as the raven's wing, hung down her back in cowtail plaits, and her general appearance would make Cleopatra look like the sunset blush on a snowbank.

She sang "There's Life in the Old Girl Yet," to the time of the "Maple Leaf," and in a style that would make Adelina Patti ashamed of herself if she heard it.

The applause she received fairly shook the mountains, and for an encore she sang very feelingly, "I'll be Your Dewdrop."

The crowd dispersed singing the "Auld Lang Syne." great Irish-American ballad—

MISUSE OF RELIEF FUNDS.

San Francisco, June 20.—With the assertion that members of the finance committee of the citizens relief committee have entered into a conspiracy to make improper use of the relief funds turned over to their care, proceedings have been begun in the superior court by a certain number of refugees. The suit was filed by Alva Udell, William Howard and C. F. Pearce, who allege that they represent 10,000 homeless persons in the relief camps of the city.

HOW LACROSSE CAME TO BE CANADA'S NATIONAL GAME.

Lacrosse has been Canada's national game for less than fifty years. To the general run of sportsmen this statement may seem incredible, but it is nevertheless true.

While it is impossible to go back to the inception of the game, the date of its adoption by the white man is not far distant and is indelibly stamped on the memories of not a few Canadians.

Ottawa can possibly lay the best claim to the birthplace of the game. Here it was a committee of citizens conceived the idea of entertaining the Prince of Wales, now King of England, during his visit to Canada in 1860, by arranging a lacrosse match between the St. Regis Caughanawagai Indians.

The move proved a pronounced success and so great was the royal interest that thereafter the white man began to play the game.

The Indians were possibly not the least honored by the occasion. Forming the point of a V. shaped parade they paddled down the stream in their bark canoes to meet the Queen Victoria, the vessel conveying His Royal Highness to Ottawa, followed by the myriads of craft manned by the longshoremen and lumber jacks.

In this fashion the prince was escorted into the town, the Indians with feathers flying from their heads and in their mocassins and rustic garb forming an uninvited guard of honor for the prince, and soldiers found their posts filled when they landed, and the pride-filled aborigines swept on jealously guarding the royal equipage and their subsequent king.

Next day saw the battle royal. It was not without some concern that the entertainment committee awaited the prince's reception of their novel form of amusement. They could not have struck on a happier thought, however.

The Indians put up one of their greatest games and his royal highness seemed lost in interest. The game was rough and an Indian dropping down beneath the stroke of one of his companions wallops was no uncommon sight. The fleetness of foot of the players and their dexterity in dodging opponents appealed to the prince, while their peculiar shouts and calls lent to the whole a weirdness that was almost appalling.

The adoption of lacrosse as Canada's national game dated from this match.

The same year white men began to play the game, with some modifications from that played by the Indians of course. A little later the same year a meeting was held in Montreal, at which a league was formed composing teams in Montreal, Ottawa, Cornwall, Prescott and the two Indian clubs which played before the prince.

With this league established the game spread and soon it was being played throughout the east and west. To the late Dr. Beer, the first president of the league, belongs much credit for the adoption of the game, and by many he is regarded as the father of the game in Canada.

The game is very much different now from what it was in those early days. In the first days it was fleetness of foot that counted. In Montreal the first combination was attempted and as time has shown it is the most successful game.

Nowadays it is all combination. In the olden days players were allowed all sorts of liberties on the field. If a player could go from one end of the field to the other with the ball, it was his duty to make the attempt. Such a thing as playing in a certain position was almost unknown then. To-day every man must be in his position. That is one of the first essentials of the game.

The sticks used in the early days were much the same as used at the present time. There have been some improvements in them, but in the main they are the same.

The game is not nearly so rough now as it was. The time is passed when a player had almost to be a prize-fighter to stay in the game and players being laid out were no uncommon sights. After one game alone no less than twelve players have been known to visit the doctor to be "patched" up.

C. P. R. TRAINMEN MEET WITH THE OFFICIALS.

Winnipeg, June 20.—The committee of C. P. R. trainmen which has been in conference with the head officials for several days have completed their work. L. L. Peltier, of Fort William, chairman of the Order of Railway Conductors, was directing the delegates during the conference, and "Cully" McNeill, of Calgary, a leading representative of western interests. There were eighteen members of the committee, and they represented the trainmen from Fort William to Laggan, on the summit of the Rockies. The schedule which has been in force for four years was not opened, and that question was not a subject of discussion. Some rules which time had made unwieldy were modified and Chairman Peltier remarked last night in closing up the details that the relations of the men with the company were quite satisfactory. He is directing the affairs of the O. R. C. from Montreal to Vancouver. Among the men in the city representing their different divisions are some of the best known conductors in the Dominion.

COMPANIONABLE.

The shade of the beef packer was ushered in at the portals.

"I presume you have a place reserved for me," he remarked arrogantly.

"That's what we have," replied the shade in charge.

"Where is it?" queried the packer.

"Right over there by that extremely warm and prespiring individual."

"But he is a stranger to me."

"That's all right. You'll get acquainted because you engaged in the same line of business. He's Herod the Great, the fellow who slaughtered the innocents two thousand years before you began. He'll recognize you, for he has been jealous of your success for a long time."

TO BE A MODEL CITY.

LANDSCAPE GARDENERS WILL ASSIST IN LAYING OUT PRINCE RUPERT.

Montreal, June 20.—Canada's newest city—that is yet to be—Prince Rupert, is expected to be the most perfectly laid out and most beautiful city of the Dominion. It is being laid out under conditions that are practically impossible with the ordinary city which starts with a few heterogenous buildings and grows on. Prince Rupert is foreordained to be a western metropolis before a foundation is laid, and its whole site is owned by the Grand Trunk Pacific. The company has not been slow to see the opportunity offered to make it the Washington of Canada, and is proceeding accordingly. Not only are expert surveyors now at work planning the streets and parks and other features of the city, but expert landscape gardeners have been engaged who will be sent out to see that there will be a city beautiful in its general outline, as well as one with broad streets and all the requirement of a modern metropolis.

During the present year after the surveys are completed, the details of the company's plans for starting the new city on its way will be perfected, and by next spring the lots and building sites will probably be ready for sale. The town will probably be well under way before the Grand Trunk Pacific is completed, as it is situated along the line of coast traffic, in the midst of some of the most wonderful scenery in America; there will also be a rapid growth of trade caused by the settlement along the line of the road, and the immense number of men and amount of supplies used on its construction, which will have to pass through the terminal city. The Grand Trunk Pacific officials expect that Prince Rupert will not only be a great trading city but will speedily become a headquarters for tourists.

MACKINTOSH DIVORCE CASE.

BILL IS REFERRED BACK TO COMMITTEE BY HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Ottawa, June 21.—The private bills committee of the commons the other day threw out the divorce granted to Eileen Mackintosh, wife of Charles St. Lawrence Mackintosh and now the commons has referred back the report for further consideration. Hon. Mr. Aylesworth said he never saw a plainer case where divorce should be granted. Life to the woman, as now lead, would be intolerable, the minister of justice added. The applicant had presented evidence that induced the senate to dissolve the marriage she contracted seven years ago with Charles Mackintosh, son of ex-Governor Mackintosh. A motion for reconsideration was passed on the assurance that the attendance in committte last week was small and that the case was disposed of without time for due consideratinn.

ST. EUGENE LOOKING GOOD.

(Moyie Leader.

"There is now more ore in sight in the St. Eugene mine than we have ever had," James Cronin remarked yesterday, while in conversation with the Leader representative. "True, we are cutting down the grade and shipping a lower quality of ore and concentrates than we did some time ago, but this is made feasible by the plant owning its own smelter. Heretofore we have been shipping only the higher grade stuff, but now we are putting through the mill everything that carries values. This is operating the mine as it should be operated and it will make it better all around."

Wm. White, who arrived this week from Bisbey, Arizona, has been made superintendent to fill the position until recently occupied by Geo. Clothier Mr. White was one of the first miners ever employed at the St. Eugene and worked there when he and Mr. Cronin constituted the whole force. He spent two years in Colorado and three years in South Africa since leaving here six years ago. "Billy" is a miner of the first rank, and an all around good fellow, and the Leader is pleased to see him promoted to his present position.

REGULAR BRITISH JUSTICE.

Philadelphia, June 19.—Twenty years of solitary confinement with hard labor, was the sentence pronounced to-day on John Joseph Kean, the abductor of little Freddie Muth.

The enormity of the man's crime, which had aroused the whole city, stirred the officers of the law to quick action. Kean was arrested yesterday at about the time the courts were closing. Promptly at 10 o'clock this morning he was photographed and measured by the Bertillion method. Twenty-five minutes later he had been arranged before a magistrate and committed to court without bail. The grand jury quickly found a true bill and at 11.20 a.m. he was in the criminal court awaiting his turn to face Judge Solsberger. Shortly after 12 o'clock the judge passed sentence upon him and at 12.30 the great iron doors of the penitentiary closed behind him. In his quick trip from liberty to the solitude of Terry Hill, no friendly hand or voice was raised in the prisoner's behalf. If he behaves himself his sentence, under the law, will be reduced to 12 years and 3 months. The court had the power to give him a life sentence.

SAFE.

"The work you are called upon to perform will require a strong constitution."

"That's all right," said the applicant, "I've lived on canned meat for the past sixty days."

There being no better proof the applicant was immediately engaged.

WILL COST HALF MILLION DOLLARS.

Grand Forks, B. C., June 22.—The West Kootenay Power & Light Company is experiencing great difficulty in securing stonemasons to work on its substations at Grand Forks and Greenwood, and although the company is paying $6 a day it is forced to work shorthanded. This company is constructing a model pole line from Rossland to Boundary Falls, a distance of sixty miles. Its power is carried by three wire cables about half an inch in thickness, the combined capacity of the three cables being 60 thousand volts, or three times the capacity of the Cascade Power & Light Company's plant under the present charter. The West Kootenay Company can only go as far west as Boundary Falls, but expects to secure a further extension of its charter at the next session of the provincial Legislature to enable it to operate anywhere in the county of Yale, when this line will be extended further west. This company contemplates supplying power to dozens of mines in addition to the various towns for domestic use. This line of sixty miles will cost half a million dollars.

LUMBER RATES HIGHER IN THE STATES.

Seattle, June 22.—Lumber rates from Puget Sound to coastwise points are on the increase. The rate from Washington to California points is now higher than it has been for years, and shippers state that they expect the price to continue soaring. Shipping men state that the advance in price is occasioned by a shortage of vessels to take cargo to coastwise ports. Practically all of the steam schooners operated from San Francisco, which handled the large part of the trade, have been tied up. Vessels now on the run cannot begin to handle the amount of lumber offering. Mills which have been sending large quantities to foreign ports are not affected, but those in Aberdeen and in that vicinity, which depend largely on coasting trade, have difficulty in getting rid of their output.

A LUCKY NEWSPAPER MAN.

The following from the Pincher Creek Echo, edited by our old friend Si Saunders, shows that he is prospering in Pincher Creek, a fact that will please all of his friends throughout the west, and he has many of them:

Mr. E. T. Saunders has started work on an addition to the Echo office to make room for his rapidly increasing business. It will be 16 x 24 on the east side of his present building and will be used as a pressroom. When completed he will instal a water motor and also a new job press. He also has under construction on his residence lots on the north side of the creek a 20 x 24 ft. stable with accommodation for three horses, carriage house and harness room and expects in the course of a couple of weeks to begin work on a stone cottage on same lots.

THE cost of living is an important thing in most homes. You may have to figure closely in these matters. A little extra on a barrel of flour may look big to you.

But there is a difference between spending money wisely and spending it foolishly.

Sometimes it is economy to spend instead of to save. It is in the case of Royal Household Flour.

Those few extra cents a week, that give you

Royal Household Flour

in preference to inferior flour, buy health.

Rambling Reveries

BY A DREAMER.

THE ISLE OF HOME.

From shadow-land of memory
A golden dream comes unto me.
In fancy I am back among
The happy hours when I was young.
In visions yet I see the day,
When I had been a year away—
My first year—and I sought once more,
Heart-sore and sick, my father's door.
And as I climbed the winding road
Up the last hill, a something glowed
Within my bosom like a flame,
An ecstacy without a name.
For there, across the evening's gloam,
I saw the old barn darkly loom.
And past it, from a window bright,
A sword of glory pierced the night—
The light of home. As from afar
The wise men saw the heavenly star,
So that sweet light, unto my eyes,
Seemed leading on to Paradise.

Again, in fancy, I draw near;
Again I through the window peer,
Again I pass the open door;
Again I steal across the floor;
Again I clasp my mother's form;
Again I feel her tear drops warm;
Again I grasp my father's hand;
Again I feel my heart expand
Into that overwhelming sense
Of joy too deep for utterance.
But 'tis a romance often told,
A story that is sweet and old,
A tale that's found the world's heart warm
Since Jesus gave it deathless form;
And many a heart with joy has burned
Above some prodigal returned.
So sweet that scene was unto me,
It sheds a balm through memory.
A sort of kindly influence brought
To touch and gladden every thought.

That night I slept within—O joy!—
The room I slept in when a boy.
A golden dream came unto me;
I thought the whole world was a sea,
Whose breaking waves rose fierce and high
Beneath a black, tempestuous sky.
And many a life I saw go out;
And many a wreck was strewn about;
But, safe amid the rush and roar,
I stood upon a happy shore,
A land that shone 'neath Heaven's smile,
A sunny, green and peaceful isle,
On which the old house reared its form,
An ark of safety in the storm;
I stood, amid the breakers' foam,
Secure upon the Isle of Home.

If you will learn the seriousness of life, and its beauty also, live for your husband; do like the nightingale to his domestic life; be to him like the sunshine between the trees; unite yourself inwardly to him, be guided by him, make him happy and then you will understand what is the best happiness of life and will acquire, in your own eyes, a worth with God and with man. Woman is designedly a companion and helpmate for man She can assist him in the affairs of a humble home, or in the duties of public. She is no less womanly when she enters the various arts, sciences, trades and professions than when she graces only the domestic circle. Successful men in public or private life often owe much of their success to the assistance rendered them by their wives, mothers, or sisters.

The first word a child utters is apt to be "Mother," and the old man in his dying dream calls "Mother! Mother!" It matters not whether she was brought up in the surroundings of a city and in affluent home, and was dressed appropriately with reference to the demands of modern life, or whether she wore the old time cap and great round spectacles and apron of her own make, and knit you socks with her own needles, seated by the broad fireplace, with great black logs ablaze on a winter night. It matters not how many wrinkles crossed and recrossed her face, or how much her shoulders stooped with the burdens of a long life, if you painted a Madonna hers would be the face. What a gentle hand she had when we were sick, and what a voice to sooth pain, and was there any one who could so fill up a room with peace and purity and light? And what a sad day that was when we came home and she could greet us not, for her lips were forever still.

We have seen signs that indicate that gambling in various forms is getting a foothold in the community. Notice the effect of the crime upon domestic happiness. It has sent its ruthless plowshare through hundreds of families, until the wife sat in rags, and the daughters were disgraced, and the sons grew up to the same infamous practices or took a short cut to destruction across the murderer's scafold. Home has lost all charms for the gambler. How tame are the children's caresses and a wife's devotion to the gambler! How quietly the fire burns on the domestic hearth! There must be louder laughter, and something to win and something to lose, an excitement to drive the heart faster and warm the blood and fire the imagination. No home, however bright, can keep back the gamester. The sweet call of love bounds back with his iron soul, and all the endearments are consumed in the flame of his passion.

We saw a picture of content the other morning—a happy boy about 14 years old, who was driving a dirt-cart along the street. The lines were secured between his knees; the horses were jogging leisurely along; the sun shone pleasantly; his coat was off, and his calico shirt looked clean and cool; his hat was tipped back upon his head, and he had two pebbles that he picked up from the dirt, and these he was tossing, throwing one up as the other fell, catching each in his turn, and on his face was a happy, boyish look of content, that any world-weary man would give a fortune to wear as his own. Looking at him, we thought life is pretty much what we make it after all. Happiness does not spring from wealth or leisure, but from a contended mind. We doubt if there is a happier heart in our city than was that of the boy riding upon his dirt-laden cart, tossing his pebbles in the sunshine.

The home that possesses a cheerful wife and mother is not only a veritable haven of rest, but the safe harbor whose beacon light will guide her bread winners safely past all rocks and shoals with unfailing certainty. The woman whose cheerful spirit can take that brave attitude toward life that enables her to bear courageously the inevitable burdens of her life's environment, that strengthens her determinations not to fret or worry those who, for her sake, are fighting the hard battles in the world, has reached that altitude that proclaims her price above rubies; and her influence and example are not felt only within the limits of the four walls she has made the unassailable bulwark of state and society, a happy home, but reach to those she knows not of.

ITEMS CULLED FROM THE HERALD OF THAT DATE

Robinson & McKenzie have put their machinery in place and will start to saw the first of the week.

Wardner had another fire last week. The house of John Sucksmith was burned and quite a lot of household goods destroyed.

The Cranbrook hotel has improved the appearance of its bar by adding three large heavy plate mirrors. A man can look at himself now when he is trying to stand Frith and McMillan off for a "Collins."

Dr. W. S. Bell, Dominion veterinary inspector, is now located in Cranbrook. It is is his duty to inspect all dairy cows in this district look after any reports of diseases among domestic animals.

T. A. Creighton has a curiosity in store in the shape of a rose bush heavily laden with ripe cherries. It has attracted a great deal of attention and many people marvel at the wonderful freak of nature. The secret of this peculiar growth is known to Mr. Creighton and those who desire to cultivate cherries in this manner would do well to consult him.

Captain Miller, so well known on the Kootenay river, attempted to take the steamer Gwendoline from Libby, Mont., around the falls by train, a distance of four miles, and place her in the river again for use on Kootenay lake. The boat was successfully loaded on three flat cars but in rounding a curve she toppled off and fell into a ravine, turning over and lighting on her smokestak and making her a complete wreck.

TIMBER NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that thirty days after date, I intend making application to the Hon. The Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works for a Special License to cut and take away timber from the following described lands:

WHAT THE COLONIST SAYS.

There is considerable discussion these days as to whether or not there is to be an election this fall in British Columbia. And in this connection is the rumor that Chief Commissioner Green is to be retired from the government. The Victoria Colonist is the government organ at the capital, and the readers of the Herald may be interested in knowing what the Colonist has to say on these two imimportant questions. For that reason the following statement is printed:

The Colonist is asked to stake its reputation for veracity by making a statement as to whether it is not the intention of Premier McBride to ask the Lieutenant Governor for a dissolution during the present year, and also as to whether it is not the intention to drop the chief commissioner from the government. The Colonist is not called upon to speak for the premier on questions regarding which he is fully competent and no doubt prepared to speak for himself. He is the mouthpiece of the government.

The Colonist, however, has no hesitation in affirming its own belief. If it be any satisfaction to know our mind, there is no human probability of the premier asking for a dissolution before the expiry of the term of the present parliament. Nor, so far as we can see is there any reason for bringing on general elections. The country is well satisfied with the condition of affairs politically, and only a few professional politicians with visions of office are worrying about the matter.

We may also state that there is no grounds for the supposition that the chief commissioner of lands and works has not the entire confidence of his colleagues. He has been the subject of a great deal of persecution. It is a homely old saying that the good apple trees in an orchard may be told by the number of sticks and stones lying underneath. The bitter attack being made upon Mr. Green is a tribute to his merits as a member and an administrator.

We have no hesitation in expressing the fullest confidence in the honesty and honorable dealing of the chief commissioner, both in public and private life. We believe that the department of lands and works is being administered strictly according to the law without fear or favor. We believe that every person who has business with the department is getting a "square deal."

If we did not believe that to be true, The Colonist would not support the government. Those who have an opposite opinion, or are anxious to prove the opposite, have an opportunity to make their position good by any facts within their knowledge. The lack of such proof is demonstrated by the campaign of lying slander which is being indulged in.

It is to be hoped that this statement of our belief respecting the present political situation will be regarded as satisfactory.

AN OUTRAGE ON DECENCY.

Paris, June 11.—Mrs. Guggenheim of New York spent $1,000 on the wardrobe of her favorite Pomeranian dog last week. She ordered twelve new costumes for him, each one for a different time of the day. There was an automobile coat, a coupe coat, a Victoria coat, three bathrobes, a traveling coat and a rain coat. One of his automobile coats cost $75. It is embroidered heavily with seed pearls and with it went a new collar with a real pearl pendant.

It is this kind of damphoolery that makes a lot of people on earth dissatisfied with life, discontented, revengeful and mean at heart and low in spirit. There are thousands needing food in the world, and yet here is an idiotic woman spending money like a drunken sailor, on a poodle dog. There are millions in the world who have not proper clothing, millions of human beings, and yet this pampered canine is paraded about in purple and linen. It hardly seems possible that God would create such a creature who would flaunt her wealth in the face of the poor in this manner. And what is more this wealth was wrung from the people by the unlimited possibilities of the smelter trust. When the millions were being piled up to buy $1,000 outfits for a dog, there were honest miners in British Columbia striving their best to secure a fair wage for risking their lives underground shift after shift. There should be a law of some kind that would restrict such an unjust accumulation of wealth and another law where justice tempered with mercy and sympathy could be administered to the distraught brain that would indulge in such crazy ideas as is illustrated in the above announcement.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Frank Oliver intends to go to England this summer to clear the trouble aroused by the Atlantic Trading company.

William Whyte is so strong in his advocacy of exclusive rights for the C. P. R., that he has inaugurated a bitter word warfare against Hill and what he terms the "American invasion of Canada."

It is a far better idea for every individual to talk happiness. The world is sad enough without your woes.

Clean morals are essential to clean business, and it is well for every business man to bear this in mind.

There is a man in New York who has written 75,000 jokes. There is a man in Cranbrook whose whole life has been a joke.

The days are getting shorter and the nights are getting longer. Every man should make hay while the sun shines.

The Sunday observance bill that will pass parliament takes the country back to the days of inquisition and the Blue Laws of Connecticut. The Herald trusts that it will pass in the severe form that it was presented, as in that way it will teach the people what true liberty means. No man who is a radical in any way should be permitted to dictate for the whole people. Sunday is a day that should be observed and every man should have one day a week for rest, but the people should be allowed to choose their way of resting, and the poor who spend six days a week slaving their lives away in the hardest of toil should have a chance on Sunday to enjoy the beauties of nature and all that God has given for the benefit of the rich who can go during the week to the parks and the woods, the streams and the lakes. Liberty is a great boon but fanaticism is the curse of modern day civilization.

Time is money, and there are a few people around Cranbrook who should have all kinds of money if that is the case.

The city council will soon pass a curfew by-law and a better thing could not be done. There are too many young people in Cranbrook running wild and a curfew law may have the desired effect.

The more that British Columbia is known the more the people feel that it is the banner province of the Dominion.

There is timber enough around Cranbrook to keep the mills going for the next twenty to thirty years. At least this is the opinion of lumbermen who are thoroughly posted on the conditions.

The man who cannot honestly say a good word for Cranbrook and the district must be a pessimist of the worst kind.

It looks as if the Kootenay Central charter has been extended another two years. If this is true it is a mistake. The road should be built and at once. The country needs the transportation and the resources of the valley are sufficient to insure paying tonnage.

The Herald is growing in circulation and business every month, and this is due to the people. They can make or break a paper or any other business, and they have evidently determined that the Herald shall forge ahead. The management of the paper are doing all in their power to give the people value received. Where most weeklies are publishing a four page paper the Herald prints an eight page paper, and an eight page paper costs a lot more money each month. The large circulation enjoyed by the Herald gives to the advertiser value received for the money he pays for advertising in this paper. When a man pays money for advertising he has the right to know what he is to get for his money, and any advertiser has the privilege to examine the subscription books of the Herald or watch the papers as they are printed and keep his eye on the automatic counter. There is no pig in the poke about the Herald circulation. What we have we have got, and what we have every advertiser gets the benefit of it. That is why it pays to advertise in the Herald. And yet the people are the ones who have done it all. They have given the Herald its circulation, they have given the Herald its advertising and they have given the Herald its immense amount of job work. The Herald's hat is off to the people.

B. L. F. IN SESSION

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED AND INTERESTING SPEECHES MADE BY POLITICIANS AND RAILROADERS.

The convention of locomotive firemen was opened at Ottawa Tuesday last. At the meeting of the Canadian Union, Eugene A. Ball, of Brantford, fourth vice-grand master of the Brotherhood, was elected chairman, and George K. Ward, of Toronto Junction, general chairman of the brotherhood on the Canadian Pacific Railway system, was elected secretary. About 150 Canadian delegates are in the city and fully 200 from the different parts of the States and Mexico. A great gathering took place in the Russell theatre, where addresses of welcome were delivered by Mayor Ellis, Hon. Messrs. Emmerson and Lemieux.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson, minister of railways and canals, said that there were many reasons why the International Brotherhood should convene in Canada, and in the capital of Canada, and one of them was that they would have a larger idea of the duties devolving upon them as an international organization. He spoke of the large amount of railway construction now going on in the Dominion with a view to opening up the Northwest, and of making people realize the vast extent and boundless resources of the Dominion. He asserted that he had been for many years associated with railway men, and that therefore he was able to know and estimate their worth. He paid a tribute to the heroism displayed on frequent occasions by engineers, conductors, firemen and brakemen.

C. A. Wilson, vice-grand master, spoke of the loyalty of men who work on the railroads in exposing themselves to daily danger and said that while seeking to legislate for the betterment of themselves they had in view also the protection of the public who ride behind them on the trains.

R. L. Borden expressed his pleasure to be with such a body of loyal and warm-hearted men. He said the day was now past when Canada was not given her due by the United States and other nations, and referred to the improved labor conditions of the present over those of a few years ago. He wished the convention success and declared that he only hoped the session of parliament could be as short as that of the convention.

During the course of his address, Mr. Borden made a pleasing reference to J. Harvey Hall, legislative representative of the railway unions at Ottawa, praising his energy and diplomacy, and crediting him with having accomplished much in securing legislation for railway trainmen.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux extended good wishes on behalf of the premier, whose legislative duties did not permit him to be present, and in behalf of himself as postmaster general and minister of labor. He spoke of the progressive labor legislation that had been enacted by the Liberal government, especially eulogizing, Mr. Ralph Smith, member for Nanaimo, for his work in this connection. He had high words of praise for the brotherhood, and declared that he would be willing to meet them half way.

A. Champion, second vice-president of the Machinists' union, did not thing that either the American or Canadian government were doing all that they might in the interests of labor, but had hopes of better things in the near future.

J. J. Hanrahan made a stirring address in which he reviewed the work of the organization, of which he is grandmaster. He pointed out that since its establishment $8,751,000 had been paid in benefits, and that its present membership was 58,500. "Labor is here to stay. No power on earth can destroy organized unions in Canada or the United States. Labor to-day is stronger than ever before, and before long labor will select the premier of Canada and the president of the United States." He said that President Roosevelt was a member of the brotherhood, and that he knew Mr. Emmerson was in sympathy. Some day, he said, if the government would give them a square deal he might call upon the minister of labor for the purpose of adjusting a scale of wages. He thanked the chairman of the evening and the entertainment committee, and the mayor and people of Ottawa, which he declared to be an ideal convention city, for the cordiality of its reception.

CUTTING ALBERTA ALFALFA.

Lethbridge, June 26.—Cutting the first crop of alfalfa has begun, and it is an excellent yield.

SHORT IN ACCOUNTS.

Medicine Hat, June 26.—The hearing of Geo. P. Sanderson, of Wetaskiwin, former Union Bank employee, charged with embezzlement opens Tuesday morning. Sanderson moved from Medicine Hat to Edmonton last August, and lost his position the following month. He has been engaged in the wheat business in Wetaskiwin all spring, and Crompton is known to have been with him on the 16th June. Certain discrepancies in the books have been revealed in the search which is now going on, and Sanderson is alleged to be implicated to the extent of $1,200. The shortage it is now stated will run up into thousands and the work was so cleverly covered that but for Crompton's sudden disappearance it might not have been discovered for years. The defalcation on the bank dates back to 1903.

Alex. St. Elois' new residence is about completed.

The hotels of Cranbrook have been crowded the past week. People from all over the world have been at the banana belt center on business, pleasure and sight seeing.

The ladies of Cranbrook should bear in mind that the Herald is prepared to print the latest in the way of calling cards. There is no need to send out of town for anything of the kind.

The employees of the Crows Nest Pass Lumber company have organized a reading club at Wardner and raised quite a large sum for the purpose of buying literature. The company has furnished the boys a room and Mr. Lund, the manager, headed the list with a donation of $25.

Dining room girl wanted. Apply Canadian hotel. 11*

V. Desaulnier, of Moyie, visited Cranbrook Sunday.

Boys' linen and cotton wash suits 1-3 off.—Reid & Co.

J. Cardell, master mechanic of the C. P. R., arrived in the city yesterday.

Saturday is the last day to save your discount in paying your city taxes.

J. F. Huchcroft and Al. Pratt, of Marysville, are taking in the sights of the city this week.

The bride will appreciate your gift if it is genuine cut glass. Such as is sold by G. T. Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Mitchell came in to the city Monday to see the circus and registered at the Cosmopolitan hotel.

Thomas Hickey and family and Miss Elliott, of Marysville, left on Saturday for Creston where they will reside in future.

The front of the Canadian Bank of Commerce is being decorated with two handsome lamp posts, one on each side of the entrance.

Who said that this was a dry country? There has been enough rain the past month to satisfy the most ardent wisher for wet weather.

G. T. Portsmouth, who has been working on the new hotel at Baynes lake for the past few months, returned to the city the latter part of last week.

Mrs. H. L. Adolph and Mr. Frank Adolph, of Brandon, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griffith, of this city. Mr. H. L. Adolph is expected in a few days.

George Beattie left to-day for Kingsville to take charge of the office of the Kings Lumber mills. Mr. Beattie is a man of ability and will make good in that position.

James McNeely, who has been visiting his son at Wycliffe for a couple of weeks, left Monday for Minnesota to visit another son before returning to his home in New Brunswick.

That man Blaine, you know who he is now, is working up a great business in the cleaning and dyeing line. His place on Armstrong avenue is crowded with work but that is what Blaine likes.

The C. P. R. will have damages for broken limbs one of these days unless more room is furnished for unloading trunks on the platform. There have been several narrow escapes lately.

There is considerable improvement going on about town this summer, and to-day Cranbrook holds the proud distinction of having more beautiful homes than any town of the same size in the interior of the province.

Mrs. Keay returned this week from Nova Scotia where she has been visiting for some time to be present at the wedding of her daughter Miss Keay, who will be married on the tenth of July to Mr. W. C. Hodges, of Vancouver.

William Hayward expects to take a trip east next month. "Billy" has not had a layoff for seven years and he arrived at the conclusion that one was coming to him. Mr. Hayward will be sadly missed in the fire department during his absence.

Rev. B. Goodfield will take charge of the services in the Baptist church next Sunday, morning and evening. In the morning the ordinance of baptism will be administered. At the close of the evening service the sacrament will be celebrated. All welcome.

The Knights of Pythias of Cranbrook attended the Methodist church in a body Sunday evening, there being between thirty and forty in the line of march. Rev. Westman preached the sermon and it was well received by the members of the order present.

The plans of the new building for the city and province have arrived and Mayor Rogers is doing all in his power to push forward the work. The season is going rapidly and Mr. Rogers is anxious to have the work started so that it will be completed before cold weather sets in.

Mrs. Brock, Miss Springer and Miss Lewis, all teachers last year in the Cranbrook public schools, left last Saturday for the coast. The ladies will then go on the trip to Alaska by the inside passage, which is considered the finest trip on water anywhere on the shores of the northern continent.

Misses Lou and Ella Leitch, have finished their year in school at Calgary and this week are visiting at Banff. They will return to Calgary to complete their examination work and then come home about the second week in July, with their mother who will go to Calgary from Manitoba to meet her daughters at Calgary.

S. J. Mighton should be a proud man. Last Monday there were a great many people from other towns in the city and a large number of them visited that celebrated tobacco emporium and left with words of praise for the man who would carry such a stock in a town the size of Cranbrook. All that can be said in praise of Mr. Mighton's store is coming to him for there is not another like it this side of the coast.

James Manning, formerly of Winnipeg, where he was connected with the leading laundries of that city for a number of years, has purchased the Crows Nest Laundry and changed the name to the New Method Laundry. Mr. Manning proposes to give his personal attention to the management of the laundry, and trusts that by careful work, fair treatment and promptness he will merit the esteem and patronage of the people of this district. You should read his ad. on page two in this issue of the Herald.

Who is Blaine? That is easy. He is the man who has opened the new cleaning and dyeing establishment on Armstrong avenue and is giving such good satisfaction. There is no use of throwing your clothes away as long as Blaine is in town. He will make them like new for little money. Blaine is the man who does things and does them right. See Blaine and wear clothes that are neat and natty. Blaine will be your clothes friend and for little money. That dollar you work so hard for can be made by letting Blaine save it for you. Blaine will save you many a dollar if you only give him a chance. See Blaine. Blaine is the man. The clothes man, the man who will teach you economy. Where? At the Cosmopolitan hotel or at his place of business on Armstrong avenue. Don't overlook Blaine.

Boys' hot weather suits at zero prices.—Reid & Co.

Frank Derosier was in town last Saturday from Jaffray.

P. Jensen, of Wasa, came in to see the elephants Monday.

John McTavish and wife, of Moyie, were Cranbrook visitors Monday.

Albert Mutz, of Fernie, was in town this week looking after the beer business.

Mr. Campbell, of Fernie, is in the city figuring on the new building for the Fink Mercantile company.

The Canadian hotel is being painted by W. H. Bolton, who is making the well known place shine like a new hotel.

W. A. Taggert and wife, of Windermere, registered at the Cosmopolitan hotel the latter part of last week.

B. P. Cooke came over from Steele the first of the week to see if there was another lacrosse match with Lethbridge.

Mrs. Wilson and Miss Mangan, of Marysville, registered at the Cosmopolitan Monday. The ladies were here to do some shopping.

Engineers T. Douglas and F. Buttler, of Moose Jaw, came in yesterday to help out on the Crow on account of increased traffic.

Sam Speers returned yesterday from a trip through the Boundary country and reports things progressive in that section of British Columbia.

Loyal Orange lodge recently received their new banner, and it is one of the finest owned by any lodge in the province. They will attend church in a body, Sunday, July 8th.

General Superintendent Jamieson, of Calgary, was in the city this week having come over in his private car. He was accompanied by Mrs. Jamieson and both of them met many good friends in Cranbrook.

N. C. McKinstry, of the smelter city, was in town yesterday. Mr. McKinstry has just returned from the Windermere country, where he purchased a big bunch of horses for shipment.

C. A. Foote, of Moyie, who was operated on last week for appendicitis is getting along nicely. Mrs. Foote came up and remained until Mr. Foote was declared out of danger.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Staples returned yesterday from a visit to Stillwater, Minnesota, accompanied by Miss Proctor, their niece, and a sister of Miss Proctor, who has visited here on former occasions.

Fred Glazer wanted to satisfy his desire for the best of tea and quietly purloined a tea pot from a Chinese restaurant last Monday. The Chinaman could not see it that way and Glazer was given $10 or thirty days.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Murphy left last Sunday for Banff where they will remain for the purpose of giving Mr. Murphy the benefit of the baths to relieve his rheumatism. From Banff they will go to the coast for an extended visit.

Hill & Co. are moving their big furniture stock from the Cranbrook hotel block to the new location for the furniture department on Armstrong avenue. The new store room will give them an opportunity of making an excellent showing.

Have you heard the new Syren whistle secured by the fire department. It has been tested and is not in satisfactory working order, but will be soon and then when there is a fire it will be possible to hear that whistle in Moyie and Marysville.

The regular public preaching services will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday as usual. Sunday being Dominion day the evening service will be patriotic. Subject of address, "Our Great Heritage." Music in keeping with the day. All are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kennedy and two boys left last Sunday for a two months trip to the east. They will visit New Hampshire, and also Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and other eastern points. It is the first vacation that Mr. Kennedy has taken for quite a number of years.

Some of the young men driving delivery wagons and riding horses will badly injure somebody one of these days. The same might be said of the young men who ride so fast on the principal streets. A few arrests might teach the guilty ones a little caution and common sense.

Bowling continues to be as popular as ever, in fact more so if anything. It is natural that this should be the case for there is not a nicer sport and the bowling alley on Armstrong avenue is operated in a manner that will meet with the approval of the most particular individual.

R. J. Murphy, of Georgetown, Prince Edward Island, arrived in the city yesterday. Mr. Murphy came direct from his native country and says that hundreds of Islanders are leaving for the west as the result of prohibition being declared on the island. He will locate in Cranbrook.

John Kelly got to reaching last Monday evening in imitation of the celebrated Doss at the circus sideshow. But unfortunately for Mr. Kelly he reached to far as his arm went through a window at one of the houses in the red light district and when it was withdrawn there was an article of wearing apparel attached to his fingers. Cold justice remanded him for trial on the charge of burglary.

The secretary of Key City Lodge, No. 42, I. O. O. F., received word this week that Thos. Lewis, a C. P. R. engineer, formerly of Cranbrook, but now pulling a passenger train out of Brandon, is again at work, having recovered from injuries received on the 25th of December last. Mr. Lewis has been very unlucky the past two years, this being the second time during that period that he has been injured in wrecks, and both times it was at first thought that his injuries would prove fatal.

W. H. Bolton, the painter and decorator, is being kept busy these days with the many contracts that he has on hand. Mr. Bolton is a man who takes special pride in his work and is anxious to give his patrons complete satisfaction. He personally supervises all work in his charge and is careful to see that nothing is slighted. The large amount of work that he has done since locating in Cranbrook is a pretty strong recommendation of the quality of work that Mr. Bolton is turning out.

Judge Wilson is holding court in Fernie this week.

Phil Chenette came down from Marysville to-day.

George Watson visited Fort Steele a few days this week.

The board of trade will hold a special meeting this evening.

D. R. Yates, of Wycliffe, was in town several days this week.

The new addition to the Queens hotel is being pushed rapidly forward by Leask & Co.

Mrs. Malpas and Miss Jaffaires will leave the first of the week for Sirdar to spend a week or more at that popular resort.

W. L. Foisy has charge of Frank Godderies barber shop while Mr Godderies is absent on his trip to his old home in Belgium.

M. McInnes was at the Cranbrook yesterday. Mr. McInnes says the mills in his section of the country are doing well this season.

R. B. Benedick, of Mayook, was in town yesterday. Mr. Benedick says that his mill is now ready for business, as all the new machinery has been installed.

A. W. McKenzie and E. J. Kelly, of Spokane, representing saw mill supply companies, were in town foregathering with the saw mill men this week. Two better fellows never carried a grip over the road.

200 Mammoth Imperial Pekin Ducks, bred from stock scoring 96 and 98 points. Drakes, $2.50, ducks, $2.00, trios, $5.00. Orders promptly filled. Mrs. W. F. Doran, three miles west of Cranbrook. 14-4t*

The Herald has received word that Mr. and Mrs. Lowes, of Kenora, Man., have lost their young son, Edward Thomas, aged six years, due to eating a large quantity of bickoty nuts and fermenting in his stomach. The boy was taken with convulsions and died in a short time.

A special train will leave for Moyie on Monday at 9 o'clock, and this will make it very convenient for the people of this town. Quite a number of people will go down Sunday and enjoy a day on the lake and remain over for the celebration. There is not a nicer place in the Kootenays to enjoy a day than at Moyie, and as the two days come together this year it affords a great opportunity for a good time.

The fire department boys will run at Moyie on Monday and at Fernie on Wednesday. They have been getting in shape and stand a good chance of carrying off the prizes offered in both towns. The lacrosse boys expect to play Frank at Fernie on Tuesday, but the date may be changed to Wednesday. Most of the people in Cranbrook would like to see the date changed to Wednesday so that the teams in which Cranbrook is interested would contest on the same day.

Who is Blaine? That is easy. He is the man who has opened the new cleaning and dyeing establishment on Armstrong avenue and is giving such good satisfaction. There is no use of throwing your clothes away as long as Blaine is in town. He will make them like new for little money. Blaine is the man who does things and does them right. See Blaine and wear clothes that are neat and natty. Blaine will be your clothes friend and for little money. That dollar you work so hard for can be made by letting Blaine save it for you. Blaine will save you many a dollar if you only give him a chance. See Blaine. Blaine is the man. The clothes man, the man who will teach you economy. Where? At the Cosmopolitan hotel or at his place of business on Armstrong avenue. Don't overlook Blaine.

Mr. Honor Wilhelm, of Seattle editor of "The Coast," a magazine that has made great headway the past year or two, is at the Cranbrook with his wife. Mr. Wilhelm is making a trip through this part of the country for the purpose of getting material for his magazine and he says that he proposes to give Cranbrook a benefit. This is not one of these "so much a line" schemes but a straight literary proposition. The Coast is a magazine that should be in every western home. It tells the story of the Western States and British Columbia in a most entertaining style, is beautifully illustrated and would prove an educator in any home. The people of Cranbrook could not do a better act than give Mr. Wilhelm a goodly number of subscriptions in return for the attention that the magazine will give to this town, that is providing that the gentleman is after subscriptions, which is quite probable and legitimate.

James A. Macdonald, of Lethbridge, the architect, was in town last week looking after the plans for the Fink Mercantile company's new building.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McMillan, of Cowley, came down last Monday. Mr. McMillan returned the next day but Mrs. McMillan remained to visit with friends in the city.

Harry Drew, of the North Star hotel, at Kimberley, spent a few days in Cranbrook this week and met many of his good friends, and Harry has a host of them here.

The government offices will close next Saturday at noon, so if you want to save your discount on your personal taxes be sure and get your money in Mr. Nelson's hands before that time.

James Pettigrew, of Newton Stuart, Scotland, arrived this week to visit with his sister, Mrs. Tom Cole. Mr. Pettigrew is very much taken with British Columbia and thinks that Cranbrook is an ideal spot.

Miss Smith, of England, arrived last week to visit her brother, William Smith, of the C. P. R. Miss Smith stood the journey very well and is most favorably impressed with Cranbrook and the surroundings.

E. H. Small has charge of the hose team that is in training for the hose races that are to take place at Moyie and Fernie. Mr. Small is devoting a great deal of his time to the work and a better man for the position could not be found.

L. P. Sullivan, the erudite and faithful manipulator of the type setting machine in this office, went to Lethbridge last week to put the machine in the other Herald in shape. Mr. Sullivan speaks well of the prairie metropolis and says that Lethbridge is the Cranbrook of Alberta.

DINGMAN-McLEAN.

Mr. Philip P. Dingman and Miss Henrietta McLean were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Wednesday June 27, at 1:30 p. m., Rev. Westman officiating. It was a quiet wedding, only the immediate relatives and a few friends being present. The bride was given away by the father, Mr. J. H. McLean. W. A. Gordon officiated as best man and Miss Lilian Tannhauser as bridesmaid. The bride wore a white silk organdy with trimmings of valenciennes lace and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid wore a figured silk organdy and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. After the ceremony refreshments were served to the guests and words of congratulation spoken for the happy pair. The bride's going away gown was of navy blue cloth with hat to match. There were many handsome and expensive presents given as the contracting parties were very popular and had a host of well wishing friends in the community. They left on the afternoon train for the coast cities where they will visit for several weeks. Mr. Dingman is a conductor on the Canadian Pacific railway, and is well known along the Crow, where he has won many friends. The bride is well known in Cranbrook where she has been popular in social and church circles. The Herald extends its blessing and best wishes for the newly married pair and trusts that their pathway in life will be all that people of such commendable qualities of character deserve.

THE CIRCUS.

The Norris and Rowe circus that showed here last Monday was a success in every feature. Considering the fact that it was showing in towns the size of Cranbrook, it was a great demonstration. Furthermore it was clean clear through and there was not an objectionable feature in the entire programme. Whenever that circus returns to Cranbrook it will have a much larger crowd than it had last Monday. Norris and Rowe have made a reputation in Cranbrook.

PAY YOUR TAXES

City Clerk Prest will keep the clerk's office open Saturday night until ten o'clock for the accommodation of those who cannot get in before to pay their city taxes. That is the last day of grace to save the big discount and those who have taxes to pay should not fail to take advantage of it.

NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

Taken From The Herald Exchanges

MOYIE

(From the Moyie Leader.)

Harold Attwood and wife have returned from Spokane.

Hugh Cameron now makes regular daily trips between his ranch and town in his new gasoline launch.

E. A. Hill was in Cranbrook this week at the bedside of his brother, W. D. Hill, who was renorted very low.

The Gun Club held its weekly shoot yesterday. The highest score was 21 out of 25, the lowest 4 out of 25 birds. They will have another shoot on Tuesday.

Elliott Crowe, who was attending college at New Westminster, returned home last week to spend his vacation.

The old steamer Echo is now frequently seen at the Moyie dock. The hull was raised and re-rigged with masts and sails by Wm. Meredith and Wm. Bridges this spring and they are now using it as a wood scow. The boat was at one time the pride of Moyie and did good service on the lakes during the days of construction.

Miss Lulu Brunton, sormerly assistant teacher in the Moyie schools, but lately a student at the Normal school at Vancouver, has just secured a life certificate. Thirty-seven candidates succeeded in securing certificates valid for life, but of these only four passed with honors, and Miss Brunton was one of the four.

J. S. MacEachern was favorably impressed with the Alberta country on his recent visit there. He was over to Lacombe to visit his sister, whom he had not seen for several years. He was as far north as Edmonton and inspected the country generally. The rapid progress and the attendant prosperity of the various towns were much greater than he anticipated.

FERNIE

(From the Fernie Free Press.)

Provincial Constable Drummond is laid up this week with acute bronchitis. Constable Dow, of Elko, is here relieving for him.

The hose reel race at Fernie on July 4th will prove an interesting affair. J. C. Kenny is getting a Fernie team together to compete. It is expected that teams will be present from Moyie and Cranbrook.

Dr. Coffin, of Montreal, and late of Cranbrook, is assisting Dr. Corsan during Dr. Bonnell's absence at the coast.

An application for a postoffice at Hosmer has been sent to the government. The Fernie Liberal association has taken the matter up and it is expected the office will be established at an early date.

The C. P. R. recently let the contract to Broley Bros. for several buildings at Hosmer. The company now has a force of men doing development work and everything points to lively operations at that camp during the present season.

Eight gentlemen from Cranbrook registered at the Fernie last night as "The Cranbrook Minstrels." They were P. E. Wilson, V. H. Baker, J. F. M. Pinkham, E. Mallandaine, M. B. King, V. A. Rollins, W. S. Bell and James Ryan. The last named three went down to Seattle to attend the races. Messrs. Baker, Pinkham, and Mallandaine went down to Elkmouth on business. Judge Wilson and Mr. King are here on business.

(From the Ledger.)

R. L. T. Galbraith, government Indian agent at Fort Steele, was here last night.

C. D. McNab, manager of the Baker Lumber Company at Elkmouth, is a Fernie visitor today.

Mrs. Dr. Bonnell left for Missoula Monday evening for a two week's visit with her brother.

R. Joyce, accountant for the Standard Lumber Company, Fort Steele Junction, is in the city.

F. C. Malpas, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Cranbrook, was a Fernie visitor Thursday.

C. G. Bennett, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Cranbrook, arrived yesterday and will take the position of teller at the local branch of the bank, Mr. F. G. White taking the accountant's desk during the absence of W. F. White.

WINDERMERE

(From the Outcrop.)

Last week Jos. Lake and Charles Cartwright visited the Black Diamond mine on Toby creek and came back delighted with all they had seen. Four men are at work taking out and sacking ore under the direction of P. Michelson, and one man in a day had mined and sacked 32 sacks of ore. A great amount of development work had previously been done on the property, and besides various open cuts and other surface work two tunnels were run to crosscut the lead, in both of which over a foot of solid ore was found, carrying good values in silver and lead. This ore is now being mined and is to be shipped to the smelter as fast as it is possible to do so.

Geo. Scott arrived Monday from Cranbrook and has since gone with his partner, John Williamson, up No 3 creek to do some development work on the Steel group. They already have a fine showing of silver-lead ore on the property in a tunnel, where the ledge is about three feet wide. This ledge has been traced on the surface by numerous cuts across the group and is the same ledge that crosses the Lead Queen group, which it adjoins. Mr. Scott has not been here since 1901 and finds many changes made during his absence, and expresses his firm belief that this camp will yet be a great mineral producer.

The first man to traverse the Columbia river from its source at Canal Flat (then known as McGillvray's portage) to its mouth was David Thompson, an employee of the Northwest Fur Company. The trip was undertaken in 1807, just 100 years ago. In 1810 Mr. Thompson ascended the Athabasca river to its source, crossed the mountains by the Athabasca Pass, and descended Wood river to its junction with the Columbia river at Big Bend. He it was who established the camp on Canoe river known as "Boat Encampment."

Robt. Winfield left on Sunday's boat for Burton City, where it is stated he is to take charge of Mr. H. E. Forster's mine, vice Frank Stockdale, who it is understood is returning here to take his former position as foreman at the Ptarmigan mine.

A good demand for experienced miners is certain in this camp shortly. Already it is very difficult to get any and quite a few could now find employment.

There are now six mines working in this camp and everyone of them will be shipping ore this season.

"Little Mac" is still in the promoting business according to this clipping from a Calgary paper: "M. McDonald will leave this morning for Pincher Creek and after conferring with the council of that town will award the contract for the immediate construction of a flour mill, elevator and distributing warehouse. The flour mill will be built according to the latest improved plans, and will have a capacity of 75 barrels per day. The elevator will have a capacity of 30,000 bushels and is to be modern in every respect. The distributing warehouse will be one of the largest of its kind in Alberta. The dimensions are 30x60." From other sources it is learned that the Pincher Creek council has resolved to loan Mr. McDonald $10,000 to enable him to carry out his proposition. And this is the same man who promises to visit Wilmer this summer and do his best to interest capital in mining in this camp. "Little Mac" is a great hustler and deserves all the success that is coming his way.

LETHBRIDGE

(From the Lethbridge Herald.)

Rev. A. McKillop, of Raymond, will take a trip to the Old Country next fall.

D. M. Young, formerly of the Iron Works, has now a position with the Frank smelter.

Hon. Frank and Mrs. Oliver and Misses Oliver expect to leave after the session for the old country.

W. H. Fairfield ridicules the idea that his strawberries are ripe. He says they are coming along fine but they will not be ripe for a time yet.

C. H. N. Connell has returned from a surveying trip south of Tabor. He says quite a bit of land is being taken up there by American people.

R. H. Owen, of the O. W. Kerr Co., informed the Herald yesterday that coal had been discovered in large quantities near the new townsite of Warner. It is of good quality.

The lacrosse team played league games at Cranbrook and Frank this week. At Cranbrook on Monday they were beaten by a score of 13 to 1. At Frank on Tuesday they fared better and won by 5 to 4. They were roughly used at Cranbrook but are not whining about it.

NEW COAL MINE.

(The Frank Paper.)

R. J. Galbraith, of Lundbreck, expects to shortly open another mine at that place on the coal property owned by him adjoining the Breckenridge & Lund property. Last week the C. P. R. had engineers on the ground laying out side tracks to accommodate the business, and Mr. Galbraith state that he expects to have the mine in operation very soon. The ground will be worked by a slope sunk just north of the Breckenridge & Lund the business, and Mr. Galbraith states he will put in a gasoline hoist with a capacity of 200 tons a day. As the mine is already developed and ready to begin producing, having been worked in a small way for some years Mr. Galbraith expects to put coal on the market at an early day.

LETHBRIDGE TOO MANY.

FRANK LACROSSE TEAM DEFEATED.

(The Frank Paper.)

The Lethbridge and Frank lacrosse teams met Tuesday in a league match the former club winning out by a score of five goals to four. Naturally this game drew a goodly crowd and much money was placed on the result. A little more than ordinary interest was centered in the match as the result would give an inkling of an idea of what club is likely to win out the division. The day previous Lethbridge and Cranbrook lined up, the former being defeated by a score of 13 to 1. Perhaps Frank counted too much on an easy victory, after hearing of the result. Perhaps many considerations were made a feature of the contest. Perhaps a Judas camped among the boys. Perhaps it was lack of practice and acquaintanceship with each other. Whatever the cause Frank lost, and under conditions that disappointed many an admirer.

The game started out in great hope in favor of Frank, the first game being scored by the home team in almost no time. Lethbridge scored next and Frank again came to the fore, the visitors ball coming in the fourth. From then to the finish it was up and down unt l time was called, when Lethbridge scored a winner by a majority of one goal.

The best work on the part of the home team was made in the last half of the game when good combination work was put up. It was a noticeable feature of the contest that many a goal that should have been scored simply went by default.

In connection with this match the Frank Paper attempts no mention of good work on the part of individual members, but would just state that the boys on the square played to win and had full support been forthcoming Frank would have won out. During the progress of the game player after player was laid out, the doctor having his hands full administering relief to fake and real lay outs. The game was quite largely attended, and the gate receipts must have been more than respectable.

NEW LUMBER COMPANY.

(Fernie Free Press.)

The North American Land and Lumber Company, Limited, is the name of a new lumber company which was recently organized in Fernie. Mr. F. H. Hale, who came in here last year and purchased the Cedar Valley Improvement Company's plant and limits was largely instrumental in forming the company, and with him are associated several wealthy eastern capitalists. The officers of the company are: Jas. M. W. Hall, president; Morris A Hall, vice-president; F. H. Hale, general manager and treasurer; J. S. T. Alexander, secretary. The directorate includes the three first named gentlemen and D. H. Wellman, Jas. R. Hall, A. K. Ames and A. E. Hale.

The company's operations for the present are confined to the plant in Cedar Valley, two miles south of this city. This plant will be improved by the addition of a planing mill and a shingle mill and otherwise improved. The company, however, have much larger plans in view and it will probably become one of the largest lumber manufacturiag concerns in the Kootenays. They have recently acquired large timber holdings on the Kootenay river near Canal Flats and they will put in a large plant on the Kootenay.

The company has opened an office in this city, upstairs in the Crows Nest Trading Company's block. Geo. Hale, son of F. H. Hale, is the accountant and has charge of the office.

FOSS & MACDONELL GETTING THERE.

(Kaslo Kootenaian.)

Last Wednesday there left Asheroft for Bullion by special stage, Mr. J. B. Hobson, manager of the Cariboo Gold Mining Company, his engineer, Mr. L. F. Warner, Mr. G. O. Foss, of Foss & Macdonnell, the Nicola railway contractors, and Mr. C. S. Grouski, their engineer.

Foss & Macdonnell have under consideration the closing of a contract with Mr. Hobson to make the new canals for the Bullion mine and Mr. Foss's trip is to familiarize himself with local conditions. While nothing definite is known the impression prevails that Foss & Macdonnell will shortly move their outfit of men, horses and tools to Bullion.

MURDER AT FERRY.

(Greenwood Times.)

A brutal murder occurred in Ferry last Tuesday when a woman connected with one of the dance halls there was kicked and beaten to death by a saloon frequenter and blackjack gambler known as "Kid" Rogers. The two began quarreling in the Ferry hotel and the fracas ended in the death of the woman and in the villain giving himself up to Deputy Sheriff McGregor of Ferry. An inquest was held Thursday behind closed doors and the murderer taken to Republic Friday where he will be tried before the county court

Feeling in Midway and Ferry ran high and the people openly threatened to take the law into their own hands and lynch the criminal and for a time it looked as if the threat would be carried out. Lawless disorder was prevented, however, by the prompt and decided action of the deputy sheriff, who stationed himself before the prison door and with loaded rifle guarded the prisoner from the vengeance of the enraged populace.

CARMEN MEET AT VANCOUVER.

(Vancouver Province.)

Labor hall was the scene of mirth and merriment last night when the local railway carmen entertained the nineteen visiting delegates to the convention of the joint protective board of the C. P. R. members of the brotherhood. Fully sixty of the one hundred and ten members of the local lodge were present to greet their fellow workers here from all parts of the Dominion, the guests of the Vancouver carmen and of the city for the next four days.

Although the brotherhood's grand chief, F. L. Ronemus, of Kansas City had not arrived (he is expected today) the second vice grand chief, L. L. Hannah, the chairman of the board, Vice-Chairman James Hillis, of Winnipeg; Secretry-Treasurer Chartrand, of Montreal, and President McVety of the local branch of the Trades and Labor Council and other prominent members and officers were present. They gave and received a treat, intellectual and physical. The liquid refreshment provided was not however, of an imported and bottled variety. It was purely an informal social event in wh ch local lodge No. 58 gave its visiting brethren from the east a sample of Vancouver hospitality.

During the afternoon the delegates had been welcomed by Mr. McVety, to which Vice-Chairman Hillis, of Winnipeg had responded. The board then in secret session—all its meetings being held, of course, behind closed doors—proceeded to the first work of the convention, appointed comm.tees and routine.

Last night was the regular fortnightly meeting of the local lodge, but the members merely met and adjourned to meet again without leaving the room. The second vice-grand chief of the joint protective board, Mr. L. L. Hannah, Vancouver's representative on the local board, then led on the visiting delegates and two hours of enjoyment followed.

The convention will resume its deliberations today and continue its sessions until Thursday or Fridky. Saturday the members will be shown the chief points of interest of the most progressive city of the west.

It is the first time the convention has ever been held west of Manitoba. The delegates met in Winnipeg last year. They will not choose their next meeting place until Friday.

The delegates present are Mr. Hannah, city; James Richardson, Nelson; H. Donnan, Eholt; A. Shankland, Cranbrook; Geo. Nicholson, Calgary; J. Wannop, Medicine Hat; C. Clark, Moose Jaw; H. Deane, Brandon; James Hillis, Winnipeg; Wm. Neil Kenora; E. Grey, Fort William; E. C. A. Ealey, North Bay; Thomas Broad, Ottawa; James Phillips, Carlton Junction; David Scott, Windsor; James White, Toronto; A. Chartrand, Montreal; J. Malloy, Farnham and Dow Boome, Macadam Junction.

The brotherhood is international, with headquarters in Kansas City and a total membership of forty thousand. It includes practically all the employes of the car departments of the various railways. Since 1900, the date of its working agreement with the C. P. R., the organization been a benefit both to its members and the company, which has always aided the well meant efforts of this as well as the other branches of its employees. One of the chief objects of the brotherhood is to raise the character and increase the efficiency of the carmen by mutual interchange of ideas upon the best and most economical methods of labor. And in this the C. P. R. has ever been ready to assist.

DUNSMUIR AND THE COLONIST.

Victoria, June 23.—Hon. James Dunsmuir, lieutenant governor of British Columbia, who disposed of his interests in the Colonist Printing & Publishing company some time ago retired from the presidency of the company at Wednesday's meeting of the directors. The stock formerly held by Mr. Dunsmuir has been purchased by a syndicate of residents of Victoria. On his retirement from the presidency of the company C. E. Pooley was elected to that position.

RAILWAY WAR.

Spokesman-Rev ew:—Local railroad men are becoming interested in the fight between the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk for supremacy in British Columbia. It had been generally understood in railroad circles that the two lines, while they might be close competitors for business in the east, would not bring their rivalry as far west as the Pacific ocean. But these conclusions have been vitiated by the Grand Trunk Pacific asking from the Dominion government perm ssion to build branch lines into Vancouver and Victoria, B. C.

This is an invasion of Canadian Pacific territory, and is taken by local men to mean that the two roads are to be heated rivals from east to west. The application of the Grand Trunk Pacific for the two branch lines is a retaliatory act on its part against the other road making a move to invade its territory farther east.

Instead of the Canadian Pacific leaving the Grand Trunk Pacific in undisputed possession of the northera part of the province, the Canadian Pacific has projected a line of communication which will cross the province from Yellow Head pass in the Rocky Mountains to Butte inlet. With the branch lines which must follow this, the territory which is to be opened by the Grand Trunk Pacific will be well invaded.

In retaliation, the Grand Trunk Pacific has asked for rights of way into Vancouver and Victoria. The latter calls for a branch 300 miles long, and the other 390 miles. As might be easily imagined the Canadian Pacific is fighting the granting of the applications at the hands of the house of commons at Ottawa.

NOVA SCOTIA ELECTIONS.

Halifax, June 20.—The provincial general elections to-day resulted in the return of the government. The opposition, which had only two members in the last house, will apparently be better represented in the new. The returns indicate the election of six members, McMillen in Inverness, Tanner and Bailey in Pictou, Landry in Richmond, Wilcox in Hants and Campbell (independent Liberal) in Kings.

Two members of the government, Wickwire and Patterson, have been beaten.

SELL SURPLUS FLOUR.

SAN FRANCISCO CLOSES OUT VAST QUANTITY.

San Francisco, June 18.—The heavy surplus of flour sent here by eastern sympathizers has been sold by the finance committee to the Globe Milling company. Of the lot, 12,000,000 pounds sold at $3.60 a barrel and 1,500,000 pounds at $3.16.

The committee reserved 750,000 pounds for relief purposes, which, according to the present demands, will last more than six months. When the first sale of this flour was contemplated, a bid of $2.75 per barrel for the whole lot was received. This was rejected by General Greely, who had been authorized by the finance committee to sell it.

The committee considered that the supply was in excess of every possible need and, as there were practically no warehouse facilities, it had been stored on three army transports. Its removal from the transports had been ordered and, rather than pay storage on it, the committee decided to sell the flour and convert the proceeds into other and more pressing forms of relief. The entire lot will be exported.

TOO BUSY.

"I never took a vacation in my life," boasted the man of millions.

"Well, that's about all you haven't taken." replied the man who had just had a business experience with the millionaire.

PICKING A HORSE

for a particular purpose is easy for us. Because we have them for all kinds of use. Naturally our LIVERY SERVICE is far superior to that of the horse which has to cart coal during the week and carry his owner to a funeral on Sunday. If Santa Claus saw our horses he would pension off his old reindeers, chop up his old sleigh and hire a rig from us. You should do the same when you require the services of a horse and carriage for any purpose. Especially as our scale of charges makes it really cheap transit.

The Marquis of Huntly appeared before Mr. Justice Bingham recently to ask that a commitment order in favor of a firm of dressmakers for £100 for dresses for his wife should be set aside. The Marquis pleaded that he had no means of his own, but lived with his wife, who had an income of £4,000 a year.

Alice Westbury, who was indicted at the Middlesex sessions for attempting to commit suicide, refused to plead and the jury was asked to decide whether the refusal was due to malice or to the visitation of God. The jury found that she refused to plead out of malice, and convicted her on the main charge, and she was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment.

The Liverpool detective police are investigating a strange story of the disappearance of ancient Egyptian treasures. Four pure gold cups were unearthed six months ago during investigations at a mausoleum near Luxor. They date over various periods to about 2000 B. C. and were brought to England with a view to sale. While the sale was being negotiated the treasure mysteriously vanished.

D. E. MURPHY,

FREE READING ROOM

The provincial library in the Free Reading Room, Watts block, is free to all and contains one hundred volumes, all new, on the following topics, viz: Social science, natural science, useful arts, literature, description and travel, fiction, juvenile books, biography and history, by some of the best authors of the day. Any resident of Cranbrook or vicinity is entitled to the loan of these books as long as such person complies with the rules, having first signed the agreement, which will be presented by the librarian. Below are a few of the rules to be complied with:

Books must be handled with care and leaves must not be turned down Two volumes may be drawn by each reader and retained for two weeks. The fine of five cents shall be paid for each book kept over time, and no books shall be lent to any one to whom books or an unpaid fine or fines are charged.

A reader desiring a book not at the time in the case may have it reserved for him for forty-eight hours after its return by giving notice to the librarian.

A reader returning a book, which is not reserved may renew it for two weeks.

In addition to this library the room is supplied with the leading newspapers from the Atlantic to the Pacific, also magazines and periodicals.

The room is nicely furnished and is a comfortable place to spend your spare moments, and is not run by, nor in the interest of any church, party, or clique. Everybody welcome. Remember the place, second floor, Watts block, over Mighton's tobacco store, Baker street.

THE BIGGEST TREE YET.

Vancouver, B. C., June 18.—All records for large trees in British Columbia forests have been broken by the felling of a gigantic Douglas fir at Rock Bay, British Columbia.

The tree measured 99 feet in length when trimmed to lumber size, its diameter at the butt was 11 feet 6 inches and its diameter at the top 4 feet 10 inches. The tree contains 18,500 feet of merchantable lumber.

TENDERS.

Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to noon of Wednesday the 20th, of June, for two Reel Sheds. Plans and specifications may be seen at the City Clerk's office.

C. H. PREST,
12 City Clerk.

SMALL OR LARGE FARM FOR SALE

Consisting of 381 acres of magnificent land, situated in the best farming locality to be found in East Kootenay, being 10 miles from store and postoffice. The Kootenay Central Railway survey traverses the property. It is bounded on one side by a large stream which affords excellent trout and char fishing. Surrounding the property is a country capable of grazing many hundred head of cattle and many promising mining prospects are being worked in the neighboring mountains, and apart from farming this property should shortly become very valuable for other purposes on account of the naturally central position it bears with regard to the surrounding country. 250 acres of this property can be brought under cultivation with ease and there are already 20 acres in mixed crop. 70 tons of hay are cut annually off this land. There are suitable buildings for all purposes and an irrigation ditch has been constructed which will furnish water for irrigation and domestic purposes. For further particulars apply to

BEALE & ELWELL

Real Estate Agents, Cranbrook

and if it is not desirable to purchase the property in one large block it can be CUT UP and DIVIDED into smaller parcels of 10, 20, 40, 100 acres, or otherwise, to suit purchasers. THE TITLE IS IN PERFECT CONDITION

KOOTENAY VALLEYS COMPANY

20,000 ACRES

of the very pick of the selected lands in the beautiful Kootenay Valley, East Kootenay, B. C., extending from Canal Flat to Elko, are offered for sale at from $3 to $10 per acre.

The Kootenay Valley is of Unsurpassed Fertility Matchless Climate and the Most Picturesque Situation West of the Rocky Mountains.

The lands present every feature of usefulness, including timbered benches, brushy flats, marsh, prairie and meadow. The brushy flats, marsh and meadow lands consist of deep, black loam; the bench land being a sandy loam, splendidly adapted for fruit culture. Where irrigation may be necessary on the benches, water can be had from the mountain creeks flowing from the Rockies into the Kootenay river. The lands are fully surveyed and some of the lots have been sub-divided into fenced farms of about 80 acres each.

The purchase price will include the timber, which can be sold by the purchaser without any liability to government or other royalty. The timber will in many cases more than realize the purchase price, and will in all cases materially recoup the amount invested. Logs can be driven on the Kootenay river, which touches every lot save one. The main wagon road through the valley passes over or close to each lot, and the proposed Kootenay Central railway will parallel the wagon road. The C. P. R. is quite convenient to the lands.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE OLD MAN.

THE END OF SINNING.

Following is a poem that is one of the most pitiful in expression and mental agony evidenced ever written. It tells the sorrowful tale and emphasizes the unjust conditions that prevail in civilization—man is free to sin and sin again, while woman, poor woman, is condemned by brother and sister alike for a single false step:

Sitting alone by the window,
Watching the moon-lit street,
Bending my head to listen
To the well known sound of your feet,
I have been wondering, darling,
How I can bear the pain
When I watch with sighs and tear-wet eyes,
And wait for your coming in vain.

For I know that a day approaches
When you will tire of me;
When by door and gate I will watch and wait
For a form that I will not see;
When a love that is now my heaven,
The kisses that make my life,
You will bestow on another—
And that other will be your wife.

You will grow weary of sinning,
(Though you do not call it so),
You will long for a love that is purer
Than the love that we here know;
God knows that I have loved you dearly,
With a passion strong and true,
But you will grow tired and leave me
Though I gave up all for you.

I was as pure as the morning,
When I first looked upon your face,
I knew I could never reach you
In your high and exalted place;
But I looked, and longed, and worshipped,
As a flower might worship a star,
And your eyes shone down upon me,
And you seemed so far—so far.

And then? Well then you loved me,
Loved me with all your heart,
But we could not stand at the altar,
We were so far apart;
If a star should wed with a flower
The star must drop from the sky,
Or the flower in trying to reach it
Would droop on its stalk and die.

And you said you loved me, darling,
And swore by the heavens above
That the Lord and all His angels
Would sanction and bless our love;
And I? I was weak and wicked,
My love was pure and true,
And sin itself seems a virtue
If only shared by you.

God says, "Love one another,"
And down to the depths of hell
Will He send the soul of a woman
Because she loved and fell?

I know that my beauty is fading,
Sin furrows the fairest brow;
And I know that your heart will weary
Of the face that you smile on now;
You will take a bride to your bosom
After you turn from me;
You will sit with your wife in the moonlight
And hold her babe on your knee.

Oh, God, I never could bear it,
It would madden my brain I know,
And so while you love me dearly
I think I had better go.
It is sweeter to know, my darling,
To know as I fall asleep,
That some one will mourn and miss me
Then some one is left to weep.

Than to die as I should in the future
To drop in the streets some day,
Unknown, unwept, and forgotten,
After you cast me away.
Perhaps the blood of our Savior
Can wash my garments clean,
Perchance I may drink of the waters
That flow through the pastures green.

In the olden days personal attacks by an editor on the head of the opposition sheet were frequent, and always bitter in the extreme. Here is a sample taken from an Indiana paper years ago, and written by the celebrated Editor Rudd of Salt Rock:

"Did any reader ever see the editor of our esteemed contemporary? Take an eight-bushel sack about as long one way as the other. Fill it with bran. Hit both ends heavily with a club, so as to swell it out in the center. That is our friend physically. Now take a half-witted, well fed Hottentot. Inject into him the the largest possible amount of conceit. Extract from him three-fourths of his brain and all his moral principle, and beat him over the head until he has forgotten what little he ever knew. And, there you have our friend mentally."

Say, Mr. Knocker, you cannot saw wood with a hammer. Just bear that in mind.

Did you go to the circus? And say, did you not enjoy it? Of course you did. Why we felt like getting out into the street and following up the parade and it was only by a supreme effort that we did not go to the grounds and seek for an opportunity to carry water by the pail for the sake of securing a ticket. How a circus brings back the happy days of youth. If we heard one man we heard a dozen last Monday telling with great glee how he used to work his way into a circus when he was a boy. And as they told it the light of joy and happiness shone out of their eyes. That memory of childhood days is a great thing and none of us would give it up for all the riches on earth. That is one thing we like about a circus. It brings to mind so vividly the days of the past.

A Nelson man stepped into Wes. Cline's barber shop the other day and getting into the chair asked to have a hair cut.

"How will you have your hair cut sir?" said Cline to the victim in the chair.

"Minus conversational proxility," replied the patient.

"How's that sir?"

"With abbreviated or totally eliminated narrations."

"What?"

"Without effervescent verbosity."

"Let even diminutive colloquy be conspicuous by its absence."

Cline scratched his head and went over to Jim Bates who had just left the chair and whispered:

"This man in the chair is a lunatic or a foreigner, and I can't find out what he wants."

Then Bates went to the winking customer and said politely:

"How would you like your hair cut, sir?"

"In silence."

Both Cline and Bates collapsed.

W. D. Hill, who had a serious sick spell last week has recovered sufficiently to be able to get out and attend to business again, but shows the effects of his attack.

M. H. McMahon, father of Mr. McMahon, of Marysville, Mr. and Mrs. McFarland, sister and brother-in-law of Mr. McMahon, arrived yesterday from Portland, Ore., and will visit in Marysville for some time. Mr. and Mrs. McMahon met the visitors at the train and took them to their home in Marysville.

Here is something for the mill men to cogitate upon. The Herald got a message last evening that King's No. 2 mill had made a cut of 56,196 feet in a day of ten hours. That is getting there and the boys of that mill are now waiting for some other report that will touch that in a mill of the same capacity.

Arthur Bradley, one of the clerk's in the Fink Mercantile Company's store, had a narrow escape one day this week. He was handling a new bunch of bananas and a tarantula jumped out and ran across his hand. As their bite is as deadly as that of a rattle snake naturally Arthur was a little rattled, but he recovered in time to capture the insect and put him to death.

The fact that the merchants of Cranbrook carry the best stock of goods to be found between Winnipeg and Vancouver was demonstrated last Monday. Among the hundreds of strangers who came to town there was one thing that they agreed upon unanimously and that was the superior class of goods carried by the merchants of Cranbrook. Many people who were in town dropped in the Herald office and without an exception they all had something to say in praise of the town and the Cranbrook merchants. That is what makes a town, and the Herald has always maintained that the merchants of Cranbrook have done a power of good along this line by carrying the up-to-date stocks they do.

Who is Blaine? That is easy. He is the man who has opened the new cleaning and dyeing establishment on Armstrong avenue and is giving such good satisfaction. There is no use of throwing your clothes away as long as Blaine is in town. He will make them like new for little money. Blaine is the man who does things and does them right. See Blaine and wear clothes that are neat and natty. Blaine will be your clothes friend and for little money. That dollar you work so hard for can be made by letting Blaine save it for you. Blaine will save you many a dollar if you only give him a chance. See Blaine. Blaine is the man. The clothes man, the man who will teach you economy. Where? At the Cosmopolitan hotel or at his place of business on Armstrong avenue. Don't overlook Blaine.

John Simpson, principal of the public school at Moyie, was in town last Friday and Saturday. It was Mr. Simpson's first visit to Cranbrook. He came doubting and returned charmed in the extreme degree. "I have seen the mountains all over the North American continent and far enough south to see the Andes, but in all of my travels I have never seen a more beautiful view of the mountains than you have here in Cranbrook. It is delightful. Then you have a pretty town and a fine class of people. Cranbrook has a right to grow, for the reason that she possesses every advantage." Mr. Simpson is a cosmopolitan gentleman, a man of fine education and one who has stored much in his brainery by intelligent travel, and therefore he is a most interesting individual with whom to converse.

A. J. Martin, representing the O. R. C., and DeVere Hunt, representing the B. of R. T., returned the first of the week from Winnipeg where they went to meet with representatives of the C. P. R. and adjust some differences that had arisen on the Crow. These gentlemen gave evidence of the wisdom displayed in their selection on such an important mission, as they settled every question in a manner that was satisfactory both to the company and to the men. Railway men show great judgment in matters of this kind. They don't go out as agitators but on the contrary they go out to a meeting of this kind with the idea that they will settle any grievance on a basis that is fair both to the employees and to the company. The right men are always sent on a mission of this character and invariably they return with a report that meets with the approbation of their fellow workmen and also of the company.

The two young sons of John Pringle, of Marysville, came down the first of the week to see the circus. On Monday they went to the show and had a good time. That night the elder of the two, Simon, was taken sick and the next day he gradually grew worse until evening when he became unconscious, and E. H. Small and Al. Pratt took him to the hospital and sent word to his father to come at once. Unfortunately Mrs. Pringle was sick and had been confined to her bed for several days, but when she heard that her boy was in danger she got up and rode through the hard storm of Tuesday night from Marysville to Cranbrook. J. H. Hucheroft met them at the Mission with a fresh team and rushed them into town and to the hospital. The boy was unconscious when they arrived but the next day recovered to a considerable extent and was able to recognize his parents. To-day he is getting along nicely and there is every reason to believe that he will recover.

PAY YOUR TAXES

City Clerk Prest will keep the clerk's office open Saturday night until ten o'clock for the accommodation of those who cannot get in before to pay their city taxes. That is the last day of grace to save the big discount and those who have taxes to pay should not fail to take advantage of it.

PENSIONS CUT OUT.

Ottawa, June 26.—Mr. Fielding gave notice to-day of a bill to repeal the act of last session, granting a pension of $3,500 per annum to ex-cabinet ministers who have previously held a portfolio for five years. This is the sum total of all the wrangling which the cabinet has had upon this question since the opening of the session. At one time it was suggested that the government might propose to parliament to accept the British plan, whereby an ex-cabinet minister who declares that he has not sufficient income to maintain himself and his family in comfortable circumstances, is placed upon the pension list. The matter is one entirely between the British prime minister and the applicant, although the number of grants each year is limited. Sir Wilfrid, however, declared a few weeks ago, when this question was under discussion, that he would not assume the responsibility of deciding who should or should not among the ex-cabinet ministers, be the recipients of the pensions. Since then the cabinet has been repeatedly endeavoring to find a satisfactory solution of the problem, but without success, until finally it has been determined to wipe out the pension system altogether.

Books kept and balanced by first-class accountant. Merchants and others who have not sufficient work to employ a regular clerk can have their account kept from $10.00 a month up. All dealings strictly confidential. Other points in East Kootenay visited. Write or call on H.F.R., "The Wilga," Cranbrook, B. C. 13-3t
